Several Engagements Have Been Fought Near the City of St. Estevan.

SPANISH RETREAT.

Havana, Jan. 2.—An engagement between the Spanish troops and insurgents has taken place at El Estano, south of Havana, and not far from the frontiers of the province of Matanzas. The official announcement says that the troops captured the insurgent positions, but that the loss to the enemy is not known. It is admitted that two Spanish officers and four soldiers were killed and nineteen were wounded. The insurgents, following their usual tactics, did not accept a decisive engagement, but after the skirmish, proceeded westward, destroying the contents as they marched onward. The authorities here, after announcing this skirmish, added the significant statement that the "troops were moved closer to the province of Matanzas, which would seem to indicate that the Spanish forces are once more in retreat."

Brewer of Kansas, Justice United States Supreme Court (Republican); Richard H. A. Murray of Maryland (Republican); Andrew D. White of New York (Republican); Frederick R. AN UNTIMELY END.

Fred R. Haynes, a Well-Known Young Man of Waukesha, Shoots Himself.

Waukesha, Wis., Jan. 2.—[Special.]—Fred R. Haynes, a well-known business young man of Waukesha, committed suicide here last night while temporarily insane. He went away to Texas last week where his family believed him to be until a few minutes before his death. He returned to Waukesha unexpectedly by a car at 9 o'clock, and, finding his family at home, he went to his room and passed through the house and looked into a rear window. A servant girl saw and recognized his face. He then returned to the front door of the house where he shot himself, falling across the front walk. Mr. Haynes was born in Chicago and was educated in that city. He was married and had a large number of relatives and friends in the city. The building in which he lives is said to have been the cause of his derangement. He was about 32 years of age.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Graduates of Oshkosh Normal School Wed in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—At noon today Philip R. Barnes, an attorney and a prominent member of the People's church, was united in marriage to Miss K. M. Allen of Oshkosh, Wis. The wedding was attended only by the intimate friends of the family. Owing to the death of a near relative of the bride, the ceremony was a very simple as possible. Elaborate arrangements had been made for the event. A large number of guests were present, including the alumni of the state normal school of Oshkosh, Wis. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnes, of Oshkosh, Wis. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnes, of Oshkosh, Wis.

HE IS TWISTED AROUND.

La Crosse Man's Head is on the Wrong Side.

John Cross, 31—John Cross, aged 20, of this city, was built wrong side up. That is, the organs that belong to the left side are on the right side and vice versa. This was discovered by Dr. George Powell, who finds that the right side of the body is on the left side and the left side on the right side. The man is said to be a very healthy one and is able to do all the work of a man of his age.

JAILS ARE FILLED.

Idle Woodsmen Without Lodging in Northern Wisconsin.

Iron Belt, Wis., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—An unusually large number of men are idle in the lumbering districts of northern Wisconsin. The men are without lodging and are suffering from the cold. The lumbering industry is said to be in a very depressed state and many men are without work.

WILKESBARRE, PA., DEC. 31.—A terrible fire broke out in the city of Wilkesbarre, Pa., on the night of Dec. 31. The fire destroyed a large number of buildings and caused a great deal of property loss.

CEPHALONIA BEACHED.

Cunard Liner Strikes a Rock at South Stack, Eng.—Passengers Uninjured.

Holyhead, Jan. 2.—The Cunard liner steamer Cephalonia, Capt. Seccombe, from Boston on December 21 for Liverpool, ran ashore on a reef near South Stack in a dense fog, but she subsequently floated and steamed here. When the steamer first grounded two lifeboats were sent to four assistance, but the rising tide floated her. The forty passengers who were on board of her have arrived here and have taken trains for their respective destinations. The Cephalonia had a very rough passage. Everything went well, however, until 7:30 yesterday morning when she ran ashore. The passengers rushed on deck in alarm, the boat being overturned. The women and children were placed in them. When the women and children had been cared for, the steamer showed that while her stern was badly damaged, she was not making so much water as to prevent her from proceeding under steam. The distance from the spot where she grounded so soon as the Cephalonia floated was high tide at 9 o'clock. The passengers were again taken on board and all possible speed was made for Holyhead. The position of the Cephalonia later in the day became much more serious. She began to make water rapidly, when she was beached, and now lies in a perilous position. Divers are busy at work fathoms of water with a cable ladder to starboard. Divers are busy at work upon her, but it is evident that she will not be refloated. The position of the steamer is very critical.

DRIVE THE TIGER OUT.

Common Council Will Prohibit Gambling, Beginning with the New Year.

Jan. 2.—The common council of Janesville, Wis., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Janesville's common council began the new year by planting its foot on the neck of the tiger at the meeting held last night. An ordinance was passed forbidding gambling and gaming of any kind in the city. The ordinance also prohibited the operation of gambling houses and the sale of gambling paraphernalia. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

WILL WORSHIP IN POLISH.

St. Mary's Church at Oshkosh to Lose Between 300 and 400 Members.

Oshkosh, Wis., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—The St. Mary's Catholic church at Oshkosh, Wis., is losing between 300 and 400 members. The loss is due to the fact that many of the members are moving to other parts of the country. The church is said to be in a very depressed state and is unable to attract new members.

Placed Quilts to Forgery at Janesville Gets One Year.

Iron Belt, Wis., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Notwithstanding the large number of men who are idle in the lumbering districts of northern Wisconsin, a young man named Warner was sentenced to one year in prison for forgery. Warner was found guilty of forging a check for $100.00. He was sentenced to the state prison at Janesville.

GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

The days are growing longer—9 hours and 12 minutes, now.—Moonlight Nights.

The West Bend Democrat would fain live the old year over, judging from the date attached—Jan. 1, 1895.

Last Tuesday the editor was called home to administer to the wants of sick members of his family; so, we trust, our readers will bear up with us pending his return.

The annual report of State Mine Reporter Jeffries gives the output of gold from the Black Hills the past year as $5,000,000. He also reports that with the new processes and mills now under construction this will be materially increased the next year.

"Going hunting" is a Clevelandish way of retiring to a secluded spot for the purpose of applying one's self to deep study. We hope Grover will return knowing equally as much more about the Venezuelan matter as he learned the last time he was out hunting.

While congress is investigating Hoke Smith as to whether any of his relatives "by blood or marriage" is interested in litigation regarding Indian lands the question as to whether any of McKinley's relatives is buying up negro delegates to the Republican national convention ought to form an interesting subject of inquiry.—Chicago Chronicle.

DON INNESMILL finds fault because the president declared our attitude relative to the Monroe doctrine before our commission had investigated the Venezuelan matter. However, we fall to see wherein the report of the commission could affect our support of the Monroe doctrine. The only thing the report of the commission will tend to show is whether Venezuela is justly entitled to the support of that doctrine in the question at issue.

If the Republican policy of hitching together a provision for protecting the gold reserve and an increase of the tariff, putting a tax on raw wool as a part, is carried into effect it will give the president another chance to write another veto message, which he should improve. If it is thought to "put the president in a hole" by this sharp practice Mr. Reed will find that the president is a deliberative man, if the body over which the former presides is not.—St. Paul Globe.

UNLESS the president's advice is taken on the financial question the Republicans will find themselves face to face with a situation that will appall them. Can they be so blind as not to see that in the emergency the first thing to be done is to make the credit of this country free from every suspicion, and to make our currency such that no man need look at the condition of the gold reserve the first thing in the morning?

The Republican congress is playing a dangerous game.—Union Observer. SOMEBODY has said that a man's worth to his fellows may be measured by the conditions in which he permits himself to live as an individual. The housing of the masses is enormously better, as is shown by the fact that in a parish with which I was intimately acquainted when a boy there is not now an unhealthy house left standing, writes Sir George Grey in the Review of Reviews. In clothing there is a like improvement, and for the most part the dress worn by the working classes is not only more comfortable, but shows a certain amount of real taste. Interest in public questions has become far greater—thanks largely to the growing influence, and, as I cannot help thinking, the growing ability of the newspapers.

THE resolution recently introduced by Senator Hill does not attempt to authorize new bonds; it simply declares that any bonds hereafter issued under existing laws may, in the discretion of the secretary of the treasury, be made payable either in gold coin or silver dollars, at the option of the holders; "but, no bond containing such option shall bear a rate of interest exceeding 3 per cent. per annum, payable quarterly." It seems that the only question being discussed by the representatives of the people is what manner of bonds should be issued. There seems to be no question as to the necessity of such an issue.

THE Journal of Progress warns all men, old and young, against an evil thing which has been described as the "prevailing pestilence of slovenly reading." This pestilence has laid low many a one who began life with excellent prospects. It is ruinous both in mind and morals. It is apt even to prevent a man's business habits and prevent him from winning success in practical affairs. In time it will confound all his faculties; it will destroy his capacity for clear perception, for precise thought and for proper reasoning. It will throw into confusion his judgment and his memory. If he does not get rid of it he can never become a good writer, or do any literary work of any kind worth looking at. How many slovenly readers are there to be found in these times! They will in their slovenly fashion, read a newspaper article, perhaps a very excellent one, and when they have got to the end of it, or as they say, "looked through it" or "glanced over it," you will find that they are unable to give any accurate account of its argument, or that they do not apprehend its fundamental points, or that they have lost one of its links, or that they have overlooked an important illustration, or that they have failed to seize a word which is the very hinge of the writer's thought, or that they have wholly misunderstood the drift and purpose of the article which they have wasted their time in glancing over. These slovenly readers are an affliction to careful and correct writers. When such a writer sees how his reasoning and his language are distorted by them, his mind is apt to become ruffled, and every one who knows how a ruffled mind unfits a man for the work of perspicacious composition. We are of the opinion that the prevailing pestilence of slovenly reading is largely due to a desire to read an unusual amount within a comparatively short time; or, in other words, the tendency is to read a great deal rather than to read well. This tendency is found particularly among school children and teachers can do much toward overcoming the evil. To go half way through a reader understandingly is better than to go clear through it skimmingly.

THE proposition to have a grand semi-centennial celebration of the admission of Wisconsin into the union, to be held in Milwaukee, does not receive a very cordial response throughout the state. People outside seem to be generally of the opinion that while the event is of sufficient importance to be celebrated, they should not be called upon to contribute toward a celebration in Milwaukee. We believe this opinion is a sound one. If there is to be a celebration, and it is eminently proper that there should be one, it should be held all over the state. Were it to be held mainly in Milwaukee, that city could not provide for those who would wish to attend it. It would prevent many who might desire to participate from doing so, were they compelled to go to Milwaukee, and would be a loss of time and a heavy expense for those who did attend. It would be too limited an affair, not worthy the occasion, were it celebrated in but one place in the state. If there is to be a celebration at all, let it be a regular Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas all combined, and observed in every city, and let it be a regular Fourth of July to the people, and make it a day of general festival long to be remembered in the annals of the state.—Madison State Journal.

CHARLES H. WILLIAMS, concluding a long contribution to the Baraboo News on the subject of "The Negro in a Civil War," says: "The Nation gave the Freedman, so-called, the ballot and the right of citizenship to prevent the master class from grinding them down into the dust, but the education which came to that class—an education of lord and master, from infancy to old age—gave them an ability, a power as rulers which the Freedmen, trained under the lash to obedience and submission, are not able to successfully contend with. The master class, having the disposition to do so and the power, has deprived colored people of nearly all rights as citizens, permits, if it does not direct, the inhuman cruelties in practice. Because our nation so acted, because of the acts of the master class to render of no force that action of the nation, because of the long cruel slavery acquiesced in by the nation and because of the services rendered by colored soldiers in the time of greatest need, this nation owes a great debt to its colored citizens. That debt can be in part paid—one step taken to right those many wrongs—by enforcing the constitutional amendments provided in the interest and for the protection of the new colored citizens. Those amendments should be enforced regardless of consequences. Justice and humanity demand this enforcement."

ON our sick list are Mrs. Dan Scheid and Mrs. Nat. Guntle. We wish the STATESMAN a happy and successful New Year. Miss Maggie Tischhauser, of Kansas, is here visiting among relatives. Fred Reighbein moved through town on Friday to locate on Tischhauser's homestead to work for John Kruger. Zilke Bros. will run both engines after New Year, one as usual drilling wells and the other will saw lumber for Stork & Co., of West Bend, in Mr. Eidge's woods.

Our youthful reporter badly misworded an insertion in the last issue, speaking about our little town and the boys being out of it. It was meant that our town is so small that anybody driving into it may be on the other side before he knows it. But we rejoice to see the boys merry, as they have behaved well so far. The Rev. Beiser celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entering the priesthood and his silver wedding at the same time. Fully two-thirds of his congregation assembled at his home and had a merry time. Rev. Huecker, of New Cassel, made the opening address. Rev. Huecker was followed by the Rev. Lienkamper, of Wayne, after which the Rev. Beiser related a story of the Indian scare and how he made his escape, which was enjoyed by all. A number of songs were rendered by the choir after which a wedding supper was served at 11 o'clock. A large wedding cake surrounded by a number of colored candles decorated the center of the table. Kewaskum friends were most heartily greeted and everybody had a good time.

BEECHWOOD BEAMLETS.

Mr. Phillip Hammen lost a valuable horse. Beechwood was well represented at Silver Creek New Year's Eve. Wm. Schaefer and daughter are visiting friends in Milwaukee. Mr. Hoffman was thrown from a wagon Wednesday and seriously injured. Christmas dinner was given at John Clifford's, Sunday, to a large party of friends. Charles Miller transacted business in Milwaukee Monday and returned Tuesday. The infant child of Joe Kaiser died Monday. The remains were interred at the Mitchell Catholic cemetery. The Beechwood skating rink was the scene of a large gathering New Year's eve welcoming the new year. Services were held at the Methodist church New Year's Eve, praying the old year out and welcoming the new. The success that Dentist Hildreth is meeting with every Tuesday at Campbellsport is due to first-class work at reasonable prices. Our shoemaker has presented a petition to the village board to widen the sidewalks. He claims people too often come in contact with the wire fences. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lierman greeted their friends with open arms Sunday evening. Dancing was enjoyed until the small hours of the morning, when all departed for home with joyful hearts. John Denning of Random Lake died Monday night. The remains were brought to Beechwood for interment. He was formerly a resident of Beechwood. The funeral was largely attended.

NEW CASSEL NUGGETS.

Miss Lillie Glass is keeping house for the Frehn Bros. Wm. Pool transacted business in Milwaukee Tuesday. Robert Raymond made a business trip to Oshkosh on Tuesday. John G. Pool of Oshkosh came down to spend New Year's day with us. Miss Emma Tillack of Fond du Lac spent New Year's day with friends here. Miss Mary Raymond visited with the Busbals of Waucousta the past week. T. Fick, town treasurer, received taxes Thursday at Houghton and Murray's. A party of about fifty boys and girls enjoyed the skating on the pond New Year's day. A geography social was held at John Beckinger's Wednesday evening. A good time was enjoyed by all. A very enjoyable time was had at the L. O. G. T. hall Sylvester Eve, waiting for the coming of 1895. About thirty-five persons were present. At the semi-annual election of the New Cassel B. Y. P. U. the following officers were elected: Miss Grace Miller, president; Mrs. J. Beckinger, vice president; A. C. Busbaff, recording secretary; Miss Mary Tanner, corresponding secretary, and Miss Mary Raymond, treasurer.

CAMPBELLSPORT CULLINGS.

Prof. Wrucke and family returned from Theresa Saturday evening. Platt Durand and Eli Strobel went to Fond du Lac Thursday to attend to some court matters. School commenced Monday after an intermission of one week, with an increase in the attendance. R. H. Compton, the Standard Oil company huster, treated us to another of his fine songs Thursday. The annual meeting of the Campbellsport Mutual Fire Insurance company will be held Monday, Jan. 13, 1895, at Guenther's hall. The New Year's dance at Guenther's hall proved an entire success. Everything passed off pleasantly and a general good time was enjoyed by all. The remains of L. F. Nigh, who died at San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 21, arrived last Saturday and were taken to Wenzel's undertaking rooms until Sunday. Services were held at the M. E. church and the interment took place at the Union cemetery. The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Ashford Mutual Fire Insurance company was held at the office of J. A. Henricks, the secretary, last Monday. The annual meeting of the company will be held at Campbellsport, Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1895. Word has been received by Sheriff Watson that one Michael Mathus was killed at Ashland, Wis., and requesting that his relatives, living near Fond du Lac, be notified. We doubt as to its being Michael Mathien, formerly living here and who left here July 2, 1888. Services were held at the Catholic church Tuesday evening at 7 p. m.; also New Year's day at 10:00 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. In the evening a children's social was held at the parish school house. Many presents were distributed among the children. The recitations by the children were numerous and well rendered. A meeting of the patrons of husbandry was held at Guenther's hall Saturday afternoon for the purpose of appointing a committee on arrangements for the farmers' institute to be held here Jan. 23 and 24. The meeting adjourned until Jan. 2, when J. G. Schmidt, James McCullough and Wm. Wedde were appointed a committee on arrangements.

GONE TO HIS REST.

One of Washington County's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens Has Passed Away.

On Saturday morning last, at 1 o'clock, Mr. Carl Wittig, of the town of Farmington, was summoned to eternal rest. Mr. Wittig had been sick for several weeks and had received the best treatment medical aid and loving hands could bestow, but notwithstanding all this that grim and unwelcome visitor, Death, claimed his victim.

Deceased was born in Saxony, Germany, March 29, 1838, came to the United States in 1850, and directly to the town of Farmington, Washington county, Wis. When a young man he served two years in Milwaukee learning the carpenter's trade, after which he returned to Fillmore and continued to work at his trade as carpenter, joiner and contractor. On Nov. 15, 1859, he married Miss Augusta Kanter of Milwaukee. Their union was blessed with three children, viz: Charles, of Adell, Wis.; Ernest W., of the firm of Wittig & Co., Fillmore, Wis., and Emma, who still resides with her mother.

In the autumn of 1864 Mr. Wittig enlisted in Co. A, 45th Wis. Vol. Inf., serving to the close of the war, he was promoted to the rank of second lieutenant and received an honorable discharge in July 1865. Mr. Wittig was elected to the office of town clerk in the spring of 1870 and held that office continuously until 1892 with the exception of a period of six months in 1875, which he spent in St. Louis. He was appointed to the office of postmaster during Cleveland's first term and held that office until the present administration. Mr. Wittig always performed the duties of his office in a way that indicated the many noble qualities of which he was the possessor. He was the founder of the Farmington Turn Verein, the Fillmore lodge O. D. H. S., No. 33, and the L. O. O. F., No. 341, always being one of the foremost officers and an enthusiastic leader in these societies. He was also a devout member of the Lutheran church where he again demonstrated emulating qualities in many ways, one of which was an active interest in Sunday school work. In political faith Mr. Wittig was a Democrat, though he always stood more for honesty, truth and uprightness than for any party affiliations.

We lose in him a man whom none could fail to honor and respect after having formed his acquaintance, one whose place in society and friendship can never be filled to his associates. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at St. Martin's Lutheran church, Rev. Grunewald officiating at the last rites. The procession was the largest ever witnessed in Fillmore, being formed by the following societies which wished to express their reverence for the deceased: Sunday school children, Fullerton Post G. A. R., the O. D. H. S., Kishkapee lodge I. O. O. F., of Boltonville, Farmington lodge I. O. O. F., and the Turn Verein, followed by the Fillmore band, the hearse and the bereaved survivors. The Farmington lodge of I. O. O. F. expressed their deep regard for the remains by lining the grave with sprigs of evergreen as a last tribute to him who had been tried, trusted and honored in their midst.

Many a strong man wept at his grave remembering some act of kindness rendered by his lately departed friend, some act whereby he showed his readiness to help his fellow creatures in need. No better proof of an upright and noble character can be furnished than a spontaneous expression of sorrow and reverence from friends and acquaintances who would heartily exclaim with one accord, "He was a man." The STATESMAN extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives and friends.

KEWASKUM IMPROVEMENTS.

Advances in the Price of Real Estate.—Educational Facilities Should Be Improved.

Recent advances in prices and increased demand for real estate in this village go to show that public improvement is certain to lead to private gain. During the present year more has been expended in the way of improvement than during several years heretofore, and the returns come in to our property holders in the shape of increased value as may be seen from purchases of real estate recently made, where property has been sold for more than twice its value a few years ago. Do not worry, citizens of Kewaskum, if your taxes are a few dollars higher than previously. Remember that your property has really increased in value and much of it will sell for more than double the old price, owing to the fact that you no longer live in that reckless, "tumble-down" town, but in a neat, orderly, prosperous village that ere long will be able to claim her place in the front ranks of villages of her size. Citizens, you are to be congratulated upon the rapid strides in improvement which your progressive village is making. We will venture to say that our farmer friends in the vicinity of Kewaskum will rejoice with us in securing a live and enterprising market where they may be accommodated in selling their surplus and purchasing their necessities; also in the increased courtesy and welcome shown them when they come to town.

There is, however, one feature in which we are sadly wanting. Our educational facilities are not what they should be. Kewaskum ought to support at least a three-year's course high school to train her young people, the majority of whom are unable to go elsewhere to secure the training which has become so necessary in these days of progress and skillful competition. Such an institution, manipulated by appreciative patrons, would bring far more profitable returns in time than increased value of property even. It would enable our children to battle successfully with the problems of life; it will enable them to meet half way that competition which the world is sure to offer when they once embark on its merciless waters; it will arm them with tools which can neither be stolen nor destroyed like wealth and fame, but which, if rightly used, will fit them to stand before kings.

This cannot be done at once but will require time and labor. Let us at least prepare to improve our schools by thinking about this matter and by resolving that as soon as practicable we will strive to advance our educational facilities. Let us learn what other towns of this size are doing to equip their sons and daughters for the voyage of life.

The STATESMAN prints posters while you wait, if necessary, as we have the latest and best appliances out, being the newest printing office in the county. We also carry a full and complete stock of blank notes, receipts, etc., for the accommodation of our patrons.
