Communications sent to this office for publication should be couched in respectful language and signed by the author, in order to receive proper attention.

GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

LAST Monday was the 5th anniversary of the death of King Kalakana, husband of the late dethroned queen of Hawaii.

If Justice Field should retire from the United States Supreme court, a great obstacle will have been removed in the way of taxing incomes.

THE chances for an electric line between Chicago and Milwaukee are very good, and the "north shore" residents of the former city are to be congratulated.

THE Kenosha woman, who recently drove her crippled son out upon the street and declared she would kill him, should be placed where she cannot kill anybody but herself.

A CABLEGRAM from London recently announced that "Miss Viola will try going over Niagara Falls." She will find it as easy as rolling off a log; getting out alive is what will try her temper.

THERE is no war party in this country until there be an absolute necessity for war; and, in that event, the peace party would not be large enough to hold a decent-sized caucus.—Detroit Free-Press.

THE recent reduction in the cost of memorializing deceased congressmen reminds us that there are some representatives in Washington who could get a larger attendance at their funeral than any other entertainment they can get up.

THE explanation offered by Ambassador Bayard, relative to his Edinburgh (Eng.) speech, places him in a "Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde" light. However, he evidently realizes that the American people do not appreciate such acting upon the part of their British Ambassador.

THE Milwaukee "business" men, who recently petitioned congress to change the classification of U. S. mail to suit them, evidently never stopped to consider that they are only a portion of the voting population of that city, that the Cream City is only part of this state, and that Wisconsin is only a portion of the United States.

THE farmers of the county will be interested to learn that at a recent test of W. W. Dinger's patent separator, in Racine, it averaged 8 bushels per minute. The News of that place says that 4,800 bushels of oats can be threshed by this machine in 10 hours. The patentee is a well-known resident of the Bell city and has worked for the J. I. Case Co. for several years.

A LONDON paper says that "in the event of war an English man-of-war could be sent into the great lakes and capture Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago." This reminds us that, preparatory to the war of the rebellion, Uncle Sam produced a navy that was said to have been stronger than those of any three European powers combined; and it is just probable that he may do it again, if necessary.

AN Ohio judge has decided that wives are legally responsible for the support of their husbands and families, provided the husbands are unable to support them. The decision, of course, surprised the lawyers, to say nothing of the "new woman." However, the judge contends that the law of the Buckeye state, in this respect, is the same as that of Illinois, Iowa, California and Oklahoma Territory. The amount sued for was a $22 tailor bill, and the wife will have to pay it, as she has real estate valued at $10,000.

EDITOR Hod Taylor of the State Journal, one of the most active supporters of the extra session scheme, suggested some time ago, as an offset to the Democratic "howl" about the "needless expense," that the Republican members of the legislature should refuse to accept mileage, and thus reduce the expense of the session. An exchange calls the turn on Uncle Hod in a rather unpleasant manner by making the counter suggestion that he set the example by not asking pay for any publishing required in the State Journal—the official state paper. Next in order would be a suggestion that clerk Jack Turner should not claim his salary and printing bills, and that the members of the apportionment committee should follow suit. But will they? Well, we guess aber nit!—Port Washington Star.

"Fix one point on which the British government can make no concessions is the retention under British sovereignty of bona fide settled districts," says the London Times, which adds: "If this can be secured, there is no reason for standing by the Schomburgk line." That is all very well so far as regards the Schomburgk line, but how about the "one point?" It is notorious that there has long been an agreement between Venezuela and Great Britain that neither should trespass on territory claimed by the other. Suppose it should be found that British subjects have, bona fide, settled districts in violation of that agreement; would such settlement give Great Britain a territorial right which it could not consent to submit to arbitration? A disinterested party with any sense of justice probably would say not. If British subjects made settlements contrary to agreement they took their own risk and have no right to complain if they find themselves within the jurisdiction of Venezuela.—Chicago Chronicle.

Some Wonderful Petrifications.

The regions of the Little Colorado river in Arizona abound in wonderful vegetable petrifications, according to a Tucson paper—whole forests being found, in some places, which are as hard as flint, but which look as if but recently stripped of their foliage. Some of these stone trees are standing just as natural as life, while others are piled crosswise like fallen monarchs of a real wood forest. Geologists say that these stone trees were once covered to the depth of 1,000 feet with marl, which transformed them from wood to solid rock. This marl, after the lapse of ages, washed out, leaving some of the trees standing in an upright position. The majority of them, however, are piled helter-skelter in all directions, thousands of cords being sometimes piled up on an acre of ground.

Antitoxin in France.

Dr. Henry Monod has laid before the French academy of medicine some very interesting, though incomplete, statistics concerning the decrease in the mortality caused by diphtheria since the introduction of Dr. Roux's method of treating the disease by subcutaneous injections of serum. It was in January, 1895, that use of the serum may be said to have commenced. In 108 French towns, with a population of over 20,000, the only places from which statistics are supplied regularly, the average number of deaths from diphtheria which had occurred during the first six months of the seven years previous to 1895 was 2,627. During the first six months of 1895 the number of deaths from diphtheria was only 904, which is equivalent to a decrease of 65 per cent. in the mortality caused by that disease.—X.

Dividends for Cattle Thieves.

The annual meeting of the directory of the New England Live Stock association was held at the principal office of the company in Denver recently. The company has, during the past twelve years, had its grazing grounds in the Pecos valley, near Fort Sumner, New Mexico. At the meeting it was proposed to put this large tract of land under irrigation and sell it in small tracts for agricultural purposes. The association gives as its reason for the abandonment of these grounds the existing system of outlaws, which the authorities are unable to cope with. The several officers told of exploits of cattle rustling which would make a Denver bunko stealer turn green with envy. It was stated that on the Pecos river there is in operation an organization of cattle rustlers, having rules and by-laws, which holds regular annual meetings and declares dividends. All the large cattle men are closing out their herds, in consequence thereof, and preparing to go elsewhere.—X.
