A Supreme Court Decision Favorable to Plankinton Bank

Creditors.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—

Among the most important appeals decided by the Supreme court at this time of its session today was that of Raphael Giannelli, respondent, vs. Frank

Rigelow et al., appellants, an appeal from the circuit court at Milwaukee county, in an action brought by a creditor of the Plankinton bank to obtain judgment against the stockholders, who are made defendants, requiring each of them to pay the amount of their respective liabilities as stockholders, under the banking law, which makes stockholders liable for the debts of an insolvent bank, and asking for a receiver to collect and receive from stockholders their payments, with authority among other things to make proof of claim against the estate of E. C. Ryan, dec-

ed. The appeal was argued by Messrs.

Plans for a Combine of the Fox

River Valley Water

Power.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—

The first of the work of uniting all Fox river water power owners in one big combine, to control the entire flow of the river, and by doing away with the points of friction between individual owners makes the most equitable division of the power to the detriment of all concerned, will be finished today.

GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

The health commissioner of Milwaukee, Dr. Kempster, has resumed his duties as the result of legally contesting the manner in which the aldermen of the Cream City deposed him.

Major McKinley has just celebrated his silver wedding—which is the only thing in his career upon which any opinion of his position upon the money question can be hung.—Chicago Chronicle.

The advice of a condemned murderer upon the scaffold at Chicago, to a friend, not to let his boy grow up in the "levee" district, should have been addressed to society. People do not live in the slums from choice, but from necessity.—Racine News.

The Supreme court has decided that all Plankinton bank stockholders must share that institutions deficiency to the full amount of stock held therein, if necessary. As F. T. Day was the principal stockholder, this ruling will probably bankrupt him.

A cable dispatch says that Lord Salisbury's appearance indicates weakness from over-work and brain fog. His mental condition is indicated by failure to recognize acquaintances whom he meets. Salisbury is probably suffering from an attack of the Monroe doctrine.—Chicago Chronicle.

According to Senator Wolcott's view of the Monroe doctrine, he believes in sitting idly by and seeing his neighbors robbed of their possessions, provided he is unmolested. However, the senator from Colorado, like "bloody brides" Waite, has succeeded in securing some cheap advertising for that state.

Russia proposes to build a new war ship every time England builds one. England orders a new war ship or two every time the navies of any other nation are enlarged. Some time, perhaps, in the interests of universal peace, this process will be reversed so that each nation shall transform a warship into a merchant vessel every time any other nation does so.—Kansas City Star.

There are six great powers in Europe: Russia, Germany, France, England, Italy and Austria. The four eastern continents, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and their attendant islands, barring Japan's, are apparently destined to be entirely theirs. At any rate, they want them. The field is large enough for six ambitious almost as dazzling as the great Napoleon's, craze to rule the world. The two continents of North and South America are for the people already there, preserved from further conquest.—N. Y. Sun.

The color line of the Women's club of Chicago has been broken, figuratively speaking, by the admission of Mrs. Fannie Berrier Williams, who is described as being "a light mulatto of regular features, not beautiful but attractive in appearance, of lady-like manners and superior culture." However, when the fact is considered that she had been previously rejected on account of color and that her final application contained the statement that "she had no desire to go where she was not wanted but that she had become the representative of a principle and only sought to have it vindicated through her admittance to the club"—well, it is plain that practically the color line still exists in the Women's club of Chicago.

The Monroe doctrine is all right, as witness the following extract from Senator Thurston's speech in defending it against the recent attack of Senator Wolcott: "The press of Great Britain has already seized upon the utterances of the senator from Colorado as an indication that the people of this country are ready to abandon whatever place we now hold of duty and responsibility toward the republics and the affairs of the new world. But, when the pending resolution comes on for final passage, I predict that it will be adopted by such a decisive vote as will advise all Christendom of the stand which the people of this country are prepared to make for the maintenance and enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. Sir, believing that the honor of my country is involved, that the hour calls for the highest expression of loyalty and patriotism, calmly confident of the verdict of posterity, reverently calling God to witness the sincerity of my purpose, I shall vote for the resolution reported by the committee on foreign relations. I shall vote for it, not as an affront to any other nation, but to uphold the dignity of my own. I shall vote for it in this time of perfect tranquility, convinced that peace with honor can be preserved; but, sir, I would vote for it just as surely were we already standing in the awful shadow of declared war. I would vote for it were the ravies of all Europe thundering at our harbors. I would vote for it were the shells of British battleships bursting above the dome of the nation's capitol. I would vote for it and would maintain it at all hazards and at any cost with the last dollar, with the last man, yes! though it might preclude the coming of a mighty conflict whose conclusion should leave me without a son, as the last great contest left me without a sire."

A populist view: "It is easier to form new political parties than to reform the old ones." However, new parties that fail to get hold of anything to reform are useless.

The St. Louis Republic sums up the Republican candidates for the presidency as follows: "Reed, a flippant and shallow mixture of Blaine and Ingalls; McKinley, a commonplace droner of one song, who never yet could lead a tariff debate; Allison, a coxer and a bending reed—here are the three mighty men of the Republican host. Harrison is no longer big in politics. Morton, in his prime, was not strong enough to deal with Garfield, except through able men, and now stands for nothing except Tom Platt's dummy." While the foregoing may be literally true, the convention city paper should remember that greasing the machine in profusion covers a multitude of defects; and, if any one of the trio named secures a running mate with a goodly supply of "grease," his chances are good for the nomination—and we did not learn this by reading John Sherman's book, either.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Four crops a year can be raised on Cuban soil.

Fifteen women's clubs were organized in Maine last year.

In Japan the wealthy classes regard it as bad form to ride a horse faster than a walk.

The winter is so mild in France this year that daisies are already blooming in the Parisian parks.

There are 39,951 Italians in New York, the largest colony of them in the United States. Brooklyn comes second with 9,563.

Thirty-seven years ago a Brookville, Me., woman received a present of a lamp, two chimneys and a globe, and though in constant use they are yet unbroken.

Experiments are still being tried in England in preserving fresh fruit in borax. It has been found perfectly successful with cherries, and is now being tried with vegetables.

In Tartary onions, leeks, and garlic are regarded as perfumes. A Tartar lady will make herself agreeable by rubbing a piece of freshly cut onion on her hands and over her countenance.

The influx of immigrants into south Africa is continuing at such a rapid rate that the Cape Times fears that before many months have passed they shall once more be face to face with the unemployed difficulty.

A farmer named Chris. Bennecke arrived in Princeton, Ky., last week in a prairie schooner with his family and most of his household goods, having driven all the way from Chadron, Neb., a distance of about 1,000 miles.

Dean Hole of Rochester, England, having seen Wilson Barrett's new play, "The Sign of the Cross," calls it "a sacred endeavor to ring out the false, ring in the true," and calls on "all earnest Christians" to support it "by their presence and their praise."

A man in Barton, Vt., married his step-mother recently. The match was interesting, but not successful. Domestic difficulties brought them into the police court shortly after their marriage, and the trouble is not smoothed over yet.

A former superintendent of the New Haven, Conn., almshouse died an inmate of that institution a few days ago. He was removed from office twenty-two years ago because of cruelty to the inmates. About a year ago he was obliged to seek shelter in the almshouse for himself.

It is said that the health of the brunette type of eye is, as a rule, superior to that of a blonde type. Black eyes usually indicate good powers of physical endurance. Dark blue eyes are more common in persons of delicate, refined or effeminate natures, and generally show weak health.

A hunter, while roaming in the woods of Cromwell, Conn., recently came upon an excavation in a bank. Turning over an iron vessel which was imbedded in the sand, he found a note in an envelope, the contents of which read: "We are satisfied that Captain Kidd's treasure is not buried here."

A. W. Paine of Penobscot, Me., has attended every term of supreme court at Bangor for 59 years, with the exception of one winter, when illness kept him at home. He was on hand at the opening of the court last week with a case for trial. He has argued cases at every term except that held during his illness.

Over 36,000,000 pairs of gloves are used in England every year, and of these fully three-fourths are worn by the ladies. The value spent by them in these articles amounts annually to $7,500,000. One manufacturing firm alone finds employment, directly and indirectly, for 50,000 people, and at Worcester alone nearly five miles are covered by glove factories.

Seven brothers, all over 65 years of age, had a reunion in Fresno, Cal., recently, and a notable photographic group is an interesting memento of the occasion. The brothers are the Funck family. There are three sisters, too, all very near the three score and ten years mark. The eldest of the brothers is 84 and the youngest 65. A noticeable fact is that all of the brothers wear long white beards and not one is bald.

NEW CASSEL NUGETS.

Martin Herbert offers his village lots for sale.

W. J. Romayne of New Prospect was a caller here Wednesday.

F. M. Findisen went to Theresa last Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Fickert.

Miss Grace Miller closed a successful term of school in Dist. No. 3 with an exhibition Friday evening.

Mrs. Martha J. Tuttle has returned from Unity, Clark county, where she has been visiting for some time.

O. S. Raymond was out selling nursery stock and did well, as he represents a good firm and sells at low prices.

Dentist Hildreth operates in all branches of dentistry at Campbellsport every Tuesday. Railroad fare paid.

A number of young people tendered a surprise to Miss Helen Hull last Monday evening and had a very good time.

The Star Comedy company appeared at Naughton & Murray's hall last Friday evening with a very laughable programme.

Theo. Fick, treasurer of the town of Auburn, went to Fond du Lac last Monday and made his returns to the county treasurer.

A number of friends gathered with Mr. and Mrs. H. Kuehl last Thursday to enjoy the evening, it having been the anniversary of Mrs. Kuehl's birth.

ST. KILIAN KALIGRAPHICS.

John Felix, one of our young farmers, has purchased a farm of 170 acres in Kewaunee county and will move thereon in a few weeks.

While Joseph Silla was returning from the Eden quarry last week with a load of stone his team ran away and did considerable damage.

A surprise party was tendered John Steichen and wife, Jan. 24th, in honor of the 8th anniversary of their marriage; and the evening was pleasantly spent by all.

At the annual meeting of the St. Kilian congregation recently, it was decided to enlarge the present plan of the church by adding 10 feet to its length, making it 115 feet long.

Our village population was increased by five when Paul German moved in last Wednesday; and, our citizens serenaded him with the band which was recently organized here.

The 18th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Beisler was celebrated at their residence last Wednesday evening. The local band was in attendance; and, with music, games and refreshments, the occasion proved very enjoyable to all participants.

NEW PROSPECT NOTES.

Miss Tilla Keohn is the guest of Miss Celia Van Barcom this week.

The surprise party at M. D. Martin's last Saturday evening was a success.

John Van Barcom has gone to St. Lawrence to clerk in his uncle's store.

The people of this neighborhood who have been on the sick list are improving.

Mrs. George Romaine visited relatives in Campbellsport the latter part of last week.

L. B. Reed and family visited relatives and friends in and east of Fond du Lac last Saturday and Sunday.

R. N. Gage of Campbellsport was here Monday fishing with parties on Crooked Lake. They report good fishing there.

The success that Dentist Hildreth is meeting with every Tuesday at Campbellsport is due to first-class work at reasonable prices.

A few young people from this vicinity attended the candy-pull at the Good Templar's hall in Campbellsport last Tuesday evening.

A number of gentlemen from this vicinity attended the Farmers' institute at Campbellsport last week. All report it as having been a very profitable meeting.

BEECHWOOD BEAMLETS.

F. F. Franey called on friends here last Wednesday.

Ed. Burke of Mitchell made a pleasant call here.

Mrs. James Stokes is spending a few days with friends in Waldo.

The Misses John Koch and Frank Martin were here from New Prospect on business last Thursday.

James Hughes and wife, Messrs. Dawson and Reddington, spent last Wednesday evening with friends in Beechwood.

Dentist Hildreth will also extract your teeth, if need be, without pain. Every Tuesday at Campbellsport, Wis. Railroad fare paid.

A great number of Beechwood people attended the funeral of John Connell of Mitchell, who was buried in the Catholic cemetery there on Jan. 23.

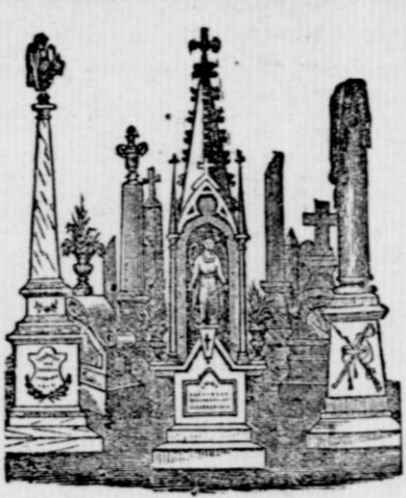

The 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Held was celebrated by a surprise party last Sunday. Among those who attended from a distance were: Louis Held and sisters, John Kaster, and the daughters of John Trevisanus, all of West Bend.

The wedding of Miss Julia Reisen and Mr. Darling occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday afternoon, and was attended by a large circle of friends from far and near. About 200 invitations were issued. Dancing was indulged in to the fullest extent. The bride received a great number of valuable gifts.

The leap year party given by the Four Leaf Clover club, Jan. 24th, was a grand success. The grand march, at 8:30 p. m., was attended by ninety couples, and music was furnished by the Beechwood orchestra, assisted by a lady orchestra. All had a delightful time until dawn appeared, when they indulged in a hucwared march.

Chas. Miller, Sr., went to Lonira last Saturday to see his son Charles, who was recently partially paralyzed as the result of diphtheria and subsequent exposure. Look jaw set in, and upon recovering the victim lost control of his right arm. However, we are pleased to report that he was improving at last accounts.

August Backhaus, has ordered the county surveyor, C. F. Leins, of West Bend to lay out his land in town lots.

Mr. Backhaus intends to extend West street south to a point parallel with Prospect avenue, and it is probable that the avenue will then be extended east as far as West street. This would give residents of Prospect avenue a clear driveway to the Milwaukee river, and it is earnestly hoped that the project will be pushed to completion.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schief at their home in the town of Auburn, last Monday evening, in honor of the former's 54th birthday anniversary, by members of Isaac Hendricks post No. 246 of Campbellsport. A most delightful time was had by all present singing old war songs, talking over war experiences, etc., and the gathering did not "break ranks" till the early hours of morning, after partaking of a splendid repast, which was served by ladies of the above named post.

The case of Albert Rantum vs. Albert Schroeder, which was pending before Henry Backhaus, Jr., a justice of the peace, was settled last Thursday by defendant agreeing to pay the costs, which amounted to $5.72. It seems that the plaintiff engaged Schroeder to work for him for one year for $30 and board and clothes, and that defendant quit with a pair of mittens, boots and stockings after working ten weeks. Schroeder acted upon the advice of his counsellor, Aug. Backhaus, Jr., in settling, although he claimed to have quit his job because his employer grew overbearing.

LINKED LIVES.

A little toddling boy at play.

An older girl, alert and gay.

Kind guardian of his infant way—Small Charles, wise Mary.

A youth—with longings unfulfilled—To possess his life work willed.

A maid distraught—a mother killed—Sad Charles, most Mary.

A brother giving up his life.

His cherished dream, his fanes rift.

To soothe his sister's bitter strife—True Charles, tried Mary.

Year after year of "drudgery" dry.

With cheerful mien, with never a sigh.

That loved one's comfort to supply—Brave Charles, bliss'd Mary.

Dear friends by his own hearth to greet.

The sister making home complete—Bright Charles, fond Mary.

At length the treasures of his mind.

He poured forth freely for mankind.

When Ella's deathless name he signed—Glad Charles, proud Mary.

That summers ten of ease and rest.

With kindly word and ready jest.

Though oft did anguish wring his breast—Lone Charles, crazed Mary.

But when the cloud had passed away.

Once more the joy of his life came.

On every theme his wit would play—Quaint Charles, calm Mary.

And best we love to point them so.

Forgetting those dim years of woe—

When he was dead—ere she could go—Dear Charles, dear Mary.

Than theirs, whose record shows more fair?

With martyr's ordeal may compare

These lives of "dual loneliness" rare—"Saint" Charles, his Mary!

—Dora Cane in Blackwood's, Rosa Bonheur's Palette.

When Rosa Bonheur finished her masterpiece, "The Horse Fair," a friend said to her, "Make me a present of your palette." With the freshly finished canvas before her, and her palette on her thumb, Mrs. Rosa smiled and said: "Ah, well, if you wish it. Let me touch it up a little." She then quickly painted the sketch of a deer and added her autograph. The paints are dried around the edge of the palette and the whole is framed under glass in the Walker art gallery in Minneapolis. From France to Minnesota! The prophecy of such a destiny would have seemed strange when the palette left the artist's hand. But the transience has come to pass. The painting and the palette are both in America.—Womankind.
