was irregular and that there was no convention until the credentials had been passed upon, but their angry pro-tests were swept aside like chaff. The convention brimmed over with enthusi-asm, and was in no temper to be de-layed.

At the afternoon session the first test of strength between the McKinley followers and those of Reed, Allison, Quay and Morton came, and it demonstrated to the satisfaction of all that the Ohio St. Louis, Md., June 16.—Auspiciously and serenely, beneath a sky across whose

The presentation of the report was met with a violent minority report denouncing the committee on credentials for presuming to accept finehallenged the finding of the national committee. The presentation of the issue fanned into a flame all the bitter animosities in the convention.

Mr. Fort of New Jersey and Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio were put forward to champion, the majority report. Mr. Hepburn of Iowa led the opposition: The fines were not drawn absolutely, as quite a number of delegates who are pledged to McKinley voted with the apposition, but it was apparent, from the cheers with which the opposition greeted the amouncement of every vote in their favor, that they were marshaling every available vote at their command. They were defeated—545½ to 350½. They realized that they could not overthrow the victorious hosts of McKinley, and made no attempt to emphasize their discomfiture by demanding a roll call on its final adoption.

Purely a Formal Session.

The temporary chairman; C. W. Those who expected that allusion to McKinley would loose the bottled-up enthusiasm for the little Napoleon, or whio initiagined that, perhaps, some of the great leaders of oratory of the party would be called to the platform to fire their imaginations and quicken their pulses, were disappointed. It was purely a formal session.

THE PROPOSED PLATFORM. Declarations as to the Tariff, Money and the convention tomorrow:

The Republicans of the United States, assembled by their representatives in national convention, appealing for the popular and historical justification of their claims to the bitter fruits of four years of Democratic control as well as the matchless improvements of thirty years of Republican rule, carnestly and confidently address themselves to the awakened intelligence, experience and conscience of their countrymen in the following declaration of facts and principles:

A Striking Contest.

United States, has been killed south of Tripoli. It is added that all of De Mores party, to the number of thirty-five were massacred. He was on his way, according to report, to the Soudan in order to enlist Arab chieftains against the British.

TOASTED THE BURGHERS.

Released Reform Prisoners Praise the Boers and Admit Their Guilt.

For the first time since the Civil war, the American people have now witnessed the calamitous consequences of full and unrestricted Democratic control of the government. It has been a record of unparalleled incapacity, dishonor and disaster. In the administrative management, it has ruthlessly sacrificed indispensable revenue, eked out ordinary current running expenses with borrowed money, piled up the public debt $252,000,000 in time of peace, forced an adverse balance of trade, kept a perpetual menace hanging over the redemption fund for pawned American credit to alien syndicates, and reversed all the measures and results of successful Republican rule. In the broad effect of its policy it has precipitated panic, blighted industry and trade with prolonged depression and crippled American production while stimulating foreign production for the American market.

Every consideration of public safety and Individual interest demand that the government shall be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable of conducting it without disaster at home and dishonor abroad, and shall be rescred to the party which, for thirty years, administered it with unequaled success and prosperity.

Protection and Reciprocity.

We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection as the bulwark of American industrial independence and the foundation of American development and prosperity. This true American policy taxes foreign products and encourages home industries; it puts the burden of revenue on foreign goods: it secures the American market for the American producers; it upholds the American standard of wages for the American workmen; it puts the factory by the side of the farm and makes the American farmer less dependent on foreign demand and price; it diffuses general thrift and founds the strength of all on the strength of each. In its responsible application, it is just, fair and impartial, equally opposed to foreign control and domestic monopoly, to sectional discrimination and individual favoritism.

We denounce the present Democratic tariff as sectional, partisan and one-sided, and disastrous to the treasury and destructive of business enterprise, we demand such an equitable tariff on foreign imports which come into competition with American products as will not only furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the government, but will protect American labor from degradation and the wage level of others. We are not piedged to any particular and Mark Twain. Forty-five years ago it was that Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote her great slave epic, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." and she was then a mature woman of 40, writes Richard Burton in Ladies' Home Journal. Three thousand copies went off the first day; the second edition the next week; a third within a month, and 120 editions within the year—over 300,000 copies. The shy, retiring wife of the country professor, familiar with all the exigencies of small means, found her royalties in the short space of four months yielding her $10,000. But it must not be forgotten, in the overwhelming dominance gotten, in the overwhelming dominance of "Uncle Tom," that Mrs. Stowe has written other powerful and charming novels. * * * Mrs. Stowe can rest from her labors in the comforting sense of the beneficent use of a great gift Most of her kin, the majority of her er here tenderly cared for by her own, or there, with the companions of her main strength and mightiest work, all is well with America's foremost and be-

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DONALD KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, MASS.,

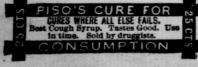

Has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken. When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squeamish feelings at first. No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

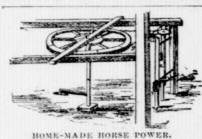

Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

BRIEF HINTS AS TO THEIR SUC-CESSFUL MANAGEMENT.

Home-Made Horse Power that Will Give Good Satisfaction-A Fodder Crop for Arid Sections-A Convenient Hog Trough-Unprofitable Stock.

Farm Horse Power. Herewith is a sketch of a power erected on barn floor for cutting straw or cornfodder. The large wheel is 12 or 14 feet in diameter, made of wood. The hub of the big wheel is 4 feet in diameter, made of inch boards nailed together, with square hole in center to Forty-five years ago it was that Har- fit post. The spokes, 8 in number, are the proper circle and about 7 inches wide. The two outside tiers project over the middle tier 1 inch, in order to make groove for chain to run in. The post A in diagram is 6 inches square, hard wood, rounded off at each end to run in bearings on floor and in overlay. The big wheel is fastened on post high enough for horses to walk underneath. The chain B is a size heavier than comman plow chain. The jack in ilustration is made from the gearing of an old Buckeye mower. It is shown fastened to post in barn. C is a wooden pulley 15 inches in diameter, with groove for chain and bolted to ratchet wheel, originally on the main shaft of the cld mower. D is the bevel gearing and F is play boldly up and down the chestnut a wooden pulley bolted to cog wheel boles, and the woodpecker and robin refor belt or rope to connect with cutting box. X is the tightening pulley, hinged at (a) with weight G attached to keep chain taut.

Destroying Burdocks. If a burdock at any stage of growth subsequent dealings with Turkey, has, in a small volume soon to be issued by John Murray, supplied the want of a brief narrative of the chain of events which have led to the wifting navy below the surface of the ground and a handful of salt thrown on the cut surface, it completely destroys it. The moisture from the cut dissolves is cut below the surface of the ground and a handful of salt thrown on the The moisture from the cut dissolves the salt, and this in turn helps to rot the root, so that no sprout from it is possible. The earlier this is done the less trouble it will be to cut the root below the surface. A sharp spade is best to do this. Very little salt is needed, as when rotting begins below the ground it is apt to continue until the entire root is a mass of pulp. The burdock is biennial and not so hard to get rid of as many perennials which have horizontal roots running under ground, which no application of salt can reach. The chief trouble with burdock is its innumerable seeds, one plant seeding making enough to stock an acre, and the seed remaining in the ground for years waiting an opportunity to grow.

> Black Rice Corn. Black rice corn is one of the heavily yielding sorghum fodders and is being experiment station at Manhattan has ested this corn on a small scale. Agriculturist C. C. Georgeson writes Farm | fields. and Home saying the test was sufficient to satisfy him that the plant is not as profitable to raise as Kaffir corn for general culture and its further culture at the station was therefore dropped. The Spring Pigs Need Extra Feed. Most young pigs make very rapid growth the first two or three weeks of their life from suckling the sow. But after that time as the pigs grow larger they require more, while the probability will be that the sow gives less milk than at first. If there are as many cows in the dairy as there are litters of pigs to be fed the dairy butter maker can do a profitable business making pork. The skim milk will not be of itself enough to keep pigs in good thrift, but that with wheat middlings and enough linseed meal to make up for the loss of butter fats in the cream will keep pigs growing at five and six nonths old quite as fast as they did hile at the teat. In fact, when feedng pigs we often thought that the growth of the pig from 50 to 150 pounds was more rapid than his growth before he had learned to eat and digest all combination in HIRES kinds of food.

Trapping Chicken Hawks. Hawks are troublesome to poulterers in many neighborhoods, pouncing down upon young chickens and carry ing them off before the watchful hea can call them to a place of safety. The habit of the hawk is always to take a rest before he swoops down. If a stout post 10 to 12 feet high and its op flattened is set near the poultry yard the hawk will use this as his resting place. Fasten a trap to the top of this post with a stout cord, and set it on the top where the feet of the hawk will spring it as soon as he alights. This is an easy way to kill the worst enemy the poultry raiser in many lo

Sap Sprouts Around Apple Trees. If the sap sprouts that start out from severely pruned trees during the spring are broken off when they get fully into leaf, it will save a great deal of after trouble. This, of course, is some check on the tree, but quite possibly the tree needs it, for severe pruning while the buds are dormant induces a great wood growth the following season, to the prejudice of fruit production. It is certainly much less labor to rub off these sprouts when they have just started than after they have hardened, so that a knife or saw has to be taken in hand to rid the tree of them. Shrunken Wheat for Poultry. The very best use of shrunken wheat, me of which will be found in every crop, is as food for poultry. The grain being shrunken is deficient in starch, but it has all the greater proportion of gluten, which is the chief element of the digestion.

FARM AND GARDEN, egg, while the outside husk or bran is rich in phosphate, which helps to make the egg shell. The poultry dealer can usually buy shrunken wheat at a lower price than the perfect grain, while for feeding fowl it is really better for being Unprofitable Stock.

It is very common to hear farmers say that their stock does not pay. This is really the severest possible reflection on their own management. Some kinds of stock cannot be kept in certain localities, because the land is too valuable to make it profitable to grow the feed for them. What should be aimed at is stock good enough to pay for the feed they require when bought at market rates. Then it will not make any difference how dear the land is, for the stock will pay anyway. The stock that is most often kept on purchase food is poultry. But with this some land is necessary, not so much to grow food on as to furnish range for the fowls and keep them in healthy condition. If the owner of fowls does not find them profitable, instead of complaining of his hard luck he should study the defects in his management and remedy them.

Watering Horses at Work. Horses hard at work need water between the morning and noon meal, and also between noon and time for closing the day's work. If a handful of oatmeal is thrown in the pail of water. it will prevent any danger of injury and it will also give strength as well as refreshment. This stimulation has no bad after effects, and the horses watered thus in the middle of the forenoon and afternoon will be less likely to injure themselves by drinking at noon or night of cold water while they are heated and exhausted by the labors they have performed. It pays to give the horse good care, for the more he can be made to do, the more effective will be the hired help that works with

A Hog-Feeding Convenience. The usual hog's trough and the usual method of getting food into it, are conducive to a perturbed state of mind on trough, where he is likely to receive a goodly portion of his breakfast or dinner upon the top of his head. The or dinary trough, too, is difficult to clean out for a similar reason-the pig usually standing in it. The diagram shown herewith gives a suggestion for a trough that overcomes some of the difficulties mentioned, as it is easily accessible from the outside, both for pouring in food and for removing any dirt or litter that may be in it. The accompanying sketch so plainly shows the construction that detailed description does not appear to be necessary.

Trees as Grape Trellises. We very often see trees of various kinds used as supports for grape vines. It is usually done as the result of neglect, for the tree trellis in the end costs more than one built of wood and wire. There is no advantage in having a trellis more than seven or eight feet in height. This will enable the grower to gather the grapes easily, and will also make the necessary pruning less difficult. On a high tree the extra cost of pruning the vine more than offsets any advantage it may have for the grape vine trained on it. Besides, a tree covered continuously in summer with a growing vine is soon so smothered by the foliage that its own top will die and become unsightly.

Pruning in the Bud. Successful pruning requires some calculation and imagination. The branches that grow out of shape or run into others and so spoil the tree were originally only buds that could be brushed off with the thumb and finger. It is far better to do this work early than to wait until the bud has developed into a large limb, which leaves an ugly scar on the tree when it is removed.

The Cooking of Eggs. Eggs, says Miss Parola, are hard to ligest if improperly cooked, but by maintaining a heat just below the boiling point they are cooked so as to be easily digested and full of nutriment. It is a simple fact that the amount of water affects the cooking of eggs. Half a pint is necessary for one, and while every extra one does not require that much in addition, there should be plenty of water. Have it boiling, put in the eggs, take the pan from the fire, cover and wrap closely, or set on the back of the range for ten minutes, when the albumen will be cooked evenly, whereas if it had been boiled three minutes would have been soft within tough without, and very indigestible. "So," said Miss Parloa, "you see that the right way to 'boil' an egg is not to boil regular, low temperature, and also quick cooling in a fresh current of air.

The galleries were filled, but there was an absence of the packed corridors in-cident to an eventful close of Congress. The Senate convened at 11 o'clock. The last bill to be passed was one urged by Mr. Sherman pensioning the widow of Gen. W. H. Gibson, a prominent Ohio officer. Reso-lutions of thanks were unanimously adopt-ed to Vice-President Stevenson and Presi-dent Pro Tempore Frye for their impartia-rulings in the chair. One of the last acta-was to give the important immigration bilt a parliamentary status by which it secures the right of way as soon as the Senate re-assembles.

House.

The final session of the House on the 11th was devoid of public interest. The appropriation bills had been passed, and the members simply waited for the end to come. Some were made happy by the passing of small bills of interest to their districts. To Gen. Wheeler of Alabama belonged the distinction of securing the passage of the last bill. Beyond a little misunderstanding between Mr. Bailey of Texas and Mr. Marsh of Illinois, the utmost good feeling prevailed. There was an attempt by Mr. Bailey and Mr. Maguire of California to precipitate a political discussion in the last half hour of the session, but the Republicans declined the gauge of combat thrown down to them. Mr. Turner (Den., Ga.), who was the floor leader of the minority during the absence of Mr. Crisp, offered a resolution of thanks to the speaker, which was adopted by a standing vote, a most unusual honor. The resolution is as follows: "Resolved, that the thanks of this House are due and are hereby tendered to hich was adopted by a standing vote, a lost unusual honor. Insurgents Blow Up the Acqueduct with Dynamite-City May be Invested.

Havana, June 15.-This city was startled and alarmed Saturday night at 9 o'clock by the noise of two successive explosions which shook the ground for eral miles. Excited throngs rushed into the streets, while an armed party proreeded in the direction from which the detonations had been heard. It was soon found that the stone bridges of Christiana and Concha and the aqueduct of Fernando Septimo were the points that had suffered from the dynamite. The bridges were partially destroyed and the pipes on the aqueduct upon which the pipes on the aqueduct upon which the city is dependent for its water supply, were much damaged. It cannot yet be stated how extensive is the damage done or how long it will require to remedy it.

There is no doubt that the dynamite which caused the wreck was placed by Mayor P. D. Hastain of Sedalia, drew a knife on delegate Berry in the secret session but was seized and prevented from making a personal attack.

The Kerens faction had been outvoting the Filley people on several issues raised. After a test vote on a proposition to postpone the selection of a national committeeman until the contest from Missouri had been passed upon, Hastain made a slighting remark regarding Mis-souri's "Old Man." Berry was on his feet instantly and made a sharp personal attack on Has-tain. #### THOUGHT HE HAD JAUNDICE.

OTHER DOCTORS SAID DIABE-TES, INDIGESTION, TORPID LIVER, ETC.

But None of the Prescribed Remedies Did Any Good, So the Patient Prescribed for Himself with Wonderful Results-He Is Now a Well Man.

From the Reporter, Fond du Lac, Wis. About a year ago The Reporter correpondent on a trip through Stockbridge, Visconsin, was introduced to Mr. J. W. Flower, whose appearance was anything but pleasant to one unacquainted with disease and its effects. One would think Mr. Flower had jaundice or consumption and to the reporter it seemed that he was not long for this world. Some six months later the correspondent saw Mr. Flower again, and there was a very marked improvement in his appearance. In reply to a question as to what had been the matter with him he stated he did not know exactly, but that he had been examined and treated by several physicians who failed to agree as to his ailments. Said

Mr. Flower:
"One stated I had diabetes, another indigestion, and another said my spleen failed to supply the system with sufficient red corpuscles, another said my liver had become hardened and torpid; but none of the remedies prescribed did me any good I was cold and weak nearly all the time; I had no ambition, I had chills and then heat flashes, I was at times numb and thought I was paralyzed, my legs were so weak I could scarcely walk a block at times. I had given up all hope of ever getting better, when one day I read an article in The Reporter which spoke of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. "I thought it was about the same as with other patent medicines and paid no attention to it, but my wife, who had been troubled as most women are, concluded to send for a box of the pills to use in her case, which she did. I read the circular wrapped around the box and concluded to try them myself unknown to her. I to try them myself unknown to her. I had no faith in their doing me any good, but much to my surprise, after taking them a week I began feeling better and as my wife was also feeling better I told her I was taking the pills. I sent for two boxes more, and in two months I was much better. My strength has improved ever since, and I am still gaining flesh. I have regained my appetite, and to-day I can do as much work on the farmers are I can do as much work on the farm as an

man in my employ."

"Then, Mr. Flower, you honestly believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured you and your wife?" questioned the correspondent. "Yes, and I have given them to my children when they complain and on them they work like magic. It would be impossible for me to speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I have at all times in my household. I commenced to use the Pink Pills in my family about one year and a half ago, and find them to do more than they are advertised to do. would not be without them for any price, and am always glad to recommend them o all my friends, and would advise all others to use them, especially those who have suffered as myself and wife have
