Democratic Congressional County Convention.

Notice is hereby given that the Democratic congressional county convention for the purpose of electing 5 delegates to the Fifth Congressional district convention to be held at West Bend, September 8, 1896, will be held at the Grand opera house in Kewaskum, on Saturday, Sept. 5, at 10 p. m. The representation will be the same as at our other county convention.

Notice of Democratic Caucus.

Notice is hereby given that a Democratic caucus for the village of Kewaskum will be held at the Eagle hotel on Sept. 3 at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing 3 delegates to represent said village at the county convention to be held in the Grand opera house on Sept. 5, 1896.

Kewaskum Town Caucus.

A Democratic caucus for the town of Kewaskum is hereby called to be held in the Grand opera house on Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1896, at 3 p. m. for the purpose of nominating delegates to the congressional county convention at Kewaskum on Sept. 5, 1896.

THESE PROPHETS OF PANIC.

The New York World, a pronounced gold paper whose loyalty cannot be questioned, has felt compelled to warn some of its more rabid contemporaries of the same school that they were going too far in their game of predicting panic as the inevitable result of a silver victory. It says that they are doing their cause more harm than good by extreme assumptions and unreasoned utterances, and continues thus: The picture Macaulay drew of the ruin of London, with the intelligent wanderer from New Zealand seated on a broken arch of London bridge to sketch the ruins of St. Paul's, jibes beside the lurid predictions of disaster with which we are threatened if Mr. Bryan should be elected president next November. To believe these extremists, one would suppose that the end of the republic was at hand.

But, the end is not yet; and, as the World says, let no one despair of the republic. However much of a change we may have in our monetary system, it will certainly not put a stop to American industry and thrift. Whichever party wins, the planting and the reaping, the fires in the furnaces, and the rumbling of machinery will go on just the same, and the toiling millions will break their own great record as producers of capital.

The first duty of the press today is to fix this truth in the minds of the people among whom the dismal prophets are at work to create a panic.—Chicago Journal.

The Republican congressional convention at Milwaukee last Saturday renominated S. S. Barney of West Bend by acclamation, and he delivered quite a lengthy address in honor of the occasion.

The Democratic convention at Hartford last Saturday endorsed B. S. Potter of West Bend for Railroad Commissioner, so the Washington county delegates to the State convention will support him for the nomination. The death of David M. Schoyen, a Norwegian ex-editor of Stoughton, was evidently the result of having been put off a night train between stations on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, near Madison. That he had no ticket was illegal grounds for the conductor's action, especially in view of the fact that the latter has admitted that Schoyen was intoxicated.

SOME citizens of Indianapolis, Ind., who were recently arrested while discussing the financial question upon the streets, were promptly discharged by Judge Cox on the ground that there is no decision by any court, high or low, where it is held that a man violates the law by discussing political topics in the street. While the right of free speech cannot be denied, people should not obstruct streets or sidewalks in exercising that right. The financial question can best be discussed by forming clubs for that purpose. Kewaskum has adopted this latter plan, and it works well.

If you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always offered by DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diarrhoea it is a reliable remedy. We could not afford to recommend this as a cure unless it is a cure.—Chas. Miller.

SOUTH DAKOTA SIFTINGS.

Editor Statesman.—As some of your county correspondents have expressed a desire to hear more from me, I append the following: While enroute home to Madison from McCook county I stopped at the H. A. Smith & Sons farm, which consists of a section of land with 425 acres under plow and the balance used for grazing purposes. There is a nice herd of Holstein cattle on the place and about 30 head of draft and trotting horses. The place is rented to A. H. Schwan, son of W. F. Schwan, an old Wisconsin farmer of Mayville. He receives one-half of all they make on this farm. There is a cheese and butter factory there which will be enlarged this fall as they intend to buy milk from some more farmers, who have turned their attention to dairying. They were paying 60c, on an average, for milk this season to a few patrons, as they hadn't much room. His butter sold for 15 cents in Madison to his home customers. He also sold cheese mostly in Madison for home trade. They raise plenty of corn and oats besides their natural prairie hay. They raise millet and buy bran and middlings at 85 a ton for their cows. They have one barn which is 38x62, and another which is 30x40 feet and 1 1/2 stories high with a granary which holds 6,000 bushels of grain, but it can't hold it all this year. There is a wind pump on the place with two everlasting wells. They now have 26 milch cows, but by the month of February they will have 46 Holsteins milking, among which are a few Jerseys. Cheese wholesales at 10c per pound. The only son of the deceased H. A. Smith is not only the owner of this but of other farms in the vicinity. He owns 1,580 acres. Some years ago he married the only daughter of a banker in Minnesota, who is getting so old that Mr. Smith has been called away from here to take care of him and his business there.

We are having plenty of rain now but threshing will not commence until next week, as lots of grain is in shocks yet. Monthly wages range from $12 to $20 and harvest hands get $1.25 a day. Dakota is not so "wild and woolly" as some Wisconsinites think; and we know that many are surprised to find such a comparatively new country so far advanced as the underlined has found it. C. T.

Reverend Father Downs, formerly of Whitewater, has been appointed to take charge of the Osceola and Dundee Catholic missions. He will have services at Dundee next Sunday (30) at the usual hour.

Politics are remaining rather quiet; but, judging by the appearance of things, Bryan and Sewall will receive a larger vote in this town than any presidential candidates for the last three campaigns.

Report was received here Wednesday that the barn and grain belonging to Denis Daley was totally destroyed by fire, as was also the team and separator belonging to O'Brien Bros., who were threshing for him. The sparks from Daley's place blew over to John O'Maley's farm, a distance of 1/2 mile, and set fire to his barn and grain-stacks, totally destroying all. A team of valuable driving horses were also burned at Daley's; and they belonged to Rodger Morgan, who was helping him thresh.

Last Tuesday the silence of this town was broken by voices hollering "whoa!" and, upon looking up, a black steer was coming from the depot. Upon closer investigation, it was found to be Murray & Naughton's team, which had evidently been scared into helley hang speed by the 11:50 train. Strange as it may seem they were headed off without any serious injury; but they will be tied hereafter when at the depot.
