The action of Chauncey M. Depew in attempting to inject politics into his lecture to Ann Arbor (Mich.) students was deservedly hissed.

The decision rendered by Circuit Judge Russell at St. Louis this week on bicycles as baggage, makes all railways in Missouri carry bicycles the same as baggage.

The Sherburne (Minn.) bank robbery had one new feature about it—the flight of the robbers on bicycles—but the criminals were captured just as easily as bank robbers who have tried to escape on horses.

The Kansas City Star says "Speaker Reed may not have intended to rebuke Candidate McKinley in his Boston speech, but when he said there is no need of talking protection in this country and added that the main issue before us is the silver question, he must have punctured the epidemics of the Ohio protectionist."

The Leadville Democrat says "Tom Watson's friends claim that he has been humiliated. But, really, all the humiliation which he suffered was brought on by himself. The complaint of his humiliation is really a suggestion that he and his friends are beginning to realize how ridiculous a spectacle he has made of himself."

The reception of the czar of Russia in France last week evidently bodes no good to European peace, as the Cologne (Germany) Gazette commented thereon as follows: "It is evident that the mass of Frenchmen nurse Russian friendship only in the hope that Russia will help them win back Alsace-Lorraine."

The Evening Wisconsin of last Thursday contained the following: "Douglas D. Crawford, the big dry goods merchant of St. Louis, who discharged a baker's dozen of his men because they announced their intention to vote for Bryan and Sewall, has repented his action and today, over his own signature, in a public letter, says he will take the men back."

The action of the Atterbury and the Hazel glass companies in voluntarily raising the wages of their employes may have been for the purpose of producing strikes in the works of Pittsburgh competitors, rather than through any love for their employes. It is a move which we have seen worked to such an extent as to ruin minor competitors, more than anything else, at any rate.

The amendment to our state constitution, which will be voted upon Nov. 3, contemplates giving the legislature power to fix the state superintendent of school's salary. All who think $100 a month is enough, should vote against the amendment. Those who think the state superintendent should receive more than $1,200 per year, should vote for the amendment.

SOCIETY in the United States army is very undemocratic and decidedly English when a lieutenant cannot marry a sergeant's daughter without being ostracized. She is reported to be a "beautiful and accomplished young woman whose health is irrevocably ruined by the systematic snubbing which has been her portion from her marriage up to the present time." However, the case of Clarence E. Lang and wife is only one of many in the aforesaid army.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says "Mr. Harrison should be very modest in referring to his administration. The last statement issued by his secretary of the treasury shows that the treasury was bankrupt and that the gold reserve had been encroached upon to the tune of $4,500,000. The panic was already under way and everything was in about as unsatisfactory a condition as it well could be. The Harrison administration was one of the colossal presidential failures of the century, and Mr. Harrison knew what he was about when he refused to have his name used at St. Louis for renomination."

The San Francisco Examiner says "Ohio Republicans complain that Foraker has a knife out for McKinley, and such department would be characteristic. But the Republicans knew Foraker of old and ought not to have given him a knife. Perhaps, however, they were inspired by a vague hope that he might fall against it himself." Although Foraker is in charge of the Republican machine of the Buckeye state and has no love for McKinley, the latter will not be knifed unless Foraker finds that the Major can get along without the electoral vote of Ohio. Still, it must be admitted that the history of that state for the past 30 years is a record of plots, conspiracies and vendettas. Envy, malice and hypocrisy have sown dissensions among the leaders, out of which party defeat has resulted more than once. John Sherman's book relates how he was betrayed by Garfield at Chicago in 1880. Between Sherman and Foraker there has been war from the moment the latter entered the political arena. It was Foraker's treachery which defeated Sherman for the presidential nomination in 1888, and it was Sherman's enmity, open or poorly concealed, which caused Foraker's defeat for the governorship in 1889.

THE BOY ORATOR'S DOUBLE.

Resemblance to the Candidate Causing Him Much Annoyance.

A special correspondence to the Chicago Chronicle says William Jennings Bryan has a double in New York city who is paying the penalty of resembling a presidential candidate. He is Frederick L. Taylor, a commissioner of deeds, who is sufficiently like Mr. Bryan to be taken for his twin brother. In build, height and facial expression Mr. Taylor is so much like the "boy orator" that if the two walked down a street together it is doubtful if an ordinary acquaintance could decide off hand which was Bryan. To add to the general confusion, Mr. Taylor has affected the characteristics in dress of Mr. Bryan and has delivered speeches to large audiences who really believed that they were listening to the champion of free silver.

Mr. Taylor is a free silver Democrat and has taken a great interest in the present campaign. He was not aware of the remarkable resemblance he bears to Mr. Bryan until the latter made his speech at Madison Square garden. Thousands of unauthorized tickets had been issued for admission to the big amphitheater. They were on sale in cigar stores from the Harlem river to the battery. As a result, tens of thousands of people were in the side streets clamoring for admission. The police were holding the crowds back the best they could. They were clubbing right and left and kept a corps of ambulance surgeons busy patching up the wounds they inflicted. Suddenly from the Madison avenue side was heard the shout, "Here comes Bryan!" The crowd parted and cheered, and the police kept the pathway clear. The individual who caused the commotion smiled and passed on unaccompanied until a police captain from an uptown precinct took him by the arm and escorted him to the door. The individual was Mr. Taylor and he appreciated his wonderful resemblance to the Nebraska man. A couple of hours later the few people that hung about the entrance cheered as Mr. Taylor passed out and followed him as far as Broadway, where he boarded a Columbus avenue car going uptown.

At the Tammany hall demonstration Mr. Taylor addressed a crowd from the rear of a cart in front of the Academy of Music. He did not intend to deceive the large audience, but simply to resort to a subterfuge for a few minutes, as Bryan had been announced to speak outside and a big assemblage hung about to hear him. The committee had decided that Mr. Taylor should deliver an address and announce his identity at the close. When the latter announcement was made, however, the people treated it as a huge joke. The result was that Mr. Taylor was followed for blocks by a mob while Mr. Bryan escaped to his hotel comparatively unnoticed. The conductor on the street car on which Mr. Taylor rode him did not want to take his fare; in fact, he absolutely refused to do so. Fifteen minutes later a friend of the conductor's informed him who his supposed distinguished passenger was, and the conductor immediately collected his fare.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC ADMIRER. As Taylor was leaving the Bartholdi a woman ran up to him and said: "I have waited an hour to shake hands with you!" "I feel honored madam," replied Taylor with extended hand and a smile. "I sent my card to you," continued the woman, "but they told me I could not see you. I come from Sugar Valley in Pennsylvania and am going home today. I want to tell the folks that I shook hands with you. We ain't got much of a town, but if you come that way and can stand the drive across the mountain we will do our selves proud to entertain you. We want our town to be the county seat and maybe you could help us." "I should be glad to do so," said Mr. Taylor. "You may mention to your friends that if elected I shall endeavor to have your town made the capital of the state."

Mr. Taylor is said to have remarked to a friend that the attention he had received on account of his wonderful resemblance to Mr. Bryan was amusing at first; but, now that the novelty has worn off, it is very annoying and he has decided to grow a beard in order to present a changed appearance.

Miss U. Martin of Chicago spent the past week with J. R. Smith and family.

A number from here were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Woog of Batavia last Sunday.

Mrs. F. Schuler and father, W. R. Westcott, spent last Tuesday in the Cream City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neibler attended the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. B. Kaiser in the Cream City.

Bertha Pitkow returned to the Cream City after spending the summer months with her sister, near Fillmore.

The following teachers began their respective schools on Monday: Martha Riley, Nellie Brazelton, Johanna Dulea and Anna J. Riley.

Alma Mierke and a lady friend from West Bend passed through town on their bicycles last Saturday to visit the family of Theo. Heiser.

Miss Florence and Edward Krieger, Agnes and Arthur Hendricks of West Bend, Mary and Math. Altenhofen and Maggie Nugent of Adell spent last Sunday with J. H. Neibler and family.

Mrs. Barbara Kaiser died at her home in Milwaukee, Oct. 6, 1896, after a few months' illness, at the age of 39 years and 6 months. She leaves an aged mother, two children, one sister (Mrs. P. Dricken of Kewaskum) and a brother (J. H. Neibler of this place) to mourn her early demise. The funeral took place from St. Francis church to Mount Calvary cemetery in Milwaukee, May she rest in peace.

Henry J. Clemens, a young and respected citizen of this place, passed away in death last Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, 1896.

The deceased was born at Newburg, town of Trenton, in 1870, and had attained the age of 26 years, 5 months and 2 days. He was married on April 18, 1895, to Miss Clara Dettman, who together with his aged parents and five sisters remain to mourn his departure.

In his demise the community loses a good citizen, the wife a kind husband, the aged parents an only son, and the sisters a loving brother; and, to those mourners, we extend our deepest sympathy in their affliction.

The funeral was held last Saturday at 10 a. m. with services at the Congregational church, Rev. Gruenwald of Fillmore officiating.

Soft as angels' echo whisper Came the message from on high; Waited they the parted curtains, Like a gentle zephyr's sigh. As we lovedly knelt beside him, As we brushed our tears away, And we prayed with heart strings breaking, That with us he'd longer stay.

Father, mother, friends were waiting, Hoping, fearing, praying there; But his vision saw beyond us, Glimpses of a land more fair; And we knew that he was happy, Fearless of that vast unknown, Where so many barques are steering, Where so many souls have flown.

CARD OF THANKS. We hereby desire to extend our most sincere thanks to those who so kindly assisted us during the illness of the deceased Henry J. Clemens, to the choir for the beautiful selections, and to the Modern Woodmen for their manifestations of sympathy at the funeral.

MURDER OR SUICIDE AT HARTFORD.
From the Milwaukee Sentinel we learn that last Sunday at about 4 p. m. a trio of small boys—Louis Witt, John and Albert Lutrop—while out hunting, found the remains of two men lying on the ground in a piece of swamp land overgrown with willows, owned by H. Lutrop, one mile east of Hartford, about 4 rods from the eastern border and thirty or forty rods north of the St. Paul railway. They reported the matter to the city marshal, who went to the scene and found the bodies nearly decomposed.

A further examination last Monday morning showed that one of the men wore a drab suit, cutaway coat and pointed lace No. 8 shoes—all in good condition. He also wore a black woolen shirt, brown woolen undershirt and a brown felt hat. His hair was a light brown and he probably weighed 140 pounds, was 5 feet 9 inches in height and about 35 years old.

His companion wore a navy-blue coat, brown and striped vest, light-grey cotton pants, cotton socks, gaiter shoes, two cotton shirts—one nearly white and one blue—and a black stiff hat. His hair was grey and he evidently wore a full beard. In his pockets were found 25 cents, five nickels and 2 cents, a cheap jack-knife, a lead-pencil, comb, pipe and some matches. His probable weight was 165 pounds, height 5 feet and 11 inches, age about 60 yrs.

The contents of the satchel were one ounce bottle two-thirds full of laudanum, an empty pop-bottle, one morphine bottle, one whiskey glass, one tin esno, some fine-cut tobacco, and two Milwaukee German newspapers—one dated April 25 and the other April 26, 1895.

Near the bodies were found a shoemaker's knife, a 6-ounce bottle of rose-water and a quart-bottle half-full of whiskey.

The bodies were placed in coffins and taken to Hartford, where an inquest resulted in a verdict of "death from some cause not known."

Miss Alice McCann, our teacher, and Miss Lizzie Kreutzinger made a trip to Cascade last Saturday and visited the former's parents.

On Oct. 14, 1896, the church bells announced the death of August Reiss at the home of his parents, aged 17 years. Will state particulars in next week's issue.

Mrs. Amelia Vetter of this place died in her home on Thursday, Oct. 8, 1896, aged 54 years, after having been sick 3 months. She was an affectionate wife and a loving mother, and all who came in contact with her will bear testimony to her loving disposition. The funeral services were held last Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Lutheran church, Rev. Otto officiating. Besides her husband she leaves 5 children—2 sons and 3 daughters—all of whom were present at her bedside when she passed away. She rests in peace.

On Thursday, Oct. 15, 1896, Miss Lillie Backhaus and Edward Stahl entered into the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Backhaus, who reside near here, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stahl, who reside here. Both parties are highly esteemed by all who have come in contact with them. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Otto in the Lutheran church at 2 p. m. The bridal party was Amelia Stahl, Louisa Backhaus, Mary Schaefer and Henry Backhaus, Harry Stahl and Johnny Arnold. After the ceremony the invited guests returned to the residence of the bride's parents, where the rest of the day was spent in the most pleasant manner. Refreshments of all kinds were served abundantly, and all enjoyed themselves in the evening in a social hop. The presents received by the bride and groom were numerous and costly. Music was furnished by the Beechwood orchestra, whose sweet and popular strains still reverberate in the ears of those who are lovers of music.

We wish that the bride and groom, in their journey through life, will have much happiness and smooth and level roads to travel.

VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS.
Kewaskum, Wis., Oct. 12, 1896, 9:00 a. m.

The Board met in special session with President Adolph Rosenheimer in the chair and all members present except Mat. Beishier and Wenzel Kudek. Dr. R. Elmergreen personally appeared before the meeting and handed in his resignation as health officer; and, on motion of Wm. Krahn, the resignation was accepted.

On motion Dr. Herriges was appointed as health officer for the unexpired term and his compensation fixed at $10.

On motion the board adjourned.

JOSEPH SCHMIDT, Clerk.

Many lives of usefulness have been cut short by neglect to break up an ordinary cold. Fluoritis, bronchitis and even consumption can be averted by the prompt use of One Minute Cough Cure.—Chas. Miller.

Value of Newspaper Advertising.
The advantages of advertising were recently illustrated in London. A man advertised for the return of a lost cat. In less than a week 322 of them were brought to his house.

Tetter, eczema and all similar skin troubles are cured by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It soothes at once, and restores the tissues to their natural condition, and never fails to cure piles.—Charles Miller.

AUCTION SALE.—On Oct. 21st, Wm. Calloun will sell his 40-acre farm, 1 1/2 mile north of New Cassel, also his farm implements, household goods and livestock.

They are so little you hardly know you are taking them. They cause no griping, yet they act quickly and most thoroughly. Such are the famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Small in size, great in results.—Charles Miller.

To the Farmer.

WISCONSIN'S RESOURCES
are attracting general attention, and its railroads furnish the means to develop them. The limitless iron ore deposits of the Penokee and Gogebic Iron Ranges provide abundant opportunity for the establishment of iron furnaces and general iron working industries. Hardwood timber in great quantities attracts manufacturers of all wood articles including Furniture, Woodware, Staves, Headings, Hoops and Veneering; the Granite and Lime Stone quarries are attracting attention, as their quality is unsurpassed for fine building work and strong lime. Numerous Clay, Kaolin and Marl beds furnish the best material for Tile, Brick and Pottery.

All of these materials are located on the line of the WISCONSIN CENTRAL, and any one who desires to locate a manufacturing plant is requested to write us, as we desire to confer with everyone who wants a good location with facilities for reaching markets everywhere.

3-FACTS FOR THOUGHT-3

1. Dealers having the best equipped shop and workmen can make the best work.
2. The best work costs more than the cheap, poorly executed work.
3. Good work will always bring trade, and is most profitable for the people to buy.

Parties who appreciate this class of work should call, examine goods and get my prices before placing an order for anything in my line. Bear in mind, I carry the most complete and one of the largest and best stocks of any shop in the state or northwest, and I can and will do just what I say.
