GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

The release of Mrs. W. M. Castle, the wealthy San Francisco woman who was imprisoned last week in London for shoplifting, was due to her critical physical condition rather than the fact that her husband spared no money to secure her release, he it said to the credit of British justice.

The Chillicothe (Mo.) Tribune says: "Avalon has a resident who actually thinks that Wall Street is a man traveling over the country swindling people; and he swears that if he ever runs across 'old Wall Street' he will 'whip him out of him.'" This beats the Washington county resident who declared that "Bryan is a Bennett law man."

The vote of the Fourteenth ward of Milwaukee shows that the Polanders of the Cream City voted the Democratic ticket pretty solidly, despite the advice of some of their church dignitaries to the contrary. The returns from the seventh precinct especially deserve a page in Australian ballot history as a model of solidity.

With 16 "free silver" wives against 1 "sound money" Utah elder, his defeat for senator by one of the aforesaid ladies was not a wonder. However, it must grieve him to reflect that the people chose a fraction of his "better-half" in preference to him. There is only one consolation for the elder, namely: "It's all in the family."

In the case of the state vs. Charles Benning of Lamartine, wherein Michael Dooley complained that the defendant had discharged out on Sunday, Mr. B. was threatened with a fine and the weather threatened rain at the time. We presume the neighbors will now sue Mr. Dooley of having been actuated by malice toward Mr. Benning rather than a desire to have the Sabbath day kept holy.

The saying that "the fools are not all dead yet" covers alike the man who is leaving his way from Minnesota to New York, and the Arkansasian who deeded his farm away, in payment of election bets. However, the Milwaukeean who wagered his citizenship on Bryan's election may possibly profit by paying the wager, while the party with whom he bet may perhaps lose—a dear friend.

The recent declaration of William J. Bryan, in favor of keeping up the "free silver" agitation, has been met by a similar announcement from Mr. Hanna favoring a continuation of our next presidential election. Thus, it seems, both gentlemen are satisfied that the late battle was not decided upon the merits or demerits of the financial plank of either the Republican or the Democratic platform.

The South Dakota bimetallics' campaign of 1900 was opened in Sioux Falls last Monday night by Senator R. F. Pettigrew, who said that he would render McKinley every aid possible for the latter to demonstrate that the tariff is what ails the country, but that he would resist every section of a tariff bill that provided for a tariff in any article controlled by a trust. Being well acquainted with the character of the man, we have no hesitancy in saying that he will influence other Republican senators to act with him in that respect.

The Siegel & Cooper offer of $25,000 per year for the legal services of Wm. J. Bryan has been courteously declined by the latter. However, the reasons given lead one to believe that the offer of C. D. Lane, the California millionaire mine owner, will be accepted. The latter offers to "pay all the traveling expenses of William J. Bryan if he will preach silver throughout the country." Mr. Lane says: "I am not in favor of Mr. Bryan's agitation at once. The Republicans should be given a year to put their principles into practice. Then the campaign of education should be commenced."

The relieving news came last Tuesday that the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain, relative to certain boundary lines, is to be settled by a board of arbitration composed of five members, two to be named by the United States and two by Great Britain, these four to select the fifth party. It will be seen that this leaves Venezuela out entirely; but, as the United States in less than a year succeeded in securing the aforesaid agreement from Great Britain, whereas Venezuela had tried to secure arbitration for forty years previous, it is safe to say that the U. S. commissioner will look out for the South American country's interests.

New that the election is over, Mark Hanna is being found to be an entirely different man from what he was pictured in many newspapers. It seems that the relations between him and Mr. McKinley are those of personal friendship rather than mere business ones. This fact developed at a recent meeting of Republican party leaders when Mr. Hanna announced that he would not accept any office within the gift of the president elect. It also seems that his devotion to the United States is equal to his friendship for McKinley, as he recently declared in favor of continuing the work of circulating anti-slavery literature with a view of preventing his party from being defeated through the unceasing work of bimetallics.

AND now comes a new, of common-fame, with a Coxy, doctrine for 1900. We had begun to believe that he had been "lost in the shuffle" of the late campaign and was down a great deal deeper than Tom Watson or J. M. Palmer, when behold he bolts up with a declaration for the demonstration of gold as well as silver, state ownership of all railroads, highways, waterways, telegraph and telephone lines; municipal ownership of all street car lines, water works, market houses, woman's surplus labor in public work, woman's suffrage, state control of liquor traffic, and election of president by direct vote of the people. He proposes to hold a convention of believers in the above principles at St. Louis on the 12th of next January and may succeed in leading another army to Washington provided a beer train does not cross the path of his followers.

THE MANCHESTER (Eng.) Guardian says: "It is whispered among metallurgists that Joseph Chamberlain, the secretary of state for the colonies, during his visit to the United States, has become a convert."

PAINTER MATHEW is busy painting the interior of Wm. Abel's house. Wm. Kohn, the Barwig Bros. liquor agent of Mayville, was here on the 5th inst.

Found, one mile west of here, a purse containing some money. Owner should call at the postoffice.

Willy Lay left last Tuesday for the Cream City, where he is attending Reude's business college.

THE LEAP YEAR PARTY. The name of the organization which gave the leap year party here was the Rose club, and a more appropriate name could hardly be chosen. The weather caused a postponement from Oct. 29 to Nov. 5; and, although the weather was not very favorable on the latter date, the ladies had a nice crowd in the evening. The hall was handsomely decorated with flags and evergreens, while a sign with the words "Ladies' Right Tonight" was suspended at the back part of the room. Every couple received two bouquets of white and red roses. Lunch was served at 11:30 and dancing was kept up until after 2 o'clock the following morning; and, as the last strains of Martin Favorite band died away, the Rose club's leap year party went down in local history as one of the leading social events of 1896.

There is quite an excitement in our town now days on account of a few hundred feet of Monroe street.

A firm in the Cream City wish to erect another ice house here near the one which they now have, and by doing so they would occupy a portion of Monroe street. The village has circulated a petition among the farm people to see if they could use a portion of that street to build on. And then another contingent hops up and circulates a petition to prevent this firm from using said street. A member of the firm says they will build south of the street and see what use the village can make of this portion of the street. We are waiting to see what the result will be. In the meantime we will say, "sic 'em Tiger!"

Because you put an advertisement in a paper once upon a time and it didn't pay, do not be eternally sore. Maybe you did not use the right medium or maybe you did not say it in the right way. You can't plant pumpkin seed and raise a rose-bush.—Typographical Journal.

"Excuse me," observed the man in spectacles, "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is." "Never you mind where his liver is," retorted the doctor. "It was in his big toe or his left ear DeWitt's Little Early Biscuits would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your zig-lamps."—Chas. Miller.

A New Corn Cure. Dr. Sofshue says linseed oil is a sure remedy for both hard and soft corns. If they are indurated and very painful the relief it gives in a short time is most grateful. SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

—The marriage of Miss Jennie Campbell, daughter of Peter Campbell, to Alex. O'Donnell of Wayne was announced at the St. Bridget church last Sunday.

—A party of Milwaukeeans are stopping with August Peterman. They arrived last Saturday with the intention of spending a week rabbit hunting hereabouts.

—Henry Schmitt rented his blacksmith shop, for a term of two years, to Jac. Baker of Wayne, this week. Mr. S. will go into the plow manufacturing business here.

—Adolph Rosenheimer and Philip Schmidt are attending the county board meeting in West Bend this week, the former representing the village and the latter the town.

—The marriage of Theresa Schoofs, daughter of John Schoofs, to William Schill of Ashford was announced for the first time here in the Holy Trinity church last Sunday.

—Mrs. S. Schneider and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Schneider, of Elkhart Lake, arrived here last Monday for a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. John Strobel.

—Mat. Remmel had his planing mill running in full blast this week turning out hardwood flooring and moldings. His feed-mill, too, is kept grinding every Wednesday and Saturday.

—Wm. Marx of the Fred. Miller Brewing Co. of Milwaukee spent a few hours here last Sunday while enroute to the Cream City from New Fane, where he had been visiting his folks.

—The Bryan banner, which waved over Main street from the club's headquarters for the past two months, has been taken down and stored away subject to the political developments of 1900.

—Last Thursday Mrs. S. Schneider removed the remains of her husband from the old Barton cemetery to the Catholic grave-yard here, as the former place is being abandoned as burying grounds.

—Atty' G. A. Kuechenmeister of West Bend was here last Monday, but was prevented from attending the Republican ratification meeting in the evening owing to the serious illness of his daughter.

—Tickets for the entertainment to be given at the Trinity school hall on Thanksgiving evening, can be purchased at the postoffice, or from any of the young ladies and gentlemen who have a part in the programme.

—Herman Korten, formerly proprietor of the Northwestern house, called on his many friends here last Tuesday. It was his first visit to Kewaskum since he moved into the tavern opposite the depot in West Bend, and we were pleased to learn that he is enjoying a good trade there.

—Wheat reached the highest price of the season last Wednesday, when the Milwaukee market price was over $1c. However a raise in the price of barley or potatoes would benefit this section more, as but few of our farmers have any wheat to sell.

—John Tiss, who left a few months ago for Minnesota for the benefit of his health, returned last Thursday a. m. greatly improved physically. He was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, and finally took the famous Knip cure, which had a wonderful effect on him.

—Now that the election is over and the result has been ratified, the scramble for office has commenced. There are four persons looking for the local postoffice, and many more would enter the race but for the fact that they believe the future postmastership of this place is "cooked" already.

—Last Tuesday we had the pleasure of being the first to grasp the hand of our "star" correspondent and offer congratulations upon his home coming. We met him on the 3:36 p. m. passenger train enroute from South Dakota to Campbellport. Mr. Tieschhauser was accompanied by his wife and daughter, and is therefore thrice welcome home to Elmore.

—A party of about twenty of our Republican enthusiasts, who attended the ratification meeting in West Bend last Saturday night, were obliged to return on the 4 a. m. freight owing to lack of better train service since the election. Some of the party are reported to have been "hot under the collar" while others uttered something like "sweet spirits excuse us if we swear."

—A Republican ratification meeting was held here last Monday night, and a good-sized crowd took part in the torch-light procession, considering the condition of the weather. The parade was led through our principal streets by the Kewaskum Band and wound up at the starting place, Schneider's hall, where speeches were delivered by Dr. Haussmann and L. D. Guth of Kewaskum, and C. F. Leins and Ed. Glanz of West Bend.

—W. H. Bennett, who taught school in Boltonville over six years ago and is now assistant district attorney for Milwaukee county, is an aspirant for the appointment of United States district attorney, to succeed J. M. Wigman, whose term of office will expire next July. The position is worth $4,000 a year, and it may be secured by Mr. B., judging by the progress he has made during his 5-years' practice as an attorney in Milwaukee.

—LITHIA BEER. This beer is brewed with water containing lithia, in a natural form, from our artesian well. Lithia is a recognized remedy for kidney disease and gout affections. This, combined with the admirable tonic qualities of our beer, makes it a most excellent beverage.

—Miss Rosa Hillenberg returned to Milwaukee last Monday after spending two weeks' vacation here with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hillenberg.

CAUGHT AT A RAILROAD CROSSING.

Last Thursday forenoon, while Steve Laing and Frank Long of Farmington were driving to Kewaskum, the 10:05 freight train caught them at the crossing one mile south of here and whirled the whole outfit through the air for about 50 feet from the track.

After stopping, the trainmen found that the horse received the bulk of the shock from the engine and the animal was subsequently placed in care of the local veterinary surgeon, Dr. Brandt. The owner of the rig, Mr. Long, was severely injured upon the back portion of his body, but managed to take the 2:19 train for home, via West Bend, after being treated by Dr. Haussmann.

Lang, who escaped unhurt, accompanied his less fortunate neighbor on the journey homeward, and said that they would drive to Farmington from West Bend.

While at the Central hotel here Mr. Lang said that upon nearing the railroad track he attempted to look out from the buggy top, whereupon Long remarked "You must be awful 'frail of it"—and then they went whirling through the air with the results stated above.

Narrowly Escaped Death From Coal Gas. Last Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Backhaus narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation. The latter awakened Tuesday morning from difficulty in breathing, and upon attempting to arise fell back upon the bed and awoke her husband, who soon discovered that the room was full of gas from their coal stove.

Mr. Fetherby, a neighbor who called upon the old couple for his usual supply of milk Tuesday morning, found both Mr. and Mrs. B. very ill and so notified their son Henry, who spent the forenoon in reviving them.

Many families have been suffocated under the conditions mentioned above, and great care should be taken with coal stove fires before retiring for the night.

OBITUARY. DIED.—ROSENTHAL.—At his home in the town of Barton, Nov. 6, 1896, at 7 a. m., of stomach trouble, Henry Rosenthal, aged 42 years.

The deceased leaves a wife, three daughters and a son to mourn his demise. Mr. Rosenthal was a brother of Mrs. G. Petri and Mrs. Henry Schmitt of Kewaskum.

The funeral took place from the St. Peter church in the town of Wayne last Monday at 9 a. m.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE. A teachers' institute will be held at West Bend, Nov. 27-28, 1896, with Prof. W. H. Cheever of the Milwaukee Normal and Prof. J. E. Amidon of the West Bend High school as conductors.

J. W. Stearns, professor of pedagogy in the Wisconsin University will give a lecture Friday evening. Let teachers prepare to come to the institute and improve themselves in methods of teaching and profit by the counsel of others.

School boards are urged to close school Friday and allow teachers to attend the institute without a loss of compensation. Complete programmes will be sent to teachers in a few days.

James M. Dunn of the Cream City will give a series of lectures in the I. O. G. T. hall, commencing Sunday evening and continuing for a week. Everyone is invited to go and hear him.

The remains of Nancy Stanton, aged 71 years, passed through here last Saturday from Spencer, Ia. Deceased was the mother of Ira D. Stanton of Dundee. The funeral was held in Beechwood last Sunday, Rev. A. T. Miller officiating.

Mrs. H. P. Eames is very ill with static rheumatism in one of her limbs. It is probably the result of a sprained ankle, which she contracted some time ago. At any rate, her condition is such that she should be treated carefully owing to her age.

BOLTONVILLE BUDDY. Mrs. William Voigt is visiting relatives at Chicago.

John Row of Seymour is a guest of his brother Sam and family.

Mrs. Drenchel and Augusta Dettman are visiting friends in Clark county.

J. H. Neibler and daughter, Ella, spent Thursday and Friday in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Susie Marx and Daniel Kenney of Idaho are guests of J. Lussenden and family.

Rosa Lussenden, who spent the past six months in the Cream City, is home here again.

Mrs. M. Wendel was pleasantly surprised by her lady friends last Wednesday afternoon.
