The reason given by the bank officers

The reason given by the bank officers for the failure was the general stringency of the times and difficulty in making collections. Further than this they would not speak until later in the day.

The Union Stock Yards bank, which is closely connected with the Bank of Minnesota, also closed its doors as a consequence of the larger failure.

nesota, also closed its doors as a consequence of the larger failure.

The closing of these banks was a decided surprise, but has not affected the other banks of the city.

The Bank of Minnesota, in common with all the other banks in the city is a depository of state funds and at the time of the last statement had between $70,000 and $80,000 of state money on deposit. It was also depository for the deposit. It was also depository for the county and until recently was the main bank through which the city business last spring mayor of St. Paul, was for years vice-president of the bank, William Dawson, Sr., was president and William Dawson, Jr., was cashier. The Dawsons ranked high among financiers. The closing of the bank was as great a surprise to the officers as it was to the general public. Assistant Cashier Rob-ert L. Miller gave a brief statement of the reason as follows:

"We had a large retail trade which has suffered materially from the hard times for the past three years, during which time our individual deposits have which time our individual deposits have decreased from $1,500,000 to $700,000. Then, in addition to this, inability to collect large bills receivable, or notes, and the general depression in money and business all over the country; that real-business all over the country; that really is the story in a few words."

The principal stockholders in the bank are: Ansel Oppenheim, Arnold Kalman, William Dawson, Sr., William Dawson, Jr., Peter Siems, R. A. Smith, A. B. Stickney, E. W. Peet, P. J. Bowlin, P. S. Harris, Thomas Grace, C. W. Copley and others. Among the heavy depositors was Norman Kittson, whose every dollar was in the Bank of Minnesota.

The Union Stock Vards bank, which

-At the city council meeting last night the Wisco.sin Bridge and Iron com-pany of Milwankee was awarded the House.

When the House met on the 17th the pending question was the adoption of the amendment to the army appropriation bill to except the army and navy hospitals at Hot Springs, Ark., from all benefit in the appropriation for hospitals. Mr. Little (Dem., Ark.) forced the yeas and nays, but the amendment was adopted—151 to 80. The army bill was then passed without division. Mr. Curtis (Rep., N. Y.) reported the military academy appropriation bill. Mr. Babcock (Rep., Wis.), chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia, under the agreement made on Monday, claimed the day for the business from his committee. Three resolutions relating to the inauguration of Mr. McKinley were adopted. One permitted the railroads entering the city to lay temporary tracks for the accommodation of the traveling public, another permitted the inaugural committee to occupy government reservations along the route of the parade and the third authorized the secretary of war to loan all the United States ensigns, flags and signal numbers not in use at the time of the languration for the purpose of decorating the streets on that occasion. contract for building a draw on the new oridge over Fox river. of decorating the streets on that occasion. The 18th was private bill day in the House, but most of the session was devoted to the passage of the thirty-seven pension and relief bills favorably acted upon by the committee of the whole. The bill to pay Flora A. Darling, the wife of a Confederate general, $5683 for Tennessee and Louisians bank notes taken from her in 1864 while under a flag of truce, which was attacked by Mr. Daizell, was laid on the table. Only five bills were favorably acted upon today. One of them, a bill to refer a claim of Thomas B. Reed, a Pennsylvania soldier during the war, for an unpaid balance of salary to the court of claims, created some merriment, owing to the fact that his name wisdentical with that of the speaker of the House. The other bills were: To pay the officers and crews of the United States gunboats Kineo and Chocura $12.474 prizemoney: to pay William B. Isaaes & Co. $16,987, the finding of the court of claims; to pay George McAlpin, the sutler of the Eleventh Pennsylvania Cavairy, $6906 tilegally collected from him; to pay Mathias Pederson of Spring Valley, Wis., $300 paid by him for a substitute during the war, Pederson at that time not being a citizen of the United States.

When the Senate convened on the 21st petitions from many quarters urged recognition of Cuban independence. The foreign delegation was well represented in the diplomatic gallery. At 12:20 p. m. while the routine business was proceeding, Mr. Cameron arose and in a voice hardly audible presented the report of the committee on foreign relations favorable to the resolution for Cuban independence. He asked that the resolution and report be printed and laid on the table and that 500 additional copies of the report be printed. The report is given elsewhere in this paper. Mr. Sherman interposed to ask if it was understood that the resolution was to remain on the table until after the holidays. Mr. Cameron answered in the affirmative. Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) presented a supplementary report on the Cuban resolutions.

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) presented a supplementary report on the Cuban resolutions. He said it was offered on behalf of himself and Mr. Mills of the committee, who fully concurred in the report of Mr. Cameron but desired to give some additional facts to justify the findings of the committee Mr. Sherman presented two favorable reports from the committee on foreign relations on the resolutions offered by Mr. Call (Dem., Fia.). The first resolution requests the secretary of state for lists of all United States citizens confined in Spanish prisons. The other resolution requested the executive branch to demand the release of all United States citizens confined at the Spanish penal colony on the Island of Ceuta off the African coast. Senator Bacon of Georgia introduced a resolution on the constitutional question raised between the executive and Congress by the Cuban war. BUTTER AND CHEESE MARKETS.

MILWAUKEE LIVESTOCK MARKET.

The resolution declares that the recognition of governments is a sovereign power which does not appertain to the executive except as the right of veto makes him a part of the law-making power. Senator Chilton of Texas introduced a substitute for the Cameron resolution, declaring that a state of war exists in Cuba and that the United States should remain neutral, according the rights of belligerents to both parties. Senator Hill introduced a resolution to accord the Cubans belligerent rights. This led to a little debate with Senator Vest, but finally the whole matter went over until after the holidays. On motion of Mr. Sherman the Call resolution favorably reported by him asking for a report on American citizens held in Spanish prisons was agreed to without division. It is as follows: "Resolved, that the secretary of state be and is hereby directed to send to the Senate a report of all naturalized citizens of the United States of whose arrest and imprisonment, trial or conviction, or sentence, cither to imprisonment at the penal colony of Centa or elsewhere he has any information and that he shall inform the Senate in such ment at Centa and of the charges, briefly stated, on which they were condemned, and the nature of the evidence, so far as the same appears on the files of the state department." This disposed of the Cuban matter for the time being. The status of the various resolutions as they were finally left is as follows: The Cameron and Morgan reports are on the table until after the holidays; the Vest resolution is on the table to be called up the following day: the Hill and Chilton resolutions are on the table; the Bacon resolutions as referred to the committee on judiciary.

The consideration of the legislative appropriation bill was then resumed.

The House on the 22d passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, and then adjourned for the holiday recess. This is the first time in the history of Congress that the legislative bill has been passed before the holidays. The day was devoted to the annual debate of the civil service law, and, as usual, the attempt to strike out the provision for the commission was overwhelmingly defeated. The first conference met in 1887, and the association has now more than eighty institutions in its membership. Each year some practical topic germane to education is discussed, the topic for this year being the standard of requirement for entrance into college.

Mouse flesh is not generally regarded as a toothsome dainty, nor is one of the little house pests of size to gratify a starved man's yearning for food, writes a correspondent from Gray's, Ida., to the Salt Lake Tribune. Yet upon a mouse Edward Doull subsisted for seven days while lost during a storm in the Cariboo mountains. During this week his sufferings were terrible. Not only was he compelled to endure the pangs of hunger, but the anguish of exposure to the intense cold of the winter-clad mountains. When found, Doull was in a pitiful condition. He proceeded rapidly and in safety until he reached the summit of the mountain. Then a blinding snowstorm began. Doull lost his way. When the storm ended the snow had changed the contour of the mountains so that Doull was unable to tell his whereabouts. The thermometer remained almost stationary at 18 degrees below zero while Doull was wandering hopelessly among the hills. The Same Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla 12cmt, we see ao way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret cherical compound, we might.... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and—it's Ayer's.
