New York, Jan. 5.—The trunk line railroads have at last decided to take a hand in restoring to its old place the grain trade of New York, which during the last two years has been slipping away to Southern ports on account of the prohibitive terminal charges here.

So intense was the feeling that her attorneys took a change of venue, and the case was tried in Lancaster, Grant county, before Judge George Clementson, one of the most able judges in the state. The trial lasted for a week or more, and brought out a mass of details, which together formed a strong chain of circumstantial evidence. The strychnine, according to the theory of the prosecution, was obtained from a bottle in Dr. Mitchell's medicine case, which, testimony showed, was often unlocked. There was no testimony connecting Rose directly with the possession of the bottle of strychnine at any particular time, and

JUSTICE IS PERVERTED.

Judge Clementson Pronounces the Release of Rose Zoldoski an Outrage.

Lancaster, Wis., Jan. 5 .- [Special.]-The news of the pardon of Rose Zol doski awakened great interest in this city, where her trial was held and where Senator C. H. Baxter, foreman, and several others of the jury who pro-nounced her guilty, reside. It has aroused much of the old feeling that was so manifest here during and after Judge Clementson, the trial judge, was nterviewed and expressed himself as "The pardon of Rose Zoldoski I regard as a perversion of justice and an outrageous exercise of the pardoning power. When the case was brought up for trial before me I had the impression that it was probable that the state could not produce sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. When the trial was ended I was absolutely convinced that Rose Zoldoski was guilty of murdering Ella Maly with premedidated design and that it was very probable that she had also murdered Mrs. Mitchell, a year before, by poisoning her, also with strychnine. When the case went to the Supreme court that court was convinced that the testimony sustained the yerdict of guilty and affirmed the judgment that I had pronounced. In fact there is not one whose duty it was to hear all of the testimony upon the trial, or to read it as preserved in the bill of expertives in the search was abusy on the advent of the new administration. The city began early to fill up with visitors, among the first to arrive being the Oshkosh party—ex-Senator Sawyer, Maj. Boardman and others. At the capitol this morning the scene was a busy one. The committees having charge of the details were on hand early and the final arrangements were made for the event of the day.

Procession from the Depot.

Quite a crowd had gathered at the St. Paul depot to see the governor's train come in. Notwithstanding that the weather was cold the procession formed and moved to the capitol. Col. William Helm, Maj. G. H. Joachim, his assistant, "The pardon of Rose Zoldoski I regard the trial, or to read it as preserved in the bill of exceptions in the case, but what was convinced that Rose Zoldoski what was convinced that Rose Zoldoski was guilty. I think it very probable that Gov. Upham never read this testimony, although it has been on file in the governor's office for the last three years. If he pretended to read it, he must have done it in a hasty, perfunctory sort of way to enable him to say that he had read it, but without obtaining a fair understanding in the case. In granting this pardon Cov. Upham was no doubt entirely don Cov. Upham was no doubt entirely influenced by those who were loud in assertions of the girl's innocence, but who really knew nothing of the case as the evidence presents it. "I regard this pardon as one that will greatly add to the feeling that is now more general than for the good of the community it should be, that our present methods of dealing with criminals are inadequate for the protection of the people and that it will give another excuse for the exercise of mob law."

ORDINANCE NOT ENFORCED. It Causes Friction Among the Aldermen

Oconomowoc, Wis., Jan. 5.-[Special.] -At the meeting of the common council last night, Ald. Roberts started afresh a flame which has been smoldering for some time past, by the introduction of a resolution declaring that all saloonkeepers be required to close their places of business in conformity with the or-dinance, at 11 p. m., and on Sundays, and instructing the city marshal to see that this and all other ordinances were enforced. Considerable discussion fol-lowed, in the midst of which Ald, Rob-orts stated that the object of the resoluor which Ald. Roberts declared that the fact that there were any dead-letter ordinances was merely to let the people know that the council was standing back of the marshal. There had been difficulties of late, all occurring when the saloons ought to be closed. Ald. Notbohm was surprised to learn that the marshal could not enforce the ordinance without backing, and Ald. T. B. Blanchard was of the opinion that the marshal would feel better if people knew the council were back of him. Ald. Peacock was equally certain it was going to cause trouble if the council did not enforce all its ordinances. There were ordinances that had not been in use for many years. He therefore moved that the mayor appoint a committee of three together with Augusta Yahr Recovers Her Property and Gash at Juneau.

Juneau, Wis., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—In the circuit court yesterday Judge Dick decided the case of Augusta Yahr vs. Joseph Salick and Adaline Salick, his wife. The action was to recover land deeded by the plaintiff to the defendants and for indepent in the sum of $800.

wife. The action was to recover land deeded by the plaintiff to the defendants and for judgment in the sum of $800 cash loaned to the defendant, Joseph Salick. The complaint stated that the defendants falsely represented that they were representing the "Acme Screen company" and thereby got the plaintiff interested in the enterprise and she deeded her house and lot to Salick for the purpose of raising funds for the corporation. Judge Dick ordered that the plaintiff have judgment for the said $800 and that the deed be set aside. The parties reside in Watertown and Mrs. Salick is a daughter of the late Dr. Cody, who left a large fortune.

Ernst Buending, a young Watertown man who has been in jail here for the last few days, charged with contempt of court, was released by Judge Dick today on a writ of habeas corpus. Buending is the defendant in an action commenced by his wife for a diverce, and failed to comply with the order of a court commissioner, requiring him to pay alimony and suit money. Judge Dick held that the defendant should not have been committed until it was clearly proven that he was able to pay the alimony and refused to do so, a fact which was not made out before the commissioner. was not made out before the commis-

A Very Good Story.

The Philadelphia Record credits John H. Fow with the following story about t vo rival contractors, Casey and Murphy, who were putting up rows of tenement houses on opposite sides of a downtown street. One afternoon Murphy discovered that he was running short of bricks and that the men would have to knock off work for the rest of the day unless a fresh supply could be obtained. Now, Casey, on the other side of the street, was well supplied with bricks, and his men were working like beavers. So Murphy went over to Casey and said: "Dan, Oi've run out o Traveling men tell us that Wayne bricks. Lind me th' loan av about five has better roads that other towns which hun'erd and' O'ill give thim back to ye tomorrer." But Casey was in a bad Boys, gather up all of the old tin- humor and he wouldn't lend a single pans about town; you'll need them for brick. "O'ill git avin wid yer fur that, Dan Casey," said Murphy, and he went back to his men. "Min." said he, "we're back to his men. "Min," said he, "we're 1.00 Rosalia Kohn and Lizzie Klumb, did short o' bricks. Now, Casey's min are wurkin' stiddy, but if we don't git some av his bricks we'll have ter knock off. ## ANIMAL INTELLIGENCE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Has Two Dogs that Talk to Each Other. A lady living in Ann Arbor, Mich. owns two very remarkable dogs. The animals are not remarkable for their animals are not remarkable for their beauty, nor their pedigree, but rather for the never dying friendship which has existed between them ever since they were first introduced. One of the dogs is a little, long-haired, bob-tailed spaniel, as harmless as a kitten. The other is a big, lantern-jawed mastiff, large enough to swallow the little dog at one gulp. The little dog sleeps in the house and the mastiff in a kennel out in the back yard. Every, morning the little dog runs immediately around to his big friend's house, and they growl and jabber together sometimes for hours. Their friendship has interested their mistress greatly and she has made quite a study of their habits. She has come to the conclusion from watching them that dogs talk together, and moreover that they understand each and moreover that they understand each other. As proof of their conversational ability, a little incident occurred the other day that seems to leave no doubt that such is the fact. The lady of the is drawn into the tube, carried through it with great velocity, and, by a turntable and swinging arrangement like a crane, is evenly distributed on the stack.

On arriving at the house the curly dog lid not rush up the steps, but ran around the house to the mastiff's kennel. The lady followed him to see what was the matter with him. The mastiff was at home, and as soon as the spaniel saw his eyes shining in the darkness of the box he rushed in and began a growling, barking noise. The mastiff did not make a sound. By and by the spaniel appeared to have finished, for the big dog stood up, shook himself, and the two trotted out of the yard, with their mistress after them. into him, and he was then stabbed seven times to kill him. Hung up the hog measured in length 9 feet 8½ inches, that was one of a litter of ten pigs. Mr. Travers thus describes the last days of freeling the hung arited last days of the store. Without a sound the mastiff ran up behind him, and there and then began the biggest dog fight Ann Arbor freeling the hung arited last days of "We fed him on ground wheat meal, one gallon three times a day, made up with milk, for the last three months. ## HORSES TOO PLENTIFUL.

Thousands of Animals Running Wild on the Hills of Eastern Washington. Horses have become a "drug on the arket" in Washington. While electricity and bicycles have been increasing in popular favor for several years past great bands of horses have been roaming over the bunch-grass hills of Eastern Wash-ington. Rapidly increasing in number their value has diminished in like proportion, until many owners do not now con-sider it worth while to feed them through

A few days ago an Eastern Washington stockman arrived here with two car-loads of horses, which he hoped to mark-et on Puget sound. He found the market of Fuget sound. He found the mark-et glutted both here and in Seattle and finally sold his horses to get money to pay the freight bill. They brought $3 to $15 each, the receipts just about cover-ing the expense of bringing them across

Stockmen say there are about 100,000 horses in Eastern Washington ranges and they are destroying feed that would upport three times that number of cat-le and sheep. The latter animals are be-ng housed and fed during the stormy veather, while the horses are left on the anges to starve unless they can paw brough the snow to the surface. Cattle-ner desire that the larger portion of the mough the show to the surface. Cattle-uen desire that the larger portion of the horses perish during the winter, that the bunch grass ranges may be preserved for sheep and beef cattle. They say that in hat event the horses left will be worth as much as the unnumbered thousands y roaming at large. For several years past many owners have not taken the trouble to even round up and brand their horses, and in most instances no taxes are paid on them. Efforts have been made to find an Eastern market, but without result, except that a zen or so carloads have been o France to supply the limited demand here for horse meat.

DAKOTA ARTESIAN WELLS.

Wonderful power has developed at the overnment artesian well at Crow Creek ndian agency in South Dakota. The well was completed only a short time ago, and recently the Indian bureau let ago, and recently the Indian bureau let a contract for running a pipe from it to the agency gristmill, a distance of about 2000 feet, with the jutention of running the mill with power from the well. County Surveyor Meyer has just visited the well at the request of the contractor for the purpose of ascertain-ing the exact pressure. A gauge regiscontractor for the purpose of ascertaining the exact pressure. A gauge registering 180 pounds to the square inch was attached to the well, and the needle reached the 180 mark, when, of course, it had to stop. This was closed pressure. Several wells in the state which have a flow of more than 3000 gallons per minute, have a pressure of less than 125 pounds to the square inch.

The Origin of "Good August." The American, when he meets an acgaintance, usually greets him with good morning," or "good evening." The oman usually wishes his friend a "god ugust." In addition, presents as well s good dinners and entertainments are The origin of the custom comes hrough the unhealthfulness of the Roman August. It is a month in which the Roman fever prevails. The victim is seized with a chill, then comes the fever. If he perspires freely he will get well. he does not, he has that kind of oman fever called the "perniciosa," and ill die in a few hours usually. If the Roman escapes the fever during August he is likely to enjoy fairly good health during the balance of the year. Addition to Yellowstone Park. Addition to Yellowstone Park.

Capt. Anderson, superintendent of the Yellowstone National park, says that an effort is being made to secure legislation from Congress which would add the Jackson's Hole country to the park. The area which it was proposed to take in is about fifty miles square and contains Jackson's lake and the Three Teton mountain peaks. It is rich in natural scenery, and would in the opinion of the captain add materially to the park's attractiveness. Senator Carter of Montana has drafted a bill for that purpose, which has the endorsement of the senators from Montana and Idaho, but the Wyoming senators have not yet been won over.—Omaha Bee.

-During the last week nearly 1000 head of beef and stock cattle have been sold in Smoky and Monitor valleys, Nev. The whole sum paid to the cattlemen was about $12,000. Thus the range is relieved of 1000 head of cattle and the stockmen $12,000 richer.

The Blue and the Gray.

Both men and women are apt to feel a little blue, when the gray hairs begin to show. It's a very natural feeling. In the normal condition of things gray hairs belong to advanced age. They have no business whitening the head of man or woman, who has not begun to go down the slope of life. As a matter of fact, the hair turns gray regardless of age, or of life's seasons; sometimes it is whitened by sickness, but more often from lack of care. When the hair fades or turns gray there's no need to resort to hair dyes. The normal color of the hair is restored and retained by the use of

The machine I was familiar with could be fitted up to milk the 200-cow dairy in five minutes, instead of over six hours, and there is no difficulty in keeping everything about it sweet. It is also a complete manipulator. The calf's bunting is thoroughly imitated. It is so simple that a boy or girl of 15 could work it. It is manufactured in Scotland, and is a decided success. Every large dairy should have one, as it saves the cost of itself in a short time. The milk keeps longer, as it does not get contaminated with bacteria, being in an air-tight bucket. It can be carried and cooled over the refrigerator ready for shipment inside of an hour for the whole performance.

Eighty-five Eloping Couples Married in One Month. No city in America has made quite such a good record in the number of knots tied for elopers as our own Jeffersonville, Ind., the year past. Last month there were eighty-five such marriages. Located on the Ohio River, the town draws from two States and has special attractions for the romantic Kentuckians. The squires and ministers are winning a reputation for the way in which they dispatch the nervous lovelorn who come to their doors. A couple, total strangers in the city, will step from a train or a buggy or bicycles and ask for a certain 'squire. They have read of him in connection with his accommodations to eloping couples. So be adjusted so that one man can saw as well, however, have the magistrates armuch wood as two and as easily as ranged things that no couple can manage to reach the city without having first been spotted by some of the numerous runners, who kindly volunteer to escort them to the office of a magistrate. For this kindness the runner always receives a fee from the officiating justice.

The justice having the widest reputation is 'Squire John Hause, who occupies a neat office just at the head of the ferry landing, made conspicuous by the ferry landing, made conspicuous by the inviting sign, "Matrimonial Parlors," and other placards, showing to the public the nature of the business transact

Among the bills introduced were those by Mr. Peffer of Kansas to "improve the banking business" and by Mr. Shoup of Idah as to alien ownership of land in territories. The first reference to Cuba was in twe resolution offered by Mr. Call (Dem., Fla.). The first requests the President to send to the Senate in secret or open session, as he may deem best, all reports relating to the condemnation to life imprisonment, in chains, by the Spanish authorities. The second resolution recites the circumstances of Sanguilly's trial and condemnation and directs the secretary of state to "demand his immediate release." The gum is taken from the bales and chopped into small pieces. These are freed of tree bark and chips by steaming and picking, then ground in mills making 3400 revolutions a minute. The ground gum is subjected to a continuous heat of 140 degrees Fahrenheit in drying rooms.

From here the gum is sent to the "white-abroned cook," who adds the purest sugar and the freshest cream, granulated pepsin, powdered gurn or kola, or other desired ingredients to it, and cooks it in a steam-jacket cauling from manuscript, on his resolution for a national monetary commission. Mr. Hale (Hep., Me.) secured the adoption of a resolution directing the secretary of state to send to the Senate a statement as to the action of the President of the secretary of state touching the recognition of any foreign people or power as an independent government and the corresponding action of other branches of the United States government. Mr. Pettigrew (Rep., S. Impure blood is often the cause of a long train of ailments. The blood is the vital fluid upon which all the organs depend for nourishment. When this nourisliment fails to be supplied properly the whole system feels the effect. Read this letter:

"Several years ago I was taken with the grip, and I was sick all winter. I had nervous prostration and a long train of ailments that follow closely with that terrible malady. Last winter it seized me again. It went to my lungs and I had congestion of the lungs and kidney and liver trouble. When I felt its approach I

For several years my husband was a sufferer with rheumatism and neuralgia. He was all run down and in a very bad way. He took many kinds of medicine without day permanent benefit until he began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine cured the pains of rheumatism and neuralgia and he said he felt like a new man. If all those who are suffering from nervous troubles or rheumatism would give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial they would find that it speaks for itself." Mrs. F. C. Pratt, Wheaton, Illinois. The English island of Thanet (forming a part of the County of Kent) is almost wholly composed of chalk. The island is ten miles in length and about five in breadth and has more chalk exposed on its surface than any other spot of equal area on the globe. British geologists say that there are not less than 42,000,000,000,000 tons of chalk "in sight" on Thanet, and that it would take 10,000 men and and that it would take 10,000 men and 5000 horses and carts 20,000 years to move it, providing it were dug up ready to be carted away.—St. Louis Republic.
