GEO. NUAGENT, Editor.

There is a movement on foot to have all former residents of Ireland visit that country next spring. "Who fears to speak of '98?" is said to be the mustering shibboleth.

The X ray is said to be leading T. A. Edison to experiments which bid fair to enable surgeons to make accurate diagnosis of the internal organs of human beings without using a knife.

The house of correction at Milwaukee is reported to have nearly as many prisoners employed as the state prison in Waupun and many more than the prison authorities can furnish work for.

The inauguration ball will probably be productive of a parody entitled, "Holy, get your ax!" as it will hardly do to continue humming "The Republicans are coming" after the 4th of March.

The fact that birds of a feather seldom chirrup ill of one another may account for Senator Hoar's late declaration that life in Washington is "growing sweeter and better from year to year."

Because one lone convict committed suicide through lack of employment is no reason why convict labor should not be done away with in so far as it tends to drive honest workmen to starvation for want of employment.

The bill to create a state board of architects is about as good as the one to create a state pardon board that cannot pardon. Neither of these bills may be said to have even kept the parties who drew them up "out of mischief."

The cry against impure beer was started with a view of giving farmers a better market for barley; but, it should be remembered that similar agitation against impure butter only resulted in having different kinds thereof bear different labels. Different people have different tastes—"some like apples and some like onions."

The fact that some prominent gold Democrats are accepting appointments under the coming national administration would seem to indicate that Ellis B. Usher has good cause for wanting to call a meeting of the yellow ribbon Democrats of this state with a view of keeping them out of the Republican fold.

The Appleton Post, in commenting on Senator Thomas B. Mills' bill to regulate the nomination of candidates, says: "It is, we believe, in all of its essential features, a most important measure and, should it become a law, it will practically dethrone king caucus, now undoubtedly the most debasing characteristic of our politics."

The Associated press report which announced that Jo. Perkins of Corinth, Ky., was recently presented with four bouncing boys by his wife, says that he is "a big six-footer and a typical, Kentucky thoroughbred, while his wife is a wee bit of a woman." With such fellows as that in the state, Kentucky may go Democratic again, in the course of time.

The bill to "regulate commerce and trade in Wisconsin," introduced by Assemblyman Taylor of Marinette, will meet with the approval of those few merchants who deal in a single line of goods and the disapproval of the many merchants who deal in general merchandise as well as those who find department stores to be cheap places to buy.

A bill has been passed in the lower branch of the Alabama legislature prohibiting any insurance company doing business in that state from belonging to any tariff association or compact which tends to regulate the rates of insurance and prevents free competition. The penalty is that on all losses sustained the company shall pay to fire sufferers holding policies 25 per cent. in addition to the amount of the total loss.

The late order of President Cleveland reducing the number of national pension agencies from eighteen to nine will close up the Milwaukee office on the 1st of next September and transfer the business thereof to Chicago. As the order will save $25,000 a year by closing the Cream City agency, to say nothing of the eight others, it will prove quite an economical move, unless Mr. McKinley rescinds it, which is not probable unless the reduction works a great hardship to pensioners.

The Bradley Martin ball, given in New York last Wednesday, is reported to have been the most expensive affair of the kind ever held. It was reminiscent of the time of Louis XVI. in that the above named lady, like Marie Antoinette, found it necessary to have some guardsmen present. That the affair has covered Mrs. B. Martin with notoriety, if not with glory, may be learned on reading the following comment, which was made by Henry La-bouchere, editor of Truth in London, England: "No one is a heartier admirer of Americans than I; but, if they are judged by New York society, a more corrupt and contemptible crew never played their pranks before heaven. They are a parody on the worst features of European capitals. The man who can spend the most is deemed the leader, while the jeunesse doree is not satisfied with aping the most vulgar aspects of European society, but is anxious to return to the orgies which disgraced Rome."

The Madison State Journal says: "Insurance Commissioner Fricke, in discussing his insurance code before the legislative committee the other day, said that he did not believe that the good resulting from publishing the statements of the companies in the newspapers was sufficient to warrant the expense of their publication." A-h-e-m! There are others who do not believe "the good resulting" from Mr. Fricke's term in office is "sufficient to warrant the expense;" but, we notice that he continues drawing all the salary law allows him without any objection upon the part of publishers of the aforesaid statements.

GOVERNOR PINGREE of Michigan is reported to be in favor of arbitrating all disputes between strikers and employers, and asserts that a clause should be inserted in articles of incorporation hereafter granted to the effect that all differences between employees and employers, upon becoming troublesome to the public, shall be settled by arbitration. Mr. Pingree's plan would make a state board of arbitration amount to something more than a bill of expense, such as Mr. Jardeau and his associates have proven to be in this state.

THE Evening Wisconsin of Milwaukee says: "A law forcing the city to give ten hours pay for eight hours work would be unjust to the taxpayers. A law forcing everyone working on city contracts to knock off two hours from his working day would be unjust to labor, which should be free to make its own terms." Organized labor seems to be copying after the Cream City officials who get "ten hours" pay for eight hours' work, so to speak, because of the fact that their jobs are not let to "the lowest responsible bidder."

THE Chicago postmaster, Washington Hering, recently declared that "Joliet has more prisoners as the result of millinery bills and dressmakers' accounts and the greed of wives than it has from the effects of the saloons"—and they do say he is a candidate for mayor, too.

Is the criminal libel case against the Pittsburg (Penn.) Commercial Gazette, it was proven that State Senators Wm. Flinn and C. L. Magee did not "sell out to M. A. Hanna." The political editor of that paper will hereafter doubt as to whether "everything goes" in a hot campaign.

AMONG the bills before the legislature is one for the taxation of dogs; and, if it passes, what howling there will be.

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

THE farmers have made wonderful progress in their lines of business, but there is still a large field for advancement. The farmer of the future will have more to contend with than the farmer of the past. In order to do this he should be trained accordingly; and there is no better place for a young man who intends to become a practical farmer than the Agricultural college connected with the university at Madison. Here also a course in practical mechanics (embracing blacksmithing, bench and carpenter work) can be taken. The experiment station and several laboratories in the agricultural college, the dairy school equipment and the farm are all brought into use.

Aside from Wisconsin, the following states are represented in the short course of agriculture: Illinois, Nebraska, Massachusetts, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, South Carolina, California, and Central America. In fact we have the largest attendance, this year, ever known in the history of the college, which proves conclusively that this practical training is rapidly gaining friends, and it is only a question of a short time when any young man who wishes to push to the front will take the short course and obtain a practical training in agriculture, which will so largely determine his future.

WAYNE WAFTINGS.

A number of young people here spent last Sunday evening with Adolph Ruffenacht and wife. Playing cincinnati and dancing was the chief amusement.

The wedding of Philip Jung, Jr., to Mary Ohrmund took place at the Evangelical church here last Thursday at about 11 a. m., Rev. Lienkaemper having officiated. The bride was attended by Minnie Jung, Minnie Schwingendor and Miss Moldenhauer, and the groom by August, Fritz, Henry Jung, and Mr. Moldenhauer. The wedding was a quiet one, only near relatives having been invited. The young couple are well known, the groom being a young farmer who has always lived at home with his father here, while the bride is the daughter of Carl Ohrmund and wife and is highly respected by all. They will reside 2 1/2 miles north of here on the farm known as P. H. Jung's place. We join with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Jung, Jr., a sunny future.

Anything to Get Votes. A certain candidate for a city office made it a rule that callers should be admitted to see him at any time, even if he were at the table. This rule, it is needless to say, applied only before election. The candidate was fond of the pleasures of the table and aware that this was not counted to his disadvantage among a certain class of his supporters.

The inauguration ball will probably be productive of a parody entitled, "Hoby, get your ax!" as it will hardly do to confine humming "The Republicans are coming" after the 4th of March.

The cry against impure beer was started with a view of giving farmers a better market for barley; but, it should be remembered that similar agitation against impure butter only resulted in having different kinds thereof bear different labels. The fact that some prominent gold Democrats are accepting appointments under the coming national administration would seem to indicate that Ellis B. The Appleton Post, in commenting on Senator Thomas B. With such fellows as that in the state, Kentucky may go Democratic again, in the course of time.

The bill to "regulate commerce and trade in Wisconsin," introduced by Assemblyman Taylor of Marinette, will meet with the approval of those few merchants who deal in a single line of goods and the disapproval of the many merchants who deal in general merchandise as well as those who find department stores to be cheap places to buy.

A bill has been passed in the lower branch of the Alabama legislature prohibiting any insurance company doing business in that state from belonging to any tariff association or compact which tends to regulate the rates of insurance and prevents free competition. The penalty is that on all losses sustained the company shall pay to fire sufferers holding policies 25 per cent. in addition to the amount of the total loss.

The late order of President Cleveland reducing the number of national pension agencies from eighteen to nine will close up the Milwaukee office on the 1st of next September and transfer the business thereof to Chicago. As the order will save $25,000 a year by closing the Cream City agency, to say nothing of the eight others, it will prove quite an economical move, unless Mr. McKinley rescinds it, which is not probable unless the reduction works a great hardship to pensioners.

The Bradley Martin ball, given in New York last Wednesday, is reported to have been the most expensive affair of the kind ever held. It was reminiscent of the time of Louis XVI. in that the above named lady, like Marie Antoinette, found it necessary to have some guardsmen present. That the affair has covered Mrs. B. Martin with notoriety, if not with glory, may be learned on reading the following comment, which was made by Henry Labouchere, editor of Truth in London, England: "No one is a heartier admirer of Americans than I; but, if they are judged by New York society, a more corrupt and contemptible crew never played their pranks before heaven. They are a parody on the worst features of European capitals. The man who can spend the most is deemed the leader, while the jeunesse doree is not satisfied with aping the most vulgar aspects of European society, but is anxious to return to the orgies which disgraced Rome."

The Madison State Journal says: "Insurance Commissioner Fricke, in discussing his insurance code before the legislative committee the other day, said that he did not believe that the good resulting from publishing the statements of the companies in the newspapers was sufficient to warrant the expense of their publication." A-h-e-m! There are others who do not believe "the good resulting" from Mr. Fricke's term in office is "sufficient to warrant the expense;" but, we notice that he continues drawing all the salary law allows him without any objection upon the part of publishers of the aforesaid statements.

GOVERNOR PINGREE of Michigan is reported to be in favor of arbitrating all disputes between strikers and employers, and asserts that a clause should be inserted in articles of incorporation hereafter granted to the effect that all differences between employees and employers, upon becoming troublesome to the public, shall be settled by arbitration. Mr. Pingree's plan would make a state board of arbitration amount to something more than a bill of expense, such as Mr. Jardeau and his associates have proven to be in this state.

The Evening Wisconsin of Milwaukee says: "A law forcing the city to give ten hours' pay for eight hours work would be unjust to the taxpayers. A law forcing everyone working on city contracts to knock off two hours from his working day would be unjust to labor, which should be free to make its own terms." Organized labor seems to be copying after the Cream City officials who get "ten hours' pay for eight hours' work," so to speak, because of the fact that their jobs are not let to "the lowest responsible bidder."

The Chicago postmaster, Washington Hering, recently declared that "Joliet has more prisoners as the result of millinery bills and dressmakers' accounts and the greed of wives than it has from the effects of the saloons"—and they do say he is a candidate for mayor, too.

Is the criminal libel case against the Pittsburg (Penn.) Commercial Gazette, it was proven that State Senators Wm. Flinn and C. L. Magee did not "sell out to M. A. Hanna." The political editor of that paper will hereafter doubt as to whether "everything goes" in a hot campaign.

AMONG the bills before the legislature is one for the taxation of dogs; and, if it passes, what howling there will be.

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The farmers have made wonderful progress in their lines of business, but there is still a large field for advancement. The farmer of the future will have more to contend with than the farmer of the past. In order to do this he should be trained accordingly; and there is no better place for a young man who intends to become a practical farmer than the Agricultural college connected with the university at Madison. Here also a course in practical mechanics (embracing blacksmithing, bench and carpenter work) can be taken. The experiment station and several laboratories in the agricultural college, the dairy school equipment and the farm are all brought into use.

Aside from Wisconsin, the following states are represented in the short course of agriculture: Illinois, Nebraska, Massachusetts, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, South Carolina, California, and Central America. In fact we have the largest attendance, this year, ever known in the history of the college, which proves conclusively that this practical training is rapidly gaining friends, and it is only a question of a short time when any young man who wishes to push to the front will take the short course and obtain a practical training in agriculture, which will so largely determine his future.

WAYNE WAFTINGS.

Plans for the masquerade here have vanished, although we are sorry for it. A number of young people here spent last Sunday evening with Adolph Rutenacht and wife. Playing euchre and dancing was the chief amusement. The wedding of Philip Jung, Jr., to Mary Ohrmund took place at the Evangelical church here last Thursday at about 11 a. m., Rev. Lienkaemper having officiated. The bride was attended by Minnie Jung, Minnie Schwingendor and Miss Moldenhauer, and the groom by August, Fritz, Henry Jung, and Mr. Moldenhauer. The wedding was a quiet one, only near relatives having been invited. The young couple are well known, the groom being a young farmer who has always lived at home with his father here, while the bride is the daughter of Carl Ohrmund and wife and is highly respected by all. They will reside 2 1/2 miles north of here on the farm known as P. H. Jung's place. We join with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Jung, Jr., a sunny future.

LOST CONTROL OF HER NERVES.

A HELPLESS, PAINFUL CONDITION.

From the Tribune, Minneapolis, Minn. It is said that the present generation is living in an era of nervousness. Some attribute the cause to the climate of our country; if there is an atmospheric effect it certainly is the least of the causes that produce nervousness. The great freedom enjoyed by the American people is in a large measure the cause of the high-strung condition of our nerves. There is a restlessness and a lustre on every hand. We work days and nights during the year and in our hurry we bolt our food, sleep with iron-rails, with seldom a thought of Mrs. C. H. Guise, of 410 Central ave.

MRS. C. H. GUISE.

me east, Minneapolis, and the misfortune and her trouble was aggravated by want of sleep. Night after night of sleeplessness had created a worn out condition and she sometimes would jerk and jump unaccountably when to everyone suffering. In relating her experience to a Tribune representative, she said: "I wish to state to you the great benefit I have derived from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. For many months I was afflicted with nervous debility and could get no relief until I began to take the Pink Pills; the result came very soon, and I hope I may have the privilege of recommending them to everyone suffering as I did, for I am certain the medicine gives instant relief without any bad results."

(Signed) "MRS. C. H. GUISE," Subscribed and sworn to before me, a Notary Public, Hennepin County, Minn., this 10th day of February, 1904.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build the blood, and restore the glands of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excess of wine and tobacco. They are sold in boxes (over in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of druggists or sent direct by mail by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Celery for Rheumatism.

Celery is said to be excellent for the nervous system and is a fine remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia. It may be taken in the natural state or in salads, soups and in tea. Of course quantities must be used in large quantities. For diseases of the liver and kidneys, spinach and dandelion, served as cooked salads, are considered simple but efficacious remedies. Onions, garlic and olives promote digestion by stirring up the circulatory system, with consequent increase of the saliva and gastric juice. Raw onions superinduce sleep and the French are fond of eating them for general stinging and stomach troubles.

Millions of Cook Books Given Away.

There is one large house in this country that has taken business on its true and means to do it on the right track. Alive to the signs of better times and to the best interests of the people, they are now circulating among their customers the publication known as "The Charles A. Vogeler Company's Cookery Book and Book of Comfort and Distinction," which contains very choice information on the subject of cooking. Receipts for the preparation of good, substantial and dainty dishes, prepared especially for the leading authority, will be found in its pages. Much care has been taken in its preparation and distribution, with the hope that it will be just the thing needed for housekeepers, and just the thing needed also for the doctor, for the table and household. As a Cookery Book it will be invaluable to keep on hand for reference.

It also contains full information in regard to the great remedies of this house, especially that against bodily ailments, especially the Charles A. Vogeler and Aches, St. Jacob's Oil.

To give some idea of the labor and expense that have been put into its publication, and at the rate of 100,000 a day, it has taken several months of preparation. The book can be had of druggists everywhere, or by enclosing a 2c. stamp to The Charles A. Vogeler Company, Baltimore, Md.

STEEL RAIL SITUATION.

Illinois Steel Company Prepares to Give Battle to Carnegie and Rockefeller.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 10.—Notwithstanding the alleged dissolution of the steel combination, President Gates of the Illinois Steel company claims to have just closed contracts for about $4,000,000 worth of rails at about $21.50. Mr. Gates says he is unable as yet to define his position in regard to the Carnegie-Rockefeller combination. A statement issued last night probably indicates in respect to the future stand of the Illinois Steel company.

The annual meeting of the Illinois Steel company today President Gates in his report said the year had been a very unsatisfactory one. In April last there were only 100,000 tons of rails on hand, 900,000 tons produced and two-thirds of the orders required for the year's business. But the active demand for rails was 1,000,000 tons, following on the Venezuela message, resulted in almost complete exhaustion of the company's stock during August and September. Three hundred thousand tons had been sold for prompt delivery, leaving Rockefeller combination was out after the Illinois Steel company, which has steadfastly declined to enter the pool.

Notwithstanding the stagnation, however, the company sold and delivered 33 per cent of what it produced. The Illinois Steel States during that period and sufficient orders are now on the books to absorb the entire inventory of material on hand.

The annual statement shows a deficit after a year of 24,000,000 of making. It was announced last yesterday that the great steel rail pool had gone to Carnegie and Rockefeller, and the combination has arisen a "two-man" trust which wants the steel rail business divided between Carnegie and Rockefeller and the men.

Steel rails were offered to several Chicago delivery houses, but the offer was rejected by the Carnegie representatives. These offers quickly followed others at $20 a ton, which had brought the market. The pool prices for steel rails were $25, and the Carnegie interests were the head and front of the pool. The impression was that the Carnegie-Rockefeller combination was out after the Illinois Steel company, which has steadfastly declined to enter the pool.

TROOPERS FIGHT A DUEL.

Pretty Katie Medler's Jealous Suitors Use Cavalry Sabers at West Point.

New York, Feb. 10.—It has just leaked out that John Leahy and Percy Howard, two troopers in Uncle Sam's cavalry detachment stationed at West Point, have fought a duel with sabers. The duel was fought by Katie Medler, the blacksmith's daughter. At a recent ball Leahy was the favored swain and Leahy and Howard promptly challenged him to a duel. Leahy and Howard were both in the cavalry. Leahy was a sergeant and Howard a corporal. The duel was fought on the 8th inst. and Leahy was the victor. Leahy's second was Percy Howard, and Howard's second was Leahy. The duel was fought with sabers and Leahy was the victor. Leahy's second was Percy Howard, and Howard's second was Leahy. FOR DISESTABLISHMENT.

Samuel Smith's Motion Voted Down by the Commoneers

London, Feb. 10.—Samuel Smith, Liberal member for Flintshire, and formerly president of the Liverpool chamber of commerce, moved in the House of Commons today for the disestablishment and disendowment of the church of England. He contended that the established churches are inimical to popular rights, that they are a source of social and political evil, and that they are a waste of the nation's resources. His motion was rejected by a vote of 204 to 81.

SPARROWS ATTACK A RAT.

Reckless Forged to Retreat, but It Carried Off One Bird.

Residents of Cleveland, O., were recently treated to a fight between a large rat and a flock of English sparrows at 117 West Water street. Just after the dinner hour the rat, which had been taken from a hole in the yard, came out and began to scold. Six or seven sparrows had dined upon the rat, and this invasion of their rights caused an angry row among them. After reconnoitering for a few minutes, and possibly becoming satisfied that the rat was not to be driven away by force they set up a fearful clatter and kept it up until their number was increased to about five fold, and then began the attack. They picked at his eyes, neck and other portions of his anatomy, and forced him to give way and retreat to his hole, but not until one of their number was seized by him and carried off. The rat then returned to the feast and soon ate all that was left in sight.

Fate of a Traveled Indian.

The curious fate of an Indian who had traveled to meet his quitted body by George Catlin, was again told by an Assiniboin chief visiting Washington. When he returned to his people he began to tell them about the sights he had seen. He described the patent office and the models of the machinery. He pictured the ascent of a balloon, the formation of troops, the battalions, the big guns, the steamboats, the stages. Every day he had a new story to tell. At first his people listened in great wonderment. Then they began to doubt, and it was not long before they openly called him a liar. But the brave Indian continued to talk, and the more he talked the greater the contempt of his fellows. He finally one day told them that he had seen a white man who was called Adams, and that he had seen a white man who was called Adams, and that he had seen a white man who was called Adams.

Names of the First People.

The Book of Genesis has two names for the first man. He was called "Ish" as well as "Adam." One of the names is called "Ishah," translated "woman," because she was taken out of "Ish," Adam's side. The name "Ish" is the same as the name "Ish" in the Hebrew language. The name "Ish" is the same as the name "Ish" in the Hebrew language. COLLEGE CONVENES.

First Formalities in Connection with the Incoming Administration.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—The first public exercises in connection with the incoming administration occurred at the Capitol today when the two houses of Congress, in joint session in the spacious hall of representatives, counted the electoral vote of the various states and listened to Vice-President Stevenson formally pronounce the election of William McKinley as president and Garret A. Hobart as vice-president of the United States.

Although the sky was overcast with leaden clouds the weather was pleasant and propitious. As is usual on state occasions the public streamed to the capitol in great crowds, but the galleries were reserved for ticket-holders, so the stairways and elevators were crowded.

The New York, Indiana, Maine, Columbia and Amphitrite started out from the capitol on their way to the north at 10 o'clock. They were followed by the other ships of the fleet. The ships of the fleet were followed by the other ships of the fleet. The ships of the fleet were followed by the other ships of the fleet.

Struck by the Storm.

The storm came up from the southeast and soon was blowing a gale. Admiral Bunsell and Capt. Schley stood on the deck of the ship New York and held the squadron on its course to the south as long as it was possible. Then the Indiana signaled the fleet to return to port; something was wrong with the great battleship, and the admiral signaled the fleet to return to port. The fleet returned to port and the great battleship was damaged.

VICE-PRESIDENT STENOUS.

Were besieged in vain by the eager multitudes of the galleries who had gathered before the senators and representatives and spectators consequently there was a very distinguished assemblage.

Although the ceremonies were not to begin until 1 o'clock the galleries were thrown open to the fortunate possessors of tickets at 10 o'clock and within an hour all the galleries except those reserved for the diplomatic corps and the members of the cabinet were filled.

The hall made a brilliant setting for the ceremony of the inauguration. The decorations of gray and gold relieved the dark spaces above the densely crowded galleries.

The crowds in the galleries were of the best of their kind. They waited for the ceremonies to begin, while on the floor of the capitol the speakers made their salutations. The Democrats who four years ago laughed at the expense of their political adversaries today had the tables turned upon them.

Exactly at 12 o'clock, Speaker Reed, by request of the House, took the oath of office. The speaker then delivered the opening address. The speaker then delivered the opening address.

SWEPT BY HUGE SEAS.

Story of the Terrible Experience of the North Atlantic Squadron.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 10.—It will be many a day before the bluejackets of Admiral Bunsell's fleet forget their exciting voyage during the recent February gale. The spot is a fatal one for the United States navy, for here it was that Gen. Burnside's armada was overwhelmed by the elements during the days of the war and the bottom of the ocean along the coast of the Carolina is paved with ill-fated warships and the skeletons of their brave crews. It was along this dreaded coast, also, that the original turret-ship Monitor went down with all on board in a gale similar to the one just weathered by the North Atlantic Squadron.

The New York, Indiana, Maine, Columbia and Amphitrite started out from the capitol on their way to the north at 10 o'clock. They were followed by the other ships of the fleet. The ships of the fleet were followed by the other ships of the fleet.

EFFECT OF CIVIL SERVICE.

National Commission Submits Its Thirteenth Report—Suggestions Made.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—The thirteenth annual report of the Civil Service Commission, covering the past fiscal year, has been submitted to the President. It reviews the growth of the government's civil service, the efforts of the commission to secure a more efficient and economical administration, and the important changes in the law and the extension contemplated. During the year the commission conducted investigations into charges of political assessments, political appointments and dismissals, and alleged frauds and unfairness in connection with the civil service. It also conducted a number of cases of political assessments, and it was found that there had been a considerable violation of the law on this subject, and the commission's warning to employes during the campaign that they should not be forced to contribute to political funds, the report says, had a most salutary effect.

As an administrative system, the report says, the civil service has shown a marked improvement in the past year. The number of employes has increased from 1,000,000 in 1897 to 1,500,000 in 1903. The number of employes has increased from 1,000,000 in 1897 to 1,500,000 in 1903.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is greater than any local physician in the world. The following invitation is freely offered; accept it in the same spirit.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by her personally. A woman can freely talk to her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that is so necessary in such a case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Swallow's Flight. Experiments made in Antwerp have shown that a swallow separated from earth by a distance of 255 kilometers returned to it in an hour and eight minutes, while a carrier pigeon required three hours longer to make that distance. This confirms the opinion of ornithologists that swallows in their migrations need only half a day to go from Germany to Africa.
