Communications should be accompanied by the name of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as evidence of good faith on the part of the author. Write only upon one side of paper, and, in giving names and dates, be careful to make them plain and distinct.

GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

It is reported that Turkey has purchased three American ironclads. The sultan must be trying to excite sympathy for that country.

The subject of international bimetalism evidently continues to interest the president, as he had an hour's consultation with Senator Wolcott of Colorado last Saturday.

The announcement that President McKinley will adhere to the tenure of office policy in the Postoffice department will be received with pleasure by many Democratic postmasters throughout the country, who were on the anxious seat.

The "City Hall Bell March" is the title of a new piece of music composed by M. E. Moll of Milwaukee. Whatever may be said of its merits, it is fair to presume that it will take best in those parts of the Cream City which those sounds of the bell never reaches.

The decision of Land Commissioner Lamoreux in the McKee scrip case, involving Lake Michigan shore land at Chicago, has been annulled by Secretary Bliss and a new hearing ordered. The commissioner has tendered his resignation, but it had not been accepted at last accounts.

It is said that the legislature will adjourn about the 10th of April, which would make the shortest biennial session of that body on record. However, it can continue until the 22nd of next month without exceeding the 100-day limit of unwritten law which every legislature seems to respect.

The president has selected John Hay of the District of Columbia for ambassador to Great Britain, and Henry White of Rhode Island will be secretary of the embassy. Horace Porter of New York is to be the ambassador to France. The treasury, war and navy departments are also being furnished with new officers quite rapidly.

The anti-convict labor bills being passed in some states will increase the chances for honest laborers to earn a living. For a while it looked as if many willing hands would have to become criminals in order to earn a living. Now let the prison hard, "the way of the transgressor is hard," be changed to "it is never too late to mend," and let the convict's time be served so as to make a better man of him. Work, work, with little or no variation, tends toward making confirmed criminals of the occupants of penitentiaries rather than to reform them.

The unemployed men and women of Chicago, to the number of several hundred, held a meeting last Sunday evening and issued a "Declaration of Independence" against "King Plutocracy" in the garden City; also adopted resolutions against paying rent except at the option of tenants, endorsed the repeal of the laws for the collection of debts, and formed the Unemployed Workmen's league. The "Declaration of Independence" is a paraphrase of the historic document of July 4, 1776, and "King Plutocracy" is the despot substituted for King George as the object of righteous invective. Thus it seems that there is a chance for Coxey to do some heavy recruiting in Chicago.

The sarcophagus for the remains of the late Gen. U. S. Grant arrived at Jersey City from Montello, Wis., last Monday and will be placed in his tomb on Riverside drive, New York. The dedication, on April 27th, will be one of the greatest demonstrations of the kind ever witnessed in this country. The granite for the sarcophagus was given to a contractor at Montello nearly a year ago, and the company became involved and failed to pay its men, whereupon the contract was turned over to the Anderson Granite company. When the latter company had the sarcophagus ready for shipment the creditors of the bankrupt firm (comprising a large share of the town's population) gathered and swore that the shipment would not be allowed until all obligations were met, whereupon J. H. Anderson summoned the sheriff and induced the mob to withdraw, but not until a bond had been given guaranteeing payment of the amounts due the aforesaid creditors.

Congress convened last Monday in extraordinary session with Vice-president Hobart presiding in the senate and Thomas B. Reed in the house. The president's message, was also issued the same day, and it proved to be short and to the point, as it were. It lays particular stress upon the fact that the revenues of the government are not sufficient to cover expenses, and suggests an increase of tax on foreign products as a remedy. The Dingley tariff bill, if passed, would give $75,000,000 more revenue. In the agricultural, wool, glass and earthenware schedules the duties of the act of 1890 are fully restored as a rule and in a few cases increased. However, some opposition to the bill is expected from western Republican senators on the ground that it tends to enrich manufacturers who are consumers of trusts at the expense of members, while the Democrats will likely increase the revenue by taxing incomes. Still, as the people have declared in favor of Mr. McKinley, it is to be hoped that a majority in both houses of congress will act in accordance with the president.

When fiction is deeds,
When words are fact,
When credit is cash,
Other flour may be as good as White Pearl.

If she hadn't lost her breath;

And thus worried herself to death.

White Pearl leaves the rest behind.

A Thrilling Experience.

The Fond du Lac Commonwealth of yesterday says: "A resident of Dundee arrived in the city Wednesday and told of a thrilling experience which he and several other men had Tuesday night on Lake Winnebago. They were hauling a sail-boat across the lake on a sledge, to which they had six horses attached. The ice broke near Black Wolf and the horses and men were engulfed by the waters. The men clung to the boat and succeeded in getting a foothold on solid ice.
