Communications should be accompanied by the name of the writer; not necessarily for publication, but as evidence of good faith on the part of the author. Write only upon one side of paper; and, in giving names and dates, be careful to make them plain and distinct.

GEO. NIJENT, Editor.

The United States senate has agreed to vote on the arbitration treaty on the 5th of May.

Those who understand Greek may find the European war news interesting reading while the rest of us look at the pictures.

The funeral of Mark Hanna's mother at Cleveland, O., last Tuesday was remarkable for the simplicity of the details thereof.

It now seems that Julius Goldschmidt of Milwaukee is to be consul-general to Berlin—a more important consular post than he had before.

GARRET DUNCK, who was a leader of the Democratic party in Milwaukee for many years, died there last Monday of peritonitis in the 52d year of his age.

The Philadelphia Ledger rises to remark that "at this stage of the controversy it is evident that Senator Morgan can talk faster than Gen. Weyler can write."

It is hoped that Thomas Skerzyski, who was recently arrested at Chicago for forgery, will be dealt with leniently, as not one man in a thousand could write that name correctly.

The 30th inst. has been fixed as the date for planting trees this year, also as a day for "diffusing knowledge concerning our native birds and arousing a more general interest in bird protection."

The silver anniversary of the wedding of August Uihlein was made interesting to the public last Tuesday by that gentleman giving $5,000 toward buying more books for the public library of the Cream City.

It is reported that the battleship Indiana recently lost a blank torpedo shell worth $2,200. However, this is only a drop in the ocean compared with the loss sustained by the government through the mismanagement of some of our other naval vessels.

With such men as Paine of Massachusetts, Stevenson of Illinois and Wolcott of Colorado on the international monetary commission but little is expected to be accomplished for the cause of bimetalism, according to the Washington correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Cuban junta is rather previous in circulating silver coin in this country bearing the stamp of the provincial government. However, the money will be worth the market price of the bullion in it in any event—whether the Cubans come out of their fight with Spain victorious or not.

CONGRESS has passed a law, which goes into effect June 1st, permitting the printing and use of private mailing cards with a 1-cent stamp attached. Business men will undoubtedly take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to distribute special card literature.

The Milwaukee school board is being stirred up so much that the residents of the Cream City are living in hopes that some good may result from it; but, in this connection, a great deal depends on the quality of the street. Meanwhile, the fate of the Dual Council bill at the hands of the legislature is anxiously awaited. The Cream City has reached its bond limit and is attempting all sorts of schemes to cut down expenses without injuring itself.

It is encouraging to note that the "contemplated" resignation of C. H. Hamilton as city attorney of Milwaukee did not cut any figure in the U. S. court last Monday morning, and that the judge insisted on proceeding with the case before him regardless of the unsettled condition of the city attorney's mind relative to resigning.

In the royalist newspaper of Honolulu, under date of March 8th, 1897, the following personal appeared: "The Queen will remain at Washington until—she is willing to leave. She will be in England at the diamond jubilee in June next, and will not return to Hawaii until after the September elections, the result of which will be forwarded to her either to the south of France or to the Channel Islands."

The editors and newspaper men have decided that they want a national editorial home, something after the order of the Printers' home out at Colorado Springs. At their late convention a plan was presented to provide a home that would "afford a place for the rest and recreation of members and supply a temporary or permanent abode at low rates, on partial payments or entirely free, as the circumstances, wants, disabilities or age of the members require."

The medical bill, which was the subject of a bribery investigation during the present term of the legislature, has been passed and signed by the governor. By its terms a medical board will regulate the practice of medicine in this state. The bill was proposed by the State Medical society and introduced in the assembly by Dr. J. A. Clason of Neosho, Dodge county. All persons commencing the practice of medicine or surgery in this state must have a license from the aforesaid board hereafter. The main object of the bill seems to be to keep quack doctors out of the state; and, as their services are dear at any price, the bill will prove beneficial to the people.

THE professional politician, says the Columbus, O., Press, "is a great detriment to every community. The leper or smallpox patient is less dangerous. The day of this modern product of society is fast closing. When he has disappeared the people will wonder why they tolerated him, any more than the gold-brick swindler, the counterfeiter or the confidence man." The Press might as well expect the people to quit listening to a lawyer or a doctor as to expect them to quit paying attention to professional politicians. Men who make politics a study are generally the best prepared to speak on the subject, and he who is not interested in the politics of this country is a poor specimen of an American citizen.

THE president has appointed W. A. Jones of Mineral Point as commissioner of Mineral affairs; also, M. C. Phillips of Oshkosh as United States attorney for the Eastern district of Wisconsin. Only One on His Side.

A well-known judge, noted for his tendency to explain things to his jury, expressed in a recent case his own ideas with such force that he was surprised that the jurors thought of leaving the box. They did leave it, however, and were out hours. Inquiring the trouble, the judge was told one of the twelve was holding out against the eleven. He summoned the juror and rebuked the recalcitrant sharply. "Your honor," said the indignant juror, "may I say a word?" "Yes, sir," replied the judge sharply; "what have you to say?" "Well, what I wanted to say is, I'm the only fellow that's on your side."—The Wife.

INFORMATION ABOUT GREECE.

It has a population of 2,187,208. It is called "Hellas" by its people. It has an area of 24,977 square miles. The mean temperature of Greece is 64 degrees Fahrenheit.

No part of Greece is forty miles from the sea or ten from the hills. About one-half of the population are agriculturists and shepherds. The Greek flag is a white cross on a blue ground-the Bavarian colors and the Greek cross.

It has few rivers and many hills. None of the former is navigable, and many of the latter are fortified. Greece is more thickly populated than any other country in Europe, with the exception of Sweden and Prussia.

It is the only country in the world whose armies are provided with the Gras guns and paper-covered cartridges. Only about 70,000 of the inhabitants speak any language other than Greek, and only about 20,000 profess any religion other than the orthodox.

Its present boundary limits were determined by an arrangement among Great Britain, France, Russia and Turkey, concluded at Constantinople on July 21, 1832. The chief characteristics of the average Greek are his inquisitiveness, fondness for excitement, love of discussion, desire for knowledge, an aptitude for learning and aggressive patriotism.

The climate has two striking peculiarities-the heat in summer and the cold in winter are far more intense than those of any other country in the world lying in the same latitude. Gell once remarked that in traveling through the Morea in March he found "summer in Messenia, spring in Laconia and winter in Arcadia, without having moved beyond a radius of fifty miles."-New York Sun.

Farmers are patiently awaiting favorable weather for seeding. Emil Gardien went to Lomira last Monday where he will run a butcher shop. Geo. Ammerling of Boyd, Wis., surprised his parents (Mr. and Mrs. Mat. Ammerling) by coming home to spend Easter.

The raffle and dance, Easter Monday, was largely attended; and the watch was won by Jos. Schmitt, the horse by Jos. Felix, the clock by Casper Straub, and the music box by John Leisses. Farmers, look to your interest! If you want good stock, call at Jo. Mack's barn and see that fine, black, imported Pecheuron stallion "Chicanot;" he will be here every Thursday during the season.

Conrad Frasch, a student of theology at St. Francis, who arrived here with a college-mate, spent last week visiting relatives. During the Easter holidays he assisted Rev. Burrellbach; and, in June, he will read his first mass here. Unconscionable swindlers, is the only terms those famous little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers will make with constipation, sick headache and stomach troubles.-Charles Miller.
