The cash receipts of the grand lodge for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1897, amounted to $5764.40, an increase of $2201.97 over the previous year. The total receipts were divded as follows: Per capita tax, $4186; fines, $85; charter fees, $75; dispensations, $125; profit on supplies, $329.57; other sources, $963.83, a total of $5764.40. The aggregate expenditures of the grand lodge for the same period amounted to $4802.09, and the cash balance in the hands of the sentatives of the Pythian sisterhood, same period amounted to $4802.03, and the cash balance in the hands of the treasurer on March 31, 1897, was $3604.03, an increase of $963.31 for the year. In closing his report, the grand secretary said that it was his belief that no Pythian domain today has a more efficient and loyal corps of keepers of records and loyal corps of keepers of records and seal than Wisconsin Pythian lodges, and that much credit is due to them for the good condition of the order throughout the state.

In December, 1895, there was a total number of 113 lodges in Wisconsin; the total number December 31, 1896, was 118, and the present number is 119, made up of the following membership: Past grand chancellors, 23; past chancellors, 937; knights, 7225; esquires, 78; pages, 55, or a total of 8348 on that date, with an estimated increase of 227 since then, or a total of 8575 in the state, a net gain of 430.

the special commissioner appointed by President McKinley, to investigate the death of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, arrived to-day.

The Senate on the 6th agreed to an amendment to the sundry civil bill revoking the order of President Cleveland, made on February 22 last, establishing forest reservations aggregating 17,000,000 acres. The debate brought out much criticism of Mr. Cleveland's order, Senators Pettigrew, Wilson, Turner, Rawlins and White speaking against it. Mr. Gray of Delaware defended the course of the President, pointing out that it was the result of an inquiry authorized by Congress and conducted by the National Academy of Science. Mr. Allison endeavored to have the amendment restricted so as to leave the question of revocation to the President, but he was defeated on a yea and nay vote, 14 to 32. Mr. Gorman made a point of order against the amendment, but this, being submitted to the Senate, was defeated, 23 to 25. The amendment was then agreed to without division. Another amendment agreed to provide for a continuance of the investigation of the condition of the fur seals in Behring sea. The sundry civil bill was passed late in the day. It carries an aggregate of $53,000,000.

was passed late in the day. It carries an aggregate of $53,000,000.

The Morgan Cuban resolution was discussed at considerable length in the Senate on the 10th. For the first time since the debate began, the opposition sentiment expressed itself. The speeches were not of a kind to stimulate the galleries, being in the main caim and dispassionate reviews of the situation in Cuba. Mr. Vest later secured an agreement to a resolution directing the committee on commerce to inquire into the cause of the recent floods on the Mississippi river and report to the Senate next December. Mr. Goar of Iowa gave notice that he would move to take up the Senate bill for the settlement of claims growing out of bonds to aid in the construction of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific railroads. Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.) from the committee on census reported a bill for taking the twelfth census. A resolution was agreed to requesting the secretary of war for information as to the steps taken to locate a deep water harbor at Port Los Angeles, or San Pedro, Cal., in accordance with the report of a commission.

The Cuban question occupied the entire attention of the Senate on the 11th, the debate taking a wide range, and at times becoming spirited when comparisons were made between the attitude of the former administration and the present one, on the subject of Cuba. Senators Morrill of Vermont and Caffery of Louisiana spoke in opposition to the resolution; Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Foraker of Ohio advocated deferring the question until further information could be secured from the state department, and Senators Mills of Texas and Allen of Nebraska urged the immediate passage of the resolution. The debate went over until the following day.

In the Senate on the 12th the Sugar inves-

In the Senate on the 12th the Sugar investigation of 1894 was recalled by the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Allen of Nebraska reciting the circumstances of the investigation, the refusal of E. R. Chapman to testify, his conviction in the courts as a contumacious witness, and the present efforts toward his pardon. The resolution proposes that Chapman be brought to the bar of the Senate to purge himself of contumacy as a pre-requisite to pardon. Mr. Allen sought to secure immediate action on the resolution, but it went over on objections from Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire and Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts. The latter criticised the resolution as giving away the authority of the Senate and said he would propose an amendment with a view to having Chapman punished unless he purged himself of contempt without reference to the question of pardon. The consideration of the resolution will be in order on the 13th. House.

The Republicans of the House on the 6th followed up their recent endorsement of Speaker Reed's policy of postponing the appointment of committees by establishing the policy of biweekly meetings through the adoption of a resolution reported by the committee on rules providing that the House shall meet on Mondays and Thursdays until further action. On this resolution, the Democrats and Populists were solidly arrayed against the Republicans, and it was adopted by a yote of 101 to 83 after a partisan debate.

The House on the 10th resumed the trans-

The House on the 10th resumed the transaction of public business which had been suspended since the Indian appropriation bill was sent to conference three weeks ago. The consideration of the Senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill was entered upon under a special order providing for a recess each day until disposed of. Mr. Simpson of Kansas pursued his tactics of the last few weeks at tempting to harnss the majority with points of no quorum, but without success, and the Democratic lack of harmony on the subject of party policy was again in evidence.

The consideration of the Senate amend-the subject of party policy was again in evidence.

The consideration of the Senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill was finished by the House on the 11th, and the bill sent to a conference. President Cleveland's forest reservation order was the subject of much debate and the House voted not to concur in the Senate amendment to annul the order with the understanding that the conferees should arrange an amendment which would have the same effect. The debate on this subject followed closely the lines of that of yesterday. It was participated in almost exclusively by Western members, who pointed out the injury to present settlers that would result if President Cleveland's order should become operative. Several amendments were offered but withdrawn. Short speeches criticising President Cleveland's order were made. The amendment for an appropriation of $50,000 to improve Pearl harbor in the Hawaiian islands was rejected by a vote of $5 to 53. Mr. Hitt of Illinois earnestly urged the importance of taking steps to confirm the title of this government to the harbor in view of the Senate proposal to abrogate the Hawaiian treaty. ian treaty.

The sugar beet is very similar to the honeycomb, and in its little cells is secreted the sweet matter, so that in slicing it is desirable to open up as many of these little cells as possible. Hence the necessity of having the knives sharp, so that the cells may not be ruptured, but clean cut. As these slices come from under the cutter they are put n what is known as a diffusion battery. bass one was a woman, Mrs. Emma Seiler. She was a German, born in Wurtzburg. Left a widow with two children to support, she resolved to become a teacher of singing, but suddenly lost her voice. Then she determined to find out why; also to discover if possible the correct method of singing, so that others might not lose their voices. For this purpose she studied anatomy. She dissected larynx after larynx and spent years in her search, trying to find for one thing why women's head tones could sected larynx after larynx and spent years in her search, trying to find for one thing why women's head tones could reach high C while men had no soprano tones. At length her search was rewarded. She discovered under the microscope one day two small, wedge-shaped cartilages whose action produces the highest tones of the human voice. She made her discovery public. It excited great attention among scientists. Her own brother, a physician, praised the treatise in the highest terms till he found his own sister had written it. Then he dashed it down, saying in a rage that she would be better attending to her housework. Mme. Seiler's portrait, a marble relief, is in possession of the American Philosophical society of Philadelphia, of which she was a member. She wrote, among other books, "The Voice in Singing" and "The Voice in Speaking." She died in 1886.— Philadelphia Times.

That Tired Feeling

You know just what it means-no energy, no ambition, without spirit, life, vitality. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome That Tired Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many Weak people "work on their nerves," and Nervous the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That Tired Feeling is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood, for if the blood is rich, pure, vitalized and vigorous it imparts life and energy. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. "I was afflicted with That Tired

Feeling and general debility and had no Languid appetite and my blood did not seem to circulate. I took different kinds of medicine without much benefit and finally began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it gave me a good appetite and That Tired Feeling is gone. I heartily recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Very Pretty Wedding.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Bridget church last Wednesday at 10 a. m., when Robert Little and Miss Theresa Lefebore were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Vogt of this place, Rev. Michael Weyer of Spring Corners and Rev. Bernhardt Wever of Pine Bluff officiated. The latter two Revs. are cousins of the bride, who was attended by Misses Maggie Vogt and Annie Bruhy, while L. P. Neuburg and Pierce McBride acted as the groom's men. The bride wore a dress of white silk with lillies of the valley, and her maids wore organdy over pink and yellow, trimmed to match. After the ceremony the party repaired to the groom's home, where s, X, J. Mertes spent Sunday a reception was held to a large number of relatives and friends of the young

FREAKS OF THE MISSOURI.

Farmers Who Find Their Fields Have Disappeared Over Night. In the May St. Nicholas, Frank H. Spearman has a paper entitled "A Shifting Boundary," which is particularly timely just at present, as it tells of the way the Missouri river has of suddenly

savs:

changing its boundaries. Mr. Spearman

Of course you've heard of the curious freaks of the Missouri river-the "Big Muddy;" how the sudden, treacherous ountain waters roll down in mighty oods from Montana and Wyoming, ricothey have eaten deep into the soft prairies, and pour headlong into the Mississippi near St. Louis; how, night and day, winter and summer, the twisting torrent shifts its channel, cuts its banks, undermines railroads, astonishes the muskrats, keeps the fish studying guideposts, worries the bridge guards and sets the farmers crazy. For, just think of it: the Nebraska farmer who land stretches along the river goes to bed thinking he will cut his broad acres of golden wheat in the morning; but, lo! in the night that madeap river has entered his waving fields, and like snow they have melted away. Grain, fences, trees, buildings, land—are gone! And a great, sullen, yellow flood boils and eddies where his harvest smiled yesterday.

Next week, very likely, the reckless stream will make his neighbor across the river a present of a hundred or more acres, just because he doesn't need them. Of course, it was natural for a man who lost his land that way to look longingly across the river, and think, after awhile, that the newly-made land over there be longed to him; and many a wearisome lawsuit has been begun to recover title to "made" land which lies, maybe, exactly where the lost farm lay, but on the other side of the river. Perhaps there s some equity in such a claim; but the rouble is, that sort of thing is going on il the time, and the courts said they ouldn't keep track of such pranks; that lands acquired by accretion—mark that word—should belong to the farmer who owned the river bank where they were thrown up; that if the river took your farm, you would have to fish it out of the stream you lost it in; at least, you needn't ask the courts to give you an-

Dandelion Greens.

Every housewife knows that dande lion greens are excellent for the table, and none the worse because they are slightly tonic to the stomach and aid digestion. But all do not know that the dandelion under good cultivation grows much larger than in its wild state, and is therefore much more eas ily gathered, cleaned and prepared for the table. It is considerably grown for greens by market gardeners, who find it a fairly profitable crop. Probably if farmers planted the improved varieties of dandelion they could find a good market in nearby cities or villages along with other produce.

Washing Dirty Eggs. Unless the washing of eggs is done about as soon as they are soiled it can do no good. The shell of the egg is porous, and it is the air which enters at all times that sustains life in the germ during the three weeks of incubation. A few hours of exposure to air that has filtered through a shell soiled with filth will addle the egg and make it worthless for incubation. he Tree is Best When Fat, Fair an Forty.

Camphor is a product of Japan. Camphor is a product of Japan. The ree thrives only in certain localities, usully within reach of the sea atmosphere. They must face south and have an average yearly temperature of 15 degrees. The tree grows about one and one-half inches a year. It sometimes attains a circumference of forty feet. When a tree is about 40 years old its yield per ho (two and one-half acres) is equal to 0.000 (silver) a year. The trees have been felled so indiscriminately that there are practically none available, and the price of the product has greatly advanced. Chips of stumps and roots of trees cut lers were available and the city of Buffalo ceded to the United States enough land for a parade ground. The ground the war department desires is a part of the park system of the city of Buffalo and steps have been taken to take formal possession of it. The quartermaster-general is ready to begin the construction of the needed buildings. price of the product has greatly advanced. Chips of stumps and roots of trees cut lown decades ago are used by the Japanese farmers in winter for making crude camphor. The process is so wasteful that it estimated that only 2 per cent. of the camphor is obtained from the chips. It is expected that the introduction of improved apparatus will increase the yield manifold. Crude camphor contains on an average 10 to 15 per cent. of camphor oil, which yields, in turn, 50 per cent. of camphor.—Chicago Inter Ocean. Rattled. To make a mad dog to order, tie a tin pan to his tail. A man made mad is one who, after suffering ten, fifteen or twenty years with rheumatism, finds that by the use of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil he is cured. He feels the waste of his life in pain, with the loss of time, place and money, and then reflects that for the expense of 50c, he could have saved all this and lived free of pain; it is enough to make him mad. Most of our sufferings are intensified by delay in seeking relief, and there is much worth knowing as regards the cure of pain that we find out at last only by the use of the best cure. It is worth knowing that for the cure of rheumatism there is special virtue in The Great Remedy for Pain, St. Jacobs Oil, and as so much can be saved by its use, the cost is really nothing.

The Latest Paris Fad. The cult of Marat is the latest fashion in Paris. The other day, according to the Debats, a copy of his works was sold for the sum of 6000 francs, and now the municipal council has decided to set up a statue of Marat in one of the public squares of Paris. There is one already, in the lumber-room of the Hotel de Ville, which was at one time set up in a public thoroughfare, but was removed owing to the protestations of influential Parisians. This determination to put Marat on a pedestal again places the Prefect of the Seine in an awkward fix. It will be difficult for him to refuse to accept the de-cision of the Municipal council, and at he same time he is naturally disinclined run counter to the more sober opinic

Gold in the Sea. The Australian scientist, Prof. Liver-

The Australian scientist, Prof. Liversidge, has rather conclusively demonstrated that in every ton of sea water there is from one-half to a full grain of gold. Admitting Liversidge's opinions tobe correct, the subject opens up a line of interesting speculation. Thus, at the same rate, a cubic mile of sea water would contain between 130 and 260 tons of solid gold. Fixing the value of gold at $20 an ounce—which is somewhat less than it is valued at now—a ton of gold is worth a little short of $500,000. In other words, a cubic mile of sea water conworth a little short of $500,000. In other words, a cubic mile of sea water contains gold to the value of between $65,-000,000 and $130,000,000. Now, if as computed, there is on the surface of the globe from 300,000,000 to 400,000,000 cubic miles of ocean, and allowing half a grain of gold to the ton, the total amount of the precious metal in the sea would be above thirty-five million billions. grain per ton it would be about
