

RAISE PRICE OF PAPER.

Fox River Valley Print Mills to be Closed Two Days Each Week. Appleton, Wis., June 9.—[Special.]—Through strenuous efforts have been made to keep the matter a secret it has been learned that the prospective closing of the paper mills in the Fox River valley and elsewhere for two days each week, ostensibly for repairs, is nothing more or less than the result of an agreement between all the manufacturers of paper in the West to curtail the production and thus raise prices.

NEW CANON ADOPTED.

It Gives the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese the Power to Veto. Fond du Lac, Wis., June 9.—[Special.]—The twenty-third annual council of the Episcopal Diocese of Wisconsin met at Fond du Lac, Wis., Tuesday evening. It was the largest session of the kind ever held in the diocese, and a matter of great importance was disposed of. A new canon respecting the rights of the bishop over the clergy of the diocese was introduced and brought about one of the hottest debates and most serious considerations of his case, referring giving him no right to veto a resolution of the council.

SPAIN IS TO BLAME.

AS MINISTER TO SPAIN. President McKinley Selects an Old Personal Friend for the Position. Washington, D. C., June 9.—It is learned today that the President has ordered the postmaster general to Spain to Jacob D. Cox of Ohio. Whether or not he will accept is not known. Gen. Cox is an old personal friend of the President, in whom Mr. McKinley has great confidence.

Foreign Powers Find that Pressure is Needed to Bring the Sultan to Terms. Constantinople, June 9.—It is expected that strong pressure will be needed to overcome the resistance of the Turkish government to the retrocession of the Greek islands. Reports that Great Britain is opposed on religious grounds to the retrocession of the islands, being circulated here with the view of exciting Muslim fanaticism. The powers contend that the islands are being circled by Turkey, the latter must respect the integrity of others.

"IRISH ANNIE" KILLED.

She was One of the Most Notorious Women in Northern Wisconsin. Hercul, Wis., June 9.—[Special.]—"Irish Annie" lies dead in the morgue from the effects of a bullet wound from a revolver in the hands of an unknown assassin. About 10 o'clock last night a man described as being 5 feet 8 inches tall, wearing a brownish suit of clothes and straw hat, entered the room where "Irish Annie" lived and inquired if any woman were there. Being answered in the negative he left. After the lapse of an hour he returned, carrying a loaded revolver, and shot Annie in the back of the head and has not been seen since.

GEO. NUAGENT, Editor.

The politicians who made Memorial day speeches without grinding their axes are as scarce as usual this year.

If the joint committee selects the best site obtainable for the asylum to be built by Ozaukee and Washington county, both that body and the locality will prove satisfactory to a majority of us.

"Peace to his ashes" seems to be a question as to whether the warring heirs of Millionaire Davis will cease hostilities long enough to pay the undertaker, whose only security was obtained from the dust-pan of the crematory.

The Spaniards evidently believe any American who can't stand being confined as Dr. Ruiz was, is not a healthy man now. Still, it is to be hoped that confining an American in a solitary cell for 315 hours will prove unhealthful for the Spaniards, especially when his treaty rights limit such time to 72 hours.

The work of examining the various plants used in eastern cities for the disposal of garbage has proven so attractive that some Milwaukee aldermen are doing it without pay (?). Most of us had supposed that the job would prove so offensive to the sense of smell that the committee would have to wear sponges on their noses at certain hours of the day.

The United States Brewers association, which met in Buffalo, N. Y., this week, will oppose the proposed increase of tax on beer. Last year the legislatures of the states of New York, Connecticut, Illinois and Pennsylvania all passed laws forbidding the use of any malt substitutes in the making of beer, but the brewers contend that they use no substitutes detrimental to health.

The state board of agriculture has run up against the gubernatorial buzz saw. The buzz saw is still intact.—Adelaid Press. Yes, but the clash undoubtedly taught the governor to apply to the heads of departments for information hereafter, instead of to underlings like secretaries. While "the gubernatorial buzz-saw" lost no teeth by the clash, it is evident that the board is composed of a better quality of timber than the saw is used to.

The convention of the National Educational association, which will open in the exposition building at Milwaukee on July 6th, should be attended by all teachers in Wisconsin. In speaking of the arrangements last Tuesday's Scout says: "Beautiful walks, winding through palm and scrub and embowering trees will lead away to a broad flight of marble steps to a pavilion through the pillars of which a Grecian landscape will be seen with the Acropolis in the distance; and to one side, by a piece of justifiable artistic license, the little red school house will appear, thus presenting the contrast between the ancient and the modern temple of learning."

The militia who were called out at Urbana, O., to protect a negro ravisher, killed none but innocent people, as usual. While it is true that the prisoner had been sentenced to the full extent of the law and the sheriff had a legal right to use every means at his command to carry out the will of the court, it seems that the mayor advised that Mitchell be taken out of town as soon as convicted. As the sheriff did not act on said advice, it is a question as to whether he used every means in his power to carry out the will of the court. On the other hand, he seems to have done nothing to carry out the will of the people—unless it was after the lynching, when he left Urbana on the advice of friends.

The Evening Wisconsin celebrated its 50th anniversary last Tuesday by publishing the history of that enterprising paper. The Wisconsin is now printed at the rate of 25,000 complete copies per hour, while a half-century ago it took an hour to print 250 copies of two pages of it. On the 8th of June, 1847, the first copy of the Evening Wisconsin appeared with W. E. Cramer and Joseph Curtis as proprietors. Three years later the former purchased the interest of the latter; and although Mr. Cramer has since lost his eyesight and so much of his hearing as to necessitate the use of an ear-trumpet, he is today principal owner and editor-in-chief of the paper, showing that his heart is still in the work to which he has devoted the greater portion of his life.

From the Publishers' Guide we learn that "a representative in congress has introduced a bill designed to do away with the anonymous character of newspapers. It provides that hereafter no newspaper shall be carried in the mails unless the names of all the stockholders are placed conspicuously at the head of the first editorial page, with the number of shares they own. The bill also provides that the name of the writer of each editorial shall be appended thereto. His object in introducing the bill, he says, is to make it possible for editorial writers to get full credit and be responsible for what they write. This law is in force in France and other countries, and is found to work well. He also says he wishes to force writers to express their honest convictions." The last purpose of the bill will undoubtedly be objected to very strongly, especially by editors who are in the habit of stealing the editorial of exchanges.

STATE SEMI-CENTENNIAL PLAN.

The committee appointed to formulate a plan for the celebration of the Semi-Centennial of Wisconsin has prepared for public announcement an outline of the character of entertainment which it is hoped to provide at Madison next year. The committee has apparently been governed by entirely rational ideas. It proposes a celebration to cover a period of three days and to be devoted to historical research and exposition. It recommends organization in each county for local observance of the event and to stimulate interest in the study and preparation of local history. It is anticipated that such a branching out of the work will not only stimulate interest in a general celebration throughout the state, but will provide invaluable material for the records of the State Historical society.

The details of the plan are yet to be completed, but the general scope proposed invites popular favor. It is becoming to the event, it is modest, it will be inexpensive, and it should result in the bringing together of historical facts which will be of great and permanent value.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Milwaukee porter, who threw a guest out of the Atlas hotel because the latter blotted the register, has cast an indelible blot on the name of Louis Schwarz if not on the body of the guest.

The sons of Clarence L. Nelson of Newark, N. J., recently taught him that revolvers are not toys by playfully engaging in a duel in which the youngest of the two boys was fatally shot.

The best way for the President to dispose of any bothersome office-seeker is to offer him the post of minister to Spain.

SCOTT SAVINGS.

Chris. Hartman and Ed. Seefeld spent Monday at a lake south of West Bend. They caught four fish. The next time you get fish-hungry, boys, try your luck nearer home.

Quite a number attended the Woodmen's picnic at Boltonville.

Mr. Seefeld is the first one we have seen planting drilled corn with a bottle. It seems quite a trick. The bottle is filled with corn and the planter holds it so that the corn drops into the furrow previously prepared. To prevent it from being too thickly planted, he is obliged to run.

John Aupperle attended the meeting of the Board of Trade at Plymouth on Tuesday. He reports a good market for cheese and sells at 7c.

Mr. Frohman and family went to Sheboygan last Saturday and returned Monday.

The Mesdames Hartman were at West Bend last Monday, trading.

Miss Maggie E'elmen entertained her young lady friends at a quilting and carpet-rag bee last week.

Road working is again the order of the day. We expect to have better roads than ever this season for the town has purchased two-wheeled road scrapers. They have already been tried in Mr. Theusch's district.

Fred. Melius won the race, with Dr. Bennis, of shooting 20 clay pigeons. The doctor, who was handicapped by five birds, was defeated by 1 bird.

Fresh lime can be obtained at Ernst Schneider's.

Wm. Horn and Jake Reis went to Milwaukee last Tuesday to purchase a new carriage for Mr. Reis.

Mrs. E. G. Brazleton and Minnie Koepke were visiting relatives at Milwaukee last week.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Louisa Gessner at her home last Sunday evening, and it was well attended and generally enjoyed.

Chas. Heise and his mother left for Appleton last Thursday to visit relatives there.

Miss Emma Stacy spent last Saturday in the town of Polk and Sunday at Cedar Lake. She reports as having had a good time.
