$1.50 A YEAR.

ULTIMATUM TO PERU.

The McCord Claim of $50,000 on Uncle Sam will make some trouble. Washington, D. C., Aug. 4.—An ultimatum has been presented to the Peruvian government by the administration requiring the immediate payment of the McCord claim of $50,000. While no threat of coercion is made in case of refusal, the note makes the statement that the government is unquestionably bound to close the incident will be considered as injurious to the cordial relations existing between the two governments. The Peruvian minister has called the note to Lima, and is now awaiting instructions from his government.

WAITS FOR UNCLE SAM.

Hawaii will make no move until Congress acts on the Annexation Matter. Honolulu, Aug. 4.—Advices received from Honolulu state that the Japanese government has decided to totally abolish the export duty from the commencement of the thirty-first fiscal year on April next. The floods in Fukui are said to have caused damage to 4,000 houses. According to latest native reports from Szechuan, states an exchange, the famine there is still at its height and people are dying from starvation by hundreds every day.

GET MORE MEN OUT.

Strikers Think They Will Accomplish Complete Suspension Soon. Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 4.—The striking miners gained another victory at Plum Creek yesterday, inducing twenty-two more men to join the ranks. All of them were diggers. This leaves the mine working without half the force of yesterday. Committees are working industriously in the houses of the men who are not yet in the sympathy of the women and they are more easily induced to follow. The strikers are turning their attention entirely to the diggers, knowing that if they come out the other employees will be forced to follow. On the other hand the company is making every effort to keep the diggers from coming out. The full force of that mine is 340 men. Before the campers came the output was about 120 tons. It is now down to about 100 tons. With twenty more men out today the output is not expected to be more than 80 tons. The company says the output of the mine may be expected in a very few days.

COLOR LINE DRAWN.

Two Hundred White Women Decline to Work with Negroes in Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 4.—Two hundred women and girls employed at the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills in this city struck yesterday morning because of the employment of negro help by the management. The operatives learned yesterday that twenty-five colored women were to be put to work in the folding department today. The sympathy of the women and they gathered about the main entrance this morning and awaited the arrival of the president, Jacob Elsas. The newly employed negro women were already there. When Mr. Elsas came the white women explained that they wanted to know whether it was true that he proposed to put negroes to work with them. He said he did not and the white women refused to go to work. At noon the 400 men employed in the mill walked out and addressed the orders of the Textile Workers' union and in sympathy with the striking female operatives they refused to go to work. The Fulton Bag and Cotton company is one of the largest concerns of the kind in the world. It is owned by Elsas, Noy & Co., and Jacob Elsas is president.

WAS A HARD WORKER.

The Late Wm. J. Mallman Took a Great Interest in Sheboygan Affairs. Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 2.—[Special.]—The death of William J. Mallman, the real estate agent, and well-known chairman of the Republican county committee, was found at daylight yesterday morning within a stone's throw of his residence. A coroner's jury found that his death was due to apoplexy. He had returned Saturday night from Milwaukee and will endeavor to make the best of it.

HOW ZUELKE ESCAPED.

Interview with the Murderer of Farmer Edward Davids at Markesan. Dartford, Wis., Aug. 4.—[Special.]—People who have read the reports of how Julius Zuelke murdered Edward Davids, the well-known farmer of Markesan, on April 5, 1887, will be glad to learn that Zuelke is a hardened criminal, and that he would stop at nothing to resent a supposed wrong or to break away from the strong arm of the law. A talk with the prisoner will soon convince the most skeptical that he is not so terrible as the reports would indicate. Any man who will shed tears at the mention of his dear ones at home, realizing the barriers that are in his way, must have a tender spot in his heart. That is the case of Julius Zuelke. He is by no means a man without feeling or sympathy; on the contrary he is a very kindly and would willingly make any sacrifice in order to wipe away the stain he has on his conscience. There have also been reports to the effect that the farmers hereabouts were anxious to lynch him, but they are as far from the truth as Pennington's theory is from fact. It is true that many of the farmers who resided near the scene of the tragedy were not so sympathetic to Zuelke as they are now. The farmers shook him by the hand and many of them had sympathy with him. Then the county jail was built and Zuelke stood like one in a trance, and there are heavy bars between him and his friends. Sheriff Evans sleeps in the room adjoining the jail.

NO PLAN OF DEFENSE.

His trial will be held at Markesan at the January term of court, he having waived examination yesterday. As yet he has no plan of defense. It is probable that he will have an able lawyer to take care of his case when the time comes. Zuelke will enter a plea of guilty to a charge of manslaughter in the first degree and receive a sentence of from ten to fifteen years, or even less. The jail where Zuelke will remain until the time of trial is a strongly built structure two stories high. It has a frontage of about 60 feet, with a wing on the left side of about 25 feet. It is 40 feet deep and has another small wing to the right. The cells are strongly built of iron and there are heavy bars between them. Sheriff Evans sleeps in the room adjoining the jail.

GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

SERVING AN INJUNCTION on Debs will give him a rest and make the strikers believe that the mine owners are getting desperate lest the miners win the strike.

THE heading, "Brain Leaks," which one of the state papers uses over editorial clippings from its exchanges, is rather suggestive of defective "think tanks."

THE experience of a Milwaukeean would seem to indicate that one can bother a neighbor to death by simply advertising that he is furnishing free transportation to Klondike.

IN Canada gets too rapacious in the treatment of Americans in the Klondike, Uncle Sam can retaliate upon that English syndicate which is about to develop the gold fields of Florence county, Wisconsin.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE Liverymen's association of Milwaukee may refuse to let rigs for a funeral, if the undertaker is unsatisfactory to them; but, once out, the rigs should not be recalled until the time agreed upon. Next we know, union pull-beaters will drop a corpse in the street on being notified that a "seal" carpenter made the coffin.

LAST Wednesday's issue of the Milwaukee Sentinel contained an editorial written under the impression that retailers pay license to sell cigarettes; also, another note alleging a great similarity in the climate of Klondike and that of Florence county, Wis. The "outside help," spoken of by the Evening Wisconsin, was likely working on that edition.

THE Seventeenth ward alderman of Milwaukee, who does not believe in that city paying common laborers $1.50 per day because he could hire them for less, should remember that Common councilmen could also be hired for less than the Cream City is paying. Alderman Okershusser should also remember that the common laborers are not objecting to the salaries being paid the Common councilmen.

Faithful to Her Yow.

Mrs. Louisa Williams of San Lendo, Cal., walks for a quarter of a mile over a stony road on her bare knees, once a year, to keep a vow. Three weeks ago she accomplished the feat for the seventeenth time. Seventeen years ago she prayed that her husband's sight might be restored, and vowed that if his prayer was answered she would walk on her bare knees from her house to the church once a year. Her husband regained his sight and the woman is keeping her vow.

Christian Endeavor Excursion Unprofitable.

It took 255 trains, consisting of 2,507 cars, to transport the 70,000 odd people who went to San Francisco in connection with the recent Christian Endeavor convention. In spite of such large figures, however, the railway agents think the railroads will have comparatively little to show for their labor and expenditures when accounts are balanced, the rate of less than a cent a mile being too low to be very profitable.—X.

The Bimetalle Commissioners in London.

The Chronicle lately announced that the final meeting between the members of the bimetallic commission, headed by Senator Wolcott and Lord Salisbury will take place the latter part of next week. Most of the members of the cabinet will be present and it is understood that Lord Salisbury will then inform the commissioners of Great Britain's decision on the question of a more extended use of silver. The commissioners are hopeful of a favorable decision and of important concessions. After the meeting they will proceed to Berlin and St. Petersburg.

Mend Your Own Shoes.

A shoemaker of Austin, Tex., has invented a peculiar sole that can be put on shoes, and has applied for a patent on it. His plan is to make the shoe so that when one sole has been worn anyone can half-sole his shoes by simply slipping off the the worn half-sole (which is grooved on) and putting on a new sole and heel. The purpose of the invention is to have two soles for each shoe, which can be secured for 25 cents extra when buying the shoes. It is said that a pair of such shoes last twice the usual length of time, and that they will be of great benefit to the laboring classes.

Needs No Wire to Telegraph.

A recent report from London says that Marconi, inventor of the "wireless telegraph," has just received Soudan, where a trial of the invention would be made. In an interview Marconi said: "The greatest distance which we have been able to transmit messages by telegraph without wires is twelve miles. But that by no means is the limit of the instruments; it simply signifies that existing appliances are not perfect. At spezia I sent messages without wires from the San Bartholomew arsenal to the warship San Martino, twelve miles out in the harbor, without difficulty, and with absolute accuracy."

IN THE KLONDIKE REGION.

Former Fond du Lac Boy Says There Is Gold, but the Hardships are Terrible. H. B. Le Fevre, who spent his boyhood days in Fond du Lac, recently wrote from Klondike to a relative in Fond du Lac, saying in part: "The mercury rests at 100 degrees above, in the shade, in the summer, and about the same ratio below in the winter. The flies and mosquitoes are so thick that you can hardly breathe. There is gold here, but it is only obtained by reckless daring, intense suffering and ceaseless toil."

A New Musical Instrument.

Mr. Demotte Wood of Indiana, after eighteen years of scientific application of the various instruments, has completed a guitar with zither, mandolin and various other attachments, which has created a stir in the musical world. By the simple pressure of a finger the sweet thrill of a mandolin is blended with that of a zither, while Mr. Wood fingers the accompaniment of a guitar. The weight of this wonderful instrument is 18 pounds. It is carried in a case which contains all tools necessary for the guitar.

Oaukee County Couple Wedded Fifty Years.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Furst was celebrated at Port Washington last Wednesday. They were married on Jan. 8, 1847, in Usidlingen, Cantonment Redingen, Grand Duchy Luxembourg, and settled at Port Washington in September of the same year, where he has since been engaged as a merchant tailor. Eleven children, fifty grand children and six great grand children arise and call them blessed. Mr. Furst is 75 years of age and Mrs. Furst is 73.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

REMAINING PUBLIC LANDS.

It is said that there are no remaining public lands in any of the states of New England, in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas. There are 25,000,000 acres of public land in Ohio, 37,000,000 in Florida, 32,000,000 in Alabama, 28,000,000 in Louisiana, 36,000,000 in Michigan and 34,000,000 in Wisconsin. The other public lands are in the Western states and the territories.—New York Tribune.

Die Katz Is Z'rick Kumma.

A Blossburg, Pa., railroad man had a cat which he did not want, so he took and dropped it off his train thirty miles from home. Two days later the cat was home again with no change except a reproachful look in its eyes.

A Judge Sentenced to Death.

Two years ago Probate Judge Frank Randolph of Montgomery county, Ala., became a defaulter and absconded. He made his way to the United States of Columbia, where he assumed the name of Charles Radford. The next heard of him was that he had been arrested and put in prison on the charge of killing a German merchant in that country.

Recently a letter was received in Montgomery from the department of state, Washington, giving the information that a dispatch had been received from the legation of the United States at Bogota saying, "Radford sentenced to death. Appeal taken."

Snake In Her Stomach.

Mrs. W. H. Moyer of Shamokin, Pa., was terribly annoyed by a peculiar sensation, as if something alive was moving about in her stomach. For eleven years she was thus afflicted; and, in order to experience any ease, she had to be eating and drinking at intervals of not longer than an hour, both day and night. The X-ray showed a reptile darting about. It was finally poised to death and relief came at once. She says that eleven years ago she drank a glass of water in the dark and at a time thought she had swallowed a lizard. It is pronounced a very singular case.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

The latest envelope out has gum on the envelop instead of the flap, so that licking the latter is not so disagreeable.

In one Kansas town a citizen is campaigning against Sunday evening services on the ground that the heat and bugs will damn more souls than the religious exercises will save.

City Man—I understand that horses are very cheap in this neighborhood? Rural-ly Native—Cheap? They are so blamed cheap that their owners have taken to leavin' 'em in other folks' barns, like foundling children are left on doorsteps.—Judge.

William Penn and Thomas Story once sheltered themselves from a rain-shower in a tobacco house, the owner of which said to them: "You enter without leave. Do you know I am a justice of the peace?" To which Story replied: "My friend here makes such as thou. He is governor of Pennsylvania."

James Trickle, proprietor of the Cliff house at Monroe, killed Mort Stewart of Winslow while doing some fancy shooting at the former place last Monday.

"It is remarkable," said "an old G. A. R. man," to the writer, the other day, "how many fake veterans of the late war are traveling about the country. Many wear our buttons or badges who were never nearer powder and ball than at a reception, and the way they talk of the number of battles they have been in gives one a pain as large as a plate-glass window. You very seldom hear a real veteran talking shop, unless he's with old comrades, who love to fight their battles over again when they get together and their tongues are loosened a bit by the feast of reason and the flow of soul. Now, I was in the war nearly every battle, from Moultrie to Richmond, and yet I never think of—"

"By the way, what regiment was you in?" interrupted the third man of the party.

"I was in—" he hesitated—"I was in the glorious old Sixty-sixth of Brooklyn. Not a braver band of men ever fought for 'Old Glory.' We went out about 800 strong and—"

"And came back just as strong. I was in it myself. We were out exactly thirty days and didn't fire a gun. Shake, comrade!"

"The 'old G. A. R. man' shook—the writer and his former comrade.—New York Commercial Advertiser.
