GEO. NUGENT, Editor.

The failure of the company that was to manufacture beet sugar at Menom Falls has been a setback to the raising of sugar beets in Wisconsin, but it will be but temporary. By next spring the capacity of the soil of Wisconsin for raising sugar beets will be fully tested and capital will know just what to expect. If the tests show that beets can be raised here and profitably utilized in the manufacture of sugar, there will be capital enough ready to build the factories. All over the state farmers have raised a few of the beets this year and they will be tested at the state agricultural college in December. A company is building a sugar factory at Merrillan and it appears to have financial backing enough to prevent failure. The Menomonie Falls company failed before its plant was ready for work, and failed through the ignorance or incompetency of its alleged "experts." We will have sugar factories enough in time if we can raise beets with sugar in them.

RICHARD RADDATZ of Oshkosh has invented a submarine boat which he believes will make his fortune, and the belief appears to have a good foundation, since it has passed the experimental stage and works perfectly. By means of the boat the operator can descend to any depth he pleases and navigate under water as well as on the surface. The inventor has applied to the government for permission to navigate the great lakes with his boat, as he desires to take it down the Fox river to Green Bay and thence to Milwaukee to make trials of it in the deep waters of the lake and demonstrate that it is all he claims for it. It appears, however, that the war department has been studying the story of the boat, as it has appeared in the newspapers, and has classed it as a war vessel, under which classification it would have to be kept off the lakes, as the existing treaty with Great Britain prohibits war vessels on said lakes. The inventor expects to be able to prove that his boat is not in any respect a war vessel, and that it is intended for exploration and other peaceful purposes. It is quite an honor to Wisconsin to have the first successful submarine boat built within its limits and by one of its own citizens. Mr. Raddatz is not a wealthy man, but, with the capacity of his craft demonstrated to be what he claims for it, he can obtain plenty of assistance to put it into practical and profitable use.

The tribulations of Attorneys Goldberg of Milwaukee and Hoxie of Clintonville, his step-son and law partner, appear to have commenced. Goldberg, who formerly lived at Clintonville and was for several years district attorney of Waupaca county, has been disbarred by the courts for unprofessional conduct, and Hoxie was suspended from practice for having testified that in a shady transaction charged against Goldberg, he was the one who did the business. Goldberg has lately been arrested for perjury alleged to have been committed on his former trial, and it is said that proceedings of the same kind will be instituted against Hoxie. There was a large amount of evidence in the former trial which the lawyers was to make money, regardless of the manner in which it was done. The charges embodied many alleged violations of law and professional ethics, and in the opinion of Judge Fish, who sat in the case, they were abundantly proved. Disqualification from practice was all the sentence that could be pronounced in that case, but a conviction for perjury will entail imprisonment. In another case, at Milwaukee, Bradley W. Pulling of Marshfield has been convicted of forging a mortgage and has been sent to Waupun for three years. These cases indicate that the way of the transgressor is not only hard but that it sometimes comes to an abrupt termination.

ELMORE ETCHINGS.

OBITUARY.—Again we are called upon to chronicle the death of one of our pioneers. Mrs. Barbara Schmitt (nee Kraemer) passed away at the home of her son, Adam, on Tuesday, Oct. 19, 1897, after an illness of but a few days. She was born on June 17, 1820 in Hessen Darmstadt and was married to Jacob A. Schmitt in New Jersey in 1846. In 1848 she came to Wisconsin and has since lived where she died. Her husband preceded her in death eighteen years ago. She had seven children, of whom three survive her, viz: Philip and Adam of this town and Mrs. Henry Hohl of the town of Wayne. The remains were interred at the Elmire cemetery last Thursday, Rev. Beisser officiating.

"Many have said that their children would have died of croup, if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given," write Kellam & Orrun, druggists, Seaview, Va. "People come from far and near to get it and speak of it in the highest terms." This is equally true of this remedy in every community where it is known. Buy a bottle at L. Rosenheimer's store and test it for yourself.

the employes cannot fail to bring about bad results, and that is the cause of the recent trouble. The board of control exonerated Superintendent Hart from all blame, and yet it removes him instead of removing the cause of the trouble and giving him an opportunity to remedy it. It is now announced, with a great assumption of virtue, that Mr. Merica will have full power to appoint his assistants and will be held responsible for them and for the workings of the institution. That is all right, but the people cannot fail to entertain the idea that in the introduction of such a new system it would have been but simple justice to permit Mr. Hart to try it and see how it would work.

THE remains of Charles A. Dana, late editor of the New York Sun, were interred at Glencove, N. Y., last Thursday, and a large concourse of friends of the great editor paid their respects to his memory by attending the funeral. Politically Mr. Dana was a unique character, having been governed principally by his dislikes of candidates; and, in this connection, it is related that a candidate once personally thanked the Sun editor for the unsolicited support of that paper, whereupon Mr. Dana impatiently replied: "I don't care anything about you; it's your opponent I'm after."

THE death of George M. Pullman at Chicago last Tuesday, as a result of heart failure, removes from this life a man who within 65 years or less accumulated fifteen or twenty million dollars worth of this world's goods. He invented, manufactured and manipulated palaces, vestibule and sleeping cars during the latter half of his life, and on the night of his coach factories he erected sufficient tenement houses, etc., to accommodate the workmen and warrant calling the place Pullman, or "a model town by a model man"—until he aggravated one of the worst strikes in the history of this country by insisting that he had "nothing to arbitrate." However that may have been, let us hope that it is true of him now.

As we expected, the jury in the Lutegert case has been discharged because of inability to agree on a verdict. The state may now expend $15,000 or $20,000 more retrying the burly sausage manufacturer, but we believe nine out of twelve is as many jurymen as could be secured for conviction in view of the evidence and the fact that a verdict of guilty would mean the death penalty. About three of every twelve jurymen may be safely said to be opposed to taking the life of a fellow-being on trial for murder so long as there is a bit of doubt as to his guilt. However, on the other hand, if capital punishment were not in vogue in Illinois, we believe that the Lutegert jury would have agreed on a verdict of guilty.

ALPINE ACCIDENTS.

Agassiz's Description of an Adventurous Climb Up the Jungfrau.

Since the year 1860 nearly 200 fatal accidents have occurred upon the Swiss Alps alone. Of these, how many were occasioned by maladroitness or timid climbers? The safety of every mountaineering party demands in advance that each member of it should be a practiced and steady climber; that no serious ascent should be undertaken by any man who cannot rely upon his own nerve and capabilities, his power of braving fatigue and standing cold, and finally that the party should be accompanied by a sufficient number of professional guides. Mr. Leslie Stephens lays it down as a rule that the loftiest mountain may be scaled with safety by trained mountaineers, provided that fine weather, good guides and favorable conditions of rock and snow have first been secured. "On the other hand," he adds, "there is no mountain which may not be excessively dangerous if the weather be bad, the guides incompetent, the conditions of rock or snow unfavorable." Who, for instance, can say with confidence until he has been tried that he has nerve enough to stand the crucial test which Professor Agassiz confesses was almost more than he could bear when, in 1841, he was one of a party of 12 who ascended the Jungfrau, half of them being professional guides, with the celebrated Jacob Lenthold, who died soon afterward of consumption, at their head? "We started," wrote Agassiz, "from the Grimsel hospice at 4 a. m. on Aug. 27, 1841, sleeping the first night at the chalets of Meril and completing the ascent of the Jungfrau next day. Our difficulties were not a little increased by heavy mists and intense cold. At last the ascent became more and more steep, and every step had to be cut in the ice. Lenthold kept us close to the edge of the ridge of frozen snow, because the ice yielded there more easily to the ax. It was, however, so trying to our nerves that I, for one, should not like to repeat the experience. The awful precipice beneath us was constantly in view, and we could drive our alpenstocks through the rim of frozen snow and gaze sheer down through the hole into a vast amphitheater which seemed yawning to swallow us thousands and thousands of yards below. The apex of the Jungfrau is so small that only one person can stand upon it. At 4 p. m. we started upon our downward path, turning our faces to the foot for each step below, these steps being more than 700 in all. At 11:30 p. m. we reached the chalets of Meril, which we had left that morning at the earliest dawn of day." The least imaginative mind can readily realize what one false step made upon a surface so steep and slippery that it is impossible to think of it without a shudder would have involved. In the worst accident that ever happened on the Matterhorn—that which befell Lord Francis Douglas and his three happy companions—it is notorious that one false step, made by an inexperienced climber and followed by the breaking of a rope, was the sole cause of that terrible tragedy.—London Telegraph.

Notice to Farmers Concerning Sugar Beets.

Last spring, by direction of the legislature, the Wisconsin Experiment Station distributed a large number of samples of imported sugar beet seed. Those who have grown beets from this seed should send samples of beets to us for analysis during the months of October and November. Select three average-size beets, wash and dry them, and do them up securely in a cloth bag or gunny sack. Within this sack place the statement sheet sent with the seed, properly filled out. Attach to the bag the shipping tag also furnished by us, and deliver the package to the nearest railway freight depot. The railway lines of the state have kindly agreed to carry samples of beets to this Station for analysis without charge. The station will furnish additional shipping tags and blanks upon request. Do not send beets by express, unless prepaid, as the Station will refuse all express packages not so prepaid.

No beets will be analyzed after Dec. 1st. As soon as possible after the analysis are completed, a bulletin will be issued giving the results of the investigation, a copy of which will be sent to all parties forwarding beets for analysis.

Mark all packages "Sugar Beets for Analysis," giving name of the sender, and ship by freight to Agricultural Experiment Station, Madison, Wis.

A Kansas Marriage Ceremony.

A western Kansas newspaper prints the following marriage ceremony as having been delivered there a short time ago: "Will thou take her for thy part, for better or for worse; to have, to hold, to fondly guard till hallowed off in a harse? Will thou let her have her way, consent her many wishes; make the fire every day, and help her wash the dishes? Will thou give her all the 'stuff' her little purse can pack; buy a hat and a muff, and a little seal-skin squeegee? Will thou comfort and support her father and her mother, Aunt Jemima, Uncle John, three sister and a brother? His face grew pale and blank—it was too late to jilt—so, as if the floor sank, he said: 'I will.'"

Few men in this country are better or more favorably known to the drug and medicine trade than E. J. Schall, buyer in the proprietary medicine department of the Meyer Bros' Drug Co., St. Louis. He says: "My boy came home from school with his head sorely inflamed and bleeding, and suffering great pain. I dressed the wound and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely; all pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time, it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism, I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." Sold by L. Rosenheimer.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years, and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum nor any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even for a baby's powder. (Oct. 3)

It is said that a Spanish firm of publishers once produced a work in which one letter only got misplaced, through accident; and this is believed to have been the nearest approach to perfection that has ever been attained in a book.
It is further stated that an English house had made a great effort to the same end and issued proof-sheets to the universities with an offer of £50 for any error discovered in them; but, in spite of this precaution, several blunders remained undetected until the work was issued.—Notes and Queries.
If it is so difficult to get books perfect, newspapers cannot escape numerous errors, especially when but one proof is taken of matter and sometimes none at all.

—H. J. Lay moved his lumber office into his new structure this week, and the building which he vacated will be occupied by the STATESMAN as soon as the interior is arranged to suit us.

John Kohn, who spent a few days of last week in quest of fence contracts at Cascade, returned content with fixing up his own "fences" there.

FOR SALE—An 120-acre farm located 3 miles south-west of the village of Kewaskum. Inquire of HENRY MCGLAUGHLIN. (2w)

—Dr. Herriges, who has been absent from here since the 5th inst., is said to be in Minnesota looking for a new location wherein to practice his profession.

—Wm. Fleischmann will raffle one of his driving horses soon. He is now selling tickets at 25c apiece, which also admit bearers to a dance in Heister's hall here.

—Both L. Rosenheimer and A. G. Koch now have computing scales, whereon they can readily obtain the exact weight of any amount of any priced goods they sell.

—Nic. Marx now has on sale the following brands of flour: Gold Medal, Imperial, and Bread Winner, all products of the Washburn, Crosby & Co. mills at Minneapolis, Minn.

—Some West Bend saloon-keepers now sell two glasses of beer for 5c. This reminds one of the fellow who, on getting a "schooner," asked for "a smaller one for a smaller price."

—Eddy Dell, the Irish comedian and acrobat, is laughable, and no doubt all the small boys of the village will be trying the flip-flaps and somersaults which they see him do at Heister's hall.

—The shoot out at George Schleif, Sr.'s last Sunday afternoon was largely attended, and the fifty choice ducks which he offered were soon distributed among the crack-shots and lucky players of games.

—Everyone desirous to keep informed on Yukon, the Klondyke and Alaskan gold fields. Send 10c for large Compendium of vast information and big color map to Hamilton Pub. Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

—Last Wednesday was the 25th anniversary of Nic. Marx's arrival here as well as the 46th anniversary of his birth. Well, here's hoping that you may double your present age, Nic., and that too in Kewaskum.

—As a result of the warmest weather experienced for twenty-five years in October, some of our saloon keepers ran out of ice and had to borrow of one another, while others were supplied by the West Bend brewery.

—"Kickapo Ben" says that of all the children he has visited, we have the best behaved children and grown folks he has yet lectured before. That is a very clever compliment and we should not let him go away with any other opinion.

BIRTHS—A girl was born to Bernard Pitt and wife last Sunday, while a boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Buddenhang on the same date; and on last Tuesday a 13-pound boy at Fred. Guth's added another number to the census list.

—Albert N. Altenhofen, who was reported to have threatened to commit suicide at Milwaukee on the night of the 14th inst., was later arrested and imprisoned there until last Tuesday, when he was released on paying $5 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

—D. C. Bowen of Westfield a former resident of the town and one of its first settlers, was here this week and spent a few days with the Allen Foote family. He was accompanied by his son, Edward, of Marshfield and his daughter, Mrs. Fuller, of Westfield, who shared the pleasures of the visit.

—Willy Bruns of the Kickapoos is a clear-voiced chap, and the way he sings the latest songs of the day is enjoyed by all. He is also a very funny Dutch comedian, while Charley Hughes, the black faced comedian, plays splendid music on all kinds of instruments of curious manufacture.

—Dr. H. W. Morgenroth, a graduate of the Milwaukee Medical college and a brother of the Boltonville veterinary surgeon, expects to locate here in the Herriges residence on West Water St. He has served on the surgical staff of the Soldiers' home at Milwaukee and of late practiced at Two Rivers, Wis.

—Our "old stand-by" made a flying trip to Fond du Lac last Thursday on business. We also heard from him personally as having delivered his pet span of sorrel horses to their new owner, Philip Young, Sr., who prizes them as a safe driving team for him in his old age. We also learned that Philip Young, Jr., took possession of the Tschauer homestead on the 14th inst., and we wish him the best of luck as the successor of our old friend at Elmore.

—Last Sunday afternoon two men arrived here, on the south-bound train, in search of William Payne, a negro, who killed John Beaman, proprietor of the Beaman hotel at Fond du Lac. The gentlemen distributed hand-bills containing a description of the murderer together with a Fond du Lac county offer of $200 for his capture. Later the governor complied with a request to add $300 to the reward, on behalf of the state. The crime was committed at 4 o'clock last Sunday morning, and twenty-four hours later Sheriff Schaefer and deputies captured the perpetrator near Calvary station and landed him in jail before the excited populace heard of his arrest. However, it was later deemed advisable to take the prisoner to Oshkosh for safe keeping, pending his trial. See fourth page for full particulars.

—The company at Heister's opera house is being increased again and now comprises 7 people. The Hoyts, George and Bertha, are very clever and have been engaged to strengthen the company for this engagement. No one should miss the show, as it is now the best that has ever been here.

Horse Thieves in This County.

The Evening Wisconsin of the 15th contained the following from its Fond du Lac correspondent: Sheriff Schaefer is working in Washington county with the hope that in the course of a few days he will be able to round up a well organized band of horse thieves, which has been working in all parts of the state and making their headquarters in Washington county. The horse, wagon and harness stolen from Friendship, this county, have been traced as far as West Bend. The sheriff thinks it will be but a question of a few days when he can land the thieves. It has been known for the past year that a "fence" was run in Washington county by some questionable characters.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The full term of the Circuit court for this county opened at West Bend last Tuesday; and, after a 2-day session, adjourned until the 28th inst. Following is a summary of the proceedings:

Max Hackel vs. Louis Muehl—dismissed on nonappearance of plaintiff or his attorney.

John Wagner vs. Eugene Dersch—change of venue taken, to Dodge Co.

Application for permit to sell real estate of George Kinney, an infant—granted and C. F. Leins appointed as special guardian.

E. Franckenberger vs. Fred. Klemke et al.—affidavit of no answer filed.

State vs. Andrew Merkel—defendant pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the next term.

In re application of Fred. Rossow for discharge of mortgage record—order granted.

Henry Lex vs. Michael Wenginger—judgment for plaintiff of $500 and costs.

Herman Buss vs. H. Backhaus, Jr.—judgment for $90 and costs against the defendant. Both parties in this matter live here, and the plaintiff sued to recover damages as a result of having been sued by the defendant last February for cutting ice at the upper portion of the mill-pond. The mill-owner summoned Buss to appear before Justice Sievers at West Bend and there dropped "the matter by concluding that the justice had no jurisdiction. Buss then took steps to recover damages, with the result stated above.

SCOTT SAYINGS.

J. Grimes spent last Sunday with J. Aupepper.

Peter Schiltz threshed some clover last Monday.

J. Aupepper has the prize potato of the year; it weighs four pounds.

A Seefeld's family from Kewaskum spent last Sunday with G. Seefeld.

School has opened in Dist. No. 1 with Arthur Row of Batavia as teacher.

Mr. Glander of Beechwood passed through here last Sunday on his wheel.

The Misses Maggie and Mary Uelmen were confirmed at St. Michael's last week.

The rain was just the thing for corn-huskers, but the potato-diggers wear long faces.

Mr. and Mrs. Vetter of Cascade and Mr. and Mrs. Lampert of Oshkosh called at Wm. Row's last week.

Edward Woog ought to pay the highest prices for cattle now, as there is a brand new boy at his home.

Bruce Wescott, who is an agent for Stock powder at Fond du Lac, spent a few days of last week with his parents.

Mrs. Brigham, who spent the latter part of the summer with her father, Geo. Strohm, has gone to her home in Campbellport.

There was a very poor attendance from here at the Kickapo show in New Fane last week. We are glad that our folks have no need of their aid.

Mrs. Chris. Oeder celebrated the anniversary of her birth last Sunday. We join with her numerous friends in wishing her many happy returns of the day.

We are glad to state that Mrs. Etta, who has been dangerously ill with lung fever for the past week, is in a fair way to recovery, thanks to the skillful treatment of Dr. Hausmann.

A trio of Wealthy Willies, while enroute to St. Michaels in search of work, called on farmers in this vicinity last Sunday morning. They claimed to be disabled, but it was imperceptible.

"Kickapo Ben," the manager of the Kickapo Co., is quite an accomplished young gentleman. Besides being a good talker and a clever tooth-extractor, (he extracts entirely without pain) his ventriloquism and talking figure "Tommy" were much enjoyed Wednesday night at the big pay-show. They will give another tonight, which should be well attended.

WEST BEND BLORE.

The West Bend Athletic society has secured the services of A. F. Gerlach of Cedar Creek as instructor in calisthenics.

A lodge of A. P. U. W. has been organized in this city. This is a fraternal insurance society consisting of over 30,000 members in the United States and Canada.

The city council has made quite a record for itself in building new sidewalks. Lombard street came in for more than its share, having a walk on each side.

The regular term of Circuit court commenced last Tuesday but was only in session two days, when it took a recess until Thursday, Oct. 28th. The jury was discharged for the term. The following jury cases were disposed of: on account of the absence of respondent.

Herman Buss vs. H. Backhaus, Jr.—judgment for plaintiff of $90 and costs.

H. Lex vs. M. Wenginger judgment for plaintiff of $500 and costs.

The jury rendered services for just two days, which is the shortest jury term ever held in the county.

FAIR DAY SALE!

THE KICKAPOO INDIAN MEDICINE COMPANY'S show at the Grand opera house is attracting large audiences nightly, and deservedly so, as the members are good actors and above the average in their every-day life, while the manager is enterprising, sociable and well calculated to be at the head of the company—a man whom we would be pleased to have speak well of Kewaskum in his travels about the country—and we hope that he will leave well impressed with us.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET.

Miss Clara Strohm spent Wednesday at West Bend.

Miss Katie Kenney is sojourning in the Cream City.

Rev. A. T. Miller and family returned last Tuesday from a 2-weeks visit at Sheboygan Falls. He has expected a call from the church at Rio, where he will go as soon as possible.

CAMPBELLSPORT CULLINGS.

Edward Kinney of Milwaukee was a caller here this week.

Nic. Bremen made a business trip Fond du Lac this week.

John Gaucher spent a few days at the Cream City this week.

Farrel & Meixensperger shipped two carloads of live-stock this week.

Mat. Kommers of Antigone spent a few days with Jacob Arimond this week.

Mr. Yonkov of Sheboygan visited his brother, Fred, here for a few days this week.

Mrs. L. C. Kohler has returned from a few days' visit with friends in the Cream City.

The New Cassel and Campbelsport Literary society will resume meetings on the first Saturday in November.

Mr. Francis and his son of Milwaukee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Meixensperger for a few days last week.

Jacob Apple and Ernest Stalp of the Cream City have sold to N. C. Michaels a dozen Imperial plows, a dozen disc harrows and a half carload of pumps.

"Still have all we can handle!" is what Michaels & Sackett say. Edward Triar contracted 1,500 bushels of barley and finished hauling the same this week.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Mrs. M. Hall last Sunday in honor of the 49th anniversary of her birth. The following guests were present: Messrs. and Mrs. Paas, Johnson, Hoffmann, Klockey, Theisen, Becker, Thill, Meixensperger, Voltz; and Misses Lucy Sausen, Rosa Thill; and Mr. J. F. Francis. All report as having had a very favorable time. Card playing, etc., was enjoyed for a few hours, after which the guests departed, wishing the hostess many returns of the day.

"I can't see how any family lives without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. R. Adams, a well known druggist of Geneva, Ala., in a letter inquiring the price of a dozen bottles, that he might not only have it for use in his own family, but supply it to his neighbors. The reason some people get along without it, is because they do not know its value, and what a vast amount of suffering it will save. Whenever it becomes known and used, it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon for bowel complaints, both for children and adults.
