The Washington correspondent of the Herald says that the above cablegram is interpreted there to mean that the maritime canal company, anticipating a favorable report from the Walker commission as to the feasibility of the project and of subsequent favorable action by Congress, has men on the ground prepared to begin the work of construction immediately.

The preliminary report which the commission will make will be submitted to Congress with a view to getting favoraof the work at $66,466,880, and a second estimate, the canal to follow a low, level line, fixed the cost at $69,893,660. The Ludlow commission estimated that a canal built along the low level line would cost $133,472,893. If the Walker commission estimates that the cost will be three-fourths of Mr. Menocal's original estimate, then it fixes the figures at $49,855,160.

at Viroqua. Viroqua, Wis., Jan. 25.—George Sulli-Viroqua, Wis, Jan. 25.—George Sullivan was sentenced yesterday to fourteen years in the state penitentiary for the murder of Asa Gorham. The case had been sent back from the Supreme court, where it had gone after Sullivan was convicted of murder in the second degree last June, on the ground that it did not come before that tribunal in proper form for consideration

The question hinged on whether Sullivan could be convicted of a lesser offense than murder in the first degree.

Judge Wyman also overruled a motion for a new trial and a certificate to the higher court, but granted a stay of execution to February 14, in order that Sullivan may make application to the Supreme court for bail.

The murder occurred about a year ago in Vernon county and was the result of a quarrel about domestic troubles.

THE death of Judge Newman of the supreme court will make it necessary to have an election in April for his successor, as an appointee can only serve until the people have an oppor tunity to elect. It is altogether prob able that Justice Bardeen will be elected by the people, but it is just as well for the people to have a check of that kind in their hands, else at some time a man might get on the bench by appointment who could never be elected. JUDGE CHARLES V. BARDEEN of Wausau has been appointed by Gov. Scofield to fill the vancy in the supreme court made by the death of Judge Newman. Judge Bardeen has occupied the bench of the Sixteenth circuit nearly best circuit judges in the state. When the circuit was organized under act of the legislature of 1891 Mr. Bardeen was the unanimous choice of the bar of the circuit for the judgeship, though he was a Republican and all the counties of the circuit were Democratic. Under such circumstances his selection was very creditable to him, as well as to the bar of the circuit, and it was entirely upon his merits. He graduated from the law department of the state university in the class of 1875, the same class with Justice Winslow of the supreme court, and from that time was engaged in the practice at his home here last Monday. of the law at Wausau until he was elected to the bench of the Sixteenth on business last week Thursday. circuit. We remember how she sat there. But when next we saw our schoolmate.

She was an angel bright. The raven locks still clustered round And on her face so pale and cold,

We covered her with flowers Though the face that smiled beneath Could know no hopes or fears.

We placed about her casket Love's offerings fair and bright Like the one so pure and beautiful, That must be hid from sight.

We ever miss the gentle form The gentle voice that used to speak So sweet and silvery soft. We know her feet are walking now

We know that to the dear one's brow A golden crown is given.

We're thankful now she is at rest, And would not wish her to return To feel again life's cares But yet it's hard to think that she's gone, With all her winning ways;

Matting for Floor-Covering. If only all housekeepers knew the value and comfort of matting, how much worry and work would be saved. how many dull houses would look cheery! If you own your home and have hardwood floors, thank kindly destiny and dismiss the subject. But if you live in a rented house, or cannot afford hard floors, if for any reason you are considering the subject of floorover the advantages of matting. It is clean, fresh and easily cared for. It is a perfect floor-covering in summer and winter-from the cheapest to the richest-adding to the cheerfulness of a room, yielding all accumulated dust to light brushing, possessing indeed al most every advantage that a floor-cov ering can have, with no disadvantages easily renovated (by soap and salt water), and can be matched or pieced using the whole parts in two rooms to make one good complete room. Lastly, it is cheap, its growing popularity having so encouraged its manufacture o Importation that it is to be had almost everywhere in great variety at moderate cost. To sum up its merits, mat ting gives a house a fresh, clean feeling, a sense of cheerfulness that no other floor-covering gives. The holes in the bottoms of flower pots are to let out the surplus water, and should never be entirely closed. A or other plants kept in a pot is to fill the small dish in which the pot sits with warm water, and allow it to rise by capillary attraction. No more will then be taken by the soil than the plants require. If this is done once or twice a week during winter all kinds of flowers except the lily will get sufficient watering. The lily requires to be watered every other day at least, and if the room is kept reasonably warm it will be better for being watered every day.

Painted Walls Desirable.

Painted walls are considered very de sirable for the kitchen. A hard-finished wall is very easy to paint, not a great deal of paint being required, as the finish prevents it from striking into the wall. A light golden brown or a soft shade of gray are, perhaps, as suitable shades as could be chosen. Light blue and nink are however, sometimes used for sleeping rooms. When painted in this way walls are easily washed on becoming dingy. Painting a wall does not make it difficult to paper after. becoming dingy. Painting a wall does not make it difficult to paper afterwards, if desired, as would be the case if the walls were calcimined. A little care, in opening the outside door when meat, griddle cakes, etc., are being cooked will greatly diminish the quantity of smoke deposited on walls.

To Use Sonr Milk.

When sour milk is to be used in cooking, a few vigorous whisks with the egg beater in the bowl or pitcher will mix the curd and whey so thoroughly that it can be poured as easily as cream and will obviate the unpleasantness of finding the cakes or muffins interspersed with particles of curd. Soda used with sour milk should not be put into milk, but be sifted into the flour like baking powder.

In cold weather The house of Hohenzollern possesses a family talisman. Since the time of the Elector John Cicero, who flourished toward the end of the Fifteenth century, each ard the end of the Fitteenth century, each ruler has, when possible before dissolution, handed to his successor a sealed packet. This contains a ring, in which is set a black stone said to have been dropped by a huge toad on the coverlet of a princess of the family just as she had given birth to a son. Frederick the Great found the ring in an envelope, which also ound the ring in an envelope, which also inclosed a memorandum, written by Frederick I. stating its value and its mode of transmission.
