DASH BY FLYING SQUADRON. That Would Be One of the First Naval

Washington, D. C., April 6.—The plan of action for the naval forces in event of hostilities is now practically completed, as a result of several weeks' contest work on the part of the olders to whom was entrusted this important feature of the war preparations. While these plans are naturally most closely guarded, it may be stated on high authority that one feature of them contemplates a dash by the flydron under Commander Schle of the Canary islands. This proposition is as yet tentative, as all projects subject to unforeseen conditions must be, but has seceived most careful consideration by

The Spanish Executive Practically Takes Matters Out of the Control of the Ministry.

Madrid, April 6 (via Bayonne, France)—The developments in the situation today are confined to the important part the Queen Regent is taking in the crisis. She has practically taken matters out of the hands of her ministers, and is dealing direct with the United States minister, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, through the German and Austrian ambassadors, and is working earnestly for peace.

It is known beyond doubt that Spain is now prepared to give all America has asked for, although the form of this concession must be coated to suit Spanish palates and must take into consideration the political difficulties which confront Spain.

The government deserves great credit for the fact that in a time of national excitement the best of order is preserved in Havana. The streets are as quiet as the most exacting could ask, while the ordinary avocations are pursued without break or molestation.

The Mascotte arrived here this morning and will be loaded on her return with passengers eager to get to the United States. The Fern, Bache and Mangrove are still in the harbor with no orders and with no indications of leaving for the North. It is safe to say that Havana, at this hour, is far quieter than Washington, New York or Chicago.

JASMINE TIME IN THE SOUTH.

Luxuriant Nature is Now Making its Tourists down South in these March ays rhapsodize over the beauty of the smine that grows wild on every hand and fills the air with fragrance. Women come in from their afternoon drives with their laps filled with jasmine, invalids go into ecstasies over its delicate beauty, its subtle odor, and men, young and old, rough and gentle, stop to look at the tempting cluster or to break off a sprig too lovely to be left. As for the bees—

There has been a New Orleans in the inited States navy before the Brazilian cruiser which is to bear the Crescent city's mellifluous name. According to the Boston Journal, it was a wooden line-of-battleship of 84 guns and 2805 tons—a ship larger than most of Nelson's—which was built at Sackett's Harbor, on Lake Ontario, just after the War of 1812. Although the treaty of 1818 with Great Britain forbade the actual launching on the lakes by either power of war vessels of such tonnage, the immense hull of the New Orleans was completed and she lay on the stocks in significant readiness. She was there even so late as the War of the Rebellion.

According to the Boston instructions were these: We were to sail slowly south, keeping close to the Jersey shore, until we came to Atlantic City, and from there we were to go eastward until we reached longitude 70. Striking south at the 70th longitude, we were to follow it until on a parallel with Delaware bay. From there south, still following the 70th degree, we were to keep a sharp lookout.

We made slow time and daylight found us on the Cape May parallel. That day we scarcely moved, and once, when some pilots of the Delaware came out to see what delayed us, we made a pretense of uiser which is to bear the Crescent city's

How to Conquer a Balky Horse.

One of the recent extensions of the us of electricity is in conquering a balky or lazy horse. A Western Pennsylvania gentleman owned a horse which he said was worth $1000, provided he could cure him of balking. It was suggested that he try electricity. He purchased a three-volt storage battery and connected it by wires with the bit and the crupper. The battery was placed in the road-eart to attery was placed in the road-cart to battery was placed in the road-cart to which the horse was attached. At first the horse refused to move, but stood with all four feet braced. Then the owner touched the button connected with the battery. When the horse felt the shock he snorted, jumped and began to move off at a lively pace. Every day for a week he was given the same lesson. His owner (who does not care to sell him) declares that now he never sell him) declares that now he never balks, bites or kicks. The West Penn-sylvania Humane society, which investi-gated the method, came to the conclu-sion that a small amount of electricity used upon a horse was more humane

OVERWORKED WOMEN.

Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Women Who Have Been Helped From Sickness or Health.

The ordinary every-day life of most of our women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and Sparkill, N. Y., tells the story of many women, and shows them how to get relief: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM :- I cannot thank you enough for all Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to you I had suffered for years with falling, inflammation and ulceration of the womb; my back ached, and I was so much distressed I could scarcely walk. I was a burden to myself and did not care whether I lived or died. "I have taken five bottles of your medicine and it has done wonders for me as all my friends can testify. I can now do my own work, and do not know how to express my gratitude to you for the good your medicine and advice have done me. I owe my life to Mrs. Pinkham."

Mrs. Pinkham's counselisoffered free to all women who need advice about their health. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Mrs. P. H. HUTCHCROFT, Kel lerton, Iowa, tells here in her own words how Mrs. Pinkham helped her:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I was in a very bad condition before I wrote to you and began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did not know what to do. I suffered terribly every month, when on my feet would have such a bearing-down feeling, was very weak, womb was swollen, back ached, appetite was very poor, also had trouble with my head. I have taken several bottles of your Compound and cannot say enough in its lavor. It helped more than all the doctors."

"IRONING MADE EASY"

This starch is prepared on scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundering. It restores old linen and summer dresses to their natural whiteness and imparts a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum or any other experience in inviews to linen and can be used again for a baby powder.

Shop by Mail suffered forty-five years with rheumatism but could get no medicine to cure me until I got your "5 DROPS." I had suffered for a year with eatarrh in any head before I used your medicine "5 DROPS," and I could not hear out of my right ear, but when I took the "5 DROPS" I was cured of the catarrh and my hearing was restored. It is a blessed thing for me that I ever heard of your medicine and used it, for I am so improved that I almost feel young again though I am eighty-two years old.
