JUDGING by late reports from Newman, Ga., the "white man's burden" thereabouts is greater than anywhere in the Philippine islands.

A MILWAUKEE paper displays a suggestion that the third day of the carnival be called All Fools' Day and the parade accordingly.

Prof. F. H. King, in this year's Arbor Day manual, says the number of birds which spend the summer in Wisconsin must exceed 22,000,000. This estimate is sufficiently wide-ranged to include the "cuckoos" we read about in partisan papers.

THE Chicago friends of Dr. Senn now want him to become a Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, but he truly says "I feel that I can perform a greater service to the people of Chicago as a surgeon than I could as governor of the state."

WHILE some may say of Abor day that "every farmer and country resident who plants a tree along the roadside he travels can reap his reward from the shade it will afford," the day will never cut much figure in the country unless a state law allows a rebate of one dollar in road-tax for every three or four trees so planted, though such rebate should not exceed one-fourth the amount of road-tax to be paid.

THOUGH the candy trust may be considered the sweetest yet formed, George Ziegler of Milwaukee says "I am personally opposed to trusts, and unless I receive about three to one for my business I would not sell it to anyone."

Hubert Schneider had the misfortune to step on a rusty nail two weeks ago, and he is now under the doctor's care. DIED—On Friday evening, April 21, 1899, at the Catholic parsonage here, Miss Minnie Merkel, aged 31 years. The demise of the deceased resulted from inflammation of the bowels. Funeral services were held here Monday, with Rev. Muehler officiating assisted by Revs. Stupp of West Bend, Dellus of Kohler, Nuttmann of Newburg and Voigt of Kewaskum, after which the body was taken to Kewaskum and shipped to her home near Marsy, Franklin Co., where she was laid to rest last Thursday. Miss Merkel was highly respected and loved by all who had the pleasure of forming her acquaintance during the short time she resided in our midst. She was a lovely singer and the organist of our church, and she will be sorely missed from our circle. Her life has been like a flower that has been plucked and left in the sun to wither and die, for she had been in poor health for a long time. Many were the callers Sunday to look at the face they never more will see. She leaves an aged mother and three sisters. Peace to her ashes.

Monday morning Nicholas Kaiser died at the home of his parents, at the youthful age of 23 years. He was one of the best liked young men from this place and was making a good record for promotion as an employee of the Wisconsin Central R. R. Co. until about four weeks ago, when he became ill and grew worse until finally death took his soul to the bright realms of joy. The bereaved relatives have our heartfelt sympathy.

At a special meeting of the Saint Aloysius young men's society on last Tuesday the following resolutions of respect and condolence were adopted: Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to remove from this world our friend and associate, Nicholas Kaiser; therefore, be it Resolved, That we sincerely mourn the loss of our friend and member; also Resolved, That we sincerely condole with his parents, brothers, sisters and relatives in their affliction; also Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on our records and published in the Kewaskum Statesman, Twin Village News, and Northwest-her Courier.

Months ago Senator Hawley sent a messenger after one of the senate committee clerks. When the clerk arrived he was astonished by the senator asking: "How much do you pay for that suit you are wearing?" "Fifteen dollars," replied the clerk, after a slight hesitation.

"That's what I heard," said the senator. "Where did you get it?" The clerk told him and stood expectantly wondering if he was to learn why the Connecticut statesman was so interested in his clothes. The inquisitor relieved him by saying: "Every time I get to England I hear a lot of bragging about their $15 suits; I am tired of it. I am going to wear a suit just like yours and show them we can make as good $15 suits as they can." Senator Lodge is also touring Europe in a $15-suit, and to look at the clever Massachusetts senator one would suspect him of being the most expensively dressed man in the senate.

As a matter of fact, the members of what is sometimes known as the "Millionaire's club" are rather fond of buying cheap business suits. One of them told the writer that he bought his suits of a concern in New York that manufactured 60,000 of these suits to order one year at a profit of $1 per suit.—Detroit Journal.

Negro Ravishers.

It is difficult—perhaps impossible—for the people of the North to appreciate the difficulties and dangers at the South in relation to this problem. But the experiment is surely worth trying of providing by law for the immediate trial, by a specially convened court where necessary, of criminals of this class, and for their execution within three days after conviction. A resort to mob law is a confession of the failure of modern law.—New York World.

One Against the Old Man. He was the son of a worthy citizen, and had just returned from college. His father was a brusque, matter-of-fact man, who had no liking for anything pronounced, and he noticed with sorrow that his son had returned wearing the latest style in collars and other insignia of fashion. The old gentleman surveyed him with a critical eye when he appeared in his office and then he blurted out: "Young man, you look like an idiot."

"Before the son had time to reply, an old-time friend of both walked in and said: 'Why, hello, Billy! Have you returned? Dear me, how much you resemble your father!'" "So he has been telling me," replied Billy.

And from that day to this the old gentleman has had no fault to find with his son.—Tit-Bits.
