—A wrestling match will be held in the South Side park on Sunday afternoon, August 6th, between C. Walter of Plymouth and F. Kuechen of Milwaukee, for $25 a side and the gate receipts. Admission, 25c.

—John Streidl, who works for P. Kudek, last Sunday received the sad news that his mother had died at Benedikt, Bavaria, Germany, on May 22d. The deceased was 90 years of age when she died. Mr. Streidl will go to Milwaukee today to file the necessary papers to receive a legacy of nearly $5,000.

—Don't fail to hear the grand concert, at the North Side park, in the afternoon and evening of Sunday, Aug. 6th, by Chris. Bach's Military band. Among the musical selections will be the descriptive piece entitled The Capture of Santiago, which will be rendered in the evening with roiling cannon, fire-works, etc.

—The North-Western Yeast Co. of Fond du Lac, Wis., and Chicago, Ill., are out again this year distributing free samples of their now famous Yeast Foam. There is hardly a man, woman or child in the United States not familiar with the good qualities of this favorite bread-raiser. You make no mistake when you buy Yeast Foam at 5c a package and refuse to take imitations.

—Last Tuesday the L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain company received the new dynamo which had been expected for some time, and it is now being set up in the new addition to the malthouse. The machine is a 75 Kelowatt of 8,000 lbs. weight, and will form such an addition to the company's 25 Kelowatt dynamo as to light the village streets and furnish ample electric power to all who want it.

—John Held and Herman Leicht of Germantown were struck by the south-bound passenger train Sunday afternoon, while in the act of driving across the railroad track about 3/4 miles south of Rockfield. The former was instantly killed, and his remains were scattered for nearly a mile along the track. Mr. Leicht was seriously injured, while the horse shared Mr. Held's fate. The deceased was 29 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

—Present signs indicate that a large crowd will come out from Milwaukee on the excursion train, a week from tomorrow (Sunday); and, as the Military band concert is to be given under the personal direction of Prof. Bach, a large crowd from the surrounding country may also be expected at the North Side park. A grand ball will be given in the afternoon and evening, for which the Kewaskum band has been especially engaged.

—The State crop bulletin for the week ending July 25th, reports very heavy rains at a few points in the central and eastern portion of the state. Corn has made excellent progress and promises a good crop. Winter wheat and rye are nearly all shocked. Oats and barley are being harvested, but the former is badly lodged and a considerable loss will result. Barley is generally good, but the reports indicate some discoloration. Potatoes have grown well and promise a good crop.

—The Junior league sociable, in the evening of the 24th inst., was a remarkable affair and certainly added another step to the social standing of the organization. Although the weather was rather cool the lawn was packed with people, and before 10 o'clock nearly 200 suppers were served, when food supplies were exhausted and the leaguers were pleased to take home empty cans and baskets. The 10-cent supper, for which many would have gladly paid 25c, and the beautifully decorated lawn, elicited much appreciative praise. Young and old, all report a good time, and the league is assured of much new friendship.

—For Standing Hat Knocks. They want good, substantial, handsome boots like J. B. Lewis Co's Wear-Resisters. Get your boy a pair and you will be surprised how long they will wear and look well. L. Rosenheimer has them.

According to the opinion of ex-Senator Dubois, the policy of expansion will cause the Republicans to abandon the protective tariff policy and advocate the raising of all money by internal revenue taxation. He also expresses the opinion that the Democrats will advocate protection and oppose expansion, and that both parties will oppose trusts in their national platforms. Should his tariff predictions prove true, many of the older voters in both parties will have trouble in finding just "where they are at" politically.—X.

See a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did, but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with sand that it is as if it had been out in a regular snow storm.

No need of this snow storm. As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will the sun melt the sand.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It meets these dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this; it prevents their formation. It has still other properties; it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more; it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick; hair that is short and brittle becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits we expect from this hair restorer, we will refund the money. Write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your real system which we can easily remedy.

The magazine is published by the Astrological Association, 100 North Street, Boston. It is the only monthly paper in America devoted to astrology and the study of the stars.

It is said that the only time that was when he was a tractor on the Hartford Courant. "The name of John Hand came down the line with the advance report of being the winner of the Pulitzer prize."

"Maybe," said the Courant man, "but you've tried to get it." "Hi!" said the "jour." "I'll try him for $10 a side."

"I never let," said Mr. Bonner. "You'd better not," laughed the challenger.

Bonner changed his mind. He put up $10, got down to work, and besides consuming two pieces of candy he set 20,000 lines of motion picture in 10 hours and 28 minutes. The feat has never been equaled.

A Story of Sterility, SUFFERING AND RELIEF.

DEAR MRS. FINKHAM.—Two years ago I began having such dull, heavy dragging pains in my back, meneses were profuse and painful, and was troubled with leucorrhoea. I took patent medicines and consulted a physician, but received no benefit and could not become pregnant. Seeing one of your books, I wrote to you telling you my troubles and asking for advice. You answered my letter promptly and I followed the directions faithfully, and derived so much benefit that I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. I now find myself pregnant and have begun its use again. I cannot praise it enough. Mrs. G. A. GILSON, YATES, MANISTE, MICH.

The amount of storage room given a colony has much to do in governing swarms, and if the bees are kept unswarmingly they will swarm more readily than if they have unlimited room to store honey. Some races of bees are more inclined to swarm than others, and even some colonies of the same race are more inclined to swarm than others.

Making Hay.

In making hay it is always best to begin a few days before the meadow is quite ready to cut. The loss from cutting a week too soon is not to be compared with the loss from cutting a week too late. There is a difference between dried grass and hay made from matured grass, and hay is allowed to choose they will take the dried grass. If we do not begin to make hay until it is just right, bad weather or other untoward circumstances may cause delays that will afford the grass time to get too ripe, and once this happens it is impossible to make good hay of it.

Another Use for Potash.

A writer in Vick's Monthly says: "I have been using potash for some time in a new way lately—least new to me. I have been using it as an insecticide and have found it most effective, especially for house plants. I use the pulverized sort, put up in small tin boxes. I dissolve in water and spray the plants throughly with the solution. I have never known it to injure even the most delicate plants, and for the greater number it could be used much stronger."

Well Anchored Posts.

For firmly anchoring the corner posts of a wire fence, the best of all is the use of a brick. The brick is placed in the corner post, and the wire is pulled over it. The brick is then placed in the corner post, and the wire is pulled over it. The brick is then placed in the corner post, and the wire is pulled over it.

To Rid the Barn of Rats.

Take a tight barrel or keg, fill it a foot or so deep with water, tie a stout paper over the barrel and place any rats on the barrel. Place board from floor to top of barrel, let them have free access to bait for a few nights, then cut across it in middle of paper large enough to admit a rat; then suspend a broiled mutton skin, potato, or any bait, by a string to within eight or ten inches of center of cross. In attempting to get bait the rat will fall through and be drowned. To get rid of cut worms, take pieces of newspaper six inches square, cut slit to center and slip under plants and place dirt or pebbles on corners to hold them down.—Exchange.

Early Recognized.

Charles Dickens delighted to tell stories of John Forster, the writer and editor with whom he was much associated. Mr. Forster had so pre-emptory and decisive a manner that it impressed him who came in contact with him. His servants were kept in perfect and almost abject submission to his wishes, and they showed many kindnesses to him.

Time for Sowing Turnips.

While occasionally, under favorable conditions, a good crop of turnips may be grown by sowing as late as the middle of August, generally the best results will be secured by sowing not later than the middle of July. Have the soil in a good till and reasonably rich, so that the plants may get good start to grow before the weather gets too hot and dry.

SQUIRRELS' FORETHOUGHT.

How the Prudent Little Animals Sustain a Winter.

The popular notion that squirrels of all sorts subsist wholly on nuts during their limited, not to say careless, observation. Their food is widely varied in the course of a year, especially during the spring and summer. Indian corn in the milk stage is more from squirrels than from raccoons or mink. In places on the Western frontier an expensive system of watching and catching them has been established against this pest. One dairy in late summer is the mushroom, of several varieties, which they are fond of eating. It is reported that they are deposited there upon the seeds of the pine pine, which they preserve by storing in its holes in the open air. Good Doughnuts.

There is something homely and interesting in the very name of doughnuts. People who live in or about New Albany, Ind., have an especial regard for doughnuts, especially those people who are fond of the doughnuts made by Mrs. Chas. Grout. This is Mrs. Grout's recipe: One-half pint milk, eight spoonfuls sugar, two eggs, three and one-half teaspoons baking powder, slight half teaspoon soda. Flavor with nutmeg. Add flour until they are a golden brown.

Maple Sugar Biscuit.

Stiff together for three times one quart of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt, and two and one-half teaspoons of sugar. Rub into the flour two level teaspoons sweet lard and wet with milk or water like ordinary biscuit. Roll out to a half inch thick, handling as little as possible, then butter all over and sprinkle thickly over with a layer of scraped maple sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut in slices about an inch thick. Pinch the bottoms of the slices, so the sugar won't run out much, put into a dripping pan close together and bake twenty-five minutes.

Putting Away Clothing.

Never put winter clothing away with soiled spots on them all out. When all the clothes are beaten thoroughly and brushed and cleaned, fold each article separately, and with care as to the folding. Then see that the chests are absolutely tight, that the drawers are closed, and that there are, past newspapers over the drawers and see that there is not the smallest crevice for the moths to enter, for if there is one they will surely find it. Wrap up each article separately in old paper or tissue paper, and in papers, see that all are absolutely clean.

The Secret of Malaria.

Prof. Koch has found the study of Texas fever in cattle very useful in learning the origin and nature of malaria. He says that the animal parasite, the tick, often transfers the disease to a mosquito, which then spreads it through the herd. Malaria resembles Texas fever in many ways, and in its dissemination the common mosquito performs for man the same unwelcome service of inoculation which the tick performs to cattle. No malaria, malaria taken at the proper stage arrests the growth of malarial germs.

An English Dish.

For a curry of cooked meat cut the beef into small squares, according to the quantity of meat to be carried; put raisins and nutmeg on them. When heated to a stew pan and two good-sized onions chopped; stir the onions in the butter until a pale brown; and one teaspoonful of curry powder and the same of flour with a little salt, mix and set for five minutes, moisten with a cup of stock and steam gently for a few minutes longer, put in the meat and simmer until done, but do not let it boil. Serve with rice around the dish.

Steamed Mutton and Rice.

Into a stewpan put three pounds of neck of mutton, two carrots, a small onion, a turnip cut into dice, a teaspoonful of salt, one-half the quantity of pepper, a tomato, a small quantity of stock and an equal quantity of butter. Cover closely and boil for three hours. Arrange a border of boiled rice on a dish, place the mutton in it, the chopped vegetables in a pile in the center of it, and sprinkle with finely chopped capers or parsley.

Fruited Nuts.

A good and easy way to prepare the popular salted almonds, pistachios or walnuts is this: Place a half pound of the blanched nuts in a shallow tin pan, pour over them an ounce of salted butter, set in a medium oven and roast till a light-brown, stirring frequently. When done, stir the nuts with a fork and sprinkle with a tablespoonful of salt, mixing well. A half tablespoonful of olive oil may be taken in place of butter.

A Cuban Dessert.

Grate one coconut, add one cupful of water, press through a fine strainer, mix with an equal quantity of thick syrup, made by boiling water and sugar in proportion of one cupful of water to a pint of sugar, and six eggs well beaten. Cook over a slow fire until it thickens like custard. When cold dust with powdered cinnamon. Serve cold.

Tramps Raid a Picnic.

W. H. Meyer, a machinist, whose home is at Port Washington, Daniel Dwyer, 31 years old, at one time a laborer in Colorado, James Brooks, a tax man and Michael Ward, a laborer, both of Chicago, were arrested last night by Constable Peppel of the town of Waukegan and Deputy Sheriff Schoepfer and Seibert. The men have for a week past been obtaining food and shelter from a party of ladies gathered in a little stretch of woods just off the Port Washington road and set down to partake of luncheon which they had brought with them. The women no sooner perceived the presence of the men than they fled, and the four men appeared on the scene and without a word of apology grabbed everything in their power.

A Symposium of Gossips.

In some such world it is pleasant to fancy a gathering of the gossips. They meet at the "Mermaid Tavern" and there they will be one kind of "Mermaid," "Forty Immortals" and "John's club" rolled in one. Dr. Johnson should preside; for the doctor loved gossiping and had learned his trade from a young man who had learned his trade from a young man who had learned his trade from a young man.
