STUPENDOUS DIAMOND WEALTH.

Marvelous Richness of the Kimberley Mines.

The richest mines in the world are the Kimberley Diamond Mines of South Africa.

The first diamonds were found on the surface of the ground in 1869.

A traveler noticed a child playing with a bright object and bought it for a trifle.

It proved to be a diamond worth a fortune.

The discovery of these wonderful mines may be said to be the third greatest discovery ever made by man.

First, of course, being the discovery of America by Columbus and the second being Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption.

This grand remedy cures the most obstinate coughs and severe colds.

It has saved many from death by Consumption who had been told by doctors they would not live.

Dr. King's New Discovery readily yields to its power.

Its rapidity in curing Hemorrhage of the lungs, hoarseness and sore throat and croup is most surprising.

It cures the most hopeless case of Asthma.

In fact Dr. King's New Discovery is absolutely guaranteed to cure all diseases of the chest, throat and lungs.

Our dealers refund your money if it does not cure.

A home in the sunny south was no guarantee of good health to John M. Garretson of San Antonio, Texas.

For many years he suffered with that distressing and fatal disease, Asthma.

No doctor could cure him. No medicine did him any good.

He said it seemed sometimes that he suffered the agonies of death.

He could only get relief in lying by a roaring fire.

He was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery.

He used it long before his trouble was over and now he is so thankful that he freely spends much of his time in seeing people who are suffering from Asthma and telling them of this marvelous cure.

New Swindle With a Ten-Dollar Bill. The grocer sat on a high stool...

He looked at the counter and his face buried in his hands.

The Brooklyn man came in to get a quarter's worth of eggs.

"Hello," he said, "what's the matter now?"

"I'm thinking," said the grocer, "that if I could get you to get the bill, while he audibly counted out $10, and then I gave him the bill, which he put in an envelope as he leisurely walked toward the door.

Upon counting the bills he had given me, I called his attention to the fact that there were only nine bills in the envelope and talked so fast and smoothly that half what he said escaped me in my admiration for his oratory.

While talking he vainly fished in his pockets for another dollar and finally said: "Well, I guess I'll have to give your bill back to you, as I can't get out any more."

Then he looked at the envelope in his hand and continued: "Gee! that's too bad. I've sealed that envelope and it's addressed and stamped with your bill inside."

"I'll tell you what we might do, though," he went on. "You give me your bills and I'll go out and get $10 dollars, while you keep the sealed envelope for me."

"Well, I swear, I couldn't see any harm in the arrangement, so I consented to it without a moment's hesitation.

But what galls me most is the thought of how polite I was to the duck. Why, I fairly bowed him out of the store, and after he had gone I carefully put the envelope away in my cash drawer.

Then I waited fully half an hour for the young man to come back, when I finally grew impatient over the fellow's delay.

Considering the favor I was doing him, and so opened the letter. Well, its sole contents was a piece of paper with the following words neatly written thereon: "I'll be back when the robins nest again."

"Say, even then, it was a full minute before the truth dawned on me. But when it did hit me, I felt as though I'd been struck by a ton of brick.

"Oh, you gosh darned fool," I murmured, and then I came around and sat on this stool to think. I was still thinking when you came in, and I'll start again when you leave."

"Say," said the Brooklyn man, "up in Reubenville, where I used to live, we called that game the flim-flam."

"Well, I don't know what they call it here, but it's a good game, and when I go back to the grocery business I am going to try it on some guy myself."

and the grocer went back to his thinking, while his friend walked out.—New York Sun.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man.

Anyone who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief.

It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement.

One application relieves pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost.

—The State Crop Bulletin for the week ending last Monday reports that practically no rain fell in any portion of the state, though the rains of the previous week furnished ample moisture for present needs, while the warm weather which followed furnished almost ideal conditions for farm work. Seeding is nearly completed. As the season advances the damage to winter wheat becomes more apparent, and the outlook is not encouraging. Winter rye is generally reported to be in a satisfactory condition and making excellent growth. Clover was badly winter killed, and many fields are being ploughed up and sown to other crops. Pastures are doing well, but will require about ten days' growth before stock can be turned out to advantage. Fruit trees are beginning to bud and the outlook is favorable. The week was favorable for planting cranberry vines and the supply of water for flooding is ample and under control.
