> Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 20.-Reports received at strike headquarters and elsewhere from various parts of the Hazleton region this morning brought nothing but good news to the idle anthracite coalminers. The first information brought here told of a break among the employes here told of a break among the employes in the Lattimer mines, the first that has taken place there during the strike. The colliery was considered an invul-nerable spot and the break there put the strikers in a good humor. The number of men who quit was quite small, however, but the union men are satisfied that they will make further in

> The next good news received by the strikers came from Coleraine and was to the effect that the colliery there was shut down tight. The McAdoo strikers shut down tight. The McAdoo strikers have been trying for four days to close this place. The Evans colliery at Beaver Meadow also failed to start work this morning owing to not enough men putting in an appearance to operate the workings. Both the Coleraine and the Evans collieries are operated by the A. S. Van Winkle company. All of this company's mines in the Hazleton region are now closed. zleton region are now closed.

Winnemucca, Nev., Sept. 20.-The First National bank was robbed of about $15,000 by three men who entered the front door and with revolvers made all resent throw up their hands. One robber made Cashier Nixon open the safe and take from it three sacks of gold coin. The bandits threw this in an ore sack, together with all the coin in the office drawer. They then marched Springfield, Ill., Sept. 20.—Gen. John A. McClernand died this morning. All the members of the family except one son, Col. Edward J. McClernand, who is now in the Philippines, were at his bedside when the end came.

His death was the result of old agand general breaking down of the system. He had been in feeble health for years, and two years ago suffered an attack which nearly ended fatally. About two weeks ago he was attacked with dysentery, and while this was cured he never rallied. He had been unconscious for the last twenty-four hours, and had only been kept alive by constant use of rency a week to pay out for wheat. The only money left by the robbers was about $100 in nickels and pennies scattered on the floor. The bank was insured against robbers.

was to Have Been Completed Last June-Lighthouse Cut Off from Mainland.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—On complaint of Capt. Warren of the United States harbor improvements, stationed in Milwaukee, a letter was today sent to John O. Jones, the contractor who is building the 950 feet of new dock on the north side of the river. The letter was from United States District Attorney M. C. Phillips and it states that unless the work on the new docks is hurried to completion the government will take charge and fine the contractor $500. The contract for $12,000 worth of work was let by the city of Racine last April with the understanding the work should be completed by June 1. The work has dragged on and the docks are not nearly completed. The high waves have washed out a channel cutting off the government lighthouse from the main shore and car-rying sand into the river, thus interfering with navigation. The recent storms have caused much damage to property on account of the condition of the docks. The government states that Jones will be held responsible for all damage.

JOINT RESOLUTION No. 16.

Proposing an amendment to section 1, of article 10, of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, relating to education.

Resolved, by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That section 1, of article 10, of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. The supervision of public instruction shall be vested in a state superintendent and such other officers as the legislature shall direct: and their qualifications, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The state superintendent shall be chosen by the qualifications, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The state superintendent shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state at the same time and in the same manner as members of the superme court, and shall hold his office for four years from the succeeding first Monday in July. The state superintendent chosen at the general election in November, 1902, shall hold and continue in his office until the first Monday in July, 1905, and his successor shall be chosen at the time of the judicial election in April, 1905. The term of office, time and manner of electing or appointing all other officers of supervision of public instruction shall be fixed by law.

With respect to the strength of the detachment to be left in Pekin, the Russian note proposes that this be determined by the allied commanders, whose knowledge of the military situation makes them pre-eminently the best judges of what should be done. Why Germany's Plan is Opposed. Germany's circular note demanding the Chinese outrages as a condition to the opening of peace negotiations shows conclusively, according to officials here, that the Berlin government proposes to take advantage of every opportunity to prevent any action favorable to peace being taken until Von Waldersee arrives in Pekin, when the military situation may be such that military operations against China may be necessary. The officials say there is no nation in the world that would surrender its subjects to be punished by forender its subjects to be punished by for-igners. Under its system the United States federal government cannot vio-late the rights of a state and punish at the demand of a state and punish at the demand of a foreign nation an offender arrested for violation of state laws, and in this connection the Mafia riots in New Orleans were recalled.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—The war department has received the following cablegram from Gen. Chaffee:

Taku (no date).—Adjutant-General, Washington: Pekin, Sept. 16.—To avoid further crowding at Pekin have had in mind a division of my force between Pekin, Hang Tsun, Tien Tsin, at the latter place leaving one battalion only, because the ground at Tien Tsin is low, damp and unsuitable. Other commanders have no instruction, but they assume that some of their troops will remain at Pekin during the winter. I state this as indicating what is to be ascertained here, not knowing, of course, the action being taken by the powers and the United States. Only one regiment Russian troops retired toward Tien Tsin yet. Have troops of other powers done so? Condition of Chinese seems better; gardeners entering the distress prevailing same days ago. New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cement.

The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensive and do not show large profits. Mr. Major the simple reason is that Mr. Major the simple reason is that Mr. Major use them, because they are too expensively and the manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensively and the manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensively and useless materials.

Major's cement retails at 15c and 25c a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profit.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $5,000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876.

"He—she—they are all in the drawing room, and they will be staring at the door until I come. Mr. Crawford," turning upon him with a little burst of audacious coquetry, "do you love me?"

It is so sudden that Crawford falls back before it. Fortunately she has not calculated on an answer. She has not indeed taken him into consideration in a serious sense at all.

Damocles descended? But if so, should not the wife rather than the nice show such signs of agitation? It is very puzzling altogether.

"You going, Crawford?" cries Mr. Blount; "then I'll go with you. Our paths lie very much the same way. And, if you're like me, you think your own company worst of all. Ha! ha!"

Crawford's hand trembles, yet it is with more expedition than as younger man might have used that he brings his work to completion. To linger purposely over it would have seemed to him an unpardonable crime. She had trusted him. She had been sure that he would help her. Last night, just as that frock had come home from the wash, the colonel had been in the lowest of all low spirits. Something (there is always a dispiriting vagueress about the colonel's difficulties) vaguences about the colonel's difficulties) had occurred, had come in by the late post. It was a bulky letter and had driven the colonel into a considerable use of profane language. It had even led to his carrying off his wife into the privacy of their chamber, from whence she had emerged later on with her eyes very much the worse for wear. Her temper, unlike the colonel's, had remained unruffled, but she was so sad that the children—who as a rule spent their time climbing all over herfinding her a dismal commanion for the

This, however, was more a relief to her than a grievance. She-knew they would come back to her tomorrow—that no one. come back to her tomorrow—that no one, in their eyes, was as good as their mammy; and when they had fied to the nursery, or the kitchen, or the coal cellar, as the case might be, she found a certain sense of comfort in opening her mind to Evelyn, and Jimmy, who was now too big to honestly believe that a whole tribe of banditti could be at any moment discovered in the outburses or

This untimely mirth is by no means checked by the fact that none except himself seems to see where the joke comes in. Evelyn shakes hands with him, presses her now rather hot cheek against Marian's cool one, and nods in a rather constrained way to Stamer, who comes over, and with a sort of determination shakes hands with her.

"What a day!" says Miss Vandeleur, who is always delicately alive to any little strain in the conditions of those alound her. "Too warm to make one happy. You have been out Evelyn?"

MILWAUKEE—Market firm; fresh, cases included, 15½c; fresh, cases returned, 15c; old, cases included, 15½c; dirties and seconds, 7@8c. The receipts were 539 cases.

Butter—Market firm. The receipts were 33,425 lbs today against 24,335 yesterday. The market is firm here and is above Elgin, owing to the very light receipts. While Elgin is 21c for extra creamery local merchants have no trouble getting 21½c and 22c. Some buyers are holding off, expecting to buy at Elgin prices, but unless they have contracted at that figure they will be unable to buy for 21c. Dairy butter is very scarce and wanted here. Choice dairy will sell above quotations. Already some of the merchants have been obliged to draw from the cold storage. Curious crafts abound. A gondola from Hardwick looms black among the white flannels. A New Zealand dugont, with great mustard spoon paddles, forces its way by sheer dint of weight. A Canadian whaleboat gets clumsily through the crowd and collides with a sampan from Bourne End.

Houseboat life is, of course, the grandest way in which to do Henley. It is important, imposing and expensive. Members of the stock exchange revel in houseboats, many of which are fitted up with an extravagance of decoration that rivals the butterfly in gorgeous hues. It must be admitted that it is becoming more and more the fashion to ignore the racing at Henley. It has become quite a mere "side issue."

America Leads in Wallpaper.

Fifty years ago wallpaper was imported from half a dozen different Euroean countries, but even before the adoption of the Dingley tariff American machine methods turned the scales. In point of artistic patterns, France may still be slightly ahead. Her gobelin textures are inimitable, and German chemists have patented plans for achieving gaudy color effects at a minimum expense. In every other respect America is taking the lead. Labor-saving contrivances, undreamt of in Europe, have reduced the cost of printing, sizing and rolling two-thirds,—Indianapolis Press.
