No other pills can equal DeWitt's Little Early Risers for promptness, certainty and efficiency. All druggists.

Sketch of Chas. H. Weisse, Candidate for Congress.

CHARLES H. WEISSE, the Democratic nominee for congress in this district, was born at Sheboygan Falls, Wis., on Oct. 24, 1866.

He is now at the head of the S. S. Weisse & Co. firm, which owns and operates a large tannery at the aforesaid place.

During the time C. H. Weisse has had the management of the tanning plant, the business of the concern has steadily increased, and its customers are scattered over the entire United States.

Mr. Weisse's home life is very pleasant. After business hours he may always be found in the bosom of his family, which consists of an admirable, devoted wife and a bright, promising 3-year-old son.

He is a member of the Lutheran church, very liberal in his religious views, and a generous contributor to all religious and benevolent institutions.

He is a fluent and forcible speaker in both English and German, and is familiar with the current topics of the day and conversant with the great economic problems which are now before the American people for solution.

Although Mr. Weisse has never sought public office, his friends forced the presidency of his village upon him for two terms, and once he was the unanimous choice for said position.

He has also been school treasurer of his village for the past three years.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the stomach perfect rest.

It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion, and stomach trouble after everything else has failed.

It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good. All druggists.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay county, W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely.

It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches.

He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and one-half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

This brought about a complete cure in a week's time, and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated.

Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by L. Rosenheimer.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. church, Hazel Salve will heal a burn and stop the pain at once.

It will cure eczema and skin diseases and ugly wounds and sores. It is a certain cure for piles.

Counterfeits may be offered you, but you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. All druggists.

An Appropriate Reminder.

He was rather a rascally young man and kept very late hours. He was going on a long journey, and on bidding farewell to his beloved he said to her: "Darling, when I am far away I will nightly gaze at you star and think of thee. Will thou, too, gaze at it and think of me?"

"I will, indeed, dearest," she replied. "If I needed anything to remind me of you I would choose that star."

"Why?" he asked. "Because it is always out so late at night and looks so pale in the morning."—Pick Me Up.

Feelings of safety pervade the household that uses One Minute Cough Cure, the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results.

It is infallible for coughs, colds, croup and all throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. All druggists.

NOTICE.—For the next 60 days, only I offer a great sale of vehicles, consisting of single top-buggies, surreys, road and spring wagons, dairy and farm wagons, also some second-hand buggies and wagons, all of which have to go at astonishingly low prices.

Road wagons that sold for $35 now go at $29.50, and all other goods at proportionately reduced prices.—A. A. PESCH BACHER, Kewaskum.

Sun Worship in China.

That there was a tendency among primitive mankind toward the worship of nature is well known.

The recognition of irresistible and unknown forces led to their personification and to external acts of adoration, based upon the supposition that these forces are sentient.

Hence many pagan peoples erected temples to the gods of wind, thunder and fire. In China the north star is an object of constant worship.

There are temples to the sun and to the moon in Pekin in connection with the imperial worship. But in some regions the worship of the sun is a regular act of routine on the part of the people generally on a day in the second month, which they are pleased to designate his "birthday."

Early in the morning the villagers go to the east to meet the sun, and in the evening they go about toward the west to escort him on his way. This ends the worship of the sun for a year.

An exceedingly common manifestation of this nature of worship is in the reverence for trees, which in some provinces is so exceedingly common that one may pass hundreds of trees of all sizes, each of them hung with banners, indicating that it is the abode of some spirit.

Even when there is no external symbol of worship the superstition exists in full force. If a fine old tree is seen standing in front of a wretched hovel it is morally certain that the owner of the tree dare not cut it down on account of the divinity within.—Baltimore Sun.

Broken Bric-a-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's Cement.

The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why.

The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensive and do not show large profits.

Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement is a galena, while a large share of the so-called cement is a common, cheap, inferior material.

Major's cement is made of the best materials and is liquid glue upon the market and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profits.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each barrel of Major's cement contains 100 lbs. of Major's Magazine, which now amounts to over $1,000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876.

Do not accept any other brand of cement. Don't accept any other brand of cement. Don't accept any other brand of cement.

If you are all hands (and you will be likely to find that you are a good deal more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber and leather goods with Major's Leather Cement.

And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will thus save.

Former Kewaskumites Dies at Washington.

Major Selden N. Clark, who entered the army from here in October, 1862, as a private of the Twelfth Wisconsin regiment, died at Washington, D. C., last Tuesday, of heart trouble.

Some time after entering the army he was appointed second lieutenant of the Sixty-fourth U. S. Colored infantry, became first lieutenant and was later breveted captain and major of volunteers for faithful and meritorious service.

After the war Major Clark located at Washington and was appointed Indian agent at the La Pointe agency at Ashland, where he served for a time and then went into the Educational bureau, finally retiring from public service to engage in newspaper work.

Most Wisconsin men who have served in congress during the past 25 years knew Maj. Clark, and he had an intimate acquaintance with all public men who have actively participated in legislation relating to the tariff and finance. Probably no Washington newspaper man had more knowledge of political history and changes in economy and financial law than was possessed by Maj. Clark.

OVERCOAT BARGAINS.

Also great values in underwear and clothing, at The Quick Sale, West Bend. See next week's ads.

Seeing them is Enough. The price you pay for a Jacket or suit is high or low, according to how much satisfaction it gives. No matter what you pay for something distasteful, it's dear at any price. Just so with good things; they're cheap at any price. But best of all is, get good satisfaction giving things at a low price—that's the Palmer Garment. Just to meet this demand it was put on the market. To prove how well it does, come in and ask our clerks to show you the line; it will need no more talking. For sale by... L. ROSENHEIMER, Kewaskum, Wisconsin.
