Prof. Brewer said, in speaking of the proposed trip, that the idea of professors of leading American universities trying to reach the North pole in an expedition is a unique one and he is confident it will succeed.

COURT SUSTAINS TAX BOARD. The Increase in Michigan Valuation

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—President McKinley will begin his second term with both Houses of Congress strongly Republican. Returns from states which elect Legislatures which elect United States senators indicate that the Republican majority in the Senate will be at least as large as it is now. The House of Representatives has been carried by a veritable landslide. The Republican gains have not been confined to any one section of the country. The East, the West and even the South have contributed to the increased Republican majority. Districts have been carried that even the Republican managers were disposed to concede to the Democrats.

Returns from the legislative tickets in several of the states are delayed, making it impossible to give exact figures as to the strength of parites in the new Senate.

The Increase in Michigan Valuations Amounts to $50,000,000.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 8.—The increase of nearly $50,000,000 made in the assessed valuation of upper peninsula counties made by the State Tax commission will stand, the Supreme court having granted the mandamus asked for in a test case to compel the assessor of the city of Ishpeming to use the commission's assessments in extending the tax on the rolls. The commission increased assessments an aggregate of $70,000,000 in the state, the hardest-hit county being Houghton, which was raised $38,000,000.

The court says it is not the duty of an opinion that the action of his superiors has not conformed to the law. He has merely to do his duty as prescribed by the law.

The city and county of Milwaukee did its share in the great Republican landslide of yesterday. The entire Republican county ticket was elected, the three states senators were elected, the assemblymen were elected by the Republicans, Congressman Otjen was elected in the Fourth district and those portions of Milwaukee county in the Fifth district contributed their share towards the re-election of Congressman Samuel S. Barney over Charles H. Weisse. The Republican county ticket went in by nearly 9000 votes, with the exception of Theodore Zillmer, the nominee for sheriff, upon whom a special fight was made with the result that he ran behind the ticket, but was elected by about 3000.

As the result of an election bet, Miss Milled Ruegg, first assistant in the high school, rode in a wheelbarrow from the same soil. The mustard farmer must therefore alternate his crops, and he usually does so by putting half of his land in beans, barley, corn or beets, while the other half is given over to mustard, and thus a change in the soil becomes regular. What principle of the soil is withdrawn by this peculiar sauce piquant is a mystery that science has not school, rode in a wheelbarrow from the schoolhouse to the postoffice, a distance of two blocks. WAGES ARE REDUCED. Pierce Workers at the Case Factory

Pierce Workers at the Case Factory in Racine Refuse to Accept
New Schedule.

Racine, Wis.. Nov. 8.—[Special.]—The J. I. Case plow works reopened its factory this morning, after being closed for about four months. About thirty of the pieceworkers have refused to go back to work under the new scale of wages, which greatly reduces their earnings. The men who refused to go to work were employed in the machine and blacksmith shops. All of them were presented with contracts this morning, which they were told to sign. The contracts provided that they would do the work for a certain sum, which the men claim was from 60 to 75 per cent. less than they received before. Besides this they were told to buy new drills, which would cost each man about $10. The men refused to sign the contract and did not return to work.

The officials of the company claimed that the reason that the wages of the pieceworkers were reduced was to increase the wages of other mechanics and laborers.

Broken Bric-a-Bracs. Mr. Major, the famous cement man of New Cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are too expensive and do not show large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.55 a pound, and another costs $2.65 a gallon, while a large share of the so-called cements and liquid glue upon the market are nothing more than 16c glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly ic acid, and in some cases, altered slightly or and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials.

Major's cement retails at 15c and 25c a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make larger profit.

The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising, which now amounts to over $8.000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876.

Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any goods-the prices will do the rest.

lished in 1876.
Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off-hand advice from a druggist.
If you are all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are a good deal more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber and leather articles with Major's Leather Cement.
And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will thus save.
If your druggist can't supply you, it will be forwarded by mail (either kind) free of postage. MILLINERY Conditions a Bigger Item of Expense than Labor and Material.

The actual labor involved in the making of a £120 dress in Paris after it leaves the cutter's hands seldom exceeds £2. But, it may be asked, where does the rest of the money go? In the first place, quite £20 must be allocated to the chief for his originative genius, his administrative talent and the maintenance of himself and family. Then before his aristocratic clients can come in to give their orders he must provide an expensive establishment luxuriously fitted and their orders he must provide an expensive establishment, luxuriously fitted and furnished in the heart of fashionable Paris. He must surround himself with an equally-expensive staff, composed of men and women who, by their suavity of manner, business experience, talent and tact, are competent to satisfy and even delight the most capricious, frivolous, irresolute, "finical" creatures in the world. These items would absorb another £30. Interest on capital and on money outstanding would represent another £8.

Considering that bad debts in these smart establishments are officially declared to amount to 12 per cent. of the annual turnover, about £14 must be allowed for that eventuality. Adding £28 for the material, the total cost would be £102, leaving 15 per cent., or £18, profit!—London M. A. P.

MICHAELMAS HIRING FAIR.

How the English Farmer is Able to Secure His Help. Michaelmas hiring fair brought throngs of men and women, young and old, into the picturesque streets of High Wycombe, drawn from a radius that extended far beyond the limits of the county of Buckinghamshire. They stood in groups for the inspection of the farmers and their wives awaiting the possibility of wives, awaiting the possibility of a change of situation and an agreeable variation of wages. Shepherds and cowmen wore tufts of hair stuck in their caps to distinguish them, while the head-dress of ploughmen and team boys was substituted with brottly whitered. The embellished with knotted whipcord. The ounger candidates, taking advantage of the prevailing scarcity of labor, invariably sought an increase of wage, which was, as a rule, readily given, especially in cases where faithful service had been rendered.—London Telegraph.

Pariah Dogs Have Territorial Rules. Perhaps the most interesting and curihey live in distinct quarters. All the treets in Constantinople are divided up streets in Constantinople are divided up into separate dog quarters, which are inhabited by sets of dogs varying from from perhaps ten or twenty in number. The frontiers of each quarter are known only to the dogs themselves; though one can get to know them by noticing how far a dog will follow one when enticed by some food. Each separate colony guards its colony with the utmost vigilance, and these same creatures which seem so indifferent to all that goes on around them will at once jump up and bark at any strange dog that eneroaches upon their territory, and should the intruder persist they will set upon him and chase him out again. One wonders how the demarcation of these quarters was first arrived at.—London Graphic.

Odd Features of French Elections, There are some curious features con-nected with French Parliamentary elecnected with French Parliamentary elec-tions. For instance, no wall literature issued by a candidate or his friends may be printed on white paper—white being the color reserved for official announce-ments. In the days of the empire, when official candidates were known in the land, the addresses of the government's nominees were printed on white paper, and this, no doubt, had due weight with the more ignorant voters. Again, any elector whose name is mentioned in a newspaper can, if he feel himself agissued by a candidate or his friends may be printed on white paper—white being the color reserved for official announces. orrespondence. An Ancient Remedy.

For evil smells of all kinds there is a aluable remedy: Cut two or three large valuable remedy: Cut two or three large onions in quarters and put them in saucers on the floor and on any high shelf in the room under treatment. This applies to invalids' bedrooms, etc. The onions must be renewed every six hours. This simple process is not at all modern, for the Greeks, as well as the chevaliers of the Middle ages, held onions in great respect owing to their hygienic properties. Onions were, moreover, used as a preventive in times of plague and other rejections.

PURE BLOOD AND STRONG NERVES

With glowing health all things are possible, small annoyances fade into nothingness and real troubles are battled with successfully. Women who are blessed with perfect health are a constant joy to themselves and all around them. The beauty which health alone can make permanent is a crown which raises a woman above other women. Such beauty is always accompanied by a sweet disposition, for snappishness is a sure sign of ill-health and leaves its mark quickly on the features. It seems to be the fashion for women to ignore health and sacrifice it to the little every-day trials, or offer it up on the altar of devotion to daily tasks. Then again the nervous organization of women is constantly attacked by woman's natural experiences, so that it is practically impossible for her to retain the beauty which nature gave her, unless she has discriminating advice and right support.

Dr. Greene's

Flushing, L. I., says: "In regard to myself, I have suffered for years "In regard to myself, I have suffered for years of the disease, having been troubled with great nor-counces, female complaints, indigestion, and reat weakness and prostration. I did not ave strength to do much of anything. Knowing the great value of health and strength consulted doctors and took many meditures but they all feiled to cure myself. and I grew worse rather than better.

I happened to see in the papers how much good Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, was doing in blood and nerve remedy, was doing in restoring to health everybody who took it, and I thought I would try a bottle. I used it and to my surprise I began to gain strength every day. I am so thankinl that I tried it! It is certainly the most excellent tonic and strength giver. I recommend it very highly and wish that other people who are troubled in any way would take warning and use it."

TO PRESERVE WOMANLY BEAUTY

At all the stages of a woman's life Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nervo remedy, is shown to be efficient to ward off the results of nervousness, or overwork, or impure blood. From early girlhood to advanced years, this worldrenowned medicine builds up the forces destroyed by disease, grief, or overexertion, and the effects of this great medicine are quickly felt and permanently retained. Let women guard well their health, and consult Dr. Greene freely. Nothing they can possibly do will so surely keep them strong and well, or repair the exhaustion from acute illness, nothing will work so continually to the preservation of beauty as the great health-giving Nervura. Dr. Greene's office is at 85 West 14th Street, New York City, where he may be consulted either by personal call or by letter Women may write in perfect confidence, and get Dr. Greene's advice free.

"How bright it is, how calm, how clean; quite like a lovely life," says Mr. Crawford in a low tone. "One can see right into it. There is nothing hidden. Down in the very depths of it there are only polished stones, that shine like jewels; all is purity, peace—" A heavy sigh stays his

"He does not know that," interrupts who has gone on a little in front, in thoughts of her own. A small, a brown thing has run out from the ank of the river almost at her feet, and making a rush for the shelter of some tones farther off. A shrill bark from the terrier that is following close at Mr. The terrier that is following close at Mr. Crawford's heels, tells them what it is. Terror lends her wings, but too late; the terrier, an implacable, wire-haired creature, the control of the cont hrows her heart into her race. Terror lends her wings, but too late; the terrier, an implacable, wire-haired creature, has seen her, and makes a forward dash. "Oh! stop him; don't let him kill it." cries Evelyn in a voice of agony. The thought that she may see the rat mangled before her eyes causes her a sick sensation; the training of her youth has made her almost as active as the dog himself, and by a quick effort she flings herself on her knees before him, and catches his struggling little body in her hands.

Maddened by his disappointment and furious at the loss of his prey, the dog with a shrill yelp turns upon Evelyn, in the desire it for another, are two different phases of feeling. "Do not ask me to lay bare my heart," says he in a low tone. "It is too full—of you!"

"Ah!" says she. There is time for no more. Crawford's fingers have closed like a visc upon the dog's neck, forcing the animal to open its jaws. Dragging him from Evelyn's arm, he holds him with a violent strength for a moment or two, shaking him backward and forwards, and then with a fierce imprecaways that I consider myself blessed above measure in that you have consented to give me your friendship and to let me give you my love."

"A poor bargain," with a faint smile.
"A rich one, I think. Ah! here are the others. Would you rather go into the house? You have been distressed. "You are not hurt?" cries he, turning s livid face to Evelyn—the eyes glowg, the nostrils dilated and white. "He is not torn you?"

No-no, it is nothing, nothing. But dog!" exclaims Evelyn in a panting isper. She shudders convulsively, and aks away from him, pointing in terrified manner to the spot on which the body of the dog is lying. "It is a pity," says Mr. Crawford To Evelyn it seems that it is almost more than that; but she is in a specially depressed mood in which all unpleasant things take alarmingly huge proportions. The killing of that dog is still fresh to her. The scene refuses to be laid, and repeats itself over and over before her imagination. And Mr. Crawford's face! FOND DU LAC NEWS.

DIES AGED 102 YEARS.

Death of "Grandma" Robinson, an Old Settler of Fond du Lac.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 7 .-- [Special.] -Fond du Lac's beloved centenarian, 'Grandma" Robinson, aged 102 years nonths and 18 days, died at the home resterday afternoon. For weeks she had yesterday afternoon. For weeks she had bravely fought a malady that at times physicians thought she would overcome, but her strength was gradually wasted and finally ended her remarkable life. She was conscious until her last moments and expressed a desire to live longer "if God so willed it."

er "if God so willed it."

Charity Jane Robinson was a wonderful woman, wonderful in many ways. Finely educated, possessing a cheerful disposition and fine powers of conversation, she had in her younger days been a favorite in all the circles in which she moved. As her years advanced she lost none of her cheerfuleses and ratained all none of her cheerfulness and retained all the faculties that made her so popular in her more youthful days. The last decade or more the entire community has had a common interest in "Grandma" Robinson, as she was lovingly known to all.

She was born in Ire'and, her father being a prominent officer in the British navy. She came to America in 1865, her husband, a retired British officer, dying on board ship en the way to this country. She came to Fond du Lac and made her home with her brother. Heary made her home with her brother, Heary Powers, in East Division street. After his death she lived with her son in Oshkosh until his death, when she returned to Fond du Lac. For the last few years she has lived at the home. She was a member of the Episcopal church. Three years ago she tripped on a carpet and fell, breaking her hip, an injury from which she never entirely recovered. and fell, breaking her hip, an injur from which she never entirely recovered

A Counter Alliance.

London, Nov. 8, 3 a. m.—A special from St. Petersburg says:

"The Novoe Vremya has just had another beautiful dream to the effect that an understanding has been formed between Russia, France, Japan and the United States by way of a counterpoise to the Anglo-German agreement. The report unquestionably is of the wish-father-to-the-thought order. Yet the Vremya, to add a bit of verisimilitude, declares that the publication of the announcement was officially sanctioned. The Vremya adds that the results of the new alliance will become specifically apparent if McKinley is re-elected President of the United States."

The department still declines to make public any of the details. No advice has yet been received here confirming the report that Russia has annexed territory in Chih Ll province, and the impression prevails that if the Russians have occupied any territory there, it is simply a military movement in preparation for the maintenance of the Russian forces at a suitable base on the road to Pekin for the approaching winter. winter.

THE TURN OF LIFE.

BY RIGHT OF CONQUEST. The Most Important Period in a Woman's Existence. - Mrs. Johnson Tells How She Was Helped Over the Trying Time.

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very anoying, and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are only a few of the symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. The three following letters are guaranteed to be genuine and true, and still further prove what a great medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - I have been sick for a long time. I was taken sick with flooding. All my trouble seemed to be in the womb. I ache all the time at the lower part of the womb. The doctor says the womb is covered with ulcers. I suffer with a pain on the left side of my back over the kidney. I am fifty years old and passing through the change of life. Please advise me what to do to get relief. Would like to hear from you as soon as possible."— MRS. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

"I have been taking your remedies, and think they have helped me a great deal. I had been in bed for ten weeks when I began taking your Vegetable Compound, but after using it for a short time I was able to be up around the house. The aching in the lower part of womb has left me. The most that troubles me now is the flowing. That is not so bad, but still there is a little every day. I am not discouraged yet, and shall continue with your medicine, for I believe it will cure me."—Mrs. Charlotte Johnson, Monelova, Ohio.

"I send you this letter to publish for the benefit of others. I was sick for about nine years so that I could not do my work. For three months I could not sit up long enough to have my bed made. I had five different doctors, and all said there was no help for me. My trouble was change of life. I suffered with ulceration of the womb, pain in sides, kidney and stomach trouble, backache, headache, and dizziness. I am well and strong, and feel like a new person. My recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knew me. I owe all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not do without your medicine for anything. There is no need of women suffering so much if they would take your remedies, for they are a sure cure."—Mrs. Charlotte

When one stops to think about the good Mrs. Johnson derived from Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine, it seems almost beyond belief; yet it is all true as stated in her three letters published above at her own request. As a matter of positive fact Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of letters from women who have been safely carried through that danger period 'Change of Life." Mrs. Johnson's cure is not an unusual ham's medicine to accomplish.
