JUDGING by the number of hunters who have been accidentally shot in the northern part of the state this season, bullet-proof suits should sell well in Wisconsin.

IN Milwaukee it was to be expected that the man who fell on the street in a fatal fit would be carted off by the police as a "dead drunk" subject for the calaboose.

WITH the battle ship Kentucky backing up our claim of $100,000 against Turkey, even the Sultan may conclude that the only way to avoid a fight is to settle the account.

FRANK SARGENT seems to at least know enough about the office of chief of the Bureau of Engraving to decide that he is more qualified to continue as chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

AT Oconomowoc a $5 bill issued by the Continental congress in 1776 is proving as great a curiosity as the finest piece of wood-work yet turned out by the Beechwood mill which made the celebrated inlaid table now on exhibition among the Lincoln relics at the Smithsonian institute in Washington.

SINCE it is reported that "the administration is not disposed to join with the other governments in making demands which the Chinese government cannot comply with," it would be cruel to intimate that Uncle Sam is preparing to again undergo his "gold brick" experience with Spain in settling with China.

EUROPEAN relatives of one John Mueller, who died a pauper at West Superior last December, now find that he owned 40 acres of land on the Mesaba range for which "Iron King" Carnegie offers $250,000. This sum, if accepted, undoubtedly will induce the relatives to also leave Germany and take up some land here.

MARTIN IRONS, who directed the great Missouri Pacific railway strike in the 80's, died at Bruceville, Tex., last Saturday. For years after the strike fell through Irons was so boycotted by railroad employers that many former associates shunned him through fear of losing their jobs. His passing marks the exit of another martyr to the cause of organized labor.

WITH the end of the rainy season in Luzon it is reported that the American troops are preparing to make a series of aggressive movements against the insurgents; but, in view of the poor progress which the British are now making against guerilla warfare in South Africa, this information is not very encouraging to those who hope for a speedy close of the war in the Philippines.

LARGE business firms now keep posted upon the personal habits of the average trusted employee, even to the extent of hiring a detective to "shadow" him, but the directors of a Newport Ky., national bank having a capital stock of but $100,000 did not know or mind the expensive habits of an assistant cashier until National Bank Examiner Tucker found the fellow had defaulted to the tune of $201,000. Just how long depositors will put up with present laws covering such cases likely depends upon how often banks fail, as even numerous thefts of horses have been known to arouse the people so that Judge Lynch reigned supreme in dealing with the thieves in some states.

JUDGING by an article in the Wauwatosa Times, the Blue book cut of our state prison is designed to make the "pen" look as uninviting as possible.

The Pending Constitutional Amendments.

There are now three proposed amendments which have passed the legislature and have been published in full for the past three months as prescribed by the constitution. If passed by the next legislature they will be submitted to a vote of the people. These amendments are all important in their way, but the issues of the campaign so attracted public attention that little discussion has arisen upon them, but as they have yet to pass the second legislature and be voted upon by the people, there is ample time for discussion. The first, known as joint resolution No. 5, does away with the pass system by a constitutional amendment. This is already statutory, and as the statute has not yet been questioned in the courts, the amendment may seem superfluous, but it may at least give stability to the law. The second, joint resolution No. 13, is intended to give the legislature plenary power to pass banking laws, laws which the constitution now requires to be ratified by a vote of the electors. The third proposed amendment aims to take the office of state superintendent out of politics, by having that officer elected at the same time and manner as members of the supreme court. Incidentally it gives the legislature power to fix the salary. At present it is limited by the constitution to $1,200 but as that is less than half of what many men elected to the office received as teachers, it has been the practice for years for the legislature by some formality to make up an adequate salary.—Neilsville Republican.

Wm. Butter, traveling agent for a Mayville leather house, was here last Tuesday. When here before he was an uncompromising Democrat, but now modestly says that McKinley is his president.

On the 16th inst. Thos. Coulter was badly kicked on the forehead by a horse which Mr. Hauser, the Lomira cattle dealer, had stabled at the former's place. However, his injuries are not serious.

Mrs. Mary Connell and daughter Catherine of Janesville, who have been visiting relatives here the past two weeks, returned to their home Wednesday, accompanied by Miss Margaret Connell of this place.

DEEDS.—On the 7th inst., at his home near here, in the town of Scott, John O'Connell, in the 82d year of his age. Three years ago the deceased sustained a stroke of paralysis, from the effects of which he never fully recovered, and which ultimately caused his death. He was born in the county Meath, Ireland; came to America in 1846; married Miss Margaret Nolan in 1850 at Waterville, N. Y.; came to Wisconsin in 1854, and settled on the farm where he lived the rest of his life. The funeral was held on the 10th inst., from the Mitchell church, with Rev. Burke officiating and interment in the adjoining cemetery beside the remains of his wife, who died nine years ago. The funeral procession was one of the largest that went to Mitchell in many years, showing the esteem in which Mr. O'Connell was held by all who knew him. He is survived by seven sons and three daughters—Andrew, James and Frank of Washington state, William and John of Montana, Joseph and Dan of Milwaukee, Mmes. Stack of Oscola, Hughes of Sheboygan, and Miss Margaret at home.

Mr. O'Connell was loved and respected in this community, of a happy and cheerful disposition, guileless, a true christian, a devout member of his church, a kind father, loving husband, unpretentious and charitable, a philanthropist who never sent the needy unaided from his door, one of God's noblest works, an honest man. May his soul rest in peace.

John Sherman lost his first position in a surveyor's party when he had reached the age of 15 years. Then it was that he indulged in his first speculation—one of the few that to him were unsuccessful.

Salt was cheap in the head waters of the Muskingum river, but commanded fancy prices in Cincinnati. It seemed to young Sherman that it would be a good chance to put his little capital into salt, place the barrels in a small, flat-bottomed boat, and let it float down to Cincinnati. A native of Sherman's birthplace thus describes what followed:

"Well, he got along all right the day he started. Long after dusk he tied up for the night, but such a cold snap came up that the river froze so John couldn't make a start till morning."

"That wasn't the worst of it, the ice got thicker and thicker, and the long an' short of it was that John had to lie there till spring an' build a roof over his cargo to save it from being spoiled by the winter rains. Come spring, he got along to Cincinnati, but by that time the city was full of salt, an' he had to sell out at a loss, an' lose all his skin diseases. All druggists.

A New Swindle. Exchanges from various parts of the state tell of a new fakir in the rural regions. He drives through the country and sells soap at $5 a box, which sum includes payment for 40 yards of premium carpet selected from samples in his wagon. He takes the $5, leaves the box of soap, promises to deliver the kind of carpet selected from the samples, and drives away. The soap, which is probably worth 50c, stays with the purchaser. The carpet, which undoubtedly would be worth $15, is still among the longest for things that never came.—X.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others, Why Not You? My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and concluded to try it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle, and her shoulder is almost well.—Adolph L. Millit, Manchester, N. H. For sale by L. Rosenheimer.

An editor in a neighboring town is suffering from heart trouble brought on by a surprise. A gentleman came in to settle up, and upon paying his subscription he handed the editor $2 extra as he remarked: "Guess you have earned that, too. Every time anything happened in my family, or I made an extra deal in my business, you have mentioned it in the paper, and I want you to know I appreciate it." This is a refreshing occurrence these days, when wide and sweeping criticism of local papers is about all the average reader condescends to give us.—Ex.

"You have a daughter, have you not, sir?" said a minister to an old gentleman with whom he had formed a casual acquaintance as a fellow passenger. The old gentleman essayed to answer, but the question had strangely affected him.

"I beg your pardon," said the minister, "if I have thoughtlessly awakened in your mind recollections of a painful nature. The world is full of sorrow, sir, and perhaps my question recalls to your memory a fair, beautiful girl whose blossoming young life had withered in its bloom. Am I right sir?"

"No, not exactly," replied the old gentleman sadly. "I have five unmarried daughters, minister, and the youngest of the lot is 28 years old."—Tit-Bits.

A PROMINENT LADY

Speaks in Highest Terms of Peruna as a Catarrh Cure.

Mrs. M. A. Theatre, member Rebecca Lodge, Iola Lodge; also member of Woman's Relief Corps, writes the following letter from 1828 Jackson street, Minneapolis, Minn.:

Mrs. M. A. Theatre, Minneapolis, Minn.

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
I have been troubled with catarrh of the bladder for several years. I have tried many remedies without relief. A friend advised me to try Peruna, and I began to use it faithfully before each meal. Since then I have always kept it in the house. I am now in better health than I have been in over twenty years, and I feel sure my catarrh is permanently cured.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—catarrh. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause; nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause. Address The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a book treating of catarrh in its different phases and stages, also a book entitled "Health and Beauty," written especially for women.

FADED IN HER YOUTH

Pretty faces and graceful forms of young women! Why is it they are so soon replaced by plainness and lankness? It is because the young girl just entering into womanhood does not know how to take care of herself and has no one competent to instruct her. It is not necessary that there should be anything weakening or wearying about the obligations of a female organism. Parents of young girls should inform themselves and prevent their dear ones from making costly errors.

Dr. Greene's

For the Blood and Nerves

Dr. Greene's Nervina, blood and nerve remedy, is the right medicine for every young girl who is just entering the first stage of womanhood. It addresses the system in every way to act normally. Fortified with this great medicine, all the womanly duties may be undertaken and experienced without the slightest jeopardy to health. # FIRST T-RAILS IN AMERICA.

Made in Cardiff, Wales, for the Cardiff and Anchor Railroad. In recognition of Andrew Carnegie's gift of $10,000 for a new building in the University of Technology in London, the first t-rail was laid in London. It was a 30-pound t-rail from the Camden & Amble railway, which was a suitable receptacle. The incident has a local interest inasmuch as the rails were rolled in the town of Cardiff in 1850 and were the first t-rails designed or made, although the t-rails rolled in France several years later. The rails were rolled in Cardiff with the earliest. The former were designed by Robert L. Stevens, who was sent to England to have them made. They were made in Cardiff at that time and were used in America at that time. They were made in Cardiff at that time and were used in America at that time.

German in World Politics.

The German empire has left its period of evolution behind it and has entered upon its epoch of growth. Says Sir Crispin in the Chicago Tribune, "Germany is now the taskmaster of the world, and the foundation of the structure of the empire and in cementing it together, it has been a period of blissful work devoted to the inner completion of the German nation. Even when the German people have devoted itself to the solution of the German problem, it has not been comprised in the words 'world politics'."

Religion of Laziness in Kiev.

Kiev papers give particulars of an extraordinary religious community in that city, whose chief tenet is idleness. They are known as the "Meditative Brotherhood" and were founded by a man named Korotkiy in 1872. The brotherhood began to propagate its strange sect. Basing their faith on the words of the Bible, they "toil not, neither do they spin," the Malenitskiy reject all work except that of the household. They wear simple garments, and restrict themselves to a diet of bread and cheap fruits.—London Express.

How Knights Are Made.

The ceremony of the creation of a knight has been variously described. The principal was a box on the ear and a stroke with a sword on the shoulder. The knight with the naked fist was in use among the ancient Normans. It was afterward changed to blow with the flat of the sword on the shoulder of the knight, and this ceremony is still in use.

CHINESE HOUSES.

Some of the Peculiarities of the Imperial Capital. In the four cities which make up the capital, and particularly in the imperial city, the houses are of a very peculiar character. ### LONG-DISTANCE DIPLOMACY.

The Telegraph Has Added to Its Commerce. In the year of "Conger dispatches," trans-Pacific cable projects and long-distance diplomacy, an incident connected with the long days of the electric telegraph may have repetition. Mr. Louis Adolphe Thiers, afterwards President of the French republic, was even then a veteran in the public service of his nation, and had little to learn of war or the world. To him came a young attaché, full of enthusiasm over the new telegraph, and he was told that there were to be no more international misunderstandings. The long days of the telegraph were numbered, and it was known almost instantaneously in all capitals.

Knowing Where to Find It.

Education, it has been said, is not knowing many things, but knowing how to find out what you want to know. There are persons who have the commendable habit of writing to find out anything. Then the editor picks a book of reference from the shelf and answers the questioner had the same book on his shelf, only he was not educated to the point of knowing that that was the book to look in.—New York Tribune.

OTHERHOOD.

How shall a mother who is weak and sick with some female trouble bear healthy children? How anxious women ought to be to give their children the blessing of a good constitution! Many women long for a child to bless their home, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs, they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, more successful than any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the parts, curing all displacements and inflammation.

Actual sterility in women is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all expectant or would-be mothers.

Mrs. A. D. Jarret, Belmont, Ohio, writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham—I must write and tell you what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. Before taking your medicine, I was unable to carry baby to maturity, having lost two—one at six months and one at seven. The doctor said next time I would die, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I did not die, but am the proud mother of a six-months old girl baby. She weighs nineteen pounds and has never seen a sick day in her life. She is the delight of our home."

Mrs. Whitney's Gratitude. From the time I was sixteen years old till I was twenty-three I was troubled with weakness of the kidneys and terrible pains when my monthly periods came on. I made up my mind to try your Vegetable Compound, and was soon relieved. The doctor said I never would be able to go full time and have a living child, as I was constitutionally weak. I had lost a baby at seven months and another at nine months. I was so weak that I could not get up to take your Compound; and I said then, if I went my full time and my baby lived to three months old, I should send a letter to you. My baby is now seven months old and is as healthy and hearty as any one could wish. I cannot express my gratitude to you. I was so weak that I did not dare to go away from home for a month. I had found relief in your Compound, and I finally reached home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and may others who are suffering from weakness of the kidneys, and who are in the future as in the past, and may many homes be brightened as mine has been.—Mrs. L. Z. Whitney, 4 Flint St., Somerville, Mass.
