Typhoon wrecks the United States Cruiser Yosemite.

FIVE MEN ARE LOST.

The Warship is Scuttled by the Crew and is Damaged Beyond Hope of Repair.

Manila, Nov. 29.—Crushed and battered beyond hope of repair and at last scuttled by the crew which deserted it, the United States auxiliary cruiser Yosemite now lies at the bottom of the ocean.

Five men from the American warship, who set out on the morning of the incident, are believed to have perished, and the entire crew of the vessel narrowly escaped death when the typhoon struck their craft.

The loss of the Yosemite is only one of the incidents of a terrible typhoon which swept over the island of Guam on November 13, according to advices brought here yesterday afternoon.

The storm demolished hundreds of dwellings, including Gov. Schroeder's headquarters.

The towns of Ingebran and Teraofuro were obliterated. It is believed that the coconut crops for four years to come have been ruined and the vegetable gardens have been killed by the salt water.

The storm burst with terrific rapidity at about 1 o'clock in the morning, and the Yosemite, which was occupying a berth near the collier Justin, dragged its anchor and was carried to the beach.

A launch with a crew of five men had been ordered to take the Yosemite to a safe anchorage for the cruiser, but the indications being that the anchor was being carried away by the typhoon, it was not seen after they left the ship, and it is practically certain that the launch and its crew were swamped.

The bodies of Coxswain Swanson and Seaman George White were recovered at the typhoon's subsided.

The storm raged around after the Yosemite, and the vessel was driven off and carried on the Sompaye cliffs, where its rudder and propeller were broken.

Boatswain Sweeney and twelve of the crew were taken to the beach. A boat was lowered for this purpose, but it was immediately swamped by the waves.

All its occupants were carried away from the boat, but they succeeded in reaching the beach after an hour's struggle with the waves.

Meanwhile the atmosphere had become so thick with rain and wind, that again had been blown off the land, was drifting helplessly before the force of the wind at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

Denver, Col., Nov. 29.—The news today says that plans are practically completed for the erection of three giant smelters at the foot of the Front Range in Colorado.

Each of the new smelters will be practically the same plant as the one now being built at the foot of the Front Range. Each of the new smelters will be provided with refineries, where gold, silver, copper or lead can be refined to a degree.

Eastern and Colorado capital has been secured. It is estimated that the plants will cost $1,000,000 each.

DEATH OF MR. DAVIS.

Passes Away After Months of Prolonged Acute Suffering.

UNCONSCIOUS AT LAST.

In His Delirium He Talked of His Work in Congress, Which He Was Eager to Resume.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 28.—After an illness beginning two months ago in an apparently trivial abrasion of one of his feet, developing later into poisoning of the blood, Senator Davis passed away at 8:48 last evening. He had suffered greatly during his sickness and gradually sank away, being unconscious for several hours before death, and so frail as could be known, suffering from delirium.

For more than a week it has been known that the death of Senator Davis was certain to occur. The illness was the result of a severe attack of typhoid fever, which he contracted while on a tour of inspection in the Philippines, where he was turned over to the United States navy about a year ago.

A FIGHTING FAMILY.

The Metal of Heroes Shows in The Boones of Kentucky.

When Daniel Boone, the dauntless pioneer of Kentucky, went into a wild wilderness, where roamed ferocious beasts and still more savage men, to subdue it, he showed the stuff that makes heroes. When attacked he always struck back with great force. Mr. W. T. Boone, of Williamstown, in that state, lately showed that he also would resist dangerous attacks, one of which was lately made on his life. In a thrilling account of it he writes: "One very hot summer day I first felt the awful power of sun-stroke. I cannot describe the terrible agony that I suffered. For one month I felt the torture of a dry burning fever. I could scarcely eat anything. I lost all strength and vitality. Then followed terrible hemorrhages, when blood flowed from my lungs. It seemed that death from quick consumption was very near, and that I was lying on my dying bed, when a good friend urged me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. The result was marvelous. I only used one bottle, and in two weeks every trace of lung trouble had left me and I was completely cured. This grand medicine is the most invincible weapon of science to resist and overcome all attacks of Throat and Lung diseases. Countless thousands have proved that For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption, Asthma, Grip and all bronchial troubles Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal on earth. Only 50c and 80c. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free. At all druggists.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and painful very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by L. Rosenheimer.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proven effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—25 years' constant use without a failure. For sale by L. Rosenheimer.

After traveling along the road nearly all day he met a number of women chatting together. One of the crowd asked him what he wanted, whereupon he promptly answered: "A widow woman." Several of the ladies were pointed out for him, but as none of them were of their red and robust enough to suit, the poor man continued his search from house to house without avail.

Rheumatism.

Nobody knows all about it; and nothing, now known, will always cure it.

Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food.

You can do the same.

It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not, you will do no harm.

The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health.

When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it don't, it don't cure. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.
