Age Rule Abrogated.

An important change in the policy of the Roman Catholic church, with regard to the age when children may make their first communion, will shortly be promulgated by Archbishop S. G. Messmer.

The Pope has already issued a decree that the rules requiring children to be at least twelve years of age before making their first communion shall be abrogated. Under this decree children will be admitted to the sacrament when they attain the necessary intelligence and knowledge of their religion regardless of age.

The decree issued by the Pope has already been published in some dioceses, but Archbishop Messmer has decided to withhold his pastoral letter on the subject until he receives more information from Rome.

I hereby wish to retract all that I have said against Mrs. John Guth.

MAIL SCHEDULE CHANGED

Sunday Mail to Arrive Earlier by Several Hours.

POST-OFFICE TO BE CLOSED EARLIER

Postoffice Hereafter will be Closed After 9 O'clock Instead of 10 O'clock.

Announcement was made last Sunday of a new mail train schedule which went into effect that day. The new schedule makes the Sunday mail train somewhat earlier.

According to the new schedule the mail train, which has been arriving in this village at 8:50 A. M. on Sundays, will arrive here at 8:18 the regular day schedule. This train carries the Chicago and Milwaukee Sunday papers. It will mean that the citizens of this village will be supplied with their mail earlier than heretofore.

Information given out by Postmaster Koch this week, is that the local post office will hereafter be closed after 9 A. M. instead of 10 A. M. as heretofore. Those who wish to have their mail and are in the habit of sleeping longer on Sunday mornings should bear in mind to get up somewhat earlier, or else they will be without their mail.

Commencing tomorrow, Sunday, March 5, No. 141, due here on Sundays only at 8:50 A. M., will be discontinued. Hereafter there will be no north-bound passenger train on Sunday until 6:38 in the evening. The discontinuance is due to economy. Several more changes can be expected in the future.

Guarantee of Deposits Again.

Two years ago the Wisconsin legislature investigated the Guarantee of Deposit plans, appointed a Special Committee composed of members of both Senate and Assembly, with Senator Owen as Chairman, to investigate banking laws with especial reference to the improvement of the banking law of Wisconsin. That Committee made a very thorough investigation, and journeyed to Oklahoma to witness the workings of the Guarantee Law at its "birthplace". The report of that Committee, submitted to the Legislature now in session after suggesting some amendments to the present law had the following to say regarding the Guarantee of Deposit proposition: "Owing to the fact that the success of the law has been proven as yet, coupled with the doubt existing as to its constitutionality, the exigencies of the banking situation in our state are not such, at the present time, as will justify the legislature in passing any law on the guaranteeing of bank deposits. When the law shall have been held constitutional and its success shall have been demonstrated by the experience of time, it will be sufficiently soon to consider a measure looking to the guaranteeing of bank deposits and it is therefore recommended that bills relating to this subject be indefinitely postponed."

Since that report was filed "no exigencies have arisen in Wisconsin" to warrant hasty action by the present Legislature, especially as other States are now experimenting with such a law and will have demonstrated, by the next session of our Legislature, whether the plan is desirable for all parties concerned, and just what improvements are desirable.

WEST BEND HAS BIG FIRE

Enger-Kress Pocket-Book Works Destroyed by Fire.

BAD BLOW FOR WEST BEND

Five Hundred Hands Thrown Out of Employment. Was Largest Factory of Its Kind in the United States.

The Enger-Kress pocket book factory, the principal industry of the City of West Bend, was totally destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The fire was first noticed about 12:30 at night and two hours later the entire works was in ruins. It is not known how the fire originated and never will be known. It is supposed to have been started by defective electric wiring as it started in the stock room near the switch board.

With the exception of a wagon load of leather, nothing was saved. It is estimated that the buildings, stock of manufactured goods, stock of leather, machinery and patterns represented a value of about $150,000. The company carried insurance to the amount of about $110,000.

Nearly one-half of the city of West Bend depended upon the factory. At the present time they intend to do in regard to rebuilding, but it is expected that they will again rebuild at West Bend.

The company located at West Bend seventeen years ago. Previously to that time they were at North Milwaukee, where their factory was destroyed by fire. At present the company has opened temporary quarters in the Knitting mill property at West Bend, and are busily engaged in getting matters in shape for the continuation of the business.

Another Public Marriage.

Following is a clipping handed to us by J. Burt Johnson from one of the Lacon, Ill., papers.

"Lacon theatre goes last night had the pleasure of witnessing a real marriage on the stage which was not a part of the performance which closed the two night engagement of the J. Burt Johnson theatrical company, but was a scene in real life. The principals in the matrimonial event were Ben G. Yankow, of New York City, and Miss Nan Pollis, of Chicago. Rev. Stephens was the officiating minister and the marriage ceremony took place with all the solemnity due the occasion. This is the second time within the memory of many Laconians that the stage of the Rose Opera House has been selected as a marriage altar by player folks.

The J. Burt Johnson company is one of the best, if not the best that has ever appeared in this city. Their plays were new and thrilling and excellently presented, while specialties introduced provided a good show by themselves. They have promised managers Shafer & Rose a return engagement and will without a doubt be greeted by a crowded house. The members of the entire company went from Lacon to their homes in various parts of the country for a two weeks vacation."

Mr. and Mrs. Yankow are quite well known here having appeared with Mr. Johnson's show here twice. Mrs. Yankow was the leading lady in both shows. We wish the newly weds an abundance of success and happiness in their married life.

Mrs. Strachota is Dead.

Mrs. Dorothy Strachota, wife of former Ald. Wenzel Strachota, and a pioneer resident of Milwaukee, died at her home at Milwaukee, 687 Walker street, last Saturday Mrs. Strachota was 60 years old, and had lived in Milwaukee for forty-two years. She had been ill for several weeks. The funeral was held at Holy Trinity church, Milwaukee at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mrs. Strachota is survived by her husband, two sons, Geo. and Frank, and two daughters, Anna and Sophia Strachota.

ST. MICHAELS.

Miss Susan Berres visited with her brother at Campbellsport for a few weeks.

Miss Ida Schiller and Mrs. I. G. Schiller spent Monday at West Bend with the latter's sister, Mrs. H. W. Schools.

Mrs. J. Berres Jr., returned from Theresa, where she spent two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Fellenz and family.

A party was given at Mrs. J. Meeth's place on last week Thursday evening by A. Salter, who took possession of the place.

Purchases an Auto.

H. J. Ebenreiter has purchased a 1911 model, four passenger Maxwell auto, which he expects to receive about April 1st.

The machine is a convertible one and will also be used in the furniture and undertaking business of Mr. Ebenreiter, which goes to show that he does not intend to be behind in the up-to-date procession.-Plymouth Reporter.

LOOT EXPRESS CAR

IRON MOUNTAIN TRAIN HELD UP IN ST. LOUIS BY TWO BANDITS.

ESCAPE WITH THEIR BOOTY

Messenger Is Bound and Gagged—Safe Robbed of Several Packages and Money Box Believed to Have Contained a Fortune.

St. Louis.—Two masked and armed robbers held up an express car on the Iron Mountain train within the city limits Tuesday night, escaping with several packages and a money box which they took from the safe after binding and gagging the messenger, M. H. McRobbins.

It is believed the robbers obtained a fortune, although no calculation of the loot was made.

The men boarded the train at Ivory station in the southern part of the city. The train had just left the station when Messenger McRobbin, feeling an inrush of cold air, went to the rear door of the car, which he found open. As he closed the door he was confronted by two revolvers held in the hands of the bandits. They forced the messenger to put his hands behind him and tied them and his feet with ropes, also placing a handkerchief into his mouth.

The pair then went to work on the safe and soon had it open. They selected several packages therefrom and took the money box and leaped from the train as it slowed down at Tower Grove station. They jumped off before the train stopped and disappeared. A large force of officers were soon dispatched in search of the robbers.

MURDER AT CHICAGO POLLS

Carter H. Harrison Nominated for Mayor by Democrats and Charles E. Merriam by Republicans.

Chicago.—Carter H. Harrison (Dem.) and Charles E. Merriam (Rep.) will be the candidates for mayor of Chicago at the election to be held April 4. Both Democratic and Republican organizations were smashed.

The bitterest primary election fight in the history of Chicago ended Tuesday with the selection of the above standard bearers and simultaneously begins what promises to be the most hotly contested fight for the actual mayorality in the city's history. The primary fight developed more bitter animus than has ever before been seen here.

One man was shot dead, several others were shot and stabbed, more or less seriously, and small riots were reported all over the city during the course of the voting.

Arthur Quinn, son of James A. Quinn, former city sealer, shot and killed a man believed to be Richard Clark, a union hod carrier.

The police say Clark was murdered while he was in the custody of an officer. Quinn is a deputy sheriff.

Patrick O'Hern, a bartender, was stabbed by an unidentified man in an election quarrel. His assailant escaped.

A dispute arose between Quinn and Clark and a fight followed. The man is said to have drawn a revolver and shot Quinn in the leg and then fled.

George Pierce, an election inspector, was near and drew a revolver and sought to arrest Clark. Quinn, who was only slightly wounded, grasped the weapon from Pierce's hand and followed his assailant.

Policeman Loftis, who had witnessed the shooting, arrested Clark and was holding him when Quinn ran up and shot Clark.

NINE DIE IN INDIAN BATTLE

Redskins Open Fire on Nevada Police and Kill One—Eight Braves Are Slain.

Reno, Nev.—In a battle which took place at Kelly Creek, Humboldt county, 25 miles from Golconda, in a northerly direction, eight Indians and one member of the state police were killed and the other members of the Indian band were made prisoners.

The Indian band, 12 in number, began the fight when the state police force came upon them.

For three hours the battle raged. It ended only when Ed Hoyle of the state police force and eight of the Indians had been killed. Then the remaining four Indians surrendered. Not one of their band escaped.

The police had been trailing the Indians for a week, believing they were the murderers of four stockmen, whose bodies were found ten days ago in a desolate canyon on the eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

The victims' horses had been taken and ponies which had been ridden by the murderers were found shot near by, the outlaws apparently concluding their own stock too weak to keep up with them in their flight.

DEFEAT DIRECT VOTE

RESOLUTION FAILS TO RECEIVE NECESSARY MAJORITY.

Borah Who Has Lead Fight for Popular Election of Senators Will Continue Battle.

Washington.—By a vote of 54 to 33, two-thirds not voting in the affirmative, as required for constitutional amendments, the senate Tuesday defeated the resolution for the direct election of United States senators.

Responsibility for the defeat was divided between nine Democrats, who voted against the resolution because they feared that federal election laws might be invoked to carry out the provisions of the resolution, and six Republican "lame ducks," who voted against their colleagues who will remain in the senate after March 4. All told, the senators from 13 states split on the roll call, being in every instance except that of West Virginia members of the same political party. Senator Gallinger at first voted against, but later said it was an inadvertence and asked to be recorded in the negative. The absentees were Aldrich, Crawford, Frazier and Terrell of Georgia. It was announced that had they been present Frazier would have voted aye and Terrell nay. There was no announcement about Senator Aldrich.

AUSTRALIA TO BAR TRUSTS

Government Announces Determination to Prevent Foreigners Getting a Foothold on Industries.

Melbourne, Australia.—Australia served notice on the business world that it would not harbor foreign trusts. The following memorandum was given to the press Monday by Sir R. W. Best, minister of trade and customs:

"For several months it has been an open secret that representatives of the American meat trust have been visiting Australia, ostensibly with the object of extending its operations here. The government is determined to take immediate and drastic action to discourage and, if necessary, to prohibit its operations in Australia. It is not proposed to wait until the combine secures vested interests in this country. The action of the government will extend to trust operations in Australia, whether conducted directly or indirectly, and will not permit the repetition in Australia of the scandals and merciless methods characterizing monopolies in other parts of the world.

MAY CANCEL 5,000 CHARTERS

Many Illinois Corporations Liable for Not Making Annual Report to Secretary of State.

Springfield, Ill.—More than 5,000 Illinois corporations are threatened with the cancellation of their charters for failure to comply with the act requiring them to make annual reports to the secretary of state, between February 1 and March 1, showing the location of their principal office, kind of business engaged in, number and addresses of officers, etc.

The act applies to all corporations, both foreign and domestic, except banks, building and loan associations and insurance companies, which report to other departments of state.

It is probable Secretary of State Rose will allow a few days' grace after next Tuesday, in which delinquents may save themselves, after which time actions will be instituted to cancel the charters of the corporations that have failed to meet the law's requirement.

JUDGE WANTS ACTS PROBED

Whitford of Denver Demands that Grand Jury Look Into Charge He Took Bribe.

Denver, Colo.—Judge Greeley W. Whitford of the district court, who gained fame by sentencing striking miners to prison for contempt of court, demanded of the criminal division of the court that a grand jury investigation be made of the charge that he had accepted a bribe. The bribery charge was made by a witness at the legislative investigation of Judge Whitford, which is an outgrowth of the strike trouble.

Mrs. Margaret Miller, who was recently released from the state penitentiary testified before the legislative committee that she had handed Judge Whitford $3,000 which had been given to her by the Mine Owners' association.

Judge Bliss took the matter of an investigation under advisement.

BEFORE THE DAY OF THE SCIENTISTS

TO PROTECT DITCH

HOUSE DECIDES BY OVERWHELMING VOTE TO FORTIFY PANAMA CANAL.

AID IS GIVEN BY DEMOCRATS

Twenty Republicans Refuse to Support Measure Providing for Batteries to Guard Big Waterway—Sentiment in Senate is Favorable.

Washington.—By an overwhelming vote the house of representatives Saturday night appropriated $3,000,000 to begin work on the fortification of the Panama canal. The total cost of protecting the big waterway will be about $12,000,000.

There is no doubt of the result in the senate, where the sentiment is said to be two to one in favor of protecting the waterway with land batteries.

The house disposed of the question after nearly five hours of debate. The real test came on an amendment proposed by Representative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations, providing that no part of the $3,000,000 should be used until the president of the United States had attempted to negotiate treaties with all of the leading maritime nations guaranteeing the neutrality and international protection of the canal.

The Tawney amendment then was voted down by 130 to 63. A motion by Representative Keifer of Ohio to strike out all provision for the fortification of the canal was lost by a vote of 135 to 51.

The real interest in the debate seemed to center in the Tawney amendment, and the speeches made for and against it by Mr. Tawney and Mr. Sherley. Mr. Tawney, a stalwart Republican, looked to the Democratic side for sympathy and applause and received both. Mr. Sherley, one of the Democratic leaders of the house, was accorded an ovation by the Republican members. The defection of about twenty Republicans from the general policy of fortification was offset by a similar defection on the Democratic side in favor of fortification.

In passing the sundry bill carrying approximately $140,000,000, and of which the canal fortification provision was the last feature to be considered, the house made a new record. Never before has this biggest of all supply bills been put through in two days without any sort of "gag rule." It is taken as another evidence that the house is doing all it can to avoid an extra session.

EXTRA SESSION DATE FIXED

President Decides on April 4 After Consultation With Champ Clark and Underwood.

Washington.—So probable is it that an extra session of congress will be necessary in order to get action on the Canadian reciprocity agreement that President Taft has fixed April 4 as the date on which such a session may be called. This decision was reached after a consultation with Champ Clark, who will be speaker of the next house, and Representative Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the ways and means committee.

RATIFY JAP TREATY

SENATE VOTES TO CONFIRM NEW CONVENTION.

Japanese Give Written Assurance That Government Will Regulate Emigration of Coolies.

Washington.—The new Japan treaty was ratified Friday by the senate on the understanding that Japan will not impose coolies on the United States.

The objection to the convention has consistently been that it did not throw sufficient safeguards around the immigration of Japanese to the United States. Opposition was made to it by the people of California, and by their state legislature and by the people of the Pacific states generally.

The sole basis for the belief that immigration is safeguarded is the following personal statement for his government of Baron Uchida.

"In proceeding this day to the signature of the treaty of commerce and navigation between Japan and the United States, the undersigned Japanese ambassador in Washington duly authorized by his government, has the honor to declare that the Imperial Japanese government are fully prepared to maintain with equal effectiveness the limitation and control which they have for the past three years exercised in regulation of the emigration of laborers to the United States.

(Signed) Y. OCHIDA.
This was deemed sufficient certainty by the president and the state department and the president was active in his efforts to impress the California legislature with his view of the treaty's efficiency and sufficiency.

HILLES TO SUCCEED NORTON

Ohioan is Sighted to Become Secretary to President Taft Immediately After March 4.

Washington.—Charles D. Hilles of Ohio will be secretary to the president to succeed Charles N. Norton of Chicago.

The change will take place immediately after March 4, when Mr. Norton will go to New York to become vice-president of the First National bank of that city.

Mr. Hilles is a man of considerable force and ability, has tact, and knows politics. He has been assistant secretary to the treasury a couple of years and offered his resignation to take effect early next month in order to return to private work. He will be succeeded in the treasury department by Robert O. Bailey, a former newspaper man.

Bedford voted "dry" by 100 majority; Mitchell by 53; Oolitic, the stone quarry town, by 92, and all the townships voted to keep out the saloons for two years more.

News Notes of Wisconsin

Neenah.—Declaring war on the jobbers of cheese and barley and rye, a large delegation of farmers of Winnebago county met here and organized the Winnebago County Farmers' and Cheesemakers' Publicity club. It is the intention to send workers into every county of the state. William Grimes, a member, says that in the sale of barley to the jobbers the latter take fifty pounds to the bushel and sixty pounds of rye, whereas the legal weight is forty-eight for barley and fifty-six for rye. At the next meeting of the legislature bills will be introduced. In the matter of cheese, the farmers claim that jobbers will not pay for more than nineteen pounds on every twenty pound American cheese, but that when the ultimate consumer pays the retailer he pays for twenty pounds to the grocer.

Wausau.—If the plans for a turpentine factory here are carried out the factory will also afford a market for all the Norway pine stumps the settlers in this vicinity can pull while clearing their land at from $3 to $4 a cord. The factory will be built as soon as the blueprints and plans are finished and the retorts can be secured. The factory will be in operation fifty weeks during the year and will consume stumps from 1,000 acres yearly.

Madison.—Farmers of Chippewa county were the first to give evidence of the opposition to the industrial insurance law, which had been expected in some of the rural districts. A petition signed by 111 farmers, living at Edson, Delmar and in the village of Boyd has been filed with the legislature. The signers oppose the law on the ground that it throws the burden of the assumption of risk and negligence of the fellow servant on the small employer.

Racine.—Racine will have a labor temple this year and have half the money before a stone is placed. The Union Hall association, at its quarterly meeting, voted to have every union man in the city contribute one day's wages toward the project, which will provide one-half the total cost.

Madison.—Nearly 250 young women have applied for admission to the Wisconsin Library school during the last four years, although only twenty-six students can be accommodated each year in the present quarters. The demand for trained librarians led many students to take up library work.

Waukesha.—Rev. I. L. Cory, pastor of the Congregational church here since 1900, has tendered his resignation, having accepted a call to become pastor at Clinton.

Mayville.—Two men were injured in the Northwestern Iron company's plant in one of the most peculiar accidents on record, being hurt by air. In the huge stoves of the plant the superheated air is under heavy blast pressure, and one of the confining ports gave way. The subsequent blast tore the doors off the engine house, 20 feet away, passed through the building, taking out a section of brick wall on the other side, and toppled over the men beyond, bruising them badly. They thought they had been hit by a cyclone, and are not to be blamed for their impression.

When a Man Marries

SYNOPSIS.

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so, his art is considered a huge joke, except to himself. If he asked people to dinner everyone expected a frolic. Jimmy marries Bella Knowles; they live together a year and are divorced. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. Those who attend the party are Miss Katherine McNair, who every one calls Kit, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Brown, the Misses Mercer, Maxwell Reed and a Mr. Thomas Harbison, a South American civil engineer. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selina, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. Jimmy gets his funds from Aunt Selina and after he marries she doubles his allowance. He neglects to tell her of his divorce, as she is opposed to it. Jimmy takes Kit into his confidence, he tries to devise some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit play the hostess for one night, but Mrs. Wilson pro tem. Kit refuses, but is finally prevailed upon to act the part.

CHAPTER III.

I Might Have Known It.

The minute I had consented I regretted it. After all, what were Jimmy's troubles to me? Why should I help him impose on an unsuspecting elderly woman? And it was only putting off discovery anyhow. Sooner or later, she would learn of the divorce, and—just at that instant my eyes fell on Mr. Harbison—Tom Harbison, as Anne called him. He was looking on with an amused, half-puzzled smile, while people were rushing around hiding the roulette wheel and things of which Miss Caruthers might disapprove, and Betty Mercer was on her knees winding up a toy bear that Max had brought her. What would he think? It was evident that he thought badly of us already—that he was contemptuously amused, and then to have to ask him to lend himself to the deception!

With a gasp I buried myself after Jimmy, only to hear a strange voice in the hall and to know that I was too late. I was in for it, whatever was coming. It was Aunt Selina who was coming—along the hall, followed by Jim, who was mopping his face and trying not to notice the paralyzed silence in the library.

Aunt Selina met me in the doorway. To my frantic eyes she seemed to tower above us by at least a foot, and beside her Jimmy was a red, perspiring cherub.

"Here she is," Jimmy said, from behind a temporary eclipse of black cloak and traveling bag. He was on top of the situation now, and he was mendaciously cheerful. He had not said, "Here is my wife." That would have been a lie. No, Jimmy merely said, "Here she is." If Aunt Selina chose to think me Bella, was it not her responsibility? And if I chose to accept the situation, was it not mine? Dallas Brown came forward gravely as Aunt Selina folded over and kissed me, and surreptitiously patted me with one hand while he held out the other to Miss Caruthers. I loathed him!

"We always expect something unusual from James, Miss Caruthers," he said, with his best manner, "but this—this is beyond our wildest dreams."

Well, it's too awful to linger over. Anne took her upstairs and into Bella's bedroom. It was a fancy of Jim's to leave that room just as Bella had left it, dusty dance cards and favors hanging around and a pair of discarded slippers under the bed. I don't think it had been swept since Bella left it. I believe in sentiment, but I like it brushed and dusted and the cobwebs off of it, and when Aunt Selina put down her bonnet, it stirred up a gray white cloud that made her cough. She did not say anything, but she looked around the room grimly, and I saw her run her finger over the back of a chair before she let Hannah the maid, put her cloak on it.

Anne looked frightened. She ran into Bella's bath and wet the end of a towel and when Hannah was changing Aunt Selina's collar—her concession to evening dress—Anne wiped off the obvious places on the furniture.

"What's that young woman's name?" she asked me sharply, when Anne had taken the towel out to hide it.

"Anne Brown, Mrs. Dallas Brown," I replied meekly. Every one replied meekly to Aunt Selina.

"Does she live here?"

"Oh, no," I said airily. "They are here to dinner, she and her husband. They are old friends of Jim's—and mine."

"Seems to have a good eye for dirt," said Aunt Selina and went on fastening her brooch. When she was finally ready, she took a bead purse from somewhere about her waist and took out a half dollar. She held it up before Hannah's eyes.

"Tomorrow morning," she said sternly, "you take off that white cap and that fold-over apron and that black henrietta cloth, and put on a calico wrapper. And when you've got this room aired and swept, Mrs. Wilson will give you this."

Hannah took two steps back and caught hold of a chair; she stared helplessly from Aunt Selina to the half dollar, and then at me. Anne was trying not to catch my eye.

"And another thing," Aunt Selina said, from the head of the stairs, "I sent those towels over from Ireland. Tell her to wash and bleach the one Mrs. What's-her-name Brown used as a duster."

Anne was quite crushed as we went down the stairs. I turned once, half-way down, and her face was a curious mixture of guilt and hopeless wrath. Over her shoulder I could see Hannah, wide-eyed and puzzled, staring after us.

Jim presented everybody, and then he went into the den and closed the door and we heard him unlock the cellarette. Aunt Selina looked at Lella's bare shoulders and said she guessed she didn't take cold easily, and conversation rather languished. Max Reed was looking like a thundercloud, and he came over to me with a lowering expression that I had learned to dread in him.

"What fool nonsense is this?" he demanded. "What in the world possessed you, Kit, to put yourself in such an equivocal position? Unless"—he stopped and turned a little white—"unless you are going to marry Jim."

I am sorry for Max. He is such a nice boy, and good looking, too, if only he were not so fierce, and did not want to make love to me. No matter what I do, Max always disapproves of it. I have always had a deeply rooted conviction that if I should ever in a weak moment marry Max, he would disapprove of that, too, before I had done it very long.

"Are you?" he demanded, narrowing his eyes—a sign of unusually bad humor.

"Am I what?"

"Going to marry him?"

"If you mean Jim," I said with dignity, "I haven't made up my mind yet. Besides, he hasn't asked me."

Aunt Selina had been talking woe-

Guessed She Didn't Take Cold Easily.

an's suffrage in front of the fireplace, but now she turned to me.

"Is this the vase Cousin Jane Whitcomb sent you as a wedding present?" she demanded, indicating a hideous urn-shaped affair on the mantel. It came to me as an inspiration that Jim had once said it was an ancestral urn, so I said without hesitation that it was. And because there was a pause and every one was looking at us, I added that it was a beautiful thing.

Aunt Selina sniffed.

"Hideous!" she said. "It looks like Cousin Jane, shape and coloring."

Then she looked at it more closely, pounced on it, turned it upside down and shook it. A card fell out, which Dallas picked up and gave her with a bow. Jim had come out of the den and was dancing wildly around and beckoning to me. By the time I had made out that that was not the vase Cousin Jane had sent us as a wedding present, Aunt Selina had examined the card. Then she glared across at me and, stooping, put the card in the fire. I did not understand at all, but I knew I had in some way done the unforgivable thing. Later, Dal told me it was her card, and that she had sent the vase to Jim at Christmas, with a generous check inside. When she straightened from the fireplace, it was to a new theme, which she attacked with her usual vigor. The vase incident was over, but she never forgot it. She proved that she never did when she sent me two urn-shaped vases with Paul and Virginia on them, when I—that is, later on.

"The cause in England has made great strides," she announced from the fire place. "Soon the hand that rocks the cradle will be the hand that actually rules the world." Here she looked at me.

"I'm not up on such things," Max said blandly, having recovered some of his good humor, "but— isn't it usually a foot that rocks the cradle?"

Aunt Selina turned on him and Mr. Harbison, who were standing together, with a snort.

"What have you, or you, ever done for the independence of woman?" she demanded.

Mr. Harbison smiled. He had been looking rather grave until then. "We have at least remained unmarried," he retorted. And then dinner was again announced.

He was to take me out, and he came across the room to where I sat collapsed in a chair, and bent over me.

"Do you know," he said, looking down at me with his clear, disconcerting gaze, "do you know that I have just grasped the situation? There was such a noise that I did not hear your name, and I am only realizing now that you are my hostess! I don't know why I got the impression that this was a bachelor establishment, but I did. Odd, wasn't it?"

I positively couldn't look away from him. My features seemed frozen, and my eyes were glued to his. As for telling him the truth—well, my tongue refused to move. I intended to tell him during dinner if I had an opportunity: I honestly did. But the more I looked at him and saw how candid his eyes were, and how stern his mouth might be, the more I shivered at the plunge. And, of course, as everybody knows now, I didn't tell him at all. And every moment I expected that awful old woman to ask me what I paid my cook, and when I had changed the color of my hair—Bella's being black.

Dinner was a half-hour late when we finally went out, Jimmy leading off with Aunt Selina, and I, as hostess, trailing behind the procession with Mr. Harbison. Dallas took in the two Mercer girls, for we were one man short, and Max took Anne. Lella Mercer was so excited that she wriggled, and as for me, the candles and the orchids—everything—danced around in a circle, and I just seemed to catch the back of my chair as it flew past. Jim had ordered away the wines and brought out some weak and cheap Chianti. Dallas looked gloomy at the change, but Jim explained in an undertone that Aunt Selina didn't approve of expensive vintages. Naturally, the meal was glum enough.

Aunt Selina had had her dinner on the train, so she spent her time in asking me questions the length of the table, and in getting acquainted with me. She had brought a bottle of some sort of medicine downstairs with her, and she took a claret glassful, while she talked. The stuff was called Pomona: Shall I ever forget it?

It was Mr. Harbison who first noticed Takahiro. Jimmy's Jap had been the only thing in the menage that Bella declared she had hated to leave. But he was doing the strangest things: His little black eyes shifted nervously, and he looked queer.

"What's wrong with him?" Mr. Harbison asked me finally, when he saw that I noticed. "Is he ill?"

Then Aunt Selina's voice from the other end of the table:

"Bella," she called, in a high shrill tone, "do you let James eat cucumbers?"

"I think he must be," I said hurriedly aside to Mr. Harbison. "See how his hands shake!" But Aunt Selina would not be ignored.

"Cucumbers and strawberries," she repeated impressively. "I was saying, Bella, that cucumbers have always given James the most fearful indigestion. And yet I see you serve them at your table. Do you remember what I wrote you to give him when he has his dreadful spells?"

I was quite speechless; every one was looking, and no one could help. It was clear Jim was racking his brain, and we sat staring desperately at each other across the candles. Everything I had ever known faded from me; eight pairs of eyes bored into me, Mr. Harbison's politely amused.

"I don't remember," I said at last. "Really, I don't believe—" Aunt Selina smiled in a superior way.

"Now, don't you recall it?" she insisted. "I said: 'Baking soda in water taken internally for cucumbers! Baking soda in water externally, rubbed on, when he gets that dreadful, itching strawberry rash.'"

I believe the dinner went on. Somebody asked Aunt Selina how much overcharge she had paid in foreign hotels, and after that she was as harmless as a dove.

Then half-way through the dinner we heard a crash in Takahiro's pantry, and when he did not appear again, Jim got up and went out to investigate. He was gone quite a little while, and when he came back he looked worried.

"Stick," he replied to our inquiring glances. "One of the maids will come in. They have sent for a doctor."

Aunt Selina was for going out at once and "fixing him up," as she put it, but Dallas gently interferred.

"I wouldn't," Miss Caruthers, he said, in the deferential manner he had adopted toward her. "You don't know what it may be. He's been looking spotty all evening."

Of Such Is Fame.

"You remember when Tupper was a tow-headed, freckle-faced boy at school?"

"Sure."

"You didn't think then that you would ever see his name blazoned from one end of the country to the other?"

"I certainly did not."

"And yet today thousands of billboards extol the virtues of Tupper's peerless soap."

A Tragic Victory.

"Jim was informed that he won the beautiful Angora cat offered as a prize in the bazaar. He was delighted."

"I don't see why he was delighted at what was a literal disaster."

"Disaster to win such a valuable pet?"

"Well, you must admit it was a cat as trophy."

Impossible.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and an enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Ellen Terry's Joke.
When Ellen Terry was presented with a Founders' gold medal at the New theater, New York, recently—an honor conferred in recognition of her great services to dramatic art—she was called upon to make a speech of acceptance. It so happened that the actress was exceedingly hoarse and she was therefore forced to cut her remarks short. So she told this story: "A friend of mine once bought a parrot and gave much money for it with the understanding that it could speak fluently, but when he reached home with it he found to his dismay that the bird was dumb. So he took it back. 'This parrot cannot say a word,' he said indignantly to the bird fancier. 'It can't talk at all.' 'Talk!' the dealer exclaimed. 'Come to think of it, I know it can't, but it's a devil to think.'"

Wifely Solitude.
Appealing to the police to find her husband, who went to work and had not returned home at eight o'clock, but requesting that the officers neither arrest nor "talk cross" to him, a woman left a note in the hands of Patrolman Hickerson at Sixth and Edmond streets containing information concerning the missing husband. The note in addition to giving a description of the missing man read that the wife "was worried nearly sick because it was the first time that he had done this."
"I don't want you to arrest him," continued the note. "Tell the police to please not talk cross to him."—St. Joseph Gazette.

CHILDREN AFFECTED
By Mother's Food and Drink.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken in with their mothers' milk. Mothers cannot be too careful as to the food they use while nursing their babies.

The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:
"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not do without it. But I found at last it was doing me harm. For years I had been troubled with dizziness, spots before my eyes and pain in my heart, to which was added, two years later, a chronic sour stomach.

"The baby was born 7 months ago, and almost from the beginning, it, too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me!

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience and she told me to quit coffee, that coffee did not make good milk. I have since ascertained that it really dries up the milk.

"So, I quit coffee and tried tea and at last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with baby and myself, but it increased the flow of my milk.

"My husband then quit coffee and used Postum and quickly got well of the dyspepsia with which he had been troubled. I no longer suffer from the dizziness, blind spells, pain in my heart or sour stomach.

"Now we all drink Postum from my husband to my seven months' old baby. It has proved to be the best hot drink we have ever used. We would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever drank." Name given by Postum Co., Rattle Creek, Mich.

STATE RAIL BOARD CUTS COAL RATE

FOUR ROADS ARE HIT BY DECISION OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

ACTION AIDS PAPER MAKERS

Soft Coal Must Be Carried from Lake Ports to Fox River Factory Towns for 65 Cents Per Ton, Is Commission's Ruling.

Madison.—By the order of the Wisconsin railroad commission the Northwestern, Milwaukee, Green Bay & Western and Wisconsin Central roads are required to reduce their rate on soft coal from Milwaukee, Sheboygan and Green Bay to cities in the Fox River valley, where pulp and paper mills are located, from 75 cents to 65 cents per ton. The reduction is ordered on the petition of thirty manufacturers of the Fox River valley.

The commission dismissed the petition of the city of Stevens Point against the Stevens Point Water company to reduce the rates and provide a larger supply of water. The commission found that the company was making only 3.4 per cent on the value of its investment and could not well reduce its present rate.

The complaint of J. J. Lamb, dairyman and farmer of the town of Friendship, Fond du Lac county, for an order requiring the Eastern Wisconsin Railway and Light company to reduce its rate between Fond du Lac and Oshkosh, was dismissed. The commission found that the company last year only paid 1.91 per cent on its investment in this railway, and it did not believe that it should give any lower rate than it is giving at present.

PLAN ANOTHER SOO CUTOFF

New Railroad Line from Chippewa Falls to Marshfield Is Now Under Consideration.

New Richmond.—The Soo line is planning another cutoff on its St. Paul-Minneapolis and Chicago-Milwaukee line. It involves the construction of a new line from Chippewa Falls to Greenwood. This will give the Soo practically an airline from Chippewa Falls to Marshfield, will eliminate some costly grades and curves and at the same time shorten the line about fifteen miles. Representatives of the Soo line and interests associated with the road have recently purchased several thousand acres of wild and cutover lands in Chippewa, Eau Claire and Clark counties along the line of the proposed cutoff.

$200,000 FIRE AT WEST BEND

Enger-Kress Pocketbook Factory, the Largest in World, Is Destroyed by Flames.

West Bend.—Fire caused a loss of $200,000 at the plant of the Enger-Kress company, the largest manufacturers of pocketbooks in the United States. The loss is fully covered by insurance. It is announced that the company will rebuild. About 250 men are thrown out of employment. The company came here about fifteen years ago from North Milwaukee. The old frame building built in 1858 and used as an amusement park was remodeled for its use. Once the flames were started there was no hope for the structure.

FIGHT ON CASTLE SALARY

Civil Service Commission Takes First Step by Refusing to Certify Pay of the Assistant Attorney General.

Madison.—The first step in the expected legal battle over the appointment of B. J. It is expected that Secretary of State Frenar will refuse to audit that portion of the payroll, and that the matter will be carried to the supreme court.

NAMES TAX COMMISSIONERS

Prof. Adams and T. E. Lyons Appointed by Governor to Succeed George Curtis, Jr., and Gilson.

Madison.—Two new state tax commissioners, Prof. Thomas S. Adams of St. Louis, Mo., and Thomas E. Lyons of Superior, Wis., have been appointed by Gov. McGovern.

Prof. Adams, who was appointed to succeed George Curtis, Jr., was formerly a member of the University of Wisconsin faculty, but has been for the last few months professor of economics at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo. He is considered one of the leading authorities on taxation in the country.

In naming Prof. Adams to succeed Mr. Curtis, Gov. McGovern stated that it should not be construed as a reflection on the abilities of the latter. According to the state executive, he wished to have the commission a well balanced body with at least one recognized expert, rather than have it composed entirely of lawyers.

Thomas E. Lyons, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge N. S. Gilson of Fond du Lac, is city attorney at Superior, Wis., and a recognized authority on taxation. He is a brother of Senator E. H. Lyons of Fond du Lac. He will assume the duties of his office on May 1, while Prof. Adams will succeed Mr. Curtis on the first Monday in May. The positions carry with them a salary of $5,000.

NO PHONE FEE FOR HOTELS

Rail Commission Orders Practice of Charging Extra for Service from Rooms Must Be Abolished.

Madison.—Hotelkeepers of the state no longer will enjoy the extra 5-cent charge placed on telephone calls going out from rooms in their hotels, according to an order handed down by the state railroad commission in the case of Frederick L. Gross vs. Wisconsin Telephone company.

The order of the commission not only does away with the charge on hotel patrons, but also orders the telephone company to cancel all contracts entered into with hotelkeepers subsequent to April 1, 1907, in which is contained the 10-cent outgoing message charge.

The order comes as a result of the petition of twenty-five members of the National Travelers' association.

Appleton.—The first case of direct transfusion of blood on record in Wisconsin was performed successfully here. The operation was pronounced successful, although the patient is in an extremely critical condition following a subsequent operation for tumor.

Mrs. Fred Ness, aged 41, was the patient. She had been suffering from a tumor and was too weak to stand an operation, so her sister, Mrs. Jas. Mauthe, two years her senior, gave the blood.

Wife Named Deputy Oil Inspector.

Madison.—State Oil Inspector Louis F. Meyer, appointed Dexter Witte of Milwaukee chief deputy state oil inspector to succeed D. K. Johnson of West Salem, resigned. CLASH NEAR OVER STEPHENSON CASE

STATE PRINTER HAS COPIES OF PROBE REPORT READY FOR WISCONSIN SOLONS.

DEMOCRATS TO SEEK ACTION

Republican Opponents of the Junior Senator Want to Wait, Fearing Present Congress—Special Session Could Not Take Up Case.

Madison.—The state printer has finished the 2,000 copies of the reports of the legislative committees on the investigation of the charges in connection with the United States senatorial election two years ago. The reports make a pamphlet of 300 pages printed in newspaper type.

The testimony taken by the joint and senate committees was printed as part of the journals of the legislature of two years ago and 500 extra copies were made and bound. These copies are also ready.

Now that all of the documents are ready for distribution it is probable that some action will soon be taken. Democratic leaders are determined to have the legislature take action quickly on the senate committee's recommendation for an investigation by the federal senate of the charges in connection with Senator Stephenson.

The radical republicans, however, do not want to take the matter up until after the present session of congress. They did not want to ask the present United States senate to take up the case because they believed that it would not give the matter as much consideration, owing to the pendency of the Lorimer case, Canada reciprocity agreement and other big matters, as will the next senate, which convenes next December.

If an extra session of congress is held, the Stephenson case would not be considered by the federal senate because that body could only consider the specific business for which it is called.

TO EXPLOIT BADGER LANDS

Advancement Association, Board of Immigration and Agricultural College Unite on Publicity Plan.

Madison.—The executive committee of the Wisconsin Advancement association held a conference here with the state board of immigration and the dean of the college of agriculture of the state university for the purpose of arranging a plan of co-operation of the three institutions for the exploitation of the industrial and agricultural advantages of the central and northern parts of the state.

The association decided to establish a bureau of publicity for the purpose of carrying on the work of advertising the opportunities offered to settlers in the northern part of the state. H. C. Baker, a newspaper man of Marinette, will have charge of this bureau. The advertising campaign is to continue for a period of three years.

The association has already raised $50,000 for the work and expects to increase it to over $60,000. Owners of more than 5,000,000 acres of land in the northern and central parts of the state are members of the association. A corps of speakers to advertise the land will be sent into other states to explain the opportunities offered in Wisconsin.

OVER $2,000 IS RECOVERED

Investigation of Outagamie County Affairs Reveals Shortages Because of Loose Business Methods.

Appleton.—The report of an expert accountant engaged to audit the books of the various Outagamie county officers for the last four years shows that $2,028.66 has been recovered from three former officials.

Anton Ritger, county treasurer for two years, has paid $1,164.22; A. A. Raisler, county clerk for ten years, $819.75; and Vernon Rule, deputy clerk for two years, $44.87.

Lack of system in bookkeeping and poor checking up by board committees is blamed for the shortages.

Would Pay Veterans' Expenses.

Madison.—Senator Weigle has introduced a bill providing that Wisconsin veterans who took part in the battle of Gettysburg, July 1, 2 and 3, 1863, may attend the gathering marking the fiftieth anniversary of that engagement in July at the expense of the state. The Wisconsin regiments in that battle were the Second, Third, Sixth, Seventh and Twenty-sixth, with the Fifth in reserve.

ASTONISHED THE "OLD MAN"

His "Rah Rah Son by No Means the "Dude" He Had Hitherto Seemed to Be.

The new governor of a western state has two sons. One is big and husky like his father, but the other is more slight; and at times he rather vexes his father by his affection of 'rah-rah boy clothes and a general air of lassitude and dudishness.

The two sons and the father were in the library one night and the name of a prizefight referee came into the conversation. The 'rah-rah boy had been sitting by, twiddling his thumbs, but his ears pricked up at the man's name, and he drawled: "I rather like that chap. He's all right."

"What do you know about him?" the other brother asked, rather contemptuously.

"Oh, he gave me a shade the best of it one night."

"Gave you the best of it?" both father and brother shouted.

"Yes; you see, I fight under the name of Young Ryan and he counted pretty slow one time when I was down."—Saturday Evening Post.

Hats and Coiffures

IT IS to be the small hats for early spring, made of exquisite, lustrous, light braids, that is light in weight. And these little hats are soft, many of them made without a wire frame, so that they sit caressingly upon the hair and conform themselves to the shape of the head. And a few people have jumped to the conclusion that because hats are small, the matter of dressing the hair will sink into one of the unimportant and negligible details of the toilette. Such a conclusion is not reached by a course of reasoning. If you have absorbed it, "I pray you gentle lady, to unthink your speaking, and to say so no more." The small hat, even more than the large one demands a well dressed coiffure; for the coiffure is the visible means of support of the little hat. Hair, in pretty curls or fluffy waves, simply must peep out from under the edges of the hat and frame the face and neck, otherwise the wearer will look as if she were bald.

These small hats worn over a coiffure from which a few stray tufts and bobbing curls contrive to stray out, and covered with a fine floating veil of lace, are simply entrancing. These veils come in a variety of fancy weaves. Nothing is prettier than a

NIGHTDRESS IN ONE PIECE

Pattern Simple in Construction and Garment Most Comfortable to Wear.

Anyone who wants to make a nightdress with little trouble should use this pattern, as it is very simple in construction and comfortable to wear; the sleeves are cut in with the body part, an opening being made down the left side; the neck is cut square and trimmed with two rows of insertion mltered at the corners, but the pattern is cut quite up to the neck, so that one row of trimming only need be used.

The sleeves are gathered into insertion-trimmed bands, and are finished with lace.

Materials required: Four yards 36 inches wide.

Two Little Hints.

Do not throw away boot polish when it has become hard through the lid being left off, but place it on top of a warm oven until it softens. I have tried it and found it worth the trouble.

To open a tin of black lead, pull away the paper and put it in front of the fire—on the fender will do. It will open quite readily and better than knocking the tin with a knife.

Care of Silk Gloves.

In trying on silk gloves cover the hands well with talcum and you will not tear the gloves. If a seam rips, do not whip it over and over. Turn the glove, catch one side of the torn part and then the opposite, going back and forth, and the work will not rip out. Do not knot the thread. Mend a "run" in a similar manner.

Brussels net with a little dot or figure over the surface and a lace pattern in the border.

Two good models in small hats are shown here. In Fig 1 the round, cap-like turban is made of silk braid in bright champagne color, the brim and crown are both made of the braid, sewed and afterward draped on the fine light frame. These hats are not for the amateur millinery, because they require a knowledge of the art of draping. The rosette and petal is made of brown velvet and gold cord. It is a beautiful color combination, and suited to almost any color in the costume.

The second hat is of an elegant braid in black and white. It is trimmed with a double collar of velvet and kid, and finished with velvet covered buttons. It is a cool and crisp combination of black and white which we can never hope to excel in elegance.

Imagine these hats on a head with the hair drawn back and not appearing about the face and neck! The pretty face and the pretty hats would both be spoiled. The importance of the coiffure with the small hat in creases. They are both well worth while.

WILL PLEASE THE INVALID

Pretty and Useful Trifles That Will Lighten the Tedium of the Sick Room.

Among the appropriate things for the invalid are flower holders. These can be fastened to the foot of the bed, and are large enough to hold three or four carnations or roses, generally all that are to be allowed in the sick room. Another acceptable gift is a dainty piece of china—a flower bordered plate, a gruel bowl of eggshell thinness, or a fragile cup and saucer of delicate design. Never mind if these things are likely to break with their first tumble; because of their beauty, they will give enough pleasure, perhaps real benefit, to make their possible short existence well worth while. A lightweight leather writing case, provided with a screw-top bottle of ink, compartments for paper, envelopes, stamps, and pen and pencil, gives the invalid who is strong enough to write a certain feeling of independence. Some of these cases have keys which add to their usefulness. A pint or half pint vacuum bottle, for keeping liquids warm or cold, is another comfort-giving gift for the invalid and a time-saving gift for the nurse or caretaker.

Something more than a coat is required by the girl going forth in the evening to some gala function, or other. She needs a head muffing, or a throat protector of some sort, and is very well protected if she has velvet or silk overboots and long wool mittens for the thin gloves. These things make her comfortable, and if they are selected they need not be clumsy or unbecoming.

SCARF OF SHETLAND WOOL

One of the Prettiest and Most Comfortable of the Season's Head Coverings.

Something more than a coat is required by the girl going forth in the evening to some gala function, or other. She needs a head muffing, or a throat protector of some sort, and is very well protected if she has velvet or silk overboots and long wool mittens for the thin gloves. These things make her comfortable, and if they are selected they need not be clumsy or unbecoming.

One of the cheapest and most rewarding head muffings of the season is a Shetland wool scarf or auto veil, for these pretty things can be worn over the face. These filmy scarfs come in all colors and pure white, as well as in white with gay Scotch borders. For a dark girl who is going to have a bit of vivid color in her party get-up the Scotch-border scarfs are superb. They have a look of Mexican splendor and cost exactly one dollar and ten cents each!

Novelties.

Nets are gaining in favor as a foundation for chiffon corsages, producing a much softer effect than silk.

Large velvet bags with the personal touch of an embroidered monogram in one corner are much favored.

Among scarfs the newest material is fine silk tricotee, like glove silk. These come in all the fashionable shades.

Many of the sleeves in the new evening gowns are slashed, with any other material appearing underneath.

NOT UNUSUAL.

COULD NOT STAND SUFFERING FROM SKIN ERUPTION

"I have been using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for the past three months and I am glad to say that they cured me of a most annoying skin eruption. It began by my noticing red blotches appearing on my face and scalp. Although they were rather disfiguring, I did not think anything of them until they began to get scaly and dry and to itch and burn until I could not stand the suffering. Then I began to use a different soap, thinking that my old kind might be hurting me, but that didn't seem to do any good. I went to two different doctors but neither seemed to relieve me any. I lost many nights' sleep in continual scratching, sometimes scratching till I drew the blood on my face and head. Then I started in to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months I was entirely relieved of that awful pest. I am so delighted over my cure by Cuticura Remedies that I shall be glad to tell anybody about it." (Signed) G. M. Macfarland, 221 West 115th St., New York City, Oct. 5, 1910.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, for free book on skin and scalp diseases and their treatment.

A Frequent Speaker.

A member for a northern constituency, who was one day reproached by a disappointed supporter for never opening his mouth in the house, repudiated the accusation with indignation. Not a day passed, he declared, but that he said something; and it was reported in the papers, too. In confirmation of his statement he produced the report of the last debate, and pointed triumphantly to the "Hear, hears" with which certain speeches were punctuated. "That's me," he said.—Tit-Bits.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine system, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

PRODUCTS OF THE FARM.

Owing to a destructive hail storm on July 9 the products of the farm, especially the cereals were the smallest in many years. Oats, winter wheat and rye suffered the worst, the yield not being 50 per cent of what it would otherwise have been.

The amount harvested is as follows: wheat 99 bu., rye 62bu., barley 540 bu., oats 707bu., corn in ear 1355 bu., mangels 300 bu., carrots 22bu., beans 7 bu., peas 3/4 bu., 1009 heads cabbage, 75 heads cauliflower, 5 bu., onions, 840 bu., potatoes, 45 loads hay, 18 loads corn stalks, 53 bu., red clover seed and about 120 tons ensilage.

Small fruits and apples were practically a complete failure, consequently the amount of canned fruit is small.

Manufactured in the sewing room 21 pillow slips, 4 strawticks, 11 dresses, 14 hand towels, 2 table cloths, 12 sheets, 4 window curtains, 6 petticoats, 19 aprons and 5 quilts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harns were employed at a salary of $1000.00 and their services as overseer and matron have been perfectly satisfactory to your superintendents.

To defray the ordinary expenses of the farm we would recommend an appropriation of $1000.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
