What Do You Think of Our City?

Well, that is a pretty direct question and one, too which might be answered in a great variety of ways. But a modest opinion concerning the question and from one who expects to make this his own, may possibly be read with some interest by citizens.

The people here are observed to be thoughtful, kind, sympathetic and helpful to one another. This is pre-eminently a city of homes. The very atmosphere of things imparts to one a restful feeling, a thoughtful spirit and all is conducive to the development and growth of the higher ideals.

NUMBER 28

GEORGE T. CARLIN

Candidate for Superintendent of Schools.

As the time of election of County Superintendent of Schools is drawing near, it is only fair to the electors that they should have some means of comparing the candidates. In view of this fact we give a short sketch of Geo. T. Carlin of West Bend. He was born on a farm in Columbia county, Wis., Jan. 21, 1881, and after attending the rural schools and the Fall River graded school he entered the Columbus high school in the fall of 1898. Driving seven miles mornings and evenings he completed the four year German and English courses in three years. After graduation he taught in the rural schools of Columbia county for one year, and entered the Milwaukee Normal school in 1902, from which he was graduated in 1904. While in Normal school he paid his expenses by conducting a boarding club and working in a newspaper office during spare time. In 1904 he secured the position of principal of the Richfield graded school, which he held for five years, at the same time acting as member of the County Examining Board. In 1909 he left Richfield to take a similar position in the first class graded school at Wycocena, Wis. There he also acted as a member of the County Examining Board. In 1910 he resigned and came to West Bend, where he now resides.

He is an accommodating young man, never too busy nor proud to recognize whom he meets, and knowing the struggle he had for an education, will be ever ready to extend a helping hand to the teachers and pupils of the "little red school house." As to his record as a teacher: His stay of five years at Richfield needs no comment. It speaks for itself. His record at Wycocena is best shown by a reply to a letter of inquiry reported to have been written by John Mahar, a prominent farmer of the town of Hartford, both of which we give below.

HARTFORD, Wis., March 18, 11.
Dear Sir:—Two young men are candidates for County Superintendent of Schools. One of these young men is George T. Carlin, a former teacher of your town. I can decide on his merits as an educational leader, kindly let me know the record he made as a teacher in your city. Confidentially yours,
JOHN MAHAR

WYCOENA, Wis., March 14, 1911.
Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of the thirteenth, will say that Geo. T. Carlin, who was principal of our state graded schools in 1909 and 1910, is an exceptional and forceful instructor, the best teacher we have had in the ten years of our graded schools. He is a hard worker, an excellent disciplinarian, is thoroughly honest and has the courage to do the right thing at all times. Our schools were never so well organized as under him. He was unanimously re-elected for this year by the board and it was a great cross to our community when he resigned to take up other work. You will make no mistake if you elect Geo. T. Carlin superintendent of your schools. Respectfully yours,
WYCOENA SCHOOL BOARD,
Per J. M. Bushnell, Clerk.

Be a Booster.
Do you know there's lots of people
Settin' round in every town,
Growin' like a broody chicken,
Knockin' every good thing down?
Don't you be that kind of cattle;
'Cause they ain't no use on earth,
You just be a booster rooster,
Crow and boost for all you're worth.
If your town needs boostin',
Don't hold back an' wait to see
If some other feller's willin',
Sail right in, in this country's free;
No one's got a mortgage on it,
It's just yours as much as his,
If your town is shy on boosters,
You get in the boostin' biz.
If things don't just seem to suit you,
An' the whole world seems kinder wrong,
What's the matter with a boostin',
Just to help the thing along;
'Cause if things should stop a goin',
We'd be in a sorry plight.
You just keep that horn a blowin',
Boost 'er up with all your might.
If you know some feller's failin',
—Just forget 'em 'cause you know
That same feller's got some good points.
Them's the ones you want to show,
'Cast your loaves out on the waters:
'They'll come back,' 's a sayin' true,
Mebbe they will come back 'bouted.
When some feller boosts for you.

SURE SHOT SAM WELL RECEIVED

J. Burt Johnson and Company Play to a Fair Sized Audience Here Last Saturday Evening

TO APPEAR HERE AGAIN

The Next Production will be "Zeke, the Country Boy" on Sunday Evening, April 23rd

The four act play, "Sure Shot Sam" presented by J. Burt Johnson and company in Groeschel's hall last Saturday evening was well rendered. It was the best production ever staged in this village. The play was very well received by the fair sized audience. The only reason why a larger crowd was not in attendance is because Mr. Johnson came here on only a days advertising. If he would have booked this village about a week before the show, he would have been greeted by a packed house.

All the dancing and singing specialties were very good, especially the trombone playing of "Sure Shot Sam" who entertained the audience with a number of selections. Mr. Johnson is well known as a stage manager and also gives the people their money's worth if not more. Just before the last act he announced to the audience that he would again appear here on Sunday evening, April 23rd, with a company of 15 people, including brass band and orchestra, playing a comedy drama entitled "Zeke the Country Boy." He will without a question be welcomed to this village by one of the largest if not the largest crowd, that ever witnessed a play in our village. Watch for further particulars and show bills.

One of the features of the evening was, that the local brass band advertised the show by playing a few selections on the street.

Gilsons Leave.
Philip Gilson and son have decided to leave this village. On Monday they purchased 3 lots at Fredonia Station. Upon these lots they will erect a foundry building and will go into business there. They expect to have every thing in running order by June 1st. The concern will without a doubt be named Gilson Brothers Foundry. Mr. Philip Gilson moved his family to Fredonia Station yesterday, Friday.

—We received a carload of new buggies and surreys. Come in and look at them.—L. Rosenheimer.

NEW FACTORY AT SLINGER

Standard Cement Machinery Company with a Capital of $20,000 to Locate at Schleisingerville

WHY NOT BOOST KEWASKUM

An Advancement Association Would be a Good Thing for the Village

At a meeting of the Advancement Association of the village of Schleisingerville this week, plans were made to form what is to be called the Standard Cement Machinery company, with a capital of $20,000. Work on the factory building will be started soon.

Business men take notice of our neighboring village. Why can't Kewaskum organize an Advancement Association. It certainly would do no harm, but be a betterment for the village. Kewaskum needs an association very badly. The sooner one is organized, the better it will be. It will mean that all business interest will plug for and boost Kewaskum. We will do all in our power to get an association started, but need a helping hand. Who will be the helping hand? Whoever it will be, kindly step forward at once.

WAYNE.
Miss Jeanette Coulter spent Sunday under the parental roof.

WILLIS V. BUCKLEY

Candidate for Superintendent of Schools.

Spring election is not far ahead of us. At this election the voters of Washington County will be called upon to perform their duties in a most faithful way, as a county superintendent of schools is to be elected.

There are two candidates in the field. Careful study should be given to this office, as it should be filled by one, who is well qualified, and one who is able to manage the affairs of the schools in this county. We hereby take the liberty of recommending to all voters, that the man for whom they should cast their ballot for, is W. V. Buckley of Hartford. We are herewith publishing a few clippings, which will more than introduce the candidate.

What our comment about Mr. Buckley is, that if elected he will perform his duties in the most satisfactory manner. He is a young man that is well qualified for the position. Without a doubt he would be one if not the best superintendent Washington county ever had.

Who is to be our next county superintendent of schools? This question should be given considerable thought and consideration, selecting the man whose conduct, experience and training will be an inspiration to the teachers whom he will supervise. Being interested in the welfare of the schools, The Times gives a short writing of Willis V. Buckley, of this city, that its readers will learn that he is highly qualified for the position of superintendent of schools.

Mr. Buckley was born on a farm in the town of Erin, Oct. 30, 1881. His early education was obtained in the district school and later he was graduated from the Hartford High school and the Oshkosh Normal. He has taught in the district school one year before finishing his Normal course, two years in the state graded school at Lena, and the last four years principal of the North Side school at Hartford, Mr. Buckley knows how to teach school, a happy disposition, great executive ability, a leader not a driver, the hand of sympathy always extended in time of trouble, are some of his qualities which have placed him in the front with the leading educators of this county.

His record is sufficient to assure no relaxation in the good work done by his predecessors, as he has no other interest at heart but the school.—Hartford Times.

In this city little comment is necessary regarding the ability of Willis V. Buckley as an educational leader nor of his qualification for the office of county superintendent of schools, for which position he is a candidate.

The Press in the interest of the local school and the schools of the county, gives the following brief write up of Mr. Buckley, who is the principal of our North Side school: Willis V. Buckley was born in the town of Erin Oct. 30, 1881, and was graduated from the Hartford High school and the Oshkosh Normal school. He taught one year in the district school, going from there to the principalship of the Lena State Graded school where he remained two years and then came to this city where he has for the past four years been principal of the North side school.

Mr. Buckley possesses executive ability, is a leader, exemplary in his habits and all his energy and enthusiasm will be thrown into his school work.

A superintendent should have an intimate knowledge of, and experience with, the problems of the country school in short a man of broad education, strong personality and possessing a high degree of executive power. Mr. Buckley possesses these characteristics and his record as a teacher is sufficient to assure a continuance of the good work of his predecessors.—Hartford Press.

Catholics Show Big Gain.

There are at present 14,618,761 Roman Catholics in the United States, according to the 1911 Wiltzys Official Catholic Directory, which is now in press. The figures given does not include the Catholics in the Philippines, Porto Rico or Hawaiian Islands, for if these were added the number of Roman Catholics under the Stars and Stripes would be nearly 23,000,000.

According to the directory there are in the United States 17,984 Catholic priests and 13,416 churches. Of this number 9017 have resident pastors. Catholics also control 4,972 parochial schools, with an attendance of 1,270,131. In addition to this there are 225 colleges for boys and 696 academies for girls, and 82 ecclesiastical seminaries.

Notice of Election.

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of the village of Kewaskum that an annual election will be held in the Village Hall in said Village on Tuesday the 4th day of April next, at which are to be elected the following officers:

A President, six Trustees for one year, a Treasurer, a Clerk a Supervisor, an Assessor, a Justice of the Peace for 2 years and a constable.

The Polls of said election will be open at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and close at sun down on the said day.

Edw. C. Miller,
Village Clerk.
Dated Kewaskum, Wis Mar. 20 1911.

Thirteen Hour Devotion Observed.

Thirteen hour devotions were observed in the Holy Trinity church here on Tuesday. First mass was read by Rev. Ph. Vogt, at this mass the congregation went to Holy Communion in a body. High mass was read at 10 o'clock, Rev. July of Campbellsport reading the same, he was assisted by Rev. Rosbach of Barton as deacon and Rev. Stuppel of West Bend as sub-deacon. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Rosbach. The devotion closed with services in the evening at 7 o'clock. Among the visiting priests here were the Revs. Stuppel of West Bend, Rosbach of Barton, July of Campbellsport and Startzick. On Wednesday devotions were held at St. Bridget's.

Woman Foils Jailbreakers.

The second attempt at jailbreaking at Fond du Lac jail within a month was foiled on Tuesday by a woman prisoner, Lucie Sherman.

She heard sounds in the upper tier and aroused the desk sergeant by shaking the door of her cell. The sheriff was at once notified. As the prisoners had just cut their cell bars away he broke in on them. One of the prisoners was Frank Denesene, charged with stealing a horse at Eden, and the other was John Scholzer, charged with the burglary of Knekel & Straub's store at Campbellsport on the night of Feb. 3rd. Scholzer is the same party that stole the cow-hide at Rosenheimer's store in this village early this winter, and for this deed served a sentence in the West Bend jail.

Civil Authorities to Punish Armed Foreigners Who Marched on Village and Made Demonstration Against English Brethren.

Many Arrests to Follow

Operations in mine No. 1, located here, and one of the three shafts owned by the Superior Coal company was resumed Wednesday morning.

One company of guardsmen is policing this property.

Sheriff Elmo Etter of Macoupin county is in Bendl with a force of 50 deputies and co-operating with Col. Edward J. Lang, commanding the Fourth Infantry of the National Guard.

State's Attorney James Murphy of Carlinville is also on the scene, giving the sheriff counsel.

Wholesale arrests are to follow, according to the state's attorney and the sheriff. Sheriff Etter will not indicate the probable number of arrests to be made, but warrants will be issued for all who are known to have borne arms and against all others who had any part in inciting the riotous demonstration.

The saloons have been closed, although this was not done until Colonel Lang conveyed to Mayor L. C. Romell a suggestion to this effect which was virtually a command.

When it was realized that the petition presented by Mayor Romell to Colonel Lang would not accomplish the desired result a citizens' committee left town for Springfield to personally urge Governor Deneen to call the troops off.

Colonel Lang and Sheriff Etter visited the three mines of the Superior Coal company after camp had been pitched near the interurban railroad station. The reconnaissance completed, patrols were located at the three mines and other patrols assigned to duty in the town of Bendl proper.

When the first squad was sent out on patrol duty a large crowd collected, pressing closely upon the guardsmen. Orders were given to disperse the crowd, and in pushing back the foremost ones an unidentified miner sprang at one of the men with an open knife. The guardsman presented the business end of his rifle with bayonet fixed and charged his would-be assailant. The man fled.

The hurly call for troops followed a demonstration by Italian miners. One thousand strong, armed with a varied assortment of firearms, old rifles, muskets, shotguns, revolvers and Winchester, and marching to the music of an Italian band, the foreign speaking coal miners of Bendl gathered at sunrise to move against their English speaking brethren of Gillespie.

The procession stopped at mine No. 1, passed through the main street of Gillespie, thence on to mine No. 3, and back to Bendl. Counseling of the older citizens and business men of Gillespie against the commission of any overt act prevented bloodshed.

The Superior Coal company owns three mines here, with a daily total output of about 10,000 tons of coal.

Three months ago John P. Reese came to Gillespie from Iowa to take the superintendency of the properties. Superintendent Reese inaugurated several changes and reforms that were not favorably received by the foreign element among the miners. This dissatisfaction led to the trouble.

Members of Mabray Gang Sentenced to Five Months in Prison and Fined $1,000.

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Six of the defendants in the so-called Mabray swindling cases who had pleaded guilty to the charge of using the United States mails in promoting fake sporting events were Tuesday sentenced by Judge Smith McPherson of the federal district court.

L. H. Hindmann, known as the "Honey Grove Kid;" R. L. (Darby) Thielman, former professional baseball player; George Ryan, Tom Davries, C. T. Phillipot and W. I. Cramer were sentenced to five months' imprisonment in some county jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 each.

The court left the choice of jails to the United States marshal, but stated that he would not approve of the Council Bluffs jail, as it was not fit for a residence for the prisoners.

There are several other Mabray cases pending.

New Post Office Opened. Cleveland, O.—The dedication of Cleveland's new $4,000,000 post office took place Monday with many men present prominent in public life.

Among others were Attorney General Wickersham of Washington.

Coal Mines Kill 1,125 Men. Harrisburg, Pa.—It cost the lives of 1,125 men to mine 23,699,070 tons of coal in Pennsylvania last year, according to the annual report of the chief of the state department of mines issued Monday.

DR. WASHINGTON HURT

NEGRO EDUCATOR HIT ON HEAD BY JANITOR.

Assailant Took Colored Man, Who Was Loitering Near Door of Building, for Burglar.

New York.—Because of injuries he received late Sunday night when he was attacked by a white man, Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee institute, was unable to attend court Monday, according to his attorney.

The hearing of Albert Ulrich, a carpenter, who was charged with making a felonious assault upon Washington, was postponed. Ulrich was released on $1,500 bail.

Ulrich, a white man, maintained that he was acting within his rights when he pursued the negro educator for several blocks before a policeman appeared. Ignorant of the negro's identity, he declared that his wife had complained to him of a negro she had met in the hallway of their flat house in West Sixty-third street.

Dr. Washington, who was sent to Flower hospital, where 16 stitches were taken in his scalp, asserted that his mission to that neighborhood was perfectly legitimate and that he had been made the innocent victim of a most atrocious assault.

Ulrich said he saw the negro re-entering the hallway and later saw him "bending down at my door peering through the keyhole." Ulrich said that the negro swung a blow at his jaw when he asked him what he wanted.

LIMANTOUR IN MEXICO CITY

Wants All to Rally to General Diaz and Avoid International Complications.

Mexico City.—With a warning to all Mexicans that with every day the rebellion continues the danger of international complications increases, a plea to them to rally to the support of General Diaz, and a declaration that the government never can enter into peace negotiations with individuals in arms, Finance Minister Jose Yves Limantour Monday entered upon the task of pacification, which the world, at least, has set for him, and upon the outcome of which the world is interested.

The special car in which he traveled from New York reached the National station here Monday.

Hundreds of persons, among whom were many officials and a sprinkling of women, were on hand to greet the travelers.

President Diaz's greeting was conveyed through one of his official family, the meeting between the two most talked of men in the republic having been deferred until later.

Senator Limantour asserted that the statement that he was the bearer of conditions for the establishment of peace, placed in his hands by the Maderos in New York, was an absurdity.

Of the insurrection itself Senator Limantour had nothing to add, he said, to what he had previously said, that it constitutes treason.

Lincoln Relic is Burned

Private Car Which Carried Martyred President From Washington to Springfield is Destroyed.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The historic Lincoln car, the private traveling carriage of Abraham Lincoln and the car that carried his body from Washington to Springfield, Ill., for burial in 1865, was destroyed by a prairie fire that swept Columbia Heights, burning every bit of dry grass in the northeast part of the city and setting fire to the crate in which the car had been boxed.

Scores of women and children turned out to fight the fire with buckets of water and brooms. Fragments of ruins of the historic car will be saved as mementoes by Edmund G. Walton, manager of Columbia Heights Land company, its owners.

"Kid" McCoy Wins Decision

Heavyweight Pugilist Returns to Ring and Gains Popular Verdict Over Jack Fitzgerald.

Philadelphia.—In a dull and uninteresting fight, Kid McCoy won the decision over Jack Fitzgerald in a six-round go at the American Athletic club. Although McCoy landed the most of the blows and displayed the greater knowledge of ring generalship, he did not come back to his old form at any stage of the bout. It was his superior effort in the first rounds that won him the verdict of the spectators.

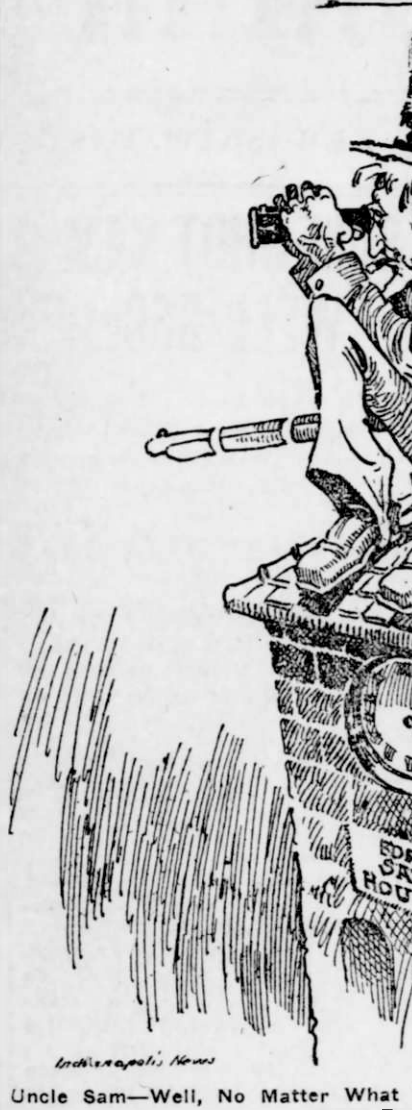

Jury Foreman Threatened.

Danville, Ill.—Isaac Woodyard, former foreman of the jury investigating vote selling and bribery here, has received an anonymous letter threatening him with personal violence for his activity. Woodyard declared he would give $500 to know who wrote the letter, but did not reveal its exact contents.

New Eddy Claimant Sues.

Concord, N. H.—One more legal twist to the already complicated litigation over the will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, was given Tuesday by counsel for John R. Baker of this city. Mr. Baker, who claims to be a grandnephew of Mrs. Eddy, filed a petition asking leave to intervene in the suit of George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., Mrs. Eddy's son, and Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., her adopted son, as claimants of a share in the $2,500,000 estate.

PRACTICE IN THE SOUTH

OPEN LARGEST DAM

GREATEST RECLAMATION PROJECT IN WORLD SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED.

COLONEL IS HONORED GUEST

Cheering Crowds Congratulate Former President to Whom is Due Honor of Starting Project—Roosevelt Makes Principal Speech.

Roosevelt, Ariz.—Amid the cheers of thousands assembled to witness the formal opening of the largest dam in the world, the Roosevelt structure across the canyon of the Salt river, Minn., Colonel Roosevelt, touched the button that sent the imprisoned waters of the Arizona river rippling through the vast system of canals that will transform this sun-baked construction town and 200,000 acres of shifting desert sand into a veritable Garden of Eden.

The arrival of the Roosevelt party, who motored seventy-five miles across the desert to attend the ceremonies, was a signal for wild hilarity among those assembled to witness the event.

The cheering crowds pressed about the little group of prominent state and government officials to offer thanks and congratulations to the colonel, to whom in a great measure they owed the successful completion of the project, and he repeatedly removed his hat in acknowledgment of their cordial welcome.

These ceremonies mark the successful termination of one of the greatest reclamation projects the world has ever seen. They mean the reclamation of miles of burning desert, the termination of years of toll under the blazing Arizona sun, and the addition to Arizona's farming lands of a territory whose productive wealth will equal that of the most favored farming districts of the world.

For countless ages the principal stream of Arizona, the Salt river, swollen to torrential proportions in the spring by the melting snows of the distant mountains and diminishing to a tiny creek under the blazing sun of summer, has wound its tortuous course through hundreds of miles of sun-seared desert land that needed but the application of water to blossom into luxuriant vegetable life. The waste of this rich territory was called to the attention of Colonel Roosevelt when he occupied the presidential chair, and he, in turn, ordered the government's reclamation department to investigate.

This, in brief, is the story of the great Arizona reclamation project, as outlined by the many speakers who followed Colonel Roosevelt at the dedication exercises, each of whom paid enthusiastic tribute to the prosecution of the project by the engineers in charge and the support and interest of Colonel Roosevelt that made the scheme practicable.

Turks Float Big War Loan.

Berlin.—Subscriptions for the Turkish loan of £7,000,000 Turkish (approximately $31,500,000) were opened Tuesday and closed immediately, having been heavily oversubscribed. The loan was taken by a syndicate of German and Austrian banks.

Frisco Bars "Bucket Shops."

San Francisco.—A city ordinance prohibiting the operation of "bucket shops" was passed by the unanimous vote of the board of supervisors Tuesday.

STOLYPIN QUILTS POST

RESENTS COUNCIL'S ACTION IN REJECTION OF BILL.

Minister of Finance Kokovsoff Is Selected by Emperor to Succeed to Premiership.

St. Petersburg.—Emperor Nicholas promptly accepted the resignation of P. A. Stolypin, premier and minister of interior, and has named V. N. Kokovsoff, minister of finance, to succeed him.

Premier Stolypin presented his resignation personally to the emperor. His action was due to the rejection by the council of the empire of the Zemstvo bill for self-government in the nine western provinces. The selection of M. Kokovsoff was made by the emperor on M. Stolypin's recommendation after his majesty had exhausted all means to persuade the latter to retain his post. The reactionary groups, which plotted Stolypin's fall, thus get small satisfaction.

The present crisis, like that in 1909, when the question of the reorganization of the Russian admiralty came near disrupting the cabinet, seems to indicate that the reactionaries lack a statesman of the proper caliber to command his majesty's confidence.

The resignation of the premier came as a total surprise to the emperor, who was greatly disturbed for a time.

Postal Banks are Success

Postmaster General Reports 3,923 Accounts Opened in 48 Offices Since System Established.

Washington.—"The postal savings bank system has been more successful than reasonably could have been expected."

This was the comment made Sunday by Postmaster General Hitchcock on the analysis of the returns from the 48 postal savings banks which have been in operation since January 3. The reports from the 48 second-class post offices where the postal banks are located cover the period from February 28, 1911. In that time 3,923 accounts were opened and 6,861 separate deposits were made, the average amount of each deposit being $21.50.

Postmaster General Hitchcock is engaged in preparing for the establishment of 250 additional postal savings banks, an appropriation of $500,000 having been made by the recent congress for the extension of the system. The list of cities in which the banks are to be located probably will be announced in the near future.

Crowd Sees Lion Bite Woman.

Fargo, N. D.—With an audience of 1,000 looking on, Oom Paul, a trick lion, bit off the index finger of Sellna, a trainer, in a local theater here when the woman put her hand in his mouth. Sellna screamed and the lion struck at her, tearing and slitting her other hand to the bone. The audience was in an uproar until the woman was rescued from the cage and the curtain rung down.

True Bill in Trust Case.

New York.—The grand jury which has been probing the Carnegie Trust company scandal handed down three indictments Tuesday against William J. Cummins, the master promoter and director of the institution. The indictments charge grand larceny in the first degree.

Pioneer Rail Chief Dies.

Boston.—Nathaniel Thayer, one of the pioneer railroad promoters of the United States, died at his home in this city Tuesday.

News Notes of Wisconsin

La Crosse.—Woodmen of the World of Wisconsin and Minnesota closed their convention by electing the following officers: Head counsel, E. J. Reynolds of Madison; head adviser, M. Gebhart of St. Paul; head banker, J. C. Atkins of Waukesha; head clerk, G. I. Roos of Minneapolis; head escort, L. B. Omerberg of La Crosse; head watchman, P. R. Bigne of St. Paul; head sentry, J. W. Downey of St. Paul; head managers, J. H. Wallace of Milwaukee; Alfred Fox of Beloit; James Walker of Clouet, Minn.; S. A. Small of Mendota, Minn., and I. E. Poisson of Minneapolis.

Madison.—Mrs. Anna B. Vilas, widow of the late Senator William F. Vilas of Madison, in court at Tacoma, Wash., was awarded one-fifth interest in property in Washington state valued at $219,000, owned by Senator Vilas at the time of his death in August, 1908. Mrs. Vilas sued the trustees of the estate and the judgment is the result of a compromise by all parties concerned including the state of Wisconsin. The University of Wisconsin was the beneficiary under the will of the bulk of the estate.

Kenosha.—According to an official of the Du Pont Powder company, claims for damages as a result of the Pleasant Prairie explosion appear to be endless, but the company is planning on paying all just claims, which it is said, will amount to $2,500,000. Broken windows appear to be the chief item. It has been discovered that the Laffin-Rand company withdrew from the state February 11, 1911.

La Crosse.—Papooses have held up the annuities of the Winnebago Indians, and until the judges can decide whether or not the papooses born since January 1, 1910, the date of the last Indian census, are entitled to an annuity, the government's wards must go without their money. Meanwhile they are quenching their thirst with water and urging that wings be put on the wampum.

Marshfield.—Burglars have been operating in this vicinity for two weeks and secured $200 from the Pittsville postoffice. Three men entered the store of Mrs. E. Frederick at Auburndale and commenced operations. The proprietress came down and asked them what they wanted and they fled, firing a shot at her, but missing.

Racine.—A law suit may result from the merger of the two local telephone systems as four stockholders of the Citizens' Telephone company, including V. Jacobson of Chicago, refuse to sell their twenty shares at par to the Bell company, though they may be compelled to turn over their stock by law.

Madison.—The appearance of Maj. R. P. Davidson before the assembly committee on excise and fees revealed the intention of the North-Western Military academy, now located at Highland Park, north of Chicago, to move to the south shore of Lake Geneva.

Oconto.—Freezing weather prevented the great damage that would otherwise have resulted when the Eldred dam on the Oconto river at Stiles went out and the great body of water it contained flowed into the bay.

SERIAL STORY

When a Man Marries

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART
Author of The Circular Staircase,
The Man in Lower Ten, etc.

Copyright 1928, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

SYNOPSIS.

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so. His art is considered a huge joke, except to himself. If he asked people to dinner everyone expected a frolic. Jimmy marries Bella Knowles; they live together a year and are divorced. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. Those who attend the party are Miss Katherine McNair, who every one calls Kit, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Brown, the Misses Mercer, Maxwell Reed and a Mr. Thomas Harbison, a South American civil engineer. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selma, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. Jimmy gets his funds from Aunt Selma and after he marries she doubles his allowance. He neglects to tell her of his divorce, as she is opposed to it. Jimmy takes Kit into his confidence, he tries to devise some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit play the hostess for one night, be Mrs. Wilson pro tem. Kit refuses, but is finally prevailed upon to act the part. Aunt Selma arrives and the deception works out as planned, as she had never seen Jimmy's wife. Jimmy's Jap servant is taken ill. He demands an explanation. Bella, Jimmy's divorced wife, enters the house and asks Kit who is being taken away in the ambulance. Bella insists it is Jim. Kit tells her Jim is well and is in the house. Bella tells Kit it wasn't Jim she wanted to see, but Takahira, the Jap servant, as she wished to secure his services. Harbison steps out on the porch and discovers a man tacking a card on the door. He demands an explanation. The man points to the placard and Harbison sees the word "Smallpox" printed on it. The man tells him he is an officer of the board of health and tells him the house is under quarantine and that the guests will have to remain in the house until after the quarantine is lifted.

"No one would think that, Bella," I soothed her. "Everybody knows you loathe him—Jim, too." She looked at me over the edge of her cup.

"I'll run along now," she said, "since Takahiro isn't here. And if Jim has any sense at all, he will clear out every maid in the house. I never saw such a kitchen in all my life. Well, lead the way, Kit. I suppose they are deep in bridge, or roulette, or something."

She was fixing her veil, and I saw I would have to tell her. Personally, I would much rather have told her the house was on fire.

"Wait a minute, Bella," I said. "You see, something queer has happened. You know this is the anniversary—well, you know what it is—and Jim was awfully glum. So we thought we would come—"

"What are you driving at?" she demanded. "You are sea-green, Kit. What's the matter? You needn't think I mind because Jim has a justification to celebrate his divorce."

"It—It was Takahiro—in the ambulance," I blurted. "Smallpox. We—Bella, we are shut in, quarantined."

She didn't faint. She just sat down and stared at me, and I stared back at her. Then a miserable alarm clock on the table suddenly went off like an explosion, and Bella began to laugh. I knew what that was—hysteria. She always had attacks like that when things went wrong. I was quite despairing by that time; I hoped they would all hear her and come downstairs and take her up and put her to bed like a Christian, so she could giggle her soul out. But after a bit she quieted down and began to cry softly, and I knew the worst was over. I gave her a shake, and she was so angry that she got over it altogether.

"Kit, you are horrid," she choked. "Don't you see what a position I am in? I am not going upstairs to face Anne and the rest of them. You can just put me in the coal cellar."

"Isn't there a window you could get through?" I asked desperately. "Locking the door doesn't shut up a whole house."

Bella's courage revived at that, and she said yes, there were windows, plenty of them, only she didn't see how she could get out. And I said she would have to get out, because I was playing Bella in the performance, and I didn't care to have an understudy. Then the situation dawned on her, and she sat down and laughed herself weak in the knees. Of course she wanted to stay, then, and see the fun out. But I was firm; she would have to go, and I told her so. Things were complicated enough without her.

Well, we looked funny, no doubt. Bella in a Russian pony automobile coat over the black satin she had worn at the Cleveland's dinner, and I in cream lace, the skirt gathered up from the kitchen floor, with Bella's emerald pelerine around my bare shoulders, and dishes and overturned chairs everywhere.

Bella knew more about the lower regions of her ex-husband than I would have thought. She opened a door in a corner and led the way through a narrow hall past the refrigerating room, to a huge, cemented cellar, with a furnace in the center, and a half dozen electric lights making it really brilliant.

"Get a chair," Bella said over her shoulder, excitedly. "I can get out easily here, through the coal hole. Imagine my—"

But it was my turn to grip Bella. From behind the furnace were coming the most terrible sounds, rasping noises that fairly frayed the silk of my nerves. We stood petrified for an instant. Then Bella laughed. "They are not all gone," she said carefully. "Some one is asleep there."

We tiptoed to where we could see around the furnace, and, sure enough, some one was asleep there. Only, it was not one of the servants; it was a portly policeman, with a newspaper and an empty plate on the floor on one side, and a champagne bottle on the other. He had slid down in his chair, with his chin on his brass buttons, and his helmet had rolled a dozen feet away. Bella had to clap her mouth.

"Fairly caught!" she whispered. "Sartor Resartus, the arrestor arrested. Oh, Jim and his flawless service!"

But after we got over our surprise, we saw the situation was serious. The policeman was threatening to awaken. Once he stopped snoring to yawn noisily, and we beat a hasty retreat. Bella switched off the lights in a hurry and locked the door behind us. We hardly breathed until we were back in the kitchen again, and everything quiet. And then Jimmy called my name from above somewhere.

"I am going to call him down, Bella," I said firmly. "Let him help you out. I'm sure I don't see why I should have all this when the two of you—"

"Oh, no, no! Surely, Kit, you wouldn't be so cruel!" she whispered pleadingly. "You know what he would think. He—oh, Kit, let them all get settled for the night, and then come down, like a dear, and help me out. I know loads of ways—honestly I do."

"If I leave you here," I debated, "what about the policeman?"

"Never mind him"—frantically. "Listen! There's Jim up in the pantry. Run, for the sake of heaven!"

So—I ran. At the top of the stairs I met Jimmy, very crumpled as to shirt-front and dejected as to face.

"I've been hunting everywhere for you," he said dismally. "I thought you had added to the general merriment by falling downstairs and breaking your neck."

We Stood Petrified for an Instant.

I went past him with my chin up. Now that I had time to think about it, I was furiously angry with him.

"Kit!" he called after me appealingly, but I would not hear. Then he adopted different tactics. He took advantage of my catching my foot in the lace of my gown to pass me, and to stand with his back against the door.

"You're not going until you hear me, Kit," he declared miserably. "In the first place, for all you are down on me, is it my fault? Honestly, now, is it my fault?"

I refused to speak.

"I was coming home to be miserable alone," he went on. "and—oh, I know you meant well, Kit; but you asked all these crazy people here."

"Perhaps you will give me credit for some things," I said wearily. "I did not give Takahiro smallpox for instance, and—if you will permit me to mention the fact—Aunt Selma is not my Aunt Selma."

"That's what I wanted to speak to you about," Jimmy went on wretchedly, trying not to look at me. "You see, when they are rowing so about who would get the breakfast—I never saw such a lot of people; half of them never touch breakfast, but of course now they want all kinds of things—when they were talking, Aunt Selma said she knew you would get it, being the hostess, and responsible, besides knowing where things are kept." He had fixed his eyes on the orchids, and he looked shrunken, actually shrunken. "I thought," he finished, "you might give me a few pointers now, and I could come down in the morning, and—and fuss up something, coffee and so on. I would say you did it! Oh, hang it all, Kit, why don't you say something?"

"What do you want me to say?" I demanded. "That I love to cook, and of course I'll fix trays and carry them up in the morning to Anne Brown and Lella Mercer and the rest; and that I will have the shaving water ready—"

"I know what I'm going to do," Jimmy said, with a sudden resolution. "Aunt Selma and her money can go to blazes. I am going right upstairs and tell her the truth, tell her who you are, what I am, and all the rest of it." He opened the door.

"You'll do nothing of the kind," I gasped, catching him in time. "Don't you dare, Jimmy Wilson! Why, what would they think of me? After letting her call me Bella, and him—Jim, if Mr. Harbison ever learns the truth—I—I will take poison. If we are going to be shut up here together, we will have to carry it on. I couldn't stand the disgrace."

In spite of an heroic effort, Jim looked relieved. "They have been hunting for the linen closet," he said, more cheerfully, "and there will be room enough, I think Harbison and I will hang out in the studio; there are two couches there. I'm afraid you'll have to take Aunt Selma, Kit."

"Certainly," I said coldly. That was the way it was all along. Whenever there was something to do that no one else would undertake—any unpleasant responsibility—that entire mongrel household turned with one gesture and pointed its finger at me! Well, it is over now, and I ought not to be bitter, considering everything.

It was quite characteristic of that memorable evening (that is quite novel, I think) that my interview with Jimmy should have a sensational ending. He was terribly down, of course, and as I was trying to pass him to get to the door, he caught my hand.

"You're a girl in a thousand, Kit," he said forlornly. "If I were not so damnably, hopelessly, idiotically in love with—somebody else, I should be crazy about you."

"Don't be maudlin," I retorted. "Would you mind letting my hand go?" I felt sure Belle could hear.

"Oh, come now, Kit," he implored, "we've always got along so well. It's a shame to let a thing like this make us bad friends. Aren't you ever going to forgive me?"

"Never," I said promptly. "When I once get away, I don't want ever to see you again. I was never so humiliated in my life. I loathe you!"

Then I turned around, and, of course, there was Aunt Selma with her eyes protruding until you could have knocked them off with a stick, and beside her, very red and uncomfortable, Mr. Harbison!

"Bella!" she said in a shocked voice, "is that the way you speak to your husband! It is high time I came here, I think, and took a hand in this affair."

"Oh, never mind, Aunt Selma," Jim said, with a sheepish grin. "Kit—Bella is tired and nervous. This is a—deuce of a situation. No—er—servants, and all that."

But Aunt Selma did mind, and showed it. She pulled the unlucky Harbison man through the door and closed it, and then stood glaring at both of us.

"Every little quarrel is an apple knocked from the tree of love," she announced oratorically.

"This was a very little quarrel," Jim said, edging toward the door; "a—green apple, Aunt Selma, a crotchety little green apple." But she was not to be diverted.

"Bella," she said severely, "you said you loathed him. You didn't mean that."

"But I do!" I cried hysterically. "There isn't any word to tell how I—how I detest him."

Then I swept past them all and flew to Bella's dressing room and locked myself in. Aunt Selma knocked until she was tired, then gave up and went to bed.

That was the night Anne Browne's pearl collar was stolen!

BAD BREAK.

"Beautiful girl!" cried the impulsive young man on the stowaway deck of the lake steamer.

"Nonsense!" laughed the pretty maid. "Beauty is but skin deep."

"Ah, would that thou wert a hippopotamus!"

"Sir!"

The lapping of the waves grew fainter. It seemed as though he was sitting on an iceberg, so frigid were the surroundings.

"That is, I mean—well, you know a hippo's skin—fudge! A hippo's skin is thick, deneedly thick, and if beauty is skin deep and you had the skin of a hippo, why—er—you'd be that much more beautiful. Do I make myself plain, Miss Evangeline?"

"Yes, sir, you make yourself out to be the plainest dunce I ever saw. I shall never speak to you again."

And the moon man wept.

They Saw the Joke.

An inveterate punster of this city happened to be at a county fair lately in the art embroidery section, when he saw approaching a pair of acquaintances whose front names were Eliza and Ferd. As they started to come in, he barred the way.

"This is no place for you," he cried. "Go over to the plant department where they are in need of Ferd-Eliza."

And then he fled just before the joke began to glimmer upon them.—Baltimore American.

Compensation.

Congressman Dan Anthony of Leavenworth, Kan., a nephew of the late Susan B. Anthony, has a ten-year-old son who looks at the practical side of things every time. Not long ago his father had to go to Washington. When the day of departure arrived Mrs. Anthony said to the boy:

"Son, aren't we going to be louse-some when papa goes away?"

"Yes," replied the boy; "but we'll have a lot more cream for our oatmeal."

Some Better Than Usual.

"So she married Jack Skadds! Last time I saw her she was throwing herself at the head of his brother."

"Well, that's pretty good throwing for a woman; she hit a member of the family she aimed at."

FREE—If It Fails to Delight You

Won't You Try — At Our Risk

This Delicious

Table Drink?

JUST to prove how wholesome and good Bonano really is, we make this offer—

Fill out and mail us the attached coupon and we will send you an order on a grocer in your city to sell you a 25-cent can of Bonano with the distinct understanding that you are to have your money back if you are not entirely pleased with it. You will hold our money-back order until you have used the whole can. If Bonano has not entirely pleased you, if you do not find it a perfectly delicious beverage, wholesome and beneficial, then present our money-back order to the grocer and he will return your 25 cents.

Bonano is a perfectly blended food drink for all ages. As inspiring as coffee, as refreshing as tea, as nourishing as cocoa. Its only effects are good effects. It is rich in nourishment, aids digestion, induces sound, healthful sleep, builds up the body and brain. Made from different varieties of the choicest bananas that grow—pure, selected fruit ripened in the sunshine of the tropics. Nature protects the banana in growing from dirt and dust by its thick peel. The banana has no worms as apples and other fruits. We safeguard every step of the preparation of Bonano. We insure its purity from the gathering of the fruit in the tropics through the processing, machine drying, roasting and blending, until it is sealed in its dust-proof, moisture-proof cans.

Prepare Bonano as you would coffee. But you need use only one-half as much Bonano and one-half as much sugar.

Fill out the attached coupon now. Send it to us and we will send you our absolute money-back guarantee for a can of Bonano from your grocer.

—There are two ways of spending a dollar. You can spend it at home, gain an easy conscience, ask another friend and perhaps get the dollar back tomorrow, or you can send it away, feel that you sinned, offend the home merchant and forever lose the dollar and the blessed influence for good to yourself and neighbor.

—As a matter of fact the women do not regard the opinions of the men very seriously when it comes to the matter of feminine attire. The men may issue one decree after another and protest all they please and make all sorts of sarcastic remarks about what women wear or the way they dress their hair, but the women go right on wearing the most hideous things and piling the jute hair on their heads in utter contempt for what the men say.
—Our Advancement association and for that matter our business people have again fallen asleep. Last Tuesday, Ph. Gilson of West Bend, an experienced molder and general mechanic, attempted our people in the organization of a foundry. He asked only little assistance from our citizens, amounting to about $3500.00. After his departure no move was made to encourage the man and since he wanted an answer by Saturday, the project undoubtedly has fallen by the wayside. The factory would have employed about ten men and if business had improved, chances were for employing about twenty or more. In this manner one good opportunity after another to boom the town is being passed up. Every one knows and realizes that in order to build up the town, we should encourage them, but when the moment comes to push a new enterprise, they lack the proper push.—Lomira Review.
—Wives of great men all remind us
We can make our wives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Widows wroth of our time;
Therefore give your wife a send off
With the best insurance plan
Leave her so that when you slide off
She can catch another man".

BAD CASE OF GRIP

Caused Sore Throat and Tonsillitis. Restored by Peruna.

Mr. W. H. Housley, Stony Point, Tennessee, writes:

"Five years ago I took a very severe cold which resulted in la grippe. I never was so bad off. I was in bed several weeks, and when I did get up I had tonsillitis and a sore throat.

"I tried to cure this for eighteen months, but it gradually got worse. A doctor advised me to have my tonsils cut out, but I did not like the idea. Another doctor examined me, and told me the same thing. I finally got a bottle of the Peruna, and after I had taken one bottle my throat was better. I bought and used a dozen bottles, and saw I was going to get well, and I did."

$600,000 TO STATE IN INHERITANCE TAX

BIG ADDITION SECURED TO WISCONSIN'S REVENUE SINCE BEGINNING OF YEAR.

TILFORD ESTATE MUST PAY

Judge Sheridan Directs Heirs of New York Financier to Enrich State Treasury to Extent of $39,971.31—Field Estate Is Next.

Madison.—Judge Sheridan has ordered that the sum of $39,971.31 be paid by the heirs of the estate of W. H. Tilford, the New York financier, as the inheritance tax for 12,000 shares in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, a Wisconsin corporation.

Attorney General Bancroft expressed satisfaction at the agreement reached on the state's claim, which, he said, was all that the state was entitled to.

The recent settlements of inheritance tax claims are an indication of how important the tax is to the state in adding to its revenues.

Since the 1st of January, under the direction of the attorney general's department, settlements with four estates have added about $535,000 to the state's revenues, and the total income from the inheritance tax this year by April 1st will exceed $600,000, Mr. Bancroft says.

From the Kennedy estate, New York, the state receives $355,000, from the Simmons and Jessup estates of Kenosha $95,000 and $42,000, respectively, and now from the Tilford, New York, estate about $40,000.

The Marshall Field estate has still to pay. This is a very large estate and a large part of it is in Chicago & Milwaukee, Chicago & North-Western, Omaha and other Wisconsin corporations. It is understood that the attorney general's department is already engaged on the state's inheritance tax claim against this estate.

EASY DIVORCE BILL KILLED

Measure Rejected by Assembly After Attacking Speeches by Gilbertson, Long and Shotts.

Madison.—Speeches of Assemblymen Gilbertson, Long and Shotts killed the assembly bill which provides for the abolishment of the office of divorce counsel. The bill was ordered advanced following a plea by Assemblyman Mortensen that it be given a quiet burial. It was defended by a few of the treasury watchdogs, who argued that the $6,000 expended annually on divorce counsel is wasted. Gilbertson, Long and Shotts spoke at length on the evils of divorce and cited the opinions of seventeen of the twenty-two circuit judges in the state, who favor the retention of the office. A pathetic incident recited by Judge Gilbertson, showing how one state's attorney saved a child from being branded with illegitimacy was followed by the vote on the bill which was overwhelmingly in favor of its death.

GROWTH IN SUGAR PRODUCT

Federal Census Shows Great Gain in Output of Wisconsin's Cane and Beet Establishments.

Washington.—Under the new census of cane and beet sugar establishments, the state of Wisconsin, which, in 1899, produced so small an amount that it was included in a group of states, has a separate classification. The total value of her sugar production in 1909 from four establishments was $1,366,000 against $935,000 in 1904. Granulated sugar was valued at $1,249,000 and molasses at $68,000, an increase in the latter produce from $19,000 five years before.

RAP COMPULSORY FEATURE

Badger Farmers Aroused Over Tuberculin Test Law—May Become Vital Issue in State Politics.

Madison.—Is the tuberculin test likely to upset the political map of Wisconsin? Such a thing would seem not improbable from the statements made before the joint committees of senate and assembly in the assembly chamber, when the bills relating to the tuberculin test law were up for hearing. Farmers appeared from all over the state, the large part opposed to the law and a few who believed the law was a good thing.

Threats were openly made that if the compulsory test was to be continued the farmers of the state would be heard from in a manner in which the legislature would not like.

The objections raised were entirely against the compulsory feature of the law. This was on account of its claimed unreliability. Properly administered, so there would be no chance for mistakes, it was admitted by all that the test was a good thing and the inference was that even those who were opposing the compulsory test would be glad to take advantage of it if they could be sure no mistakes would be made.

Case after case was cited by farmers and those speaking for the bill to repeal the compulsory feature where mistakes had been made in testing cattle, as illustrative of the unreliability of the present method.

FATALITIES IN FACTORY FIRE

One Man Killed, One Missing and Thirteen Injured in Blaze at Milwaukee—Two More May Die.

Milwaukee.—One man was burned to death, one is missing and thirteen were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the Minn Billiard company factory, causing a $60,000 loss. Two of those injured may die.

Eighty-five men were in the three-story frame building when the fire started. Only about ten escaped through the doors. The others leaped from the windows, many falling on each other from the first, second and third floor windows.

Twenty minutes after the fire started the walls fell, carrying Arthur Klamm on the third floor to death in the center of the burning ruins. The charred remains of Klamm were dug from the ruins by firemen. An unidentified man, who is missing, was employed with Klamm on the third floor.

The fire, which started in a pile of shavings on the first floor was discovered by a passing policeman. He rushed into the building and sent a warning cry to the workers above him. Instantly there was a rush for the exits, the men becoming panic stricken.

SPARTA TO GET RIFLE MEETS

Advices State that Wisconsin Range May Be Permanently Designated to Succeed Seagirt.

Sparta.—Advices from Washington are to the effect that the designation of Sparta for the 1911 rifle meet of the national guard of the several states may be made permanent and that tests will no longer be made at Seagirt, N. J.

For several years past the annual competition has been held at the coast city, but the recent improvements and extensions made in the new camp here are stated to have made the Wisconsin range much better fitted for the work, and it has also the advantage of a more central location.

Maiden Rock Swept by Fire.

Maiden Rock.—Engines sparks are said to have caused a $40,000 fire which laid seven buildings in ruins and threatened to destroy this town. G. Howard, while fighting the flames, was badly burned, and the Rev. Mr. Harris and David Taylor barely escaped with their lives. The blaze started in the R. E. Jones warehouse and sparks communicated it to nearby buildings. Only the most desperate efforts of the volunteer fire fighters prevented the town from being destroyed.

Wisconsin Dairymen Form Association for Holding an International Exhibition in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee.—An international dairy show is now assured for Milwaukee some time next fall, probably in October.

At a meeting of more than 100 dairy breeders and representatives of allied industries in the Auditorium, the International Dairy Show association of Milwaukee was formed with a capital stock of $20,000 and more than $6,000 was subscribed for stock. A constitution and by-laws was adopted and the articles of incorporation will be filed at Madison.

Among the subscribers of the stock were many of the most prominent breeders in Wisconsin. Twice the amount of stock might have been sold, but it was determined to limit the amount of stock one man may buy in order to enable as many breeders, cheese and butter makers and machinery men as possible to become financially interested in the new organization.

The gauge of battle was thrown down to the National Dairy Show association during the discussion on this subject of holding a show in Milwaukee next fall when it was voted to go ahead independently of the National association.

"We feel the time is at hand when Milwaukee should go it alone," said J. Gilbert Hiecox, one of the best known dairy breeders in the state and a former officer of the National Dairy Show association. "We feel that Milwaukee has not been given a fair deal by the officers of the national association. The dairy show held here in 1909 was the only successful show ever held. They came here with the understanding that if Milwaukee made good this city would become the home of the National Dairy show. Milwaukee made good. The city turned out enthusiastically and the show was greeted by crowded houses. At its close there was a balance on hand of $4,000. Every previous show had been held at a loss."

"Despite that fact, the directors decided to hold the show in Chicago in 1910. It was held there and it was not a success. It was held at a financial loss as all other dairy shows were except the Milwaukee one."

PRESIDENT NAMES KUBASTA

Taft Settles Merrill Postmaster Controversy by Recess Appointment of the Present Incumbent.

Washington, D. C.—As a recess appointment, President Taft has nominated Postmaster F. W. Kubasta as postmaster at Merrill, Wis., and Mr. Kubasta's commission has been sent to him.

President Taft, some time ago, sent in the name of Justin Means as postmaster at Merrill on the recommendation of Congressman Morse, and it was said at the time that the Merrill postoffice was the first to be included in the patronage to be given the insurgents, following the famous "patronage letter" sent out from Beverly.

Mr. Means' appointment was among those which remained unconfirmed at the last session of congress, however, and the recess appointment followed. The action of President Taft practically assures the Merrill postoffice will continue in the hands of Mr. Kubasta.

The postoffice fight at Merrill has been watched throughout the country as it was held to be a test case in the fight between the administration and insurgents. Mr. Kubasta has been an administration man, while Mr. Means has been with the insurgent forces.

SUNSHINE AND GOOD HEALTH

Wherever Sun's Rays Penetrate Human Life is Quickened and Health and Happiness Promoted.

The sunlight, with its mellowing warmth and radiance, is one of the great essentials to good health. Wherever it penetrates, in prudently regulated moderation, it quickens human life, promotes health and happiness, and may be truly regarded as one of the best friends of man and beast.

The common practice of providing blinds, shutters, curtains and other means for shrouding the windows and shutting out the sunshine, is undoubtedly a great mistake, and makes for physical weakness and ill health. More window light, more sunshine, and not less, is what we require. Let all your apartments, kitchen, sitting rooms, parlors and bedrooms, too, be flooded with sunlight as much as possible.

Famous Eccentric Toasts.

Pitt, at Kidderminster, gave a toast in compliment of the carpet manufacturers.

"May the trade of Kidderminster," said Pitt, "be trampled under foot by all the world!"

A more audacious toast, freighted with double meaning, has been variously attributed to Smeaton, Erskine and to some others. This after-dinner trade sentiment was delivered in this form:

"Dam the canals, sink the coal pits, blast the minerals, consume the manufactures, disperse the commerce of Great Britain and Ireland!"—Cornhill Magazine.

Barmains in South Australia.

South Australia is suffering from a barmain famine. Two years ago barmains were abolished in that state by act of parliament. No more could be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves.

There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services is such that their wages have jumped from 25 shillings to £3 a week. The hotels that have had to employ barmains report a considerable change for the worse in their receipts.

EYES WOULD BURN AND STING

"It is just a year ago that my sister came over here to us. She had been here only a few weeks when her eyes began to be red, and to burn and sting as if she had sand in them. Then we used all of the home remedies. She washed her eyes with salt water, used hot tea to bathe them with, and bandaged them over night with tea leaves, but all to no purpose. She went to the drug store and got some salve, but she grew constantly worse. She was scarcely able to look in the light. At last she decided to go to a doctor, because she could hardly work any more. The doctor said it was a very severe disease, and if she did not follow his orders closely she might lose her eyesight. He made her eyes burn and applied electricity to them, and gave her various ointments. In the two and a half or three months that she went to the doctor, we could see very little improvement.

"Then we had read so much how people had been helped by Cuticura that we thought we would try it, and we cannot be thankful enough that we used it. My sister used the Cuticura Pills for purifying the blood, bathed only with Cuticura Soap, and at night after washing, she anointed her eyes very gently on the outside with the Cuticura Ointment. In one week, the swelling was entirely gone from the eyes, and after a month there was no longer any mucus or watering of the eyes. She could already see better, and in six weeks she was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Csepleska, 2005 Utah St., St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25, 1910.

FATALITIES IN FACTORY FIRE

One Man Killed, One Missing and Thirteen Injured in Blaze at Milwaukee—Two More May Die.

Milwaukee.—One man was burned to death, one is missing and thirteen were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed the Minn Billiard company factory, causing a $60,000 loss. Two of those injured may die.

Eighty-five men were in the three-story frame building when the fire started. Only about ten escaped through the doors. The others leaped from the windows, many falling on each other from the first, second and third floor windows.

Twenty minutes after the fire started the walls fell, carrying Arthur Klamm on the third floor to death in the center of the burning ruins. The charred remains of Klamm were dug from the ruins by firemen. An unidentified man, who is missing, was employed with Klamm on the third floor.

The fire, which started in a pile of shavings on the first floor was discovered by a passing policeman. He rushed into the building and sent a warning cry to the workers above him. Instantly there was a rush for the exits, the men becoming panic stricken.

SPARTA TO GET RIFLE MEETS

Advices State that Wisconsin Range May Be Permanently Designated to Succeed Seagirt.

Sparta.—Advices from Washington are to the effect that the designation of Sparta for the 1911 rifle meet of the national guard of the several states may be made permanent and that tests will no longer be made at Seagirt, N. J.

For several years past the annual competition has been held at the coast city, but the recent improvements and extensions made in the new camp here are stated to have made the Wisconsin range much better fitted for the work, and it has also the advantage of a more central location.

Maiden Rock Swept by Fire.

Maiden Rock.—Engine sparks are said to have caused a $40,000 fire which laid seven buildings in ruins and threatened to destroy this town. G. Howard, while fighting the flames, was badly burned, and the Rev. Mr. Harris and David Taylor barely escaped with their lives. The blaze started in the R. E. Jones warehouse and sparks communicated it to nearby buildings. Only the most desperate efforts of the volunteer fire fighters prevented the town from being destroyed.

From Poverty to Wealth.

La Crosse.—After living for many years in comparative poverty, H. F. Dittleson of this city has come into a fortune and will be able to spend the balance of his days in luxury. He has received word from the Norwegian consul that his sister in Norway had died leaving a large estate to which he was practically the only heir.

Whist Congress at Green Bay.

Green Bay.—The twelfth annual whist congress, under auspices of the Northern Wisconsin Whist League, will be held here April 7 and 8.

Fishermen Carried Away on Ice.

Marquette.—Bert Benson and Terry Topfel, fishermen of Peshtigo, were carried out into the bay on floating ice. They managed to attract the attention of friends on shore, who sent boats to the rescue.

Hero of Fenian Raid Dead.

La Crosse.—Robert Calvert, first secretary of the La Crosse board of trade and one of the heroes of the Fenian raid at Lake Erie in 1866, died in his home here.

Wisconsin Dairymen Form Association for Holding an International Exhibition in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee.—An international dairy show is now assured for Milwaukee some time next fall, probably in October.

At a meeting of more than 100 dairy breeders and representatives of allied industries in the Auditorium, the International Dairy Show association of Milwaukee was formed with a capital stock of $20,000 and more than $6,000 was subscribed for stock. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and the articles of incorporation will be filed at Madison.

Among the subscribers of the stock were many of the most prominent breeders in Wisconsin. Twice the amount of stock might have been sold, but it was determined to limit the amount of stock one man may buy in order to enable as many breeders, cheese and butter makers and machinery men as possible to become financially interested in the new organization.

The gauge of battle was thrown down to the National Dairy Show association during the discussion on this subject of holding a show in Milwaukee next fall when it was voted to go ahead independently of the National association.

"We feel the time is at hand when Milwaukee should go it alone," said J. Gilbert Hiecock, one of the best known dairy breeders in the state and a former officer of the National Dairy Show association. "We feel that Milwaukee has not been given a fair deal by the officers of the national association. The dairy show held here in 1909 was the only successful show ever held. They came here with the understanding that if Milwaukee made good this city would become the home of the National Dairy Show. Milwaukee made good. The city turned out enthusiastically and the show was greeted by crowded houses. At its close there was a balance on hand of $4,000. Every previous show had been held at a loss."

"Despite that fact, the directors decided to hold the show in Chicago in 1910. It was held there and it was not a success. It was held at a financial loss as all other dairy shows were except the Milwaukee one."

PRESIDENT NAMES KUBASTA

Taft Settles Merrill Postmaster Controversy by Recess Appointment of the Present Incumbent.

Washington, D. C.—As a recess appointment, President Taft has nominated Postmaster F. W. Kubasta as postmaster at Merrill, Wis., and Mr. Kubasta's commission has been sent to him.

President Taft, some time ago, sent in the name of Justin Means as postmaster at Merrill on the recommendation of Congressman Morse, and it was said at the time that the Merrill postoffice was the first to be included in the patronage to be given the insurgents, following the famous "patronage letter" sent out from Beverly.

Mr. Means' appointment was among those which remained unconfirmed at the last session of congress, however, and the recess appointment followed. The action of President Taft practically assures the Merrill postoffice will continue in the hands of Mr. Kubasta.

The postoffice fight at Merrill has been watched throughout the country as it was held to be a test case in the fight between the administration and insurgents. Mr. Kubasta has been an administration man, while Mr. Means has been with the insurgent forces.

SURVEYING A NEW RAILROAD

Engineers Corps at Work Laying Out Line for Wisconsin & Northern Extension to North Crandon.

Appleton.—That the Wisconsin & Northern Railroad company expects to have its line completed from North Crandon to Menasha this year is asserted by surveyors who are now rushing work on the final survey through this county.

A corps of ten engineers is working from Black Creek and another from Appleton locating the final survey, which it is believed will pass through Shiocton as well as Black Creek and then north to Shawano, and on to Crandon and North Crandon, there to connect with the Soo road.

City May Buy Back Bonds.

Eau Claire.—Holders of a portion of the $100,000 in bonds issued by the city to defray the cost of purchasing the water plant have expressed their desire to sell and the common council is considering purchasing about one-fifth of the original amount issued.

Ullman Given Parole.

Madison.—Gov. McGoVERN has signed the parole of Joseph Ullman of Manitowish, who is serving a long term in the state prison for murder. The state board of control recommended the parole.

SUNSHINE AND GOOD HEALTH

Wherever Sun's Rays Penetrate Human Life is Quickened and Happiness Promoted.

The sunlight, with its mellowing warmth and radiance, is one of the great essentials to good health. Wherever it penetrates, in prudently regulated moderation, it quickens human life, promotes health and happiness, and may be truly regarded as one of the best friends of man and beast.

The common practice of providing blinds, shutters, curtains and other means for shrouding the windows and shutting out the sunshine, is undoubtedly a great mistake, and makes for physical weakness and ill health. More window light, more sunshine, and not less, is what we require. Let all your apartments, kitchen, sitting rooms, parlors and bedrooms, too, be flooded with sunlight as much as possible.

Famous Eccentric Toasts.

Pitt, at Kidderminster, gave a toast in compliment of the carpet manufacturers.

"May the trade of Kidderminster," said Pitt, "be trampled under foot by all the world!"

A more audacious toast, freighted with double meaning, has been variously attributed to Smeaton, Erskine and to some others. This after-dinner trade sentiment was delivered in this form:

"Dam the canals, sink the coal pits, blast the minerals, consume the manufactures, disperse the commerce of Great Britain and Ireland!"—Cornhill Magazine.

Barmaids in South Australia.

South Australia is suffering from a barmaid famine. Two years ago barmaids were abolished in that state by act of parliament. No more could be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves.

There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services is such that their wages have jumped from 25 shillings to £3 a week. The hotels that have had to employ barmaids report a considerable change for the worse in their receipts.

No Doctor in Forty Years.

Forty years' residence in the country near Etna with never a doctor summoned on a professional visit at his home is the record of E. R. Hamilton, who has nevertheless raised a large family.

"There were times during the last two score years when we were hungry, but we were never sick," said Mr. Hamilton.—Portland Oregonian.

The man who lets well enough alone never gets very far ahead.

A FOOD STORY

Makes a Woman of 70 "One in 10,000."

The widow of one of Ohio's most distinguished newspaper editors and a famous leader in politics in his day, says she is 70 years old and a "stronger woman than you will find in ten thousand," and she credits her fine physical condition to the use of Grape-Nuts:

"Many years ago I had a terrible fall which permanently injured my stomach. For years I lived on a preparation of corn starch and milk, but it grew so repugnant to me that I had to give it up. Then I tried, one after another, a dozen different kinds of cereals, but the process of digestion gave me great pain.

"It was not until I began to use Grape-Nuts food three years ago that I found relief. It has proved, with the dear Lord's blessing, a great boon to me. It brought me health and vigor such as I never expected to again enjoy, and in gratitude I never fail to sound its praises." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

EYES WOULD BURN AND STING

"It is just a year ago that my sister came over here to us. She had been here only a few weeks when her eyes began to be red, and to burn and sting as if she had sand in them. Then we used all of the home remedies. She washed her eyes with salt water, used hot tea to bathe them with, and bandaged them over night with tea leaves, but all to no purpose. She went to the drug store and got some salve, but she grew constantly worse. She was scarcely able to look in the light. At last she decided to go to a doctor, because she could hardly work any more. The doctor said it was a very severe disease, and if she did not follow his orders closely she might lose her eyesight. He made her eyes burn and applied electricity to them, and gave her various ointments. In the two and a half or three months that she went to the doctor, we could see very little improvement.

"Then we had read so much how people had been helped by Cuticura that we thought we would try it, and we cannot be thankful enough that we used it. My sister used the Cuticura Pills for purifying the blood, bathed only with Cuticura Soap, and at night after washing, she anointed her eyes very gently on the outside with the Cuticura Ointment. In one week, the swelling was entirely gone from the eyes, and after a month there was no longer any mucus or watering of the eyes. She could already see better, and in six weeks she was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Csepicska, 2005 Utah St., St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25, 1910.

Words of Comfort.

"My doctor says I must sleep out-of-doors," said the man who is not strong.

"Well," replied the friend who makes painful efforts to cheer up; "it's all right so long as your landlord doesn't say it."

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, halfhearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

IS WAR MANEUVER POLITICAL MOVE?

May Be Step in Campaign for Re-Election of Taft.

MEXICO IS IN SERIOUS WAY

Situation Offers Plausible Excuse for Intervention—Passing of Old Blood and Coming of New in Senate—Williams May Dispute Leadership With Bailey.

By WILLIS J. ABBOT.

Washington. — In this sudden dispatch of troops and battleships to "maneuver" along the Mexican frontier the most recent, and most Napoleonic stroke in the campaign for the re-election of President Taft?

That is the question that all Washington is asking now.

Under the seal of confidence, everybody knows that the internal state of Mexico is vastly more serious than the public news would indicate. The state department knows it, but is silent save to members of the committee on foreign relations whose lips in turn are sealed. The Mexican censorship of the press is about as complete as was that of the Japanese, and the war correspondents who are shut up in the sections now in revolution can do little but send platitudes and gnash their teeth.

But through personal letters from United States army officers stationed on this side of the Rio Grande, Washingtonians long since learned that the situation is critical in the extreme. American interests are hardly regarded and the frontier is an imaginary line which the riotous raiders cross at will.

American investments in Mexico are colossal. They will reach almost $1,000,000,000 nor are they confined to the great railroad, mine or ranch interests. There are probably 100,000 small investors who have taken flyers in Mexican projects—some of them much to their disaster. No man with any general acquaintance will fail to recall a half a dozen of his friends thus interested.

Excuse for Interference.
Obviously then the situation affords plausible excuse for intervention. The heavy hand of Uncle Sam can justifiably be laid upon the irreconcilable insurgents and upon the aged and now seemingly decrepit Diaz. Besides, there is the Monroe Doctrine. If we expect foreign governments to respect it, we must guarantee order in the turbulent countries to which it applies. European interests in Mexico are almost equal to those of the United States. But we would not permit the landing of a squad of English or German marines for their protection.

So that is the argument—the one on the surface at least. But there is another. American history shows that a war president is always re-elected—a war party given a prolonged lease of power. And we approach a presidential campaign in which the Republican party is seriously menaced for the first time since 1896.

Of course a war with Mexico would be but a brief and spluttering affair unless some other nation should take a hand in it. It is to be remembered that Mexico has more good harbors on the Pacific coast than has the whole state of California, and in that struggle for the mastery of the Pacific, of which we read so much and apprehend so little, a foothold there would be priceless to a foreign nation. The war which such an assault on this continent would cause might stagger humanity but it would re-elect the president and the party involved in it.

A single battleship sent to Havana precipitated the Spanish war, and it is not even yet determined whether she was sunk by accident or design—or if by the latter whether the crime was one of Spanish malice or Cuban design for forcing the war.

Twenty thousand men under arms within striking distance of the Mexican frontier; 2,000 marines prepared to be landed at Mexican ports; four battleships, several cruisers and a number of torpedo craft making their way down the Pacific coast to the most southerly of the United States harbors, present a more serious menace to a neighboring nation and a more tempting target to turbulent revolutionists than did the ill-fated Maine.

And the chance of a war, brief though it probably would be, cannot fail to be tempting to a party repudiated in the last congressional election, but still entrenched in the executive and the senate, and sorely loath to give up the pleasures of power it has enjoyed since 1896.

Crane's Velvet Glove Seen.
It has been common gossip about and was in fact noted in these articles some weeks ago, that President Taft must have a new political guide, philosopher and friend. His engaging personality is his one chief political asset. Always it has been necessary for him to be in the hands of his friends—in the hands of Theodore Roosevelt during the last presidential campaign, and in the hands of Frank Hitchcock after his success. The net result of the Hitchcock management was to bring the Taft administration close to shipwreck. The people and the leaders of his own party hailed the Taft election with loud acclaim. Conservatives greeted him as a happy relief from the too strenuous one; progressives felt serenely confident that the Roosevelt policies would be safe in his hands. In less than a year he had lost the following of both factions. He was bitterly denounced by the progressives, and regarded with suspicion by the conservatives. As for the people at large the chilling reception given to President Taft during his political trip throughout the middle west last fall showed clearly enough that the man whom everybody liked had come to be one whose political sagacity hardly anyone admired.

The tide began to turn shortly after the congressional session began, and politicians began to speculate as to who turned it. The ill-advised boycott of the insurgents, the refusal to them of any participation in patronage was set aside and they were generally invited to the plie counter. The earlier policy was that of Postmaster General Hitchcock who holds to the use of the ungloved iron hand; the later is believed to have signaled the beginning of the primacy of Senator Murray Crane who is much for the velvet glove and pussy-footed progress.

Crane occupies a curious position in the senate. As reactionary as Aldrich or Lodge he has escaped the enmities which those gentlemen have so plentifully acquired. A great paper manufacturer, doing business largely with the government, he yet avoids the criticisms so often heaped on Senator Du Pont whose powder thunders from the guns of our warships. He can talk to an interviewer in such a way as to make that confiding journalist think he is securing most confidential information, without saying one word imperiling his political plans. While he fought Taft in his nominating convention he has grown visibly closer to him in the last year and is regarded as the president's political mentor. The mildest mannered man that ever came out of Massachusetts, he is still every inch a politician.

Is Crane responsible for this war scare? That is what the politicians at the capital are asking.

New Blood in Senate.
It is not quite certain whether the "new blood" of congress or the old blood of which we are to get rid is the more interesting.

Of the senatorial vote which gave Lorimer his coat of whitewash these are now set aside, repudiated by their constituencies: Bulkeley, Burrows, Carter, Depew, Dick, Hale, Flint, Kean, Piles and Scott.

Of the ten only three came to the senate without some note of scandal being raised against them. That the outcome will be good for the people of the United States is generally believed in that it will do more to advance the cause of the direct election of United States senators than anything which has happened in the congress of the United States in the last ten years. The success of Standard Oil in Montana in keeping Thomas J. Walsh out of the senate helps in the same direction; also the deadlocks in Iowa and New York. The time has about come when the people of this country are to be allowed to elect their own representatives in both houses of congress. With direct elections there would have been no deadlocks, no Lorimers, no time wasted in discussing the title of a senator to his seat, and no money wasted on investigating committees.

Not All Congressionally New.
Not all the new blood in the senate is congressionally new. That is to say, out of the lower house have come some men who have won their spurs there and who are well known in Washington. Probably the most prominent of these is John Sharp Williams. Senator-elect Poindexter of Washington has also made his mark in the house. He is a worker, oratorical by habit, a man of fine presence and a resonant voice, but none of these qualities rank with the fact that he is a true Progressive. Townsend of Michigan, who succeeds Burrows, knows the congressional game from start to finish and is as keen a politician as Burrows himself. The successors of Carter, Depew and Piles have not at this moment been chosen. The successor to Dick of Ohio is a new man, Altee Pomerene, who will perhaps come with less experience of national legislation than any man who lately came to the United States senate. He has been a well-known country lawyer in Ohio, was elected last year lieutenant-governor of that state, and elected as United States senator before he had time to find out exactly what the duties of the lieutenant-governor were. At the same time he is a man of capacity and integrity, not in any way involved with what have come to be called "the interests." Martine, the successor to Kean of New Jersey, is a man very much of the type I have just described. To what extent he is going to be the proponent of a Wilson boom here interests people in politics. But in the meantime we know that he is not tied up with public service corporations and can be relied upon to serve the people first, last and all of the time.

One of the strong forces in the senate, one of the postgraduates of the house will be Gilbert M. Hitchcock. Probably nobody in the upper house has a better literary or political training than he. For his political training it is perhaps enough to say that he has made Nebraska a Democratic state after nearly twenty years of earnest work with his excellent newspaper, the Omaha World-Herald; for his intellectual training one may cite the fact that besides graduating from the University of Michigan he studied at Heidelberg and Munich. Nobody on the senate end of the capital can contest with him for academic honors.

The successor to Senator Elkins of West Virginia, Senator Watson, has been rather unfortunate in a very brief term of office. He was here only the last two weeks of the session and once through his absence from the United States senate enabled the Republicans to put through the ship subsidy bill, and again by his presence and vote helped to seat Lorimer. Obviously Senator Watson's affiliations are with the "statesmen" of the Lorimer type.

The Lorimer forces are these: the lumber trust, the Standard Oil trust and all the subsidiary monopolistic corporations controlled by these two. Senator Watson as a heavy owner of coal lands in West Virginia has made a bad entry upon national politics by allying himself in the only two votes taken in the senate since he became a member of that distinguished body with forces of this sort.

Williams vs. Bailey.
In the closing days of a hard-fought short session, in which the honors and the defeats were almost evenly divided between the two great parties, there was general Democratic regret that John Sharp Williams of Mississippi was not here and on the firing line.

"One blast upon his bugle-horn were worth a thousand men." Washington knows John Sharp. The country as a whole does not, because he never acquired the Chautauqua habit and does not travel the lecture circuit. Instead of that, when he was elected to the United States senate, and therefore retired from the house, he announced his purpose of returning to his plantation in Mississippi and never looking upon Washington again until the moment of his inauguration as senator. It was said for him, I do not quote him in the matter, that in this long period of self-imposed leisure he intended to write a life of Thomas Jefferson.

Neither his own threat to remain away from the capital, or the promise of his friends that he would write a book has been quite fulfilled.

Ret in Factions.
But to recur to Senator-elect Williams. People are wondering just where he will be in this so-called new alignment of parties of which you read so much, and we on the ground see so little. Only a few days ago I heard the Hon. "Lafe" Young, senator from Iowa, in a somewhat perfunctory address declare that there were now "57 varieties" of Republicans, and proceed to administer to the insurgent variety nearly fifty-seven sorts of roasts. It all added much to the gaiety of the galleries in the senate chamber, but I was unable to discern, though carefully following his speech, that the most despicable of those Republican varieties was not more admirable to him than the best of the Democratic factions.

For of course the Democrats are also rent into factions. There are radicals and conservatives. But the radicals are not so radical as a few years ago, nor are the conservatives quite as narrow as when they pushed the ill-fated Parker campaign to dismal disaster.

In this situation lies the chance of John Sharp Williams to force himself to the front as a national leader. I do not mean as a presidential candidate for I fear that neither he nor I will see the time when a man from a really Southern state like Mississippi can hope to be elected President of the United States. But his political record is such that radicals and conservatives alike will look on his leadership in the senate—if he wins the leadership—with confidence and follow him with applause.

It will be an interesting study when congress reconvenes to observe the tactics by which two senators will struggle for pre-eminence on the Democratic side. I do not mean for the titular honor of being dubbed "leader." That has already been conferred upon Senator Money of Mississippi and on his retirement goes to Senator Shively of Indiana. But as the old phrase goes, "the tools are for those who use them," and today the most commanding force in the senate on the Democratic side is Bailey of Texas. I refuse to say that he commands votes, but he surely does command attention. When in the curious way that political intelligence travels over Washington, not by newspapers, not by bulletins, but by the conversation of the most gossip big town in the country, it is known that Bailey is to speak, the senate corridors and galleries are packed. The cause matters not. He spoke in defense of Lorimer, as bitter a Republican partisan as politics ever knew, and all Washington flocked to hear him. He spoke in his own defense two years ago with the same result. But I do not recall any recent occasion when in defense of any great Democratic measure or any piece of progressive legislation the tom-toms have been sounded for Bailey or the galleries thronged to listen to his oratory.

Williams Able Debater.
Williams is the very antithesis of Bailey. He is frail, undersized, and a bundle of nerves and brains. Bailey is tall, heavy set, dark and while nobody doubts his brain power nobody would suspect him of nervousness. And yet in the house of representatives I have seen the lean, wiry Williams go through an all-night filibuster and come out as fresh and ready for another fray as could any man of even "Joe" Bailey's physique.

As for the rest Williams is a rough and tumble debater, rather than a great orator—Bailey is the latter. In the swift interchange of discourses on the floor of the house Williams could maintain himself at every point Bailey never could even when he was leader of the Democratic minority in that chamber.

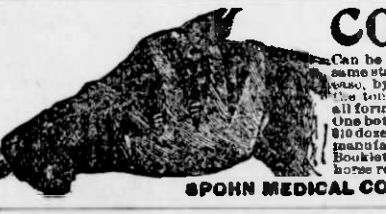

Hood's Sarsaparilla

For All Spring Blood Diseases and Ailments

Possesses medicinal merit Peculiar to Itself and has an unequalled record of cures. Take it this spring, in usual liquid form or tablets known as Sarsatabs.

Spring Humors are due to the impure, impoverished, devitalized condition of the blood brought about by the unhealthy modes of living during the winter, too close confinement, too little outdoor air and exercise, too heavy diet. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them and builds up the whole system.
