STOLEN GOODS ARE RECOVERED

Part of Goods Stolen From the Knickel-Straub Store at Campbellsport on Night of February 3rd, Recovered

FOUND IN VACANT HOUSE

Goods Were Found in the Mattes Residence 1 Mile North of This Village, Which Had Been Vacant all Winter

Part of the stolen goods which were taken from the Knickel & Straub store at Campbellsport on the night of February 3rd, were found in the Adolph Mattes residence 1/2 mile north of this village on last week Thursday night.

The goods were found between the mattresses and springs of two beds. The house being unoccupied all winter, the burglar or burglars were quite familiar with same. But since having stored the goods there the place was sold, Mr. and Mrs. Mattes, who have been spending the winter with their sons in Illinois arrived here last Thursday to pack their belongings and ship same to Illinois, where they will make their future home. While in the act of packing they discovered a suit case under a bed, knowing that this did not belong to them, they investigated further. Noticing that the beds were somewhat stuffed, they pulled same apart and to their great surprise found the stolen articles. The next morning, Friday, they notified Marshall Brandt, who went to the scene and took the outfit in his charge. He later notified the proprietors of the store, Joe Straub, one of the proprietors, arrived here in the afternoon, who identified the articles and took same back with him.

The find amounts to eight full suits, one pair of trousers, one vest, one leather suit case, one overcoat and three shirts, which all told valued at about $150.

When identifying the goods, Mr. Straub was greatly surprised to see an overcoat. This was never missed from the store.

At the time of the robbery it was estimated that $500.00 worth of goods were stolen. It is also rumored that the proprietors have a clue as to where the balance of the goods are, and are having same investigated.

Married.

As we stated in our last week's issue that Miss Hannah Laverenz of this village was married to Paul Krahn of the town of Scott, but was unable to give a full account of such wedding, we are doing so with this issue.

The wedding took place last week Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Ev. Peace church. Rev. Mohme tying the nuptial knot.

The bride, who wore an atlas lavender silk gown and carried a bouquet of American Beauties, was attended by Miss Anna Meinecke as maid of honor, who wore a pink silk gown and carried pink carnations. The Misses Lillian Hintz and Cora Krahn were brides maids. Both were dressed in white and carried white carnations.

The groom was attended by Herbert Krahn as best man, and Wm. Krahn and Elmer Garbisch as groomsmen.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents to celebrate the occasion. The house was beautifully decorated with green cedar, and red, white and blue bunting. Dancing was the main past time of the evening, which lasted until a late hour in the morning.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laverenz of this village, has not been in our midst very long, nevertheless she is a young lady held in high esteem by all who know her. She is one that makes friends with everyone she meets.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Krahn of the town of Scott. He is an industrious young man.

The young married couple will go to housekeeping on the Henry Garbisch farm near Boltonville, in the town of Scott, which the groom has rented. We wish them happiness and prosperity in their married life.

Among those present at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stagy, Ed. Heise and family, Rev. Mohme, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Laverenz, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harter and daughter Sylvia, Charles Garbisch and family, Martin Krahn and family, Herman Krahn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jandre, Elmer Garbisch, Anna Meinecke, the Misses Elsa, Lillian and Mable Hintz and Mrs. Wm. Backhaus.

Shoots Himself and His Housekeeper.

Mayville, Wis., April 23.—The bodies of Emil Arndt, aged 45, and Lily Calpin, aged 17, were found in the Arndt home Sunday morning, a 32-caliber revolver clutched in Arndt's hand, with which murder and suicide had evidently been committed sometime during Saturday night.

The tragedy was first discovered by Arndt's little son, who on arising in the morning found the two bodies lying on the bed. Neighbors were at once summoned, but it was evident that both had been dead for some hours there is no explanation of the tragedy, which has been a great shock to the community. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

Arndt's wife is in the insane asylum at Juneau and Miss Calpin has been his housekeeper. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Calpin of Mayville and was a very attractive girl having many friends here, where she was widely esteemed. Her parents came to this city about a year ago from the northern part of the state. Besides her parents, two brothers and one sister survive her. Arndt became acquainted with the young woman and later employed her as his housekeeper. He was employed as fireman for the Northwestern Iron company. He leaves three children, an aged mother and three sisters.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Farmers Take Warning.

During the past few weeks a number of farmers in the vicinity of Campbellsport have been arrested on a charge that they have kept their stables in an unsanitary condition. They all were fined $25 and cost. The state dairy association have inspectors traveling throughout the state and might inspect the barns in this vicinity most any day, therefore not to be held liable to a fine, it would pay all to take off a day for getting the stables into a sanitary condition. Not all the barns are unsanitary, but if an inspector should do some inspecting, he will have no trouble in finding some that are very unsanitary. Remember a stitch in time saves nine.

Show Well Received.

"Zeke the Country Boy" a four act comedy, presented by J. Burt Johnson & Company in Groeschel's hall last Sunday evening, was received here by a packed house. Standing room being necessary to accommodate the large crowd. The play was the best ever staged in this village. Throughout the entire show, the audience were kept in an uproar.

This has been Mr. Johnson's fourth visit to this village. Each and every time he has given to the people of this community a show that was well spoken of. He has made a great number of friends at every visit, who hope to hear that he has been very successful in his show life. Mr. Johnson is under a very heavy expense in presenting these plays and therefore deserves the patronage of every town he goes to. The shows he presented are no cheap John shows, but are of the very highest class.

Before the last act Mr. Johnson appeared before the audience, thanking each and everyone for their kind support. He stated that this would be his last visit to this village this season, but next September would appear here with a company of twenty people in a musical comedy entitled, "San Antonio". The exact date of his appearance will be announced in this paper about a month before the show. The dance after the show, which was given free of charge, was very largely attended, most of the audience remaining to enjoy themselves.

Burglars at St. Lawrence.

The store of Werner Wolf at St. Lawrence was broken into sometime between Monday night and Tuesday morning. The burglars did not get away with any money or goods. A cash drawer was broken into, but it contained no money. Considerable damage was done by the tipping over of a shelf loaded with crockery. It no doubt was done accidentally, and scared the burglars away so suddenly that they had no time to take along any booty.—Hartford Press.

VILLAGE BOARD IN SPECIAL SESSION

The Village Fathers Met Last Monday Evening in Special Session to Transact Business

SUPERVISOR APPOINTED

Jos. Schmidt, One of Three Applicants, Was Appointed as Village Supervisor to fill the Vacancy of John Muehleis Who Failed to Qualify

The Village Board met in a special meeting last Monday evening with all members present. Adolph Rosenheimer asked for a hearing before the board, which was granted. He spoke to the honorable board in regard to lowering the sewer on Main street from the intersection of Main and Fond du Lac streets to the railroad tracks. He stated that all the business men along such street would donate something towards the cost of lowering said sewer providing the village would see fit to do so. After the board was in session it decided that if the business men along said streets would pay two-thirds of the cost the village would pay one-third and do the work. Trustee B. Rosenheimer was appointed to take this matter up with the different business men and report at the next meeting, which will be held next Monday evening.

Jos. Eberle, proprietor of the Farmers Home Hotel appeared before the board asking permission to close the alley just west of his place, while he was making extensive improvements on his building thus he thought would be for only a week or so. Same was granted.

As no white oak planks could be secured for replanking the Main street bridge a motion was made, seconded and carried that the board buy of H. J. Lay Lumber Co. 2700 ft., of Rock Elm plank, 2 x 6 x 12 at $24.50 per 1000 delivered at the bridge.

The next important subject was the appointment of a supervisor of the village to fill the vacancy of John Muehleis, who was elected at the spring election but failed to qualify in due time. Three applications were read by the Clerk, namely: John F. Schaefer, John Tass and Joseph Schmidt. Upon motion made seconded and carried it was decided to vote by informal ballot, President Peters appointed Trustees Ramthun and Krahn as tellers. Result—Schaefer 1, Tass 1, and Schmidt 5. Upon a motion made, seconded and carried the informal ballot was declared formal and Joseph Schmidt declared appointed village supervisor.

Wm. Martin, the only applicant for street commissioner, was appointed as such for the ensuing year.

Upon motion made, seconded and carried the Clerk was instructed to notify Chas. Groeschel that he has been violating Section 22 and 23 of Ordinance 4 of this village.

A discussion also arose in regard to the grading of Wilhelmna street, nothing however was done. It is expected that the matter will be taken up at the next regular monthly meeting.

As there was no other business to transact, a motion was made, seconded and carried that the Board adjourn.

Later.

The Village Board met in a special session again on Wednesday evening, which was called by Trustees Rosenheimer and Ramthun, for the purpose of taking further action in regard to the lowering of the sewer along Main street west of the railroad tracks.

The business men who held a meeting at the Eagle Hotel on Tuesday evening, appointed a committee composed of Joseph Schmidt, Wm. Schultz and Otto Lay to represent them at this meeting. This committee proposed to the Board that they would guarantee two-thirds the cost of lowering said sewer, and in case of any broken tile that the village stand the cost of same. After a careful consideration the Board decided to lay this matter over until their next meeting Monday evening, when a definite action will be taken. The Board is of the opinion that the business men should stand one-half the whole cost of lowering said sewer including the cost for replacing broken tiles.

SAYS HINES BOASTED

NEW LORIMER FUND WITNESS TELLS OF LUMBERMAN'S 'PHONE TALK.

GOVERNORS ARE DRAWN IN

Names of Deneen and Yates Are Mentioned in Testimony—Tilden and Two Bankers Ordered Arrested by Committee for Contempt.

Springfield, Ill.—How Edward Hines, in a conversation in the Grand Pacific hotel at Chicago on May 1, 1909, boasted that he had elected Senators Stephenson and Lorimer, was told before the Helm investigating committee by W. H. Cook of Duluth, a stockholder in the Hines Lumber company. He said Henry Turrish, a lumberman now in Oregon, was present at this conversation. The witness said Hines approached him and Turrish and said he was "having a — of a time in Washington." He said: "There is Stephenson; we elected him, and now he is working for free lumber." He said Turrish inquired about the senatorial deadlock, and Hines answered:

"It is all fixed. Lorimer will be elected. We had picked Boutell for senator, but when the lumber schedule came up he voted for free lumber. I took the matter up with Aldrich, and we agreed we must have another man. We agreed to take it up with Lorimer, and it is all fixed."

"Whom did Hines mean by Stephenson?" "I don't know," said Mr. Cook, "but I thought he referred to Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin."

The witness said he met Hines again by arrangement of C. F. Wiehe, brother-in-law of Hines, or Isaac Baker, a buyer for the Hines Lumber company. He met Hines in the lobby of the Grand Pacific hotel and went to his room to hold a long-distance telephone conversation. While there a message came from Springfield for Hines. Hines took the receiver, he said, and said: "Is this you, governor? Well, I just left Taft and Aldrich in Washington, and they tell me under no circumstances shall Hopkins be returned to the senate. Now, I will be down on the next train. Don't leave anything undone. I will have all the money necessary."

Witness said he saw Wiehe about a year later in Chicago, in May or June, and had a conversation with him and William O'Brien, another lumberman, in the Grand Pacific hotel at midnight. "Wiehe seemed anxious that we get out of town," said Cook. "He said if we did not we might be called before a grand jury which might investigate the Lorimer case. He said Hines had told him Lorimer had called him up and told him we were in town and for God's sake to get us out."

O'Brien said they were making it hot for Hines. Wiehe said: "Yes, they will get him, too. He talks too much. Every time a reporter approaches him he talks enough to fill two columns."

"Later talking about some business matters," said the witness, "Hines and I went down. As soon as we got out Hines spoke to me of a story about a telephone conversation, and said they got it all mixed up. He said they had him talking to former Governor Yates, whereas he said he was talking with Governor Deneen. He said he didn't want to betray the confidence of Taft and Aldrich, for if he did he wouldn't dare go back to Washington. My impression was that Hines was talking with Deneen when he used the telephone in my room in the Grand Pacific, but Mr. O'Brien, who was present, insisted Hines was talking with Yates."

Cook admitted he had business troubles with Hines, but said that would not lead him to make a misstatement to the committee.

Edward Tilden, head of the National Packing company and alleged treasurer of the Lorimer "slush fund," W. C. Cummings, president of the Drovers' Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, and George M. Benedict, cashier of the Drovers' Deposit National bank, were ordered arrested and held in contempt by the committee.

The report of the committee was sent to the upper house of the legislature with the request that its action be concurred in and that officers be sent to Chicago at the earliest possible moment to bring the packer and bankers to Springfield to show cause why they should not be sent to jail for a term to be fixed by the presiding officer.

N. Y. Assembly for Direct Vote.

Albany, N. Y.—By a vote of 105 to 30 the assembly adopted the resolution advocating the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

PASS CANADIAN PACT

RECIPROCITY MEASURE GOES THROUGH HOUSE.

Bill, Which Now Goes to Senate, Gets Almost Solid Support of the Democrats.

Washington.—By the decisive vote of 264 to 89 the house of representatives passed the Canadian reciprocity tariff measure, marking the close of a six days' fight.

Ten of the opposing votes were cast by the Democrats and the other 79 by Republicans. A majority of the Republicans in the house voted against the measure, and the fears of President Taft were realized, namely, that the reciprocity measure would go through by Democratic vote alone. At the last minute the president summoned a group of Republican opponents of reciprocity to the White House and made a personal appeal to them, but without avail.

The bill now goes to the senate, where strenuous efforts are to be made, through amendments and otherwise, to defeat it. Announcements that such was the plan of opposing senators were made during the fight in the house.

Most startling in their nature were the explanations given by Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, of plans that had been adopted by great trusts, monopolies and interests to defeat the reciprocity bill. That fight is still on and will have to be met in the senate.

Despite protestations of unchanging support of progressive legislation, Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin and George Norris of Nebraska, progressive leaders, lined their following up in opposing the bill behind a handful of the old guard of stand-patters.

The contention of the progressives was that the bill was amendable and that it could be changed by giving Canada free trade. They held to this insistently, in the face of positive assurances from President Taft, the state department and the commissioners who framed the pact, that any change would send the agreement back to the commissioners with the certainty that this would defeat it.

The record vote came on final passage of the bill, nearly everyone insisting on it. Ten Democrats voted against the tariff pact and 79 Republicans. This was a majority of the Republicans voting.

FIVE DAY TRUCE IS SIGNED

Generals Madero and Navarro Agree on Armistice While Terms for Mexican Peace is Discussed.

El Paso, Tex.—General Madero, in behalf of the insurgents, and General Navarro, acting for President Diaz, have signed an armistice, to continue for five days, at Juarez.

During that period terms that are expected to end the revolution will be considered. The truce provides that there shall be no movement of troops of either side during the next five days and that provisions and medicines may be brought to either camp from the American side without payment of duty.

Actual peace negotiations proceeded the armistice at the conference of the various leaders and members of the peace commission. Much of the discussion was of such a nature that its publication is not desired at this time, but it can be stated that General Madero has the most authentic assurances of a liberal attitude on the part of the Mexican government.

TRAPPED IN SHAFT

TWENTY-THREE MINERS ARE ENTOMBED BY EXPLOSION AT ELK GARDEN, W. VA.

BELIEVED NONE ARE ALIVE

Great Masses of Debris Block Tunnels and Rescuers Are Unable to Reach Imprisoned Men—Cause of Accident Unknown.

Elk Garden, W. Va.—As a result of an explosion 23 miners are entombed in the Ott mine No. 30 of the Davis Coal and Coke company here.

There is not believed to be one chance in a thousand that any one of the men is still alive. As tons of debris are blocking the way, it is not expected that most of the victims will be reached for a day or two. One body has been recovered.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. That the disaster was not even more dreadful is due to the fact that digging of coal had been suspended temporarily and a reduced force was cleaning the workings.

Whether the explosion was due to gas or dust will not be known until a complete investigation has been made.

As soon as the accident occurred Superintendent Grant organized rescue corps and entered the mine, after notifying officials of the company at the head offices in Cumberland, Md.

The rescue parties had not advanced far into the workings before they discovered the obstruction.

It then was decided to effect an entrance nearer the probable point of the explosion by cutting through the wall of an adjoining mine owned by the same company.

The rescuers have penetrated to the No. 20 mine at a point about 4,000 feet from the outside entry. There still remained about the same distance to go before reaching the buried miners.

The Ott mine No. 20 is almost directly under the town of Elk Garden which is on a hill. The mouth of the mine is about half a mile from the town, down the hill.

MRS. SCOTT IS RE-ELECTED

Illinois Woman Again Chosen President General of D. A. R. by 174 Majority.

Washington.—The administration of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Bloomington, Ill., as president general of the D. A. R. had a magnificent commendation when after 24 hours' uninterrupted work counting the 1,086 ballots cast in the election of officers, the chairman of tellers, Mrs. William A. Guernsey, state regent of Kansas, announced that Mrs. Scott's vote for reelection was 640 against 466 cast for Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York. The Scott ticket was elected straight through, the vote for the several national officers falling in each instance not greatly below that of the head of the ticket.

The announcement of the vote for Mrs. Scott all but stamped the congress.

RECALL ADOPTED IN SENATE

Resolution Providing for a Constitutional Amendment Affects All the State Officers Except Judges.

Madison.—After a heated discussion lasting over two hours in which the social democrats were bitterly attacked after they had assailed the judiciary of the state, the senate, by a vote of 20 to 7, adopted the resolution introduced by the committee on judiciary providing for a constitutional amendment for the recall of all state officers except judges.

The resolution as originally introduced by Senator Husting included the judiciary, but it was due to the fact that the social democrats favored this provision and the warning given by their political opponents regarding what would happen should this provision be included, that undoubtedly secured the passage of the substitute.

News Notes of Wisconsin

Wausaukee.—Haying is in progress here. This is not due to the fact that Wausaukee's climate has become a rival of that in the southern states, but to the fact that the first heavy snow of last winter covered a large quantity of mown hay, which has been preserved throughout the winter without damage, and is now being stacked. Large crops of potatoes are also being taken from the ground.

Madison.—The state railroad commission has ordered the Milwaukee and Soo roads to refund to the Menasha Paper company of Ladysmith $598.70 as overcharges on shipments of pulpwood from Ellis Junction and Stiles to Ladysmith. The railroad companies charged a joint rate of 10 cents per 100 pounds, which the commission decided was 3 1/2 cents more than they should have charged.

Fond du Lac.—The "sweet girl graduate" joke will not apply at North Fond du Lac this year, as Harold Shidel is the whole high school graduating class, valedictorian salutatorian, president and all the rest of the officers. Despite this fact the June exercises will be elaborate, as Shidel is the first class to graduate from the school.

Racine.—Because she was interested in a book and stopped under an arc light in the middle of a railway crossing here to read, Dagner Anderson, aged 17, did not hear an approaching passenger train and was thrown fifty feet, sustaining a compound fracture of the right leg.

Racine.—Constance Dimbrowski, a milliner, will probably inherit a fortune of $60,000 bequeathed to her by Rufurt Wickham, who died in his apartments in her store building, where he had been living for some years.

Madison.—"Clean up" is the appeal made by State Fire Marshal Purcell to every citizen of the state in a bulletin in which he declares that the accumulation of rubbish during the winter constitutes a fire menace in the spring and also serves as a breeding place for germs.

Wausaukee.—Orders have been issued here that in the future all saloons shall be closed at 1 o'clock in the morning and remain closed until 6 and on Sunday shall remain closed until noon. Previous to this time the keys have never been used.

When a Man Marries

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Author of The Circular Staircase, The Man in Lower Ten, Etc.

Copyright 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

SYNOPSIS.

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so, his art is considered a huge joke, except to himself, if he asked people to dinner everyone expected a frolic. Jimmy marries Bella Knowles; they live together a year and are divorced. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selina, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. Jimmy gets his funds from Aunt Selina and after he marries she doubles his allowance. He neglects to tell her of his divorce. Jimmy takes Kit into his confidence, he tries to devise some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit take the hostess for one night. Mrs. Wilson pretends Aunt Selina arrives and the deception works out as planned. Jim's Jap servant is taken ill. Bella, Jimmy's divorced wife, enters the house and asks Kit who is being taken away in the ambulance. Bella insists it is Jim. Kit tells her Jim is well and is in the house. Bella tells Kit it wasn't Jim she wanted to see, but the Jap servant. Harbison steps out on the porch and discovers a man tacking a card on the door. He demands an explanation. The man points to the placard and Harbison sees the word "Smallpox" printed on it. The guests suddenly realize their predicament, the women shed tears, the men consider it a good joke. Harbison pleads with Kit to tell him the real situation of things. She finally tells him of Bella's incarceration in the basement. The all important question arises as to who is to prepare the meals and perform the other household duties. Harbison finally solves the matter. He writes out slips containing the various departments of his or her duties. Kit attempts to make an omelet for Aunt Selina, but falls in the attempt and is in a very nervous state when Harbison comes to her rescue and tells her how to make it. After the lifting of the quarantine several letters are found in the mail box undelivered, one is addressed to Henry Llewellyn, Iquique, Chile, which was written by Harbison. He describes minutely of their incarceration, also of his infatuation for Mrs. Wilson.

From Officer Flannigan to Mrs. Maggie Flannigan, Erin street.
Dear Maggie:

As soon as you receive this, go down to Mac and tell him the story as I tell you here. Tell him I was walking my beat and I'd been after seen Jimmy Alverni about doing the right thing for Mac on Monday, at the poles, when I seen a man hangin suspicious around this house, which is Mr. Wilson's, on Ninety-fifth. And, of course, after chasin the man a mile or more, I lose him, which was not my fault. So I go back to the Wilson house, and tell them to be careful about closin up fer the night, and while I'm standin in the hall, with all the swells around me, sparkin with jewels, the board of health sends a man to lock us all in, because the Jap that's been water has took the smallpox and gone to the hospitable. I stood me ground. I sez, sez I, you cant shtop an officer in pursute of his duty. I refuse to be shut in. Be shure to tell Mac that.

So here I am, and like to be for a month. Tell Mac theres four votes shut up here, and I can get them for him, if he can stop this monkey business.

Then go over to the Dago church on Webster avenue and put a dollar in Saint Anthony's box. He'll see me out of this scrape, right enough. Do it at once. Now remember, go to Mac first; maybe you can get the dollar from him, and mind what you tell him. Your husband,
TIM FLANNIGAN.

From me to mother—Mrs. Theodore McNair, Hotel Hamilton, Bermuda.
Dearest Mother:

I hope you will get this before you read the papers, and when you do read them, you are not to get excited and worried. I am as well as can be, and a great deal safer than I ever remember to have been in my life. We are quarantined, a lot of us, in Jim Wilson's house, because his irreproachable Jap did a very irreproachable thing—took smallpox. Now read on before you get excited. His room has been fumigated, and we have been vaccinated. I am well and happy. I can't be killed in a railway wreck or smashed when the car skids. Unless I drown myself in my bath, or jump through a window, positively nothing can happen to me. So gather up all your maternal anxieties and cast them to the Bermuda sharks.

Anne Brown is here—see the papers for list—and if she can not play propriety, Jimmy's Aunt Selina can. In fact, she doesn't play at it; she works. I have telephoned Lizette for some clothes—enough for a couple of weeks, although Dallas promises to get us out sooner. Now, dear, do go ahead and have a nice time, and on no account come home. You could only have the carriage to stop in front of the house, and wave to me through a window.

Mother, I want you to do something for me. You know who is down there, and—this is awfully delicate, mummy—but he's a nice boy, and I thought I liked him. I guess you know he has been rather attentive. Now, I do like him, mummy, but not the way I thought I did, and I want you to—very gently, of course—to discourage him a little. You know how I mean. He's a dear boy, but I am so tired of people who don't know anything but horses and motors.

And, oh, yes—do you remember a girl named Lucille Mellon who was at school with you in Rome? And that she married a man named Harbison? Well, her son is here! He builds railroads and bridges and things, and he even built himself an automobile down in South America, because he couldn't afford to buy one, and burned wood in it! Wood! Think of it!

I wired father in Chicago for fear he would come rushing home. The picture in the paper of the face at the basement window is supposed to be Mr. Harbison, but of course it isn't any more like him than mine is like me.

Anne Brown mislaid her pearl collar when she took it off last night, and has fussed herself into a sick headache. She declares it was stolen! Some of the people are playing bridge, Betty Mercer is doing a cake-walk to the "Rhapsodie Hongroise"—Jim has no every-day music—and the telephone is ringing. We have received enough flowers for a funeral—somebody sent Lolita a Gates Ajar, only with the gates shut.

There are no servants—think of it, mummy. I wish you had made me learn to cook. Mr. Harbison has shown me a little—he was a soldier in the Spanish war—but we girls are a terribly ignorant lot, mummy, about the real things of life.

Now, don't worry. It is more sport than camping in the Adirondacks, and not nearly so damp.

Your loving daughter,
KATHERINE.

P. S.—South America must be wonderful. Why can't we put the Gadsby in commission, and take a coasting trip this summer? It is a shame to own a yacht and never use it.

K.

This note, evidently delivered by messenger, was found among other litter in the vestibule after the lifting of the quarantine.

Mr. Alex. Dodds, City Editor, Mail and Star:
Dear D.—Can't get a picture. Have waited seven hours. They have closed the shutters. M'CORD.
Written on the back of the above note:
Watch the roof. DODDS.

CHAPTER IX.

Flannigan's Find.
The most charitable thing would be to say nothing about the first day. We were baldly brutal—that's the only word for it. And Mr. Harbison, with his beautiful courtesy—the really sincere kind—tried to patch up one quarrel after another and failed. He rose superbly to the occasion, and made something that he called a South American goulash for luncheon, although it was too salty, and every one was thirsty the rest of the day.
Bella was horrid, of course. She froze Jim until he said he was going to sit in the refrigerator and cool the butter. She locked herself in the dressing-room—it had been assigned to me, but that made no difference to Bella—and did her nails, and took three different baths, and refused to come to the table. And of course Jimmy was wild, and said she would starve. But I said, "Very well, let her starve. Not a tray shall leave my kitchen." It was a comfort to have her shut up there anyhow; it postponed the time when she would come face to face with Flannigan.
Aunt Selina got sick that day, as I have said. I was not so bitter as the others; I did not say that I wished she would die. The worst I ever wished her was that she might be quite ill for some time, and yet, when she began to recover, she was dreadful to me. She said for one thing, that it was the hard-boiled eggs and the state of the house that did it. And when I said that the gripe was a germ, she retorted that I had probably brought it to her on my clothing.
You remember that Betty had drawn the nurse's slip, and how pleased she had been about it. She got up early the morning of the first day and made herself a lawn cap and telephoned out for a white nurse's uniform—that is, of course, for a white uniform for a nurse. She really looked very fetching, and she went around all the morning with a red cross on her sleeve and a Saint Cecilia expression, gathering up bottles of medicine—most of it flesh reducer, which was pathetic, and closing windows for fear of drafts. She refused to help with the housework, and looked quite exalted, but by afternoon it had palled on her some what, and she and Max shook dice.

Betty was really pleased when Aunt Selina sent for her. She took in a bottle of cologne to bathe her brow, and we all stood outside the door and listened. Betty tiptoed in in her pretty cap and apron, and we heard her cautiously draw down the shades.
"What are you doing that for?" Aunt Selina demanded. "I like the light."
"It's bad for your poor eyes," Betty's tone was exactly the proper bedside pitch, low and sugary.
"Sweet and low, sweet and low, wind of the western sea!" Dal hummed outside.
"Put up those window-shades!" Aunt Selina's voice was strong enough. "What's in that bottle?"
Betty was still mild. She swished to the window and raised the shade.
"I'm so sorry you are ill," she said sympathetically. "This is for your poor aching head. Now close your eyes and lie perfectly still, and I will cool your forehead."
"There's nothing the matter with my head," Aunt Selina retorted. "And I have not lost my faculties; I am not a child or a sick cow. If that's perfumery, take it out."
We heard Betty coming to the door, but there was no time to get away. She had dropped her mask for a minute and was biting her lip, but when she saw us she forced a smile.
"She's ill, poor dear," she said. "If you people will go away, I can bring her around all right. In two hours she will eat out of my hand."
"Eat a piece out of your hand," Max scoffed in a whisper.
We waited a little longer, but it was too painful. Aunt Selina demanded a mustard foot bath and a hot lemonade and her back rubbed with liniment and some strong black tea. And in the intervals she wanted to be read to out of the prayer-book. And when we had all gone away, there came the most terrible noise from Aunt Selina's room, and every one ran. We found Betty in the hall outside the door, crying, with her fingers in her ears and her cap over her eye. She said she had been putting the hot-water bottle to Aunt Selina's back, and it had been too hot. Just then something hit against the door with a soft thud, fell to the floor and burst, for a trickle of hot water came over the sill.
"She won't let me hold her hand," Betty wailed, "or bathe her brow, or smooth her pillow. She thinks of nothing but her stomach or her back! And when I try to make her bed look decent, she spits at me like a cat. Everything I do is wrong. She spilled the foot-bath into her shoes, and blamed me for it."
It took the united efforts of all of us—except Bella, who stood back and smiled nastily—to get Betty back into the sick-room again. I was supremely thankful by that time that I had not drawn the nurse's slip. With dinner ordered in from one of the clubs, and the omelet ten hours behind me, my position did not seem so unbearable. But a new development was coming.

While Betty was fussing with Aunt Selina, Max led a search of the house. He said the necklace and the bracelet must be hidden somewhere, and that no crevice was too small to neglect.
We made a formal search all together, except Betty and Aunt Selina, and we found a lot of things in different places that Jim said had been missing since the year one. But no jewels—nothing even suggesting a jewel was found. We had explored the entire house, every cupboard, every chest, even the insides of the couches and the pockets of Jim's clothes—which he resented bitterly—and found nothing, and I must say the situation was growing rather strained. Some one had taken the jewels; they hadn't walked away.
It was Flannigan who suggested the roof, and as we had tried every place else, we climbed there. Of course we didn't find anything, but after all day in the house with the shutters closed on account of reporters, the air was glorious. It was February, but quite mild and sunny, and we could look down over Riverside Drive and the Hudson, and even recognize people we knew on horseback and in cars. It was a pathetic joy, and we lined up along the parapet and watched the motor-boats racing on the river, and tried to feel that we were in the world as well as of it, but it was very hard.

What a Woman Knows.
"So Erma is engaged," said Ellenot, with a curl of her lip. "Well, I'm sorry for the man, that's all. She doesn't know the first thing about keeping house."
"Oh, yes, she does, though," was Fannie's assuring reply.
"Well, I'd like to know what it is," was the doubting response.
"The very first thing, which is to get a man to keep house for."—Judge.

Wise Tramp.
She brought him out a wedge of pumpkin pie and a cup of coffee.
"And you only visit this section of the country during golden-rod time?" she interrogated innocently. "How poetical!"
"Well, you see, mum, it isn't exactly poetical," replied Dusty Dan, with a smile, "but when do golden-rod blooms it is too late to cut grass and too early to shovel snow."

Good Tip.
"How did you manage to keep that last cook so long?"
"She got interested in a serial story in one of the magazines I take."

NEW FANE.

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Mathias church last Tuesday, when Rev. Joseph Thibault of Campbellsport pronounced the words that made Adam Uelmen and Miss Christina Viola Schiltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schiltz, man and wife. The affair was recognized as the premier event of the season. After the ceremony the bridal party together with about 100 guests, consisting of relatives and friends, repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinner and refreshments were served. The guests marched to the table to the strain of "Love's Golden Star" played by John and Joe, Roden of St. Michaels. The dining room was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue crepe. The bride, who was gowned in a white French chiffon gown of which the veil fell to the bottom of the skirt and was fastened with a bunch of white roses, was attended by Miss Frances Schiltz as maid of honor, and the Misses Anna Schiltz and Clara Uelmen as bridesmaids. Miss Rosa Seefeld, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The groom was attended by his brother, Albert Uelmen, as best man, and by Jac. Schiltz and Wm. H. Calhoun as groomsmen. The gowns worn by the bridesmaids and flower girl were of white embroidery. The maid of honor was attired in a pale blue silk. The young couple are highly respected among their many friends who wish them a happy and prosperous future. They will make their home on a farm near this place.

Last Saturday afternoon a large crowd of people gathered at the church here to witness the wedding of Miss Alvina Meisner and Herman Binder. Shortly after 3 o'clock the bridal party slowly passed up the aisles to the strains of Lohengrin. At the altar they were met by the Rev. Brun of Fillmore, who tied the nuptial knot in a very impressive manner. The bride was gowned in white muslin silk trimmed with white satin and carried a huge bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Mary Meisner acted as maid of honor and Miss Alvina Woog as bridesmaid, both were attired in dresses of white embroidery and carried pink carnations. The groom was clad in the conventional black, as were also his brothers, Robert Binder, who acted as best man and Lawrence Schultz, groomsmen. Little Inez Melius of Batavia and Arthur Enright were ring bearers. Immediately after the ceremony the newly-wedded couple and invited guests repaired to the M. W. A. hall where a sumptuous supper was served, after which dancing was indulged in. They were the recipients of many valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Binder were both born and reared in our midst and have hosts of friends who wish them a long, happy and prosperous journey through life. They will reside on a farm just east of Fillmore.

A Neighborly Chat.

"Say Lizzie! Where did your husband get his manure spreader?"

"Why he got it from Jake Kleinhans at Elmore, Wis."

"What is the name of his spreader?"

"Well Carrie, it is called the New Idea Gearless."

"Tell me Liz, can you load the manure over the box?"

"Why certainly we can. We can load the New Idea fifteen inches over the box and haul it out with our team to any part of the farm. Besides you know Prince weighs 1250 lbs., and Maude weighs but 12-00."

"I do declare! How can that be Lizzie? Our spreader called The Great Eastern can hardly be hauled by three horses, and besides we can't load it three inches over the box or it will clog."

"Well, Carrie let me tell you what we did. We topdressed our corn and by driving back and forth we covered five rows and no trace of the wheel tracks left either."

"That isn't the case with ours. We tried topdressing our corn in the same way but after driving back and forth the best that could be done, was to cover four rows. Besides a space was left each time in the center that could not be reached and the wagon tracks were to be seen all over. But the worst of all is that it is killing me and the children. It is too high for them to load."

"Well Carrie just come out and look at ours. It is so low down that Willie and Fred load it with ease, and of course you know Willie is twelve years old, while Fred is only ten. But look who is coming here? Well if it isn't Mrs. Mary Jones! How are you Mary?"

"I am very well, thanks, but Geo. is all broken up over his difficulties with the different manure spreaders. He has been trying to topdress the grain and tried so many different spreaders, that he doesn't believe in any of them. Some of them draw too heavy for two horses, others fail to pulverize the manure and none of them cover the wheel tracks."

"How very queer! Mary has been telling me the same thing. Now the best thing for both of you to do is to tell your husbands to call up Jake Kleinhans of Elmore, Wis., and have him show a New Idea Gearless. I can say that after the first trial all your anxiety and worry will vanish. My husband tells me that he had one carload shipped in this spring and they are already scattered throughout the country, and an order is in for his second carload already, and giving complete satisfaction. Remember now, don't forget the name 'The New Idea.'"

Gustave Klug aged 54 years passed away at his home in this village very suddenly last Monday night. The first knowledge of his death was noticed by his wife, when she awoke at two o'clock and found him lifeless. Mr. Klug went to bed in the evening enjoying the best of health. The death is a great shock to the family. Death was caused by heart failure. Mr. Klug had been ailing for years with dropsy.

To Count the Mail.

Postmaster A. G. Koch has received orders from the postmaster general calling for an exact count to be made of every piece of mail handled in the local office for the month of May. The mail will be counted according to the class to which it belongs and the figures will be kept separate. All mail that goes out of the village, all mail that comes into the village, all that is known as "dropped" mail and all that is brought into the office for distribution will be kept track of for the month. The local rural carriers will also weigh all their mail, both delivered and received. The counting and weighing will start on the first of May.

Fined $25 and Costs.

A prominent farmer in the town of Kewaskum was arrested by a game warden last Wednesday morning for illegal fishing. He was brought to this village to appear before Justice L. D. Guth, where he pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. That more people have not been arrested in this vicinity lately is a great surprise, as considerable illegal fishing has been done.

FARMER KILLED BY ACETYLENE BLAST

EXPLOSION OF GAS PLANT NEAR TOWN OF WAUWATOSA DESTROYS HOME.

TWO OTHERS ARE INJURED

Henry Vogel Meets Instant Death and His Son, Nicholas, and Hired Man Are Badly Hurt—Residence Is Torn to Pieces.

Wauwatosa.—Henry Vogel was killed and his son Nicholas and a hired man, John Jacobi, were injured in an explosion which wrecked the home of the Vogel family, two miles west of Wauwatosa, when the acetylene lighting plant in the cellar exploded.

The upper half of Mr. Vogel's head was torn off, he was buried under the plaster torn from the walls, and his hired man was thrown unconscious across him when the explosion tore to pieces the farmer's home.

Mr. Vogel was 80 years old. His wife, who is 86 years old, had stepped out of the house and was on her way to the barn with her son Jacob when the lighting plant blew up.

The terrific concussion rocked the neighborhood, being felt in this city. The lights had been burning poorly and the son, Nicholas, had gone to the cellar door to see what was the trouble. He opened the door, smelled the fumes of the gas and, realizing that something was amiss, slammed the door, hoping to avert the explosion. As the door closed, the explosion came. The house, said to be one of the finest farm homes in this section, is a complete wreck.

OFFICER MUST GO TO PRISON

Pardon Denied Constable Burns of Corviss, Sentenced to Waupun on Charge of Larceny as Bailie.

Racine.—Judge Belden in circuit court has denied the application for pardon of Thomas J. Burns of Corviss, who must serve one year in the state penitentiary for larceny as bailie.

Burns, who is one of the best known men in the county, has served as constable at Corviss for years. In April, 1909, a roll of money, amounting to $400 or $500, was turned over to him after it had been thrown away by Paul Adamaski of Two Rivers, who left a train at that place laboring under the delusion that he was about to be robbed.

Adamaski's relatives alleged that Burns returned only $200 of the amount entrusted to him and brought suit. Burns was convicted of larceny as bailie and sentenced to one year in state prison. Petitions for Burns' pardon were signed by hundreds of his townsmen, lawyers, and even eight of the jurors who convicted him.

A peculiar feature of the case is that Burns was re-elected constable of the village in April and on the same day it was learned that the supreme court had denied his appeal for a rehearing.

MAY MERGE DEPARTMENTS

Assembly Committee Drafting a Bill to Combine Duties and Save the State Money.

Madison.—The assembly committee on conservation is drafting a bill to consolidate the state forestry department, the fish and game warden's department, and the state fire marshal's department.

A bill was recently introduced to abolish the state game warden's department, but that was side tracked to make way for a substitute bill which authorizes county offices to appoint a game warden.

There is a movement to economize in the smaller state departments and the members of the conservation committee believe that they have a bill in that direction which will be acceptable.

Warns Against Apple Aphid.

Madison.—The unusual abundance of the eggs of the destructive apple aphid this spring has caused Prof. J. G. Sanders of the department of entomology at the University of Wisconsin to issue a warning to all fruit growers of the state. He points out that unless the pest is overcome immediately by spraying orchards with lime sulphur solution serious damage will result to the fruit crop this year. The apple and pear are most likely to be affected though the aphid preys on all fruits. The oyster scale is also out in great numbers this year and should be controlled in the same way as the apple aphid.

Woman Burns to Death.

Chippewa Falls.—While burning brush on her farm, fifteen miles north of here, Mrs. Chris Marez, aged 40, was terribly burned when her skirts caught fire. She died in a few hours.

Will Be Immigration Commissioner.

Madison.—B. G. Packer of Withee has notified Secretary of State Frear of his acceptance of the office of immigration commissioner, to which he was recently appointed.

Candidate Not Eligible.

Washington, D. C.—The nomination of Charles Brown to be postmaster at Montello, Wis., has been withdrawn owing to the discovery that Brown is not legally a citizen.

Shelbygan Waterworks Pays.

Shelbygan.—The annual report of the city water commission shows a total of $84,347.23 receipts, $17,480.81 operating expenses, $14,400 interest on bonds and $52,466.42 net profits during the past year.

Town of Roberts Wiped Out.

Roberts.—This village was almost entirely wiped out by fire which started in the livery barn of the Roberts hotel and destroyed the entire block, comprising practically all of the village. Special trains brought assistance from the St. Paul and Hudson fire departments.

Will Move Road's Offices.

Marquette.—The general offices of the Wisconsin & Michigan railroad will be moved from Chicago to Peshigo on May 1. The road recently passed to the control of John Marsch, an Iron Mountain, Mich., contractor. A reorganization of the line is now in progress.

WISCONSIN AUTO INDUSTRY

Statistics of Census Bureau Shows State Has 16 Factories and Holds Sixth Place as to Production.

Washington.—In a preliminary census report on the automobile industry issued by Director Durand, Wisconsin is shown as having sixteen factories which produced 5,641 automobiles, valued at $7,157,100, during the year 1909. The leading state in the industry is Michigan, 43 factories producing 64,921 machines. Wisconsin stands sixth in the list of states. The total product of the automobile industry in the United States increased from 3,723 machines valued at $4,748,000 in 1899 to 127,289 machines valued at $194,722,600 in 1909, an increase of 4,001 per cent. The number of factories in 1899 was 57; in 1909, 316.

PASS DIRECT VOTE RESOLVE

Husting Statement Plan of Naming United States Senators Is Approved by Upper House.

Madison.—The husting bill to effect without amendment to the federal constitution, the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, passed the senate after a brief but spirited debate, the vote being 17 to 8. The bill requires a candidate for senator to state during his candidacy that he will either abide by the decision of the people at the primary or that he will consider that decision only advisory.

Mayor Boosts Postal Bank.

Manitowish.—A stir has been caused in official and business circles by the action of Mayor Henry Stolze, Jr., in placing advertisements in local papers advertising the government postal savings bank and advising people to deposit funds in the bank because the funds are not taxable. The government is said not to countenance advertising and the matter has been reported to the postal department at Washington with request for instructions by local postal authorities. Businessmen are considerably stirred up over the incident and criticize the mayor for "knocking" home institutions.

Want to Move State Fair.

Madison.—Some of the up-state members who introduced bills providing for the location of the state fair at some other place than Milwaukee are beginning to take themselves and their plans seriously. Several bills were introduced to move the fair to Oshkosh, Wausau, and other places. It is said now that when the bill is reported in there will be a combine on the city by Lake Winnebago.

Reject Dunn Coupon Ballot.

Eau Claire.—By repealing the resolution authorizing the Dunn coupon ballot, the Eau Claire county board has knocked out what was first heralded as a fraud proof method of voting.

Civil Service Case Heard.

Madison.—Arguments bearing on the constitutionality of the state civil service law are being heard by the supreme court. A decision is expected on May 2.

HISTORIC PARK HOTEL AT MADISON IS GIVEN NEW NAME

Madison.—"Park hotel," a name as familiar to Madisonians and members of the legislature for two score years as the capitol, will be known no more. The Kietzsch brothers, owners of the Republican house and the new proprietors of the widely-known Madison hostelry, have decided on a new name—"Hotel Republic."

If the walls of the Park hotel could relate history, entertaining books of Wisconsin public life would be produced. It was in this hotel, fronting on the capitol park, that more laws have been enacted and United States senators elected than in the legislative chambers across the highway. Almost invariably a preliminary caucus of the reigning party in Wisconsin was held in the secrecy of the rooms of the Park hotel, to be ratified in the assembly or senate at the proper time. It is recorded that on one occasion when there existed an unrelenting, bitter contest for the election of a United States senator, an assemblyman urged the followers of one of the candidates to withhold his vote until after a caucus "across the road." Soon there came a recess and an immediate exodus to the Park hotel. Upon the reassembling of the legislature there was an election.

The structure is to be remodeled and refurbished at an expense of $75,000 and it is expected to reopen as the Hotel Republic in August.

VISITORS COME TO STUDY RATE LAWS

WISCONSIN'S HANDLING OF THE REGULATION PROBLEM ATTRACTS RATE-MAKERS.

BADGER STATE THEIR MECCA

Public Utility Men from California and Kansas Make an Investigation of Railroad Commission's Workings at State Capital.

Madison.—Wisconsin is the mecca of ratemakers from all over the United States, who wish to learn how it is that the Badger state has solved the problem of regulating the corporations in a manner satisfactory to both the public and the corporations. Californians and Kansas experts are among the latest to come to Wisconsin for ideas, and now that Illinois has copied the Wisconsin law it seems likely that that state will also have a delegation here soon to see how Wisconsin's rate commission operates.

Attention of these other state boards was called to the Wisconsin rate regulation system especially by declarations of the members of the Badger board that when President Theodore N. Vail of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which controls the Bell Telephone and Western Union Telegraph companies, in his annual report advocated corporation regulation by state governmental authorities he was advocating exactly the system now in use in Wisconsin.

"The fame of the Wisconsin public utilities law has spread so far," said Chairman Lister of the California republican state central committee, "that we felt we would be doing an injustice to the people of California if we did not come to Madison and see the railroad commission at work. Were I given power I would simply transplant about five of the employees of the Wisconsin commission to California, so thoroughly do the experts of this state seem to understand the subject of ratemaking."

Other recent visitors to Madison included the entire Kansas rate commission, appointed under laws practically duplicates of those now in operation in Wisconsin. This commission was especially surprised to find that the Wisconsin commission occasionally raises rates when it finds that existing rates are not sufficient to enable the operating company to give good service to the public.

When the rate commission was first organized, it was a simple matter to find that existing rates were not sufficient to enable the operating company to give good service to the public.

TREASURED SECRET WAS OUT

Football Referee's Devotion to Duty Evidently Had Got Him Into Serious Trouble.

The referee had swallowed the whistle. It was very unfortunate, but it was not his fault. A burly forward had charged him fairly in the center of his back, sending the whistle down his throat.

"The game must end!" cried some one. "We can't do without a whistle."

"It's all right!" gasped the referee. "I've got a substitute. You can go on."

He produced a latch key from his pocket, and as the game commenced blew several heavy blasts on his new whistle.

Suddenly a woman's voice, loud and angry, was heard above the roar of the game:

"Ferdinand, what does this mean, sir! Where did you get that latch key?"

Then Ferdinand slunk off the field, for the voice was the voice of his wife.

Open-Air Schools Increasing.

Since January 1, 1907, sixty-five open air schools for children afflicted with or predisposed to tuberculosis have been established in twenty-eight cities, according to an announcement made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The first open air school in the United States was established on January 1, 1907, by the board of education of Providence, R. I., at the instance of Dr. Ellen A. Stone. The next school was established in May of the same year at Pittsburg, and the third at Boston in July, 1908.

According to the reports received by the national association, the result of the open air class-work has been to restore most of the children to normal health and efficiency. One of these open air schools or classes should be established for each 25,000 population, especially in cities.

The Point of View.

"I notice that you have given up the fight for a cleaner city. You used to be one of the leaders in the opposition to the smoke nuisance."

"Yes, I've come to the conclusion that smoke cannot be abolished. It's useless to keep harping on the question."

"By the way, what business are you in now?"

"Oh, I've quit working for a salary. An uncle of mine left me a valuable interest in one of our biggest machine shops."

DAME NATURE HINTS

When the Food is Not Sued.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is usually faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy messes, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating."

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice."

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began its use and in a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

GIBSON'S ONE GOOD POINT

In the Old Gentleman's Eyes It Outweighed Any Slight Error in Orthography.

The old man had given his son a very fair education, and had taken him into his shop. The young fellow was over-nice about a great many things, but the father made no comment. One day an order came in from a customer.

"I wish to goodness," exclaimed the son, "that Gibson would learn to spell."

"What's the matter with it?" inquired the father, cheerfully.

"Why, he spells coffee with a 'k'."
"No—does he? I never noticed it."
"Of course you never did," said the son, pettishly. "You never notice anything like that."

"Perhaps not, my son," replied the old man, gently; "but there is one thing I do notice, which you will learn by and by, and that is that Gibson pays cash."

Charming Lace Bonnet

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

ONCE more the word "bonnet," in its limited, millinery sense, has a place in the fashion reporter's vocabulary. Many of the shapes, which we call hats, might as well be classed under the other term. There are so many shapes that really cover the head and are almost entirely off the face that the regulation poke bonnet, the Corday cap and the "Wilhelmina" cap do not seem extreme.

Germaine gave us the pretty model made of narrow val lace which is shown here. The lace is shirred on the wires and the art of the milliner is set forth here in a way to demand our admiring attention. A little frill of lace surrounds the face and peeps from under the very broad band of velvet ribbon which is laid about the bonnet. This band terminates in a long single end, which, when not wound about the neck, will fall below the knee. The end falls from the left side. The frame curves in to fit the neck and a flat or "tailor's" bow of narrower velvet ribbon is sewed to the bonnet at this point. The combination of cream lace and the rich black of the velvet is handsome, but this pretty piece of headwear would be incomplete without the little Marie Louise roses and small foliage, that add the required touch of color. These are in fine silk with a high luster. They are in a peculiar pink, having a blue-gray cast and shade into centers with a dark petunia red. Three single roses and a cluster of two are set about the bonnet on a velvet band.

GYMNASIUM DRESS.

Navy serge is the material generally chosen for gym dresses; the one we show here is loose from the yoke, which is square and has the material gathered to it; feather-stitch the same color as sash edges yoke, collar, cuffs, and hem of skirt. The knickers show lightly below skirt.
Material required: Four yards serge 6 inches wide.

This model has the virtue of being suited to evening wear at any season of the year and to the fashionable promenade at summer or winter resorts in the daytime. The design is not one of the sort to have a wide vogue—it is not what is termed a "popular" style, but for that very reason is never unfashionable. The lining is such dainty hats is of maline, chiffon or net. The long tie is the finishing touch of great distinction and is arranged to suit the fancy of the wearer. Wound about the throat it amounts to a real protection. Worn hanging when the weather is warm, it is caught to the corsage or shoulder with a fancy pin, or a tiny bouquet of roses like those used in trimming. The design is not suited to all wearers and one should be able "to carry it off," as the saying is.

My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrl, Fort City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, postfree, on application to Potter D. & C. Corp., Dept. X, Boston.

LACE WORN ON MILLINERY

Some of the Smartest Hats Have This Garniture, and It Is Effective.

This is an excellent season for bringing out the family lace box and going through it carefully to see what treasure it really contains. There are an infinite number of ways in which bits of lace may be employed. Not the least of these is a garniture on one's new millinery. Some of the very smartest hats are to be trimmed with lace or made entirely of it. White lace is especially favored, and will be seen on picturesque bonnets as well as on smart walking toques. One of the new designs is a bonnet made of white lace and trimmed with ruchings of narrow black velvet. The only other garniture is a posy of tiny pink roses. A toque of black straw has a jabot of white lace going up the front and over the crown something after the manner of an ostrich plume.

Fads. Laces of all kinds will be worn in profusion. The classic silk cachemires have risen again. Rosettes of silk are used on many linen frocks.

Often buckles are made of linen to match the belt. For afternoon costume the large hat is in order. Toques made entirely of flowers will be much worn.

Cutting Under Lace. To cut away the goods under lace insertion without snipping the wrong thread, slip between the lace and the material a piece of cardboard four inches long of the width of the lace, and rounded at one end. This will make the work both safer and easier.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money but it's not all baking powder; the bulk is made up of cheap materials that have no leavening power. These powders are so carelessly made from inferior materials that they will not make light, wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of evening gas; therefore it takes from two to three times as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of the cheap powders is more than Calumet would be.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price and one which can be relied upon? Calumet gives the cook the least trouble.

"ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT."

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning with little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but it didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured."

Care of the Child.

It is announced that Los Angeles county government will in future expend as much money upon societies for the care of children as it does now upon societies that look after the welfare of animals.

This is well. Perhaps, in course of time, we may come to regard children as of equal importance with horses and dogs.

EATS WHAT HE LIKES

It will be welcome news to dyspeptics to learn of a remedy that, in the opinion of thousands, is an absolute cure for indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble, and, better still, it is guaranteed to do so. The remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

We all know the value of pure pepsin in indigestion, and add to this some exceptional laxative ingredients and you have a truly wonderful remedy. Mr. T. W. Worthy of Forsythe, Ga., got to the point where he could not even eat or digest vegetables and after many years of seeking he found the cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. Rudy Kasner of Moline, Ill., was in the same bad predicament with his stomach, took Syrup Pepsin and is now cured. Hundreds of others would gladly testify.

It is a guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, gas on the stomach and similar complaints. A bottle can be had at any drug store for fifty cents or a dollar, but if you wish to make a test of it first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will supply a free sample bottle, sent direct to your address. You will soon admit that you have found something to replace salts, cathartics, breath perfumes and other temporary reliefs. Syrup Pepsin will cure you permanently.

WILL LOOK TO CANADA FOR WHEAT

ONE REASON WHY AMERICANS GO TO CANADA.

In the Chicago Inter-Ocean of a few days since reference was made to the fact that in 1909 the United States raised 737,189,000 bushels of wheat, and last year grew only 695,443,000, a decrease of 41,746,000 bushels. The article went on to say: "True we raised last year more than enough wheat for our own needs, but it is apparent that if production continues to decrease in that ratio we will soon be obliged to look to other countries for wheat to supply our rapidly increasing population."

The purpose of the article was to show that reciprocity was to be desired. This is a question that I do not propose to deal with, preferring to leave it to others who have made a greater study of that economic question than I have. The point to be considered is, with the high price of lands in the United States, and with the much lower priced lands of Canada, and their ability to produce probably more abundantly, is it not well for the United States farmer to take advantage of the opportunity Canada affords with its lower-priced lands and take a part in supplying the needs of the United States, which it is quite apparent must come sooner or later? It is probable there are now about 300,000 American farmers in Western Canada, cultivating large farms, and becoming rich, in the growing of 25- and 30-bushel-to-the-acre wheat, in producing large yields of oats and barley, and in raising horses and cattle cheaply on the wild prairie grasses that are there, both succulent and abundant. All these find a ready market at good prices. Amongst the Americans who have made their homes in Canada are to be found colonies of Scandinavians, and all are doing well. I have before me a letter from an American Scandinavian, now a Canadian, an extract from which is interesting. Writing from Turtle Lake, Saskatchewan, he says:

"I came up here from Fergus Falls, Minn., October 24th, 1910, and thought I would let you know how I have been getting along. We had a very mild winter up to New Year's, but since then it has been quite cold and lots of snow, but not worse than that we could be out every day working, even though we had 65 below zero a few times, but we do not feel the cold here the same as we did in Minnesota, as it is very still and the air is high and dry. This is a splendid place for cattle raising and mixed farming. There is some willow brush and small poplars on part of the land, which is rolling and covered with splendid grass in the summer. Not far from here there is timber for building material. There are only 8 Norwegians here, 6 Scotchmen, 2 Germans. The lake is 20 miles long and full of very fine fish.

"There is a lot of land yet that has not been taken and room for many settlers, and we wish you would send some settlers up here, as there are fine prospects for them, especially for those who have a little money to start with. Send them here to Turtle Lake, and we will show them the land, if they have secured plats, showing the vacant lands, at the Dominion Lands office in Battleford. Send us up some good Scandinavians this spring."

The Canadian government agents will try to meet his wishes.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

—Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.
Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

GIBSON'S ONE GOOD POINT

In the Old Gentleman's Eyes It Outweighed Any Slight Error in Orthography.

The old man had given his son a very fair education, and had taken him into his shop. The young fellow was over-nice about a great many things, but the father made no comment. One day an order came in from a customer.

"I wish to goodness," exclaimed the son, "that Gibson would learn to spell."

"What's the matter with it?" inquired the father, cheerfully.
"Why, he spells coffee with a 'k'."
"No—does he? I never noticed it."
"Of course you never did," said the son, pettishly. "You never notice anything like that."
"Perhaps not, my son," replied the old man, gently; "but there is one thing I do notice, which you will learn by and by, and that is that Gibson pays cash."

GONE UP.

Charming Lace Bonnet

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

ONCE more the word "bonnet," in its limited, millinery sense, has a place in the fashion reporter's vocabulary. Many of the shapes, which we call hats, might as well be classed under the other term. There are so many shapes that really cover the head and are almost entirely off the face that the regulation poke bonnet, the Corday cap and the "Wilhelmina" cap do not seem extreme.

Germaine gave us the pretty model made of narrow val lace which is shown here. The lace is shirred on the wires and the art of the milliner is set forth here in a way to demand our admiring attention. A little frill of lace surrounds the face and peeps from under the very broad band of velvet ribbon which is laid about the bonnet. This band terminates in a long single end, which, when not wound about the neck, will fall below the knee. The end falls from the left side. The frame curves in to fit the neck and a flat or "tallor's" bow of narrower velvet ribbon is sewed to the bonnet at this point. The combination of cream lace and the rich black of the velvet is handsome, but this pretty piece of headwear would be incomplete without the little Marie Louise roses and small foliage, that add the required touch of color. These are in fine silk with a high luster. They are in a peculiar pink, having a blue-gray cast and shade into centers with a dark petunia red. Three single roses and a cluster of two are set about the bonnet on a velvet band.

GYMNASIUM DRESS.

Navy serge is the material generally chosen for gym dresses; the one we show here is loose from the yoke, which is square and has the material gathered to it; feather-stitch the same color as sash edges yoke, collar, cuffs, and hem of skirt. The knickers show lightly below skirt.
Material required: Four yards serge 6 inches wide.

This model has the virtue of being suited to evening wear at any season of the year and to the fashionable promenaded at summer or winter resorts in the daytime. The design is not one of the sort to have a wide vogue—it is not what is termed a "popular" style, but for that reason is never unfashionable. The lining is such dainty hats is of maline, chiffon or net. The long tie is the finishing touch of great distinction and is arranged to suit the fancy of the wearer. Wound about the throat it amounts to a real protection. Worn hanging when the weather is warm, it is caught to the corsage or shoulder with a fancy pin, or a tiny bouquet of roses like those used in trimming. The design is not suited to all wearers and one should be able "to carry it off," as the saying is.

complete without the little Marie Louise roses and small foliage, that add the required touch of color. These are in fine silk with a high luster. They are in a peculiar pink, having a blue-gray cast and shade into centers with a dark petunia red. Three single roses and a cluster of two are set about the bonnet on a velvet band.

LACE WORN ON MILLINERY

Some of the Smartest Hats Have This Garniture, and It Is Effective.

This is an excellent season for bringing out the family lace box and going through it carefully to see what treasure it really contains. There are an infinite number of ways in which bits of lace may be employed. Not the least of these is a garniture on one's new millinery. Some of the very smartest hats are to be trimmed with lace or made entirely of it. White lace is especially favored, and will be seen on picturesque bonnets as well as on smart walking toques. One of the new designs is a bonnet made of white lace and trimmed with ruchings of narrow black velvet. The only other garniture is a posy of tiny pink roses. A toque of black straw has a Jabot of white lace going up the front and over the crown something after the manner of an ostrich plume.

Fads.
Laces of all kinds will be worn in profusion.

The classic silk cachemires have risen again.
Rosettes of silk are used on many linen frocks.
Often buckles are made of linen to match the belt.
For afternoon costume the large hat is in order.
Toques made entirely of flowers will be much worn.

Cutting Under Lace.
To cut away the goods under lace insertion without snipping the wrong thread, slip between the lace and the material a piece of cardboard four inches long of the width of the lace, and rounded at one end. This will make the work both safer and easier.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money but it's not all baking powder; the bulk is made up of cheap materials that have no leavening power. These powders are so carelessly made from inferior materials that they will not make light, wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of evening gas; therefore it takes from two to three times as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of the cheap powders is more than Calumet could be.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price, and one which can be relied upon? Calumet gives you the least trouble.

'ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT.'

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but it didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed out the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured."

"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrl, Fort City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, postfree, on application to Potter D. & C. Corp., Dept. X, Boston.

It is announced that Los Angeles county government will in future expend as much money upon societies for the care of children as it does now upon societies that look after the welfare of animals.

This is well. Perhaps, in course of time, we may come to regard children as of equal importance with horses and dogs.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES.

A mail order house in Chicago or some other city may be able to sell you anything from a paper of pins to a house and lot, simply by referring you to their catalogues, but they can't sell you a GOOD WATCH that way. WATCHES are very delicate machines that may be put out of order in a dozen ways after leaving the factory. A JEWELER knows how to put the watch into shape, and he won't sell one without doing it. MAIL ORDER HOUSES DO NOT WANT TO BOTHER WITH THAT, AND AS A MATTER OF FACT, THEY CANNOT IF THEY WOULD. When you buy a WATCH go to a JEWELER, tell him what you want, and he will sell you a WATCH in good running order. Do not make the mistake of trying to buy by mail from any catalogue. You won't know what you are getting if you do. IF YOU BUY OF US YOU WILL MAKE NO MISTAKE.
