The petitions of the residents a-long West Water St. for an arc light was upon a motion made, seconded and carried laid on the table,

Considerable discussion arose as to the lowering of the tile drain along Main St., which was brought up for final action. The board fincame to a conclusion to draw up a resolution, whereby the property owners along said street guarantee the payment of one-half the total cost of lowering, re-laying and replacing broken tiles and the village to pay the other half. The resolution, which was presented by Trustee Rosenhei-mer reads as follows:

Whereas the property owners a long Main street west of the rail-road track request the Village Board to lower the drain along said street and guarantee to pay one-half of the total cost and ex-pense of lowering and repairing said drain.

Therefore, be it Resolved by the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, County of Washington, Wisconsin, that the said drain along said Main street be lowered and repaired and held under the and repaired and laid under the direction of the Committee

QUICK VERDICT

Village Board Meets in Regu- Frank Denasus Found Guilty Bank of West Bend Increases of Horse Theft on First Ballot

The Tile Drain Along Main St., May Give Waupun Authorities Some Trouble Retaining Him

> (Fond du Lac Reporter) The case of the state against Frank Denasus, charged

horse theft, was given to the jury Tuesday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock and a verdict of guilty returned wihtin ten minutes. But one ballot was taken and it is said that the entire panel was of mind as to the defendant's guilt. Denasus has not yet been sentenced, but under the statue governing his offense is certain to receive a term in the penitentiary. Man Not Insane.

Denasus exhibited no signs mental aberration during his trial in fact his action indicated that was a man of exceptionally well balanced mentality and unusual shrewdness, Attorney R. L. Morse, who appeared for the de fense, was appointed by the court, just prior to the trial and was seriously handicapped by the fact that he had practically no time in which to prepare himself. Under the conditions he did as well as could possibly be expected,

Is a Clever Jail Breaker. That Denasus will go to Waupun seems a certainty. That will stay there very long is a mat-ter of speculation. If a jail brea-ker can be referred to as an "artist" in his line, then Denasus will go down into criminal history as one of the "great masters." Give him a piece of an old table knife and he will saw through any bar that was ever invented. He demonstrated this at the county jail in his three attempts to secure liberty. He didn't succeed, but this was due to the vigilance of the officials and the treachery of in-mates, not to the bolts and bars of the jail.

Stole Horse From Eden Farmer. Denasus was charged with the heft of a horse from Charles Ernst, a farmer of the town of Eden on the night of November 11, 1910. He was captured at Milwaukee about a week later. The animal was recovered at a Mil-waykee sales stable. It is the general belief that the man was en-gaged on wholesale horse thefts, disposing of the animals in Milwere shipped to the northern lum-

Gehl Bros, of West Bend brought suit against the Wisconsin Consistory Home for $215 because they said the home kept an ensilage cutter without paying for it, will, by order of Judge Gregory, civil court, of Milwaukee, be obliged to pay the home $14.40 for storage for the machine for three months.

The plaintiffs claimed that the home had used the machine had kept it to test it. Four thirty-second degree Masons, one of whom was Judge W. J. Turner, circuit court, testified that the machine had been left at the home without their approval.

Estate Appraised.

Last week Thursday by order of the court A. G. Koch and L. D. Guth appraised the late Hy. Backhaus Sr., estate. They found that the whole estate amounted to $12.-

The estate consisted of a onehalf interest in the local flour mill, the old store, known as the Kewaskum store, and two lots ad-ioining, the building and lot now occupied by Mrs. Emma Altenhofen and some personal property.

BANK INCREASES

Its Capital to $40,000. Takes in Three New Stock Holders

(West Bend News)

A change of unusual interest in financial circles was made in this city on Tuesday, May 2, 1911, when the Bank of West Bend increased its capital from $25,000 to $40,000. and added a number of new stock holders.

The old stockholders, Ernst Franckenberg, Arthur Franckenberg, Henry A. Otten, S. F. Mayer and Judge S. S. Barney retain their interests, and the new stockholders are Ben C. Ziegler, Andrew J. Pick and Carl S. Pick, all well and favorably known young business men of this city.

The increase in deposits and the business in general, which have grown so rapidly in late years, is given as the reason for the in-crease of capital stock, which together with the surplus, will now amount to $50,000.

A change has also been made in the officers, S. F. Mayer has been elected vice-president and the board of directors was increased from three to five, S. F. Mayer and B. C. Ziegler being the new mem bers of the board. The old officers remain, the entire list being as follows:

President-E. Franckenberg. Vice-president-S. F. Mayer.

Cashier-Arthur Franckenberg, Asst. Cashier-Henry A. Otten. Directors-E. Franckenberg, Ar thur Franckenberg, Henry A. Otton, S. F. Mayer and B. C. Ziegier,

LONDON TO AID PEACE PLAN

Taft's Proposed Arbitration Treaty Is Ratified by Big Gathering in Guildhall.

London -- President Taft's proposed Anglo-American arbitration treaty was unanimously ratified in a long-continued burst of cheers at one of the most remarkable gatherings in the history of Guildhall.

Every political party and all of the religious communities were represented on the platform by their most prominent leaders, and the vast audience comprised persons of eminence in every walk of life. Distinguished Tories and Liberals vied with one another in lauding the cause of arbitration between the two great Englishspeaking nations of the world, and the hope was repeatedly expressed, and as often cheered, that the treaty, though it did not actually mean disarmament, would dismiss any future possibility of war not only between America and Great Britain, but among any of the great powers of the earth.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW UPHELD BY COURT

CONSTITUTIONALITY AFFIRMED IN DECISION RENDERED BY STATE SUPREME BENCH.

STATE OFFICIALS DEFEATED

Court Reverses Opinion of Attorney General's Office and Order Secretary of State Frear to Audit Bille of the Commission.

Madison,-The supreme court of Wisconsin has upheld the constitutionality of the state civil service law in a decision handed down in the case entitled: State No. 15, State of Wisconsin, ex rel C. E. Buell, petitioner, versus James A. Frear, secretary of state, defendant. Justice Winslow, in expressing the opinion, denied a motion to quash the alternative writ of mandamus and judgment ordered that the peremptory writ of mandamus issue without costs to either party. The court makes the alternative writ of mandamus peremptory and commands the secretary of state to proceed to audit the claims of the civil service law for salaries and expenses as provided by law. The case hinged on the provision of the act permitting the commission to fix stringent rules which, in effect, it is alleged, gives it legislative

The whole question was brought up when the commission refused to allow the attorney general and secretary of state to appoint certain

SYNOPSIS.

James Wilson or Jimmy as he is called by his friends. Jimmy was rotund and looked shorter than he really was. His ambition in life was to be taken seriously, but people steadily refused to do so, his art is considered a huge joke, except to imself, if he asked people to dinner evoyone expected a froile. Jimmy marries wella Knowles; they live together a year and are divoroed. Jimmy's friends arrange to celebrate the first anniversary of his divorce. The party is in full swing when Jimmy receives a telegram from his Aunt Selina, who will arrive in four hours to visit him and his wife. Jimmy gets his funds from Aunt Selina and after he marries she doubles his allowance. He neglects to tell her of his divorce. Jimmy takes Kit into his confidence, he tries to fevise some way so that his aunt will not learn that he has no longer a wife. He suggests that Kit play the hostess for one night, be Mrs. Wilson pro tem. Aunt Selina arrives and the deception works out the planned. Jim's Jap servant is taken ill. Bella, Jimmy's divorced wife, enters he house and asks Kit who is being taken away in the ambulance? Bella insists t is Jim. Kit tells her Jim is well and is in the house. Bella tells Kit it wasn't Jim she wanted to see, but Takahira, the Fap servant. Harbison steps out on the borch and discovers a man tacking a tard on the door. He demands an explanation. The man points to the placard and Harbison sees the word "Smallpox" printed on it. The guests suddenly realize their predicament, the women shed tears, the men consider it a good joke. Harbison pleads with Kit to tell him the real situation of things. She finally tells him of Bella's incarceration in the basement. The all important question arises as to who is to prepare the meals and perform the other household duttes. Harbison finally solves the matter. He writes out silps containing the various departments of his or her duties. Kit attempts to make an omelet for Aunt Selina, but fails in the attempt and is in a very nervous state when Harbison comes to her rescue

Betty had been making tea for Auni Selina, and of course when she heard us up there, she followed, tray and all, and we drank Aunt Selina's tea and had the first really nice time of the day. Bella had come up, too, but she was still standoffish and queer, and she stood leaning against a chimney and staring out over the river. After a little Mr. Harbison put down his cur and went over to her, and they talked quite confidentially for a long time. I thought it bad taste in Bella, under the circumstances, after snubbing Dal. "Make a fool of myself, as I have now," he finished grimly. And then So there I was, suspected of being he stalked away and left me there my way down in the dark.

I groped along, holding to the rail, for the staircase to the roof was very steep, and I went slowly. Half-way down the stairs there was a tiny landing, and I stopped. I could have sworn I heard Mr. Harbison's footsteps far below, growing fainter. I even smiled a little, there in the dark, although I had been rather profoundly shaken. The next instant I knew I had been wrong; some one was on the landing with me. I could hear short, sharp breathing, and then-

I am not sure that I struggled; in fact, I don't believe I did-I was too limp with amazement. The creature, to have lain in wait for me like that! And he was brutally strong: He caught me to him flercely, and held me there close, and he kissed me-not once or twice, but half a dozen times, long kisses that filled me with hot shame for him, for myself, that I had -liked him. The roughness of his oat bruised my cheek: I loathed him. And then some one came whistling along the hall below, and he pushed me from him and stood listening. breathing in long, gasping breaths.

I ran: When my shaky knees would hold me, I ran. I wanted to hide my hot face, my disgust, my disillusion: I wanted to put my head in mother's lap and cry; I wanted to die, or be ill, so I need never see him again. Perversely enough, I did none of those things. With my face still flaming, with burning eyes and hands that shook. I made a belated evening toilet and went slowly, haughtily, down the stairs. My hands were like ice, but I was consumed with rage. Oh, I would show him-that this was New York, not Iquique; that the roof was not his Andean tableland.

Every one elaborately ignored my absence from dinner. The Dallas Browns, Max and Lollie were at bridge; Jim was alone in the den, walking the floor and biting at an unlighted cigar; Betty had returned to Aunt Selina and was hysterical, they said, and Flannigan was in deep dejection because I had missed my din-

NEW PROSPECT

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Mathias church last Saturday, when Rev. Thuelle preformed the matrimonial cermony of Miss Kathryn Uelmen and Frank Bowen. The bride, who wore a cream English French voile over white silk, trimmed with Irish point lace, and carried a white pearl prayerbook, was attended by her sister, Miss Rosalie Uelmen as maid of honor, who wore an Alice blue voile and carried a boquet of white and pink roses. The groom was attended by his brother Harry Bowen, as best man. After the ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents where the occasion was alchest where the occasion was celebrated with about 100 guests present. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Uelmen living north of here, and is a lady of charming ways. Her pleasing manners win a friend with everyone. The groom lives near Dundee and is a very industrious young man. He is held in high esteem by all who know him. The main past time of the day was singing and danc-ing for which music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Calvey. The young couple will reside on a farm 25 miles west of New Prospect. We wish them success and happiness in their future life.

Those from afar who attended the wedding were:-John Uelmen of Schiocton, Miss Marie Uelmen of Ripon, Mrs. John Meeth and Joseph Schladweiler of St. Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. John E. TRIAL OF "CAMERON DAM DE-FENDER" AND HIS FAMILY OPENS AT HAYWARD.

IURORS ARE DUICKLY CHOSEN

Three Separate Charges Are Preferred-State's Case Has Been Carefully Prepared, While Plans of Dietz' Are a Mystery.

Hayward.-John Dietz, the "delender of Cameron dam," and four members of his family have begun their fight against the charges of murder and assault resulting from Dietz' long fight against the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company.

The remarkable ease with which he jury was obtained, taking but 'wo hours' time, and the examination of only twenty-four out of the list of thirty-six regular jurymen, was the sensation of the opening day of he trial.

Dietz persists that he will try his own case. He declares having lost all faith in lawyers, alleging one of his former attorneys sought to have Myra Dietz commit perjury in testifying against her father.

Few cases in the history of Wisconsin have attracted as much notice, and the end is not yet, for it is expected that the trial will still further center the limelight on Dietz and his family who, since the beginning of the war in 1901, have at various times been the center of national attention.

Three charges have been preferred against the Dietz family. The first is that of murder against Dietz, his wife and their son, Leslie, in connection with the death of Oscar Every nail-keg in the store had its Harp, a deputy who took part in an

Will Fight to Head Off Inquiry Into Senator's Election.

Madison.-Supporters of Senator Stephenson in the Wisconsin legislature have given notice of their intention of fighting the senate judiciary committee resolution charging the Marinette millionaire with having bought his seat in the United States senate, and requesting that body to investigate such charges.

This notice was given through Senator Bodenstab of Milwaukee, a member of the Judiciary committee, who got permission from the senate to file a minority report and to offer a substitute resolution.

This substitute resolution, Mr. Bodenstab said later, would not accuse Senator Stephenson of anything more serious than the extravagant an apportionment. use of money in his campaign. It jority of the votes

There is a suggestion also that Lafayette might be taken from the First to fill up the gap in the Third district, caused by the taking away of Juneau county.

As to senatorial and assembly districts it seems certain that some of the southern counties will lose assemblymen to those in the middle northern part of the state, where the growth in population has been the greatest.

For one thing the three assembly districts in Rock county may be combined in two. Columbia, Waupaca, Ean Claire, and several other counties, are below the unit for two assembly districts and may have to give up one,

That there will be hearty objections from the members from those districts is certain and the result will be many hard fights before a workable adjustment is reached.

HOUSES MAY BE FURNISHED IN ARTISTIC STYLE.

Special Attention Is Now Being Paid to the Designing of Moderate Priced Fabrics of Every Shade and Color.

A woman who is furnishing a recently-built house told a friend that it was now the easiest thing in the world to get furniture covering of the style, the color and the grade preferred, says the New York Sun.

"In the store where I placed my or-der," said she, "there were hundreds of varieties to select, representing almost as many grades of price. As a result I think I will have a very artistic house at relatively small cost."

At the store where she shopped a man who has been handling the upholstery goods for 30 years said that manufacturers and retailers now paid special attention to the designing of moderate priced fabrics, for the reason that the demand for them was far ahead of the demand for the cheapest or the costliest. As an illustration he showed jutes, cotton reps, mercerized reps and cotton tapestries, all of which he said are in great demand at this time of the year, which included designs and colors as good as those in high-priced goods.

Cotton tapestries, for instance, used shade of art green, in old Venetian red, old rose, ecru or brown, both selftoned and two-toned. Weak Heart Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken nor alcohol. The ingredients, as attested under fath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sangularia Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrasia Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvasta), Black Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Petalium), with triple refined glycorine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way fuat no druggist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to sarink up the red blood corpuscles; but, an the other hand, it increases their sumber and they become round and bealthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate o' take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and cuting dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncom fortable symptoms, stops excess ve tissue waste in convalescence from fevers for the rua-down, anæmic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all " just as good" medicines offered by the druggest who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing
