WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR

Annual County Fair to be Better and Bigger Than Ever

The fifty-third annual fair of the Washington County Agricultural Society will be held in West Bend on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 18, 19 and 20. The officers of the society have left nothing undone to make this year's county fair one of the best ever held in many years in line of exhibits, attractions etc.

The officers of the society have been fortunate in receiving many donations for special premiums and these with the regular premiums ought to insure an exhibit the like of which the society has never had. A lot of exhibits will bring a lot of people to attend, therefore every farmer within a radius of many miles ought to take it to be his duty to make an exhibit of some kind. The fair is for the farmer and he must show interest in it if he would have it to be a success. He must not only exhibit, however, but in order to help make the fair a success financially he should also attend, not alone, but with his entire family—make it a sort of a holiday for the whole household.

John Gudex of Waucousta had some spring wheat ground into flour here last week by our local miller. This is the first flour made here since the Arimonds were here some fifteen years ago. The flour is ground, not by rollers but by the old way, with stones, and in appearance is far ahead of the patent flours.

The marriage of William T. Schoofs and Miss Francis Riley was solemnized by Rev. Stupfel at West Bend last Tuesday morning September 12, 1911.

After the ceremony the young couple and attendants repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where in the presence of nearest relatives, the happy event was fittingly observed. In the evening the young couple left on a brief wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home in the residence of Mrs. Schoofs' mother in West Bend.

Mr. Schoofs is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Schoofs in the town of Kewaskum. He located at West Bend about five years ago and associated himself with his brother, Henry W. Schoofs, in the piano, sewing machine and musical instrument business where he has been very successful.

INTERNATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

Inter-State Butter and Cheese Scoring Contest

As a means of securing a large attendance of butter and cheese makers from throughout the United States and Canada, the International Dairy Show Association is offering $2000.00 in cash, as pro rata premiums for creamery butter. This will be divided equally between the whole milk and the hand separator classes. The butter and cheese which is sent in for scoring will be sold at the close of the show, at the highest market price, and the proceeds will be remitted to each individual exhibitor.

The minimum size package for butter will be 20 lb. tub. The rules and regulations governing the butter and cheese exhibits will be mailed from the general office of the International Dairy Show Association, between the 10th and the 15th of September, and any butter or cheese maker not receiving the entry blank and rules by the 15th, should immediately write and the same will be sent promptly.

A silver trophy valued at $500.00 will be given to the state receiving the highest average score on all entries. This trophy will be awarded under the conditions that no state having less than 20 entries can complete. The trophy shall become the property of the state having the highest average score, two out of three consecutive years, and the trophy is to be kept in trust by the Dairy and Food Department of the state having the highest average score until the next International Show, when it shall be turned over to the winner and so on, until the trophy becomes the property of one state.

SEE HEAVY POTATO CROP

Shipping Has Already Started at Waupaca, Center of Wisconsin Tuber Belt

The potato crop of Wisconsin bids fair from the present outlook to reach the 20,000,000 mark, according to a Waupaca buyer who has just made a trip about the state. The yield of potatoes in the county will be about 1,800,000 bushels. The average in the state and country is about the same as last year, but the growing condition all thru the summer have been most propitious for a good crop.

A carload of potatoes has already been shipped from Waupaca, and this is an unusually early shipment as the market has not opened in several years before September 1.

The potatoes are so well matured as to be beyond danger of early frosts which usually visit there early in September. Waupaca and vicinity has had just enough rain to keep the vines in good healthy condition and but little trouble has been caused by potato bugs.

The grain is being shipped to Milwaukee where it will be kiln dried, cleaned and then disposed of. They are at present loading three cars a day and it is expected that about fifty car loads will be taken out of the ruins. Much of the grain is found to be in good condition, especially the grain in the lower bins which was not touched by flames at all.

They did not appear at the school for supper and a searching party which went out after them found their bodies at 8 o'clock.

LARGE FAMILY GATHERING

Children of Mr. Geo. Schleif Sr. Plan a Pleasant Surprise for Their Father

Last Thursday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schleif Sr., was filled with their children and families, who came to celebrate the 50th birthday anniversary of Mr. Schleif.

It was a great surprise for the old gentleman who knew nothing of their plans, not even that those living out of town were here until they all rushed in upon him. That he was surprised can only be imagined. For a few moments he could hardly speak as his children swarmed around him to offer their congratulations, all the children were present. The merry guests now occupied every nook and corner in the house and the day passed away only too soon in merriment and telling stories of childhood days. The occasion had been looked forward to with pleasant anticipation and it will long be remembered by the children as well as their parents. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Schleif Jr. and family of this city; Mrs. Aug. KIDNAPED MADISON CHILD MURDERED

LARGE REWARD FOR SLAYER

Citizens of Madison Raise Fund of $1,000 and City Offers a Like Amount—Autopsy Reveals Child Was Not Degenerate's Victim.

Madison.—The search for little Annie Lemberger, the 7-year-old Madison girl who it is believed was stolen while fast asleep, was ended when her body was found in Lake Monona. It was about ten feet from shore at the south city limits, about a mile from the home of the child's parents.

While the mystery of her whereabouts was incidentally solved, a still deeper mystery, the motive for her murder, is now presented. Her father, who is a common laborer, had no money to pay a possible ransom, and one theory is that the child was stolen and killed for revenge.

There was no visible evidence of violence so far as a superficial examination disclosed, beyond a slight laceration of one ear. A discoloration on the neck, however, as if from unnatural causes, may indicate that the child was strangled. The little body was entirely nude and was discolored, having been in the water four days.

At the autopsy it was found that there was no water in the lungs. Facts revealed seemed to indicate that the child was slugged and then tossed into the lake.

The citizens of Madison decided to offer a reward of $1,000 for the conviction of the murderer of Annie Lemberger. Mayor Schuber has offered a similar reward on behalf of the city.

John Johnson, an ex-convict, living three doors from the Lemberger home, was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the crime, and later released.

The parents of the slain child are exhibiting grief too genuine to suspect them of any complicity, as neighborhood gossip has done.

DIES IN STREET CAR WRECK

One Killed and Ten Hurt When Milwaukee Trolley Car Runs Into an Open Switch at Full Speed.

Milwaukee.—One was killed and at least ten were more or less seriously injured when a Third street car, bound for West Allis, struck a turned switch at Sixth and Greenfield avenues while going at full speed and turned over on its side.

The dead:

Henry Homolka, switchman, aged 38.

The injured:

Louis Krundick, motorman, leg broken.

Rev. C. F. O'Reilly, Chicago, seriously injured about head and body.

Seven others received minor injuries.

The car was going at between thirty-five and forty miles an hour, according to witnesses and the momentum carried it over on its side, dashing its forty occupants from their seats.

Instantly the air was filled with shrieks and cries, and those in the vicinity rushed to the assistance of the injured. They crawled through the windows and doors of the overturned wreck and the attention of the rescuers was turned to Homolka, the man who died later, and the motorman, Louis Krundick, who was pinned in the wreckage.

PRISON TWINE PLANT WAITS

Madison.—Wisconsin prison-made binder twine is not a product of the immediate future. When the wheels of the elaborately equipped Waupun plant will begin to turn is a question clothed in indefiniteness of the deepest kind. This is the situation as gathered from interviews with President W. H. Graebner of the state board of control.

President Graebner said about three-fourths of the necessary machinery is in place, and that the board does not propose at present to purchase the rest. So many other important matters are pressing for early attention, he said, that the binder twine proposition may well wait. He would not concede that the plant would be in operation this year.

The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for completing the equipment of the plant, and $200,000, available January 1, 1912, and $200,000 more available January 1, 1913, for use as a revolving fund in the operation of the binder twine factory. The latter fund is to be used by the board of control to purchase raw material and for carrying, handling and marketing the manufactured product. The money coming from the sale of the twine is to be turned into the state treasury to the credit of the revolving fund. Whenever this fund shall exceed $400,000, the excess will be transferred to the state's general fund.

STATE OWNS STOUT SCHOOL

Menominee Institution Is Accepted by State Board of Industrial Education—Prof. Harvey Retained.

Menominee.—Stout institute is now under state ownership and control. The new state board of industrial education met here and organized after formally accepting the property of the school, amounting to $400,000 in real estate and equipment.

H. E. Miles of Racine was elected president of the board and Prof. Louis F. Robert of Madison secretary. L. D. Harvey, who has been at the head of the school since 1903, was elected president of the institute.

The city council conveyed certain rights in real estate of the school, reserved under a previous deed so the state acquired an absolutely clear title.

TEN INJURED IN RAIL CRASH

Fond du Lac.—Ten men were injured in a head-on collision between two light engines and a wrecking train on the Northwestern line, three miles north of Oakfield.

The wreck is supposed to have been caused by the dense fog which prevailed at the time and which made it impossible for the crews of the two trains to see each other's approach. All of the injured were members of the two train crews. None will die. Traffic on the division was cut up throughout the day, the track being torn up for a distance of several hundred feet.

DEATH TAKES PHILIP CHEEK

Baraboo Man Was Former State Insurance Commissioner and Wisconsin G. A. R. Commander.

Baraboo.—Phillip F. Cheek, a former insurance commissioner and a well known lawyer of Baraboo, died here of stomach trouble. He had been district and city attorney. He was one of the best known grand army men in the state, being at one time commander-in-chief of the Wisconsin department, and was a member of the Iron brigade. He was about 70 years old, and was born in England. Mr. Cheek celebrated his golden wedding anniversary a short time ago.

Uncle Sam at Dairy Show.

Milwaukee.—Thomas Cornellison, connected with the dairy department at Washington, is in Milwaukee in connection with the dairy department International Dairy Show for the purpose of making arrangements for the working dairy exhibit which will be one of the big features of the show. This also applies to all other teachers who elect to come under the provisions of the teachers' retirement fund act.

MILWAUKEE'S NEW MILK EXPERT

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

Wilbur C. Phillips, who has been made secretary of the child welfare bureau of the Milwaukee health department, gained high repute in New York, where he put into practice the theories that were the result of his careful study of the problem of the milk supply for babies in cities. He has compiled data regarding the milk question in all parts of the world; organized an association of milk research physicians; brought about a demonstration of the fact that tenement mothers can themselves modify milk, in accordance with doctor's directions, and in general has done much to lessen infant mortality by insuring a pure and appropriate milk supply.

STATE FAIR OF 1911 OPENED TO PUBLIC

EXHIBITS ARE MORE NUMEROUS AND DIVERSIFIED THAN EVER OFFERED BEFORE.

TO BE GREATEST YET HELD

Secretary Rowlands Confident That Exhibition Will Surpass Any of Previous Years—Hotel Men Predict Record Crowds.

Milwaukee.—When the gates opened to admit the public to the 1911 Wisconsin state fair, everything was in place for the great show.

Two thousand exhibitors, their assistants and workmen spent all of the previous day getting things ready for the opening. An army of experts, artisans and directors put the finishing touches on one of the greatest displays of Wisconsin products that has ever been shown.

Previously it has been the custom to open the fair on Monday, but the plan this year called for opening on Tuesday so that the exhibition would be complete before the public was admitted to the park.

Hotel men of Milwaukee say that they have never had as great a demand for rooms during state fair week as they have this year.

Secretary Rowlands is very enthusiastic over the prospects for one of the greatest fairs that has ever been held in the state.

"From present indications I believe that this is going to be the greatest state fair that Wisconsin has ever held," said Mr. Rowlands. "Everything points to success. There are more exhibitors; there are more race horses and there is more of everything than has ever been shown at a previous state fair. I am sure that the people of the state will say that we have given them a show that will place Wisconsin in the front ranks of the states of the middle west."

Octogenarians Are Wed.

Green Bay.—Wm. Light of Carlton, aged 79, and Mrs. Josephine Collopy of Green Bay, aged 80, were married here. He has been married once, while this is her third matrimonial venture.

Marquette.—Senator Stephenson has departed for a visit to his old home in Maine. He will miss attending the Wisconsin state fair for the first time in fifty years.

HAIL DOES GREAT DAMAGE

Storm in Trempealeau and Vernon Counties Disastrous to Crops and Buildings.

Trempealeau.—The most terrific hail storm ever known here did an immense amount of damage to crops and property. The north and west sides of every building in town had from five to twenty window glasses shattered, the high school building alone having fifty-five panes broken, creating a panic among the pupils.

Actual measurements of some of the hail stones showed them to be 14 inches around and five picked up at random weighed six pounds. The damage done the city will exceed $2,000 and in the surrounding country it is beyond computation, reaching up to many thousands. Corn, barley and fruit trees suffered heavily. Thousands of trees were fairly stripped of their limbs, while much poultry and small stock were killed.

The storm did much damage in Vernon county, making worthless the standing tobacco crop. About four-fifths of the acreage of that county has already been harvested, but the loss to growers will be from $50,000 to $75,000.

FIRST WHITE SLAVE CASE UP

Superior.—The first case to be tried in the state of Wisconsin under the new white slave law passed at the last session of the legislature has commenced in the superior court.

The case is that of the state against William Tracy, who is said to have brought his wife from Hurley, Wis., and placed her in a house in the local red light district and to have received on the average about $2.50 a day from her for some time.

TIMLIN RAPS FREE USE OF INJUNCTION

TENDENCY SHOULD BE DISCOURAGED, SAYS ASSOCIATE SUPREME COURT JUSTICE.

DELAYS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Jurist's Opinion Interrupts Motions of Attorneys to Prevent State Officials from Carrying Out Provisions of New Measures.

Madison.—An attack on the use of injunctions to prevent the enforcement of new laws was implied in statements made by Associate Justice of the Supreme Court W. H. Timlin when he called the attention of Attorney General Bancroft to the growing tendency to prevent the execution of important new laws by injunction and declared it would be well for the state's attorney to proceed slowly and cautiously in doing anything to encourage such tendency.

Judge Timlin's warning was given after several motions had been submitted for injunctions to restrain state officers from acting under new laws providing for the compensation of injured workmen, a graduated tax on incomes and for state regulation and taxation of waterpowers.

Motions were made by the Wausau Street Railway company, the Chippewa Valley Railway, Light and Power company, the Northwestern Steel and Iron company, and the Southern Wisconsin Power company for injunctions to restrain state officers from enforcing the waterpowers law until it could be tested in the courts.

Former Judge Carpenter of Milwaukee made a motion to advance for argument the case of Bordnis vs. the Falk Manufacturing company, involving the constitutionality of the workmen's compensation act.

Briefs on these cases have been filed with the Supreme court and an early decision is expected.

INDUSTRIAL SHOW SUCCESS

Exhibit of Wisconsin-Made Products Closes at Milwaukee—Attendance Over 80,000.

Milwaukee.—The exposition of Wisconsin-made products at the Auditorium, which for ten days attracted record-breaking crowds, has closed. Secretary Bruce of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association estimated that fully 80,000 people have seen the show during that time.

It is not likely that there will be another show next year, although the officials of the association were greatly pleased, as were the exhibitors. It is probable, however, that a show will be given two years from now, and that it will become a biennial affair.

The Wisconsin Manufacturers' association will hold a meeting shortly to consider the feasibility of giving an exposition of state manufactures next year. President Thomas M. Blackstock of Sheboygan saw this show several times and was enthusiastically in favor of a state exposition, and other officers of the state association also favored it.

LIGHTNING KILLS STUDENTS

Sheboygan.—While seeking shelter from a terrific storm, Walter Theiler, aged 20, of New Glarus, Wis., and Carl Hern, aged 22, of Cleveland, O., students at the Reformed Church Seminary at Franklin, this county, were killed by lightning.

Both young men were returning from the village of Franklin, which is about a mile from the seminary buildings, when the storm broke. They sought shelter under a big pine tree near the seminary when the tree was struck by a bolt and both were killed.

When the two did not return, a searching party was organized and the bodies, without a disfiguring mark, were found under the tree.

The storm, which brought death to the two students, did much damage to crops in the vicinity of Plymouth, Franklin and Elkhart.

HELD FOR BIG THEFT

FEDERAL OFFICERS ARREST S. A. POTTER, ALLEGED LEADER OF "CON" MEN.

LOOT TOTALS $1,500,000

Alleged Gold Brick King Arrested After Long Search—Government Refuses Bond of $50,000 for Release of Accused Man.

Chicago.—S. O. Potter, alleged leader of a band of confidence men, who is said to have earned $1,500,000 through sales of "gold bricks" and green goods, was arrested by federal authorities. Seated in a Turkish chair in the parlor of his luxurious home at 1223 East Fifty-second street, Potter was smoking a cigar and reading a newspaper when the officers arrived.

The sum of $50,000 offered for Potter's release was refused, and the prisoner was taken to the county jail following a preliminary hearing before United States Marshal Hoy.

Potter was arrested by C. F. De Woody, division superintendent of the United States secret service here, on charge of operating a confidence game in Wisconsin. In addition, his operations are said to have covered the principal cities of the world and his loot to have amounted to not less than $1,500,000.

Potter is alleged to operate with a gang, chief of whom is his special companion, Edward Starkloff, alias E. A. Steaver, E. A. Seaton, E. A. Shepard, E. A. Selby, A. B. Cline, Frank Norris, Francis Norris, Frank Allen, Ellis Sherley and E. A. Sands. Starkloff is said to use the name of Allen more than his other aliases. He and Potter are known to the police as the "Gold Dust Twins." Between them they are said to have separated "suckers" from thousands of dollars.

Potter and his friends are reported to have cleaned up $1,500,000 in cash in the last few years, and have carried on their schemes successfully in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. Potter, arrested here under the name of George W. Post, is now under indictment on six counts on complaint of Fred W. Hansen of Evanville, Wis.; Joseph Millspaugh of Brooklyn, Wis.; Richard G. Mason of Geneseo Depot, and G. A. Robisch, W. O. Ekhorn and W. F. Feind, all of Jefferson, Wis. They declare that they received his literature, inviting them to purchase "money" on discount, and complained to the federal officials.

Chicago, New York and Philadelphia were the favorite camping grounds of Potter and his crowd in America, but a year ago Potter and Starkloff were arrested in the latter city and indicted for operating a confidence game. They furnished a cash bond of $23,000 and disappeared, and the department of justice offered a reward for them. Potter will be taken to Philadelphia when the Wisconsin matters disposed of.

SEA-TO-SEA AIRMAN FALLS

Gold Run, Cal.—Iron nerve and lightning wit alone saved the life of Aviator Robert G. Fowler, contestant for the $50,000 ocean-to-ocean prize here.

His rudder quit working when he was several hundred feet in the air. Half a mile further on were the deepest canyons on the great Sierras. The aviator started making great circles, using the control of his machine alone, and after two desperate sweeps in the air, came to earth, but bruised and strained. In the descent he smashed into two giant pine trees.

The planes of the machine were wrecked, the wires torn and broken, and the uprights twisted out of shape. It will take three or four days to put the machine in shape for Fowler to continue his flight.

The accident was particularly distressing to Fowler, inasmuch as he was making another wonderful flight when it occurred. He had covered 31 miles in less than an hour.

THIRTY HURT IN CYCLONE

Town of Hobart, Mich., is Swept by Terrific Storm—Property Damaged $500,000.

Cadillac, Mich.—Thirty persons injured, six seriously; sixty dwelling and business buildings leveled to the ground and property damage of more than $500,000 is the result of the cyclone which swept the town of Hobart and Wexford county.

Louis Wenzel, who, together with three other members of his family and Miss Lillian Swanson, were buried under the debris of the demolished post office building in Hobart, probably will die, according to physicians. All the other injured in hospitals here will recover, it is expected.

Counterfeiters on the Coast.

Washington.—The secret service believes that a dangerous gang of national bank note counterfeiters which has been lying low for a year is again operating on the Pacific coast. A counterfeit $10 note on the Pasadena (Cal.) National bank, brought to secret service headquarters, was declared to be the work of the gang.

BEATTIE MUST DIE

VIRGINIAN IS CONVICTED OF MURDER.

Condemned Slayer Shows No Emotion When Judge Sentences Him to Death on November 24.

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was convicted of the murder of his young wife, Louise Owen Beattie, on the Midlothian turnpike on the night of July 18 last, and unless a higher court than that in which he was tried intervenes he must die in the electric chair in the penitentiary at Richmond on November 24.

Beattie heard the verdict without a tremor. He faced the twelve men at the order of the clerk, and looked directly into the eyes of those who would return his glance. The courtroom showed the nervous, tense strain under which everybody has been laboring for days, the crowd bending forward as the foreman of the jury spoke the fatal words.

Beattie's senior counsel, Harry N. Smith, asked that the verdict be set aside as contrary to the law and evidence. The judge refused to grant this motion, which was, however, a mere formality to pave the way for the appeal which is to come to the higher courts.

Then Attorney Smith made an appeal for a stay of sentence. Again he failed, Judge Watson ruling that he thought sentence should be pronounced immediately, and thereupon sentenced Beattie to death, setting the date as November 24.

HURRY U. S. SHIPS TO CHINA

Washington.—All the American naval strength deemed necessary as a precaution is being concentrated as near as possible to the scene of rioting and bloodshed in China.

Admiral Murdock cabled to the navy department that he sailed on his flagship Saratoga, accompanied by the cruisers New Orleans and Helena from Shanghai for Nanking. The admiral's report contained nothing regarding the situation in China.

More than twenty rioters and a number of soldiers have been killed in battle during the past few days, resulting from attacks of the infuriated and dissatisfied natives upon the Yamen, or residents of Cheung-Tu and Sze Chuen. This information, the first news of bloodshed in the present disturbances, has reached the state department.

Ringleaders of the agitation have been arrested by the viceroy of the province. This inflamed their followers and resulted in a vicious attack upon the Yamen, the residents of Cheng Tu and the viceroy by the mob. The soldiers fired into the rioters, killing more than twenty of them.

The mob returned and in a subsequent assault upon the viceroy's residence slew a number of the troops. Latest news in regard to the conditions is unattainable as the telegraph wires between Cheng Tu and Chungking have been cut.

Reports to the state department indicate that the American women and children have already left Cheng Tu under escort, and it is thought that others also have departed.

ASTOR AND MISS FORCE WED

Newport, R. I.—Col. John Jacob Astor and Madeleine Force were married at Beechwood, the colonel's summer residence here, by Rev. Joseph Lambert, pastor of the Elmwood Temple Congregational church of Providence.

Half an hour after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Astor were aboard the yacht Noma on their way to Ferncliff, the millionaire colonel's estate at Rhinecliff-on-the-Hudson, where the honeymoon will be spent. As he handed his wife into the automobile ready to whirl them to the yacht landing the bridegroom paused long enough to say:

"Now that we are happily married, I do not care how difficult divorce and remarriage laws are made. I sympathize heartily with the most straitlaced people in most of their ideas, but I believe remarriage should be possible once, as marriage is the happiest condition for the individual and the community."

BACK FROM THE SHADOW

READ TH'S MAN'S STORY

A man from Minneapolis, Minnesota, writes us May 27th, 1911:

"You may perhaps be interested in hearing of my personal experience with BONANO.

"Some months ago I was taken to the hospital and for over four weeks could take no food of any kind, liquid or solid. During that time I vomited two or three times per hour, and I sank lower and lower every day. Then I went through an operation which reduced my vitality to the lowest possible ebb.

"The physicians and nurses fought to save my life; every food, stimulant and medicine known to medical science to be of use in such cases was brought into play, but my stomach refused to do its part. Everything was done that could be done and yet I was starving to death and very near the end.

"The physicians finally gave it up, and they came and told me so. 'It is up to you' they said, and I can assure you I never before quite realized the full force of that expression.

"It was up to me and my brain awoke from its lethargy of the past weeks to action.

"BONANO—why hadn't I thought of it before? I wonder if BONANO won't help me out. I asked my wife to get some for me. It was brought and she made some for me in the hospital kitchen.

"The first hour the nurse fed me a cupful, giving it in spoonfuls every few minutes. I was given three more cupfuls during that 24 hours, and the next 24 hours I took a cupful every 3 hours. I retained every drop of it; the first thing of any description that had staid on my stomach in 29 days. My stomach grew stronger every hour and after 3 days' continued use of BONANO I was able to retain a little broth and some soft boiled egg.

"I gained rapidly each day, using BONANO with my meals and two or three times between meals. In three weeks' time I was able to be moved on a stretcher to my home, and as I left the hospital one doctor told me I was the sickest patient ever in the institution that left it alive.

"I might mention that the hospital I was in was in connection with the Medical College that ranks third in the world in medical science and surgery. I had the best the institution could give.

"I have gone more into detail in this matter that you may know that I was a sick man and that BONANO was given a good test by an exceeding weak stomach.

"There is much I can say in praise of BONANO. This I will say at this time: I have given BONANO a much severer test than one in a million could give it, and live to report; and I am confident that BONANO is the most easily digested and assimilated food, liquid or solid, obtainable.

"I am glad BONANO is in good hands, hands that will, as rapidly as possible, show it to all the people.

"I owe my life to the use of BONANO at the time I mention.

"Do you wonder I believe in it, and want everybody to know it and use it?"

Cement Talk No. 5
The term "barrels" is usually used in speaking of quantities of cement. However, cement is seldom actually packed in barrels. A barrel is the unit of measure and simply means four sacks, each sack weighing 95 lbs. Universal Portland Cement is packed in paper or cloth sacks; in most cases cloth sacks are used. Universal is of the best quality of Portland Cement possible to manufacture. Forty million sacks are made and consumed yearly in this country. The railroads use hundreds of thousands of barrels. It is used by the biggest architects and contractors in the cities and the government uses it extensively in all departments. If you have any concrete work to do, ask your dealer for Universal. It is the best for concrete work of any kind.

KEITH OF THE BORDER
A TALE OF THE PLAINS
By RANDALL DADDISH
AUTHOR OF MY LADY OF THE SOUTH, WHEN WILDERNESS WAS KING, ETC.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEARBORN MELVILLE

(Copyright, A. C. McClurg & Co., 1914.)

SYNOPSIS.
Jack Keith, a Virginian, now a border platoonman, is riding along the Santa Fe trail on the lookout for roaming parties of savages. He notices a camp fire at a distance and then sees a team attached to a wagon and at full gallop pursued by men on ponies. When Keith reaches the wagon the raiders have massacred two men and departed. He searches the victims finding papers and a locket with a woman's portrait. He resolves to hunt down the murderers. Keith is arrested at Carson City, charged with the murder, his accuser being a ruffian named Black Bart. He goes to jail fully realizing the peril of swift border justice. A companion in his cell is a negro, who tells him he is Neb and that he knew the Keith family back in Virginia.

"I dunno, Massa, I done heard 'em talk some 'bout dey plans, an' 'bout some gal dey wanted ter fu', but I didn't git no right sense to it. De Gin'ral, he was a might still man."

"The General? Whom do you mean? Not Walte?"
"John Sibley done called him dat." Then Keith remembered—just a dim, misty thread at first, changing slowly into a clear recollection. He was riding with despatches from Longstreet to Stonewall Jackson, and had been shot through the side. The first of Jackson's troops he reached was a brigade of North Carolinians, commanded by General Walte—General Willis Walte. He had fallen from his horse at the outposts, was brought helpless to the General's tent, and another sent on with the papers. And Mrs. Walte had dressed and bandaged his wound. That was where he had seen that woman's face before, with its haunting familiarity. He drew the locket from beneath his shirt, and gazed at the countenance revealed, with new intelligence. There could be no doubt—it was the face of her who had cared for him so tenderly in that tent at Manassas before the fever came and he had lost consciousness. And that, then, was Willis Walte lying in that shallow grave near the Cimmaron Crossing, and for whose death he had been arrested. 'Twas a strange world, and a small one. What a miserable ending to a life like his—a division commander of the Army of Northern Virginia, a Lieutenant-Governor of his state. What strange combination of circumstances could ever have brought such a man to this place, and sent him forth across those Indian-scouted plains? Surely nothing ordinary. And why should those border desperadoes have followed, through sixty miles of desolation, to strike him down? It was not robbery, at least in the ordinary sense. What then? And how was "Black Bart" involved? Why should he be sufficiently interested to swear out a warrant, and then assist in his arrest? There must be something to all this not apparent upon the surface—some object, some purpose shrouded in mystery. No mere quarrel, no ordinary feud, no accident of meeting, no theory of commonplace robbery, would account for the deed, or for the desperate efforts now being made to conceal it.

"Land's Sake, You Doan Mean to Steal Dem Hosses?"

"Willin'! Why, Massa Jack, I see overjoyed; I ain't gwine leave yer no mo'. I see sho' gwine ter be yo' nigger. What yo' gwine ter do?"
Keith ran his eyes over the walls, carefully noting every peculiarity.

"We'll remain here quietly just as long as it is daylight, Neb," he replied finally, "but we'll try every board and every log to discover some way out. Just the moment it grows dark enough to slip away without being seen we've got to hit the prairie. Once south of the Arkansas we're safe, but not until then. Have you made any effort to get out?"
The negro came over to him, and bent down.

"I was layin' on a board what I'd worked loose at one end," he whispered hoarsely, "back ob de bench, but I couldn't jerk it out widout something ter pry it up wid."

"Where is it?"
"Right yere, Massa Jack." It was a heavy twelve-inch plank, part of the flooring, and the second from the side-wall. Keith managed to get a grip next to the black fingers, and the two pressed it up far enough for the white man to run one arm through the opening up to his shoulder and grope about below.

"There's a two-foot space there," he reported, as they let the board settle silently down into position. "The back part of this building must be set up on piles. I reckon we could pry that plank up with the bench, Neb, but it's liable to make considerable racket. Let's hunt about first for some other weak spot."

They crept across the floor, testing each separate board, but without discovering a place where they could exert a leverage. The thick planks were tightly spiked down. Nor did the walls offer any better encouragement. Keith lifted himself to the grated window, getting a glimpse of the world without, but finding the iron immovable, the screws solidly imbedded in the outside wood. He dropped to the floor, feeling baffled and discouraged.

"It will have to be the plank back of the bench, Neb," he announced briefly, wiping the perspiration from his face. "Get down there, and work it as loose as you can without making any noise, while I keep my ear to the door and listen for any interruption."

"They took turns at this labor, discovering a loose nail which gave an opening purchase at the crack, thus enabling the insertion of a small wooden block, and insuring space for a good finger grip when the right time came. A sleepy Mexican brought in their dinner, and set it down on the bench without a word, but on his return with supper, the marshal accompanied him, and remained while they ate, talking to Keith, and staring about the room. Fortunately, the single window was to the west, the last rays of the sun struck the opposite wall, leaving the space behind the bench in deep shadow. Whatever might be the plans of "Black Bart" somewhat larger, arranging the bench itself so as to afford the necessary leverage, but even then his entire weight failed to either start the spikes, or crack the plank. Some altercation began in the other room, the sound of angry voices and shuffling feet being plainly audible. It was clear to Keith that they must take the chance of a noise, and no better time than this could be chosen.

"Here, Neb, take hold with me, and bear down—put your whole weight on it, boy."

The two flung themselves upon the end of the bench, leaping up and down so as to add weight to power. Something had to give, either the stout wood of their improvised lever or else the holding of the plank. For an instant it seemed likely to be the former; then, with a shrill screech, the long spikes yielded and the board suddenly gave. With shoulders inserted beneath, the two men heaved it still higher, ramming the bench below so as to leave the opening clear. This was now sufficiently ample for the passage of a man's body, and Keith, lowering himself, discovered the earth to be fully four feet below. The negro instantly joined him, and they began creeping about in the darkness, seeking some way out. A rudely laid foundation of limestone along obstructed their path to the open air. This had been laid in mortar, but of inferior quality, so that little difficulty was experienced in detaching sufficient to obtain hand hold. Working silently, not knowing what watchers might be already stationed without, they succeeded in loosening enough of the rock to allow them to crawl through, lying breathless in the open. Accustomed as they were to the darkness, they could yet see little. They were upon the opposite side from the town, with no gleam of lights visible, prairie and sky blending together into spectral dimness, with no sound audible but the continued quarrel in the front room of the jail. Keith crept along to the end of the building from where he could perceive the lights of the town twinkling dimly through the intense blackness. Evidently the regular evening saturnalia had not yet begun, although there was already semblance of life about the numerous saloons, and an occasional shout punctured the stillness. A dog howled in the distance, and the pounding of swift boots along the trail told of fresh arrivals. An hour later and the single street of Carson City would be alive with humanity, eager for any excitement, ready for any wild orgy. If only once turned loose. That it would be turned loose, and also directed, the man lying on his face in the grass felt fully assured. He smiled grimly, wishing he might behold "Black Bart's" face when he should discover the flight of his intended victims. But there was no time to lose; every moment gained, added to their chance of safety.

"Are those horses tied there by the blacksmith's shop?" he asked, pointing.
The negro stared in the direction indicated, confused by the shadows thrown by the dim lights.

"I reckon dey am, Massa Jack; I done make out fo'."

"Then two of them must belong to us; come on, boy."

He ran forward, crouching behind every chance cover, and keeping well back behind the line of shadows. A slight depression in the prairie helped conceal their movements, and neither spoke until they were crouching together beside the wall of the shop. Then Neb, teeth chattering, managed to blurt out:

"Sure not; just borrow 'em."

"But dat's a hangin' job in dis yere country, Massa Jack."

"Sure it is if they catch us. But we'd be strung up anyway, and we can't be hung twice. Besides there is a chance for us with the ponies, and none at all without. An hour's start in the saddle, Neb, and this bunch back here will never even find our trail; I pledge you that. Come, boy, stay close with me."

The Pancake.

The pancake is a distinctly American institution. It is eaten only in secret in our best families.

It would be eaten openly and above-board were it not that folk of the upper circles have to maintain their dignity before the servants.

Properly made, the pancake is a thing of beauty and a joy for the time being.

Improperly made, as it usually is, it is a blight upon life and a harassment to the stomach. A wrongly prepared pancake can stay with you longer than the after effects of pneumonia.

If our girls were taught how to make pancakes civilization would go forward so rapidly that those who are now trying to reform our social structure would be back numbers by day after tomorrow.

Dust and Tuberculosis.
As a result of the dangers from consumption to those exposed to various forms of dust, and at the request of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the United States government has recently appointed a commission to work in cooperation with state authorities in making an investigation into the conditions of the metal mining industries in the United States, with special reference to diseases of the lungs. The work of the commission engaged in this special task will follow lines somewhat similar to those worked out by the Royal Commission of Australia, whose report was recently received in this country.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D., No. 5, Box 21, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman.
Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help. I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life. My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it."—Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of ill health, such as inflammation, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

Coachman Had to Earn Bequest.
A quaint paragraph appears in the will of Mrs. Julie Hall, of Brighton, England. At the reading of the will the other day it was found that she had bequeathed £100 to her coachman, provided he is in her service at her death, and "if I do not die through or from the effects of a carriage accident when he is the driver."

Twice Convicted.
Another lawyer's story arrives. We are told that a man was charged with picking a pocket the other day and that when arraigned he pleaded "guilty." The case went to the jury, however, and the verdict was "not guilty." And the court spoke as follows:
"You don't leave this court without a stain on your character. By your own confession you are a thief. By the verdict of the jury, you are a liar."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Social Distinction.
In some parts of the south the darkies are still addicted to the old-style country dance in a big hall, with the fiddlers, banjoists and other musicians on the platform at one end. At one such dance held not long ago in an Alabama town, when the fiddlers had duly resigned their bows and taken their places on the platform the floor manager rose.
"Git yo' partners fo' de nex' dance!" he yelled. "All you ladies an' gennuements dat wears shoes an' stockin's, take yo' places in de middle of de room. All you ladies an' gennuements dat wears shoes an' no stockin's, take yo' place immedijly behin' dem. An' yo' barefooted crowd, you jes' jig it round in de corners."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A lady lecturer writes from Philadelphia concerning the use of right food and how she is enabled to withstand the strain and wear and tear of her arduous occupation. She says:
"Through improper food, imperfectly digested, my health was completely wrecked, and I attribute my recovery entirely to the regular use of Grape-Nuts food. It has, I assure you, proven an inestimable boon to me. Almost immediately after beginning the use of Grape-Nuts I found a gratifying change in my condition. The terrible weakness that formerly prostrated me after a few hours of work, was perceptibly lessened and is now only a memory—it never returns. Ten days after beginning on Grape-Nuts I experienced a wonderful increase in mental vigor and physical energy, and continued use has entirely freed me from the miserable lumbago and nervousness from which I used to suffer so much. I find Grape-Nuts very palatable and would not be without the crisp, delicious food for even a day on any consideration. Indeed, I always carry it with me on my lecture tours." TRIO OF GOOD THINGS

GERMAN RECIPE FOR FRIED CABBAGE WITH APPLES.

How to Make Fried Pies That Are Delicious Hot or Cold—Russian Fudge Is Worth the Trouble.

Fried Cabbage With Apples.—Cut the cabbage as for slaw or ordinary frying and if not crisp let stand in cold water a while. Drain and place in frying pan. Now pare, core and slice apples over the top until there is a good thick layer, sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little sugar, dot generously with butter—or two-thirds butter, one-third lard may be used—partially cover with boiling water, cover tightly and set on stove to cook. As the water boils away and the cabbage and apples begin frying down and becoming tender, remove cover and toss frequently with knife to prevent burning. When browned slightly add several tablespoons of vinegar and olive oil, remove from stove at once and serve. This is an old German recipe.

Fried Pies.—Make a good pie dough, divide in small sections and roll out, not too thin, in oblongs, as though for turnovers, about seven by five inches. Use any preserves, cooked fruits fairly well drained, or fresh fruits that require scant cooking. Place a spoonful or so on one end of the pie flat, sprinkle lightly with sugar, dot with butter, spices also for some fruits, cut a small slit in upper flap, lap over, roll edges securely and fry on both sides to a golden brown in a pan of piping hot lard. Place on platter, sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar. Delicious hot or cold packed in lunches.

Russian Fudge.—A fudge recipe not often heard of but worth the trouble. Two pounds of granulated sugar, one can condensed milk (not evaporated), butter size of small egg; one teaspoon vanilla. Melt butter in pan, add sugar and condensed milk and mix well; let come to a boil slowly, then boil 15 minutes, stirring constantly, as it scorches easily. Add a cup of broken nut meats if desired, flavoring, whip thoroughly and pour into shallow greased pans. Mark off into squares as it begins to harden.

CABBAGE COOKED WITH CARE

If These Instructions Are Followed It Will Be Free From Rank Flavor.

If cabbage is properly cooked it will be free from rank flavor. After quartering and slicing the head, rejecting, of course, the outside leaves and heart, cook for ten minutes in salted water. Then pour off the water, put the vegetable in a sieve and set it under the cold water faucet. The sieve should be set in a big earthen bowl and as the water fills up the bowl it should be poured off and fresh water run over the vegetable again, so that every part of it is thoroughly freshened. When well rinsed lift up the sieve, drain the cabbage and cut it into small pieces. Put it on the fire again in an enamel lined pot, cover with milk and let it cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Season with salt and pepper while cooking. About ten minutes before serving mix some soft butter and flour to a paste—enough to thicken the milk so that it forms a nice white sauce around it. A very young cabbage, straight from the garden, does not require such careful treatment.

About a Mattress.
A mattress should be turned every day, but unless the turning is done carefully it is liable to work the stuffing out of shape. To prevent this sew handles of ticking or webbing to the sides and you will be able to turn the mattress without straining the ticking.

When one of the rosettes shows signs of coming off, it should be immediately stitched in position, for the stuffing will rapidly work out of place, and the mattress will lose its shape. New rosettes may be made out of old kid gloves and sewn on with fine twine with a long upholsterer's needle.

By following these hints you will greatly prolong the life of your mattress.

Salad Pyramids.
About one pound of cold new potatoes, one cooked beet, one cucumber, a little grated horseradish, and some salad dressing. With a round cutter cut out equal sized rounds of potato, beet and cucumber, the slices to be about one-eighth of an inch thick. Arrange them in alternate layers in mounds or pyramids; the top layer should be rather smaller rounds. Put a heap of very finely chopped grated horseradish on the top of each. Arrange the pyramids in a bowl and pour the salad dressing round.

To Iron Fine Tucks.
From an old linen table-cloth make a pad about 12 inches long and 6 inches wide and six or eight folds in thickness, stretch the tucks of the waist to be ironed over this, right side down, and when finished they will be straight and stand out nicely.—House-keeper.

Muffins.
Quarter cup sugar, one egg, three-fourths cup milk, tablespoon butter, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Hot oven.

DEATH BEFORE 100 YEARS IS SUICIDE

Prof. Munyon Says Ignorance of Laws of Health Explains Early End of Life.

NOTED SCIENTIST HAS ENCOURAGING WORD FOR DESPONDENT MEN AND WOMEN

"Death before 100 years of age has been reached is nothing more or less than slow suicide. A man (or woman) who dies at an earlier age is simply ignorant of the laws of health."
Such was the original and rather startling statement made by Professor James M. Munyon, the famous Philadelphia health authority, who is establishing health headquarters in all the large cities of the world for the purpose of getting in direct touch with his thousands of converts.

Professor Munyon is a living embodiment of the cheerful creed he preaches. Virile, well poised, active and energetic, he looks as though he would easily attain the century age limit which he declares is the normal one. He said:
"I want the people of the world to know my opinions on the subject of health, which are a fruit of a life-time devoted to healing the sick, people of America. There isn't a building in this city big enough to house the people in this State alone who have found health through my methods. Before I get through there won't be a building big enough to house my cured patients in this city alone."

"I want, most of all, to talk to the sick people—the invalids, the discouraged ones, the victims of nerve-wearing, body-racking diseases and ailments—for these are the ones to whom the message of hope which I bear will bring the greatest blessing."

"I want to talk to the rheumatics, the sufferers from stomach trouble, the ones afflicted with that noxious disease, catarrh. I want to tell my story to the women who have become chronic invalids as a result of nervous troubles. I want to talk to the men who are 'all run down,' whose health has been broken by overwork, improper diet, late hours and other causes, and who feel the creeping chill of serious chronic illness."
"To these people I bring a story of hope. I can give them a promise of better things. I want to astonish them by showing the record of cures performed through my new system of treatment."

"I have taken the best of the ideas from all schools and combined them in a new system of treatments individually adapted to each particular case. I have no cure-alls, but my present method of attacking disease is the very best thought of modern science. The success which I have had with the treatment in this city and over America proves its efficacy. Old methods must give away to new medical science moves. I know what my remedies are doing for humanity everywhere. I know what they will do for the people of this city. Let me prove my statements—that's all I ask."

The continuous stream of callers and mail that comes to Professor James M. Munyon at his laboratory, fifty-third and Jefferson streets, Philadelphia, Pa., keeps Dr. Munyon and his enormous corps of expert physicians busy.

MEAN MAN.

"Now, John, if I were to die you would weep over me and tell everybody what a good wife I was."
"No, I wouldn't, believe me."
"Well, I would for you, just for decency's sake. And that shows I'm not half as mean as you are."

"WHY SHOULD I USE CUTICURA SOAP?"

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its great mission is to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give to it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps. It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair lustrous and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation.

While its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a water, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without cost by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. 23, Boston, for a liberal sample cake, together with a thirty-two page book on the skin and hair.

THE APPETIZING APPLE.

So many palatable dishes can be made from apples that one need have no monotony in the use of this queen of fruits.

When short of a variety in the vegetable line, did you ever take a few tart apples, two or three onions and a slice of good salt pork, and make an appetizing dish which, if not very digestible, is most savory? Put the pork, diced, into a frying pan, and when a nice brown add the sliced onions and apples, with a very little water; cook until tender, add a dash of pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of sugar, if the apples are very tart.

Apples put into a baking dish with a little water, brown sugar and butter make delicious apple sauce when baked.

Here is a fine filling for sandwiches or cakes, and the beauty of it is that it is ready without any preparation. For every pound of the fruit, peeled and sliced, take twice its weight in sugar, half a cup of water and the grated rind of a lemon. Cook slowly three hours, until thick, then add the juice of the lemon and cook fifteen minutes longer, stirring continually to avoid burning. Add chopped nut meats and no richer filling could be desired.

Brown Betty is perhaps too well known to repeat, yet it is a most dainty dish. Put a layer of chopped apples, brown sugar, cinnamon for flavoring and a layer of bread crumbs in a buttered dish; repeat, adding the crumbs buttered by melting a tablespoonful of butter and stirring them in it. Moisten with water, and bake. One charm of this pudding is that it uses crumbs.

Another delicious cake filling is made from a cupful of grated apple and the whites of two eggs; flavor and sweeten to taste. Whip until stiff and smooth.

Apple dumpling is never too old-fashioned to be rejoiced in. Wrap the short biscuit dough around a cored apple and bake. Serve with cream and sugar. This may be steamed as well.

A bird's nest pudding is an easy dessert to prepare. It is simply sliced apple put into a deep dish and covered with a batter and baked. When served turn upside down, sugar and butter the apple, dust with nutmeg and serve.

TRUE HOSPITALITY.

Webster defines hospitality as receiving and entertaining strangers with kindness. To most of us the idea of hospitality begins and ends with our friends, forgetting that the good book tells us "be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

The more we give, the more we have; which may not mean of worldly wealth, but it certainly is true of true hospitality.

There always being two sides to a question, the entertained as well as the entertainer has requirements to meet in order to make a visit enjoyable.

For the Hostess.
First, I shall invite my friend for a certain definite time.
Second, I shall allow my guest to have a little time to get acquainted with her own personality, not wear her out with entertainment.

Third, I shall endeavor to serve food that is both agreeable and digestible and not treat her idiosyncrasies as mere follies.

For the Guest.
First, I shall announce the limit of my visit and not overstay my time.
Second, I shall be on time for meals and keep my belongings in my own room.

Third, I shall never allow my hostess to guess "that it doesn't run in our family to like cabbage." I shall eat what is set before me, or perish in the attempt.

Fourth, I shall share in the daily duties of the household, the amount depending upon the number of maids kept by my hostess. I can at least care for my own room.
Fifth, I shall endeavor to prove to my hostess that I came to see her, instead of the scenery.
Sixth, I shall on leaving make some return for my entertainment, either an invitation or gift, and shall be careful to leave none of my personal effects to be sent after me.
For those who impose upon hospitality—that is another story.

"I want, most of all, to talk to the sick people—the invalids, the discouraged ones, the victims of nervousness, body-racking diseases and ailments—for these are the ones to whom the message of hope which I bear will bring the greatest blessing. "I want to talk to the rheumatics, the sufferers from stomach trouble, the ones afflicted with that noxious disease, catarrh. I want to tell my story to the women who have become chronic invalids as a result of nervous troubles. I want to talk to the men who are 'all run down,' whose health has been broken by overwork, improper diet, late hours and other causes, and who feel the creeping clutch of serious chronic illness. "To these people I bring a story of hope. I can give them the promise of better things. I want to astonish them by showing the record of cures performed through my system of treatment. "I have taken the best of the ideas from all schools and embodied them in a new system of treatment, individually adapted to each particular case. I have no 'cure alls,' but my present method of attacking disease is the very best thought of modern science. The success which I have had with these treatments in this city and all over America proves its efficacy. Old methods must give away to new medical science moves. I know what my remedies are doing for humanity everywhere. I know what they will do for the people of this city. Let me prove my statements—that's all I ask. "The continuous stream of callers and mail that comes to Professor James M. Munyon at his laboratories, Fifty-third and Jefferson streets, Philadelphia, Pa., keeps Dr. Munyon and his enormous corps of expert physicians busy.

Professor Munyon makes no charge for consultation or medical advice; not a penny to pay. Address Prof. J. M. Munyon, Munyon Laboratories, Fifty-third and Jefferson streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

MEAN MAN.

"Now, John, if I were to die you would weep over me and tell everybody what a good wife I was." "No, I wouldn't, believe me." "Well, I would for you, just for decency's sake. And that shows I'm not half as mean as you are."

"WHY SHOULD I USE CUTICURA SOAP?"

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its great mission is to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give to it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps. It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair free and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation. While its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a water, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without cost by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. 23 L, Boston, for a liberal sample cake, together with a thirty-two page book on the skin and hair.

WHY'S the extra reverence in wearin' shoes two sizes over sma'?" "It mayna be ma' reverent, but it's grand, and you canna be bath' grand and comfortable." —J. M. Barrie.

THE APPETIZING APPLE.

So many palatable dishes can be made from apples that one need have no monotony in the use of this queen of fruits. When short of a variety in the vegetable line, did you ever take a few tart apples, two or three onions and a slice of good salt pork, and make an appetizing dish which, if not very digestible, is most savory? Put the pork, diced, into a frying pan, and when a nice brown add the sliced onions and apples, with a very little water; cook until tender, add a dash of pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of sugar, if the apples are very tart. Apples put into a baking dish with a little water, brown sugar and butter make delicious apple sauce when baked.

Here is a fine filling for sandwiches or cakes, and the beauty of it is that it is ready without any preparation. For every pound of the fruit, peeled and sliced, take twice its weight in sugar, half a cup of water and the grated rind of a lemon. Cook slowly three hours, until thick, then add the juice of the lemon and cook fifteen minutes longer, stirring continually to avoid burning. Add chopped nut meats and no richer filling could be desired.

Brown Betty is perhaps too well known to repeat, yet it is a most dainty dish. Put a layer of chopped apples, brown sugar, cinnamon for flavoring and a layer of bread crumbs in a buttered dish; repeat, adding the crumbs buttered by melting a tablespoonful of butter and stirring them in. It moistens with water, and bakes. One charm of this pudding is that it uses crumbs.

Another delicious cake filling is made from a cupful of grated apple and the whites of two eggs; flavor and sweeten to taste. Whip until stiff and smooth.

Apple dumplings is never too old-fashioned to be rejoiced in. Wrap the short bleuet dough around a core of apple and bake. Serve with cream and sugar. This may be steamed as well.

A bird's nest pudding is an easy dessert to prepare. It is simply sliced apple put into a deep dish and covered with a batter and baked. When served turn upside down, sugar and butter the apple, dust with nutmeg and serve.

NO CHANGE in childhood's early day. No storm that raged, no thought that ran. But leaves its mark upon the clay That slowly hardens into man.

TRUE HOSPITALITY.

Webster defines hospitality as receiving and entertaining strangers with kindness. To most of us the idea of hospitality begins and ends with our friends, forgetting that the good book tells us "be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

The more we give, the more we have; which may not mean of worldly wealth, but it certainly is true of true hospitality.

There always being two sides to a question, the entertained as well as the entertainer has requirements to meet in order to make a visit enjoyable.

For the Hostess. First, I shall invite my friend for a certain definite time. Second, I shall allow my guest to have a little time to get acquainted with her own personality, not wear her out with entertainment.

Third, I shall endeavor to serve food that is both agreeable and digestible and not treat her idiosyncrasies as mere follies.

For the Guest. First, I shall announce the limit of my visit and not over-stay my time. Second, I shall be on time for meals and keep my belongings in my own room.

Third, I shall never allow my hostess to guess "that it doesn't run in our family to like cabbage." I shall eat what is set before me, or perish in the attempt.

Fourth, I shall share in the daily duties of the household, the amount depending upon the number of maids kept by my hostess. I can at least care for my own room.

Fifth, I shall endeavor to prove to my hostess that I came to see her, instead of the scenery.

Sixth, I shall on leaving make some return for my entertainment, either an invitation or gift, and shall be careful to leave none of my personal effects to be sent after me.

For those who impose upon hospitality—that is another story.

All Over the Place. "Why are gossips so often considered authorities?" "Because whatever they say, goes."

Backache
Is only one of many symptoms which some women endure through weakness or displacement of the womanly organs. Mrs. Lizzie White of Memphis, Tenn., writes Dr. R. V. Pierce, as follows:
"At times I was hardly able to be on my feet. I believe I had every pain and ache a woman could have. Had a very bad case. Internal organs were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, in fact, I suffered all over. This was my condition when I wrote to you for advice. After taking your 'Favorite Prescription' for about three months I can say that my health was never better."
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. Tones and builds up the nerves. Do not permit a dishonest dealer to substitute for this medicine which has a record of 40 years of cures. "No, thank you, I want what I ask for."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement once a day.
