FOUR ARE KILLED BY A TRAIN AT RICHFIELD

Family of Frank Klein, Postmaster of Rockfield, Washington County, Nearly Wiped Out.

BUGGY STRUCK BY PASSENGER TRAIN ON THE SOO LINE

Occupants Drive Onto Tracks in Apparent Ignorance of Approach of Locomotive, Which Hits Vehicle and Hurls It and Occupants Into Space—Victims Put on Train and Brought to Milwaukee, Where Dead Are Taken to Morgue and Injured to Emergency Hospital

Mrs. Frank Klein, wife of the postmaster at Rockfield, Washington county her 7-year-old son, an infant daughter and her servant were instantly killed when their buggy was struck by an east bound Soo passenger train at 7:30 o'clock last Sunday at a crossing a half mile east of Rockfield.

Postmaster Klein who was driving, was seriously bruised, as was a 2-year-old son.

The buggy was smashed to smithereens, the occupants hurled into space, while the horses, which had got safely across the track, rushed away.

The train was stopped by Engineer S. G. Pendergast and Conductor J. M. Thompson. The injured and the dead were brought to Milwaukee. Upon the arrival of the train at the Union Station, Mr. Klein, although badly injured himself, hurried to the Emergency hospital with his two year-old son, the only survivor of his children, who was also badly injured.

According to one of the neighbors of Mr. Klein, who visited the morgue to view the bodies, the servant girl who was killed was a Milwaukee girl who had been taken in by the Klein family about a week ago. This man said that the girl and a companion had been in a Milwaukee institution and had escaped. They parted he said, just before reaching Rockfield, and the girl who was killed applied for work at the Klein home.

FOUR INSTANTLY KILLED.

Engineer Pendergast stopped the engine within a short distance, and going around to the front pulled Robert Klein from the pilot. The boy looked up at him, and then, pointing to the still forms of the servants which any first admitted about this electric piano most delicate through the air. After that I knew nothing until I regained consciousness and saw a crowd of people, some trying to help me up.

"I did not hear any whistle or bell, and because of the trees and brush at this point we could not see far along the tracks. Had there been a warning whistle as the train approached the crossing, I would have been able to pull the team up in time to avoid being struck by the engine."

KLEIN'S BROTHER AFFECTED.

A pitiful scene was witnessed at the Emergency hospital when Mr. Klein and his little son Robert arrived from the depot.

Shortly after they had been placed in a ward Washington Klein a brother, arrived at the hospital and pushing his way through the crowd that filled the hall, asked who had been killed in the accident.

Someone informed him that there were four killed. The names were read off to him, and he listened intently until the name of Grace, the baby of the family was reached.

"My God did you hear that?" Grace was killed—Oh, Grace you poor little thing and they had to kill you too," and the next instant he was lying on the floor in a dead faint.

Nurses carried him to an anteroom, where Dr. E. L. Baum worked over him until he was able to sit up. He then insisted that he be taken to the morgue where the bodies of the dead had been removed.

Friends who were with him pleaded with him not to go, but he insisted, and he was taken to the morgue. When he reached there and the attendants found out who he was they also pleaded with him not to look at the mangled bodies. He insisted and was taken inside.

The first body shown to him was that of little Grace, his first-born.

on the train and almost all of them came out and helped in the work of rescue."

M. J. Grueschow, 1024 Twentieth street, a brother-in-law of Mr. Klein, was emphatic in his condemnation of the way trains shoot past this crossing at a high rate of speed.

"I have gone past this crossing over a hundred times, and on several occasions have narrowly escaped being run down in the same manner that this unfortunate family was," he said. "The trains come around the curve at tremendous speed, and never a whistle or bell is heard. I have stood at the crossing time and again waiting to hear either a whistle or a bell, and never once heard one."—Milwaukee Free Press.

INQUEST AND FUNERAL HELD.

Coroner Joseph Kirsch, Washington county, in whose county the accident occurred in which four people were killed, went to Milwaukee on Monday and made arrangements to have the bodies removed to their homes at Rockfield where a jury was impaneled on Wednesday morning. The inquest was conducted by Justice of the Peace, Thomas Sawyer.

The servant killed in the accident was identified Monday as Mary Nitka 11 years. She had been an inmate of the Industrial school for four years, and had escaped from that institution on Sept. 2. She was identified by the superintendent of the school, who had read an account of the accident in the papers.

The condition of Mr. Klein is still serious because of the shock. Robert, the 2-year-old son is much improved and is able to walk about. Outside of a few bruises and cuts he is in no danger.

The funeral of Mrs. Klein, Jeremiah and Grace, was held from the residence in Rockfield Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Services were held at the church there. The three were buried in the same lot. Business houses in Rockfield and Richfield were closed to enable the people of both towns to attend the funeral. It was the largest funeral ever held in that community.

The Klein family is well known in this vicinity. Mr. Klein being a nephew of John Klein Sr., of the town of Kewaskum. Among those from here who attended the funeral of the trio on Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. John Klein Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John Klein Jr., Fred Klein, Mrs. Louis Klein, Paul Backhaus and wife and Fred Baumgartner and daughter Katie.

TO GIVE A LECTURE COURSE

Organization Formed Here for the Purpose of Giving Entertainments During the Winter Months

FIRST NUMBER TO BE "THE STROLLERS"

All of the Numbers will be Given in Groeschel's Opera Hall—First Number to be Given on October 12.

An organization was formed here by a number of the citizens the past week for the purpose of giving a lecture course the coming season. The course will consist of five numbers and promises to be the best ever given in this village. The first number will be given here on Thursday evening, October 12th. This number is known to be very good. It is called the Strollers. They come to this village highly recommended. All numbers of the lecture course will be given in Groeschel's Opera House. For dates of the other numbers watch this paper.

As the local organization is under a heavy expense to get a course to this village it is hoped that everyone will turn out to attend all numbers. Season tickets will be sold in advance. If anyone of the members come to you buy a ticket, do not send them away, but buy one cheerfully. A course of this nature is no detriment, but an educational affair. It gives the people of this community a chance to attend a course which is highly classed in every respect. Price of season tickets will be mentioned next week. Bills and other advertising matter has been distributed. Wait for the circular.

There has been several different courses given in this village heretofore and every one was a financial embarrassment. Let us hope that this will not be such. Boost a good thing along. Do not feel that the organization giving this course are doing so for the money that there is in it but instead think that they are giving this course for the good of the community.

Back Home Again.

As all the readers are aware that Ye editor and wife were away for a few weeks on a honeymoon trip which is entitled to all newly married couples, we take the pleasure in announcing to the public that we have returned from said trip last week Friday evening, and have gone to housekeeping in the flat above the printing office. Since arriving home we have been receiving the glad hands of everyone which we appreciatingly accept. The doors of our home are opened to the whole community and it will give us great pleasure by having every one call on us in.

Carl Doegnitz is Tried in Justice Guth's Court for Using Abusive and Obscene Language

CARL PFEISTER THE PLAINTIFF

Carl Pfeister, Cheesemaker for John Petri at the Wayne Cheese Factory Makes Complaint

Carl Doegnitz a farmer living 1/2 mile north of Wayne Center, was arraigned in Justice L. D. Guth's court here last week Saturday upon a complaint filed by Carl Pfeister, cheesemaker for John Petri of Wayne. The complaint was that Doegnitz addressed Pfeister with abusive and obscene language on the 13th day of September. The trouble arising when the plaintiff ordered the defendant to stop unloading his milk at the cheese factory while another team was loading cheese to be shipped away. The defendant was represented by Attorney G. A. Kuechenmeister, of West Bend. After hearing the plaintiff's story and the plea of the defendant's attorney, Justice Guth found the latter guilty and fined him $20 and cost amounting to $71.30 or in default of paying 30 days sentence in the county jail. The fine and cost was paid.

The reason for the cost being so high was on account of the defendant resisting the officers when the warrant was tried to be served.

Towns Come in Strong for State Aid.

Although county clerks are not required by law to report until October 1st the amounts voted by the various towns and counties for state aid improvement, preliminary reports are already in from many of them. Information received from this and other sources would indicate that thirty-five counties will ask state aid in excess of their apportionment, thirty-two will ask for amounts less than their apportionment and four counties have taken no action.

Those counties in which the towns have failed to vote any money, or enough money to exhaust the state aid available for the county, still have a chance to get state aid if the county board at a special meeting held on or before October 1st votes a county tax equal to two-thirds of the cost of the desired road improvements.

The proceeds of the county tax, together with the state money may be spent on the county system of prospective state highways at a point selected by the county board or its committee. Money voted by the towns, together with the county and state aid drawn by it, must be spent at points on the system selected by the people of the town or by the town board.

Final apportionment of the state money will be made before November 1st. Blanks on which to report to the Highway Commission

SIZE OF THE STATESMAN CHANGED TO SEVEN COLUMN

This Week's Issue of The Statesman Comes Out as a Seven Column Quarto Instead of a Six as Heretofore

CONTINUAL GROWTH REQUIRES MAKING THE CHANGE

Owing to The Increasing Demand for Advertising Space, we Are Compelled to Make This Change—Subscribers Who Are in Arrears are Kindly Requested to Remit.

As we have heretofore promised, we with this week's issue, enlarging the STATESMAN from a six column quarto to a seven column quarto. By making this change we have more space to give to the public, both for news items and advertising space. The change was required on account of the continual crowding. Its our intentions hereafter to give all a more certified paper. The front page will as much as possible be kept free from all advertising, all the space given to the most interesting news of the day.

It was our intentions for the past few months to make this change with the first number of the new volume, but as this was last week and ye editor being away, the intentions have not been fulfilled, nevertheless upon our quick changes and all preparations were made for the change and from now on we will give the readers of the STATESMAN a larger and better paper. The field of our correspondents will be widened just as soon as suitable correspondents can be secured.

As our aim heretofore has always been to give the public a better and larger paper, it is still our aim to give the community a still better and larger paper than the one we are now publishing. Let us all hope that the day may come when we will be able to do so. As we have always done, we shall boost the village and every progressive enterprise and promote every good welfare for the people.

Just a few words to our subscribers who are in arrears. As we have underwrote considerable expense by buying new quarters, remodeling and altering same, and moving our office, we kindly extend a call to all to please remit what they are in arrears. Our books at the present time show a large number still in arrears. Look at the date mark on the paper. This will tell you exactly what is due us. We do not like to send out statements, as a rule the majority do not like to receive one. Every little helps and also means a boost for the STATESMAN and for the whole community.

F. AUGUST OPPERMAN PASSES AWAY

One of the Oldest Residents of This Community Succumbs to Old Age—Reaches Age of 82 Years, 11 Months and 21 Days

FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY, SATURDAY

In the year 1858 he was united in marriage to Miss Emilie Krueger, who still survives him. In the year 1859 they moved onto a farm in the town of Auburn, where they resided until the year 1901, when they decided to retire from farm life and took up a residence in this village, where they made their home ever since. SALOONS TO CLOSE AT 12 P. M.

Proprietors Agree to Lock Up Each Night Promptly at Midnight

West Bend's saloon keepers have agreed among themselves to close their saloons at 12 o'clock at night after next Sunday, and will under no consideration countenance any one of their number to remain open later unless they may agree upon for special occasions. This move is a commendable one, one which the saloon keepers appreciate themselves. They are entitled to their night rest as well as any other businessman and ought not to be asked by any one to remain open at night. Besides, there is no money made by keeping saloons open until well along towards morning, the cost of lighting about offsetting the few nickels they receive over the day. The saloon keepers will live up to their agreement and they need not fear that West Bend will ever agitate Sunday closing or high license, which is now being done in many cities of the state.—West Bend Pilot.

Kewaskum Saloonkeepers take notice of the above, why not get started in this village and follow our neighboring city's movement. A better movement could not be made. If some thing of this sort would be started it without a doubt would meet with every saloonkeepers approval.

Speaking of the Divorce Evil

Trying to succeed in business without advertising is like the case of the man who, trying to cut expenses, divorced his wife and alone attempted to keep house and raise his children. It cost him more money for doctor bills and funeral expenses in a year than he gave his wife in a lifetime.

When advertising is divorced, business success becomes failure.

This paper is building your neighbor's business. He has reasons. He tried advertising and it helped him. It is not an experiment—this paper brings results. Good, hard, convincing results—dollars.

JOHNSON RETRACTS CRIME CONFESSION

TELLS MADISON SHERIFF THAT HE DID NOT KILL LITTLE ANNIE LEMBERGER.

FEAR CAUSE OF ADMISSION

While on Way to Prison, Johnson Declared His Innocence and Said He Only Wanted to Escape a Mob—Others Doubt His Guilt.

Madison.—"I never killed the girl any more than you did."

Such was the declaration of John A. Johnson to Sheriff Brown, made while on his way to Waupun to serve a life sentence for the confessed murder of little Annie Lemberger.

"On the trip Johnson acted as though in mortal fear until the party had passed Columbus," said the sheriff. "Then he talked rationally and without evidence of mental disturbance."

The prisoner told the sheriff that he knew nothing of the murder or disappearance of the girl until the next morning when he went upon the street.

Sheriff Brown said that he had assurances from Johnson that as soon as he could he would write a letter to Attorney Emerson Ely.

"Johnson acted perfectly rational," said the sheriff. He told the sheriff that he saw a mob attack a man at Darlington some twenty or twenty-five years ago and that it was something terrible. He gave this as the reason for being afraid that a mob would attack him."

There is a widespread belief here that Johnson may not have been the murderer of little Annie Lemberger, that his confession was the result of his fear of an imaginary mob and that he was railroaded to prison for life without adequate inquiry as to the truth of his confession. So far as the printed reports show there has not been discovered any evidence to corroborate this confession, while there are some facts that tend to discredit it.

The fact that police officers have again visited the scene of the tragedy gives color to a belief that even they are inclined to doubt the confession and that the case is not yet closed. It is regarded as very strange that a window could be broken, the little girl dragged out, and that no one heard any outcry.

MAKES THREAT OF SUICIDE

Carl W. Heyl, Former Madison Bank Teller, Disappears After Writing Letter to a Friend.

Madison.—Carl W. Heyl, aged 35, formerly paying teller of the Bank of Wisconsin, wrote a letter to A. O. Pannack, a friend, declaring that he was discouraged and intended to end it all by jumping into Lake Mendota. The matter was reported to the police, who, after an investigation, decided that Heyl had not carried out his intention to drown himself, but, instead, had quietly left the city for some unknown place. Heyl resigned his position with the Bank of Wisconsin some time ago and accepted a similar place with a bank at Marshfield, but he later gave that up and took a job as traveling representative of a fountain pen manufacturer.

SET 1912 DAIRY SHOW DATE

Directors Act in Order to Be Able to Inform Exhibitors During Exposition Held in October.

Milwaukee.—The directors of the International Dairy show which will be held in Milwaukee October 10 to 18, have taken time by the forelock and decided the dates for the 1912 exhibit. Next year it will be held from October 10 to 20.

The success of this year's show is assured and the directors thought many of the exhibitors would be glad to make their dates a year ahead if they knew when the show would be held here.

"When the dairy show opens this year," declares President Courteen, "the public will be given a glimpse of the most wonderful collection of dairy cattle ever shown in America."

To Avoid Conflict of Statutes.

Madison.—The Wisconsin Industrial commission has arranged for a conference at Chicago on Oct. 13 with various state commissions interested in workmen's compensation laws for the purpose of conferring with the congressional committee on employers' liability and workmen's compensation in order to reach an understanding that will prevent the proposed federal laws and the state laws from conflicting.

Commend Prize Fight Ban.

Courts.—The Western Wisconsin conference held here sent a resolution to Gov. Morris, commending his firm stand against prize fighting.

STATE FAIR SUCCESS

FINE ATTRACTIONS DREW GOOD CROWDS DESPITE UNFAVORABLE WEATHER.

Aviator Beachey Sets Wisconsin Altitude Record by Rising Over 10,000 Feet in Air.

Milwaukee.—Military maneuvers and a sham battle participated in by 1,000 members of the Wisconsin National guard and an ascent of more than 10,000 feet by Aviator Lincoln Beachey characterized the final day of the 1911 Wisconsin state fair.

Beachey's record-breaking airplane flight, when he rose to the highest point ever reached by a human being above Wisconsin soil, was the culmination of a week of spectacular work in the air. On this occasion he remained in the air one hour and ten minutes.

State fair officials are unanimous in saying that the 1911 fair was the best ever given. The attendance was not what it would have been had the weather been more favorable. The fair surpassed all others in several departments. The speed events were the best ever held in Milwaukee. The showing of live stock was unusually good, and that is saying a great deal, as Wisconsin fairs have been noted for the exhibition of splendid stock. Poultry, horticulture, and other departments were far ahead of those of previous fairs, in the opinion of many visitors.

The attendance, cut down by threatening weather the first part of the week, totaled 115,803, as compared with 125,758 last year. The total receipts were $41,923.25. In 1910 they were $51,294.85. Thursday, "Milwaukee Day," 37,367 people passed through the gates, this being about 17,000 less than attended the same day one year ago.

Regarding the deficit in attendance and the financial returns, Secretary R. W. Rowlands said:

"There is a deficit of 9,951 in attendance, and I attribute this drop to threatening weather. The receipts are $5,000 below last year's figures. However, this loss is offset by the gain in grandstand receipts, extra boxes and an increased sum from concessions."

"The loss this year will be about $1,000, which is a small sum, considering weather conditions of the first two days and the immensity of the proposition."

JOHNSON "DENIED" BEFORE

Attorney Says He Protested Innocence After Pleading Guilty to Attempted Wrecking of Train.

Madison.—John A. (Dogskin) Johnson, confessed murderer of Annie Lemberger, now serving a life sentence at Waupun, appears to have the "denial habit," according to the claim of Attorney L. A. Tarrell, chief examiner of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission.

Attorney Tarrell has informed District Attorney R. M. Nelson that Johnson, after pleading guilty to a charge of attempting to wreck a train at Darlington, Wis., and being sentenced to state prison, sent a letter to the firm of Martin Tarrell in which he denied that he committed the crime.

This letter, which, according to Attorney Tarrell, is similar to that sent to Attorney Emerson Ely, in which Johnson denies the Lemberger murder, is now on file in the firm's office at Darlington.

PFEIL MURDER TRIAL OPENS

Case of Alleged Wife Poisoner at Sheboygan Expected to Be a Battle of Experts.

Sheboygan.—Julius Pfeil, charged with the murder of his wife on April 3, last, near Elkhart Lake, entered a plea of not guilty, when arraigned in circuit court. This case promises to be one of the most sensational murder trials ever known in this section of Wisconsin. It will be a battle of experts. The defendant is represented by three attorneys and District Attorney Collins has had Judge Simon Gillen appointed to assist him.

Mrs. Pfeil was reported dead by her husband. A physician who was called issued a certificate giving the cause of death as heart disease. Later the stomach was examined and lactic acid was found, sufficient to have caused death.

Cedarburg Buttermaker Wins.

Madison.—H. H. Whiting of Cedarburg led the butter score at the Wisconsin state fair, his mark being 98. R. P. Christianson of Milltown was second with a score of 97 1/2, according to the announcement made by H. C. Larson, one of the judges. The other judges were Prof. C. E. Lee of the Wisconsin dairy works and J. C. Joslin of the United States department of agriculture.

Boy Accidentally Shot.

Sparta.—Forest, the 14 year old son of Ellis Matteson of Leon, was probably fatally wounded by a rifle shot. He was loading the weapon with the muzzle pointed toward the ground when the accident occurred.

SOCIALIST, LIKE HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Victor Berger, wife of the only Socialist member of the national house of representatives, is as devoted to the cause of socialism as is her husband, and has been of the greatest aid to him in his political work. In Milwaukee, her home, she is well known and much liked.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS SURREY

SOO LINE PASSENGER TAKES A TERRIBLE TOLL AT CROSSING NEAR ROCKFIELD.

FAMILY ALMOST WIPED OUT

Wife and Two Children of Postmaster Frank Klein of Rockfield Meet Instant Death—Servant Girl Also a Victim—Father and Son Hurt.

Milwaukee.—A surrey containing the family of Frank Klein, postmaster at Rockfield, Washington county, was struck by a Soo passenger train near that place and four of its occupants instantly killed. The dead are: Mrs. Frank Klein, aged 37; Jerry Klein, aged 7; Grace Klein, aged 11 months; woman servant, Estella, last name unknown. Frank Klein and his son, Robert, aged 2, were slightly injured and are in a hospital here. The family was returning from a day's visit with relatives at Richfield and were driving slowly when the accident occurred. The only possible explanation of the disaster was that the few trees along the roadside obscured the view of the railroad track so that Klein, who was driving, was unaware of the approach of the train.

The train hit the rig squarely, as was shown by the finding of the children's bodies on the pilot of the engine.

Raise $2,000 to Entertain Taft.

Fond du Lac.—A fund of $2,000 to defray the expenses of providing proper entertainment for President Taft during his visit here on Oct. 26, is being raised among the business men of the city. The parade, which will escort the president from the depot, will be the largest and most elaborate in the history of the municipality.

Madison.—The justice of the rule of the Southern Wisconsin railroad company in not allowing baby cabs on its lines is being argued by the Wisconsin Industrial Commission.

FAST TRAIN IN BAD WRECK

Four Injured, One Probably Fatally in Disaster Near Monroe—Hans Believed to Have Spared.

Monroe.—In the worst wreck in years on the Mineral Point division of the St. Paul railroad east of here thirteen cars and the engine went down a thirty foot embankment. The train was going sixty miles an hour.

The injured: Edward H. Lull of West Allis, likely to die; E. A. Johnson, Granger, Mo.; George Taylor Granger, Mo.; Harry Cutler, brake-man, Madison.

The wreck was probably caused by spreading rails.

DOUBLE MOSINEE TRAGEDY

Frank Steingoff, Aged 60, Kills Wife and Self in Fit of Insanity—Domestic Trouble the Cause.

Wausau.—Frank Steingoff, aged 60 years, of Mosinee, thirteen miles from this city, shot and killed his wife. He then turned the revolver upon himself, inflicting a wound from which death soon resulted.

Steingoff, it is said, had not lived regularly of late in an asylum. Prior to two years ago, when they met together, they are said to have quarreled frequently.

Several years ago Steingoff was confined for some time in an asylum for the insane in Oshkosh, but was declared cured and released on parole.

Damage Suit Against State.

Madison.—Last month Wisconsin department refused a license to Commercial Fire of Washington, D. C., on the ground that it was a "stock-selling scheme." Officers of the company took umbrage at this charge and its Wisconsin attorney, E. A. Pradt, has been instructed to bring mandamus proceedings to compel the department to issue a license and also file a $50,000 damage suit against Commissioner Ekern for all good faith statements given in connection with the license, if it is charged, by his sanction.

Fond du Lac.—The seventy-third annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational association will be held here on October 7 to 9. The theme of the meeting will be "The Church and the Age."

A wooden ice-box is a money-waster. It falls down on the one big ice-box requirement—it doesn't keep the cold in. Most of them are half below ground. Moisture outside and it soon starts to decay—repair expense quickly follows. The heat stays out and the cold stays in, in a Marquette Concrete ice-box. Dampness, which destroys wood and rusts iron, hardens Marquette Concrete. The Marquette Cement ice-box will far outlast your time, without one cent's worth of repairs. OPTIMISM is a tremendous help to success. Personal appearance is another big factor. Wear clothes that won't get in your way; that don't keep you down.

Fashionably cut, of course. But, more particularly, clothes that reflect the thorough elegance of high-grade materials and high-skilled tailoring; clothes that not only have style, but will keep it.

Let us show you our Kirschbaum Clothes (Cherry Tree Brand). They illustrate exactly what we mean.

Kirschbaum fabrics are guaranteed all-wool. Kirschbaum suits and overcoats are strictly hand-tailored. They are the quality clothes; the clothes to give mental up-lift.

Values in Suits and Overcoats, at $15, $18, $20 and $25 and up, that are unsurpassable anywhere by anybody. We guarantee this on a money-back basis. So does the maker—Look for the Kirschbaum label.

The Kirschbaum True Blue Special Serge at 18.00 is the most satisfactory serge value in America. Full Winter weight. Absolutely color fast. A new suit for any that fades.

Bonano

Read this letter.
Vallejo, Cal. 2-13-11.
"Neither.....nor any other cereal coffee tastes good enough to take the place of coffee on their own merit. Bonano is the first drink which tastes good enough to hold its own after once introduced. It is good enough to drive all cereal and other coffees out of the market and take its place as a staple like coffee, tea, cocoa, and chocolate."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

For an enthusiastic crowd to turn a gigantic hammer in order to show their disfavor of "knockers" may be nothing more than a curious and spectacular affair. While it is true that the "knocker" is, as a rule, a nuisance and a detriment to a place, yet sometimes the conditions make him unavoidable. If, for instance, bad social, moral and other conditions are allowed to flourish then the "knocker" becomes a very necessary and useful personage. Anyway, while nothing will ever do away with the chronic rault finger, the best way to decrease his tribe is for every town to be clean, materially and morally, progressive, and alert for opportunities of advancement.

The young couple together with their attendants were taken to church with these autos decorated for the occasion. The bride was attired in a white messaline gown and carrying a prayer book was attended by Miss Laura Flasch, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, who wore a gaslight green messaline gown and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums, while Miss Agnes Becker and Miss Susan Schoofs were bridesmaids both wore dressed in white voile gowns and carried carnations. The groom was attended by Peter Becker, brother of the bride as best man, and Frank Becker and Leonard Flasch as groomsmen. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held, with a large number of relatives and friends in attendance. The dining room was prettily decorated with streamers of red, white and blue and with astors and ferns. Dinner was served in five courses with a large number of waitresses waiting on table. Music, card playing and dancing were the past times of the day. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Becker. She is a young lady of charming ways and pleasing disposition. WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. S. W. MULLEN, 2733 N. B. St., Ellettsville, Ind.

It will women take chances with operation or drug to a sickly, wasted existence, missing the joys of life, when they can get health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the great remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, irregular menstruation, indigestion, nervous prostration, etc. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

One day, after being compelled to eat onions, Marion used to say grace. Then you must sit at the table unless you are ready to say 'It' was the stern judgment. An hour or two later, when the brilliant sunshine and impatient calls of her comrades together comprised an irresistible appeal, Marion capitulated—thus: "Oh, Lord, make me thankful for having had to eat horrid old onions, you can do it. But I know you can!"

An Unsleeping Youth. "What business do you think your son will adopt?" "Can't say," replied Farmer Corn. "But judging by the hours he keeps, I should say he was naturally cut out to be a milkman."

THE FIRELESS COOKER

ITS CHARACTER AND PLACE IN THE KITCHEN LABORATORY.

Keeping Hot Things Hot and Cold Things Cold for Long Periods, It is Adapted for Special Uses.

Not a few seem not to understand the place the fireless cooker is fitted to occupy in the kitchen laboratory. All cooking is done by the application of heat in some form; without heat there is no cooking that we know anything about. Now, the fireless cooker is not a generator of heat. It neither generates heat nor does it provide a place where heat can be generated. On the other hand, it is simply a utensil or contrivance to conserve heat that has been produced elsewhere. The fireless cooker, then, is a box or receptacle with tight-closed walls, which are non-conductors of heat. And on exactly the same principle that the cooker conserves heat, it conserves cold, also. That is, neither heat nor cold passes readily from within the non-conducting walls of the cooker outside, nor from the outside within the same. The fireless cooker, then, is a well designed appliance to keep hot things hot and cold things cold.

The advantage of cooking certain articles by the long-continued, slow process is well known to good cooks; and right here comes in the usefulness of the casserole and fireless cooker. For instance, certain dishes, as meats, puddings, custards, etc., after being thoroughly heated by the coal or gas range, may be quickly transferred to the fireless cooker and inclosed airtight. After ten or twelve hours these dishes will be found not only to have been transformed by the long, slow process of cooking in the pent-up heat into well-cooked and delicious viands, but also to be still hot. Hence the primary use of the fireless cooker is to provide a ready means for the application of the long, slow process of cooking; and, with it, this process can be carried on as well by night as by day. The individual housekeeper will soon learn how to adapt its use to her own times and occasions and special needs.—Boston Cooking School Magazine.

NEW USE FOR SUGAR BEETS

Flour Made From Them is Sweet and Suitable for Cakes and Puddings.

An entirely new use, and one that may in time become important, has been discovered for sugar beets. This is the making of them into flour. This flour is now being manufactured in considerable quantities at Surresnes, in France, where an immense dryer has been built for the purpose.

The first part of the process consists in chopping up the beets and drying the water out of them. They contain to start with 72 per cent. of water, nearly all of which is removed by evaporation. By this means 100 pounds of dry material is obtained from 357 pounds of beets.

This dry material contains more than 70 per cent. of sugar and therefore on being ground to a fine meal is exceedingly sweet and adapted to the making of cakes and puddings. The sugar beet flour is estimated to contain something like 82 per cent. of pure nutriment.—Baker's Weekly.

Yeast Cakes. Take one quart of fresh buttermilk and put it in a double boiler and heat to boiling point; carefully sift in enough white cornmeal to make as thick as gruel. Remove from the fire and cool to lukewarm. Have soaked two yeast cakes in just enough water to cover, when the gruel is lukewarm add the yeast cakes and let stand two hours in a warm place, being careful not to get too hot; at the end of two hours the mixture will be fermenting and then add sufficient cornmeal to make into cakes. Put it on the bread board and make a loaf, and then it can be cut in cakes all the same shape. Place on a board and dry in the sun, being careful to bring in at night. When thoroughly dry it is ready for use. Put in tin cans and it can be kept for months.

Sewing Room Hints. In sewing a piece of material on the bias to a straight piece, the former is apt to become stretched. To avoid this the bias should be placed on top, and carefully held in with the thumb of the left hand to prevent its stretching.

A convenience for the sewing room is a wooden panel with rows of wire nails driven into it and spoils of thread put on the nails. If it is hung near the sewing machine and the work basket the desired number of thread may be quickly found.

A mend in a kid glove is less likely to tear out again if the edge of the tear is buttonholed before being drawn together. The buttonholed edges are oversewn.

Pork Roast. A pretty way to serve pork is to place the roast on a platter, garnish with lettuce, then as many apples as needed, with cores removed. Take two cupsful of granulated sugar and one of water, and when it has formed a thick syrup drop the apples in, and let them cook until soft but not until they lose their shape. The red apples are better for this purpose, as the red skin has a prettier appearance in the syrup. Place the whole apples around the edge of the platter and fill the centers with the sliced and serve an apple with each slice of pork.

A Salad of Cold Meat. This salad is very good made with cold roast beef or beef. Cut the meat into neat slices about two inches square, place them on a dish with four small young onions chopped up very finely, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, vinegar, salt and pepper, six tablespoonfuls of salad oil and two of wine vinegar. Toss and mix well together, without breaking the meat.

THE AMERICAN HOME

Wm. A. RADFORD EDITOR

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 173 West Jackson boulevard, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

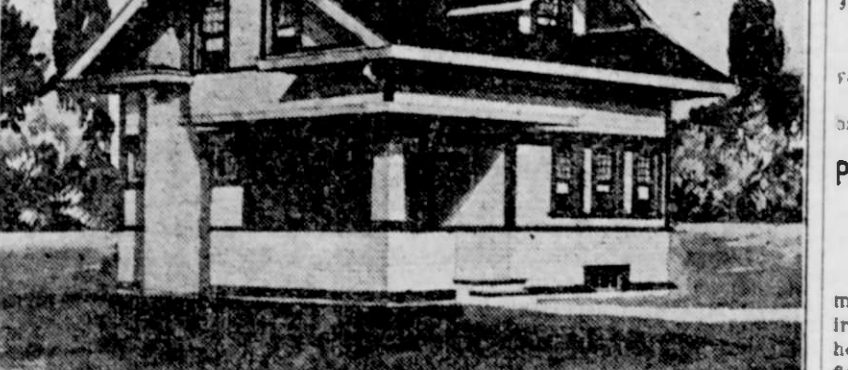

Real estate dealers and speculative builders in the larger cities and suburban towns have long realized that every dollar spent in making more attractive the interior of the houses that they offer will come back ten-fold in the increased selling price that can be obtained or the larger rental that can be asked.

This is something which the home builder who has but a limited amount to invest, or the builder in the smaller towns, does not always realize. Indeed, it really pays better in the end to cut down the size of the house if it should become necessary to economize, rather than to omit any features which add to the selling value of the property.

One may say that he is building a house for himself, that he has no intention of selling, but expects to live in the house for the rest of his life and can do without the frills if only the house is big enough to accommodate the actual needs. What, therefore, is the necessity of considering selling or rental value? There is an old and very true proverb that "man proposes, but God disposes;" and though a man may be building a home, circumstances may in time arise that make the sale or renting of the house imperative, and every feature that adds to its selling or rental value will be doubly appreciated. Death may make it necessary to sell the house in order to settle the estate. Business reasons that cannot be foreseen often compel a man much against his inclinations to move to some distant part of the country; and I have found out by personal experience that there is nothing more unsatisfactory as an investment than part of the spring and fall house cleaning. Gas or electric features are another item that can, if necessary, be postponed till some time in the future, provided the house is piped or wired for them, because there is no need for expensive or disturbing mechanical work in placing them in position; but it is the poorest kind of economy to omit the necessary piping or wiring—according to the custom in the locality—or both in those towns where both gas and electricity are installed.

But those features which are built into the house and which form an essential part of the construction or the finish should never be put off until a more convenient season, because the mechanical difficulty and the expense of adding them later will prevent them from ever being put in. The seat of the bottom of the stairs and which forms a part of the paneling should be built at the same time the stairs are, and made an essential feature of the design; and the same thing is true of the built-in china closet in the dining room.

The design illustrated here, is an excellent example of the small house equipped with all the attractive little features that are so much appreciated by the housewife and in such demand by those who are looking to purchase a home, yet, at the same time, do not cost very much when provided for in the original plan and put in at the same time the rest of the work is done.

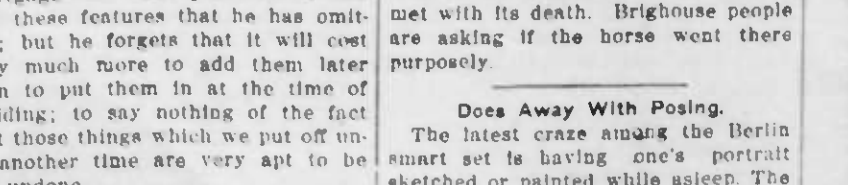

A desirable feature of this design is the arrangement of the stair hall separated from the rooms of the first floor. This is the way it should be in every case it is ever desired to rent a room, since the rooms on the second floor are directly accessible from the front entrance without disturbing anyone on the first floor.

The economy of this design may be seen from the fact that the house has been built as illustrated, using all first-class materials, for $2,500. The width of the house is 28 feet, the length 25 feet 6 inches. There are three rooms on the first floor and two rooms on the second floor, besides bathroom, large clothes closets, etc. The exterior appearance of this house is attractive and up-to-date.

Did Horse Seek Death? Can a horse commit suicide? This theory is brought forward through a singular affair at Frighouse, England. About a week ago a horse fell into a pond in the vicinity of the Frighouse cricket field, and it was not after two hours of strenuous exertion a day or two later the horse found its way to the same pond, and this time met with its death. Frighouse people are asking if the horse went there purposely.

Does Away With Posing. The latest craze among the Berlin smart set is having one's portrait sketched or painted while asleep. The craze was started by an Austrian aristocrat, Countess Czizick, who, according to a current story, fell asleep while waiting in the atelier of a well-known painter. The painter found the countess so charming as she slumbered that he drew her in that condition. The portrait was a great success.

Diary of a Fly-Killer. Monday—My attention was called last night to a student that house flies are bearers of disease and should be destroyed as soon as possible. I began my crusade against them this morning. It was a little discouraging, because there was only one fly in the house and it was quite agile. It escaped me. I broke two vases and a photograph frame.

Tuesday—I nearly killed three flies this afternoon, but the lamp got in the way. It was a 7 lamp.

Wednesday—I saw a fly on the outside of the fly screen and raised the screen so I could hit it. Seventeen flies flew in. I missed it.

Thursday—There was a sluggish-looking fly on the window with closed wings. I stole toward it cautiously, but it flew up just as I let the blow fall. Then I knew it wasn't a fly. It was a wasp. My nose began to swell at once.

Friday—My nose is a sight. Drat the flies.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PHYSICIAN SAID ECZEMA CAME FROM TEETHING

"When my little girl was about eight months old, she was taken with a very irritating breaking out, which came on her face, neck and back. When she first came down with it, it came in little watery-like festers under her eyes, and on her chin, then after a few days it would dry then in scaly, white scabs. In the daytime she was quite worrisome and would dig and scratch her face nearly all the time.

"I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema, which he said came from her teething. I used the ointment he gave me and without any relief at all. Then I wrote for a book on Cuticura, and purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I did as I found directions in the Cuticura Booklet, and when she was one year old, she was entirely cured. Now she is three years and four months, and she has never been troubled with eczema since she was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. (Signed) Mrs. Freeman Craver, 311 Lewis St., Syracuse, N. Y., May 6, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page booklet, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 2 K, Boston.

Practical Illustration.

To shorten a long Sunday afternoon for Fred, aged eight, his mother told him that he might illustrate the twenty-third Psalm in any way he chose. Quiet reigned for a time, as Fred, busy with pencil and pad, drew "shepherd" and "green pasture," "rod and staff." Then a silence ensued, followed by a noisy clatter which brought his mother to the room. Fred was busily arranging a train of cars, a toy gun, marbles, etc., on the table. "What are you doing, Fred?" "Why," he answered, "these are the presents of my enemies."

Government Homestead Land in South Dakota

Pine Ridge and Rosebud Indian Reservations. Open to Settlement October 2-21, 1911

In connection with the opening of the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Indian Reservations, South Dakota, Oct. 2 to 21 inclusive, the Chicago & North Western Railway is making extensive preparations to transport passengers to and from the registration points. The land subject to entry is located in Bennett and Mellette Counties, S. D., and will approximate 465,562 acres. Applicants for these homesteads must register for this purpose some time between Oct. 2 and 21, Gregory, Dallas and Rapid City, S. D., have been designated as registration points. The drawing will take place at Gregory, beginning at 10 A. M. Oct. 21.

Winner, S. D., the present terminus of the Chicago & North Western Railway's extension to the Rosebud Reservation, is located practically on the border of the reservation, and 21 miles west of Dallas and 26 miles west of Gregory. Those registering at Gregory or Dallas may make the trip to Winner at slight additional expense and thus make a personal inspection of the lands which are to be opened for settlement. Local team and automobile service will be furnished by local parties from Winner, S. D., to all points on the reservation.

The registration and drawing for these lands will be on the same general plan as was made use of on former similar occasions. The lands have been classified and appraised by the Government and a price of from 25 cents to $6 per acre has been established, payment when made to be divided into annual installments covering a period of five years.

The land is of the same general character as adjoining lands now on the market at $25 to $65 per acre. Practically all the cereals will grow and successfully ripen throughout this territory. The grains including barley, oats, rye, speltz, flax and corn. The buffalo and grama grasses, famous for their value to stock raisers, grow here abundantly, and alfalfa, one of the best known fodders for live stock, horses, etc., can be successfully grown. The water supply, climate and general conditions are all favorable to the live stock industry. The climate is salubrious and healthful. The summers are warm and the nights cool and refreshing. The autumns are noted for their bright, warm days, which last from October to December. During the winter the snowfall is light. The entire region is well watered by several large rivers and their tributaries, and Government reports show a generous rainfall and favorable temperatures for the growing season.

The location is a highly desirable one, being within easy reach of the great markets of the West, including Omaha, Council Bluffs, Sioux City, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis. The line of the Chicago & North Western has been constructed westward through the Rosebud lands that have been opened to the past and provides a direct route to all principal points. Approximately half a million acres of this land are to be
