DISTRICT MANAGERS ARMED FOR CAMPAIGN

More Than Two and a Half Million Red Cross Seals Now Distributed Through State.

All is in readiness for the opening gun of the Red Cross Christmas seal campaign on the morning of Friday, December 1. Distributed among more than 600 local campaign managers throughout the state is the ammunition for the anti-tuberculosis fight—2,584,000 each one to sell for a penny and each a bullet in the side of the common foe of mankind, consumptions.

With perfect organization and with plan of attack all worked out each branch manager waits in readiness for the opening of the sale on Friday. There will be a week of skirmishing and then the leaders will settle down to a fortnight's hard campaign, each straining every effort to make the showing of his or her district better than that of any other.

The leaders of the sale in the Milwaukee office of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association are optimistic regarding the prospects for a record breaking 1911 sale.

"We have spent a great deal of time and money educating the people of Wisconsin up to maintaining an organized fight against tuberculosis, and the results of our work are beginning to tell," said Dr. Hoyt E. Dearholt, executive secretary of the Association, this morning. "I am confident that there are now twice the number of people in Wisconsin who know what the Red Cross seal stands for that there were a year ago at this time."

COUNTY BOARD ADJOURNS

Many Important Questions are Decided Upon at the Last Session

TO SELL THE PRESENT POOR FARM
A New Poor House Will be Built as Planned Last Spring

The county board last Saturday adjourned until January 18th, 1912. Considerable business was transacted at their session, which lasted two weeks. Among some of the most important questions decided upon were that the present county poor farm be sold at a public auction, which is to take place the early part of next January, and to erect a new home as planned next spring. For this purpose the board has raised a direct tax of $20,000.

The board also approved of the new highway system and adopted a resolution to that effect. Don Cameron was elected highway commissioner at a salary of $600 and actual expenses. A map for the prospective county highway system was also drawn. Work on same is to be commenced next spring.

The county printing was let to G. Meister, proprietor of the Botshafter of Schlessingerville, he being the lowest bidder. His bid for to do all the county printing including 1000 pamphlets and all notices of the county clerk and county treasurer was $530.

There will be no publication of the proceedings of the county board for this session unless a new resolution will be introduced and passed at the next meeting in January. Perhaps they wish to have the tax payers ignorant of what they did. Before the county board convened the publishers of all the English papers appeared before the printing committee and suggested that the board pass a resolution, whereby the English paper would publish the proceedings in pamphlet form within two weeks after the board adjourned.

For this work they asked $300. The county fathers, however thought they could perhaps save a few pennies so amended the resolution whereby $301 be appropriated for the pamphlets, which should appear in five English and two German papers. This price however was far too low and would not pay for the cost of the work, so the publishers decided not to accept, consequently the tax payers will be ignorant of what was done at the last session. Maybe after the pamphlets are printed mass meetings will be called in every precinct and the proceedings read to all in a 2-4 clip.

YOUNG WIFE SUGCOMBS

Mrs. John McCullough, a Bride of One and One-Half Years Dies at Three Forks, Montana

REMAINS ARE TAKEN TO MILWAUKEE

Funeral Was Held at Milwaukee on Last Saturday. Deceased is Well Known Here

We are herewith publishing the article of the death of Mrs. John McCullough, who died at Three Forks, Montana, on Monday, November 20th, as taken from The Three Forks Herald. Interment was made at Milwaukee last Saturday.

McCullough—On Monday, Nov. 20, 1911, at 4:15 p. m., Hattie Brown beloved wife of John McCullough, aged 25 years.

Hattie Brown was married to John McCullough June 15th, 1910 in Milwaukee, Wis., and came from there to Three Forks with her husband last year. During her residence here she gained a host of sincere friends, whose numbers come from all denominations.

The fond father and mother and two sisters, as well as the bereaved husband survive her.

Tuesday night at 10 o'clock a service was held at the family residence, at which Rev. Fr. Gueymard spoke feelingly of the life work of deceased and her splendid influence in this community.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from individuals and from the societies which Mr. and Mrs. McCullough belonged.

An escort from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Knights of Columbus and from the Knights of Pythias, of which the husband was a member carried the remains to the depot Wednesday morning to be taken to Milwaukee for burial.

Leslie J. McCormick of Division 774 went with Mr. McCullough as the escort from the Brotherhood of Engineers.

In the death of Mrs. McCullough our community loses one of its noblest, sweetest characters and all hearts are bowed in sorrow and the sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved husband, the father, mother and sisters.

Second Lyceum Number Not Well Attended

The second number of the citizens' entertainment course given in G. Schell's Opera House last Tuesday evening was not very well attended, which is due no doubt to the inclemency of the weather. Gibson Galt the impersonator and Mcquologist did not arrive in this village until 9:30 P. M., on account of the train being delayed by the snow storm. The crowd, however, gathered at 8:30 and anxiously awaited for the presence of Mr. Galt. Before giving his first number of the program Mr. Galt apologized for being so tardy. The program as a whole was good, but did not appeal to this community. The attention of the audience could not be drawn as in all parts of the hall could be heard restless people. Whether this was due to the fact that the audience became tired of waiting so long, or whether they did not like the program is hard to state. The dances after the program was enjoyed by all, which lasted until after the midnight hour.

Celebrate Tin Wedding.

A large number of friends and neighbors surprised Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fellenz Jr. at their home last Sunday. This occasion being their tenth wedding anniversary. The afternoon and evening went very pleasantly spent in playing cards and singing. At 6 o'clock a fine supper and at 11 o'clock a lunch was served, after which the guests departed for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Fellenz many more happy returns of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Fellenz were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents.

Sold Farm.

Sauerhering and Gehl bought the 73 acre farm and all personal property of Charles Klein in the town of Wayne last Monday and sold it the next day to Nick Hohner of Hartford. Mr. Hohner will take possession December 1st. The farm is located about three miles north-west of Alton.—Hartford Press.

Mr. Geo. H. Schmidt, Respected Friend: Enclosed find money order for another year's subscription for your paper. I cannot afford to be without my old home news. We are very eager every Monday noon to look through its columns to inhale all the news from there, for we cannot forget Dear Old Time Friends and Schoolmates, and if nothing prevents and God spares my life, we will meet again next summer and we cannot help to stop off at your lively little town, and I am sure my footsteps will be towards the worthy Editor's new home. For it is only a few months more until Christmas and I send my best and merriest Christmas Greetings to all. May the Lord bless you all in rich abundance with Good Luck, Good Health and a Very Happy Joyous Christmas. Potatoes and hay has a three fold price towards other years, 12 to 15 dollars per ton. The farmers have been cutting mostly all of their corn, and corn shredding machines are finding plenty of work now-a-days. Corn in cobs 50 cts. per bu. Wheat 92 cents, oats 40 cents, Flax $1.82, potatoes 95 cents and apples 90 cents. May you prosper, So Long. Christ. Tischhauser, Madison, S. D.

Hog Cholera Prevented by New Treatment

Hog cholera has been prevalent in the southern part of Wisconsin this fall and in several cases the breeders have called upon the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin for assistance. Men from the veterinary and bacteriology departments of the college of agriculture have been conducting several demonstrations at Janesville and Balesville showing the use and value of hog cholera vaccination. Dr. F. B. Hadley, who is in charge of the work, demonstrated the use of two methods of vaccinating on several pigs.

One pig was given virus from a deceased hog as well as the protective serum. This is the treatment that is supposed to prevent an animal from contracting the disease and in the experiment the animals thus treated have not shown any signs of disease although they have been in pens with sick hogs continually. Another was given the virus but was not given the protective serum. One of the experiments the pig became sick four days after treatment and a few days later died. In the other experiment the pig died on the other experiment the pig died about three weeks after treatment. Another pig received the virus without the protective serum and died within a few days. Another pig was given the virus and the protective serum and has been sick since the treatment. These experiments demonstrate conclusively the value of the protective serum when it is administered before the disease has appeared in a herd. After cholera appears the serum is not so efficacious. The serum is not a cure but preventive.

MULFORD IS KING

WIS VANDERBILT CUP RACE AT SAVANNAH, GA. SMASHING ALL RECORDS.

SIX OUT OF 14 CARS FINISH

American Driver of Lozier Machine Covers 291 Miles in 235 Minutes—Ralph de Palma Is Second and Spencer Wishart Third.

Savannah, Ga.—Ralph K. Mulford, the American driver, in a Lozier car, won the seventh Vanderbilt Cup race, covering the 291 miles at an average speed of 74.63 miles an hour and lowering all previous records. His time for the race was 235 minutes.

Ralph de Palma, driving a German Mercedes, finished second in America's most noted automobile classic. He crossed the finish line two minutes and 11 seconds behind Mulford. Spencer Wishart, in another Mercedes, finished third, his time being 246:20. Harry Grant, who won the Vanderbilt Cup in 1909 and 1910, finished fourth in a Lozier, his time being 250:23:57. E. H. Parker, in a Fiat, was fifth, his elapsed time being 251:25. After Louis Dubsrow, driving a Pope-Hummer, crossed the line in sixth place the remaining drivers were signaled that the end had come.

The contestants still running at the end of the race were Carl Limbers and L. A. Mitchell, both in Abbott-Detroit, and Cyrus Patschke in a Marmou.

The other five starters, Hughie Hughes, driving a Mercer; Dave Bruce Brown, Fiat; Bob Burman, Ford; Harry Cobe, Jackson, and Matson, Fiat, were forced to quit the race because of damaged machines.

Weather conditions for the race were ideal, the course being almost perfect.

Harry Grant was the first to get off. At 30-second intervals the other cars chugged off. Mulford was eighth to start but before the first lap had been completed he had overtaken the lead from De Palma and held it until the finish. De Palma followed on, however, and it was a terrific struggle between the first four cars until the last two laps, when Mulford cut loose on his wild dash and finished with a comfortable lead.

The Savannah challenge cup race was run off just before the start of the Vanderbilt race. It was won by Hughie Hughes in a four cylinder Mercer car, which covered 222.82 miles in 3 hours 15 minutes and 35 seconds.

WITNESS TELLS DENVER JURY HUSBAND KNOCKED WIFE DOWN BEFORE SHE SHOT HIM.

Denver, Colo.—The defense in the trial of Mrs. Gertrude Patterson has rested its case.

The most important witness was F. J. Easton of Tacoma, Wash., who swore he saw Patterson knock his wife down and that she was lying on the ground when she shot him. The witness said he then got on a car and came down-town, not telling anyone of what he saw, and a day or two later went to Laramie, Wyo., to work.

To substantiate Easton's story the defense called in rebuttal witness Shugart, the prosecution's eye witness to the tragedy. Shugart admitted he saw Witness Easton in the vicinity about the time of the shooting. Another witness, who was employed to make a map of the scene of the shooting, testified that one bullet had entered the wall surrounding a house on a straight line about eighteen inches from the ground.

The defense contends, shows that Mrs. Patterson was on the ground when she fired it.

JURY HOLDS MRS. VERMILYA

Woman Charged With Poisoning Chicago Policeman Bound Over to Grand Jury Without Bail.

Chicago.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, known to the police as the "arch poisoner" of the century, was held to the grand jury without bonds by the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Policeman Arthur Bissonette.

Illness prevented the presence of Mrs. Vermilya at the inquest, but she was represented by her attorney, Joseph R. Burres. Her physicians at the county jail hospital, who operated on her for an abscess, stated that she would not be able to leave the jail for several weeks.

Witnesses gave evidence to show that the woman's closest friends had been poisoned. Her own attempt to die also was described.

NANKING IS SHELLED

BOMBARDMENT OF CHINESE CITY BEGUN BY REBELS.

Hundreds of Imperialists Slain in Battle in Which Revolutionists Advance Irresistably.

Nanking.—The bombardment of Nanking, the ancient capital of China, by the revolutionary forces who have surrounded the city for several days, has begun with an apparent determination that the last stronghold of the Manchus south of the Yangtze must eventually fall.

From the Tiger Hill fort for several hours big guns spoke repeatedly, while further up along the northeastern range, from the top of Purple Mountain, overlooking the Ming tombs for a fifteen mile semi-circle westward to the Yangtze, smaller forts scattered shells into every section of the city.

General Wong, second in command of the defenders, is among those killed and it is believed General Chang, chief in command, has quit the city, convinced that its defense is doomed to failure.

In the engagement the rebels exhibited superb disregard for the perils of battle and fought with irresistible fury, crowding onward over the bodies of dead and dying comrades.

The imperialists are known to have lost 1,000 men and it is reasonably certain additional hundreds of the government troops fell.

Losses on the rebel side were enormous, but these did not deter the furious advance of the attackers. The imperialists, never for a moment given opportunity to launch a crushing retaliatory movement, finally fled into the city for shelter.

BEATTIE ADMITS HIS GUILT

Young Virginian, Who Killed Wife, Leaves Statement With Ministers.

Richmond, Va.—The state of Virginia took the life of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., in payment for the wife's life he took last July—and the state made no mistake. The boy himself made that plain before he went to the electric chair.

The confession was as follows: "I, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., desirous of standing right before God and man, do, on this, the twenty-third day of November, confess my guilt of the crime charged against me. Much that was published concerning the details was not true, but the awful fact, without the harrowing circumstances, remains. For this action I am truly sorry and, believing that I am at peace with God and am soon to pass into his presence, this statement is made.

(Signed) "HENRY CLAY BEATTIE, JR."

To the confession was appended a note from the "clergyman."

"This statement was signed in the presence of the two attending ministers and is the only statement that can and will be made public by them."

SLAYS HIS WIFE AND COUSIN

Wronged Husband Decapitates Woman and Man With Hatchet—Hides in Church—Tells Priest.

Kenosha, Wis.—Tortured by the mental picture of his headless wife and her paramour, whom he slew at his home in Kenosha, Pasquale Marchesi, twenty-seven years old, a merchant, went to a priest and confessed the double crime, which had theretofore not been discovered. The young avenger of his honor was turned over to the Kenosha police, who are closely guarding him for fear of possible mob violence.

According to Marchesi, he went home earlier at night than usual, and found his wife, Rosaria, and his cousin and namesake occupying Mrs. Marchesi's bedchamber. The younger Marchesi, who was not of age, had been a favor of the husband, and the scene of the crime, he said.

Without acknowledging his presence to be known, Marchesi went to a wood shed, procured a hand ax, crept to the bedroom and chopped off the heads of the two lovers.

POPE PIUS CREATES NEW CARDINALS AT PUBLIC CONSISTORY IN VATICAN.

CEREMONY IN SALA REGIA

Archbishops O'Connell, Farley and Falconio Are Among Those Who Are Honored by Being Made Princes of the Catholic Church.

Rome.—With all the pomp and ceremony prescribed by tradition 17 eminent ecclesiastics were made princes of the Roman Catholic church among them were three Americans—Archbishop John Farley of New York, Archbishop William O'Connell of Boston and Archbishop Dionede Falconio, the apostolic delegate in the United States and a naturalized citizen of that country.

The public consistory at which the scarlet hats were placed on the new cardinals was held in the Sala Regia, one of the most magnificent apartments in the Vatican.

At the appointed hour the pontiff made his entry into the Sala Regia seated in the gestatorial chair, which was borne on the shoulders of four attendants.

The 17 new princes of the church now entered from an adjoining apartment, each walking between two cardinals of older creation. They were clad in scarlet mantles with hoods and long trunks that were borne by "candelieri." Each one, as he approached the throne, bowed three times, ascended the three steps, knelt and kissed the cross embrodered on the slipper of the pope's extended foot, and after that kissed his hand.

A pale elated who stood beside the pope then raised the hood of the new cardinal's mitre and drew it over his head, and the pontiff, repeating the Latin formula of consecration, placed on the hood the cardinal's scarlet hat, the same hat, which had a looser crown and two bows at the brim, served for all the 17. As it was removed the new cardinal was embraced by the pope, and then by each member of the Sacred college.

The holy father then bestowed his benediction upon the assembly, seated himself again in the gestatorial chair and was borne from the hall. The ceremony was witnessed not only by the ecclesiastical and lay dignitaries of the papal court, but also by a number of invited guests, some of them relatives of the new cardinals and others members of royal families. These were in a stand erected at the right of the throne.

TRADE EXCURSION TO EAST

Eight Governors Leave St. Paul to Establish Closer Commercial Relations With East.

St. Paul, Minn.—An 11-car train, known as the Western Governors' Spectral, left St. Paul for a 20-day trip to 21 cities of the east and middle west. Never before in the history of this country has such an enterprise as this been inaugurated.

Eight western governors are going east for the purpose of bringing east and west in closer contact. The people of the east, through their representative business organizations, have made "get acquainted" excursions to the western states and now the people of the west are sending their governors and the most prominent business men to return the compliment.

Elaborate arrangements have been made in all the cities to be visited by the western governors' special to entertain the distinguished men.

FIRES ON FAMILY AT TABLE

After Serving Jail Term on Assault Charge, Andrew Mortenson Takes Revenge on Mrs. James Lurant, Whom He Blamed for Troubles.

Waupaca.—Because he blamed her for his failure to win the love of Blanche Durant, Martin Mortenson, a farm laborer, shot and killed Mrs. James Durant, aged 76, while she sat at supper with her three daughters. He then saturated his clothing with kerosene, applied a match and sent a bullet into his own brain.

Mortenson, who was 28 years old, was infatuated with Blanche, 22 years old, the oldest daughter of Mrs. Durant, but his advances were not encouraged. Two months ago he quarreled with the girl and struck her, for which offense he was convicted of assault and battery and sent to jail for sixty days.

During his incarceration after his assault upon Blanche, he brooded over what he said were his wrongs, and frequently remarked to jail officials that "the old lady" was to blame for his trouble and he would "fix" her.

Immediately upon his release from jail, Mortenson procured a revolver, and appearing at the Durant home, began shooting. The three daughters, who were at the supper table with their mother, escaped by jumping through a window.

News Notes of Wisconsin

Chippewa Falls.—This winter promises to be unusually quiet in logging operations in this locality. Chippewa Falls is the residence of many famous loggers but so far the only man to secure a contract is Victor Michaud who has been awarded a job cutting 100,000,000 feet at Draper. The swamps are not frozen and are covered by the heavy snowfall which prevents their freezing. This winter marks the retirement of Bruno Vinette, one of Chippewa Falls' most noted loggers, and who has been cutting down the virgin pine forests since 1859. He recently sold his contract to log 30,000,000 feet, together with his outfit for $39,000 and will live on his farm south of this city.

Kenosha.—Claiming that he is not a criminal, but insane with a mania for burglary, Walter Stroehlin, a former Sheboygan man, but now serving two years in the state prison at Waupun after being convicted of burglary here, appealed to the state board of control to be transferred to the Northwestern hospital at Winnebago and the local officials have been asked to give their sanction. Stroehlin surrendered voluntarily and declared to the police here that he had committed twenty burglaries and had been able to get away with all of them.

Beloit.—Men clearing up the debris on the farm of Will Douglas, near Hanover, in the heart of the cyclone stricken district, uncovered a cow which had been buried ever since the storm of Nov. 11. She was still alive and had eaten the hay all about her, though, of course, she had nothing to drink. One of her legs had been broken in the crash of the building over her, and after her suffering of over a week she had to be killed.

Eau Claire.—At the annual meeting of the West Wisconsin District Medical society the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. V. R. Lyman; secretary-treasurer, Dr. T. E. Tupper, both of Eau Claire. The meeting will be held at Eau Claire next year. The district comprises the counties of Chippewa, Dunn, Pepin, Eau Claire, Pierce, Polk, Barron, Washburn, Sawyer, Burnett, Rusk and St. Croix.

This will be the first time that Wisconsin has ever offered a man for this high office. Superior Fights Smallpox

Epidemic Causes Board of Health to Issue Order for Vaccination of School Teachers and Pupils.

Superior.—Acting on authority given him by the board of education Supt. W. E. Maddock of the public schools sent notices to the principals and teachers ordering them to see that all children were vaccinated. The drastic action of the school authorities is the result of the epidemic of smallpox now prevalent in some sections of the city. No pupil will be allowed in the schools after Monday, Dec. 4, without presenting a certificate to the effect that he has been vaccinated. The order applies to teachers, principals and supervisors, as well as pupils in the schools.

Indians Are Dying Off.

Black River Falls.—The Indian agency at this city is abashed by orders received on Monday from Washington. The reason given is that the Winnebago tribe in this vicinity is dying out so fast that an agency is no longer necessary. Only sixty survive of the branch of a once powerful tribe occupying this neighborhood. The survivors are transferred to the Tomah agency, where a considerable number of Winnebagos still remain.

FEWER TRUANTS IN SCHOOLS OF STATE

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION'S REPORT SHOWS MORE CHILDREN ATTEND SESSIONS.

NEW LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Parents and Guardians of Truants Are Liable to Fine and Imprisonment if They Disregard Notification from Officials.

Madison.—Truancy among school children in Wisconsin is decreasing. Last year out of 360,000 children who were required by law to attend school regularly about 30,000 failed to do so and were consequently classified as truants. This year the number of truants will be considerably decreased.

The laws require that children between the ages of 7 and 14 years and those between 14 and 16 years of age who are not regularly and lawfully employed shall become enrolled in and regularly attend some public, private or parochial school as follows:

Milwaukee, during the entire school year; in other cities, eight months; in towns and villages, six months. The law further provides that cities of 2,000 or more inhabitants shall appoint one or more truancy officers. For towns, cities or villages of less than 2,000 population the sheriff and his deputies are made truancy officers. It is the duty of the school principals and teachers to compare the school enrollment with the school census reports for the purpose of ascertaining what children are delinquents and to furnish a list of truant children, together with a list of the names and addresses of their parents to the proper truancy officers. Superintendents are further required to report names of delinquents each month to the state industrial commission.

Upon receipt of the names of truant children the truancy officers must notify the persons in control of such children to send them to school within five days of the receipt of the notice. If this notice is disobeyed that fact must be reported to the industrial commission by the truancy officer, who must then bring an action against the parent or other person in control of the child for violation of the law, such action to be prosecuted by the district attorney.

Upon conviction, the person shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50, together with the costs of the prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding three months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

BADGER FUR BUSINESS GOOD

Pelts in Wisconsin Bring $2,000,000 Per Year, Says Report of Game Warden's Department.

Madison.—Trapping of fur bearing animals is still an industry of much magnitude in Wisconsin. This is gathered from figures given to the state fish and game department. Two million dollars annually represent the sales of pelts. Seven hundred and fifty thousand muskrats, it is estimated, are trapped in a year, and at 45 cents a "rat" are worth $337,500. Three hundred thousand skunk skins a year are sold for an average of $1.50, or a total of $450,000. One hundred thousand mink are caught annually. These are worth on average $4.50 each, or a total of $450,000. It is estimated that other fur bearing animals, including coons, foxes, weasels, wildcats, fishers, martens, beavers, otters, gray foxes and occasional opossums bring the hunters and trappers at least $100,000.

In the Winnebago marsh district alone, it is said, 70,000 muskrats have been caught this year. Certain of these animals bring high prices. A silver fox was bought recently by a Madison fur buyer for $275.

APPRENTICE LAW IS SCORED

Manufacturers Say Limitation of 54 Hours of Work Per Week is a Check to Ambitious Boys.

Milwaukee.—Members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association assailed the recently enacted apprentice law before members of the Wisconsin industrial commission at a conference held here.

The law in question instructs employers of apprentices to limit the period of labor to fifty-five hours a week, five of which should be devoted to educational advancement.

Objections to the measure were raised by manufacturers, claiming such laws completely shattered the present order of labor; that ambitious boys learning a trade should not be checked by a time limit, and should not be compelled to spend five hours weekly in a schoolroom when industrial advancement and perfection was what they desired.

It was thought enforcement of such law would impair progress in the output of manufactured product and greatly cripple dealers who would be unable to meet obligations.

ADAMS COUNTY WILL BOOM

Opening of New Railroad to Friendship to Mark Era of Progress—New Courthouse Planned.

Friendship.—The Adams county board of supervisors voted to build a $30,000 court house the coming year. The board will reconvene on the second Monday in January, 1912, to adopt plans for the new building.

Adams county will now make rapid progress in many ways. Traffic will open on the New Northwestern cutoff from Milwaukee to Sparta early in December and the location of a division point at Friendship will prove a great benefit to this locality.

STEPHENSON GETS FULL VINDICATION

REPORT OF INVESTIGATORS TO CLEAR ELECTION OF WISCONSIN SENATOR

FAULT FOUND WITH PRIMARY

Report to Be Submitted at Opening of Congress Expected to Put the Blame on Nominating Plan for Excessive Campaign Expenditures.

Washington, D. C.—With the declaration that no instances of vote buying were discovered but with words of censure for the use of large sums of money in his campaign, the senate committee which investigated the election of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson is expected to report shortly after the opening of congress. Senator Stephenson, according to a well founded report here, will be declared fully entitled to his seat.

The use of money in the Stephenson campaign was the result of the Wisconsin primary system, it was declared in the hearings, and a condemnation of that system either in the report of the committee or by members of the committee on the floor of the senate is now looked for.

The committee's report is now being written. Its submission to all the senators who heard the testimony is only a matter of a few days and it is predicted that it will be disposed of by the senate before the Lorimer case is.

HOGS IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Aged Husband of Slain Oconomowoc Woman Must Stand Trial on Charge of Murder.

Oconomowoc.—At the preliminary hearing in the case of August Hoge, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Henrietta Hoge, in this city Nov. 14, the aged prisoner was held for trial without bail.

The absence of blood stains on the face or clothing of the murdered woman, which has been a baffling feature of the case, had a new solution when the counsel for the defense attempted to bring out the theory that the pet cat kept by the couple might have licked the blood and also destroyed the pieces of flesh which were missing from the wounds.

Two Boys Hit by Train.

Muscodia.—Edward, aged 10, and Henry, aged 17, sons of Philip Machotta, a farmer living near Muscodia, were struck by a passenger train on the Northwestern road at a highway crossing east of here. Henry was killed instantly and Edward so badly injured that he will probably die. The engineer of the train declared that the team was running away when the engine struck the wagon.

Chicago, 6; Wisconsin, 0

Veteran Engineer Dead.

Portage.—Richard Vender, one of the first engineers of the Milwaukee road, running between Milwaukee and La Crosse, is dead, aged 60 years.

DOUBLE KENOSHA MURDER

Outraged Husband Slays Wife and His Cousin With Hatchet—Woman Preferred the Younger Man.

Kenosha.—Rivalling in its atrocity the crimes which made the White chapel district in London famous during the career of Jack the Ripper, Kenosha has had a double murder, the most horrible in the criminal annals of this section of the state. Pasquale Marchesi, aged 27 years, brutally hacked to pieces with a hatchet, his wife, Rosario Marchesi, and Pasquale Marchesi, aged 19 years, whom he alleged to have been her paramour. The man and woman were in bed together at the home of Marchesi at the time of the crime.

The murderer made his way into the house through a window and struck so suddenly that the man and woman had no chance to escape or make defense. The bodies of both were horribly mutilated. After wandering aimlessly for twelve hours, Marchesi went to the Rev. Auf. Bandizonne and gave himself up. He was landed in jail, where he made a written confession of his crime. He claims that he was entirely justified by the unwritten law and seemed to glory in the horrible features of his crime.

Pasquale Marchesi, the slain man, had lived for some time in the home of his cousin, after whom he was named, and there were numerous quarrels because of Mrs. Marchesi's alleged preference for him.

WISCONSIN LEADS IN GRAIN

Yield Per Acre Exceeds All Other States—Year's Potato Crop is Worth Ten Millions.

Madison.—That Wisconsin is first among all states in the yield of grain per acre is the report gotten out by the Wisconsin state board of immigration. Of all states producing flax during the ten-year period ending 1910, Wisconsin stands first; among the nine states producing 1,000,000 bushels or more of barley, for the same period, Wisconsin stands first; among the sixteen states producing 10,000,000 bushels or more of oats, Wisconsin is first. In the production of potatoes, rye, corn, hay, sugar beets, the state occupies a leading position.

WANT GAME LAWS REVISED

Almost Unprecedented Slaughter of Deer in Wisconsin This Year Evokes a Protest.

Ashland.—The almost unprecedented slaughter of deer which has attended the favorable weather conditions since the opening of the hunting season in northern Wisconsin has led to renewed agitation for the revision of the game laws to prevent the killing of female deer, for a period of twelve years to at least shorten the open season to at least ten days of November and perhaps to protect all deer and moose for a closed season of two years or more.

Wage Deadly Knife Duel.

Madison.—Edward P. Gorman of Wausau has been appointed district attorney of Marathon county by Gov. McEver to succeed Frank P. Regner, resigned.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

The colt needs exercise. Divide the hog pastures. Have a sharp steel cutter on the plow. Rich buttermilk means a poor butter yield. Provide some succulent food for ewes in winter. An ill-tempered man is a misfit in the dairy business. Thorough and constant spraying is the price of good fruit. After pruning clean up and have some bonfires ready. It has never seemed advisable to sow alfalfa in the fall with rye. Provide the tomatoes with a support of some kind—trellis or stakes. A little pig loves sunshine and needs it almost as much as he needs food. Better sires, better cows, better care and more prosperity is the inevitable result. The gospel of clean milk is not a stranger gospel, but a gospel of prevention. Sows are always in better condition to raise fall pigs than they are in the spring. Wash all parts of separator at end of separation and acid, leaving in the open air to dry. In keeping cows never be without clover. It is one of the foods essential to good dairying. In preparing either walnuts or butternuts for planting, the shucks should be left on over winter. The late hatched chickens should have a grass run to themselves and be given extra feed and care. A chill brought on by the frost coming in contact with the udder ground may ruin your best cow. The individuality of each horse should be studied, and the feeds supplied to meet individual requirements. Don't let the buck run with the does when the breeding season is over, but confine him in a pen by himself. Are there any old apple trees in your orchard, bearing desirable fruit? Easy to graft good varieties upon them. With good fence wire as cheap as it is today it is an easy matter to divide the hog pasture into convenient lots. All ewe lambs that are not desirable to raise as breeders should be given extra feed and sent back to the block early. Systematic training is of value in handling young colts; teach them one thing at a time, have them learn that one thing thoroughly. Cold, exposed sleeping quarters that compel the sows to pile up in order to keep warm are usually responsible for the dead pigs at this time. Fruit trees should be planted in regular rows in the orchard, or fruit garden, so thorough culture can be given both ways of the orchard. Give the ewes the best possible chance to get them in high condition before breeding time. It means more and stronger and thrifter lambs. Maple and ash posts will last about three or four years; excepting the very best quality of yellow ash, and it is too dear to be used as fence posts. Mightily easy to feed new corn to the hogs, stalks and all, but you will find that if the corn is first run through the shredder the animals will eat it up clean. Shocked corn accustoms cattle to the taste of ear corn, but compels them to eat so much roughage in connection that there is very little danger of over-eating. When a farmer thinks of buying a dairy bull to improve his herd, he should look to the individuality of the bull, also the backing, not the "cheapness of the price." Pumpkins will freeze if you don't watch out, and frozen pumpkins are of no good to anything. Good, ripe, sound pumpkins are enjoyed by the cows and help the milk flow very much. Farmers have the idea that corn will make eggs, and for proof point to the fact, that their hens get nothing else, but they forget to note that their stock are allowed perfect freedom, that they gather much in their foraging trips. Worms, bugs, grass, wheat, oats, and what not are found on the daily trips of the feathered tribe. So it is not the corn, but the variety of food the hens collect that makes the farmer gets the credit.

Sell the poor cow. Ewes need succulent feed. The fall colt is nearly clear gain. Fattening cattle should have plenty of salt. Frost-bitten grass has no food value to speak of. Both oats and barley are good feeds for young pigs. So that the coops and henhouse is free from lice and mites. Well curbed ensilage corresponds with the nature of the cow. The chief characteristics of the rooster are speed and stamina. Horses that have a light hay diet are seldom affected with heaves. Cleanliness and fresh air will usually prevent epidemics of any kind. The old sheep that snuffles will be done before spring. Let her go now. Testing is the only method by which we can cut out the robbers in the herd. The brown leghorn or the boudan feather quickly and soon reach maturity. The colts and unused horses should spend most of each pleasant day in the paddock. Have no hesitation in disposing of the unprofitable cows. They are a mistake. Sheep do not drink much water, but what little they drink must be absolutely clean. Corn fodder that is shredded or split, and ground fine, makes a very satisfactory feed. Have an orchard book and keep a record of the trees planted and also the variety of fruit. Free range for hogs does not mean that they should be allowed to run over our neighbor's farm. The late hatching eggs from some of the small quick-growing breeds can be raised at the least cost. Do not sell all the best. If anyone is entitled to the best fruit produced on the farm, it is the family. Pumpkins are a valuable succulence for cows, holding much the same place in the ration as silage and roots. If you think of setting out an orchard and have had no experience, better hire a good man to show you how. The practice of turning the cows out rye and winter barley that is sown for early spring feed is not a good practice. The cream should always be strained into the churn through a fine wire sieve or a dipper, with a perforated tin bottom. Well-bred heifer calves may often be purchased cheaply of people who live in town and keep but one cow for family use. Ensilage is not considered good for sheep, and if it is fed at all it should be fed very sparingly and at intervals of two or three days. Each cow's udder should be thoroughly cleaned before milking and the hands of the milker should be absolutely clean and dry. Clean sound oats make an excellent ration for the pigs. If this is fed to them regularly during the fattening period the pork will be superior. Stone fruits, such as peaches, apricots, plums and nectarines, should be planted the latter part of March, before the buds commence to swell. Farmers who undertake to grow in any section of the country what nature does not intend them to grow soon find it out, and usually by hard experience. It pays to have the farm fenced hog tight and cross fenced into small fields and to have plenty of yards to keep hogs of different sizes and ages separated. If a yearling ram is used watch him when first admitted to the flock. Sometimes they are not breeders. It is well to look after the old ones too. They sometimes quit. The horse population of the world is estimated at more than 111,000,000, of which about 43,000,000 are in Europe, 28,000,000 in North America and 11,000,000 in Asia. Plow up your old, worn-out orchard this fall and put some manure, compost, ashes and bones in the trenches. You'll be surprised next year at the quick response of your trees. If a pig is grown right and fed right there is no time in the life of a pig when he will make any more pork than between 8 weeks and 3 months in proportion to feed consumed. A daily record should be kept of each cow in the stable. In a year's time a dairyman will then know by practical demonstration what cows are paying him, and those that are not. Use closed pails and good strainers for preventing dirt in milk, but also see to it that the cows are clean at milking time, and that no dirt comes from the walls and ceiling of the dairy stable. The sanitary ceiling is made of matched boards carefully laid to prevent dirt and seed from working through from above. Sprinkling all dry hay or dusty feed, or delaying feeding until after milking will reduce chances for contamination.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Take your needs, my child, and work at your pattern, for all come out a rose by and by. Life is like that—one stitch at a time taken patiently, and the pattern will come out all right, like embroidery. —Olive Wendell Holmes.

DISHES FOR INVALIDS.

The following are dishes liked by invalids and are refreshing and nourishing. The manner of serving even a glass of lemonade is most important in a sick room. Attractiveness counts for more here than for any other quality. Hot Lemonade.—Shave the rind from a lemon using only the thin outer rind, pour over it one and a half cups of boiling water and let steep while the juice is extracted from the lemon; add this to the water with two table-spoonsful of sugar, strain and serve at once. If allowed to cool it makes a strong lemonade. Quick Beef Tea.—Put a half pound of lean round steak through the meat chopper and then into frying pan, heat slowly to extract the juice; turn into a potato ricer and squeeze out all the juice. This extract will need to be diluted before being served. If heated care should be taken not to over cook the albumen. Add salt to make it palatable. This meat may be used for Croquettes or any dish with light seasoning. Bread Gruel.—Take a cup of dried bread crumbs, simmer in a pint of water until smooth. Rub through a strainer, season lightly with salt and serve either hot or cold. For variety the crumbs may be browned first, or flavored with extract of beef, or reduce the water to one-half and fill the cup with cream or milk. Spanish Cream.—Soak a half teaspoon of granulated gelatine in a cup of milk. After it is dissolved add a cup of sugar and a beaten egg yolk. Cook until the egg is thick, stirring constantly, add fifteen drops of vanilla and strain into a mold to cool. Ice Cream.—Boil together five minutes a tablespoonful of sugar and two of water, add a cup of thin cream and a half teaspoonful of vanilla, mix well and pour into a pound baking powder can. Plunge into salt and ice in a large pail or bowl and open and beat well every five minutes. It will be frozen in fifteen minutes. For those suffering from gastric inflammation, beef tea and soups are often tolerated if frozen like ice cream.

HOT DISHES.

Here is a nice breakfast dish: In a skillet fry out two slices of fat salt pork cut into cubes, in this brown a cup of bread cut in cubes, add an equal amount of cold cooked potatoes cut in dice, when brown add two eggs slightly beaten, heat slowly stirring until the egg is cooked. Season with salt and pepper and serve. Minced Meat on Toast.—Put any cold cooked meat through the grinder and into the saucepan with gravy or stock and seasonings to taste. Let simmer while making fresh toast. Butter the toast after moistening it with a little of the stock. Thicken the meat with cream and a little flour mixed to a smooth paste, cook until well done, then pour over the toast. Luncheon Dish.—Fry the fat from six slices of good bacon, remove it from the pan; four six thick slices of ripe tomatoes and fry them in the bacon fat; while they cook make six round slices of golden toast, and poach six eggs; put the toast on a hot platter and add a slice of tomato and an egg, then a piece of cooked bacon; dust lightly with salt and pepper and serve at once. Another which is a great favorite.—Prepare a white sauce as follows: A tablespoonful each of butter and flour. When the butter is bubbling hot add the flour and when mixed a cup of rich milk and seasonings to taste. When well cooked add a cup of finely grated cheese, drop in gently four eggs; as soon as the eggs are set remove them and place on a slice of toast, pour the sauce over it and serve at once. A bean or potato soup is one of the most palatable dishes to serve on a cold night for supper. Water stew or cream of tomato soup are but other favorites. A dish of hot well made cream or milk toast, seasoned with a sprinkling of grated cheese is a dish that nearly everybody likes.

Professional Pride.

"What were the last words of the undertaker?" asks the friend of the departed. "They were," says the sorrowing relative, "I wish that I could have charge of my own funeral."

"Just like him," comments the friend.

"If he could have superintended the services he simply would have laid himself out on them."

When a polite man adds the key to the situation it may be of some use in a deadlock, but never in a case of a lock.

In Hard Luck.

Lady (to loafer who has asked for money)—You'll only drink it, I suppose, instead of taking it home to your wife? Loafer—I ain't got a wife, hdy I'm earnin' me own livin'—Punch.

"I guess it was the state of the weather which made the police take that mug's picture." "Who had the state of the weather to do with it?" "Because it was so muggy."

Impressed.

"I appear to have made something of an impression on that man over there," remarked a young lady at a wedding party. "He has been looking at me ever since I arrived."
"If you mean that one with the black mustache, he's the detective engaged to look after the presents!" said a friend.

Very Little Change.

"It's three years since I was in this city," said a stranger in a restaurant as he was walking out after finishing his dinner. "Itty looks the same."
"I don't find much change!" responded the waiter as he took up the nickel that was left on the table.

Is Your Watch

On its Last Legs?

Let us put your Watch on its "feet" again and make it an accurate, reliable time-keeper once more.

We have operated on and cured so many sick watches that we guarantee every watch turned out to keep time for a period of one year.

Bring yours in and let us make you a price on the job. No use to carry a watch around that is merely an ornament. Put it to work again. Better attend to it today. We will loan you another one to carry while your watch is in the hospital.

P. J. Haug & Co., Kewaskum, Wis

That Watch of Yours!

May we enquire about its health? Is it pretty well? Does it do its work alright?

Or are you sometimes tempted to "say things" to it because it isn't behaving?

You shouldn't blame the watch, though, because it isn't its fault. It always does its best. YOU are the one to blame.

An unsatisfactory watch is always a tired watch—a dirty watch. And when we are so near to you with all these repair facilities, your watch ought to be as clean as a new pin—and ought to run "right on the dot."

SYNOPSIS.

Jack Keith, a Virginian, now a border planter, is looking for roaming parties of savages. He sees a wagon team at full gallop pursued by men on ponies. When Keith reaches the wagon the raiders have massacred two men and departed. He searches the victims finding papers and a letter with a woman's portrait. Keith is arrested at Carson City, charged with the murder. His accuser being a ruffian named Black Bart. A negro companion in his cell named Neb tells him that he knows the Keiths in Virginia. Neb says one of the murdered men was John Bibbey the other Gen. Willis Waite, formerly a Confederate officer. The planter and Neb escape, and later the fugitives come upon a cabin and find its occupant to be a young girl, which Keith thinks she is in search of a man. The girl explains that she is the daughter of General Waite, had deserted from the army, and that a Mr. Hawley induced her to come to the cabin while he sought her. The planter and Keith in hiding recognize the girl as Black Bart. There is a terrific battle in the darkened room in which Keith is victor. Hawley is appropriated, and the girl who says that her name is Hope, joins in the escape. Keith explains his situation and the fugitives make for Fort Larned, where the girl is left with the hotel landlady. Miss Hope tells that she is the daughter of General Waite. Keith and Neb drift into Sheridan, where Keith meets an old friend, Dr. Fairbain. Keith meets the brother of Hope, Willoughby, under the assumed name of Fred Willoughby.

"Just a little," carelessly; "but was sort of a trick could he be working trying to make you acknowledge Christie MacLairre as your sister?"

Willoughby did not answer, shifting uneasily about on the bed. Keith waited, and at last the boy blurted out:

"Oh, it wasn't nothing much. I told him something when I was drunk once, that I thought maybe might have stuck to him. Odd he should make that mistake, too, for I showed him Hope's picture. Bart's a schemer, and I didn't know but what he might have figured out a trick, though I don't see how he could. It wasn't more than a pipe dream, I reckon. Where did you meet Hope? Back in Missouri?"

"Oh, I've known her some time. Not long ago I did her a service for which she is grateful. Did you know she was out in this country searching for you?"

"Out here? In Kansas?"

"Sure; that isn't much of a trip for a spirited girl. She got it in her head from your letters that you were in trouble, and set out to find you and bring you home. She didn't tell me this, but that is the way I heard it. It was for her sake I came in here. Why not go to her, Willoughby, and then both of you return to Missouri?"

The sullenness had gone out of the boy's face; he looked tired, discouraged.

"Where is Hope?" he asked.

"Fort Larned, I suppose. She went to Carson City first."

"Well, that settles it," shaking his head. "You don't suppose I could go brown's round Larned, and not get snapped up, do you? They don't chase deserters very far out here, but that's the post I skipped from, and they'd jug me all right. Besides, I'm damned if I'll go back until I get a stake. I want to see a fellow first."

"What fellow?"

"Well, it's Hawley, if you want to know so bad. He said if I would come here and wait for him he'd put me on to a good thing."

Was there a deeply laid plot back of all these preparations involving both Willoughby and his sister? What was it Hawley was scheming about so carefully holding this boy deserter in one hand, while he reached out the other after Christie MacLairre? Surely, the man was not working blindly; he must have a purpose in view. Willoughby had acknowledged he had told the fellow something once when he was drunk—about his family history, no doubt, for he had shown him Hope's picture. What that family secret was Keith had no means of guessing, but Hawley, the moment he saw the face on the cardboard, had evidently recognized Christie MacLairre—had thought of some way in which what he now knew could be turned to advantage. The few scattered facts which Keith had collected all seemed to point to such a conclusion—Hawley had sent the boy to Sheridan, where he would be out of sight, with orders to look after him there, and the promise of a reward to keep him quiet.

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE. Dependence on a single large pill after Christie MacLairre meant to keep her quiet, and the reward was to be given her when she had gained the girl's confidence. Willoughby's cups, which were to cause her to uncover the secret, were to repay the girl's confidence. It was the girl's kossa-ness, which she had had in her, that had involved her. Who would have thought that the circumstances that became his own battle. There was a crime here—hidden as yet, and probably not commensurate—involving the girl. He would dig into this until he was wrong, perhaps disagreeable to the young uncovers the truth; he would find out what dirty trick "Black Bart" was up to.

As he thought this out, not swiftly as recorded, but slowly, deliberately, piecing the bits together within his mind, blindly feeling his way to a final conclusion, the boy had sunk back upon the bed, overcome with liquor, and fallen asleep. Keith stopped over, and looked down upon him in the dim light. He could recognize something of her features in the upturned face, and his eyes softened. There was a use seeking again to arouse him; even had he been sober, he would not have talked freely. Keith lifted the dangling feet into a more comfortable position, turned the lamp lower, went out, and latched the door. Two men were tramping heavily up the stairs, and they turned into the hall at the very moment he disappeared within his own room. He still retained his grasp upon the latch, when a voice outside asked:

"What number did you say, Bill—"

Keith straightened up as though suddenly pricked by a knife; he could never forget that voice—it was Hawley's.

CHAPTER XIX.

A Glimpse at Conspiracy.

Leaning against the inside of his own door, startled by the rapid sequence of events, Keith was able, from different sounds reaching him, to mentally picture most of what occurred in the next room. He heard chair and drink from the bottle, while the gambler apparently advanced to the next room. Apparently as Hawley arose carelessly from his edge of the washstand he had dislodged the glass, which fell shivering on the floor. Scott swore audibly at the loss.

"Shut up, Bill," snapped the gambler, irritated; "you've got the bottle left. I'm going; there's nothing for any of us to do now, until after I see Christie. You remain here! Do you understand?—remain here. Damn me, if that drunken fool isn't waking up."

There was a rattling of the rickety bed, and then the sound of Willoughby's voice, thick from liquor.

"Almighty glad to see you, Bart—am, indeed. Want money—Bill an' I both want money—can't drink without money—can't eat without money—shay, when you goin' stake us?"

"I'll see you again in the morning, Fred," returned the other briefly. "Go on back to sleep."

"Will when I git good an' ready—go asleep, stay wake, just as I please—don't care damn what yer do—got new frien' now."

"A new friend? Who?" Hawley spoke with aroused interest.

"Oh, he's all right—he's mighty fine fellow—come in wigout in—invitation—called her Hope—you fool, Bart Hawley, think my sister Christie—Christie—damn the name—my sister, Hope—don't want yer money—my new friend, he'll stake me—he knows my sister—Hope."

The gambler grasped the speaker, shaking him into some slight semblance of sobriety.

"Now, look here, Willoughby, I want the truth, and mean to have it," he insisted. "Has some one been in here while Scott was gone?"

"Sure—didn't I just tell yer—friend o' Hope's?"

"Who was he? Speak up! I want the name!"

There was a faint gurgling sound, as though the gambler's vice-like fingers were at the boy's throat; a slight struggle, and then the choked voice gasped out:

"Let up! damn yer! He called himself Jack Keith."

KNOWN THE SENATORIAL LIFE

Woman Had Her Own Idea as to Why Statesmen Opposed Early Hours.

United States senators may talk solemnly to the effect that there are good business reasons for meeting at two o'clock every day instead of noon, but they cannot fool a certain Washington woman, who has her own ideas on the subject. This woman occupies a prominent place in society at the capital, in which senators are so common that they do not cut any more figure than debutantes. She was visiting the senate wing of the capitol, in company with some friends. It was about one o'clock in the afternoon and, as she happened to glance into the chamber, she noticed that it was vacant.

"Has the senate adjourned already?" she asked, in surprise.

"Oh, no," a man in the party said. "You know it meets at two o'clock now, in order to give the senators more time for committee work."

"Ah, yes," she said. "I remember now; and it really is a very good idea. I have no doubt that it expedites public business wonderfully. It gives the senators plenty of time to shave, take a bath, dress, read the paper and eat breakfast—after having been up all night."

Foretold in a Dream.

A fatal accident that was foretold in a dream was described yesterday at an inquest at Old Hill, near Birmingham, on the body of a miner named Benjamin Westwood, who was killed at the Fly Colliery.

His brother William said that on Tuesday night he had a dream, and in it he saw his brother killed. He added: "I did not go to work on Wednesday morning, for my dream made me so ill that I was unable to do any work since."

"In my dream I saw a considerable quantity of coal fall from the roof on to my brother, knock him down and kill him, and from that time on, my dream was fulfilled. I did not go to my brother's house to warn him, as I was too ill to leave home."—Lan don Chronicle.

"Let Up! Damn Yer! He Called Himself Jack Keith."

ward the bed, where he stood looking down on his unconscious occupant.

"The fool is dead drunk," he declared disgustedly. "We can't do anything with him tonight."

"I say—throw bucket water over him," blurted the other genially, "allers sobers me off."

Hawley made no response, evidently finding a seat on one end of the washstand.

"Hardly worth while, Scott," he returned snially. "Perhaps I better have some understanding with Christie, anyhow, before I pump the boy any further. If we can once get her working with us, Willoughby won't work him hand in the play—we shan't need him. Thought I told you to keep sober?"

"Am sober," solemnly, "ain't had but six drinks; just nat'rally tired out."

"Oh, indeed; well, such a room as this would drive any man to drink. Did you get what I sent you here after?"

"Sure did, Bart," and Keith heard the fellow get to his feet unsteadily. "Here's the picture, an' some letters. I didn't take only what he had in the grip."

Hawley shuffled the letters over in his hands, apparently hastily reading them with some difficulty in the dim light.

"Nothing there to give us any help," he acknowledged reluctantly, "mostly advice as far as I can see. Damn the light; a glow worm would be better."

There was a pause; then he slapped his leg. "However, it's clear they live in Springfield, Missouri, and this photograph is a peach. Just look here, Bill! What did I tell you? Ain't Christie a dead ringer for this girl?"

"You bet she is, Bart," admitted the other in maudlin admiration, "only, I reckon, maybe some older."

"Well, she ought to be accordin' to Willoughby's story, an' them papers bear him out all right, so I reckon he's told it straight—this Phyllis would be twenty-six now, and that's just about what Christie is. It wouldn't have fit better if we had made it out purpose. If the girl will only play up to the part we won't need any other evidence."

Keith could hear the beating of his own heart in the silence that followed. Here was a new thought, a new understanding, a complete new turn to affairs. Christie MacLairre, then, was not Willoughby's sister Hope. The girl he rescued on the desert—the girl with the pleading brown eyes,

Hired Man Was Not Dainty

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Points Moral With One of His Typical Humorous Stories.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, at a dinner in Washington, said of a piece of tariff revision that he opposed:

"It is useless for the foreigner and no good at all for the American producer. The whole thing is a costly error, like the case of Slank's cod fish."

"Slank for a June treat, set before his hired man a nice mess of fried soft-shell crabs. The crabs were to do for the cook and stable boy as well, but Slank happened in on the hired man in the middle of the meal, and found the cook's and boy's prospects looking very dark.

"Why," said Slank reproachfully,

"you are eating your soft-shell crabs without bread!"

"Well, boss," replied the hired man, as he thrust half a crab into his mouth, "them wot can't eat good rich crabs like these without bread deserves to go hungry."

Question Too Personal.

"I had a mighty queer surprise this morning," remarked a local stock broker, "I put my last year's suit and in one of the trousers' pockets I found a big roll of bills which I had entirely forgotten."

"Were any of them receipts?" asked a listener who seemed to be a pessimist.

And the temperature dropped immediately to a point where everybody felt comfortable.

In the Dining Room.

Plates should be heated before they are sent to the table. An entire meal, prepared with great care, can be spoiled by the use of cold plates. Do not reach across another person's plate. If something beyond your cover is desired, ask the servant or the person nearest to pass it.

When a second portion is being served place the knife and fork to the right of the plate with the ends resting on the butter plate.

Trio of Wool

Photographed by Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

Wool will be very much in evidence in stylish out-door raiment this year. Here is an attractive coat, made of frieze or soft Vienna, with ice-wool knitted scarf and rough wool hat, trimmed with flowers made of woolen yarn. This represents real warmth, and is thoroughly appropriate for all out-door recreations.

LINEN COSTUME.

STORY OF JAPANESE GOWNS

Interesting Facts Concerning the Origin of Garments Worn in the Island Empire.

Nearly every woman nowadays cherishes a Japanese gown for house wear without realizing how interesting a garment it is. The sleeves themselves have a curious history. From the middle of the sixteenth century they began to increase in length, and especially those for young ladies, have extended till now they are from three to four feet. This style, known as furisode, became very fashionable.

The width of the obi, or sash, has also varied, at first from two and a half to three and a half inches, and to six, seven, eight and nine inches.

It is interesting to note that our own new fashions in sleeves and sashes originated among the common people of Japan, and from them were finally adopted by the upper classes. The young ladies of the Samurai class were the first to follow the popular styles in this respect, and the higher classes began to follow suit, until now these fashions prevail everywhere.

It is only from about the middle of the seventh century that the women of the lower classes began to wear the long haori, or overcoat, at present so common among all classes of both sexes. This garment was originally a duster worn by men to protect their clothes when outdoors, and was then called dofuku, or traveling coat.

Finally they came to be worn indoors, and the women adopted the garment. The upper classes in time followed the same custom, and now the haori is an indispensable part of the clothing to be worn on formal occasions, even in summer.

NEWEST IDEAS IN GIRLIES

Putty-colored linen is used for the smart costume we illustrate here. The skirt has a panel front and back, and at sides is trimmed with two shaped straps with a button in each point. The coat fastens below just with one pointed strap; the large turn-over collar is strapped on the outer edge with black and putty-colored striped linen.

Hat of putty-colored straw, trimmed with a black feather mount. Materials required for the dress: Five yards forty-two inches wide, fourteen buttons, one-eighth yard stripe twenty-seven inches wide.

Chic Kerchiefs.

Very small handkerchiefs of colored silk with a hemstitched border are sold to wear in the breast pocket of one's rough morning coat. The color scheme of the costume can be carried out by this small touch in a most effective manner, and the idea has been taken up by the Americans who are now in Paris.

Style in Shoes.

Among the popular low shoes for dressy wear at present is the Directorate slipper. It comes in patent leather, dull kid and black satin, and is ornamented with a square or oval gold or kid buckle on the instep.

Low shoes promise to be far more elaborate this year than for some time past, as the narrow skirts and slashed hems have brought them into more prominent view. Bronze slippers with fancy insets of gold on the toe, trimmed with bronze beads, are in good style, as are the Directorate and beaded slippers of black satin with short vamps.—Harper's Bazar.

Newest in Suits.

There is a tendency to get away from the large collar which has been in vogue for a year or more, says the Dry Goods economist. Many of the suits will be made with small collars and fancy revers, in round, square or pointed shape, which start from the shoulder and are entirely separate from the collar. A few are made collarless, but have the trimming inset to give the effect of a collar.

The tendency during the late fall has been to favor coats buttoned at the shoulder, this is not considered a good spring idea and low openings are expected to be in vogue.

Latest Sweater.

The latest thing in sweaters are first cousins to the fuzzy wuzzy tam-o'-shanters that abounded some five years back. They look like goats and camels, for "they are wild and they are woolly," with a shawl and a long beard nap, all combed out smooth and shiny—until one buys them, then they will probably gather up in lumps, but they will continue to be just as warm and comfortable and much softer than the regular worsted ones.

OFFICIAL INVITATION TO AMERICANS

HOW ROBERT ROGERS, MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR, IN WINNIPEG ADDRESS, ISSUES WELCOME OF AMERICANS TO WESTERN CANADA.

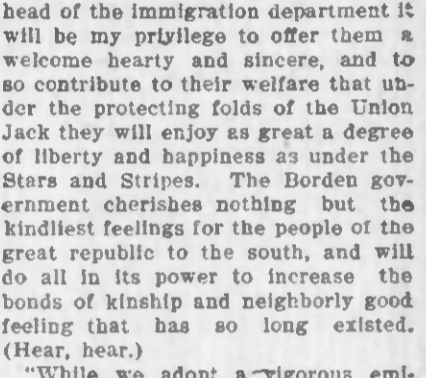

During the course of a reply to an address presented to Hon. Robert Rogers, the newly appointed Minister of the Interior of Canada at a banquet given at Winnipeg in his honor that gentleman spoke on immigration. The tone of his remarks was that he intended to pursue an aggressive and forward policy in the matter of immigration. In part, he said:

"The most important branch perhaps of that department (interior) is that of immigration.

"If there is anything more than another we want here it is a greater population, and it shall be my duty to present to the people in all parts of the world where desirable emigrants are to be found the advantages and the great possibilities of this country. We have received in the past a reasonably large immigration from south of the international boundary, and in this connection let me say just a word for our American cousins who have found happy homes amongst us, and those whom we hope to welcome in greater numbers in the years to come. There are hundreds of thousands of them in our prairie provinces, happy in the enjoyment of a freedom as great as they ever knew, and all contributing in a material way towards the development of Canada. We are not blind to their value as settlers. They come better equipped with scientific farming knowledge than most of our emigrants, and constitute without doubt the wealthiest class of emigrants any new country has ever known. As head of the immigration department it will be my privilege to offer them a welcome hearty and sincere, and to so contribute to their welfare that under the protecting folds of the Union Jack they will enjoy as great a degree of liberty and happiness as under the Stars and Stripes. The Borden government cherishes nothing but the kindest feelings for the people of the great republic to the south, and will do all in its power to increase the bonds of kinship and neighborly good feeling that has so long existed. (Hear, hear.)

"While we adopt a vigorous emigration policy in that country, we will also adopt the same vigorous policy in other parts of the world. We will go to England, Ireland and Scotland, and every other country irrespective of race, creed or nationality, where we can find suitable and desirable emigrants for this great country. I think much good work can be done in those countries, and especially perhaps at the present time in England, Ireland and Scotland. Now, then, it will be my duty to stir up that policy in the most vigorous manner possible."

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Backache is usually kidney ache. There is only one way to remove the pain. You must reach the cause—the kidneys. No better kidney remedy exists than Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. John A. Link, 122 E. Terry St., Bucyrus, O., says: "I was so terribly afflicted with kidney complaint, I could not leave my bed. I was attended by several doctors but they all failed to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief after I had given up all hope and soon cured me. I have had no kidney trouble in three years."

Wednesday Mistake.

A Broadway actor got carried away by the spirit of the times and remained carried away for several days. He came to himself in his own room without knowing exactly how he got there. A friend sat beside him.

"Hello," he said, as he opened his eyes, "what day is this, Wednesday?"

"This," said his friend, "is Thursday."

The invalid thought it over a minute.

"What became of Wednesday?" he asked.—Saturday Evening Post.

It is not difficult to select appropriate gifts for Yule-tide, but of all what else has the real, intrinsic worth of a diamond, or a rare gem, a watch, a rich piece of cut glass or hand painted china or something in the line of silver? Such gifts as these are, are substantial, lasting—frequently handed down from generation to generation.

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1908 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c. at All Druggists.

At the Davidson.

Next week at the Davidson theatre, Milwaukee, will be a red letter period, for two of the most important engagements of the season are announced.

The first opening, Sunday night will be the comic opera, "Naughty Mariet," with the celebrated grand opera prima donna, Emma Trentini in the title role. Mlle trentini needs no introduction, for ever since Oscar Hammerstein first presented her in his New York opera house, he has been recognized as one of the wonderful singers of the age. Comic opera she has scored a success equal to her grand opera triumphs.

"Naughty Marieta" is the work of Victor Herbert, America's greatest composer, who provided the score, and Rida Johnson Young, the playwright who is responsible for the book. It scored a triumph in New York all last season, which induced Mr. Hammerstein to send it with his star for a brief road tour of the chest cities.

Surrounding the star is a company recruited largely from Mr. Hammerstein's grand opera organization and a chorus whose members all received their training in the same exacting school. An orchestra of twenty four pieces will render Mr. Herbert's graceful score and the composer in person will direct the opening performance, making the journey from New York especially for the purpose. The engagement of Mlle Trentini is for four nights with a Wednesday matinee.

For the latter half of the week Joseph M. Gaites' wonderful spectacular dramatic production of "Thais" will be offering, with Tyrone Power, Constance Collier and Julian L'Estrange in the leading roles. The drama is an adaptation of the famous novel, from which the home of he grand opera was taken. A large company a wonderful scenic production and a special orchestra are carried, the orchestra rendering as incidental to the piece the grand opera music. The engagement is for three nights with Saturday matinee.

CITY OF THE INSANE.

Happy and Honored "Guests" of the Inhabitants of Ghel.

One of the most remarkable places in Europe, of which no tourist on pleasure bent ever takes notice, says a writer in a Berlin paper, is the "City of the Insane," by which name the Ghel, near Antwerp, has been known for generations. About 1,500 men and women afflicted with insanity in all its forms live there and have a happy being as the "guests" of the inhabitants, who know by experience how to treat the unfortunate ones. In the streets, in the places of amusement, the cafes and workshops these patients may be found, and nowhere is there the remotest suggestion of restraint apparatus. The board ranges from 240 to 2,400 marks a year, and, no matter how small the amount may be, the patient is always the favored member of the family. He has the first right to the most comfortable chair, and the head of the table belongs to him. He receives the most attention, and this he learns to appreciate and to endeavor to maintain by living down his illness. Even the children know how to treat the demented people. The dangerous ones are sent to another settlement and to institutions. It is wonderful how considerate, careful and kind the simple people are toward their charges, and a peep into the community would probably terrify physicians who had never heard of and could not appreciate the good which is being done in this "City of the Insane."

A RACE ON ICE.

The Skates That Got Away and Those That Were Recovered.

Thackeray once asked one of the men who let out skates on the Serpentine whether he had ever lost a pair through the omission to exact a deposit, and he replied that he had never done so, except on one occasion, when the circumstances made it almost pardonable.

A well dressed young fellow was having his second skate fastened on when he suddenly broke away from the man's hands and dashed to the ice. The next instant a thickset, powerful man was clanking for another pair.

He was a detective in pursuit of his prey, and a very amusing sight it was to watch the chase. He was, as he had boasted, a first rate skater, and it became presently obvious that he was running down his man.

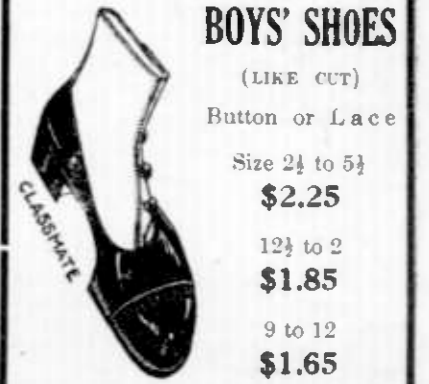

Then the young fellow determined to run a desperate risk of liberty. The ice, as usual, under the bridge was marked "Dangerous," and he made for it at headlong speed. The ice bent beneath his weight, but he got safely through.

The sheriff's officer followed with equal speed, but, being a heavier man, broke through and was drowned.

"His skates," said the narrator of the incident, "I got back after the inquest, but these the young gentleman had on I never saw again."—London Telegraph.
