Many questions that will arise under the new law will come up for discussion at the meeting of the state assessors in Madison Feb. 1-2.

It has been suggested that the new law would promote marriages as married men are allowed exemptions up to $1,200 net income and single men are exempted up to only $800.

It was pointed out by a man who has studied the law that the income tax could have very little difference on the marriage question. It would make a difference of only $4 in the assessment it was pointed out or not enough to pay for a marriage license and fee for the clergyman or judge who tied the knot.

The adjuster for the insurance companies holding policies in the local roller mills completed their work last Saturday, since which time the Kuehlthaus Bros. have been busy clearing up the ruins of the fire. The adjustment is declared to have been satisfactory. The proprietors have not yet decided whether they will rebuild or not, although an examination has shown that practically all of the old walls can be used again. They are removing the undamaged sacks of flour to a shed at the aluminum works, and are offering for sale very cheaply the rye which did not suffer from the smoke, a fact which several farmers have already taken advantage of. Some of the wheat in the basement is still smoldering, but will be extinguished as soon as the debris is removed.—West Bend News.

On account of the L. R.'s not making their appearance last Thursday evening, the games scheduled with them and the Benedicts last Thursday evening was postponed until a future date.

The schedule for next week is as follows: Tuesday, double header, L. R.'s vs. Neverslips, Thursday, Roosters vs. Benedicts.

On account of the L. R.'s not making their appearance last Thursday evening, the games scheduled with them and the Benedicts last Thursday evening was postponed until a future date.

That woman suffrage is the most widely discussed subject in Wisconsin is shown from statistics of the package libraries of the department of public discussion and debating of the university extension division. During December there were four times as many calls for information about woman suffrage as there were for any other public question. The initiative and referendum was second, commission government third, immigration fourth, the parcels post fifth and the income tax sixth.

That some of the geese of Wisconsin are opposed to equal suffrage is indicated by the fact that when Miss Caroline McGill instructor in political economy at the University of Wisconsin, attempted to give a talk on woman's suffrage at the Beloit Poultry and Pet Stock show, the geese refused to listen to her and undertook the usual obstructionist tactics—they drowned her out with their cackling. Later however the strong arm of law and order was exerted, the geese were removed and Miss McGill made her speech.

NET INCOMES WILL BE LEVIED UPON

Assessor of Incomes Discusses An Interesting Point

RAISED BY TRAVELING MEN

New Income Law Will Promote Marriages as The Exemption is Greater For Married People

Traveling salesmen have felt some apprehension since the income tax law was declared constitutional that they might be forced to pay taxes on their gross incomes, including their expense accounts. Some firms pay their traveling men a lump sum which covers salary and expenses and salary or commission both.

L. D. Guth the newly appointed income tax assessor for Washington county said that the law clearly provides for taxation of net incomes, granting certain specified exemptions.

"The policy of the law is to assist net incomes," said Mr. Guth. "That means the net income found after taking from the gross income certain deductions which the law specifically names. Among these are the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within one year in carrying on the profession, occupation or business from which the income is derived."

"If a man deducts only the ordinary and necessary expenses he has complied with the law, regardless of what his occupation may be."

LECTURE NUMBER POORLY ATTENDED

Ash Davis Entertains a Small Audience in Groeschel's Hall Last Week Friday Evening

Ash Davis, who gave the fourth number of the lecture course in Groeschel's hall here last Friday evening, proved himself to be an artist. His drawings and talk with each picture was very entertaining. It is to be regretted that the hall was not packed to hear and see Mr. Davis in his work. The time spent in listening to him and his work was well worth the time. All those that were present report a very good entertainment and regretted that the time was at end when he stopped. The next number of the course will be given on Thursday evening, April 4th. This will be the last number. As the committee here in charge are considerably financially embarrassed it is hoped that everyone will turn out to make it a success. The different numbers given have proved to be very good. The last number will bring to Kewaskum the Townsden Concert company. This company comes here highly recommended. Remember the date Thursday evening, April 4th.

NEW FANE.

Wm. Heberer sold his farm to John Firkis last week.

Miss Alma Braun is employed at Ernst Ranthum's at present.

Nic. Hecker visited at Hartford from Monday until Wednesday.

Remember the Old Settlers dance in Kohn's hall on February 4th.

Miss Clara Firkis is visiting with her sister at Milwaukee this week.

Adolph Heberer bought a house and lot from George Braun last week.

Mrs. John Schiltz visited with the Schneider family at St. Michaels last Thursday.

Geo. Braun and wife from Spencer who visited with friends around here returned to their home Thursday.

To Have Different Office Quarters

L. D. Guth, income tax assessor for Washington and Ozaukee counties, has decided upon to have different office quarters. As the law calls for the counties must furnish the assessor with an office room and furniture and fixtures, Mr. Guth will be compelled to have his offices at West Bend and Port Washington. Mr. Guth was at Port Washington on Tuesday to make arrangements for an office there. Mr. Guth also states that he will have an office in this village.

As yet no assistants have been appointed. As soon as the assessor returns from their meeting at Madison, which is being held this week, Mr. Guth will appoint such assistants as necessary. Work will then be commenced.

New Manager for Ice Houses

A change in the management of the local branch houses of the Wisconsin Lakes Ice Co. will be made shortly. Fred Schaefer, who held the position as manager for several years, last Wednesday became the owner of the Conrad Bier, Sr., farm, better known as the John Klein Sr., farm in the town of Kewaskum. Mr. Schaefer will take possession next spring. Otto Schaefer, it is said, will be given the position, which his brother held Mr. and Mrs. Bier, who resided here some years ago, will move to Kewaskum to make that village their home.—West Bend Pilot.

Married at Milwaukee

Chas. Gritter, son of Mrs. Joseph Gritter, and Miss Cora Ward of Milwaukee, were united in marriage by Judge Backus of Milwaukee on Thursday evening, January 19th. The witnesses were Ben Smith, Harry Cohn and the Misses Martha Gritter and Rose Sherman. The young couple have gone to housekeeping at 232 1/2 St. The office wishes the young couple all the happiness and prosperity bestowed in married life.

Carload of Potatoes Catches Fire

A carload of potatoes, which was loaded by A. G. Koch caught fire last week Saturday, when the stove in the car was upset by a run-a-way car, coming down the track and bumping against this car. The damage done was very slight. The section men were at once called upon to reload the potatoes in another car.

HOME TALENT PLAY A SUCCESS

The "Prince of Liars" on Last Sunday Evening Drew a Large Crowd

PARTS WERE WELL RENDERED BY ALL

The Dance After The Show Was Enjoyed by a Goodly Number. Play Given Under Direction of Mr. Floyd Covell

The home talent play, "The Prince of Liars" given by Kewaskum Home Talent under the direction of Mr. Floyd Covell in Groeschel's hall, 220 W. 5th St., was enjoyed by a large audience. The play was a very interesting pathos and comedy. It was admirably rendered and the stage settings were appropriately arranged. The members of the cast carried out their parts well, and spoke their lines distinctly. Two much praise cannot be given Mr. Covell for presenting such a play.

Capt. Robt. Rackett, Liar, one of the leading characters in the cast was cleverly acted by Mr. Covell, who is a professional in this line. Clarice, Mrs. Capt. Rackett, which part was taken by Mrs. Covell, was very well taken care of and is worthy of praise.

Arthur Schaefer, as Obadiah Dawson, Old Unkie, showed much skill in acting his part. Timothy Tolman, who married for money, which part was well filled by Fred Buss, was another one of the leading characters. Fred rendered his part very creditably. Franklin Backhaus as Mr. Dalroy, a jolly old cove, really surprised as well as pleased his friends, as he showed qualities of the budding actor and played his part in a very intelligent manner.

Frances Ockenfels, Mrs. Tolman, with a temper, was at her best and occasionally brought the house to an uproar.

Katy, Full of the Old Nick, played by Miss Edna Guth, carried her part with an ease and familiarity that indicated talent and training.

The specialties given between the acts by Arthur Schaefer and Mr. Covell were also well received. The dance after the show, which was given free of charge to all, was enjoyed until the wee hours of the morning by a large number.

DEATH OF JACOB WISKIRCHEN OF WEST BEND

Deceased Was One of the Best Known Men in the Northern Part of the County

Jacob Wiskirchen, who was taken ill three weeks ago, but who had recovered sufficiently on Monday last week to leave his bed and sit up at his home, joined the silent majority on Friday morning, death claiming him at 7 o'clock. Mr. Wiskirchen suffered a relapse on Tuesday and from then he sank rapidly until his end came, death resulting from heart trouble.

Jacob Wiskirchen was born in Friesheim, Prussia, on Oct. 28, 1845. When he was 8 years old he came with his parents to America, settling first near Waukesha. Later the family moved to the town of Scott, Sheboygan county, and there the then young man married Miss Johanna Lambrecht, on July 14, 1867. He purchased a farm there and made that town his residence until 1890, when he moved onto a farm near St. Michaels, Washington county. In 1906 he retired from hard toil and came to West Bend, residing in this city ever since. Besides the widow above named he is survived by five children—Jennie (Mrs. G. Schmitz), and Mary (Mrs. Henry Miller) of Farmington; Rose, at home; Matilda (Mrs. John Bendel) of the town of Kewaskum; and Christian, residing on the homestead in Farmington. Deceased also leaves two brothers and one sister—Joseph Wiskirchen of Kohler, and John Wiskirchen and Mrs. Margaretha Cash of West Bend.

The remains were taken to the home of the son Christian, in Farmington, Sunday afternoon and from there the funeral was held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock under the auspices of the Catholic church at St. Michaels, Rev. Beyer officiating.

To the bereaved family, brothers and sisters we extend the sympathy of one who knew the deceased as a true friend and an upright man and a good citizen.

Ph. Schellinger transacted business at West Bend Tuesday. From there he went to Aurora, Ill., to look over road machinery.

Owing to the illness of their mother, Mrs. Aug. Becker, Fred, John, George and William of Milwaukee, Jacob of Kewaskum and Mrs. John Brinkmann of Lomira and Mrs. Albert Loehrke of Fond du Lac spent Sunday at her bedside here.

ST. KILIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baster spent Thursday and Friday with relatives at Lomira.

Frank Moser and Fred Zauders of Milwaukee were business callers here Thursday.

Mrs. Adam Kahut of Milwaukee is the guest of the Andrew Flasch family since Tuesday.

Louis Foerster representative of Goll & Frank Co. Milwaukee called on Strachota Bros. here Monday and Tuesday.

Kilian F. Strobel Jr., and Tom Eisenhut returned home from Madison Saturday where they attended a short course in the Dairy school.

The boys have organized what they call wonderful club and are having posters out for a rag time dance to be given in Andrew Strobel's hall on Monday, February 5.

JOHN HESS PASSES AWAY

A Pioneer Resident of the Town of Ashford Succumbs to Heart Trouble

John P. Hess, aged 70 years, a pioneer of the town of Ashford, died at his home last Tuesday night, shortly after midnight, death being due to heart failure. Before retiring for the evening's rest, Mr. Hess was in the best of health, but at about 11:30 complained of being ill to his wife, who at once awoke their son-in-law Charles Haessly who immediately drove to Kewaskum to call a doctor and priest. Before medical aid arrived Mr. Hess had already passed away.

Deceased was born on March 28, 1842 in Utica, New York. When a child of one year he went with his parents to Franklin, Racine county, this state, where he lived up to the time of 1868, when he and his wife moved to their present home. Mr. and Mrs. Hess, the latter whose maiden name was Burchy, were married on March 2nd, 1865. Their union was blessed with eleven children, all of whom together with his stricken wife survive. The names of the children are: Josephine, Mrs. P. Lefebvre, of Milwaukee; Lena, Mrs. Chas. Haessly, at home; Regina, Mrs. J. Litscher of Beaver Dam; John of Milwaukee; Frank of Eden; Louis of Kewaskum; Mary, Mrs. N. Kohn of North Fond du Lac; Joseph at home; Maggie, Mrs. G. Puchler of New England, N. D.; Lizzie, Mrs. J. Roginski and Matthew of North Fond du Lac.

The news of the sudden death of Mr. Hess not only was a shock to his wife and family, but also to the whole community, as he was a man who was well liked by everyone. Deceased was one of the honored and influential and industrious farmers of the town of Ashford. He was a man of great strength of character and a leader among his associates. Everyone who knew him placed the greatest confidence in him. He also was a kind and loving husband and father.

The funeral will be held to-day, Saturday, with interment in the St. Bridget's cemetery. Rev. Vogt officiating. THE STATESMAN together with its many readers and friends extend their deep heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives in their time of sorrow.

CARD OF THANKS.

We hereby wish to thank all those who so kindly assisted us during the death and burial of our beloved husband and father.

TAFT OPENS CAMPAIGN

DEFENDS HIS ADMINISTRATION IN CLEVELAND SPEECH.

Defies Opponents to Show Wherein Republican Party Failed to Keep 1908 Pledges.

Cleveland, O.—Stand pat, was the president's advice to Republicans in what appeared to his hearers to be the "keynote speech" in which his coming campaign will be fought to a finish.

He justified his vetoes of the Democratic revision bills at the extra session and he made a plea for the continuance of the tariff board. He also renewed his adherence to the protective policy.

The president called attention to the railroad bill, making the interstate commerce law more effective and creating the court of commerce. He said it would be foolish and futile to abolish this court because it has reversed the interstate commerce commission. He also commended the safety appliance legislation of the last congress.

As for the enforcement of the anti-trust law the president said: "The laws have been enforced. The interstate commerce law and the anti-trust law. Indictments have been found and bills in equity have been filed in cases that seemed to call for governmental action, and they have proceeded to judgment in due course, and the judgments have been enforced."

Los Angeles, Cal.—Although active with all celerity, the prosecution in the case of Clarence S. Darrow, former chief counsel of the McNamara, who is accused of jury bribery, does not expect to bring the noted lawyer to trial as the two indictments against him for a long time.

Meanwhile the county grand jury which reported the bills against Darrow will continue to probe, and W. Joseph Ford, the deputy district attorney who conducted the bribery investigation, declared that startling developments, wholly apart from Darrow and concerning only the conspiracy phase of the alleged national dynamiting operations of John J. McNamara and his "wrecking crew," might be expected at any time.

While extending to Darrow every personal courtesy, the assistants of District Attorney John F. Fredericks, his victorious adversary in the famous dynamite trial, are bent on procuring his conviction. The charges that he bribed Robert Balm, a sworn juror, and George N. Lockwood, a venireman, will be pressed, although the actual passing of the money, it is alleged, was entrusted to Detective Bert Franklin, who is scheduled to be tried on similar charges February 27.

Washington—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and Henry T. Flather, cashier of the Riggs National bank, which is the depository for the federation's funds and also for the McNamara defense fund, have been subpoenaed to appear on February 1 before the federal grand jury at Indianapolis, which is investigating dynamite plots.

"I will appreciate this opportunity to show all our books and have the federation's accounts investigated by the federal authorities," said Morrison when he received the subpoena. "I will leave for Indianapolis at once."

Mr. Morrison thinks that the grand jury intends to inquire into the disposition of the McNamara defense fund.

Washington.—By a vote of 210 to 109 the house passed the Underwood bill revising downward the iron and steel schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The Underwood measure reduces duties from 39 to 50 per cent.

THE OGRE IN THE CELLAR

CONCERNING THE PUBLIC DOMAIN

President Taft, in Message to Congress, Points Out Needs of Various Sections.

ALASKA TOO LONG NEGLECTED

Urgent Need of Legislation That Shall Develop the Resources of the Territory and Afford Protection to Settlers—Would Have Government Build and Own a Trunk Line Railroad—Waterway Improvements.

Washington, Feb. 2.—President Taft sent the following message to congress today:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: There is no branch of the Federal jurisdiction which calls more imperatively for immediate legislation than that which concerns the public domain, and especially the part of that domain which is in Alaska.

The progress under the reclamation act has made clear the defects of its limitations, which should be remedied. The rules governing the acquisition of homesteads of land that is not arid or semi-arid, are not well adapted to the perfecting of title to land made arable by government reclamation work.

I concur with the Secretary of the Interior in his recommendation that, after entry is made upon land being reclaimed, actual occupation as a homestead of the same be not required until two years after entry, but that cultivation of the same shall be required, and that the present provision under which the land is to be paid for in ten annual installments shall be so modified as to allow a patent issue for the land at the end of five years' cultivation and three years' occupation, with a reservation of a government lien for the amount of the unpaid purchase money. This leniency to the reclamation homesteader will relieve him from occupation at a time when the condition of the land makes it most burdensome and difficult, and at the end of five years will furnish him with a title upon which he can borrow money and continue the improvement of his holding.

I also concur in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior that all of our public domain should be classified and that each class should be disposed of or administered in the manner most appropriate to that particular class.

Leasing of Government Lands. The chief change, however, which ought to be made, and which I have already recommended in previous messages and communications to congress, is that by which government coal land and phosphate and other mineral lands containing non-metallic minerals, shall be leased to the government, with restrictions as to size and time, resembling those which now obtain throughout the country between the owners in fee and the lessees who work the mines, and in leases like those which have been most successful in Australia, New Zealand, and Nova Scotia. The showing made by investigations into the successful working of the leasing system leaves no doubt as to its wisdom and practical utility. Requirements as to the working of the mine during the term may be so framed as to prevent any holding of large mining properties merely for speculation, while the royalties may be made sufficiently low, not unduly to increase the cost of the coal mined, and at the same time sufficient to furnish a reasonable income for the use of the public in the community where the mining goes on. In Alaska, there is no reason why a substantial income should not thus be raised for such public works as may be deemed necessary or useful.

World Build Trunk Line Railroad. I am not in favor of government ownership where the same certainty and efficiency of service can be had by private enterprise, but I think the conditions presented in Alaska are of such a character as to warrant the government, for the purpose of encouraging the development of that vast and remarkable territory, to build and own a trunk line railroad, which it can lease on terms which may be varied and changed to meet the growing prosperity and development of the territory.

I have already recommended to Congress the establishment of a form of commission government for Alaska. The territory is too extended, its needs are too varied, and its distance from Washington too remote to enable Congress to keep up with its necessities in the matter of legislation of a local character.

The governor of Alaska in his report points out certain laws that ought to be adopted, and emphasizes

Not Altogether Appropriate. At a church convention in Georgia some years ago the preacher who delivered the convention sermon read from manuscript. He used small sheets of paper, and as he read one he laid it aside on the pulpit. As the sermon was long (and many leaves) the minister, in concluding, said: "We will close the service by the choir selecting some appropriate hymn." And that choir, by association of ideas perhaps, unconsciously sang, "Leaves, Nothing But Leaves."

Twisted. Hicks—I hear that Brown's speech at the club dinner last night was quite funny.

Wicks—The opening sentence was— "Very" He rose and said: "While I was sitting on my thoughts a chair struck me." Everybody roared.

In Tense Condition, Too. "Grammar is a vague sort of a science as far as exactness is concerned." "Maybe because it is subject to moods."

Decidedly Slouchy. "No," said Mr. Nurtich, "I ain't no dude. Clothes don't make the man, you know."

"No," replied Peppery, "but many of you self-made men look as if you had also made the clothes."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Getting It Straight. "So the bank teller has disappeared. Was he short in his cash?"

"No, he was ahead. It was the bank that was short."

Weary of Being Disturbed. "Pa, what's the difference between a nom de plume and a pseudonym?"

"Oh, one of 'em is all closed up like a hack and the other's open. Now, don't bother me. I want to read about where the Cubs are going to do their spring practice!"

Some philosopher says there is always a right way and a wrong way of doing a thing.

"I wonder if he ever tried to fall downstairs the right way?"—Judge.

LOS ANGELES PROSECUTOR PRE-DICTS STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS IN McNAMARA CASE.

District Attorney's Assistants Are Bent on Securing Chicago Lawyer's Conviction on Bribery Charge, But Admit There Will Be Delay.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Although active with all celerity, the prosecution in the case of Clarence S. Darrow, former chief counsel of the McNamara, who is accused of jury bribery, does not expect to bring the noted lawyer to trial as the two indictments against him for a long time.

Meanwhile the county grand jury which reported the bills against Darrow will continue to probe, and W. Joseph Ford, the deputy district attorney who conducted the bribery investigation, declared that startling developments, wholly apart from Darrow and concerning only the conspiracy phase of the alleged national dynamiting operations of John J. McNamara and his "wrecking crew," might be expected at any time.

While extending to Darrow every personal courtesy, the assistants of District Attorney John F. Fredericks, his victorious adversary in the famous dynamite trial, are bent on procuring his conviction. The charges that he bribed Robert Balm, a sworn juror, and George N. Lockwood, a venireman, will be pressed, although the actual passing of the money, it is alleged, was entrusted to Detective Bert Franklin, who is scheduled to be tried on similar charges February 27.

5 REBELS ARE SLAIN

GENERALS KILLED BY MOB AT GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR.

Lynch Law Invoked Against Leaders of Revolt—Prison Is Stormed by People.

Guayaquil, Ecuador.—Generals Eloy Alfaro, Flavio Alfaro, Medardo Alfaro Manuel Serrano and Ulpiana Paz, all prominent revolutionists, were lynched by a mob which broke into the Quito prison, despite the heavy guard surrounding it.

With the death of these men the leading rights in Ecuador's latest revolution have been snuffed out.

This revolution, although it had been a long time brewing, began in reality a few days following the sudden death on December 22 last of Emilio Estrada.

The first of the drastic measures taken by those who opposed the revolution was carried into effect January 25 at Guayaquil, when Gen. Pedro Montero, who was proclaimed president by the troops after the death of Estrada, was shot and beheaded by a mob, which later burned his body.

Eloy Alfaro was proclaimed president of Ecuador by the populace in January, 1906, after he had defeated the government troops at Quito.

GREAT EVENT FOR NEW YORK Digging of Remarkable Water System Tunnel Under the Hudson River Is Completed.

New York.—The forging of the greatest link in the greatest chain of its kind in the world's history was completed when a blast of dynamite, fired 1,100 feet under the surface of the Hudson river at Storm King, N. Y., concluded the digging of a tunnel through which in years to come will pour millions of gallons of water from the Catskill mountains for consumption by the city of New York, more than a hundred miles distant.

Mayor Gaynor and members of the board of water supply were present to officially celebrate the event and, as soon as the debris of the blast was cleared away, they walked through the 3,000 feet length of the tunnel from shore to shore.

The successful completion of the under-the-river tunnel marks the final definite assurance of the practicability of the colossal waterworks scheme for which New York city will spend $160,000,000 before work ceases on it.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN RIOT Governor Foss Orders 12 Companies of Infantry and Two Troops of Cavalry to Lawrence.

Lawrence, Mass.—One woman shot dead, a policeman probably fatally stabbed, scores of alleged strike breakers dragged from street cars going in the direction of the woolen mills and beaten, several strikers killed by policemen's clubs, trolley lines tied up and several cars partially wrecked, these are the net results of the worst day of rioting since the beginning of the strike of woolen mill workers. Governor Foss, at the appeal of Mayor Scanlan, ordered 12 companies of infantry and two troops of cavalry to hasten here to reinforce the five companies of infantry now on duty.

ROOSEVELT NOT A CANDIDATE

Colonel Would Accept Nomination Only When Whole of People, So Will It.

New York.—"I am not and shall not be a candidate; I shall not seek the nomination, nor would I accept it if it came to me as the result of an intrigue. But I will not let my hands by a statement which would make it difficult or impossible for me to serve the public by undertaking a great task, if the people as a whole seemed definitely to come to the conclusion that I ought to do the task."

These actual literal words are being said by Theodore Roosevelt in letters, interviews, in statements to those whom he deems "sincere and honest supporters or sincere and honest opponents." They are a part of a remarkable definition of his exact personal position that has been known to his personal friends for some time.

GIRL KILLS SELF IN CROWDED CAR

Beloit Teacher Slashes Throat Because of Poor Health.

HEAD IS ALMOST SEVERED

Passengers on the Rockford-Beloit-Janesville Interurban Line Thrown Into Panic—Young Woman Was Returning from Sanatorium.

Beloit.—Driven insane by continued brooding over ill health, Miss Ada Emerson, a former teacher in the Beloit city schools, killed herself in a crowded Rockford-Beloit-Janesville interurban car by slashing her throat with a razor.

The suicide occurred almost before the eyes of the young woman's mother, who was waiting at the Roosevelt avenue crossing to meet her daughter, who was coming from Rockford after being in a sanatorium. Just as the car was stopping for the crossing, the passengers were thrown into a panic by the sight of Miss Emerson slaying at her throat. Several women on the car fainted. Conductor Jonas tried to prevent the act of self-destruction but the young woman was dead in a few minutes. She had nearly severed her head.

ANTI-RED PLAGUE FIGHT ON

Fire Marshall Purcell Opens a State-wide Campaign to Prevent Enormous Losses by Fire.

Madison.—"Anti-Red Plague" posters with some flaming touches of red ink have been put out by State Fire Marshal T. M. Purcell and will be distributed broadcast throughout the Badger state.

The poster is headed: "Anti-Red plague fight for fire prevention! Will you help?" After calling attention to the per capita fire waste of the United States as compared with Europe comes the A. B. C. of fire prevention in the form of a few rules of caution which originated in the fire marshal's department.

Judge J. E. Florin has been made superintendent of inspections in the department and will devote all of his time to this work.

MADISON FEELS BLACK HAND

Tenement Building in Italian Quarter Shattered by a Bomb—Twenty-Five Occupants Unhurt.

Madison.—An attempt was made to blow up the four-story tenement building of Carmelo Oliva, a mason contractor, in the heart of the Italian settlement.

The explosion shook the entire building and threw its twenty-five occupants out of bed, but none was injured. Part of the basement wall was knocked out and every window on the northeast side of the building was smashed. The explosion is charged to a blackhand gang.

Oliva, who is known as king of one faction of Italians in this city, told the police that he suspects certain persons but refused to divulge any names.

Test for Upper Berth Law.

Madison.—James P. Hall, Chicago, has brought suit in the Dane county circuit court against the Milwaukee road to test the Wisconsin upper berth law, requiring that upper berths remain closed unless occupied. Mr. Hall complained to the state railroad commission that the road was not obeying the law and the matter was turned over to the attorney general for a decision. The railway company holds that the law is unconstitutional.

To Build Employees' Homes.

Grand Rapids.—George W. Meade, manager of the Water Power and Paper company, has made arrangements for the erection of a number of houses near the Biron paper mill. They will be four or five room houses, heated with steam, lighted with electricity and with stone basements, baths and all modern improvements. The employees of the mill will be given an opportunity to own their own homes on monthly instalments.

Ripon High School Burns.

Ripon.—The Ceresco building of Ripon high school, together with the entire contents, including the personal effects of the scholars, was destroyed by fire, the loss amounting to $2,500, with $12,000 insurance. The school was attended by 200 children, under five teachers. The cause is attributed to defective furnace pipes.

Seek Board Rule for Wausau.

Wausau.—Advocates of the commission form of government have filed with the mayor a petition for a special election on the board rule issue. It is expected the election will be held in February.

Fruit Men to Meet at Bayfield.

Washburn.—The summer meeting of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society will be held at Bayfield during the latter part of July or early August.

Portrait Presented to Court.

Madison.—A portrait painting of the late Judge Romanzo Bunn, Judge of the federal court for the western district of Wisconsin from 1877 to 1895, has been presented to the court by the Bunn family.

Dynamite Destroyed Fish.

Appleton.—Between 3,000 and 5,000 pounds of fish stoned by the recent dynamiting of ice jams in the Fox river, have been removed from the stream near here.

THREE KILLED BY COAL GAS

Fumes from Stove Fatal to Aged Milwaukee Couple and Son—Neighbors Find Bodies.

Madison.—Three persons were asphyxiated by fumes escaping from a coal stove in their home at Bay View, and their bodies were not discovered until two days later.

The dead are: JOHN SCHULTZ, laborer, aged 73 years.

KATRINA SCHULTZ, his wife, aged 59 years.

WILLIAM BARTEL, an adopted son, aged 18 years.

The bodies were discovered by a party of neighbors who, alarmed at the non-appearance of the members of the family, broke into the house.

The first appearance of the bodies indicated that a crime had been committed. The froth escaping from the victims' mouths, was taken for gags by neighbors. It was known that Mrs. Schultz had a considerable amount of money home with her which would pay her taxes.

Mr. Schultz, an invalid, slept in a front room, and he was found as if asleep, with a glass of milk, on which he made his breakfast after his wife left for her work in the morning, standing beside him. The evidences were that he had died without a struggle.

Mrs. Schultz and the adopted son were found in their rooms adjoining the room in which the stove was kept. The boy was grasping a post of the bed, his position indicating that he had tried to struggle from his bed. The woman's position also indicated a struggle.

A NEW DIPHTHERIA SERUM

State Laboratory Proposes to Prevent Spread of the Disease by Convalescents.

Madison.—The newly discovered method of preventing the spread of diphtheria by persons convalescing from the disease is being introduced into Wisconsin by the hygienic laboratory of the University of Wisconsin, which is about to furnish physicians of the state the necessary germ cultures, free of charge.

The germ frequently persists for thirty to fifty days in persons apparently well, and these persons, while not sick themselves, can transmit the disease to those with whom they come in contact. Cases are on record where the germ has been found for more than a year after the person had recovered from diphtheria. These convalescent persons, together with those who are known as "diphtheria carriers," present a serious problem to the health officer. The uniform success of the germ culture treatment in the prevention of the spread of diphtheria, since its discovery two years ago, led Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the university hygienic laboratory to decide to furnish the cultures to physicians.

COMMISSION PLAN WINNER

Menomonee, City of 5,000 Population, Votes to Adopt Board Rule at Special Election.

Menomonee.—The commission form of government was adopted in a special election here by vote of 337 to 248. Mayor Mathews and business men generally favored the change, while many of the present officials, supported by the saloon element, opposed it. Menomonee, with population of about 5,000, is the smallest Wisconsin city thus far to adopt the new system.

Has Memorial Day Plan.

Madison.—How Wisconsin may lead in a nationwide movement to perpetuate Memorial day after the veteran organization are gone is suggested by Col. Duncan McGregor, private secretary to Gov. McGovern, in an article in the Memorial Day Annual for 1912, just issued. He proposes that a miniature Old Glory fastened with a common pin or clasped be worn as a badge, that the selection of the insignia be made by the national encampment of the G. A. R. at its next meeting and that the method of procuring and distributing badges be decided by the National Educational association.

Marrying Minister Dies.

Viroqua.—Rev. George Neuzuma, Methodist minister, is dead, aged 79. He had held 1,000 funerals and 1,000 weddings. He left ten children, two sons being ministers. The parents and children had never been together but once.

Fairs May Lose State Aid.

Madison.—Thirty of the seventy-six county fairs in Wisconsin have failed to file their reports of premiums paid. The time limit is Feb. 1, when, if reports are not in, they will be deprived of state aid.

Leads in Pure Grains.

Madison.—That Wisconsin grows more pure bred seed grain than any state in the union is shown by a list of persons in Wisconsin having pure bred seed grain for sale, being distributed by Prof. Moore of the college of agriculture.

Superior Man Appointed.

Madison.—The state tax commissioner has appointed G. A. Burbar, Superior, as income tax assessor in the Thirty-eighth district.

Kenosha Wins Stamp Award.

Kenosha.—Kenosha won the first award in the recent sale of Red Cross seals. The per capita sale was 5.62 seals for each resident of the city and the award is a vacuum cleaning outfit, to be installed in a school.

Awarded U. S. Paper Contract.

Wausau.—The G. A. Whiting Paper company has been awarded a contract to furnish the government printing office with a big portion of its paper the coming year.

WARNS AGAINST GLANDERS

Diseased Horses Being Shipped Into Wisconsin, Says State Veterinarian Ellason.

Madison.—"It has come to the notice of this department several times recently that unprincipled persons have knowingly shipped into this state horses affected with glanders," said State Veterinarian O. H. Ellason today.

"Attention should be called to the fact that all horses shipped into this state must be Mallein-tested for glanders. This can be done at the place of loading with much less trouble to all concerned, for if there are any reactors such animals would be paid for in the state wherein they were bought. If tested, in case of reaction there would necessarily be loss to the owner, as the state does not compensate for horses which apparently have contracted diseases in other states."

The motive for this ruling was primarily to avoid the imposition of unnecessary hardship on honest shippers.

$1,192,734 HERITAGE TAXES

State Received a Large Sum During 1911, Says Investigator Harrington's Report.

Madison.—The sum of $1,192,734.77 in inheritance taxes was paid into Wisconsin state treasury in 1911, as stated in the quarterly report of Inheritance Tax Investigator John Harrington. The report shows the following big taxes:

Estate of David Ranken, Jr., St. Louis, Mo., comprised in the sum of $25,000; Morris K. Jessup, New York, settled by payment of amount due, $14,243.89; Charles W. Allen, Kenosha, tax assessed at $142,097; Otto Ringling, Baraboo, tax assessed at $9,337.20; Irving M. Bean, Milwaukee, tax assessed at $9,117.97.

Gilbert E. Roe of New York, formerly a law partner of Senator La Follette, is making investigations in the east as to estates owing inheritance taxes to Wisconsin. In November and December he reported twenty-five such cases.

CASH ROAD TAX IS FAVORED

Nearly Half of Counties of State Have Adopted New System, Says Bulletin.

Madison.—About one-half of the counties of the state already have taken advantage of the law passed by the last legislature which enables county boards of supervisors to adopt the cash system of paying highway taxes. At recent county board meetings affirmative action on this proposition, according to the state highway commission, was taken by the following counties:

Ashland, Barron, Buffalo, Chippewa, Columbia, Dane, Douglas, Eau Claire, Florence, Grant, Green, Green Lake, Juneau, Kenosha, Lafayette, Lincoln, Marinette, Pierce, Portage, Price, Racine, Rock, Richland, Waupaca, Vernon, Trempealeau, Walworth, Waukesha, Waushara and Winnebago.

In a bulletin on the cash system just issued by the commission it is pointed out that the old system of working out the road taxes proves inefficient.

State Threshermen Meet.

Madison.—The Wisconsin Threshermen's association, at its annual meeting here elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, William Prisk, Monticello; vice president, Julius Betke, Neenah; secretary and treasurer, Peter Heiser, Thorp. Two hundred and ten threshermen attended the convention. The next convention will be held in Madison on the third Tuesday of next January.

Has Many Grandparents.

La Crosse.—The birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schweigert of La Crosse adds another generation to the family which now numbers five, and whose ages range from over 99 years to the infant just born. Mrs. Caroline Akerman of Etterick, the great, great grandmother of the child, who will be 100 years old in February, is the oldest person in La Crosse county.

Many Ask for Blue Books.

Madison.—Secretary of State Freat's mail is deluged daily with requests for copies of the 1912 Blue books. The legislature, however, allowed his office only one copy and others will be sent out by the superintendent of public property for a consideration not yet fixed.

Good Roads in Iowa County.

Dodgeville.—The good roads committee of Iowa county met and formed an elaborate system of good roads along all main thoroughfares in the county. Construction work will be begun this season.

Equity Headquarters at Wausau.

Wausau.—The national headquarters of the American Society of Equity has been moved from Indianapolis to Wausau, to be more centrally located in regard to membership.

Crushed by Paper Rolls.

Appleton.—Edward Voeks, aged 19, was killed in the Combined Locks Paper mill when he was caught and his entire body drawn through the winder rolls.

No Free Rides for Voters.

Madison.—Under the new corrupt practices act it is the unofficial construction that hired workers may not be employed at the polls. Nor may carriages, either "hired or lent," be used to take voters to the polls.

Wausau Enters W.-I. League.

Wausau.—A new baseball park near the heart of the city is to be provided for the local club, which has made a deal for Fond du Lac's berth in the W.-I. League.

News Notes of Wisconsin

Madison.—Wisconsin farmers are being warned against the use of frozenilage by J. L. Torrey of the college of agriculture. The unusual cold weather this winter has frozen the contents of almost every silo in the state and in some cases much trouble has resulted from feeding the silage to stock. Sheep usually take the silage more readily than cattle. No bad effects follow when the silage is thawed before being fed, says Mr. Torrey.

Madison.—Secretary of State Freat has asked for an opinion from the attorney general upon the right of a corporation to refile incorporation papers where there has been a defect in the original papers, without paying a new filing fee. The question arose when the M. H. Wiltzits Statuary company, Milwaukee, a proposed $150,000 corporation, informed the secretary of state that one of its incorporators was a minor and they desired to file new incorporation papers.

Madison.—University of Minnesota's football team will meet that of the University of Wisconsin on Nov. 2, according to an announcement made at Minneapolis. As a result of the protests made last fall from the Wisconsin game, there was considerable talk at the University of Minnesota that the team would not meet Wisconsin next fall, but the athletic authorities opposed the boycott.

Milwaukee.—At a meeting of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association here, it was decided to appeal to the United States supreme court the question of the constitutionality of the income tax law passed by the last Wisconsin legislature and which was declared constitutional by the state supreme court.

La Crosse.—With creamery butter selling at 45 cents a pound, Eugene Barrington of West Salem admitted in county court here that he had entered the West Salem Co-operative creamery for the purpose of stealing the product.

He was sentenced to a year in the state reformatory at Green Bay.

Randolph.—Thomas R. Roberts, aged 86 years, one of the pioneers of Dodge county, died today at the home of his nephew, R. F. Roberts. Except for the time he was in California during the gold rush in the '50s, he lived continuously on his farm, Elaan-Y-Cae, which he bought from the government and owned until his death.

Madison.—"The Wisconsin Idea" is the name of a new book written by Dr. Charles McCarthy, head of the Wisconsin reference library, dealing with the work of the 1911 session. The book deals with events rather than with men and contains about 200 pages. The introduction will be written by Theodore Roosevelt.

Madison.—Following a long conference with Gov. McGovern, Speaker C. A. Ingram said the situation at the Racine river is acute. He did not know whether or not the governor would call a special session of the legislature, but personally he believed the exigencies of the situation demand such action.

Menasha.—Cottage owners along Lake Winnebago suffered heavy loss as a result of the heavy freezeup. The concrete breaker was shoved inland nearly twenty feet by the force of the jam.

Racine.—All traffic on the Milwaukee road between Chicago and Milwaukee was tied up for several hours on account of a bad freight wreck just north of the Frankville station. The breaking of a brake rod piled up ten cars loaded with merchandise and tore up the track for about 100 feet. The damage is estimated at $10,000. No one was injured.

La Crosse.—The question of whether or not La Crosse will hold its interstate fair next September will be decided by the business men of the city. The total receipts last year were $32,639.

The CIVIL WAR

FIFTY YEARS AGO

THIS WEEK

January 28, 1862.

South Carolina, having developed that the Savannah river could be entered through a passage several miles above Fort Pulaski, and that the fort could in that way be cut off from the city, Captain C. H. Davis, U. S. N., and Captain C. P. R. Rodgers, U. S. N., started with an expedition of gunboats to accomplish the feat. Sailing the one up the Wilmington narrows on the east of the river, and the other up Wall's cut and Wright river on the west, they came out on opposite sides of the river to find themselves blocked by piles and shallows. While they were there Commander Tattall, C. S., sent gunboats conveying supply ships to the fort. There was a spirited engagement. Three of the Confederate boats reached the fort, discharged, and returned up river. The others turned back.

A petition from the people of Illinois, asking that slavery be not abolished in the District of Columbia, and praying for the expulsion of members of Congress who asked its abolition, was presented in the United States senate by Mr. Sausbury of Delaware.

A division of Union troops, under command of General Jeff C. Davis, left Versailles, Missouri, on a march for Springfield.

The War Department directed General McClellan to arrest General Stone, who commanded the Federal army in the Ball's bluff engagement, on charges too indefinite to be specified.

January 29, 1862.

Messrs. Mason and Sidell, the Confederate commissioners to England and France, respectively, who had been taken from the British steamer Trent by Captain Wilkes of the San Jacinto, and afterward released by the United States government, arrived in Southampton, England, after an adventurous voyage. The left Boston, where they had been detained in Fort Warren, on board the British S. S. Rinaldo, bound for Halifax. Owing to a heavy storm, the Rinaldo was unable to make Halifax, and put about for Bermuda, whence the commissioners were transferred to St. Thomas, where they boarded a West India packet. They were received at Southampton by the officers of the Confederate steamer Nashville and other gentlemen. No demonstration was made on their landing.

States, whenever in his judgment the public safety required it, declaring that any attempt to resist the unstrained use by government of such property, when so powerful to be suppressed by ordinary means, should be punishable by death, as a military offense, directing the president to appoint three commissioners to assess and determine the damages suffered by railroad or telegraph companies in consequence of such seizures, and planning the transportation of troops, munitions of war, etc., under the immediate control of the secretary of war or his agents. It was finally provided that the act should not be in force any longer than was necessary for the suppression of the rebellion.

Wm. H. Seward, secretary of state for the United States, directed the release from Fort Lafayette of all prisoners taken on board vessels that had violated the blockade.

Four men who were engaged in constructing a telegraph line through Kentucky for the use of the national forces were captured by a band of Confederates and taken south.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. NEWSPAPER READING MAKES FOR PROGRESS

JONAS JACKSON reads the newspapers. Artemas Stubbs does not. From this mere statement can you not form mental photographs of Jonas and Artemas?

WHICH WOULD YOU PICK FOR A WINNER?

If you were an employer, which would you hire? If a voter, which would you vote for?

TO SAY THAT A MAN READS THE NEWSPAPERS IS A RECOMMENDATION.

It proclaims that he is up to date; that he keeps in touch with what the world is thinking, saying and doing; that he has ideas, even if acquired ones; that he has at least a certain sort of culture and education; that he is alert and informed—in a word, that he keeps up with the procession.

The intelligence of a community may be judged from the amount of newspaper reading it does. America reads more newspapers than any other nation.

Who can measure the influence for progress that has been exerted by the American press? TAKE YOUR HOME PAPER.

A MILLION EYES FOR ITS READERS

HARDLY one person in a million realizes what the modern newspaper represents. The wireless, the cable, the telegraph, the telephone, the electric light, the railroad, the printing press, the typewriter, the linotype, the wood pulp machine and a hundred other agencies are called on by the newspaper.

IT IS TO THE WORLD WHAT THE SENSORY NERVES ARE TO THE BODY, BRINGING INTELLIGENCE OF WHAT HAPPENS IN EACH REMOTE NOOK AND CORNER.

Like the sensory nerves, too, it reports disturbance and pain more forcibly than ordinary happenings so that danger may be averted or correctives applied.

THE NEWSPAPER GIVES ITS READERS A MILLION EYES AND EARS, SO THAT THEY MAY SEE AND HEAR WHAT IS TAKING PLACE ALL OVER THE PLANET. ORDER THE HOME PAPER TODAY.

What Causes Your Sleeplessness?

Do you lay awake nights and roll and toss and get up in the morning tired, exhausted and irritable?

If you drink tea or coffee at night—that's the answer. Coffee and tea contain caffeine and their effect excites the nerves and makes sound, peaceful sleep impossible to many people.

Drink BOSANO before retiring and note the difference. BOSANO is a pure fruit product and contains no caffeine, then or anything but healthful food value that is so easily digested that it nourishes without effort or tax on the digestive system.

When you think of sleeplessness and a tired, nervous, exhausted and irritable condition—think of tea and coffee.

When you think of restful sleep and a vigorous, buoyant condition of mind and body—think of BOSANO.

BOSANO is easily and quickly made—boil one minute. You will find directions on the can.

BOSANO is economical—cost, one-third of one cent per cup. A 25-cent can makes 75 cups.

Ask your grocer for it today, or send us 2-cent stamp for sample—enough for the whole family.

We deliver BOSANO any place in the United States. It's easy to get—and good to have—keep a can on hand.

Drink BOSANO and enjoy natural sleep like that of your childhood days.

TOO LATE FOR LAST WEEK

On Tuesday January 23rd, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Cesathos united in Holy Bonds of matrimony Miss Meta Faber of the town of Wayne and John Jung of the town of Ashford. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ella Faber, as maid of honor, while Miss Minnie Jung, a sister of the groom was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by his brother, Henry Jung, as best man, while John Faber acted as groomsman. After the ceremony the bridal couple and a number of friends repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding supper was served. After supper the occasion was celebrated in a most elaborate manner.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Faber of the town of Wayne. She is a young lady of accomplished ways and is held in high esteem by all who know her. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip N. Jung of the town of Ashford. He is very well known and is a very industrious young man. The young couple will make their home in the town of Ashford, where the groom has a farm. May their path be strewn with roses, fair and flowery, to the end is the wish of their many friends here.

His Occupation.

SYNOPSIS.

Jack Keith, a Virginian, now a border platoon, is looking for roaming parties of savages. He sees a wagon team at full gallop pursued by men on ponies. When Keith reaches the wagon the raiders have massacred two men and departed. He searches the victims finding papers and a lock with a woman's portrait. Keith is arrested at Carson City, charged with the murder. He accuses being a ruffian named Black Bart. A negro companion in his cell named Hope tells him that he knew the Keiths in Virginia. Hope says one of the murdered men was John Whitey, the only son of Gen. Willie, formerly a Confederate officer. The platoon man and Hope escape, and later the fugitives come upon a cabin and find its occupant to be a young girl, whom Keith thinks he saw at Carson City. She explains that she is in search of a brother, who had deserted from the army, and that a Mr. Hawley induced her to come to the cabin while he sought her brother. Hawley appears and Keith in hiding recognizes him as Black Bart. There is a terrific battle in the darkened room in which Keith is victorious. He is disappointed when the girl who says that her name is Hope, joins in the fight. Keith explains his situation and the fugitives make for Fort Larned, where the girl is left with the hotel landlady. Miss Hope tells Keith she is the daughter of General Whitey. Keith and Hope drift into Fairbairn, where Keith meets an old friend, Dr. Fairbairn. Keith meets the brother of Hope Whitey, under the assumed name of Fred Willoughby, and becomes convinced that Black Bart has some plot involving the two. Hope learns that Gen. Whitey was thought murdered, in at Sheridan, and goes there, where she meets the man who she believes to be the man who she thought murdered. The platoon man tells Hope Whitey of her resemblance to Christie MacLaire. They decide that Fred Willoughby holds the key to the situation. Keith finds Willoughby shot dead. Keith falls to learn what representations Black Bart has made to Christie MacLaire.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Miss Hope Suggests.

No sooner had Miss MacLaire vanished than Keith's thoughts turned toward Hope Whitey. She would meet someone in her loneliness to take her mind from off her brother's death, and besides, much had occurred of interest since the funeral, which he desired to talk over with her. Beyond even these considerations he was becoming aware of a pleasure in the girl's company altogether foreign to this mystery which they were endeavoring together to solve. He yearned to be with her, to look into her face, to mark how clearly the differing soul changed her from Christie MacLaire. He could not help but like the latter, yet somehow was conscious of totally different atmospheres surrounding the two. With one he could be flippant, careless, even deceitful, but the other would be sincere. He yearned to be with her, to look into her face, to mark how clearly the differing soul changed her from Christie MacLaire. He could not help but like the latter, yet somehow was conscious of totally different atmospheres surrounding the two. With one he could be flippant, careless, even deceitful, but the other would be sincere.

Yet there was reluctance in his steps as he approached the door of "15," a laggardness he could not explain, but which vanished swiftly enough at Hope's greeting, and the sudden smile with which she recognized him.

"I was sure you would come," she declared frankly, "and I took an early lunch so as to be certain and be here. It has seemed a long time since."

"And you might have even thought I had forgotten," he answered, releasing her hand reluctantly, "if you could have looked into the dining-room since, instead of staring out of these windows."

"Why? How forgotten?" her eyes opening wide in surprise.

"I had the pleasure of taking supper with Miss MacLaire."

"Oh!" the exclamation decidedly expressive.

"Yes, I come at once to you with the confession. However, our meeting was purely accidental, and so I hope for pardon."

"Pardon from me? Why, what difference can it possibly make to me?"

"Would you have me consort with the enemy?" he asked, scarcely daring to press his deeper meaning.

"Oh, no, of course not. What did you talk about? Do you mind telling?"

"Not in the least; our conversation was entirely impersonal. She was telling me about Hawley; what a wonderfully good man he is. I have begun to suspect that he is a good looking devil, possessed of a tongue dripping with honey."

"Surely you do not mean she has fallen in love with him, and Hope shuddered at the thought. "Why—why that would be impossible for a good woman."

"Standards of morality are not always the same," he defended gravely. "Miss MacLaire's environment has been vastly different from yours, Hope. She is a variety hall singer; probably, from her own account, a waltz since childhood; and Hawley has come to her in the character of a friend appealing both to her interest and sympathy. I do not know she is in love with him. I merely suspect she may be; certainly she is ready to do battle on his behalf at the slightest opportunity. She believes in him, defends him, and resents the slightest insinuation directed against him. He even escorts her back and forth from her work."

"You know this?"

"I certainly do," and he laughed at the recollection. "Fairbairn met us coming out of the dining-room—you know what a delightful, blunt, blundering fellow he is! Well, Miss Christie must have made an impression even on his bachelor heart, for he actually requested the privilege of escorting her to the Trocadero, and back to his hotel after the performance to-night—bested at a lunch, the gay old dog, and pranced about like a stage-door Johnnie. It was a treat to watch her face when he blurted it all out, snapping his sentences as if he swung a whip-lash. She excused herself on the score of a previous engagement."

"But that was not necessarily with Hawley."

"Don't You Think I Could Do It? Would It Be Unwomanly?"

"I asked her directly, after the doctor had disappeared."

"You must have become very familiar," questioning once again in her voice.

"So Miss MacLaire evidently thought, judging from her manner. However she answered frankly enough, and even defiantly added the information that the gentleman had something to impart to her of the utmost importance, sarcastically asking me if I didn't wish I could be there and overhear. But sit down, Hope, until I tell you all that has occurred."

He went over the various events in detail, watching eagerly the expression upon her face as she listened intently, only occasionally interrupting with some pertinent inquiry. The light fell so that she sat partially in the shadow, where her eyes could not be read, yet he experienced no difficulty in comprehending the various moods with which she met his narrative, the color changing in her cheeks, her supple form bending toward him, or leaning backward in the chair, her fingers clasping or unclasping in nervous attention. He began with his report, repeating, word by word, as nearly as he could recollect, what had passed between Hawley and her father. He paused to inquire if she had ever heard the name Bartlett, but her reply was merely a negative shake of the head. When he described their missing the train, she was, apparently, not convinced as to the General's departure upon it, although finally agreeing that, if he really believed the report that the man sought was elsewhere, it would be characteristic of him to accept the first means of getting there. "If he only knew I was here," she exclaimed wearily, "it might be so different, but, oh, we are all of us just groping in the dark."

Then Keith turned to his chance meeting with Miss MacLaire, and repeated carefully their conversation, dwelling particularly upon the few admissions which had slipped through her lips. These did not seem important to either, although they treasured them up and talked them over. Then, having exhausted the topic, silence fell between them, Keith smoking the privilege of lighting a cigar. Hope, after watching him apply the match, thinking what a fine face he had as the ruddy flame brought it forth with the clearness of a cameo, leaned back, drawing aside the semblance to a lace curtain, and staring forth, without seeing, into the street.

Somewhat, it was hard for her to fully realize the situation, and how closely it affected her. The swiftly passing events, the complication arising so suddenly, apparently out of nothing, left her feeling as though she must surely awake from a dream. She could not comprehend what it was all about; the names Bartlett and Phyllis had no clear meaning, they represented nothing but shadows; and this other woman—this music hall singer—what could there be in common between them? Yet there must be something—something of vital importance to her father—something which had already cost her brother's life. That was the one thing which made it seem an actuality—which brought it home to her as a rugged fact. But for that—and Keith—Keith sitting there before her—she would have doubted it all. And yet even Keith had come into her life so suddenly, so unexpectedly, as to leave her dazed and uncertain, that she extended her hand and touched him, though to make sure of his actual presence.

"What is it, Hope?"

Going Back to Paganism

Orthodox Priests Claim That in Some Parts of Russia Churches Are Empty.

According to official statistics published by the ministry of the interior, large numbers of the peasantry in the governments of Perm, Uja and Viatka have fallen into a state of paganism, worshipping the ancient gods, Flor and Lavra. There are now 20,000 idolaters in Viatka, 4,000 in Perm and 11,000 in Uja.

Local officials say that the worship of Flor and Lavra had never totally disappeared from these districts, but assumed alarming proportions after the bad harvests of the past three years. The pagan priests who still lingered in remote districts carried on active propaganda among the peasantry, telling them that Flor and Lavra sent bad harvests as a sign of anger.

The consequence was that many thousands of peasants ceased to attend the churches, took to sacrificing cattle to Lavra and Flor instead of attending services in forest groves consecrated to these gods. The police are trying to put a stop to the movement, but without avail, as the large forest shelter the idolaters.

The ministry has sent Dr. Kuznetsov of the Moscow Archaeological institute to study the movement. The orthodox priests complain that many of their churches are standing quite empty, while in some cases the peasants force them to hang in their churches the hides of cattle which have been sacrificed to Flor and Lavra.

A Weird Declaration.

"That's a wonderful danger shriek you have on your car," said Mr. Shriggins.

"Yes," replied the motor fiend.

"That's the latest improvement. It makes a shriek that paralyzes the pedestrian with fear and makes him much easier to hit."

Old Custom Brings Trouble

Young Men Try to Force Entrance to Young Girl's Home and Are Shot.

Four young men have been shot at Vex (Valais) by an irate father to whose daughter they had come to pay court. They were refused admission to the house and when they tried to force their way in the father took down his gun and fired. Two of them were slightly wounded and the other two seriously. The father was arrested.

The encounter and its almost tragic ending were due to an ancient custom which prevails in the villages of the canton of Valais and in the Alpine hamlets of the German cantons. After a girl has reached the age of eighteen her parents are not surprised to receive the visit of several young men during the day's work to ask to see their daughter and pass a pleasant evening in the family circle. The visit is looked on as a compliment, and as the young men bring with them wines and food they are generally welcomed by the parents. The custom, which is known as the "vellee," results in introductions and often in marriages.

The Might of One Man.

The dwellers in Kensington's most charming and Old World square can now sleep of nights without fear that the too enterprising "flat" builders will encroach on the green turf and greener trees of Edwardes Square and turn it into a wilderness of bricks and mortar. For—and this is where the Edwardes Squareites score—there still exists the old charter, which provides that so long as there is a male resident in the square the property must be left intact. This is a great joy to the dwellers thereon, many of whom have promptly proceeded to become absolute owners of their houses—Lad's Pictorial.

BEST WAY OF USING SOAP

In Solution It Is Better Than as Commonly Used—Proper Method of Starching.

Soap solution is the best way of using soap for laundry purposes. This is a good and well tried solution: A bar of ordinary laundry soap may be cut up and dissolved in three or four quarts of hot water. This may be used at once while hot or may be kept in glass jars until needed.

White clothes may be boiled. Bring slowly to boiling point with boiler half full of clothes.

If clothes appear yellow, use a little kerosene or paraffin. The yellow tinge can be obliterated by use of white soap.

The question of starching is a complex one. Perhaps the following will assist the inquirer: Mix starch with a small quantity of cold water to a creamy consistency, add a little more cold water, and then the desired amount of absolutely boiling water, stirring constantly. Put the starch over the fire and boil it for several minutes to insure complete cooking, and stir it all the time it is cooking. Cool or dilute for use. If oil, borax, or wax be used, they should be cooked with the starch, but bluing is added later. The proportions for cooked starch are one measure of starch to eight of boiling water, for thick starch, and one measurement of starch to sixteen of boiling water, for thin starch.

Uncooked or partly cooked starch will stick and make trouble for the ironer. (Irons must always be hot for starched clothes.) The amount of starch needed is regulated by the number of clothes to be starched. Starch can be made thinner by adding water, and it always grows thinner with use. Starched clothes must never be stiff enough to rattle.—Good Housekeeping Magazine.

All Around the House

To take the smell of fish from hands wash them in water which contains a few drops of ammonia.

If you get too much salt into your tomato soup, add a bit of brown sugar. It seems to make salty soup taste all right. But better still is to add a few slices of raw potato.

To mend linen tablecloths, remove the presser foot from your machine. Insert the place to be darned under it and stitch back and forth. It is much quicker and neater than when done by hand.

The best way to slunge the hairs and pin feathers from a fowl is to put it in a pan and pour alcohol over it and shake it up. This will loosen the blazes remove hairs and pin feathers without injuring the flesh.

Instead of frying mackerel in a spider place it in a baking pan on a piece of old cotton cloth or thick brown paper. Sprinkle over a little salt and add several pieces of salt pork or butter, if preferred. Bake in a hot oven.

If colored cottons are washed in bran or starch water instead of soap suds they will keep their color. If bran is used put it in a bag of loosely woven cheesecloth—a handful of either is enough for a small tub of water.

Beef Smothered.

Use four pounds of beef, or other thick roasting piece. Rear quickly on a hot frying pan or in a very hot oven. Put into a stew kettle with one and one-half cups of boiling water. Cover closely and put where it will just boil. Watch that the water does not boil away or the meat will burn. Cook until tender, probably about three hours. Add salt 15 minutes before taking up. Remove the meat carefully to a hot platter. Add more water to the gravy, if necessary, and thicken with one tablespoon flour smothered in butter. Serve the gravy in a boat.

Baked Quinces.

Pare and quarter; extract seeds and stew the fruit in clear water until a straw will pierce them; put them in a baking dish with half a cupful of sugar to every eight quinces; pour over them the liquor in which they were boiled, cover closely and steam in the oven one hour. Take out the quinces, lay them in a covered bowl to keep warm, return the syrup to the saucepan and boil 20 minutes, pour over the quinces and set away, covered, to cool. Eat cold.

Delicious White Cake.

Put into a mixing bowl one cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups sifted flour into which has been sifted one rounding teaspoon baking powder. Then into a cup put the whites of two eggs and fill the cup half full of butter, and then fill it full of sweet milk, the three ingredients making a cupful. Add a little flavoring. Now put all into the bowl and beat five minutes.

Universal Pudding.

Stone and cut fine one pound dates, mix one cup sour milk, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one-quarter teaspoon salt, butter (two good teaspoons, after it is melted), one teaspoon soda and two cups graham flour; mix all thoroughly, adding the dates, steam one and one-half hours and put in oven for ten minutes. Serve with hard sugar sauce.

Simple Charlotte Russe.

Take dry sponge cake or, better still, some lady fingers, place in dish, whip a half-pint of cream until stiff, flavor with teaspoon (small one) vanilla and pile on the lady fingers (or cake) in a glass dish.

If you have any currant or grape jelly, drop a little on each one's portion when served.

Mocha Filling.

Wash the salt out of two-thirds of cup of butter, then cream with two cups powdered sugar until light and fluffy; add well beaten yolks of two eggs; one teaspoonful vanilla and third cup of strong coffee. Little by little. Strain coffee; then beat all together vigorously.

BURN BUILDING TO KILL GERM

Only Way to Get Rid of Them, and Occasion Was Made a Good Object Lesson.

A ramshackle building in Winston-Salem was recently burned at the request of the local Anti-Tuberculosis league, because it was said to be alive with tuberculosis germs and could not be properly fumigated.

For days before the building was burned huge placards announcing the hour of destruction and giving reasons for the burning were hung about in prominent places. Among other things the placards said: "Within the past 15 months two men who sold fruit, etc., here have died of labor colic, but unconsciously left millions of tuberculosis germs by careless spitting. The building is so open that it cannot be effectively fumigated. The only practical means of disinfecting is by fire."

At the appointed hour, while millions of tuberculosis germs were being burned, 5,000 pamphlets telling how to prevent consumption, were distributed to the crowd looking on.

Superstitious Walter.

A man dining at a cafe observed that though he had ordered one dozen oysters, he was served with only eleven. The next evening the same thing occurred again. Then the diner became somewhat irritated.

"Why," he demanded of the waiter, "do you serve me only eleven oysters when I order a dozen?"

The waiter bowed apologetically. "I didn't think you'd wanting to be sitting thirteen at table, sir."

Who the Heathen Be.

Father Bernard Vaughan was condemning a somewhat acrimonious religious argument.

"Disputes of this kind," he said, "remind me forcibly of a little girl."

"What are the heathen, Jenny?" her Sunday school teacher asked this little girl.

"The heathen," the child replied, "are people who don't quarrel over religion."

THESE SIX LETTERS From New England Women

Prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Does Restore the Health of Ailing Women.

Boston, Mass.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from hemorrhages (sometimes lasting for weeks), and could get nothing to check them. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (tablets form) on Tuesday, and the following Saturday morning the hemorrhages stopped. I have taken them regularly ever since and am steadily gaining."

"I certainly think that every one who is troubled as I was should give your Compound Tablets a faithful trial, and they will find relief."—Mrs. GEORGE JURY, 802 Fifth Street, South Boston, Mass.

Letter from Mrs. Julia King, Phoenix, R.I.

Phoenix, R.I.—"I worked steady in the mill from the time I was 12 years old until I had been married a year, and I think that caused my bad feelings. I had soreness in my side near my left hip that went around to my back, and sometimes I would have to lie in bed for two or three days. I was not able to do my housework."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me wonderfully in every way. You may use my letter for the good of others. I am only too glad to do anything within my power to recommend your medicine."—Mrs. JULIA KING, Box 282, Phoenix, R.I.

Letter from Mrs. Etta Donovan, Willimantic, Conn.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk up stairs without stopping on the way. I was all run down in every way."

"I tried three doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said it was no use for me to take anything as nothing would restore me to health again. So I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and by taking seven bottles of the Compound and other treatment you advised, I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, 762 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.

Letter from Mrs. Winfield Dana, Augusta, Me.

Augusta, Me.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured the backache, headache, and the bad pain I had in my right side, and I am perfectly well."—Mrs. WINFIELD DANA, R.F.D. No. 2, Augusta, Me.

Letter from Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Newport, Vt.

Newport, Vt.—"I thank you for the best benefit Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I took eight bottles and it did wonders for me, as I was a nervous wreck when I began taking it. I shall always speak a good word for it to my friends."—Mrs. JOHN A. THOMPSON, Box 3, Newport Center, Vermont.

Letter from Miss Grace Dodds, Bethlehem, N.H.

Bethlehem, N.H.—"By working very hard, sweeping carpets, washing, ironing, lifting heavy baskets of clothes, etc., I got all run down. I was sick in bed every month."

"This last Spring my mother got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and already I feel like another girl. I am regular and do not have the pains that I did, and do not have to go to bed. I will tell all my friends what the Compound is doing for me."—Miss GRACE E. DODDS, Box 133, Bethlehem, N.H.

For 30 Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does just the same as already I feel like another girl. I am regular and do not have the pains that I did, and do not have to go to bed. I will tell all my friends what the Compound is doing for me."—Miss GRACE E. DODDS, Box 133, Bethlehem, N.H.

BIG DIFFERENCE.

First Passenger (in street car)—I wish you'd get off at the next corner.
Second Passenger—Off the car?
First Passenger—No; off my foot.

Vest Pocket Telephones.
They are introducing vest pocket telephones in some of the cities of Germany. Connections are placed on walls all over town and if you happen to walk along the street and you're in a hurry to tell your wife that you will bring a friend home for dinner all you have to do is to connect your pocket instrument with the one on the wall, call the exchange, get your party and talk to your heart's content.

No Credit Even for That.
"I am glad to say," remarked Mr. Seektion, "that I never spoke a hasty word to you."
"No, Leonidas," answered his wife, rather gently. "I'm willing to give you credit for not burring about anything."—Stray Stories.

Specialization.
Specialization means the ability to focus all of your energies on one thing.—The Fra.

GRAND TO LIVE

And the Last Laugh is Always the Best
"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman, "now I laugh to know there is."

"Since childhood I drank coffee freely as did the other members of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down till last winter, at the age of 38, I seemed to be on the verge of consumption."

"My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting."

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged."

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly, it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change."

"I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled."

"The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong."

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change and when they enquire what brought it about I answer 'Postum, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LUNCH AND DESSERT

GOOD THINGS THAT TAKE LITTLE TIME IN PREPARATION.

Chicken Cream and Women's Club Sandwiches Are Two Delicacies—With the Afternoon Cocoa Serve Fairy Puffs.

Chicken Cream Sandwiches—Clop a cup of white meat and a cup of celery, add a cup of rich milk, bring to the boiling point and thicken with cornstarch. When thick, add the beaten whites of two eggs, two tablespoons of butter, salt, pepper and lemon juice to taste. Turn into a mold and place on ice twelve hours. Slice thin and serve between thin slices of buttered bread.

Women's Club Sandwiches—Crush cream cheese and moisten with fresh rich cream until the right consistency to spread. Add one-fourth the quantity of finely chopped olives, season with salt and paprika. Spread on sandwich bread, cover with cress, then with another slice of bread.

Celery Stuffed With Cheese (to be served with sandwiches)—Select tender, well-balanced stalks, cut into neat lengths of about three inches, leaving on the small blanched leaves. Work three tablespoons of butter to a cream, and add a tablespoon and a half of highly flavored cheese—Roquefort is excellent. Season with salt and a sprinkling of cayenne and paprika. Spread the mixture on the inside of the celery stalks. Serve on a bed of crushed ice.

Afternoon Cocoa—Scald a quart of milk in a double boiler. Mix three tablespoons of cocoa with one-fourth cup sugar, add enough boiling water to make it smooth, add another cup of hot water, and let boil one minute before adding to the milk. Beat briskly with a whisk when all is in the boiler, to prevent unsightly scum from rising. When ready to pour add a teaspoon of vanilla or almond extract. If it is for a company affair a teaspoon of beaten egg white may be placed on each cup of the cocoa.

Episcurean Dressing for Any Sort of Salad—Mix these dry ingredients first: One-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, one tablespoon of chopped sweet red pepper, one tablespoon finely minced parsley. Now add two tablespoons tarragon or malt vinegar, four tablespoons salad or olive oil, and blend well.

Fairy puffs are nice to serve with hot cocoa or coffee. They must be used the day they are fried. Put three tablespoons of butter into a pint of hot water. When boiling, quickly stir in a half pint of pastry flour. Take from the fire and break in one egg, beat well, then add another egg, and so continue until four eggs have been used. Drop the pastry into boiling fat from the point of a spoon. They will puff beautifully and turn a golden brown. Drain and sprinkle with cinnamon and powdered sugar. This same recipe makes the most delicious cream puffs, but they must be baked on oiled paper in a slow oven instead of being fried.

Cream of Celery Soup.
Wash a bunch of celery and cut into inch lengths. If you wish you may use for this the outer stalks of a large bunch of celery, keeping the white, crisp pieces for use on the table, uncooked. Cook the celery slowly in enough boiling salted water to cover it for three-quarters of an hour, or until it is tender; rub it through a colander. Have ready a quart of milk, heated and thickened, and proceed as directed for cream of spinach soup.

Orange Shortcake.
One quart of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cup butter, one-half pint of sweet milk. Take half of this and roll half an inch thick, place in a dripping pan and spread with butter, then roll the other half and put on top of the first. Bake in hot oven. Peel, seed and slice thin eight oranges, add enough sugar to make sweet, place these between the cake as soon as it is taken from the oven and serve at once.

Rose Wafers.
Add gradually two cups of granulated sugar to one cup of butter; dissolve half a teaspoon of soda in half pint of sweet milk; add one teaspoon of rosewater and a few drops of cochineal; then add gradually one quart of sifted pastry flour. Turn large pans upside down, wipe the bottom clean, brush them over with butter and put mixture in a moderate oven. While still hot cut them into squares and lift them off the pan carefully.

Old-Fashioned Bean Soup.
Put in soak overnight one pint of white beans. Next day put on to boil a piece of lean beef, a soup bone with a bit of meat on it is best, and a piece of fat pork about three inches square. Turn in the beans, water and all. Put in a little pepper and salt and a bit of sliced onion. Cook at least four hours. At the proper time, so as to be thoroughly cooked at serving time, put in a few carrots, potatoes and sliced turnips. Old-fashioned, but delicious.

Prune Pudding.
It melts in your mouth and is a real novelty. One cup cooked prunes, unswetened and chopped fine; one cup sugar; one cup chopped nuts; one-half cup milk; one tablespoon butter; one teaspoonful baking powder; three crackers rolled fine; one pinch salt; one teaspoonful vanilla. Bake in a buttered pan for about twenty minutes. Have oven at moderate heat. Serve hot.

Brightens the Carpet.
A teaspoonful of spirits of turpentine added to two gallons of warm water will restore the brightness to carpets that are dulled with dust. After sweeping the carpet thoroughly, wring a cloth out of the water and wipe the surface of the carpet, first against the grain and then with it.

This also prevents moths from eating in any the nap of woollen carpets.

NEWEST IDEAS IN NECKWEAR

White Net in Combination With Other Materials Is a Touch Sent Over Here from Paris.

White net is most favored of the materials in a display of newly imported neckwear from Paris. Plain, plaited or embroidered, it looks dainty and fresh and it is combined with any and all of the other materials. A favored device is an edging of perfectly plain lawn around a collar, a fichu or jabot of the net, while more pretentious articles edge the plain net with figured net or lace of a fine and neat pattern.

One real novelty is a combination collar and jabot. The collar is the regulation sort turned down affair of embroidered linen handkerchief linen, and from each side of it hangs half a jabot—not a side frill but a real jabot shape. The two halves differ in fabric and design, one being of the handkerchief linen with solid embroidery and the other consisting largely of lace insertions. These just meet down the center of the front of the bodice.

A large fichu of white net has its fronts delicately embroidered in a sprawling flower design and has a narrow edging of figured net.

WITH THE SLEEVELESS WAIST

Contrasting Fabrics Frequently Employed—One of the Newest Ideas Is the Close-Fitting.

A good many sleeveless waists of more or less jacket appearance are being used with sleeves which contrast in fabric. Lace sleeves with satin and wool gowns are more usual than anything else, and if the lace sleeves are long they are close-fitting and extend well on to the back of the band. If they are short, they often have a slight flare, which has occasionally been helped out by a fine wire. Double and triple sleeves, in which all a fabrics introduced into the costume have a part, are numerous.

One of the newest sleeves is long and very close-fitting, with a slash from the shoulder to deep cuff depth, where a row of buttons makes a finish to the band. The slash is filled in.

TAKING CARE OF JEWELRY

Should Always Be Cleaned at Regular Intervals—Best Methods of Proceeding.

Provide yourself with an old toothbrush and a soft brush such as jeweler's use, a bottle of grain alcohol and a box of jeweler's sawdust. You will also need a soft cloth, a piece of plain camos thoroughly impregnated with rouge powder. A few additional small bits of camos are also necessary for polishing. Then provide two dishes of lukewarm suds, made with fine white soap, and your outfit is complete.

First work on your plain, bright gold jewelry or other material, which requires a high polish. Rub gently but thoroughly with the rouge camos until you bring it up to a brilliant polish. Next select the gold articles, which look most difficult to you, put them in the suds and scour thoroughly with the toothbrush. Practically all the dirt should come off in this process.

DURBAR CAP

This Durbar cap is copied from the ones worn by the Indian princes. It is of dull red velvet interlaced with jeweled gold ribbon and has a gold tassel in front, holding a white osprey.

Caesar—Better first in the village than second in Rome.

When completed, rinse in a second suds to clean still better. Then dip in alcohol and give a further brushing. Then dry carefully on a soft cloth and drop into the sawdust and rub about until they show a bright luster. With the jeweler's brush remove every particle of sawdust and give the articles the degree of polish they ought to have, using the soft brush and the plain camos for this purpose. The rouge camos is the highest polisher, but it can be used only before an article has been washed, because it leaves rouge powder on the jewelry.

All precious stones, except the pearl, will be beautiful after such a cleaning, nor will it dim the brilliancy of semi-precious stones, or even of common glass imitations. It will enhance their brilliancy.

Silver jewelry that looks black will come out of this process with a fine white luster and gold will be returned to its original richness. Sterling silver jewelry can also be cleaned with remarkable ease by boiling in sal soda water.

NOT ALTOGETHER HIS FAULT

Verdict Brought In by Jury Certainly Was Not Flattering to the Accused.

A Wheeling (W. Va.) lawyer says that he has heard many queer verdicts in his time, but the quaintest of these was that brought in not long ago by a jury of mountaineers in a sparsely settled part of that state.

This was the first case for the majority of the jury, and they sat for hours arguing and disputing over it in the bare little room at the rear of the court room. At last they straggled back to their places, and the foreman, a lean, gaunt fellow, with a superlatively solemn expression, voiced the general opinion:

"The jury don't think that he done it, for we allow he wa'n't there, but we think he would have done it if he had had the chanst."—Harper's Magazine.

BABY'S HAIR ALL CAME OUT

"When my first baby was six months old he broke out on his head with little bumps. They would dry up and leave a scale. Then it would break out again and it spread all over his head. All the hair came out and his head was scaly all over. Then his face broke out all over in red bumps and it kept spreading until it was on his hands and arms. I bought several boxes of ointment, gave him blood medicine, and had two doctors to treat him, but he got worse all the time. He had it about six months when a friend told me about Cuticura. I sent and got a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. In three days after using them he began to improve. He began to take long naps and to stop scratching his head. After taking two bottles of Resolvent, two boxes of Ointment and three cakes of Soap he was sound and well, and never had any breaking out of any kind. His hair came out in little curls all over his head. I don't think anything else would have cured him except Cuticura."

"I have bought Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap several times since to use for cuts and sores and have never known them to fail to cure what I put them on. Cuticura Soap is the best that I have ever used for toilet purposes." (Signed) Mrs. P. E. Harmon, R. F. D. 2, A. J. Tenn., Sept. 10, 1910. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston.

May Be Plans of Famous Ship.
Great interest has been aroused in Australia of the discovery of some old ships' plans, believed to be those of the barque Endeavor in which Captain Cook discovered Australia, which are now in the possession of the Australasian Pioneer's club. The plans have apparently been in Sydney for a long time. They belong to Mr. Cummings, a blacksmith, who received them and other charts and diagrams from a Mr. Korff, a naval contractor, said to be descended from a shipwright who sailed with Captain Cook.

Physical Sympathy Wanted.

Marriage separates a bachelor from a lot of illusions.

Indian Sacred Buildings.

The rock-hewn temples of Elephanta, in Bombay harbor, which were visited recently by the king and queen numbered six, and four of them are nearly complete. They date from the eighth century A. D. or somewhat later. The Great Cave, 250 feet above high-water mark, belongs to a class of sacred buildings very common in India. It is a Siva temple, fully 130 feet long, the main body being a square of about 90 feet, hewn from the rock so as to present three open sides, and supported by six rows of stone columns.

Dubious Compliment.
Tom Purdie, an old man-servant in Sir Walter Scott's household, used to talk of the famous "Waverley Novels" as "our books," and said that the reading of them was the greatest comfort to him.

"Whenever I am off my sleep," he confided to Mr. James Skene, the author of "Memoirs of Sir Walter Scott," "I have only to take one of the novels, and before I have read two pages it is sure to send me asleep."

A DEADLY CONTEST.

Tragic Climax of a Bicycle Race in Australia.

One of the most singular events in the annals of athletics occurred a few years ago at Sydney, Australia. The occasion was a great electric light bicycle race, and the attendance was not less than 10,000 people. There were fifty entries, two of whom, James Somerville and Percy Cliff, were not only professional rivals, but deadly enemies. Both were considered expert riders.

From the start of the race Somerville led, with Cliff a close second. Somerville kept the lead throughout and came into the last lap with Cliff only a few feet behind him. When about twenty-five yards from the finish Somerville put on a terrific burst of speed and drew away from his rival. Suddenly at this point his grip on the handle bar relaxed, and he fell forward. The machine, however, under the tremendous impulse it had received, raced ahead like an arrow, the rider hanging limply over the handle bar.

Four yards from the tape the machine slowed down a little. At this point the front wheel of Cliff's machine struck the hind wheel of Somerville's, sending both wheel and rider across the tape. Somerville won the race, but he was dead several seconds before he crossed the tape.—Chicago Record-Herald.

ANCIENT DOCTORS.

Some of the Things They Knew Twelve Hundred Years Ago.

The Russian Academy of Medicine after examining a Tibetan "Handbook of Medicine," first published 1,200 years ago, acknowledges that it contains many truths discovered or rediscovered by modern physicians. Here are some extracts from the ancient volume:

"Number of bones in the human body, 300; number of nerves, 99; number of pores, 11,000,000.

"The heart is the king of the organs and the staff of life. The lungs embrace it as a mother does her child. Sicknesses are due to man's malice, ignorance and inability to curb the passions, for these things interfere with the proper nourishment of the human organs. All unkind thoughts react upon the heart and liver."

The methods for ascertaining the state of a person's health were very similar to those methods employed today—looking at the tongue, feeling the pulse, etc. Vegetable medicines are advocated; also baths, compresses, massage, bloodletting, etc. Fines were imposed upon physicians who did not keep their instruments clean.

A Fearless Prince.

Victor Emmanuel when prince royal held the rank of colonel in a regiment of artillery, and Humbert I. was on the throne. A new explosive had been invented, and the young prince was invited to be present at some experiments that were to be made with it. At the first shot the cannon being used burst with terrific force, scattering pieces of metal in every direction, but luckily not seriously injuring any one. Nevertheless the natural impulse to fly from danger seized officers and experts alike, and off they rushed with more unanimity than dignity. Only Victor Emmanuel remained at his post. He watched them for a moment and then, in a quiet tone of kindly tenor, called them back.

"No use running now," he said, with a ghost of a smile playing about his lips. "All danger is over."

Pat Names.

Every one likes to see husband and wife on affectionate terms, but Snaggsby, the toyshop keeper, rather overdid the thing. Little Johnny Biggs had sixpence, and he had bought a toy, but little Johnny's fancy is wayward, and he discovered that a clockwork railway engine was poor fun compared with a horse and cart, after all. Therefore he went to change the railway engine. "You say you bought this here yesterday?" said Snaggsby dubiously. "Who served you?" "The 'goosey gander, sir'" said Johnny, pointing to Mrs. S. And when Snaggsby remembered that he had so addressed his wife in the presence of the boy on the day previous he flushed a pretty pink and changed the toy.—London Sphere.

The Sight of the Pigeon.

A friend of mine ridicules the idea that in the carrier pigeon it can be slight which guides it on its homeward trail. But my friend should really study the mechanism of the eye of the bird before he sneezes. I am sure that from heights at which it is itself invisible the falcon can note its prey, and its eye is simply a self-adjusting telescope. The careful dissection of the eye of the bird of prey is an absolute revelation as to creative ingenuity.—Dr. Dabbs in Fry's London Magazine.

Dean Swift's Retort.

A young advocate said to Dean Swift, "Supposing, doctor, that the parsons and the devil should litigate a cause, which party would you think would gain it?" "The devil, no doubt," was the dean's reply, "as he would have all the lawyers on his side."

The Aristocrats.

"Are there degrees of rank in the servants' hall?"

"To be sure. Maids who have charge of dogs won't associate with maids who look after children."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Honesty is the best policy, although it may have the deferred dividend clause attachment.—Judge.

Enlarging the Limit.

"You are very foolish, Alfred. That is your third cigar, and you know the doctor limited you to one a day."

"Yes, dear, but I've consulted two other doctors, and each has allowed me one cigar a day; total, three!"

Every person has two educations—one which he receives from others and one more important, which he gives himself.—Gibbo.

LOOK HERE MR. FEEDER

The Greatest Offer Ever Made to Stock Feeders
Dr. Hess Stock Food on 3 Months Trial

From the manufacturer's written guarantee and the unflinching praise it is receiving from our customers we are doubly sure that it is, without a single exception, the best Stock Food or tonic ever produced and at a price that you can afford to feed it regularly.

Now here is our proposition: We will supply you with sufficient Dr. Hess Stock Food to feed your animals twice a day for three months; we will supply you with 25 lbs. or one ton, then if at the end of three months you are not absolutely sure that it has paid you to feed Dr. Hess Stock Food, that is, if your animals for market have not been more thrifty, your other stock in better state of health, return to us the empty package and we will refund every cent you have paid to us.

Here are the prices: 500 lbs. for $25.00, or 100 lbs. at the same rate $5.00, or 25 lb. pail at $1.60. There is not a farmer or feeder in this community that can afford to miss this liberal proposition.

Mark you, you are to be the judge and jury.
