HOUSE PASSES BILL

SEVENTY-NINE REPUBLICANS JOIN DEMOCRATS IN PUTTING INCOME TAX THROUGH.

SENATE MAY DEFEAT IT

Measure Extends Existing Corporation Tax Law to Include One Per Cent. on Yearly Net Income in Excess of $5,000.

Washington.—The Democratic income tax bill passed the house unopposed by a vote of 249 to 41. The bill was supported by 170 Democrats and 79 Republicans, while the opponents of the measure were all Republicans.

The measure was framed by the majority leaders to make up for the loss of revenue to the government through the removal of the duty on sugar, as provided by a bill which already has been passed by the representatives.

The excise bill has been under discussion by the house for the last two days, the debate being marked by many speeches sharply criticizing the decision of the Supreme court of the United States by which a previous income tax measure was declared unconstitutional.

The present bill was prepared with a view to meeting objections raised by the highest court against it in the litigation of a few years ago. It exempts incomes of less than $5,000 a year.

From the time of the first appearance of the measure in the house there were indications that the proposed legislation would be aided by the insurgent Republicans, either actively or passively by neutrality. The expectations then raised were borne out when the ballot disclosed an overwhelming majority in favor of the bill.

An outburst of applause from the Democratic side accompanied the announcement of the vote and was renewed when it was learned that the Republicans had voted for the measure. There were no Democratic votes against the passage of the bill.

The bill would extend the existing corporation tax law to include a tax of 1 per cent. on the yearly net income of all firms or individuals in excess of $5,000.

The Democrats declare the tax is one on "doing business," despite the fact that it would include salaried people, and claim it would bring in sufficient revenue to offset the estimated loss of $600,000,000 resulting from putting sugar on the free list.

The free sugar bill already has gone to the senate. The excise tax bill was sent to that body which may defeat it.

PRIMARY VOTE VERY CLOSE

Victor in North Dakota Presidential Preference Ballot Will Win by But 2,000.

Bismarck, N. D.—Early returns in the state on presidential preference primaries indicate that the vote will be very close, the winner probably not having over 2,000 of the good when the votes are all counted.

In the city of Bismarck, where Roosevelt expected to win by about 200, he will not have over 75, as all precincts but one has 65 reported and that one will cut down his lead from what it is now. There was a very tight vote over the state, as the weather changed from warm and springlike to cold and stormy. Many precincts are reporting the worst storm of the season.

If the Democrats in other parts of the state voted as they apparently did in Bismarck many of La Follette's votes came from that source, as out of a normal Democratic vote of over 200 there were not thirty cast at this election. There are only scattering votes for Taft and all precincts report no votes at all.

SLAYER OF BATTLE FALLS IN COURT.

Hillsville, Va.—A measure of vengeance was meted out to the Virginia outlaws in the mountain fastnesses near here.

Sidna Allen's wife is dead. She was shot in a battle with a posse in the mountains while helping defend her outlaw husband.

The fifth death was that of Miss Nancy Ayres, nineteen years old. She was shot accidentally during the fusillade in the courthouse.

All the free members of the assassin band, probably eighteen, are up in the mountains toward the North Carolina line. They are well armed and determined not to be captured.

Attorney General Williams, who is here, declared that Sidna Allen's bullet killed Judge Massie.

Floyd Allen, the cause of the tragedy, was taken to the lockup under a heavy guard. He slouched his throat with a pocketknife, but his wound is not serious. His son Victor, Cabell Strickland and Byrd Marion, were locked up as witnesses.

Suspension in United States Mines Predicted to Occur on April 1.

New York.—"All negotiations with the anthracite coal operators are off," declared John P. "I look for a general suspension of work April 1," he added.

"Will there be a strike?" he was asked.

"I don't say so to that," he replied.

"London, England.—Another deadlock has been reached in the negotiations for a settlement of the coal strike that is paralyzing industry throughout the United Kingdom, but Premier Asquith is endeavoring strenuously to bring the parties together. PUTS SUGAR ON FREE LIST

House Passes Bill by Vote of 198 to 103—Measure Makes Big Cut in Revenue.

Washington.—The Democratic bill removing the tariff entirely from sugar imported into this country was passed by the house of representatives by a vote of 198 to 103.

According to the Democratic leaders of the measure, if it becomes a law, it will reduce the price of sugar to consumers about 1 1/2 cents a pound, an aggregate saving of $115,000,000 annually to the households of the nation. The loss of $53,000,000 revenue annually from sugar duties will be offset, under the Democratic plan, by the proposed tax on incomes over $5,000 a year.

MANY SUE FOR OLD LANDS

Litigation Recalls the Passing of Port Ulaio, Once a Thriving Harbor City in Ozaukee County.

Milwaukee.—The passing of two of the earliest Wisconsin towns, one of which has wholly disappeared from the map, while the name of the other is revived as a railroad station, has been recalled recently by suits and petitions brought in connection with the settlement of property and names of these old landmarks.

One of these historical spots is Port Ulaio, in Ozaukee county, long since crowded out of memory by its thriving neighbor, Port Washington; the other is the old Indian village of Cornish, in Marquette county, the name of which has been changed to Anacker by the Soo railroad, and is now likely to be changed again, if the movement started by conservative old settlers should be successful.

Suits have been brought in circuit courts against a long list of defendants to clear up the title and vacate the pier and levee of what was once known as Port Ulaio, but what now is nothing but farm land. The story of this spot is associated with some dark pages of history. This was the birthplace of Charles J. Guttauer, whose name lives in the annals of our country coupled with the name of President Garfield.

Back in territorial times Port Ulaio, situated five miles south of Port Washington, was looked upon as the coming commercial metropolis of the lakes. The port consisted of a pier running out to the lake at which steamboats of those days discharged passengers and cargo and took on wood. It was while lying at the Port Ulaio pier that a steamer on which the late Capt. Frederiek Pabst and the late Gregory Huseron were serving as officers saw the smoke and flames of the steamer Niagara, which caught fire when near Port Washington, and burned with a terrible loss of life.

As the state began to settle, Milwaukee on the south and Port Washington on the north pushed forward and the claims of Port Ulaio to commercial supremacy were crowded into the background. For a time it held its own as a woodyard for lake steamers, but this, in turn, was cut off by other ports of more importance.

Nothing by the residents left until one remained but a beautiful plot on paper of what would appear a city of considerable population. Gradually, even by the name of older settlers who came to the state in pioneer times.

The old forks of the Neenah just below Cornish and the neighboring fork of Cornish creek were built, Wisnoshche, or Neenah Wisnoshche, i. e., the junction or gathering of waters.

Before the advent of the railroad line, the village had become almost extinct, but since then it was converted into a depot and bids fair to be preserved as a landmark, although it probably will never be more than a hamlet.

DENY INDIANS ARE PAGANS

Reported Action by Chippewa Presbytery to Christianize Wisconsin Red Men Brings Protes.

Lac du Flambeau.—The report that the Chippewa Presbytery was considering the establishment of an Indian mission at the Couderay reservation because it was claimed, a majority of the 5,000 Indians in the western part of the state are without religious training, has roused a protest among those well acquainted with conditions at the various Indian reservations. They claim that the inference that Wisconsin Indians are pagans is unjust and false.

The assertion is made that at least two-thirds of the government's wards on the Couderay or Lac Court Oreille reservation at Reserven, Sawyer county, are good Christians, and will remain so until death. Long trains of them may be seen on the way to church on Sundays, holidays and fast days, some of the old women walking four or five miles over rough roads to attend mass.

STATE RIVERS AND HARBORS COSTLY

Much Expended on Wisconsin Waterway Improvements.

STANDS EIGHTH IN THE LIST

Government Report Shows $11,493,844 Appropriated Up to Present Time for graded State—Michigan Has Received $43,000,000.

Washington, D. C.—In the amount of money expended for river and harbor improvement by the government from its foundation up to the present year, Wisconsin stands eighth among the states, according to a report by the secretary of the treasury.

On Wisconsin rivers and harbors $11,493,844 has been expended. This sum does not include $25,276 expended on the Milwaukee and Rock river canal nor large sums expended on projects for the joint benefit of two or more states. Including Wisconsin's share of these amounts in the general total would bring the state up near the head of the list in the amount of work done in the improvement of rivers and harbors.

The CIVIL WAR FIFTY YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

March 18, 1862.

The Confederate steamer Nashville escaped from Beaufort, N. C., and evaded the close blockade of the Union vessels. The Nashville had recently been dismissed from the harbor of Plymouth, England, and slipped into Beaufort through the same careful guard.

The ship Emily St. Pierre, ostensibly bound for St. Johns, N. B., but which showed no colors, was captured by the blockading squadron off Charleston, S. C.

Colonel Dwight, with a portion of the First regiment of the Excelsior brigade made a reconnaissance between Dumfries and Fredericksburg, Va. One small company of Confederate pickets were driven in, but a second force that was encountered was not molested. Colonel Dwight's men found a deserted camp and helped themselves.

Aquila Creek was evacuated by the Confederates during the night. Previous to leaving the Confederates burned the wharves and town.

General Pope, commanding the Union position at New Madrid, trapped a Confederate gunboat in front of a masked battery and sunk it. He had previously permitted four of them to pass the first battery, which left them between two.

March 19, 1862.

General Lovell, C. S. A., issued the following order at New Orleans:

"Hereafter no exemptions from military service duty will be allowed permanently, except in case of minors or persons physically unable to do service. Applications for the release of those at work for the government must be made to this department in the form of certificates from the owners or foremen of the shops, when an order will be issued to the commanding officer of the camp to which the applicant belongs to grant a furlough of a certain number of days, which can only be renewed by a subsequent certificate and order from these headquarters."

Some bridge builders captured by the Confederate Morgan in a cavalry raid on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, having been released, returned to Louisville, Ky.

The Ninety-seventh regiment of New York volunteers, under command of Col. Charles Wheelock, passed through New York city for the front. The Ninety-seventh was practically a private regiment, having been organized by Colonel Wheelock at considerable personal expense. He paid more than $9,000 out of his own pocket, most of which went to the families of the men enlisted for their support while the heads of the families were gone.

March 20, 1862.

Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania issued a general order complimenting the Fifty-first Pennsylvania for gallantry at the action at Newbern, N. C., and at Roanoke. The regiment, which did not acquire great distinction in the engagement at Bull Run early in the war, was held to have redeemed its reputation, and the names of the two latest battles were ordered embroidered on the regimental battle flag, where no mention was made of Bull Run.

Loyal citizens of Jacksonville, Fla., met and protested against the action of the convention that had declared Florida in secession from the United States of America, asserting that no state had a right to secede, and declaring that they were deprived of the convention of their rights as citizens of the United States.

The meeting was encouraged by a proclamation issued the same day by Federal General Sherman, in which the general stated that the troops of the United States had come to protect loyal citizens and their property, and enable them to resuscitate their government, and promised that all loyal persons returning to their homes and taking up their usual course of life would be protected in their constitutional rights. The sole desire and intention of the government was to maintain the integrity of the Constitution and laws, and reclaim the states revolting from the national alliance to their former prosperous condition.

March 21, 1862.

Petty warfare continued in Missouri. An expedition of Union soldiers under Captain Stevens, on the way to Indian Creek, near Ketsville, Mo., was informed that a band of Confederates had planned to meet at a certain house that night. Captain Stevens, surprised the place early in the morning, captured nineteen prisoners and 1,000 pounds of bacon that was intended for the Confederate army. Among the prisoners were three of the rank of captain.

Commodore Du Pont, having been invited by the mayor and inhabitants of St. Augustine, Fla., to come in and take possession of the town formally, went to the place in his gunboats to find that it had been previously occupied by Commodore Rodgers of the Wabash and a force of marines and volunteers.

Two new military departments were constructed. One of them comprised all the country that might be occupied by General Butler, with headquarters wherever they happened to be, and the other comprised Georgia, Florida and South Carolina, under General Hunter.

Gideon Welles, secretary of the navy for the United States, issued a formal acknowledgment of the services rendered by the United States frigate Cumberland, which had lately been sunk by the Merrimack in Hampton Roads.

A naval skirmish at Mousquito inlet, Fla., was disastrous in a small way for the Union sailors involved. Lieut. A. H. Budd, U. S. N., Acting Master Mather and three jacks were killed by the Confederates.

Washington, N. C., was entered by a Federal force under General Burnside. The Union soldiers landed from gunboats, and marched through the streets with banners and a band, expecting to arouse Union enthusiasm. The few people who had remained in the town were silent spectators of the scene.

March 22, 1862.

Provisional Governor Johnson addressed a meeting of mixed Union and southern sympathizers at Nashville. He presented the northern view of the war for the benefit of his southern hearers in such a calm and dispassionate manner that he made a considerable impression on secessionists, who had been with him in politics before the outbreak of the war.

A day of long range artillery firing between Confederate and National batteries at Cumberland Gap resulted in no casualties. A national reconnaissance in force left Camp Cumberland Ford the day before, and moved up to Cumberland Gap in the afternoon, halting when they began to feel the enemy's pickets. In the morning the Union soldiers opened the noise with a skirmish line, which called down the artillery practice of the Confederate batteries. The Union battery soon replied, and the firing continued until night, without result, as the batteries were not within range of each other.

The Sixth Kansas fell in with Quantrell near Independence, Mo., and forced him to withdraw, after a severe fight, in which the Federals lost three killed and the Confederates seven. The Confederates destroyed the bridge across the Little Blue river.

A reconnaissance of the Sixty-first New York, passing down the railroad from Manassas toward Warrenton, Va., was fired upon by a detachment of Stuart's cavalry. The infantry attacked with vigor, and the cavalry made off. No damage was done on either side.

March 23, 1862.

In an engagement of dimension near Winchester, the Federal forces under General Shields, reinforced by Colonel Densely with General Williams's first brigade, defeated a force of five thousand infantry and seventeen guns under General Jackson. The fight, which had begun on the night before, with the advantage with the southerners, was renewed in the morning, and swung back and forth until late in the afternoon, when the Federal reinforcement determined the issue of the day. General Jackson withdrew without loss of prisoners or discipline. The loss was heavy on both sides. The Confederates lost 840 killed, wounded and missing, and the Federals 585.

The prize schooner Cora, laden with cotton, which escaped from Appalachicola a few days before, was brought to Key West by a crew from the U. S. gunboat Pinola, Lieutenant Crosby commanding. The Cora gave the Pinola an exciting chase for more than two hours, and did not leave until shells began to pop between her masts. She had on board 208 bales of cotton.

President Davis declared martial law over the counties of Elizabeth City, York, Warwick, Gloucester and Matthews.

Moorhead City, N. C., was occupied by a Union force under General Parke of General Burnside's force. The town was deserted of Confederates. March 24, 1862.

Postmaster General Blair of the United States strapped tighter the muzzle that had recently been put on the northern newspapers by the taking over by the war office of all telegraph lines and the censorship of news dispatches. The following notice was issued to postmasters throughout the Union: "The secretary of war now regulates the transmission of information by telegraph, affecting the conduct of the war, in order to prevent the communication of such information to the rebels. It is also thought necessary by the secretary to put restrictions on the publication of facts of this character, however derived, and the aid of this department is requested for this purpose. You will, therefore, notify publishers not to publish any fact which has been excluded from the telegraph, and that a disregard of this order will subject the paper to be excluded from the mails."

Wendell Phillips, attempting to speak at Cincinnati, was egged by the crowd, which finally grew in violence until it became a mob and precipitated a fight in the body of the hall. Phillips was removed by friends amidst threats of a coat of tar and feathers.

Two boat crews from the Federal war boat Yankee, going ashore to remove guns left by the Confederates at Shipping Point, on the Potomac, were driven away by a body of cavalry after securing two guns.

Rabbit Fur for Felt Hats. Rabbit fur has supplanted wool in felt-hat making in Sydney, Australia, where 32 factories are in operation. The fur is considerably superior to the finest merino for this purpose, and millions of rabbit skins are used annually. It takes the fur of about six average skins to make a fur-felt hat. In one factory the consumption of skins ranges from 25,000 to 30,000 per week.

POSSE KILLS THREE TRY TO KILL JUDGE

TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS AND FARMER FORCE TO AID THEM SLAIN.

THIRD FELON IS CAPTURED

Last Member of the Gang Which Killed Officials of the Nebraska Penitentiary Caught After a Desperate Running Fight.

Omaha, Neb.—As the result of a battle between the bandits and law officers John Dowd and John Taylor, alias "Shorty" Gray, two of the convicts who escaped last Thursday from the state penitentiary at Lincoln, and Roy Blunt, an innocent victim of their murderous attempt to gain liberty, are dead.

Taylor was slain by a posse. It is believed Dowd also was killed by the posse, but his surviving companion says he committed suicide.

Charles Morley, the third of the trio, saved his life by surrendering to the officers, with whom he had fought a running battle for two and a half miles over country roads with horses on the gallop.

Armed with shotguns and revolvers, while their pursuers had repeating rifles, the convicts were within a few miles of Omaha, where they expected to find friends who would shield them, when the fatal battle took place.

Early in the day the telephone operator at Gretna, 15 miles south of this city, gave the alarm of the presence in that vicinity of the desperate men. Six posses soon were ready to attempt the capture. These included a band of Omaha detectives and patrolmen, Sheriff McShane of this county and his deputies and Sheriff Sherriff Chase of Sully county, with his deputies, are also within striking distance. South Omaha sent two posses under Chief of Police Briggs and the Gretna company of the National Guard was on the scene.

Chief Briggs of South Omaha and his deputy John C. Trout were leaders in the party which overtook and vanquished the three convicts and shot Blunt, the innocent victim. Briggs left this city on an early special train with several Omaha police officers. The bodies of the convicts were turned over to Sheriff Hyers of Lincoln, and that of young Blunt to his family. Hyers took Morley back to Lincoln.

AS MINCEMEAT SHOULD BE

Mrs. Taft Furnishes Recipe for This Most Popular Filling for the Pie.

Three pounds of lean beef, one pound of suet, two pounds of seeded raisins, two pounds of citron, two pounds of currants, two teaspoonsful of cinnamon, two quarts of cider, one pound of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of salt. Chop the beef very fine.

When cold chop very fine. Chop the suet as fine as possible, removing all the stringy parts. Place the beef and suet in an old-fashioned crock. Add the chopped fruit and spice. The cider containing the sugar should have been boiled down to one-half its original quantity. When cool mix the liquors. Pour this over the mixture. Place in a stone jar and keep tightly covered in a cold place.

When ready to make the pies peel and chop two sour apples and stir them into the mincemeat. Heat the mincemeat in the oven before the pie is made.—From the Housekeeper.

Recipe for Making Starch.

One tablespoonful of starch, sufficient cold water to make it like cream, half a teaspoonful of borax, and a piece of candle or wax. Pour on boiling water, stirring all the time, until the starch is cooked and looks semi-transparent. Prints, laces, muslins are generally done in boiled starch. After they are starched they must be dried. Articles done in cold starch must be dried before starching, but not after. Articles done in boiled starch need not be dried before, but must be dried after starching. Hanging laces or muslins in the open air after starching is liable to make them limp unless it is a good drying day.

Prunes and Dumplings.

Three eggs, three cups of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder; beat the eggs light; add the flour mixed with the baking powder and a little water to make the dough slightly thicker than for cake; drop a spoonful at a time into prunes when cooking; stew a quantity of prunes quite soft; have plenty of water which has been added when cooking; then add butter and sugar enough to suit the taste and flavor with nutmeg. Do not stop the boiling while dropping in the dumplings.

Peach Gateau.

Scoop out the center of a round sponge cake—a stale sponge cake from the baker's will answer. Fill with sweetened peaches, which have been cut into pieces. Cover with beaten and sweetened cream. Garnish with candied fruit. The inside of the cake may be cut into lady fingers and used to line a mold before pouring in a jelly dessert.

Baked Potatoes Spanish.

Bake six medium sized white potatoes, cut open lengthwise and remove the contents. Mash the potatoes with grated onion, one-quarter of a teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of butter and one cupful of cream or milk. Replace the mashed potato, divided equally among the 12 shells. Place a slice of pimento on top of each and brown in oven.

Without Milk.

When baking baking-powder biscuits, and no milk is at hand, if an egg is beaten very lightly and added to the necessary amount of water to mix the dough, it will be found a very good substitute. The biscuits will brown quickly, and the eggs add greatly to the taste.—Woman's Home Companion.

Cornmeal Griddle Cakes.

This recipe will require two cupfuls of cornmeal, one cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of molasses, two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Add milk or milk and water to mix to a thin batter. Bake on a hot griddle until a light brown on both sides.

Cold Water Pound Cake.

Take three eggs, two cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of butter, one cupful of cold water, three cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, a half teaspoonful of soda. Flavor the mixture with lemon. Mix in the order given. Half of this recipe makes a large cake.

Rye Bread.

Two large cups rye meal, one large tassel, two eggs, little salt, two spoons cup of flour, one-half large cup cream of tartar, one spoon of soda, one tablespoon of lard. Mix soft as gingerbread with milk.

Favorite Muffins.

One cup bread flour, one tablespoon Indian meal, two heaping teaspoons baking powder, one-half cup of milk, one-half cup of sugar, one egg, salt, butter, size of small egg, melted and added last.

CURTAINS MAY BE RENOVATED

Simple Process Here Described That Will Make Them Almost as Good as New.

Have you a pair of good lace curtains that are too old to hang up as they are? Try this method of treating them and you will not regret it: Apply the lace on a foundation of thin silk of rose shade. Baste each curtain very neatly on its foundation and cut away the lace net wherever you find it worn through the border and outline the pattern in linen, or, if you prefer it, in silk floss of the rose colored shade. If the plain net is in good preservation dot it over with a spray design worked in the same floss or silk.

You will find the effect extremely good, combining the airiness of lace with the handsomeness of brocade. Moreover, you will have curtains as good as new which will last some time if carefully cleaned when soiled. Curtains such as these were seen recently in a living room in the country where they had hung in the windows for eighteen months and they looked perfectly fresh.

Blue, green, brown or any other color may be adopted of course as a foundation to suit the room of the worker.

UNFEELING!

His Wife—James, I feel faint. I—I can't take a long breath.

The Brute—Take two short ones.

PHYSICIAN SAID ECZEMA CAME FROM TEETHING

"When my little girl was about eight months old, she was taken with a very irritating breaking out, which came on her face, neck and back. When she first came down with it, it came in little watery-like festers under her eyes, and on her chin, then after a few days it would dry down in scaly, white scales. In the daytime she was quite worrisome and would dig and scratch her face nearly all the time.

"I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema, which he said came from her teething. I used the ointment he gave me and without any relief at all. Then I wrote for a book on Cuticura Soap and purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I did as I found directions in the Cuticura Booklet, and when she was one year old, she was entirely cured. Now she is three years and four months, and she has never been troubled with eczema since she was cured by the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment." (Signed Mrs. Freeman Craver, 311 Lewis St., Syracuse, N. Y., May 6, 1911.)

Summer Wear. Patrick worked for a notoriously stingy boss and lost no chance to let the fact be known. Once a wagfish friend, wishing to twit him, remarked:

"Pat, I hear your boss just gave you a brand-new suit of clothes."

"No," said Pat, "only part of a suit."

"What part?"

"The sleeves in the vest!"

Cold Welcome.

A clergyman in a small town was deploring the fact that none of the couples that came in from the country to be married stopped at his house for the purpose.

"Well, brother," said the man addressed, "what can you expect with that big sign on the tree there: 'Five dollars fine for hitching here?'"

Up to the Minute.

"Well, she has succeeded in doing the latest thing, anyhow."

"What's that?"

"Eloped with her father's aviator."

Poor Henry.

"Peck claims that when he married he was misled."

"Yes, and now he is Mrs.-led."

Astonished Husband.

De Wolfe Hopper tells a good story about the domestic unhappiness of a man who had married because the woman had much money, although no beauty. Naturally, after the wedding ceremony and the acquisition of the bride's financial resources, the husband was never very attentive to her.

Another member of the company in which the couple were appearing was, however, far more appreciative of the lady's charms, and proceeded to make love to her in an ardent but stealthy manner. The grand finale came one evening when the actor discovered the other man kissing his wife. The fond lover stood petrified with fear, and expected to be shot down the next moment.

No such thing happened. The outraged husband only lifted his hands toward the ceiling with a gesture of intense surprise, and exclaimed: "Merciful heavens! And he didn't even have to!"

The Ugly Brute.

"See that measuring worm crawling up my skirt?" cried Mrs. Bjenka. "That's a sign I'm going to have a new dress."

"Well, let him make it for you," growled Mr. Bjenka. "And while he's about it, have him send a hookworm to do you up the back. I'm tired of the job."

It's Nature.

"Does anybody ever win at a tea fight?"

"Of course not. It is a drawn battle."

A long life and a merry one may be expected by those who use Gardale Tea, the natural herb remedy. For sale at all drug stores.

Bad luck is often but another name for poor management.

Some men give a dollar with one hand and grab two with the other.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Old King Winter's backbone was greatly demolished during the past week.

Always strive to cultivate cheerfulness. The world will be brighter and better for it.

The fifth grade Arithmetic class are at present working on factoring and find it very agreeable work.

A few new green curtains were adjusted in the Primary department recently in commemoration of "St. Patrick's Day."

Class in Physiology, Questions. How many ribs have you? Small boy (squirming about I don't know I'm so awfully ticklish I never could count them.)

The basket social held at the school house recently was a success both socially and financially. Proceeds of same will go towards the benefit of the school.

We are in receipt of a communication from Allie Hansen, who last week left here. Allie says however that memories of Boltonville are indelibly impressed upon her.

The seventh grade Literature class have completed work in Whittier's "Snowbound" and have completed a final test. They are now combined with the eighth grade who are at present studying Longfellow's "Evangeline."

Seventh grade Arithmetic class are passing a course of practical work in arithmetic, competing in lumbering. A little practice work in drawing has been tried of late with some promising results. Altogether the time for this is rather busy on our program, we manage to get in a bit of practice occasionally and expect to have some of this work for County Exhibit after in the season.

Let us build our house on the hilltop of cheerfulness so high that no shadows may rest upon it, and where the morning comes early and the evening tarries later. We are to be pitied whose house is in some valley of grief, with the longest night and shortest day. God has put us here to make the world brighter and happier by our lives and every one should study how to be a blessing to others. We must get the wrinkles out of our brows and wear smiling faces. Let a person go home at night worn and wearied by the toil of the day and how soothing is a word dictated by a cheerful disposition. It is real sunshine falling upon his heart. He is happy and the cares of life are forgotten. Smiles, kind words and looks characterize the children and peace and love have their dwelling there. Honor should be the center of you.

Mr. Theodore J. Werle, Field Lecturer of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, has been secured by Mr. Burke to give an illustrated lecture on tuberculosis, Tuesday, March 28th. The lecture will be given in the Boltonville graded school or M. W. A. hall at 8:00 P. M. sharp and will be free of charge to adults, children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

Mr. Werle is a speaker of rare ability and this is a treat for Boltonville which it will not be able to duplicate very often.

The afternoon will be devoted by Mr. Werle to speaking to school children giving them valuable lessons in health and hygiene. In the evening Mr. Werle will confine himself to the subject of tuberculosis and proposed project of building a county tuberculosis sanatorium in this county. Mr. Burke has been able to secure these for Boltonville as a result of the Red Cross Seal sale, and it is hoped that everyone in the district and vicinity will turn out to help this a Red letter day for Mr. Werle.

New Variety of Oats Distributed in Wisconsin

An improved variety of oats will be distributed to members of the Agricultural Experiment Association in Wisconsin this coming spring by the agronomy department of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin which has been breeding this variety of oats for several years. A few years ago the improved seed of the Swedish Select oats was given out to members of the association but in the meantime the College has been working on the same variety and has improved it greatly. Prof. R. A. Moore believes that this new strain will materially improve both the yield and quality of oats in Wisconsin within a very few years.

HARD TO DROP
But Many Drop It.

A young Calif. wife talks about coffee.
"It was hard to drop Mocha and Java and give Postum a trial, but my nerves were so shattered that I was a nervous wreck and of course that means all kinds of ills."

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and I gave it up, but my condition remained unchanged. I did not want to acknowledge coffee caused the trouble for I was very fond of it."

"About that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, 'I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, till last week, when I began again, here at your table. I don't see how anyone can like coffee, anyway, after drinking Postum!'"

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drunk no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so we returned to Postum, convinced that the coffee was an enemy, instead of a friend, and he is troubled no more by insomnia."

"I, myself, have gained 8 pounds in weight, and my nerves have ceased to quiver. It seems so easy now to quit the old coffee that caused our aches and ills and take up Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

RECIPES IN A VARIETY

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE, BOTH PLAIN AND FANCY.

Baked Beef Heart Not as Popular as Dish as It Should Be—Best Method of Thickening Gravies—Chocolate Glace Cake.

Baked Beef Heart.—Boil a beef heart in salted water until tender. Make a stuffing of one large onion chopped fine. Two boiled potatoes chopped, two chopped sweet peppers and a tablespoon of minced parsley. Moisten with some of the stock in which the heart was boiled. Stuff the heart and bake about 40 minutes, basting frequently.

Kneaded Plum Cake.—One and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup sour milk, two teaspoons cream tartar, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one cup chopped raisins, flour enough to knead. Roll an inch thick and cut in oblong pieces. Bake on sheets in a quick oven.

Thickening Gravies, Etc.—If in making gravies, sauces, puddings, etc., with flour and thickening (which some prefer to cornstarch) you are troubled by the flour lumping, try the following method: If eggs are used mix the flour with the beaten eggs, if not, with milk or water; then pour the boiling liquid over it, stirring constantly until smooth, then return to the double boiler and cook eight or ten minutes. Mix the flour in a bowl large enough to hold the whole mixture.

Chocolate Glace Cake.—Beat to a cream a generous half cup of butter and gradually beat into this one cup of sugar. Add one ounce of chocolate melted; also two unbeaten eggs. Beat vigorously for five minutes; then stir in half a cup of milk and lastly one cup and a half of flour, with which has been mixed one generous teaspoon of baking powder. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla. Pour into a buttered shallow cake pan and bake for half an hour in a moderate oven. When cool spread with glace frosting.

Glace Frosting.—Put half a cup of sugar and three tablespoons of water in a small saucepan. Stir over the fire until the sugar is nearly melted. Take the spoon from the pan before the sugar really begins to boil, because it would spoil the icing if the sugar were stirred after it begins to boil. After boiling gently for four minutes, add half a teaspoon of vanilla extract, but do not stir; then set away to cool. When the strup is about blood warm, beat it with a wooden spoon until thick and white. Now put the saucepan in another with boiling water and stir until the icing is thin enough to pour. Spread quickly on the cake.

Duchess Soup.
A delicious duchess soup is made from this formula obtained from a Boston cooking teacher: Cook two slices each of carrot and onion in a tablespoon of butter until the onion yellows. Then turn in a quart of white stock and a blade of mace and cook a quarter of an hour. Strain the soup and add two cupfuls of milk and thicken with two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour blended together. Season with salt and pepper and stir in at least four rounded tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Cook a couple of minutes and send to the table.

Potato Chowder.
Pare and chop into dice six potatoes. Put into a frying pan one chopped onion, two slices of bacon, cut in small pieces and fry until brown. Put all, with a little chopped parsley, salt and pepper, into a saucepan. Add one pint of water, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Then add one pint of milk. Mix one tablespoonful each of butter and flour, add to the rest and stir carefully until it boils. Serve very hot.

Clever Use of Cream.
If you wish to make a thin icing for a simple cake stir sugar into three tablespoonfuls of sweet cream and half a teaspoonful of flavoring until the mixture is thick enough to spread. By making it stiff enough to mold with the fingers a delicious fondant for home-made candy is produced. Roll into little balls with nuts, raisins, candied fruits, etc.—McCall's Magazine.

Blackberry Corn Starch.
Pour off the juice from blackberry preserves, enough to make a pint; when hot (not boiling) add two heaping tablespoonfuls of corn starch which have been diluted with a little of the cold juice; cook three minutes, stirring all the time. Turn into individual molds and place in the ice box until time to serve. Pass cream with it.

Orange Fluffs.
For a light, sweet biscuit for 5 o'clock tea or for a luncheon dainty, mix a baking powder biscuit dough, roll it, cut into small circles; dip cubes of sugar in orange juice and plunge a cube in the center of each biscuit before baking; sprinkle with grated orange rind, add a few drops of melted butter; bake. Serve piping hot.

Peas a la Francaise.
Cook three tablespoonfuls of butter with one slice of bacon five minutes; remove bacon and add two cups of shelled (or drained canned) peas and eight small onions. Cover with boiling water and cook until vegetables are soft; drain, add one-fourth cup of cream and one egg, yolk slightly beaten; season with salt and pepper.

Cherry Seeding.
When seeding cherries, place them in a pan and cover with water. Keeping the hand under water, take the cherry between the thumb and first finger and squeeze slightly, and the seed will pop out like magic, leaving the cherry whole.

Lemon Rind Always Ready.
Dry, grate and bottle all your lemon and orange rinds and they will be ready for use in dishes and sauces that call for the grated rind of lemon or orange.—Suburban Life.

New Reception Gown

This fichu for Catholic receptions is designed to be worn over low neck gown, made of maline to match the color of embroidery on gown, finished with fringe. It is intended to overcome the pope's ban on low cut gowns recently expressed in an edict from Rome.

SLEEVE POCKET FOR THE FAN BRACELET IS COMING BACK

Innovation Favored by Paris Seems to Presage Return of Such Receptacles to Fashion.
During the past year the pocket has been slowly and steadily regaining its position in woman's toilettes and even so daring an innovation as a sleeve pocket has now been made possible. This is quite the latest fashion note from Paris, the new form of pocket being chiefly intended as a receptacle for the tiny fan, which is so much in vogue at present.

The pocket is usually inserted in the sleeve just below the elbow, the aperture being cleverly concealed with lace or chiffon, so that its presence is not even suspected until the fair wearer suddenly produces a miniature embroidered fan, apparently out of her arm.
The fan pocket is to be found on either sleeve of a smart afternoon gown and in some costumes one or other of the cuffs is frequently provided with a pocket after the same style.
Although originally intended only to hold the fan, as in China, the sleeve pocket has been found so convenient that it is also used to hold a lace handkerchief, and there is no doubt that its dimensions will increase when sleeves assume large proportions.

Needlework Note.
Damask centerpieces are quite the style nowadays. Many clever needlewomen outline the flowers or design of the damask with a dainty stitch so as to form a border around the circular piece, and with an edging of heavy lace this makes an effective centerpiece as could be desired.
Damask, however, is by no means cheap, but if one can make a number of such pieces from old linen with only the trifling expense of the lace one can have one of these centerpieces.

When Little Guests Come.
Although there are no children in my home, I always keep on hand eating bits, little glasses with handles, and a little table-chair. You cannot imagine the little ones' delight when they come to the table. To these may be added little plates, knives, forks, and spoons.
I also keep on hand, for their pleasure, a few simple toys. In this way I am always ready for little guests.—Woman's Home Companion.

New Bags for Old.
We all have one or two rather shabby leather bags. Cover these with velvet, buy some heavy silk cord for a handle, long or short, as you prefer, and you have a stylish and pretty bag. Either paste or sew the velvet on. I sewed mine, and have found it satisfactory.—Woman's Home Companion.

Little Fancy Coats.
While for the present there are practically only two types of the mixed toilet, that in which a plain material is seen in combination with a striped or checked stuff, and that which weds a little coat of velvet to a skirt of cloth, the advancing season will see many changes rung upon this theme.

Monogrammed Shoe Buckles.
Parisians have started the rage for a monogrammed shoe buckle, already American dealers have become interested. The Paris women are now ordering shoe buckles with their initials or monograms done in rhinestones or real gems.

With the Elbow-Length Sleeve This Ornament is Almost Sure to Have Access of Favor.
The bracelet is to regain the favor which it once held. Modern dress, with its popular elbow-length sleeve for day wear, adapts itself admirably to the display of the bracelet. This is the main reason why they should become popular again.
Bracelets of fine workmanship set with jewels are bound to find favor. The snake armlets which are associated with Cleopatra will be worn, especially with evening dress.
Heavy armlets two inches in width are patterned after those worn by the Sabine soldiers when Tarpeia sold the Roman city, tempted by their glittering glory.
Massive is most descriptive of these bracelets. They are worn on the upper portion of the arm above the elbow.

COAT OF TAFFETA.

Changeable taffeta with trimmings of outlining, double ruffles, is the material of which this coat is made. The sleeves are set in large armholes and are in three-quarter length, with turn-back cuffs edged at the top with a ruffling of taffeta, and trimmed with taffeta covered buttons. The collar falls over the shoulders and is rounded in back.

For Evening Gowns.
Black diamante is the newest ornamentation for evening dresses. It has taken the place of bead embroidery and is used extensively on caps and costume bands. It is made of the smallest black particles, studded closely together, and at first glance looks like cut steel.
It sparkles brightly with curious shades of green and red and is effectively used on white or black velvet. It is a paste and makes a beautiful effective trimming, especially under artificial light.

To Fit Collars.
Too often when one is planning a trifle of embroidered neckwear for a gift the neck size is all that the maker thinks is necessary to consider. If her friend wears a No. 13 collar band or one larger she lets it go at that and makes the collar of any shape that suits her inventive fancy. This indifference to other details is to blame for many gifts being laid away as quite useless to those receiving them. The possessor of a long neck looks ridiculous in a collar that would be too high for a chubby person.

COLDS AND CHILLS BRING KIDNEY ILLS.

Colds, chills and grip strain the kidneys and start backache, urinary disorders and uric acid troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills are very useful in the spring months. They stop backache and urinary disorders, keep the kidneys well and prevent colds from settling on the kidneys.

W. New, 323 E. First St., McPherson, Kans., says: "When I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, I had just gotten over an attack of grip which had weakened my kidneys. My back ached continually and the kidney secretions caused great discomfort. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me entirely and I have had no kidney trouble since."
"When Your Back Is Lame, Remember the Name—DOAN'S," 50c., all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

His Only Complaint.
Senator Beveridge, at a luncheon in New York, was talking about the child labor problem.
"Children are so plucky and so cheerful," he said, "we don't realize how horribly overworked they are till it's too late—till their bodies and minds are stunted irrevocably."
"I was once talking to a tiny errand boy at the height of the Christmas shopping season. He was working, I knew, 17 hours a day. As he walked sturdily along with a mountain of parcels piled on his thin, narrow shoulders, I said to him:
"Do you like your job?"
"Yes, sir," he said; "I like it fine. Only—
"Here he grinned up at me gayly from beneath his load.

"It would save a lot of trouble" said a newspaper man the other day to Representative Slayden of Texas, after the Democratic caucus on the Henry resolution to investigate the "money trust," "if you would allow us to attend the caucus."
"On the contrary," replied Mr. Slayden, with a twinkle in his eye, "I thought it would make a lot of trouble."
"Well, can't you give me an interview on it now that the fight is over?"
"No," answered Mr. Slayden, "it would be against my principles. I never kiss and tell!"

Sick Women

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured many cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?
Here are five letters from southern women which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks to you and your great medicine. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.
"Now I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what these medicines have done for me and I will always speak a good word for them."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Montgomery Co., Va.

LETTER FROM LOUISIANA.
New Orleans, La.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with hot flashes, weak and dizzy feelings, backache and irregularities. I would get up in the morning feeling tired out and not fit to do anything.
"Since I have been taking your Compound and Blood Purifier I feel all right. Your medicines are worth their weight in gold."—Mrs. GASTON BLONDIAU, 1541 Polymnia St., New Orleans, La.

LETTER FROM FLORIDA.
Wauchula, Fla.—"Some time ago I wrote to you giving you my symptoms, headache, backache, bearing-down, and discomfort in walking, caused by female troubles.
"I got two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanative Wash and that was all I used to make me a well woman.
"I am satisfied that if I had done like a good many women, and had not taken your remedies, I would have been a great sufferer. But I started in time with the right medicine and got well. It did not cost very much either. I feel that you are a friend to all women and I would rather use your remedies than have a doctor."—Mrs. MATTIE HODSON, Box 406, Wauchula, Florida.

LETTER FROM WEST VIRGINIA.
Martinsburg, W. Va.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for my mother, daughter and myself.
"I have told dozens of people about it and my daughter says that when she hears a girl complaining with cramps, she tells her to take your Compound."—Mrs. MARY A. HOCKENBERRY, 712 N. 3rd St., Martinsburg, W. Va.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Newport News, Va.—"About five years ago I was troubled with such pains and bloating every month that I would have to go to bed.
"A friend told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. The medicine strengthened me in every way and my doctor approved of my taking it.
"I will be glad if my testimony will help some one who is suffering from female weakness."—Mrs. W. J. BLATTON, 1029 Hampton Ave., Newport News, Va.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6

ONE DAY ONLY

These are the Doctors you no doubt have read about. While you may not know them personally, you may know them by reputation or through some of your neighbors they have treated.

The remarkable success of these talented physicians in the treatment of chronic diseases has aroused much enthusiasm in the Northwest.

This is said to be and no doubt is true, one of the most able specialists organization of its kind in this section of the country, and must be a successful one from the many good results they are getting.

The United Doctors, licensed by the state of Wisconsin for the treatment of deformities and nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on them, consultation, examination and advise free.

It is especially requested that married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

The name, UNITED DOCTORS, is what it implies, a union of specialists twelve in number, that have gotten together for the treatment of chronic and nervous diseases. Not to be understood that they treat all diseases that the human body is heir to. They mean to be very careful in selecting and taking cases as they want good results, which means good returns in the way of their patients recommending them to others.

They estimate that over eighty per cent of the patients now coming to them, come from recommendations of those they have treated.

They do not treat any acute diseases whatever, their time and attention being devoted to such diseases as follows:

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep-seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, or goiter. They were among the first in America to earn the name of the "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with knife, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these diseases.

BELOW ARE THE NAMES

of a few of the many patients that have many good things to say for the United Doctors.

Do Your Collars Break?

All collars such as wing and "turndown" collars should be dampened slightly before being turned so as to prevent them from breaking at the folds or turns. This precaution is not taken by some launderers and as a result their collars crack and break after but a few washings. Haven't you found it so?

Our method overcomes this annoyance and permits of the collar being laundered almost countless times and without any appreciable wear. It's easy to understand how our service will prove a saving to you.
