STATE BANK FOR EACH 792 BADGER FAMILIES

Wisconsin Well Served by Financial Institutions, Reports Knott

RESOURCES GAIN, $3,000,000; LOANS, $2,000,000 IN SIXTY DAYS

Summary Completed by State Banking Commissioner Reflects Satisfactory Condition of Business in Commonwealth

Madison, Wis., July 6.—The conditions of Wisconsin banks on June 14, as reported today by Commissioner of Banking A. E. Knott show a gratifying condition of financial affairs in the state and a wholesome increase of resources as compared with the statement of April 18. There has been an increase of five banks in the two months, 589 as against 584.

Loans and discounts have increased in the two months more than $2,000,000, $1,932,705.22, as compared with $1,932,287.77, indicating that there is no lack of confidence in the stability of the business affairs in the country.

Total resources show an increase of $3,187,419.51, being $1,932,705.22, against $1,932,287.77 two months before, while the amount due from approved reserve banks has fallen off by $1,419,935.38.

Individual deposits subject to check show a slight falling off, $45,269,908.25 as compared with $45,541,297.37 in the April report, a decrease of $271,389.12. Other deposits, however, show an increase of $1,610,754.35.

With 589 institutions the state is abundantly supplied with banking facilities, having one bank for each 3,861 of population, or one for each 792 families.

The Life of a Newspaper

The life of a newspaper rests in the honest expression of its convictions. While those convictions may not at all times agree with yours, yet, its expression, is worthy of your respect and consideration.

The short stylus of the editor is the long ladle in discussion, which should stir the porridge of public opinion and keep it moving, thus preventing stagnation and burning over the fires of progress ever savoring with the salt of common sense, making nutritious for all by reasons of the results attained.

The paper which so endeavors in, in our opinion, "making good" in its mission. The paper which does not, is a defaulter, blackening print with small portions other than to exhibit its own short coming.

To be a mere chronicler of news and a "side stepper" on actualities of the day, is far from measuring up to the standard of what constitutes a newspaper real and actual.—Ex.

Close Call From Being Run Over

Children should keep away from the wagons coming in with peas to the factory or some of them may be killed or maimed for life. The practice of flocking around and pulling the vines from the wagons is not only dangerous but is petty theft as well, and parents should see that it is stopped. Last Monday Clarence Grissman, age 5 came very near losing his life in this manner. He fell under a wagon on Branch street and was dragged along for some distance, but fortunately escaped with a badly bruised arm. The drivers of the wagons can not be blamed when they have a load of peas, it is impossible for them to watch who is catching on the sides and rear of the wagons.—Hartford Times.

Amusements

Saturday and Sunday, July 27 and 28th.—Annual Homecoming at Kewaskum, Wis. Grand Homecoming Picnic at North Side Park on Sunday, July 28th. Everybody invited. A big time for all. Amusements galore.

Sunday, August 12th.—Fourth annual excursion, picnic and dance of the B. of L. F. & E. Phil. Sheridan Lodge No. 388 of Milwaukee to the North Side Park of this village.

WARNING.—Anyone caught trespassing or picking berries in our swamp will be prosecuted according to law.—Mich. Johannes Jr. Henry Geise

DEMOCRATS HOLD THEIR CONVENTION

ELECT DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION

The democrats of Washington county held a county convention at the court house at West Bend last Tuesday for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention held at Milwaukee on Thursday and to transact such other business as may become before the meeting. The convention was called to order by Chairman A. J. Hemmy of the Washington County Democratic committee. He also was chosen as chairman for this convention. Mich Immel of West Bend was chosen secretary. The committee on credentials reported that nearly every precinct in the county was represented at the convention with the entire delegation.

The committee on resolution presented to the convention the following resolution, which was adopted:

"We, the Democrats of Washington County in convention assembled do hereby re-affirm our allegiance of the principals of Democracy as expounded by Jefferson and Jackson and embodied in the National Democratic Platform adopted at Baltimore.

We congratulate the party upon its choice of standard bearers, and pledge our hearty and enthusiastic support to the clean, able and progressive leaders, Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall.

We condemn the present Republican State Administration for its gross extravagance in the administration of state and national affairs as illustrated by the last Democratic administration in both state and nation."

Assemblyman H. V. Schwabach of South German, who represented the county in the legislature at Madison for the last two terms, stated that he was not a candidate for the re-election as assemblyman.

Judge O'Meara of West Bend was called upon to give a talk, which was very interesting and applauded by all the delegates.

The delegates chosen to represent the county at the State Convention were: A. J. Hemmy, Hy. Lieven, H. A. Sawyer, Henry Schwabach, Chas. O'Connor, G. Weninger, J. S. Guidice, Theodore Koenigs, Geo. H. Schmidt, H. B. Kaempfer, B. C. Ziegler, Thos. O'Meara and Edwin Pick.

Oil Sprinkled

Juneau is trying its first experiment with the oiling of streets. Main street from the abstract office down to Oak street, and Oak street as far as Haertel's corner, have been used for the experiment. The oil is sprinkled upon the streets by the aid of the street sprinkler, which by the way was very generously loaned by our neighboring city of Waupun. It is so arranged that a gallon of oil will cover about one square yard.

Before the flowing oil upon it, the street is scraped of all dust, down to the road bed, after being oiled the dust is spread finely over the street.

Oiling of streets has given good satisfaction in several of our neighboring towns and there is no doubt that Juneau will carry on further experiments with it next year.—Juneau Independent.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

HAVE A VERY CLOSE CALL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koepke are Upset When Their Horse Shied From an Auto

RECEIVE ONLY SLIGHT BRUISES

The Couple Were Very Fortunate in Receiving Only Slight Bruises. Buggy Was Badly Damaged. Were on Their Way Home From a Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koepke, living about three miles north of this village, experienced an accident last Monday, which they will not soon forget. While enroute on their way home from a visit in the town of Wayne last Monday morning and near the Jos. Karl cheese factory, three miles west of this village, they met Dr. N. Edw. Hausmann with his automobile. Seeing him approach, Mr. Koepke turned out of the road, which was a high embankment. When the auto approached the horse became shy and in some manner upset the rig, throwing the occupants forcibly to the ground. Dr. Hausmann at once stopped his car and hurried to the scene to release the couple from beneath the buggy, which was damaged considerably. Mrs. Koepke received only a few slight bruises, while her husband escaped injury.

WAYNE.

John Kirsch of Milwaukee spent last Sunday here with his parents.

Mr. Bineman and family of Burlington, Wis., spent the forepart of the week with his wife's folks, Sam Hawig and family, and other relatives.

What's the trouble with some of the fine high priced autos that they are not seen on our roads? Is it on account of the poor roads and too much rain?

Miss Lizzie Nisius of Allenton spent Sunday and Monday here with the John Hawig family. She also attended the St. Kilian Kirmess on Monday.

MORE WOLVES IN TOWN OF ERIN

A Number of Farmers Had Some of Their Young Poultry Killed

The farmers of the town of Erin are again being bothered by wolves. One made its appearance Sunday near John Monroe's where it killed a large number of young turkeys and chickens. There seems to be no question as to its being a wolf, as the animal has been seen by so many different persons. Thomas Toner is among those who vouch for its being a wolf. The farmers in that vicinity say it is going to be about impossible for them to raise young stock or poultry if this keeps on and hope the county will raise the bounty on wolves so that they will be exterminated.—Hartford Press.

Drowns at Forest Lake

George Burns, 16 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Burns of Edgewater, Chicago, Ill., was unfortunate in being drowned at Forest Lake last Tuesday afternoon while swimming he no doubt was the victim of cramps. The accident occurred on the North end of the lake across from the Forest Lake Resort. The boy was seen on Monday while in the act of diving into the lake from a boat. As soon as he realized his danger he called for help, but before aid arrived he sank to the bottom.

The Burns family arrived at the lake on Monday with intentions of enjoying a two months vacation there. This accident will no doubt change their plans.

Soon after the lad sank out of sight, a search for the recovery of the body was made, which lasted during the night and Wednesday morning Grappling hooks were the only means of recovering the remains, which were secured from Fond du Lac Wednesday morning.

The body was recovered at 11:30 Wednesday morning and at once prepared for shipment. The remains were taken to the home of the unfortunate boy's parents at Chicago on the 5:25 P. M. passenger train Wednesday afternoon for interment.

ADVANCEMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Association Now Has a Membership of Forty-nine. Will Endeavor to Boost the Village

The Kewaskum Advancement Association met in a special meeting last Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the Village Hall with nearly all members present. The Association now has a membership of 49, which represents nearly every business enterprise in the village. It is the aim of the association to boost Kewaskum, therefore every citizen who is in favor of this movement is cordially invited to join the ranks and help the good cause. The charter is still open. Get busy and be a member by signing this constitution, which can be found at Geo. H. Schmidt's office.

The secretary of the association was instructed to negotiate with Geo. McKerron, Supt. of Farmer's institutes, for an institute to be held in this village. If successful in getting a date, the association will do all in their power to make this one of the best and largest institutes ever held in the state of Wisconsin.

FIVE CORNERS

Chas. Rauch and Fred Schleich were South Byron callers on Sunday.

Miss Lorena Rempel spent a few days of this week at the F. Harter home.

Mrs. M. Wenzel and daughter Lizzie of Oshkosh spent the Fourth with relatives in this vicinity.

WISCONSIN LIGHT GUARD ARE COMING

Between Fifty and Sixty Members of the Wisconsin Light Guard of Milwaukee will be Present at the Homecoming

SHAM BATTLE IN NORTH SIDE PARK

The Soldiers will Give a Sham Battle and Other Army Drills in the North Side Park on Sunday Afternoon of the Homecoming

At the Advancement Association meeting held Tuesday evening the program committee reported, that since announcing the program for the Homecoming to be held in this village on Saturday and Sunday, July 27th and 28th, they had a proposition for the association in regard to having the Wisconsin Light Guard of Milwaukee, consisting of about 50 and 65 members to be present at the Homecoming celebration. This proposition was met very enthusiastically by all members present, and it was decided to have the soldiers come to this village. The military men will be seen in the parade on Sunday morning and in a sham battle and other military drills on Sunday afternoon in the North Side Park. They will come to this village either on Saturday afternoon or evening and camp in the North Side Park.

In order to defray the expenses of having these honorable men come to this village the association found it necessary to charge 10 cts admission to the park on Sunday afternoon. Children under 16 years of age will be admitted free of charge. This attraction ought to attract everybody in this community, as this will be an attraction Kewaskum or its vicinity never had. Come and see the soldiers in a sham battle and other military drills. Be on hand and honor these men, show your loyal spirit to the nation.

The exact program of the military men will be announced next week.

Wisconsin Lands Advancing

Badger Farmers Beginning to Appreciate the Value of Their Farms and Make Prices Accordingly

Martin Heublein, the real estate hustler has been doing business this week and reports four farms sold by him. The Julius Miller farm of 56 acres was sold to Fred Klemp of the town of Hubbard at $156 dollars an acre. The Anton Groscholski farm of 134 acres he sold to Louis Luedke in the town of Herman for $120 an acre. He also sold the Louis Buskirk farm of 60 acres and the Stan Wichinski farm of 60 acres to Fred Luck of LeRoy. The first brought $135 an acre, and the other $110. These farms are across the road from each other and will thus make Mr. Luedke a nice farm of 120 acres.—Fox Lake (Dodge Co.) Representative.

The average value of Dodge County in 1910 is shown by the census to have been $80.06 per acre. While the above may be better than the average, it is not reasonable to expect that the cheaper of them is more than an average farm, and on the basis of the cheapest we have a rise of 37.5 per cent in two years.

And the fact remains that there are in the upper Wisconsin counties large acreages of just as good land that can be obtained at $15 to $20 per acre and that can be cleared for intensive cultivation at a cost of from $16 to $30 per acre.

ELMORE.

J. H. Kleinhans was to Fond du Lac on business Monday.

Fred Schultz and family visited Sunday at Chas. Struebung's.

Henry Rauch of St. Kilian spent Sunday fishing at Schrauth's pond.

Wm. Schmidt of Kewaskum was a caller here Sunday he made the trip with his auto.

Alvin Kleinhans of Marion, Wis. and his friend Albert Buss spent over the Fourth here.

J. H. Kleinhans sold his Lambert auto to Gerhard Fellenz he delivered same Wednesday.

Alma Hughes of Rosendale was engaged as teacher in the local school for the coming term.

The local Stars will cross bats with the Ashford team tomorrow Sunday on the home grounds.

Rudolph Guggesberg purchased a residence of Aug. Bohland and a lot of Christ Struebung on North Ave.

Jos. Fischer will sell all kinds of soft drinks and fruit from tomorrow Sunday on at Schrauth's pond.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Kewaskum, Wis., July 1st 1912 at 7 o'clock p. m.

Pursuant to law and notices duly posted on the school house door and other public places, the annual school meeting of the Joint School District No. 5 of the village and town of Kewaskum in the County of Washington, Wisconsin was held in the High School room of said district.

The director N. J. Mertea called the meeting to order and then read the notice for the meeting.

On motion Val. Peters was chosen chairman of the meeting.

Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

The report of the Auditing committee was read by Val. Peters as follows:

Kewaskum, Wis., June 30, 1912. To the qualified electors of the Joint School District No. 5 of the village and town of Kewaskum, Washington county, Wisconsin Gentlemen:

Your committee appointed at the annual school meeting of 1911, hereby report to you that we have carefully examined and compared the books, accounts and vouchers of the clerk and treasurer for the school year ending June 30, 1912, and find them to be true and correct.

The committee has also satisfied itself of the efficient and business like manner employed by the above named officers in keeping their books and accounts. Respectfully submitted.

Val. Peters, Chairman, Louis Brandt, Committee of Audit.

Motion made and seconded that the reports of the committee and of the auditing committee be accepted as read and placed on file. Motion carried.

On motion the chair appointed Messrs. John Martin, Peter Mies and Otto Lay as committee to destroy vouchers. Thereupon the committee reported that they had destroyed the vouchers as ordered.

The clerk read his annual report and upon motion the report was accepted and ordered to be placed on file.

Estimations and Recommendations by the School Board were read by the clerk as follows:

We, the undersigned School Board of Joint School District No. 5 of the village and town of Kewaskum in the county of Washington, Wisconsin, respectfully estimate approximately the receipts and disbursements for the ensuing year as follows:

DISBURSEMENTS. Teachers wages $3100.00 Fuel 200.00 Janitors wages 240.00 Miscellaneous 300.00 Total $3840.00

RECEIPTS. Bal. on hand June 29, 1912 $ 579.38 Outstanding Tuition 225.00 High School Aid 320.00 State School Money 500.00 County School Money 500.00 Total $2525.38

Therefore we, would respectfully recommend that at the annual school meeting July 1st, 1912, that there be two thousand ($2000.00) dollars raised for maintaining the school as above estimated for the ensuing year, and further we recommend that there be nine months school.

All of which is respectfully submitted. Dated June 29, 1912.

N. J. Mertea Director Resolved that the recommendation of A. G. Koch Treasurer L. D. Guth Clerk.

Resolution No. 1 was offered by Mr. D. M. Rosenheimer as follows: Resolved that the recommendation for the provision of maintaining school to be amended for the purpose of hiring an additional Asst. teacher for the High School and provide a recitation room.

D. M. Rosenheimer. A viva voce vote was taken on the recommendation as amended by Resolution No. 1 offered by D. M. Rosenheimer, but the chair was carried or not, therefore he ordered that a vote be taken by ballot.

Upon motion the chair appointed Newton Rosenheimer and Dr. Wm. Klumb as tellers. Thereupon a vote was taken by ballot which resulted in carrying recommendation amended by Resolution No. 1 by a vote of 20 for and 19 against.

Resolution No. 2 was offered by Jos. Schmidt as follows: Resolved, by the annual School meeting of Joint School District No. 5 of the village and town of Kewaskum, Washington county, Wisconsin, that there be and hereby is raised for teachers wages and for the maintaining of the school for the ensuing year, the sum of three thousand ($3000.00) dollars. Further Resolved, that there be nine months school and the number of teachers shall be one more as the year before and sexes to be engaged be left to the School Board's discretion.

Jos. Schmidt. Dated July 1st, 1912.

Motion made and seconded that Resolution No. 2 be adopted, Motion carried.

On motion the meeting proceeded by informal ballot for the election of a treasurer for the term of three years. Newton Rosenheimer and Dr. Wm. Klumb acted as tellers.

Result of informal ballot was as follows: number of votes cast 39 of which August Koch received 35, David Rosenheimer 2 Jos. Schmidt 1 and blank 1.

Motion made by John Muehleis that the informal ballot be made formal, motion carried, and Aug.

RIVER CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Walter Schulz, Aged 22, Dies While Bathing

Taken With Syncope While Swimming in Milwaukee River at Kuester's "Island."

The West Bend millpond claimed another victim last Friday, Walter Schulz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schultz of this city, going to his death in those waters. Young Schulz, who was employed as plumber and steamfitter by the A. C. Fuge Hardware Co., was at work that morning in the new Carl Piek residence. The intense heat proved to much for him and in company with several friends went to the millpond for a swim. The boys occupied one of the small cottages on the opposite shore of Kuester's "Island," disrobing there. Schulz was first to disrobe, but his comrades warned him not to go into the water until he had cooled off. However, he did not heed their warning and plunged into the water. He swam toward the middle of the river, when suddenly he sank and arose no more. Horrified

THIRD PARTY CALL

SENATOR DIXON ISSUES SUMMONS FOR CONVENTION AT CHICAGO AUGUST 5.

40 STATES ARE REPRESENTED

Statement of National Progressive Provisional Committee Is Described as a "Declaration of Independence"—Number of Delegates Reduced.

New York, July 9.—The National Progressive provisional committee, reaffirming "Thou Shalt Not Steal" as one of the cardinal principles of this campaign, issued Sunday the formal call for the convention at which it is planned to name Theodore Roosevelt once again for president.

Chicago is the place and August 5 the date.

To the people of the United States without regard to past political differences, who through repeated betrayals, realize that today the power of the crooked political bosses and of the privileged classes behind them is so strong in the two old party organizations that no helpful movement in the real interests of our country can come out of either;

"Who believe that the time has come for a national progressive movement—a nation-wide movement—on non-sectional lines, so that the people may be served in sincerity and truth by an organization unfettered by obligation to conflicting interests;

"Who believe in the right and capacity of the people to rule themselves, and effectively to control all the agencies of their government, and who hold that only through social and industrial justice, thus secured, can honest property find permanent protection;

"Who believe that government by the few tends to become, and has in fact become, government by the sortid influences that control the few;

"Who believe that only through the movement proposed can we obtain in the nation and the several states the industrial evolution; legislation which shall favor honest business and yet control the great agencies of modern business so as to insure their being used in the interest of the whole people; legislation which shall promote prosperity and at the same time secure the better and more equitable diffusion of prosperity; legislation which shall promote the economic well-being of the honest farmer, wage worker, professional man and business man alike.

"Who believe that only this type of wise industrial evolution will avert industrial revolution;

"Who believe that wholesome party government can come only if there is wholesome party management in a spirit of service to the whole country and who hold that the commandment delivered at Sinai, 'Thou Shalt Not Steal' applies to politics as well as to business.

"To all in accord with these views a call is hereby issued by the provisional committee under the resolution of the mass meeting held in Chicago on June 22 last, to send from each state a number of delegates whose votes in the convention shall count for as many votes as the state shall have senators and representatives in congress to meet in convention at Chicago on the 5th day of August, 1912, for the purpose of nominating candidates to be supported for the positions of president and vice-president of the United States."

FAMOUS CASE ENDS

CAMORRISTS GUILTY OF MURDER; PRISONER CUTS THROAT.

Band Caged as Wild Beasts Act the Part When Sentences Are Read.

Viterbo, Italy, July 10.—Charged with having murdered Gennaro Cucolo and his wife in June, 1906, the Camorristi, who have been on trial for nearly two years, were Monday adjudged guilty in varying degrees. The verdict declares Corrado Sortino guilty of both murders; Nicolo Morra, Antonio Cerrato and Mariano De Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cucolo, and Giuseppe Salvi guilty of the murder of Cucolo's wife. Enrico Alfano, the alleged leader of the Camorristi; Giovanni Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime and members of a criminal organization.

The president of the court immediately sentenced the condemned men. Cortino, Merrato, Salvi, Morra, Di Gennaro, Alfano, Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment and to ten years' police surveillance each; Di Mattio to ten years and six months' imprisonment and ten years' surveillance; Ascritore to ten years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance; Vitozzi, the priest, seven years' imprisonment and two years' surveillance; the others to five years' imprisonment and three years' surveillance.

When the accused men were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Marinas suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. He fell to the ground in a pool of blood and general pandemonium reigned. The other prisoners screamed like wild animals, shouting invectives and imprecations.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES

Washington, July 8.—The senate passed the naval appropriation bill, carrying an expenditure of approximately $133,000,000, the largest sum ever allowed the naval establishment. It is $15,000,000 more than the bill that passed the house and $6,500,000 in excess of the estimate made by the navy department.

AMERICANS WIN BIG RACE

Craig, Meyer and Lippincott Take First Three Places With Belote Fourth—Feat Never Equalled.

Stockholm, July 9.—One, two, three, four was the way the Americans finished Sunday in the first track event of the Olympic, the 100-meter dash. After the finish three American flags were hoisted at end of stadium, denoting that Americans had won first, second and third places, or a total of six points in the grand summary.

The hero of the second day was Ralph Craig of Detroit and Michigan university, who won the event in 10.45 seconds, equaling the Olympic record. A yard behind him came Alvah T. Meyer, separated inches from Donald F. Lippincott, who was a like distance ahead of Belote.

HILLES IS CHOSEN

TAFT AID NAMED CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

OPEN FIGHT IN NEW YORK

James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts, member of the tariff board, selected as secretary-treasurer to be appointed on July 19.

Washington, July 11.—President Taft's secretary, Charles D. Hilles, was chosen chairman of the Republican national committee, and James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts, a member of the tariff board, was made secretary Tuesday. These selections were made by the nine members of the national committee acting as a sub-committee after conferences with President Taft. Chairman Hilles and the full national committee will meet Friday, July 19, at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York to appoint a treasurer, other officers, an executive committee and an advisory committee.

At the meeting Otto C. Bannard of New York, Charles G. Dawes and David B. Forgan of Chicago, John W. Wamsaker of Philadelphia, E. F. Swinney of Kansas City and John Hays Hammond of Washington were considered for the office of treasurer, but not even a tentative decision was reached.

Mr. Hilles will resign his office as secretary to the president Saturday. Headquarters of the national committee are to be opened in New York the first of next week. They probably will be in the Metropolitan Life building, the same as four years ago. The opening of a middle west headquarters at Chicago and a Pacific coast headquarters at Portland, Ore., was considered at the meeting of the sub-committee and practically decided upon.

SAYS FUNK SUIT WAS PLOT

Wife of Man Who Sued for Alienation of Affection Declares Case Was Conspiracy.

Chicago, July 11.—A sensation was caused in Chicago Tuesday by the confession, according to dispatches from New York, of Josephine O'Reilly Henning, wife of John C. Henning, whose suit against Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, was recently branded false by a jury. Mrs. Henning, in a written confession, signed by herself, vindicated Mr. Funk. She denied that she ever told her husband and said the charges brought against him were false. According to the woman's confession her husband and her lawyer, Daniel Donahoe, knew that the charges were false. Mrs. Henning also told of receiving money from time to time from Attorney Donahoe.

The confession goes into detail and takes up the alleged plot against Funk step by step and also reveals the mysterious movements of Mrs. Henning herself, who had been sought for some time. It came just on the eve of the hearing of Miss Aileen Heppner, a witness in the case against Funk, on a charge of perjury.

The confession is declared to have been made in the presence of Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Marshall of Cook county and Frank H. Scott of the law firm which represented Mr. Funk in the trial. To them the woman stated that she would have nothing further to do with "it," that she never saw Mr. Funk in her life, and that she now wanted to tell the truth.

CRUSHING BLOW FOR THAW.

FIND BUBONIC PLAGUE IN CUBA.

Havana, July 9.—The existence of bubonic plague in Havana has been definitely determined. A special board of physicians on Sunday pronounced a case at Las Animas hospital true bubonic.

ISMAY IS ABSOLVED

HEAD OF BRITISH INQUIRY SUBMITS HIS REPORT.

Lord Mersey Declares Disaster Was Caused by High Speed at Which Liner Was Going.

London, July 8.—The Board of Trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster is at an end and the report and recommendations of Lord Mersey, the commissioner who presided at the court of inquiry, have been submitted to the five assessors sitting with him.

In the report J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, is exonerated of the popular charge that he influenced the navigation of the ship or the speed that it attained. He is commended for the consideration showed toward the Titanic's passengers at the time of the collision with the iceberg.

Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon and his wife, Lucille, a dressmaker, who paid the men in charge of their lifeboat to get away from the wreck as quickly as possible, are not discussed in the report. Lord Mersey believed it no part of his duty to pass on such incidents.

On the other hand, Symons, a seaman who testified about ignoring appeals for help from passengers struggling in the sea, is censured for not returning from the Carpathia to succor those drowning.

Lord Mersey's declaration regarding the chief causes of the disaster is that the speed at which the Titanic was going was principally responsible. As a corollary to this he finds the liner might have made its schedule at a rate of two knots an hour less than it was making. Captain Smith is declared to have been following only the established practice of navigators in maintaining the speed he did through the ice fields.

There is an expectation that exceptions may be taken to the references to Ismay and Captain Smith by the assessors.

CAUSTIC RAP FOR ARCHBALD

House Committee Says Judge Is Unfit and That His Moral Responsibility Is Deaden.

Washington, July 10.—Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the committee on judiciary of the house of representatives presented to the house Monday 13 articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States court of commerce. Mr. Clayton's report was unanimous from his committee. It constitutes the ninth impeachment of a judicial or civil official of the United States since the foundation of the government and is the first since the impeachment trial of Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida, who was acquitted February 27, 1905.

"The conduct of this judge has been exceedingly reprehensible and in marked contrast to the high sense of judicial ethics and probity that generally characterizes the federal judiciary," the committee said in summarizing up its findings of misbehavior in office against Judge Archbald. His business transactions while a judge on the bench were held to unfit him for further service, and a resolution was presented impeaching him and halting him for trial before the United States senate.

"Your committee is of opinion that Judge Archbald's sense of moral responsibility has become deadened," said the report. "He has prostituted his high office for personal profit. He has attempted by various transactions to commercialize his potentiality as judge."

BOND LAW NETS $46,277

Public Service Corporations Assessed $1 for Each Thousand Dollars of Indebtedness.

Madison.—During the first year of the operation of the stock and bond law of Wisconsin, which ended on Monday, the state has received fees totaling $46,277.30 from public service corporations, accruing from an assessment of $1 for each thousand dollars of the face value of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued by such companies. No fee is required when the issue is made for the purpose of guaranteeing, taking over, refunding, discharging or retiring bonds or other evidence of indebtedness. The fees collected are paid into the common school fund income.

AYLWARD IS NOT IN RACE

Madison Man Does Not Seek Democratic Nomination for Governor—Will Support Schmitz.

TAGGART BURNED THE BOOKS

Receipts for Democratic Campaign of 1904 "Not Worth While," He Testifies to Senate Committee.

Washington, July 11.—"When we got through it was not worth while," replied Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee in 1904, when asked by the senate campaign expenditure committee Tuesday if he ever figured up his receipts and expenditures of his committee during the Parker campaign.

Mr. Taggart swore that the treasurer's books came into his possession just before the Denver convention in 1904 and that he burned them and "other dead matter" before turning over the organization records to Norman E. Mack, the new chairman, in 1908.

Mr. Taggart was unable to remember much about the contributions. From hearsay he expressed a belief that August Belmont, Thomas F. Ryan and Cord Meyer, all of New York, had contributed.

Unearth Large Skeleton.

Milton.—While digging gravel on the William Spitzer farm in the Rock river valley, just below Lake Koshkonong, the skeleton of a large man was unearthed by Henry Green. It is supposed the bones are those of an Indian buried before white men came.

Girl Drowns in Millrace.

Janesville.—Sophia Hirsbrunner, 19, fell in a raceway near a mill and was drowned. The girl was returning from a fishing trip and was making a short cut homeward when she fell off a plank into the millrace.

State Board Will Meet.

Madison.—The state board of public affairs will meet July 20, when the program, including the state budget and the northern Wisconsin school problem, will be reviewed.

UPPER BERTH LAW IS HELD INVALID

Judge Stevens Decides Test Case for Milwaukee Road.

HOLDS ACT UNREASONABLE

Takes Property Without Compensation—Closing of Upper Berth Does Not Add to Comfort of Public in General, Says Court.

Madison.—Judge E. Ray Stevens, in circuit court, has declared invalid the upper berth law, which provides that whenever a person shall occupy a lower berth in a sleeping car and the upper berth of the same section shall at the same time not be engaged nor occupied the upper one shall not be let down.

The case was that of the state against the Milwaukee road. James T. Hall was a passenger on a sleeping car of the defendant company from Portage to Star Lake and demanded of the man in charge of the car that the upper berth of the section occupied remain closed pursuant to provisions of chapter 272 laws of 1911. The railway employee refused to comply with the request.

Judge Stevens finds that the closing of upper berths has very little effect upon the circulation of air in sleeping cars when all lower berths are made up and ready for occupancy, that the lowering of the upper berths does not endanger the lives, health or safety of persons occupying lower berths; that the closing of the upper berth will be a convenience to a person occupying the lower one and add to his comfort alone and not to that of the public generally; that the defendant has the right to charge for the use of space occupied by the upper berth and that such right is the property of the defendant. The court holds that chapter 272 is not a valid exercise of police power nor of reserve power to alter or amend the charter of the defendant company and is void and of no effect because it takes the defendant's property without just compensation and without due process of law.

Wisconsin News Briefs.

Madison.—Receipts of the internal revenue officer for the western district of Wisconsin for the year ending June 30, were $1,106,653.58 as against $1,199,325.53 during the previous year, a falling off of $92,671.95, according to the annual report of Collector of Internal Revenue Gilbert. The falling off is largely due to less corporation tax receipts and a smaller income from the sale of beer stamps, which the revenue department attributes to the long cold spell.

Wausau.—The commercial associations of Wausau, Merrill and Stevens Point have joined in a movement to secure a new railroad through the Wisconsin river valley. The Soo road will be asked to build a line from Prentice to Stevens Point via Wausau and Merrill.

Marshfield.—About 125 trustees and superintendents of county asylums in Wisconsin met in convention here. Dr. Frank Woodbury, Philadelphia, member of the Pennsylvania state board in charge of insane hospitals, complimented the Wisconsin system of caring for the incurable insane in county asylums and also commended the agricultural centers which are being established on the county farms.

Madison.—The summer meeting of the State Horticultural society will be held at Bayfield on Aug. 21 and 22. There will be free excursions by boat to Madeline island, through the Apostle group and along the shore line to Cornucopia. Visitors will be shown the extensive fruit farms around Washburn and Bayfield.

Green Bay.—Two men were probably fatally injured when an elevator in the Oldenburg-Kriener furniture store dropped three stories. Hans Hansen suffered fractures of both legs, severe scalp wounds and internal injuries. Louis Oldenburg, one of the proprietors, had one leg fractured, suffered scalp wounds and may also be internally injured. The elevator dropped when the supporters gave away.

Ashland.—J. A. Binder was arrested on the charge of selling fake diamonds in logging camps near here.

Racine.—Laborers employed in building the Arrowhead breakwater, struck because they were obliged to work ten hours or more a day for the same pay in violation of the contract. A protest was registered with the district attorney, claiming that the eight-hour day prevails on all government work.

Couderay.—Ray Argetsinger, the 3-year-old child lost in the woods near here, was found near Devil's lake, in the Couderay Indian reservation, four miles from where he was lost, having wandered around in the woods sixty-two hours.

MAY BAR MEMBERS FROM EXHIBITING

Action to be Taken by Managers of State Fair.

HAS BEEN BANE FOR YEARS

Mrs. Adda F. Howie, Only Woman Member of Board and Big Exhibitor, is Active in Movement and Willing to Leave Cattle on Farm.

Milwaukee.—Members of the state board of agriculture and officials of the state fair may be prohibited absolutely from exhibiting at the fair. Action was taken in the last board meeting to amend the regulations with that object in view and a deciding vote will be taken in the next regular meeting.

The motion did not pass without opposition and a pointed discussion ensued. It was argued that many of the most valuable members of the board and capable fair officials would be compelled to make sacrifices with their livestock and products barred. The fact that there is possibility for corruption, and that the present rule has been a bane to the fair for many years, was set forth forcibly by several of the board members and the argument for a sweeping change seemed to find favor with a decided majority.

It is claimed that several possible and desirable exhibitors had withdrawn their support from the state fair and refused ever to exhibit again in competition with members of the board or of officials in control.

One of the primary spirits in the movement is Mrs. Adda F. Howie, first and only woman member of the state board. Mrs. Howie also possibly would be affected most of any member of the board, as she is one of the leading cattle breeders of the state. She expressed herself as willing to leave her cattle at her farm for the interest of the state fair.

"I was told how I might get around the situation by resigning," said Mrs. Howie, "but I shall not resign. I have made up my mind on this matter and I shall stay right on the board. I have reached a state of mind where honor is worth more than the few dollars I might receive in premiums."

APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE

Grand Army Department Commander Completes New Staff—Watrous Made Adjutant General.

Milwaukee.—Department Commander Spratt of the Grand Army announces his completed staff appointments as follows: Adjutant General, J. A. Watrous, Milwaukee; quartermaster general, F. A. Bird, Madison; chief of staff, Harry J. Goddard, Chippewa Falls; patriotic instructor, Hosea W. Rood, Madison; judge advocate, James S. Anderson, Manitowish; inspector, J. W. Cochran, Grand Rapids; chief mustering officer, D. G. Sampson, Ashland; master of transportation, W. H. Starkweather, Milwaukee; assistant master of transportation, William DeSteele, Fond du Lac; visiting committee, O. A. Britton, Superior; W. H. Bennett, Madison, and W. H. Blyton, Sparta. Aides de camp will be named in future orders.

WILL PROBE CONTROVERSY

State Board of Public Affairs to Investigate Alleged Cheese Market Manipulation.

Sheboygan.—At the request of Gov. McGovern, the cheese price controversy, aroused by the charges of Senator Henry Krumrey of Plymouth, will be investigated by the state board of public affairs, before which the state senator will advance his claims of market manipulation. It is the plan of the board, according to local reports, to establish a general cheese board in place of the local bodies now operating, which will represent the entire state and be controlled by the producers.

"It is expected that the state board will make suggestions for the organization of local co-operative associations for the sale of cheese similar to those of the berry and fruit men in the western part of the state," said Senator Krumrey.

Rides Off Bridge, Drowns.

Sturgeon Bay.—Stegman, aged 22, of Forestville rode off the bridge across the bay into an open draw while going home on a bicycle and was drowned. This is the first fatal accident since the bridge was put across the bay.

$7,000 Fire at Briggsville.

Portage.—Briggsville was threatened by a fire which destroyed the Lake house, together with three horses and a large touring car. The blaze reached such proportions that aid was called from the Portage fire department. The loss was $7,000.

Wausau Youth Drowned.

Boat and Boathouse Burned.

Green Bay.—Fire destroyed a boat and boathouse belonging to Benjamin Helgeson. Many business houses were threatened, but the fire was extinguished with a loss estimated at $1,500.

Rock County Pioneer Dead.

Janesville.—Guy Wheeler, aged 82, pioneer resident of Rock county, died at his home here of old age. Mr. Wheeler settled in La Prairie in the early '40s.

TAFT PRAISES GEN. BRAGG

President Lauds Courage of Late General in Letter to Lafayette County Historical Society.

Darlington.—President Taft has sent to this city a letter in which he pays high tribute to Gen. Edward S. Bragg, who died at his home in Fond du Lac recently.

The letter was written at the request of James E. Maynard, an expert proofreader in the government printing office. Mr. Maynard served in company D, First Wisconsin Infantry, in the war with Spain, and his home is in Lafayette county.

The letter was sent to Capt. P. H. Conley, president of the Lafayette County Historical society. It will be deposited with the historical exhibit here, which is one of the largest in Wisconsin. The exhibit contains letters from Theodore Roosevelt and Admiral Dewey, also secured through Mr. Maynard.

In his letter to Mr. Maynard, President Taft says:

"You say that Gen. Bragg was met him at various times since. He memory will be highly respected in Wisconsin. Certainly these statements are and ought to be true. Gen. Bragg was one of those men who had courage and the power of leading men such as to instill in the regiments and brigades he commanded the faculty of earning victories in the field. His character was sturdy and upright, and his remark that he loved Grover Cleveland for the enemies he had made indicated these characteristics.

WANT OFFICIALS TO RESIGN

Eau Claire Socialists Demand That Mayor and Councilman File Their Resignations.

Eau Claire.—The Eau Claire branch of the Social Democratic party adopted resolutions directing that the resignation of William Barnes as councilman be filed with the proper authorities and that papers necessary to petition for the recall of Mayor John B. Fleming be prepared.

The complaint is in regard to the management of the city water supply. Barnes was selected by the Social Democrats last April, and as a condition of the support at the election he had filed an advance resignation, which was placed in a safety deposit box by the Social Democratic secretary.

State Auctioneers Elect Officers.

Neenah.—At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Auctioneers' association held here, the following officers were elected: President, A. O. Ellison, Kingston; vice-president, William Ebbe, Marshfield; secretary, and treasurer, J. H. Denhardt, Neenah. L. G. Herington, Richland Center; N. G. Wilbur, Maplehurst, and James Weller, Picketts, were elected trustees. Oshkosh was selected as the next meeting place.

Prominent Racine Mason Dead.

Racine.—Charles H. Washburn, a thirty-third degree Mason and for years prominently connected with that order in Wisconsin, died at his home here, aged 61 years. Mr. Washburn had been a member of the board of education and was past grand commander of the Wisconsin Knights Templar, and was also a former president officer of the blue lodge and the commandery at Racine. He was also connected with the Scottish rite work.

Pardoned to Save Mind.

Madison.—Gov. McGovern has granted a conditional pardon to John Matthews, serving a fourteen-year sentence in Waupun for second degree murder committed at Neenah in March, 1909. The terms of the pardon are that Matthews abstain absolutely from the use of liquor and conduct himself as a good citizen. Matthews' mind has become affected, and a report by Warden Woodward and Dr. Rock Slocy, prison physician, says the only chance to save him is to give him his freedom.

To Hold Joint Convention.

Wausau.—The joint convention of the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association and the Wisconsin League of Municipalities will be held in Wausau on July 23, 24 and 25.

Pioneer, Aged 90, a Suicide.

Port Atkinson.—Wanton Briggs, aged 90, was found on the street here, dying in convulsions as a result of a dose of carbolic acid.

Near Death in a Launch.

Portage.—Four persons narrowly escaped death in a gasoline launch, when an air tank exploded, blowing out the entire side of the launch.

Master Painters Will Meet.

Wausau.—The eighth convention of the Wisconsin Master Painters' association will be held on July 30, 31 and Aug. 1 and 2. About 200 master painters are expected to be in attendance.

Rain Saves Pea Crop.

Manitowish.—After three weeks and four days of dry weather one of the heaviest showers in years broke the long drouth here. The rainfall saved the pea and other crops.

Rufus McFarland Dead.

Grand Rapids.—Rufus E. McFarland, pioneer lumberman and well known river pilot, died suddenly here, aged 78. He came to Grand Rapids from Fox Lake, Dodge county, in 1873.

Fond du Lac Lad Electrocutted.

Fond du Lac.—Leonard, 4-year-old son of Henry Gutreutter, was electrocuted when he came in contact with a live wire hanging from a pole near his home.

KENTUCKY FEUDIST SLAIN AT A PICNIC

Meeting of Enemies Near Shawano Causes Murder.

KNIFE WOUND IS FATAL

Factions Join in General Fusillade After Attack—Sheriff of Langlade County Pursues Fleeing Southerners—Frank Crisp Is Victim.

Shawano.—In a feud which is said to have originated in the mountains of Kentucky, Frank Crisp, a southerner, was fatally knifed at White Lake in Langlade county, thirty miles north of Shawano.

"Bud" Stanley of West Virginia, who is alleged to have murdered the Kentuckian, is fleeing southward, hotly pursued by the Langlade county sheriff.

According to witnesses, Stanley and Crisp avoided an encounter during a ball game at Langlade several weeks ago, only to meet at a picnic and dance on the banks of White Lake, both seeking satisfaction. A personal attack followed and it is asserted that as the two men clinched "Bud," a son of the elder feudist, attacked his father's opponent with a knife, severing a large artery and mortally wounding Stanley in the abdomen. The Stanley clan drew their guns and, keeping up a running fusillade, sought refuge in a log cabin. It is reported that a gun was placed in the hands of the dying Crisp, who joined in the attack which followed, as he lay bleeding on the ground.

TO HOLD LAST REUNION

"German Regiment" Will Have "Abschiedsfest"—To Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary of Formation.

Milwaukee.—In the beginning of August, 1862, when the storm of war raged over America, there was formed in Milwaukee the Twenty-sixth regiment of Wisconsin volunteers, which later went into history as the "German regiment," because all its members were Germans. It fought in the battles of Gettysburg, Chancellorsville, Fredericksburg, Lookout Mountain and many others, and marched with Sherman to Atlanta, and its record is one of honor.

Next month it will be fifty years since this regiment was formed, and in commemoration of the anniversary the survivors are planning a celebration which will for the last time bring together all the men who stood shoulder to shoulder in the battles of '62. The date of the reunion has not been decided, but it is planned to hold it either Aug. 12 or Aug. 18.

CITY OFFICIALS MUST PAY

Court Decides That Green Bay Mayor and Council Misappropriated City Funds.

Green Bay.—By decision of Judge Samuel Hastings of the Circuit court, the mayor and city councilmen will be forced to repay to the city treasury $700. Judge Hastings decided that the council misappropriated that sum in allowing the John F. Hill Paving company interest on money which the city withheld pending inspection of a newly paved street.

Issues State Bank Report.

Madison.—State Bank Commissioner A. E. Kuolt has issued a report on the condition of state and mutual savings banks up to the close of business on June 14. Total resources and liabilities were given at $198,702,967.90, which, compared with the same item as listed in the last report, issued on April 15, marks an increase of $1,416,764.54. The number of banks has been increased by five since that date, and now totals 589. The total deposits on June 14 were $164,342,492.80, marking an increase of $1,333,265.18.

Altoona Has $7,000 Blaze.

Eau Claire.—Fire early today at Altoona destroyed Carlson Brothers' building, occupied as saloon and billiard hall, lively stable, the Carlson residence and a barber shop. The damage is estimated at $7,000, covered by insurance.

Jenks Out for Congress.

Dodgeville.—County Judge Aldo Jenks of this city has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress from the Third district. He is a past grand master of the Masonic lodge and a life member of the grand lodge.

Bullet Removed From Brain.

Fond du Lac.—A revolver bullet was removed from the brain of Clarence Schmidt, aged 9, at St. Agnes' hospital. The boy was shot in the forehead by a stray shot from a shooting gallery.

Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Kaukauna.—Frank Bauer, an employe of a paper mill, was found dead in bed from the effects of carbolic acid, taken with suicidal intent. Bauer's wife was absent at a picnic.

Breidenbach to Assist Goff.

Milwaukee.—United States District Attorney Guy D. Goff has announced the appointment of Otto H. Breidenbach as his assistant to fill the vacancy which will occur August 1 by the resignation of John W. McMillan.

Change in Temperature Fatal.

La Crosse.—Upon emerging from a refrigerator car, John Spirka fell dead, overcome by the sudden change of temperature.

SOMETHING FOR THE LITTLE ONES

SIGHT OF CAT IN THE DARK

When Feline is in Search of Mouse Where the Light is Dim Pupils of Eyes Open Wide.

Some persons will tell you that cats can see in the dark. Now nothing can see in the dark, but some animals can see with a great deal less light than others, just as some cameras will take a picture with less light than others, according to the amount of light, or else you speed up the shutter or slow it down.

The human eye does this automatically, as the pupil expands or contracts according to the amount of light to which it is exposed; but cats can expand or contract the pupils of their eyes at pleasure, just as you open or shut the stops in the lens of your camera.

When cats are not particularly anxious to see anything the pupils of their eyes become nothing but narrow slits, like this:

But when a cat is hunting a mouse in a room where there is very little light, or when the cat is being hunted by some bad boys and wants to see every move the boys make, it opens the pupils of its eyes until they are perfectly round.

"Dinner at one o'clock should be a heavy meal of the day and should contain a generous amount of all of the three important food elements—proteins (meats and cheese), fats and carbohydrates (starches and sugars). Vegetable soup, roast or boiled butchers' meats, green vegetables and potatoes and a pudding or cold sweet form a reasonable menu. The child should drink water with his dinner, not milk, as the latter when taken with heavy food retards digestion.

Regularity of meal times and plenty of time over the meals (to prevent the "bolting" of food) are also of the utmost importance if the full benefit of the food is to be obtained."

MADE OVER NURSERY RHYME.

Little Bo-Peep sat fast asleep
Beneath a big tree near the sty:
A pig, round and fat,
Saw her as she sat,
And said with a grunt: "O-ho-my!"

And little Bo-Peep stayed fast asleep
Till a bee buzzing round stung her ear!
Then up she did spring,
And cried: "What a sting!
I would best get away from here."

So home she did go (and not very slow)
And showed to dear Mother her ear:
And dear Mother said,
As she wrapped up her head:
"A naughty bee stung you, my dear."

DAY'S DIET FOR SCHOOLBOYS

Appetite is Best Guide, Says Prominent London Physiologist—Few Important Essentials.

The subject of school feeding, on which a conference is to be held at the London Guildhall, was discussed recently by a prominent London physiologist, says the Daily Mail of that city.

"As to the actual amount of food a schoolboy needs, the appetite is the safest guide," he stated. "Four meals a day are required. Breakfast is always an important meal with the schoolboy (particularly if he has had a light supper the night before) and is should be a full, hearty meal.

"It may begin with a moderate dish of porridge, with plenty of sugar and rich milk; after this eggs and bacon or fish, plenty of bread and butter, weak tea (made with hot milk) and a moderate amount of marmalade. A raw apple makes an excellent ending for breakfast. By 11 o'clock a rusk or dry biscuit and a glass of cold milk will probably be appreciated.

"Dinner at one o'clock should be a heavy meal of the day and should contain a generous amount of all of the three important food elements—proteins (meats and cheese), fats and carbohydrates (starches and sugars). # The KITCHEN CABINET

EVERY occupation lifts itself with the enlarging life of her who practices it. The occupation that will not do her, no woman really has a right to occupy herself about.

WHAT TO DO WITH LEFTOVER BITS OF CHEESE.

Cheese is such a valuable food and is particularly good in combination with starchy foods, and those lacking fat and flavor, that it should be found more often upon our tables.

When buying cheese it is best not to get it in too large quantities, as it dries and molds. To keep it from molding, wrap it in a cloth wrung out of vinegar. Grate all the small pieces before they get too dry and keep them in a jar with a tight cover.

In cooking cheese it is well to remember that overheating it makes it indigestible. When possible, add the cheese to a hot dish only long enough to melt it. A tablespoonful of cheese will flavor a dish, and not even a scrap should be thrown away.

Butter crackers and sprinkle with grated cheese and a dash of cayenne, place in a hot oven and serve when the cheese is melted.

Cheese Shell Filled With Cabbage.—Boil until tender a small head of young cabbage. Drain, chop and season well. There should be about two cupsful. Put it in an empty edam or pineapple cheese shell, in alternate layers, with one cup of white sauce. Heat in the oven until the sauce bubbles; this will give the cabbage a delicate cheese flavor. Boiled macaroni or rice may be substituted for the cheese if preferred.

Cheese Macaroons.—Spread Macaroons together with any tart jelly and press together with a layer of starchy cheese between.

Cream Cheese Crackers.—Take unsweetened crackers. If not crisp set them in the oven for a few moments. Spread with plum or currant jelly and drop a teaspoonful of cream cheese in the center of each cracker.

Cheese Balls.—Add a dash of tabasco sauce to cream cheese, a pinch of salt, paprika to make it pink, and cream to make a paste. Form into balls and roll in finely chopped black walnuts. Serve on lettuce with French dressing.

Pack cream cheese, well seasoned, into red or green peppers; then serve cut in slices. Very pretty.

FOOD FROM THE CHAFING DISH.

The chafing dish is like reasonable weather, always reasonable, and may be used to regale a theater or a porch party equally entertaining.

The empty spit, never cherished wit; Minerva loves the larder.

For a really enjoyable dish nothing is nicer than frogs' legs. Clean and trim a dozen of the hind legs; season with salt, pepper and roll in crumbs; egg, then crumbs again and saute in butter. Cook only a few at a time, as they should be well browned in the hot blazer. Serve with Sauce Tartare. This is mayonnaise dressing with capers, parsley, olives and pickles and a half a small green onion added, all chopped fine.

Scrambled eggs with cheese is a combination easily prepared in the chafing dish. Scramble the eggs and add just before serving four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese.

Sicilian Omelet.—Beat three eggs slightly, add a teaspoonful of sugar and a pinch of salt. Butter the sides of the blazer, turn in the omelet and cook. Turn on to the plate and serve with Sicilian sauce. Beat half a cup of heavy cream, add a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, and a tablespoonful of melted currant jelly, and one and a half tablespoonfuls of powdered macaroons.

Smothered Mushrooms.—Prepare a cup of fresh mushrooms. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add the mushrooms, sprinkle with salt, paprika and cook slowly for ten minutes. Dredge with one and a half tablespoonfuls of flour and add half a cup of chicken stock. As soon as heated add two eggs slightly beaten and a grating of nutmeg. Be sure that the flour is cooked before adding the eggs.

Chicken a la Reine.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter and add the yolks of three hard-cooked eggs, rubbed to a paste. Soak one-fourth of a cup of cracker crumbs in the same amount of milk and add the egg mixture. Pour on gradually one cup of chicken stock, then add a cup of finely cut cooked chicken. Season with salt, paprika and celery salt. Serve on toast.

Should Be Able to Hear.

One day little four-year-old Effie was playing in the yard, and, seeing a log covered with a curious kind of curled toadstools, she ran into the house and said: "Mamma, can that log hear?"

"No, dear," was the reply, "but why do you ask?"

"Cause it's got ears all over it," answered Eff

EXCUSE ME!

RUPERT HUGHES

NOVELIZED FROM THE COMEDY OF THE SAME NAME.

ILLUSTRATED FROM PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE PLAY AS PRODUCED BY HENRY W. SAVAGE.

SYNOPSIS.

Lieut. Harry Mallory is ordered to the Philippines. He and Marjorie Newton decide to elope, but wreck of tactics prevents their seeing minister on the way to the train. Transcontinental train is taking passengers. Porter has lively time with an Englishman and Ira Lathrop, a Yankee business man. The elopers have an exciting time getting to the train. "Little Jimmie" Wellington, bound for Reno to get a divorce, boards train in maudlin condition. Later Mrs. Jimmie appears. She is also bound for Reno with same object. Likewise Mrs. Sammy Whitcomb. Later blames Mrs. Jimmie for her marital troubles. Classmates of Mallory decorate bridal berth.

CHAPTER VI.—(Continued).

Then Ashton intervened like a dog in the manger and dragged her off to her seat, leaving the young man to exclaim: "Some tamarind, that!" Another young man behind him growled: "Cut out the tamarinds and get to business. Mallory will be here any minute."

"I hate to think what he'll do to us when he sees what we've done to him."

"Well, we have the tickets. We'll claim it's our section till Mallory and Mrs. Mallory come."

They moved on into the car, where the porter confronted them. When he saw that they were loaded with bundles of all shapes and sizes, he waved them away with scorn:

"The emigrant sleeps runs only Toosdays and Thursdays."

From behind the first mass of packages came a brisk military answer: "You black hound! About face—forward march! Section number one."

The porter retreated down the aisle, apologizing glibly. "Scuse me for questioning you, but you-all's baggage looked kind o' eccentric at first."

The two young men dumped their parcels on the seats and began to unwrap them hastily.

"If Mallory catches us, he'll kill us," said Lieutenant Shaw. Lieutenant Hudson only laughed and drew out a long streamer of white satin ribbon. Its glimmer, and the glimmering eyes of the young man excited Mrs. Whitcomb so much that after a little resistance she moved forward, followed by the jealous Ashton.

"Oh, what's up?" she ventured. "It looks like something bridal."

"Talk about womanly intuition!" said Lieutenant Hudson, with an ingratiating salutation.

And then they explained to her that their classmates at West Point, being ordered suddenly to the Philippines, had arranged to elope with his beloved Marjorie Newton; had asked them to get the tickets and check the baggage while he stopped at a minister's to "get spliced and hike for Manila by this train."

Having recounted this plan in the full belief that it was even at that moment being carried out successfully, Lieutenant Hudson, with a ghoulish smile, explained:

"Being old friends of the bride and groom, we want to fix their section up in style and make them truly comfortable."

"Delicious!" gushed Mrs. Whitcomb. "But you ought to have some rice and old shoes."

"Here's the rice," said Hudson. "Here's the old shoes," said Shaw.

"Lovely!" cried Mrs. Whitcomb, but then she grew soberer. "I should think, though, that they—the young couple—would have preferred a stateroom."

"Of course," said Hudson, almost blushing, "but it was taken. This was the best we could do for them."

"That's why we want to make it nice and bride-like," said Shaw. "Perhaps you could help us—a woman's touch—"

"Oh, I'd love to," she glowed, hastening into the section among the young men and the bundles. The unusual stir attracted the porter's suspicions. He came forward with a look of authority:

"Scuse me, but what's all this?"

"Vanish—get out," said Hudson, poking a coin at him. As he turned to obey, Mrs. Whitcomb checked him with: "Oh, Porter, could you get us a hammer and some nails?"

The porter almost blanched: "Good Lawd, Miss, you ain't allowin' to drite nails in that woodwork, is you?" That woodwork was to him what the altar is to the priest.

But Hudson, resorting to heroic measures, hypnotized him with a two-dollar bill: "Here, take this and see nothing, hear nothing, say nothing." The porter ceased to breathe. "I'm blind, deaf and speechless." He turned away, only to come back at once with a timid "Scuse me!"

"You here yet?" growled Hudson. Anxiously the porter pleaded: "I just want to ask one question. Is you all fixin' up for a bridal couple?"

"Foolish question, number eight million, forty-three," said Shaw. "Answer no, we are."

The porter's face glowed like fresh stove polish as he gloated over the prospect. "I tell you, it'll be mahy refreshin' to have a bridal couple on bode! This dog-on Reno train don't carry nothin' much but divorcees. I'm just natchally hongry for a bridal couple."

"Bride coup-bie-les?" came a voice. His echo that had somehow become distorted in transit. It was Little Jimmie Wellington looking for more sympathy. "Whassa zis about bride couple?"

"Why, here's Little Buttercup!"

sang out young Hudson, looking at him in amazed amusement.

"Did I unstan somebody say you're preparing for bride coup?"

Lieutenant Shaw grinned. "I don't know what you understood, but that's what we're doing."

Immediately Wellington's great face began to churn and work like a big eddy in a river. Suddenly he was weeping. "Excuse these tears, zentlemen, but I once—I was once a b-b-ride myself."

"He looks like a whole wedding party," was Ashton's only comment on the copious grief. It was poor Wellington's fate to hunt as vainly for sympathy as Diogenes for honesty. The decorators either ignored him or shunted him aside. They were interested in a strange contrivance of ribbons and a box that Shaw produced.

"That," Hudson explained, "is a little rice trap. We hang that up there and when the bridal couple sit down—biff! a shower of rice all over them. It's bad, eh?"

Everybody agreed that it was a happy thought, and even Jimmie Wellington, like a great baby, bounding from tears to laughter on the instant, was shouting: "A rishe trap? That's absolutely splendid—greatest! Invenish modern times. I must stick around and see her when she fops."

And then he lurched forward like a too-obliging elephant. "Let me help you," Mrs. Whitcomb, who had now mounted a step ladder and poised herself as gracefully as possible, shrieked with alarm, as she saw Wellington's bulk rolling toward her frail support.

If Hudson and Shaw had not been football veterans at West Point and had not known just what to do when the center rush comes bucking the line, they could never have blocked that flying wedge. But they checked him and impelled him backward through his own curtains into his own berth.

Finding himself on his back, he decided to remain there. And there he remained, oblivious of the carnival preparations going on just outside his canopy.

CHAPTER VII.

The Masked Minister.

Being an angel must have this great advantage at least, that one may sit in the grandstand overlooking the earth and enjoy the ludicrous blunder of that great blind man's buff we call life.

This night, if any angels were watching Chicago, the Mallory mix-up must have given them a good laugh, or a good cry—according to their natures.

Here were Mallory and Marjorie, still merely engaged, bitterly regretting their inability to get married and to continue their journey together. There in the car were the giggling conspirators preparing a bridal mockery for their own confusion.

Then the angels might have nudged one another and said: "Oh, it's all right now. There goes the minister hurrying to their very car. Mallory has the license in his pocket, and here comes the parson. Ho-roy!"

And then the angelic cheer must have died out as the one great burrah of a crowded ball-ground is quenched in a fire when the home team's vitally needed home run swerves outside the line and drops useless as a stupid foul ball.

In a shabby old hack, were two of the happiest runaways that ever sought a train. They were not miserably like the young couple in the taxicab. They were white-haired both. They had been married for thirty years. Yet this was their real honeymoon, their real elopement.

The little woman in the timid gray bonnet clasped her hands and tittered like a schoolgirl.

"Oh, Walter, I can't believe we're

AFTER DINNER SWEETS

CONFECTIONS BOTH PALATABLE AND HEALTHFUL.

Cocoa Ice Cream With Raspberry Juice is a Delight—Steamed or French Rice Pudding Good—Perfect Lemon Sauce.

Cocoa Ice Cream—Two cupsful of milk, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of cornstarch or arrowroot, four egg yolks, two cupsful of cream, or two cupsful of milk and two tablespoonfuls of butter, one fourth to half a cupful of cocoa, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix the arrowroot, add scalded milk and cook 20 minutes in double boiler. Beat eggs, add cream, or milk and butter; pour on to this mixture cornstarch mixture; add vanilla and freeze. One cupful of raspberry juice added just before freezing gives a pleasant variety.

Steamed Pudding—One-fourth of a pound of flour, one-fourth of a pound of suet, one teaspoonful of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, a dust of nutmeg, a little milk, one ounce of crushed almonds, one-fourth of a pound of bread crumbs, two heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar, two eggs, one grated lemon rind and juice, two ounces of currants and a pinch of salt. Put all ingredients into a basin, the wet put through a chopper, beat up the eggs and add to mixture, also a little milk if required. Grease a pudding mould, plain or fancy, and throw into it some coarse brown sugar, shake well, so that the mould is well coated with the sugar; cover with buttered paper and steam two hours. Serve with white sauce.

French Rice Pudding—A quarter of a pound of ground rice, one pint of milk, three eggs, two heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar, one lemon rind, one heaping tablespoonful of butter, one cupful of water, one teaspoonful of Sultana raisins. Grind the rice in a coffee mill. Boil the milk slowly, sprinkles in ground rice; boil till thick, six minutes, remove and add sugar and butter. Mix well, cool a little, add egg, well beaten, stir and flavor with grated rind of half a lemon. Butter a plain mould, dust with toasted almonds, pour in the pudding. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. Serve with lemon sauce.

Lemon Sauce—One small lemon, one cupful of water, one teaspoonful of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of sugar, a few drops of carmine. Put the cornstarch into a pan, add other ingredients, and bring to the boil.

Curling Feathers. When feathers are being curled they should be held in the left hand, with the fibers to be first curled lying over the forefinger of the same hand. The curling knife, or if this is not to be had, a blunt instrument or a paper knife will do equally well, should then be drawn under the fibers from the rib to extremity of fibers, when they ring or curl at that point, and should not be less than a dime piece in size. Caution should be exercised in manipulating the fibers over the knife, or instead of a soft ring, the fibers will take corkscrew formation and be ruined.

Tints. Delicate shades of cotton fabrics can be laundered without fading if treated as follows: Drop one tablespoon of spirits of turpentine into one-half gallon cold water. Wet the goods thoroughly with this mixture, wring dry and hang in the shade. When thoroughly dry, launder as usual. This method has been carefully and frequently tested, with perfect results.

Clean White Furs. Before putting away white furs for the summer they should be thoroughly cleaned. To do this place the furs in a pasteboard box and sprinkle liberally with cornmeal. Shake the box up and down for a few minutes, then take furs out of the box and replace with fresh meal. Repeat shaking. The furs will come out as white as when new.

Pea Soup. Pick over one-half cup split peas and soak over night in cold water, drain and add six cups cold water, one-half onion, a good slice of salt pork or bacon. Bring to boiling point, simmer two or three hours, run through a sieve; blend one tablespoon flour and butter size of a walnut, add one cup scalded milk, salt, pepper and celery salt to taste. Dilute with milk if too thick.

Gooseberry Trifle. Cook a quart of gooseberries to a pulp in water to cover, sweetening to taste. Put the fruit into a serving dish, cool, cover with boiling custard, then with whipped cream. Serve icy cold with sponge cake or thin bread and butter.

Marking Poison Bottles. Put corked pins in the corks of all bottles marked poison, sticking them into the bottom and allowing the points to protrude beyond the corks. After doing this you will never pick up such a bottle—even in the dark.

Lovely Footgear. Footgear, for those who can afford the most expensive, is more than beautiful, and the fancy now is for kid instead of for suede footgear, and the colors, if they do not match the dress, harmonize with the hat or with the lining of the coat.

Naturally, the beauty of such footgear must be matched by exceedingly lovely hosiery, made of silk inset with lace, and some of it is actually traced with millinery diamonds or colored gems to harmonize with the color of the evening gown. Shoes outlined with jewels are an exquisite resource for full dress wear.

Afghan for Baby's Carriage. A pretty summer afghan for the baby's carriage is made of strips of handkerchief linen held together with inch and a half wide eluzy lace, which also edges the cover. This is lined with pink or blue silk and ornamented on the outside with a large satin bow. This makes a dainty protection and it is not heating.

Midsummer Millinery Copied From Paintings of Beauties of the Past

PAINTINGS of beauties of other days have been looked to, to furnish inspiration for midsummer millinery of today. The Gainsborough and Rembrandt hats for low their models almost exactly as to line and poise, only departing from them in composition and trimming. Even here it is the necessity for variety that brings into use new ornaments and fashionable feathers or flowers. No one can fail to appreciate the beauty of this artistic headwear, and, for the young woman who can carry it off (that is, dress in keeping and look after the carriage of her figure) there is nothing to compare to it for distinction.

Two of the finest examples of these picturesque styles are illustrated here. They are both black hats with white trimming. This combination always is brilliant. The Rembrandt is of fine Milan with double brim, worn so that it rolls under to the head size. Black velvet ribbon and a tuft of black and white plumes afford its trimming. It is to be worn with a decided tilt, never any less than that shown in the picture.

The wide brimmed hat of black lace follows its original model less closely, but is not difficult to recognize. The brim is outlined with white crystal beads and the cockade of white ostrich is mounted with a fringed cabochon made of the same kind of beads. The brim is indented at the left and turns sharply off the face here. It widens toward the back. This hat may be worn with a much more decided tilt by girls who are tall and full of figure.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

AN OSTEND BATHING SUIT WAYS OF HOLDING SUNSHADE

The suit in the photograph is very chic and bewitching. It is of white Canton crepe and waterproof. The skirt is made fuller at the bottom so as to enable the wearer to swim with ease. Blue and white silk has been let in the gores.

"Punch Work." In all lines of embroidery work that is known as "punch work" still leads. For the benefit of the uninitiated it might be explained that the word "punch" is used for the reason that the open weave which is characteristic of the material employed provides a liberal space for a needle to punch itself between the threads and carry the embroidering material with it.—Fabrics.

Corsets for Fall. The widespread discussion of panier styles is doubtless responsible for the reports regarding a change in corset lines, says the Dry Goods Economist. There is no cause for alarm, however, as the straight line still dominates both in costumes and in corsets. We shall have many paniers, to be sure, but they are modified styles with no fullness to distend the hip line. Belts also will be widely used, but they will not draw in the waists. In fact, they are wholly ornamental and used in quite loose effect.

Coloring Lace. Very frequently we desire to give that rich, old ivory tone to white laces. This may be accomplished by the following method: Place a pan in five cents' worth of yellow ochre. Mix with this sufficient rice powder to produce the desired shade.

Shake the lace into this, and after removing brush away all loose dirt. The lace will retain the yellowish tint indefinitely.

Many of the lingerie gowns have broad girdles of bright-colored silk.

Where He Drew the Line. An English earl, lately deceased, who had no family, was notorious for his hatred of children, and on one occasion he engaged as lodge keeper an army pensioner named McMicken. Some few months later McMicken's wife presented him with a son and heir. On learning of the occurrence his lordship rode down to the lodge in a terrible rage. "I hear," said he to Mr. McMicken, "that your wife has a son." "Yes, my lord," said the man proudly. "Well, now, look here, McMicken; when I put you here, it was to open and shut a gate, but by the Lord Harry, not to propagate."

Ruling Spirit Still Strong. Mrs. J. L. Story, who has just published a volume of reminiscences, tells of a lady relative who had all her life been afraid of damp sheets. When she was dying Mrs. Story entered the room, to find the fireplace barricaded with a large assortment of bed linen. She was having her winding sheet warmed.

"I never have lain in damp bedclothes while I was alive," said the old lady in a feeble whisper, "and I'm not going to do it when I'm dead."

Why be constipated when you can get Garfield Tea at any drug store? It will quickly relieve and its benefits will be realized.

Love may find the way—but it isn't always able to pay the freight.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own household work, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Don't plant corn in weedy ground.

It never pays to bury a colt at first.

Never feed a horse when it is very warm.

Move the brood coops as often as possible.

You cannot begin to feed and train a colt too early.

Lice will find a sitting hen if nothing is done to prevent it.

The aim should be to make each helper better than her dam.

A thermometer for churning time earns its way summer and winter.

Don't wait for the beetle to appear on the early potatoes before you spray.

Scours are brought on by feeding cold milk and in keeping in dirty, wet pens.

It takes pretty good grit to let some old hens go, and yet it is a wise thing to do.

The Silver Campine is not a new breed, but one not generally known in this country.

The ewe has been found as economical as the cow in turning hay and grain into milk.

Work done for your cows, sheep and hogs now will show itself next fall in the returns you get.

The sow that is so clumsy or nervous that she always kills half her pigs had better go to market.

A large udder is not always a sure sign of a good milker, but more often than not it is a good indication.

If you take the young colt with the mother when at work, put a halter on it and hitch it to the side of the mare.

When the lambs are ten days old there is no danger in docking them—after that dock them just as soon as possible.

The printer and butter spade should be soaked first in hot water and then in cold water for some time before they are used.

The horse's stomach is in no condition to receive food immediately after severe labor, hence the necessity of a short period of rest first.

The calf should be taken from the cow very soon after birth. It learns to drink much more easily than if left several days with the cow.

Unless it runs smoothly and does not vibrate, a separator will not do its best work. A solid foundation means long life for the machine.

Dairy farmers wonder how they ever got along without cream separators. Five years from now they will wonder how they ever got along without silos.

Stallions and mares having small heart girths or light flanks are objectionable from the breeder's standpoint. A horse needs lots of room for heart and lungs.

Rape is a cool weather plant and does best in northern latitudes. Drill in 1 1/2 to 2 pounds to the acre as early in the spring as the danger from hard freezing is past.

The value of silage to sheep has been well enough established for us to know that in the future it is going to play an important part in the production of mutton and wool.

If the hogs are lousy get some crude oil and just as soon as warm weather comes pour a gallon or so of the oil on the holes where they wallow. Grease of any kind is death to lice.

Tar paint nor any other application of that kind will kill the peach tree borers already in the tree. The sharp wire is the only remedy then and the closest inspection is necessary to find his lair.

Save "polling" beans whenever possible by planting along the garden fence or in corn. Sunflowers, too, make good supports for beans, but it is preferable that the rows be planted north and south, so that the beans may get plenty of sun.

The value of stable manure or other fertilizer in the orchard depends upon the conditions of soil and climate. Some soils grow excellent fruit without any fertilizer while others must be fed. Simply a case of science and good judgment.

Cherries require very little pruning.

The cow and the sow make a good farm team.

Drive a colt the first time with a fast walking horse.

The hens will relish a feed of scalded oats at any time.

Pull radishes just as soon as they are big enough to bite.

"Study to be quiet" is a fine thing in handling a team anywhere.

Chaff from the hay mow floor makes the best litter for chicks.

Too sudden a change of diet for the young calf is bound to start trouble.

Covered cream or milk cans on the way to town bespeak a careful dairyman.

There is every indication that grass fat beef will bring a good price this summer.

When the calf is two weeks old some skim-milk may be added to the usual feeding.

A horse that is watered two or three times a day is apt to drink too much at one time.

Fine corn meal for the skim-milk calf is a good substitute for the more expensive oilmeal.

Clean the mud from the horse's limbs during seeding operations, and prevent scratches and fever.

Quality in vegetables is the result of quick, unchecked growth, and this means plenty of water at all times.

It is not a difficult proposition to raise calves when the feeder uses some precaution in their management.

After turkey chicks are six weeks old they must be allowed to range else they will be sadly stunted in growth.

It is a mistake to try to fatten the brood sow. She should not be kept with the hogs that are being prepared for market.

While it requires one sort of education to make a good riding or driving horse, it requires another to make a cart horse.

Hens that roost in a damp, close house are apt to give out in the leg joints with a trouble somewhat akin to rheumatism.

It is easy to notice the effect of grass on the milk, but with the cows that have silage, the change will be less perceptible.

Fruit trees planted in the hog pasture will supply shade and abundance of food in the fall when the trees come into bearing.

Better dairying should be the aim of every dairy farmer. It is only as he strives for better things that he can approach his ideal.

The man who makes a success at dairying or any other line of work starts with the right aim and never changes or loses sight of it.

Tests at experiment stations have shown that 20 per cent of the cream is saved by the use of a separator as compared with hand skimming.

There is no problem that is of greater importance today than conservation of soil fertility. The dairy cow, the hog and the hen help solve it.

Good care consists in doing everything from milking and caring for the cows to marketing the butter or cream as if your whole life success depended upon it.

Mix plaster of Paris and turpentine, mould in the shape of eggs, and put one in each nest to kill lice and mites. Do not use with eggs that are hatching.

There are 28 silos within a short distance of this farm. Many farmers have been closely pressed in order to feed for their stock but none of the silo owners were.

A city chicken man has found a good way to break a broody hen. He puts an alarm clock in the nest and when the clock goes off that hen goes off too—and never comes back.

The cost of hauling over our country roads is now about 23 cents per ton per mile. In European countries the cost is below 10 cents. Our bad roads are an expensive proposition.

Shallow cultivation of corn is most in favor with the experiment stations, but much seems to depend upon climatic conditions. In dry climates you can safely cultivate deeper—three to four inches.

There is nothing like pasture to make good gains on any kind of stock when fed in connection with corn. In hog feeding we do not think we are putting it too strongly to say that pasture saves 25 per cent in feed.

The injury to various fruit crops by insects of all kinds is very great, as every one knows, but Prof. Steadman says that the damage to truck crops by insects every year exceeds the damage to fruit crops. And yet how few gardeners take steps to protect their crops.

The CIVIL WAR FIFTY YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

July 8, 1862.

General Shepley, military commandant at New Orleans, issued an order directing that those who had been in the military service of the Confederate states should be accorded time until the tenth of the month for taking their parole.

General Butler issued an order authorizing that several regiments of United States volunteers might be organized in Louisiana.

A reconnaissance by the First Maine cavalry was made as far as Waterloo, Va., on the Rappahannock river.

A band of partisans visited the house of a Unionist named Pratt, in Lewis county, Mo., and killed him.

John Ross, principal chief of the Cherokee Indians, addressed a letter to Colonel Weer, commanding the United States forces at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., informing him that on the seventh day of October, 1861, the Cherokee Nation had entered into a treaty with the Confederate States of America.

President Lincoln, in company with General McClellan, reviewed the troops of the defeated army of the Potomac at Harrison's Landing, on the James river, Va.

The governors of Wisconsin and New Jersey issued proclamations calling for troops under President Lincoln's call.

The letters from General McClellan to the War Department, concerning his occupation of General Lee's house at White House, Va., were laid before congress.

The removal of Secretary Stanton from the War Department of the United States was suggested in various portions of the country.

July 9, 1862.

The National transport steamer Canonius was fired into by the Confederates a few miles below Harrison's Landing, on the James river.

In the New Hampshire legislature resolutions were adopted pledging the state to furnish its full quota of troops called for recently by President Lincoln.

Public meetings were held in England, praying the government to use its influence to bring about a reconciliation between the Northern and Southern States of America, as it was from America that the only immediate supply of cotton could be expected; and, if there should be need, asking the English government not to hesitate to recognize the independence of the Southern States.

A fight occurred near Tompkinsville, Ky., between a body of 1,500 independent southerners, under Morgan, and the Third Battalion of Pennsylvania cavalry, numbering about 350 men, under command of Major Jordan. In which the nationals were routed with a loss of four men killed, six wounded and nineteen taken prisoners.

Hamilton, N. C., was occupied by the National forces under the command of Captain Hamill, of Hawkins' New York Zouaves.

July 10, 1862.

A meeting was held in Huttonsville, Randolph county, Va., at which the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That we, as citizens, are willing to live under the Federal government and its laws, and that we will give any information to the Federal commanders in relation to the operations of certain bands of men known as guerrillas or mountain rangers."

At New Orleans, John H. Larue, "being by his own confession a vagrant," was committed to the parish prison, and his wife, Anna Larue, "having been found in the public street wearing a Confederate flag upon her person in order to incite riot," was sent to Ship Island by the command of General Butler.

The provost-marshal of Memphis, Tenn., issued an order requiring all persons connected with the Confederate government or army to leave the city within five days, with their families.

A company of independent fighters, ninety in number, engaged in drilling in a field between Gallatin and Hartsville, Tenn., was captured by a body of National troops.

John Morgan, the Confederate leader, issued a call upon the people of Kentucky to "rise and arm, and drive the Hessian invaders from their soil."

A fight took place two miles south of Scatterville, Ark., between a detachment of the First Wisconsin cavalry and a Confederate force under Captain Allen.

General Saxton, sent into South Carolina to organize employment for the negroes liberated from their masters by the occupation of the National troops, reported 15,000 acres of corn and cotton under cultivation by them in voluntary labor, and announced a hope that the crops would become sufficient to sustain the experiment.

July 11, 1862.

A skirmish took place near Williamsburg, Va.

Governor Yates of Illinois published a letter to the president urging the employment of all available means to crush the rebellion.

At New Orleans all acts of sale by auctioneers who had not taken the oath of allegiance to the United States were declared null and void by the military commandant, General Shepley.

A skirmish occurred near Pleasant Hill, Mo., between a company of state militia and a band of irregulars.

A dispatch from General McClellan at Harrison's Landing, on the James river said: "All quiet. We are rested. Enemy has retreated."

By order of President Lincoln, General Halleck was appointed to the command of all the land forces in the United States, with the rank of general-in-chief.

The Confederate General Ruggles refused to grant the petition of the parish of Saint Tammany, in Louisiana, to permit them to exchange their cotton, brick, lumber, etc., with the citizens of New Orleans for food.

A skirmish took place near New Hope, Ky., between a body of Union troops, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Moore and a force of Confederate irregular cavalry, in which the advantage rested with the Union soldiers.

The bill authorizing the issue of $150,000,000 in legal tender became a law.

July 12, 1862.

The senate of the United States passed the confiscation bill as it had come from the house.

The advance of General Curtis' Union army in Arkansas, under General Washburne, reached Helena, having made a forced march of 65 miles from Clarendon in a day and a night. General Curtis left Batesville on June 24 with 20 days' rations, and after a halt of five days at Jacksonville, put his entire command en route to Helena. His way was impeded by every possible device by the Confederates, who were not in sufficient force to offer battle. General Washburne's forced march was in the face of frequent skirmishes.

A fight took place at Lebanon, Ky., between a small force of Union troops, under Colonel Johnson, and a body of Confederate irregular cavalry under John Morgan, in which the victorious Confederates captured the town.

Large and enthusiastic meetings were held in various parts of the north to excite men to enlist in response to President Lincoln's call for 300,000 men. In several towns large sums of money were collected for the purpose of offering bounties for enlistment.

President Lincoln received the senators and representatives of slaveholding border states at the White House and addressed them on emancipation, endeavoring to induce them to urge their states to accept compensated emancipation.

The British schooner Julia, of Digby, Nova Scotia, was captured by the national gunboat Hittitany, in Barrataria creek, Louisiana, and the schooner Uncle Mose, captured by the gunboat Tahoma on the coast of Campeachy arrived at Key West.

Fairmount, Mo., was surprised and looted by a band of Confederate irregulars.

There was a skirmish at Culpeper, Va.

A body of Union troops was sent into northern Alabama to comfort the Unionists of that section, who had recently suffered much abuse for their loyalty.

July 13, 1862.

The railroad bridge over the Rapidan river, near Rapidan station, Virginia, was destroyed by a party of Union troops, under command of Major Deems. Proceeding toward the bridge, they were fired on, when about six miles from Fairfax, by a force of the enemy, and a sharp skirmish was precipitated, which continued as a running fight for ten miles. Another party of Confederates, found at the bridge, was driven off. Besides destroying the bridge, the Union soldiers cut the telegraph wires and wrecked the instrument at the station.

A party of Confederate irregular cavalry entered Memphis, Mo., captured the military stores there, drove out the Union men, and robbed the stores.

Great excitement existed in Bowling Green, Louisville, Lexington, Danville, Frankfort, Covington and other towns in Kentucky, in anticipation of a visit from Morgan, the leader of a large force of Confederate irregular cavalry, which he had raised to defend the state from the invasion of the Union armies.

In order to be prepared for his possible coming, General Doyle, commanding the Union forces at Louisville, issued the following order: "It is ordered that every able-bodied man take arms and aid in repelling the marauders. Every man who does not join will remain in his house 38 hours, and will be shot down if he leaves it." General Ward, commanding at Lexington, issued an order directing "that all able-bodied citizens of Lexington and Fayette counties are to report themselves at the court house square, in Lexington, forthwith. Those having arms will bring them; those having none will be armed."

Murfreesborough, Ky., was captured by the Confederate forces under command of Brigadier General Forrest.

July 14, 1862.

General Pope issued an address to the "officers and soldiers of the Army of Virginia," informing them that by special assignment of the president of the United States, he had assumed command of the army.

A band of Confederate irregulars under John Morgan destroyed the long bridge on the Kentucky Central railroad between Cynthiana and Paris, Ky.

In the United States senate a resolution was adopted thanking Flag Officer Foote for his gallant services in the west.

The citizens of Utica, N. Y., enthusiastic meeting for the purpose of creating excitement over the news of the capture of the city, and voted to give a response to President Lincoln's call for 300,000 extra troops.

President Lincoln sent a message embodying to compensate any abolition slavery with passage of which, as sent, he earnestly urged.

And So True, Too.

Charles Dickens, the creator of many delightful child characters, earned a million dollars during his lifetime with his pen, but often walked the streets of London in search of material for his books without a penny in his pocket.

One evening while doing this he was accosted by a small boy who asked him for a penny. Dickens searched his pockets, but they were empty, and so he told the boy, who was shivering in the cold.

"Poor man!" exclaimed the little fellow, "we'll go hunk together!"

Dickens stood back in the shadow of the street to see what the outcome would be. The lad continued to beg, and finally gained two pennies. He came dancing to Dickens with a jolly ring in his voice.

"Now," he said, "we'll have two hot buns apiece!"

Such a generous spirit under such trying circumstances struck Dickens so forcibly that he took the lad home with him, and there he was fed and clothed, and started on the road to a better life.

With the Lid Off.

"Mother," asked Bob, with a hopeful eye on the peppermint-jar, "have I been a good boy this afternoon?"

"M-m-yes," answered mother, cooily, recalling a certain little within the lute. The four-year-old looked anxious.

"Please," he begged, "open yes!"—Harper's B.

Blessed Sympathy.

Sympathy with animals blesses and humbles me. Women.

As they drew near the Sunday school the father gave Johnny his last rehearsal. "Now, son," he said, "let's have the Golden Text once more without any help from me: 'Whatsoever a man sows always reaps.'"

"Oh, Georgie!" exclaimed a fond mother, when she saw her small boy considerably battered up and dirty, "you have been fighting again! How often have I told you that you shouldn't fight?"

"Well," said he, "what are you going to do when a fellow hits you?"

"Why, keep out of his way," said the mother.

"I bet," said the youngster, "he'll keep out of mine after this."

Broke 62,458 Bottles.

On the morning of April 18, 1906, the cellar of Paul Masson, a wine merchant of San Jose, Cal., contained a stock of 125,000 bottles, all neatly arranged.

Then came the earthquake, and when the proprietor was able to enter his cellar again he found that 62,458 bottles, by actual count, were broken and the remainder thrown about in the wildest confusion. It is curious, with such a large number of bottles, that the quake should have come within a few dozen of demolishing an exact half of the stock.—Wide World Magazine.

Eggs Many Years Old.

A somewhat remarkable discovery was made in demolishing the Judiciary buildings in Jail square, Glasgow. Hidden among the rafters was a hen's nest containing 16 eggs, which those who know say must have lain there for about forty years. When exposed to the air the eggs dissolved into dust.

What Makes a Woman?

120 pounds more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. Its a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you with all my heart for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by all Druggists.
