The local high school team were at Oakfield last week Friday and defeated by the basket ball team of that village by a score of 43 to 20. Following is an article taken from one of the other papers giving the account of the game played at Hartford recently between the high school teams of that city and this place, One of the fastest and hardest fought games seen here this season went to the local high school five when they defeated the Kewaskum Highs 20 to 13 at the Opera House last Friday night, The locals lost to the visitors on their own floor a couple of weeks ago, and Friday night they went in to even things up, which they did after forty minutes of the hardest kind of basket ball. Both teams showed lots of speed, and the slippery condition of the floor turned what ought to have been a great game into a mighty rough one, But from a spectator's point of view, it was about the best staged here this winter, and the crowd was in an uproar from start to finish. The visitors scored first with a Oelke and Heise were given a trial on Tuesday afternoon, They pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was against them and they were fined $35 and costs amounting to $41,45, or given their choice of spending five months behind the bars of the county jail, Not having sufficient money with them to pay their fines when sentence was pronounced, all three were taken to the jail for a few hours until the amounts were forthcoming. While there they regretted their behavior and claimed they were sorry for their actions.-West Bend News, Messrs, Oelke and Heise were in trouble in this village last summer. The former was arrested and fined, while the latter escaped, but settled matters the next day.

Mrs, Elizabeth Schmitz, a resident of the city of West Bend, passed away in death on Jan. 15, having been ill three months with a complication of diseases, Mrs. Schmitz was born in Kemnath, Germany, on Aug. 4th 1839. In 1868 she came to America, and in 1869 she married Philip Schmitz, They resided for many years on farm in Barton, and there Mr. Schmitz died eighteen years ago. After her husband's death the venerable lady resided in the village of Barton until four years ago, since which time she made her home with John Schroeder and family. She is survived by two step-sisters and two stepbrothers-Mrs. Ambrose Kreutzer of this city, Mrs. Barbara Keller of Kewaskum, Mich Schreier of Athens, and George Schreier of Stanley. The funeral was held last Saturday, services being conducted in the Catholic church in Barton by Rev. Ruhmann, and interment being made in the Barton cemetery. Burber, Weds Miss Ella Wills of Hammond, Wis. on January 9, 1913

A wedding of much local interest occured at Hammond, Wis. on Thursday, January 9t14, when Miss Ella Frances Wills and Mr. Edward L. Bannon were joined together in marriage. We hardly think it is necessary for the Press to introduce these two young people to our readers as they are so well and favorably known in Mott and icinity. Miss Wills is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wills of Hammond, Wis. During the past few years the lady has been in charge of the school at Chardler. In the course of her residence in Hettinger county Miss Wills has endeared herself to a large number of people in Mott and neighberhood, all of whom were impressed with her lady-like disposition and winning ways. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bannon of Mott. One thing that will be bailed with a sigh of relief by both merchants and tax assessors is the section relating to returns on goods, materials and products. This section says merchants and manufacturers must send in an inventory "of goods, materials and products on January 1st, 18137. and also an inventory of the year before. In parentheses it states "Do not include furniture, fixtures, bills payable and bills receivable.

This removes a serious cause for trouble. When the first returns were made out there was a difference of opinion likely to aise between the assessor and the merchants and manufacturers as to just what should be put in the inventory. This has now been eliminated. The individual returns can be signed in the presence of two witnesses and do not have to be sworn to before a notary public as formerly. Corporations and guardians and truetees of estates will have to have a notarial seal attached as before for the reason that the law says that this shall be done. In the case of the individuals, however, the law leaves it to the judgement of the commission as to what shall be demanded in the Ever since the removal of Mr. Ekern as insurance commissioner and the appointment of L. A. Anderson in his place by Gov. McGovern, the former has remained cooped in his private office with one door barricaded and the other fast locked.

Mr. Anderson having filed his bond and complied with all the requirements, Gov. McGovern ordered Supt. The glass panels in the door were smashed and Supt. Essman's hand was cut in the fracas. A FEW UNUSUAL RECIPES.

Most of us know and have prepared pigs in blankets—that is bacon wrapped in a small piece of steak, browned in fat and then simmered in a little water-but this German dish, although similar, is one quite unusual:

Cut pieces of well-pounded round steak, cut thin, in pieces about five inches wide; salt and pepper well, lay a slice of pickle, a slice of onlon and a strip of bacon on each piece and roll it up. Brown in a little fat, add a bay leaf and enough water to simmer for an hour or two. Be sure that the meat is either skewered or tied or dusted with flour the gravy is slightly thickened.

of brown sugar, one-half cup of butter, ernor. one cup of sour milk, one egg and onehalf teaspoonful of soda. Melt two squares of chocolate, add one and a half cups of flour, a half cup of raisins, a balf cup of nutmeats well broken. Mix and drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered pans.

Bran Muffins.-These are good for people troubled with constipation, fancy, 29c. and are often recommended by physicians. Beat an egg and add a pinch of salt, then a half cup of moflour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix well and bake twenty minutes to half an hour. This makes a dozen muffins.

Peanut Butter Fudge.-Put two cups of brown sugar and two-thirds of a cup of milk in a granite sauce pan, set over the fire and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Boil until a little dropped in cold water will form a soft ball, then add four tablespoonfuls of peanut butter; stir until the butter is melted, then beat until creamy. ## Return of Flounce to Favor for Southland Dancing Frocks

Flounces have come back into fashion, as is evidenced by the dainty dancing gowns for wear at Palm Beach, and by quite as dainty day costumes of embroidery and sheer materials. Flounces-the modern flounces, at least-are not gathered at the upper edge in the least, but are applied fiatly to the narrow skirt so that the narrow silhouette is not spoiled. Many of the most charming frocks for the southland show very sheer machine embroidered flouncings used in this way and the illustration herewith pictures gold embroidered chiffon used in the same fashion, one flounce falling above the other in three tiers.

THE BAROMETER OF THE POST OFFICE, THE READING OF WHICH SHOWS WESTERN CANADA'S GROWTH.

Several of Western Canada newspapers coming to hand during the last part of the year 1912 contained items of news such as the following, speaking of the Christmas work in the postoffice:

Other years have been heavy and the employees have had plenty of opportunity of learning what it was to work overtime, but the past has had nothing equal to the present. Forty extra men have been employed (in Winnipeg), and mail trains have been run special. The increase in the mail this year has been due to the enormous influx of people into Western Canada during the season, and also the general prosperity which the prairie provinces have enjoyed. To the latter cause has been due the heavy increase in the number of parcels which have been shipped to the old country and Eastern Canada."

The above extract taken from a Winnipeg paper gives a fair idea of the great work that the Canadian postoffices have had all through the western prairies. During the past year hundreds of new postoffices were established, many of them at remote points from the railway, but all forced upon the country on account of the new settlements that have taken place during the year. It is said of the Canadian government that in its immigration and settlement policy there is nothing left undone to take care of the people and their welfare, whether it be in the new town along a new line of railway or in the remotest hamlet. This solicitude and care are not confined to the postoffice, but with every branch that has to do with organizing new districts. Bridges have been built, roads constructed, the district policed, and a dozen other things have to be done and are done. Is it any wonder that with the splendid land, the high yielding land, the land that is free to the homesteader or open to purchase at reasonable prices from the railway and land companies, that the Canadian immigration records for 1912 will show arrivals of upwards of 400,000, one-half of this being from the United States. The new literature being sent out by the immigration branch at Ottawa, and its agencies throughout the United States deals with many of the new and interesting features that will mark the work of that branch for the year 1913 .- Advertisement.

At lest I saw him half-way amenable to reason. Now that he was out of the shadow. I saw too, more clearly, what manner of man he was. His head, as I had already discerned it through the gloom was abnormally large, yet not out of proportion with his herculean torso. His red hair, frowsy, unkernnt, was of such abundance that, in the dark, its outline had given me a grotesquely magnified impression His red beard too. Was thick, long, and untrimmed. What little of his face showed, was sunburned to what, in the dim light, seemed the color of ripe russet apples. His eyes were nearly indiscernible, deep set, under bushy red brows.

"If you had shown the least bit of humanity to brother men in distress," I responded, in a half jocular vein, "I'd probably never thought of this being your place, and you being you; and the incident of the morning might have been forgotten." I thought I heard his teeth grit together in his effort to suppress a rising rage. I certainly saw his hands clench; and then, with an assumption of indifference, he took a final puff at his cigar and tossed it, sparkling,

We cannot all start life with the adtantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

POWER OF FARM-BRED BOYS

Unlike the City Youth, He Is Not Coddled Nor Helped Over the Many Rough Places.

The farm is the place to give a boy a good start in life. It is there that he learns independence of thought and action. He is not coddled nor helped over the rough places as the city boy is. ## A Trip Through Germany.

By Mr. Mich. Schneider

After this visit I hired a livery and was taken to Ems. Meanwhile it began to darken and as it was getting late I could not make tour of inspection at Ems, and as my arrival in my native place had been announced for that evening, I had the driver take me on to the old home. All the inhabitants were on the road to see again the old "Landsmann" from America, and upon my arrival at the hotel I found the place filled with relatives, friends and other curious people, to greet me and extend a hearty welcome to my old native place. The village as well as the surrounding country were familiar to me, although I had left them fifty-five years ago, I was able to mention names of many people, who lived in the different houses at the time of my departure and could also give an exact description of my parents' real estate, Only three of my school mates, two men and one woman, remain in the old home town, and great was our joy at meeting after so long a separation, Tuesday, July 23 I visited my only brother in Kirckaehr, but this was a sad visit. Through a cancerous disease his entire face has been deformed beyond recognition and the poor man suffers terrible pains. I knew that my brother was ill but had no idea that so cruel a fate could befall a human being.

In Kirckaehr I also visited the old church, one of the oldest in vicinity, which during my youth was visited by the inhabitants from many distant places, but since new churches have been erected, one an especially beautiful structure is built on a hill, between Horbach and Gachenbach, In the cemetery at Kirchhaehr are the graves of my parents, but the place has been so neglected that it is almost impossible to distinguish the different graves, a relative, however, pointed out the spot where my dear parents are buried. Wednesday, July 24 I took a walk along Gelbach to Dies, where in olden times some mills did a thriving business, but to-day all is still and with the exception of a few new buildings, everything is the same as it was years ago. The people here do their harvesting with scythe and sickle and most of the farm work is performed by the women, the men being occupied in other branches of
