FUNERAL OF POSTMASTER AUGUST G. KOCH HELD ON MONDAY.

Services Were Held In The Ev. Peace Church With Interment In The Congregation's Cemetery—Rev. Mohme Officiated.

VILLAGE IN DEEP SORROW DURING THE CEREMONY

Local Fire Department and School Children Attend in a Body—Was One of the Largest Funerals Ever Held In The Village.

CHURCH TOO SMALL TO ACCOMMODATE ALL

"The Lord has deemed all men to die, but has concealed from all the hour of their death". This truth was deeply impressed when the death of our beloved fellow citizen, Hon. August G. Koch, was announced about 10 o'clock last week Friday morning, February 7th, 1913, of which we made a brief mention in our last week's issue. Mr. Koch had been in ill health for the past three years with bright disease. Although known to be in a critical condition, the end came very suddenly and was a great shock to everyone in this community. Deceased was born at Kewaskum on November 12th, 1858. He attended the public schools of this village and the Spencerian Business College at Milwaukee. He commenced his business career at Kohlsville, being employed as clerk in John C. Kuhlman store. His vocation as general merchant active member of the local fire department, being one of the charter members. At present he also was a member of the board of directors of the Bank of Kewaskum. He was a strong man for education and believed in the welfare of the schools. He has held the position as treasurer of the school board for the past fifteen years. Mr. Koch was a life long republican and has always acted as a committee man from this village. His staunch support brought to him the postmastership of the village, which he held for nearly twenty years, at two different times, the first, four years under Harrison's administration, and again under McKinley's administration up to the present time. Not only was the deceased prominent in the political world, but also in business. He conducted a general merchandise store in this village for the past twenty-five years, and has always treated his patrons in a very satisfactory and honest way, which has won for him many friends. He was a man who was held in high esteem at all times. He was very intelligent and never allowed prejudice to take the place of better judgement. His social bearings made him a welcome guest in any gathering. He had an ear at all times for those who were in sorrow and trouble and when his sympathies were genuinely aroused, his generosity knew no bounds. In mourning his untimely death, his family and friends are consoled by the truth: "The world is the land of dying; the next is land of the living." The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 1 P. M., from the house with services in the Ev. Peace church and interment in the congregation's cemetery, Rev. Mohme officiating. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in this village. In respect of a fellow member, and a member of the school board, the members of the local Fire Department, and school children, turned out in a body. The floral offerings were very large. As we think of his sunny nature and lovable ways, the words pronounced over the dead body of "His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him That Nature might stand up And say to all the world: This was a man." The following from a distant attendant the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. A. Glander, W. Wittig, Mrs. Mary Umferth, Mr. and Mrs. Youmens, Wm. Kocher and Ed. Lieppert of Fond du Lac; M. S. Chas. Koch and son Oscar of Beechwood; H. Wittenberg and family of Dundee; Mr. and Mrs. Math. Wagner of Bonduel; Wm. Vetch and family Wm. and Albert Mayer of Campbellsport; Mrs. L. E. Jochen, Mrs. Wm. Sparring Match Likely Two of Kewaskum's young men have lately developed decided pugilistic tendencies and we understand that they will go into immediate training. At least we learn that managers and a press agent have been engaged. The managers each express themselves that their man will be a rival for Jack Johnson, or any of the other prize fighters of note. The first bout between the gent's was pulled off early in the week at a place on Fond du Lac Ave. It is expected the next will be before the Athletic Club.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to our relatives and friends for the kindness and sympathy extended us during our late bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father, August G. Koch; also for the many beautiful floral offerings; special thanks to the Rev. Mohme for his kind words, the pall bearers for their service and to the Misses Lilly Schlosser and Edna Guth and the Messrs. John Schaefer and Fred Buss, who sang at the funeral services, and to the drivers of the various carriages. We wish to further announce that the general merchandise business of our deceased husband and father will be carried on as heretofore, under the name and style of A. G. Koch, under the supervision of the Koch Bros., namely: Arthur and Erwin. We further wish to thank all our many friends and patrons for their past patronage, and hope that the same will be continued in the future. Mrs. Emma Koch and children.

TO KEEP MANY FROM THE KNIFE

Fee Splitting By Physicians To Be Prohibited.

WILD CATTERS REGULATED

Bosshard Bill Proposes to Full Light on Speculative Stocks.—Refrigerator Trust Hit By Milwaukee Senator's Bill.

Madison, Wis., Special—"Fee splitting" by physicians and surgeons is made unlawful under the bill proposed by Assemblyman Frederick which was introduced in the assembly last week. The measure, it is predicted, will cause a stir among the medical profession and may result in an organized lobby against the passage of the measure.

While the bill is not as radical as that passed by the Colorado legislature, which makes it compulsory that physician prove that the patient is an appendicitis operation really had the ailment, it will go a long way, it is said, towards wiping out unnecessary operations.

It is a common practice among the profession, it is alleged to split fees. For instance, a physician of doubtful ability, often, has an opportunity of making a large fee by recommending an operation. Lacking the ability himself he calls in a fellow practitioner with the understanding that he is to get a percentage of the amount paid by the patient. This opportunity to secure fees from operations often prompts the less scrupulous in the profession to advice operations that are unnecessary. The measure, say those favoring it will do much to protect human life.

Eggs that are of the vintage of '88 will not be served to the consumer without his knowing their age, if the measure introduced in the senate Monday night by Senator A. E. Mason, Milwaukee, is passed by the legislature.

The bill will probably be opposed by the alleged refrigerator trust, and if passed will do much towards reducing the present high cost of living, it is said.

The measure provides that food products must bare the date they are placed in cold storage as well as the date of their withdrawal, and includes provisions better sanitary conditions in connection with the storage of food products.

It is claimed that under the proposed law the possibilities of the refrigerator trust corraling products and holding them until the price reach the sky is minimized.

WILD CAT SPECULATIONS HIT.

A bill by Senator Otto Bosshard, LaCrosse, tends to give the state a check on the activities of corporations seeking to float stocks bonds in Wisconsin, and will, if passed, protect the interests of Wisconsin investors to a high degree. Under the proposed law firms of this character are required to first secure a permit to do business from the corporation commission. This commission is to consist of the secretary of state, the commissioner of insurance and the commissioner of banking, who are to act without any additional salary. Accompanying the request for a license must be a complete financial statement of the concern as well as an outline of the plan under which it plans to do business.

To prevent the flooding of the state with wild cat advertising literature, the accuracy of the statements of which are doubtful the bill provides that this advertising matter shall first receive the official O. K. of the commission, this O. K. to be bestowed only after the commission has made a careful investigation into the merits of the plan for which the stock is being sold.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM PASS.

The vote of 69 to 12 for the submission of the initiative and referendum amendments to a vote of the people at the next general election is conclusive proof, it is claimed, that the assembly, many of the members of which are new, is overwhelmingly progressive. The Assemblymen who opposed letting the people judge were Batts, Clancy, Dorn, Hansen, Mory, Murphy, Roessler, Scanton, Schilling, I. N. Stewern, Viehahn and Walsh.

BOYS WIN; GIRLS PLAY TIE.

The Double Header of Basket Ball In Groeschel's Hall Last Week Friday Evening Was Very Interesting.

The basket ball games here last week Friday evening between the high school girls of this village and West Bend, and the high schools boys of similar places, drew a large crowd. The games resulted in a tie for the girls, score 0 to 0, while the local boys won by a score of 25 to 13. Both games were very interesting throughout.

The curtain riser was a game between the girls, which was well fought by both sides. Neither of the sides were able of getting the necessary goal or point. Only two fouls were called, one on each side. This was the second tie the two girl teams had, the week before at West Bend, score 2 to 2.

The second game between the boys was very interesting. During the first part of the game it was very rough, which was advanced by the visitors, and which nearly resulted in a stopped game. After a number of fouls were called especially on some of the players, both sides calmed down and a very nice game followed. The locals, however, showed their superior over their opponents and won with ease. At no time during the game did it look dangerous for the locals. As this makes a game apiece, no doubt a third game will be played on neutral grounds. Referees Klumb and Simon were both fair in their decisions. M. Rosenheimer and Strachota for the locals, and Bruhy for the visitors were easily the star.

Choose New Vice-President

N. J. Mertes Is Chosen Vice-President of the Kewaskum Mutual Fire Insurance Co. In Place of A. G. Koch, Deceased.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Kewaskum Mutual Fire Insurance Company held in the company's office last Tuesday evening, N. J. Mertes was chosen vice-president to fill the vacancy occurred by the death of August G. Koch. Mr. Mertes was also chosen as one of the members of the approving committee, which position Mr. Koch heretofore held. Arthur W. Koch, son of the deceased was chosen as director to fill the vacancy.

Trouble For Game Laws.

Uncle Sam with his parcel post is liable to make trouble for Wisconsin's game laws. The point has been raised that any one can turn game which is shot over the parcel post and it will be transported by the postoffice authorities without any danger of pestiferous activity on the part of game wardens. They have no power it is asserted, to interfere with the United States mail. Dead game becomes part of this mail the moment it is turned over to the parcel post.

Senator S. W. Randolph is credited with the discovery of this easy way of getting rid of game warden's attention. Mary think the point well taken. It will be given careful consideration.

If the senator is right, the defective work of the game wardens will be sadly curtailed. An entire revision of the game laws to meet this new situation, it is claimed may be necessary.—Ex.

LOOK OUT FOR HIM.

Bankers and business men generally are warned to be on their guard against being victimized by a check forger and confidence man named J. H. Diamond who has recently been operating at LaCrosse, where a warrant has been issued for his arrest on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and passing worthless checks. According to the LaCrosse police chief, Diamond claims to represent the firm of Diamond & Nelson, fine art book binders of Valley City, N. D., and the checks he is passing are on the First National bank of Valley City and drawn for sums of from $5 to $10. Diamond is described as about forty-five years old about five feet nine inches tall and weighs about 155 pounds. He has a very dark complexion and his voice has a peculiar accent. When last seen at LaCrosse he wore a blue serge suit, dark overcoat with black velvet collar and a black stiff hat.

WRECK AT PLYMOUTH

Passenger and Freight Collision Near Plymouth.—Two Hurt—Brakes Man Jumps to Save Life.

While running into Plymouth last Saturday morning, a north-bound train on the Milwaukee road ran into the rear of a freight train. The caboose was wrecked. John Spearl of Adell, a coach passenger, suffered a broken spine, and Mrs. Louise Smith, of Port Washington was also painfully hurt. Spearl is at present in a serious condition. A brakeman, who was in the caboose, saved his life by jumping.

The freight train, which preceded the passenger over the same right of way, became divided while passing through Plymouth. The fact was not discovered in time to prevent the accident.

 DAVIES FOR POST

REPUBLICANS VOTE UNANIMOUSLY TO URGE APPOINTMENT FOR WILSON'S CABINET.

MOVE SETS PRECEDENT

Wilson Holds Cabinet Names Until in Office—No Announcement of Choice for Portfolios Until He Sends Nominations to Senate.

Madison—A splendid tribute to Joseph E. Davies, of Madison, and an endorsement of him for a place in the cabinet of President-elect Wilson resulted in the senate, when a resolution, introduced by Mr. Snover and advocated by Mr. Bossard, received a unanimous vote. The resolution was treated as privileged and Senator Bossard spoke vigorously in its support.

"It may appear unusual," said the senator from La Crosse, "for this body of Republican senators to pay tribute to a member of another party. I feel, however, that we honor ourselves and our commonwealth when we honor the high quality, ability and honorable standing of Mr. Davies.

Mr. Bossard said he had a personal interest in the resolution as he and Mr. Davies were classmates in the university and close friends from that time. In 1899 they both were members of the university literary society that met in Minnesota in joint debate, and were victorious. Following their graduation, he said, each was elected district attorney in his county, and each has held the other in high esteem ever since.

A dispatch from Princeton, N. J., says that President-elect Wilson will make no announcement of his cabinet at all but will send his nominations to the senate after his inauguration. This plan he decided upon after the "authoritative" announcements from Washington that he was to announce his cabinet tomorrow. These Washington dispatches have been most annoying to the president-elect. The Washington stories printed were more than ruffling to his temper. In response to a query, he said: "I will not make any announcements at all. I will send the names to the senate in the good old-fashioned way."

The score of 3,018 made by the Night Hawks was made at the close of the tournament when it seemed probable that the Only Ones, Oshkosh, would capture first place with their 2,933 score. The Night Hawks broke both state and national records for score made in a tournament. The 1914 tournament will be held at Madison.

TELLS OF STRUGGLE

DIARY KEPT BY CAPT. SCOTT DESCRIBES TERRIBLE BATTLE AGAINST DEATH.

APOLOGIZES FOR HIS NOTES

British Explorer Says Rough Pages and the Bodies Must Tell Story—Capt. Oates Left Party and Perished Alone.

London, Eng., Feb. 12.—A number of details of the disaster in which Captain Scott and four of his men perished in the Antarctic are brought here in special dispatches of the Central News Service.

At a meeting of the Royal Geographical society announcement was made of the disaster resulting in the death of Captain Scott, Dr. E. A. Wilson, Lieut. H. R. Bowers, Capt. L. E. G. Oates and Petty Officer E. Evans. Captain Scott's party, said Douglas W. Freshfield, vice-president of the Geographical society, in making the announcement, found Captain Roald Amundsen's tent and records at the south pole.

Overwhelmed by Blizzard.

On the return trip, about March 29, 1912, eleven miles from One Ton depot, a blizzard overwhelmed them. They had suffered greatly from hunger and exposure and the death of Scott, Bowers and Wilson virtually was due to that. They died soon after the blizzard swept down on the party.

Oates died from exposure a few days later. The death of Evans resulted from a fall. The other members of the expedition are reported to be in good health. A searching party discovered their bodies and records some time later.

Captain Oates evidently set out from the tent in which the four men had all but succumbed to starvation in the blizzard which had overwhelmed them. After a struggle for weeks with his hands frosted, Oates declared to his comrades that he was going to set out in the storm and didn't know when he would come back. He left the tent and was never seen again. He evidently knew he was setting out to meet his death alone.

Give Up Struggle With Storm.

The others later tried to push on, but he appeared into camp again March 21, after nine days of struggle in the blizzard. Food and fuel were both exhausted.

Probably realizing that his party was doomed, Captain Scott entered in his diary four days later: "A message to the public." In this he declared that the disaster was due not to faulty organization, but to misfortune. He said nobody in the world could expect successfully to encounter such temperatures and storms as they had met on the barrier, which so retarded their progress. When they arrived within eleven miles of One Ton depot they had fuel for only one hot meal and food for two days.

The doomed explorer wrote apologetically of his "rough notes." He said these and the bodies must tell the tale. He appealed to his countrymen for the care of those dependent upon the perishing explorers.

White Mourning for Victims.

Grief and pride in the simple narrative of high courage, endurance and sacrifice given in Capt. Robert F. Scott's farewell message to the world are close competitors for dominance in the feelings of the British public.

"It is a white and not a black mourning we wear for these gallant souls who have done and died so greatly," was the comment of a cabinet minister.

The closing words of Captain Scott's epic were:

"Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardihood, the endurance and the courage of my companions which would have stirred the heart of every Englishman. These rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale. But surely, surely a great and rich country like ours will see that those who are dependent upon us are properly provided for."

Words Have Electric Effect.

These words have had an electric effect. Steps are on foot to respond to his appeal to the nation by assuring a comfortable future for those dependent on the men who, while awaiting certain death, still could write that they did not regret their journey.

A memorial service for Captain Scott and his companions is to be held in St. Paul's cathedral Friday. Flags in all parts of London are flying at half mast.

DYING NOTE FROM SCOTT.

Farewell Message From Explorer Found on His Corpse.

London, Feb. 12.—Among records found on Captain Scott was the following, written at the time he realized his mission must end in disaster. It is his last message to the world, completed while the pangs of hunger and suffering from cold were slowly but surely killing him and his companions:

"The causes of this disaster are not due to faulty organization but to misfortune in all the risks which had to be undertaken.

"One, the loss of pony transport in March, 1911, obliged me to start later than I had intended, and obliged the limits of staff transported to be narrow. The weather throughout the outward journey, and especially the long gale in 83 degrees south, stopped us. The soft snow in the lower reaches of the glacier again reduced the pace.

"We fought these untoward events with will and conquered, but it ate into our reserve provisions. Every detail of our food supplies, clothing and depots made on the interior ice sheet and on that long stretch of 700 miles to the pole and back worked out to perfection.

"The advance party would have returned to the glacier in fine form and with a surplus of food but for the astonishing failure of the man whom we had least expected to fail.

"Seaman Edgar Evans was thought to be the strongest man of the party, and Beardmore glacier is not difficult in fine weather. But on our return we did not get a single completely dry day. This, with a sick companion, enormously increased our anxieties.

"We got into frightfully rough ice, and Edgar Evans received a concussion of the brain. He died a natural death, but left us a shaken party, with the season unduly advanced.

"But all these facts enumerated were as nothing to the surprise which awaited us on the barrier. I maintain that our arrangements for returning were quite adequate and that no one in the world would have done better in the weather which we encountered at this time of the year.

"On the summit in latitude 85 degrees to 86 degrees we had minus 20 to minus 30. On the barrier, in latitude 82 degrees, 10,000 feet lower, we had minus 30. On the barrier, in latitude 83 degrees, we had minus 30 in the day and minus 27 at night pretty regularly, with a continuous head wind during our day marches.

"These circumstances came upon us suddenly and our wreck is certainly due to this sudden advent of severe weather, which does not seem to have any satisfactory cause.

"I do not think human beings ever came through such a month as we have come through, and we should have got through in spite of the weather but for the sickening of a second companion, Captain Oates, and a shortage of fuel in our depots, for which I cannot account, and finally, but for the storm which had fallen on us within eleven miles of the depot at which we hoped to secure the final supplies.

"Surely misfortune could scarcely have exceeded this last blow. It is 'arrived within eleven miles of our old One Ton camp with fuel for one hot meal and food for two days. For four days we have been unable to leave the tent, the gale blowing about us; we are weak.

"Writing is difficult.

"For my own sake I do not regret this journey, which has shown that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another and meet death with as great a fortitude as ever in the past.

"We took risks. We knew we took them. Things have come out against us and therefore we have no cause for complaint, but bow to the will of Providence, determined still to do our best to the last.

"But if we have been willing to give our lives to this enterprise, which is for the honor of our country, I appeal to our countrymen to see that those who depend on us are properly cared for.

"Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardihood, endurance and courage of my companions which would have stirred the heart of every Englishman.

"These rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale, but surely, surely a great rich country like ours will see that those who are dependent on us are properly provided for.

"(Signed) R. SCOTT, "March 25, 1912."

Special Rule for the Webb Bill to Forbid Rum Shipments to Dry States Adopted by Vote, 241 to 60.

Washington, Feb. 10.—With party lines temporarily eliminated the house adopted—241 to 60—a special rule for considering the Webb bill to prohibit the shipment of liquor into "dry" states.

The vote was preceded by a spirited debate, in which Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the appropriations committee, joined with Republican Leader Mann in denouncing the action of the Democratic leaders in allowing the special rule to be presented.

with will and conquered, but it ate into our reserve provisions. Every detail of our food supplies, clothing and depots made on the interior ice sheet and on that long stretch of 700 miles to the pole and back worked out to perfection.

"The advance party would have returned to the glacier in fine form and with a surplus of food but for the astonishing failure of the man whom we had least expected to fail.

"Seaman Edgar Evans was thought to be the strongest man of the party, and Beardmore glacier is not difficult in fine weather. But on our return we did not get a single completely dry day. This, with a sick companion, enormously increased our anxieties.

"We got into frightfully rough ice, and Edgar Evans received a concussion of the brain. He died a natural death, but left us a shaken party, with the season unduly advanced.

"But all these facts enumerated were as nothing to the surprise which awaited us on the barrier. I maintain that our arrangements for returning were quite adequate and that no one in the world would have done better in the weather which we encountered at this time of the year.

"On the summit in latitude 85 degrees to 86 degrees we had minus 20 to minus 30. On the barrier, in latitude 82 degrees, 10,000 feet lower, we had minus 30. On the barrier, in latitude 83 degrees, we had minus 30 in the day and minus 27 at night pretty regularly, with a continuous head wind during our day marches.

"These circumstances came upon us suddenly and our wreck is certainly due to this sudden advent of severe weather, which does not seem to have any satisfactory cause.

"I do not think human beings ever came through such a month as we have come through, and we should have got through in spite of the weather but for the sickening of a second companion, Captain Oates, and a shortage of fuel in our depots, for which I cannot account, and finally, but for the storm which had fallen on us within eleven miles of the depot at which we hoped to secure the final supplies.

"Surely misfortune could scarcely have exceeded this last blow. It is 'arrived within eleven miles of our old One Ton camp with fuel for one hot meal and food for two days. For four days we have been unable to leave the tent, the gale blowing about us; we are weak.

"Writing is difficult.

"For my own sake I do not regret this journey, which has shown that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another and meet death with as great a fortitude as ever in the past.

"We took risks. We knew we took them. Things have come out against us and therefore we have no cause for complaint, but bow to the will of Providence, determined still to do our best to the last.

"But if we have been willing to give our lives to this enterprise, which is for the honor of our country, I appeal to our countrymen to see that those who depend on us are properly cared for.

"Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardihood, endurance and courage of my companions which would have stirred the heart of every Englishman.

"These rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale, but surely, surely a great rich country like ours will see that those who are dependent on us are properly provided for.

BLOODY BATTLE IN MEXICAN CAPITAL RESULTS IN DEATH OF HUNDREDS.

AMERICAN EMBASSY IS HIT

Artillery Engagement Between Madero and Diaz Forces Lasted for Over Eight Hours Without Results to Either Side.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—After eight hours of artillery battle in the battle of the capital of Mexico, the history of the western continent with hundreds reported killed and wounded, among them many Americans, the foreign population in alarm, and the Mexican revolution stands at a deadlock.

Three terrific assaults on the arsenal were repulsed by General Diaz's forces, and the situation shows little change other than the loss of life and the number of wounded on both sides.

8,600 Troops in Battle.

It is impossible to obtain any accurate estimate of the number of troops engaged in the battle, but they are estimated at three or four thousand to each side. All day red and white cross ambulances have been moving dead and wounded federals out of the zone of fire, but no estimate can be obtained of the casualties of either side.

Spot and shell have been passing over and dropping into the American colony since the battle started. It is located directly in the path of the fire from the arsenal when it is directed where Madero's troops are advancing along Chapultepec avenue.

Will Protect Americans.

New York, Feb. 11.—In response to a cablegram requesting an authoritative statement on the situation in Mexico City, Gen. Felix Diaz, leader of the revolt, cabled as follows:

"Mexico City, Mex., Feb. 10, 1913. The revolt is in progress. All the chances are in our favor. I will protect all American citizens and property as I did when I was in control of the port of Vera Cruz.

"FELIX DIAZ."

Rush Warships to Mexico.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Rear Admiral Charles Bagder, in command of the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, to hurry two of his best battleships, one to Vera Cruz, the gateway to the present storm center in Mexico, and the other to Tampico, which is also a dangerous revolutionary center.

Simultaneously orders were sent to Rear Admiral W. W. Southard to dispatch the armored cruiser Colorado, now at San Diego, Cal., to Acapulco, which the smaller cruiser Denver is now protecting.

President Taft took this action at the close of a special cabinet meeting.

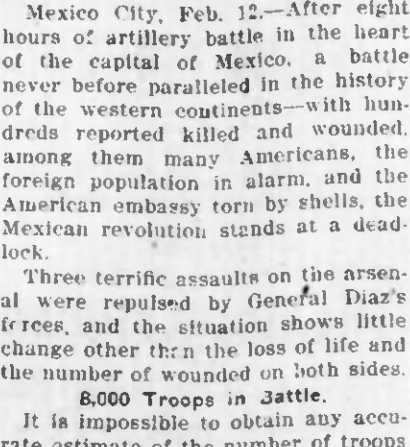

Will Fight to Finish.

Mexico City, Feb. 10.—Following a day of bloodshed in the national capital, in which 200 persons were killed and 500 others wounded, the fate of the republic in Mexico under President Francisco I. Madero is trembling in the balance. The long predicted revolt against the present regime, which has been smoldering practically ever since Madero overthrew Porfirio Lázaro, was realized when a large part of the federal troops revolted, released Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of the former president, and Gen. Bernardo Reyes, another Diaz adherent, who had been confined in Belem prison since last December, and with these two popular idols at their head descended upon the national palace.

Madero Defends His Palace.

President Madero, forewarned of the movement, hastily summoned those troops who had remained loyal to him and, with the aid of machine guns, met the insurgents in front of the palace. For more than an hour the Zocalo, the plaza which faces the palace, was the scene of fearful carnage—soldiers and spectators alike being shot down by the bullets of the opposing forces.

The city is in an uproar of excitement and suspense; mobs are everywhere; mounted guards patrol every street in an attempt to ally the riotous and unquiet. Madero is in the national palace surrounded by a regiment of volunteers whose loyalty is questioned.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 12.—The Turkish army in the Peninsula of Gallipoli lost 6,000 men and fifty officers during the fighting at Bulair, according to an official report issued here.

Several thousand Turkish soldiers are declared to have fallen in a battle before the Tehtatja lines on February 9 and thousands more at Charkeul.

The report of the Bulgarian army says: "Having repulsed several Turkish attacks along the Tehtatja lines, except on the extreme right flank where they were exposed to the convergent fire from the Turkish warships in the Sea of Marmora and the Gulf of Hiyuk Cheknedje retired to fresh positions five or six miles to the rear. The losses of the Bulgarians were insignificant, while those of the Turks amounted to several thousand men, mainly due to the excellently directed Bulgarian shell fire.

"The Bulgarians are intrenching their positions in front of Bulair. Large bodies of men have been sent out to clear the field of battle of the dead bodies of Turkish soldiers, which number from 6,000 to 6,000. It is believed that the number of wounded Turks must be more than 12,000.

"The Turkish warships shelled the Bulgarian left flank all day, but only killed one and slightly wounded another Bulgarian soldier.

"The Bulgarian infantry on shore kept up a deadly fire on the small boats loaded with Turkish troops, inflicting losses amounting to several thousand men. The Bulgarian losses in the whole affair did not exceed 100 killed and wounded."

The appropriations for the first year's work on all the vessels is estimated by the committee at $20,000,000. The adoption of the two battleships a year plan comes as the climax of a hard fight in which the greater navy advocates were opposed by one contingent holding for no battleships at all and another proposing compromise on one.

COMPANY DISHES.

When entertaining company, a few choice dishes are always appreciated. Fancy cookery is nothing but plain cooking with a few frills.

Creamed Oysters in Loaf.—Cream oysters as usual and serve them in a baker's loaf. Remove the top with a nice, clean cut and scoop out the center of the loaf, leaving a framework, butter well on the inside and brown in the oven. Fill with creamed oysters and serve on a bed of lettuce leaves.

Creamed sweetbreads, or mush-rooms are equally good served in this way.

Macedoine Salad.—Season with French dressing a cup of diced potatoes, carrots, peas and string beans, all cooked. Arrange on lettuce leaves in four sections. Heap a teaspoonful of boiled dressing on each; garnish with hard cooked eggs and parsley.

Ice Cream in Case.—Bake angel food in a round tin; when cold cut out the center, leaving a shell thick enough to hold vanilla ice cream; cover with whipped cream and serve at once.

Braised Tongue.—Cook a beef tongue slowly for two hours, then skin it and put it into a casserole. Melt three tablespoonsful of butter, add three of flour and cook well; add a pint of water in which the tongue has cooked, a pint of stewed and strained tomatoes. Heat until smooth and thick, add half a carrot cut fine, one chopped onion, half a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a few dashes of red pepper and the tongue. Cover and simmer for two hours. Serve from the casserole.

A SYMPOSIUM OF SALADS.

"There is nothing new under the sun," which is true of salads; yet we may rearrange and garnish combinations so that they appear quite new.

Celery Salad.—Cut celery up into inch pieces and split each piece; rub dry in a towel and set on ice. Prepare a small cup of walnut meats, two heaping tablespoonsful of chopped olives, and a cup of stiff mayonnaise. Just before serving mix all together, put into a salad bowl with the white leaves of the celery around the edge. Chill the bowl and serve at once.

Pear Salad.—Drain the sirup from a can of pears that have been put up whole and not too sweet; lay in a dish and pour French dressing over them, using three tablespoonsful of the best olive oil and a tablespoonful of vinegar, half a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne pepper. Cut cubes of cream cheese and serve on lettuce leaves with the pears.

String Bean Salad.—Drain a can of yellow wax beans, stand on ice, then lay on lettuce leaves with hard-cooked eggs and boiled dressing.

Cabbage Salad With Pickle.—Shred cabbage and mix with boiled dressing. Add a handful of almonds, cut fine, and a few chopped, canned red peppers. The peppers, cut in strips, may be used as a garnish.

Chestnuts, cooked until soft and mixed with celery and a little apple, makes a fine combination as a salad. Use either boiled or mayonnaise dressing.

NEW POLICY IN BILL ON MINIMUM WAGE

MEASURE BY ASSEMBLYMAN MAHON BROADENS SCOPE OF LABOR LEGISLATION.

ENDORSED BY ECONOMISTS

Measure Does Not Fix Specific Amount But Leaves This to Be Done by State Board After Investigation of Individual Case.

Madison—Departing from former rules laid down in fixing a minimum wage by statute, the bill presented by Assemblyman Mahon of Eland Junction lays down a new policy in labor legislation. The industrial commission is empowered to enforce the law and with certain specific safeguards to fix the amount of a living wage.

Following out the lines laid down in a bill introduced in the assembly two years ago by Assemblyman Mahon creating the state industrial commission, the bill presented by him broadens the scope of that act. While original in plan, the idea contained in the measure is being endorsed by leading economists. One paragraph of the bill says:

"Every wage paid or agreed to be paid by any employer to any female or minor employee except as otherwise provided in section 1729e-2 shall not be less than a living wage."

A living wage is defined in the act as "a compensation for labor sufficient to enable the employee receiving it to maintain himself or herself under conditions consistent with his or her welfare."

These two sections of the act give a latitude to the measure not approached by any other law, and the bill does not fix a specific amount; it permits this amount to be determined by the industrial commission upon investigation.

Scheme to Cut Trial Costs.

An important measure ready for introduction into the senate would revolutionize the procedure in criminal court cases where the plea of insanity is entered as a defense. This bill has been prepared by the Wisconsin branch of the American Institute of Criminology and Criminal Law and provides for the appointment of a board of alienists composed of practicing physicians, ten to twenty in number.

In every criminal action where the court interposes a plea of insanity as a defense the circuit court and district attorney shall be notified ten days in advance of the commencement of the trial. The judge then appoints three men from the list of alienists to examine the accused "and they shall be the only witnesses permitted to give expert opinion evidence on the trial of said issue." For this measure the claim is made that criminal trials will be shortened by this procedure and the court will obtain unbiased information upon which to make a finding. The alienists would receive not less than $15 per day, this to be paid by the county.

Pension to Normal Teachers.

Madison—A pension fund for teachers in Wisconsin normal schools upon retirement from service is given unofficial endorsement for legislative enactment by the state board of normal regents. The plan was proposed in the form of a bill by Prof. D. O. Kinsman of the Whitewater normal school, and it was the unanimous sense of the regents, speaking as individuals, that the same provision accorded university and college teachers and retired public school teachers in this state should be extended to the normal teaching profession. Under the bill proposed, a levy shall be made upon normal teachers' salaries for a period of twenty-five years in the proportion of one per cent per year for the first ten years of service as teacher, and two per cent for each succeeding year until the teacher shall have had twenty-five years of service, when the assessment shall cease. State treatments for the cure of tuberculosis.

Ask Emergency Health Fund.

An emergency fund of $5,000 for the suppression of epidemics and for the protection of human life in times of epidemic disease or of disaster threatening public health is a bill offered to the legislature. Such situations regarding public health as the Black River Falls flood created would have been met by the state board of health had a fund of this kind been at its disposal. The bill will provide that the fund shall be available "for the use of the board in furnishing to the citizens of the Madison—Railroads of Wisconsin are paying semi-annual taxes. The Milwaukee road has paid $400,000 up to Feb. 10. The total 1913 assessment is $3,860,368.07, of which one-half is due on Feb. 13.

Rivalry for Bridge.

Madison—Two Sauk county towns, Merrimack and Prairie du Sac, are keen rivals for a bridge to be built across the Wisconsin river at one of those two points.

Fifty-Six Died from Fires.

Reports compiled by State Fire Marshal T. M. Furtell show that fifty-six lives were lost in fires in Wisconsin for the half year ending Jan. 1, 1913. The injured—with data incomplete—numbered fifty, and at the rate based on the United States reports of Wisconsin fires it is estimated that about 168 were probably seriously burned. Eight were burned from starting or hastening fire with kerosene, and an equal number received their injuries as a result of children playing with matches. Two hundred and five fire losses were reported in January, with damage of $307,525, and insurance carried of $932,445. Eighty-two fires were caused by defective heating apparatus and chimneys, with loss of $101,665. Thirty fires are classified as unknown, such losses aggregating $65,370. Twelve were caused by fires in adjoining buildings, such losses reaching $30,160.

Modifies Compensation Act.

A measure containing a number of modifications to the workmen's compensation act has been presented to the legislature by the committee on labor. The measure adopts the principle of two measures already introduced. It will wipe out contributory negligence as a defense in personal injury cases and will change the form of election so that all employers are considered under the law for one year unless they elect to stay out. This will compel the employer to take affirmative action.

CLING TO PRESENT SYSTEM

Northwest Wisconsin Teachers' Association Opposed to Uniform Text Books—Burton Is President.

Green Bay—Protesting against the passage of a law requiring uniform text books in the state and favoring the present method by which the county and city school boards decided upon the books to be used in the schools, the teachers attending the annual convention of the Northwest Wisconsin Teachers' association in annual session here adopted two resolutions. The other affirms steadfast faith in the teachers' pension and retirement fund law, but suggests that one section be amended.

Superintendent of Schools A. W. Burton, Green Bay, was elected president of the association. Other officers elected are: Vice president, Guy Smith, Fond du Lac; secretary, Ellen B. McDonald, Oconto; treasurer, J. A. Eichinger, Algoma.

At a special meeting of the executive committee Green Bay was again chosen as the place of meeting in 1914. Wausau and Oshkosh also extended invitations.

Dahl Resigns as Deputy.

Madison—A. H. Dahl, formerly state treasurer, resigned as deputy state treasurer after having held that position since Jan. 6, when he was appointed by his successor in the office of state treasurer, Henry A. Johnson, who had served as deputy treasurer under Mr. Dahl. Ill health is given as the cause of the resignation. Mr. Johnson announces that Arthur R. Emerson, one of the state bank examiners for the last nine years, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Dahl. He had previously been a clerk in the office of the state treasurer.

Dooms Fresh Sunday Rolls.

Madison—Assemblyman August Dietrich does not think fresh bread or rolls are necessary to Sunday meals. Mr. Dietrich has introduced a bill which prohibits any work in bakeries between the hours of 6 p. m. Saturday and 6 p. m. Sunday. Any baker who violates this law, if it gets through the legislature, will have to pay a fine of from $25 to $100. Nor will it do him any good if he tries to evade the law by letting someone else do the baking. The fine stands whether the baker or a substitute is the violator.

Two Postmasters Named.

Washington—The nomination of Frank O. Perry for postmaster at Shawano and of George B. Parkhill at Thorp, were sent to the senate, both being reappointments.

Celebrate Diamond Wedding.

Hartford—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schmidt of this city have celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. High mass was sung in honor of the event in the same church where they were married.

Mother Identifies Body.

Racine—Mrs. John Lally of Newark, N. J., raised the body of a young man recently killed in a train wreck near here to be buried and has identified it as that of her son.

Ice Covers Green Bay.

Marinette—The ice bridge crossing to Door county is completed and the winter traffic over Green Bay is under way.

Business Worry Causes Suicide.

Milwaukee—Worry over business matters is believed to have caused the suicide of Walter W. Wallis, local manager of the Goodyear rubber company, who hung himself in the basement of his home.

Smallpox Under Control.

Wausau—No new cases of smallpox have recently developed in Wausau or vicinity, and it is believed health officers have the disease under control.

Succumbed to Exposure.

Janesville—Carl Oskenson, 25 years old, of Hanover, suffering from tuberculosis, wandered from home in his night clothes and was found dead from exposure the next day, four miles west of here.

Switchman Dies from Injuries.

La Crosse—George Miller, a switchman, who was struck by a switch engine and remained unconscious for several days, died as a result of his injuries.

SHEEP BREEDERS' ELECTION

Choose Officers at Madison Meeting as Do Other Farmers' Associations.

Madison—Supt. Frank Kleinbeinzer resigned as treasurer of the Wisconsin Sheepbreeders' association, which elected these officers: President, A. Broughton, Albany; vice-president, George Phillips, Welcome; secretary, W. F. Reik, Sun Prairie; treasurer, G. McKerrrow, Madison; directors, J. C. Robinson, William Miles, S. E. Crall, F. E. Elert and R. E. Richards. Berkshire Breeders: President, H. E. Taylor, Orfordville; vice president, George E. Kelly, Mineral Point; secretary-treasurer, J. H. Kitchen, Eldorado.

Poland China Breeders: M. Madison, Madison, president; Charles Morgan, Albany, vice president; E. E. Jones, Rockland, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors selected are: David Imire, Roberts; Thomas Convey, Ridgeway, and O. C. Olson, Otsego.

RENTZ TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Murderer of Monroe County Couple Sentenced After Hearing Lasting Four Minutes.

Sparta—Perhaps the quickest murder hearing in Wisconsin court history occurred here when, inside of four minutes Edward Rentz was arraigned and sentenced to life in prison on pleading guilty to the murder of August Hermann and wife one week before. No evidence was heard, no speeches were made—nothing was done, in fact, except a plea of guilty from Rentz and a sentence from the court. Hermann and wife were murdered on the farm six miles from here. Suspicion pointed to Rentz, he was arrested and a confession soon followed. Rentz said mad infatuation for a married woman made him subject to periods of mental derangement.

AUTHORIZE FLOOD BUREAU

Rainfall and High Water to Be Noted by Stations Along Wisconsin River Commencing Feb. 15.

Wausau—A. A. Babcock, manager of the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, has received notice of the authorization of the national weather bureau of a river and flood service with headquarters at Wausau and with river stations at Wausau, Merrill and Tomahawk, and rainfall stations at Medford, Prentice, Park Falls, Rhinelander and Antigo. Babcock will have charge of the Wausau stations and supervision over the other stations beginning Feb. 15.

Enrollment Records Broken.

Madison—With an enrollment of 149 students in the winter dairy course, the dairy school of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin has broken all previous attendance records, the enrollment in the course just closed being the biggest in twenty-two years. Seventy-nine cheesemakers and seventy buttermakers, all of whom have had actual experience in creameries and cheese factories of the state, took the three months' dairy course this year.

Files Claim for $3,520.

Madison—Alfred Yankauer, a New York attorney, has filed a claim with the secretary of state for $3,520.62, as commissions for assistance in collecting inheritance taxes. He entered into contract with former Gov. Davidson and former Attorney General Gilbert, according to his statement, whereby he was to receive 10 per cent of the inheritance taxes collected through his work in hunting out estates on which taxes were assessed.

Trains Crash at Plymouth.

Plymouth—A northbound Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train crashed into the rear end of a freight train standing on the main track, while entering the city. The engineer of the passenger train, seeing the impending collision, applied all brakes, but the caboose of the freight train was completely demolished by the impact. Two passengers were slightly injured.

Hangs Self in Woodshed.

Sparta—The body of Charles Muehlenbeck, an old resident of this city, was found hanging in his woodshed with his wife. The cause of the act is unknown.

Lumberjacks Get Venison.

Superior—Game wardens arriving in this city claim that in many of the lumber camps of the northern part of the state the men are fed venison instead of other meat.

Hen Lays Record Eggs.

Neenah—A hen belonging to A. N. Strange of Menasha has been laying eggs the last few weeks that are record breakers for size. One of the eggs measured 8 inches around.

Would Taboo Class Dances.

Madison—Senator Ackley sounded the death knell of the class dance in university circles when he introduced a bill providing that such functions hereafter are to be tabooed, in fact "heretofore abolished."

Like Darning.

If you wish to embroider silk stockings, try the following plan instead of using an embroidery hoop. Place your darning ball inside the stocking and hold it as though you were going to darn, save that you should be very careful not to stretch the stocking; simply hold it smooth over the darning where you are to do the embroidery.

Laces Popular.

Lace and figured chiffons and voiles are daintily wrought into charming evening frocks for girls who need thin dancing and dinner gowns. The bertha effect in lace or beaded nets is very popular, and, moreover, immense becomes either a stout or slight person. It hides any unflattering lines and adds charm to good figures.—Harper's Bazar.

Will Hold Special Election.

Brodhead—A special election will be held in this village on Feb. 27 on the question of municipal ownership of the electric lighting plant, roadway and water power.

Evening Gown of Pink Silk a Recent Paris Importation

An evening gown of pink silk with tunic of silver embroidered lace over black net, caught up in a large bow at the back.

WHY FLOWERS AT WEDDINGS

Pretty Custom That Has Been Handed Down Through Centuries Has a Real Significance.

Flowers of course, always have been used at all festive occasions, and so, consequently, at the weddings of practically every nation. They are the symbol of gaiety, and hence their profusion at that most joyous of times—a wedding.

But some of the flowers have more than a general significance. For example, there was long a custom for each guest to dip a sprig of rosemary into his cup of wine before drinking the couple's health. The bride (if she were not a widow) and the bridegroom once adorned themselves with garlands of wheat. This was a symbol of plentifulness and increase and at the present time the bridal wreath of orange blossoms possesses the same meaning.

In "ye olden times" there were garlands, garlands everywhere at a wedding ceremony. Even the rejected suitor sometimes wore a garland of gray willow.

Besides the flowers, both the bride and bridegroom wore a true love knot, an ornament introduced into England by the Danes in the ninth century and called the "trulofs," the truth. The bride of that time was supposed always to wear three ornaments—a ring for a pledge, a brooch for innocence, and a garland as a crown of victory for temptations resisted.

COSY FUR BONNET

Of this description is very useful for days when cold north winds blow; it is trimmed with a single silk rose.

Mission of 1913.

If the present year has any particular mission of dress it must be that of adding to the volume of the existing skirt. The year of 1912 had already begun this work, and it will be interesting to see how far its successor will carry it out. In Paris dresses are not worn nearly so exiguously clinging as they were in the earlier part of last year. London is slowly following the example of the city of chiffon. For the rest, who can say? Prophecy is a thankless trade, more particularly concerning matters of dress.

Like Darning.

If you wish to embroider silk stockings, try the following plan instead of using an embroidery hoop. Place your darning ball inside the stocking and hold it as though you were going to darn, save that you should be very careful not to stretch the stocking; simply hold it smooth over the darning where you are to do the embroidery.

Laces Popular.

Lace and figured chiffons and voiles are daintily wrought into charming evening frocks for girls who need thin dancing and dinner gowns. The bertha effect in lace or beaded nets is very popular, and, moreover, immense becomes either a stout or slight person. It hides any unflattering lines and adds charm to good figures.—Harper's Bazar.

Hand-Run Tucks.

Lingerie dresses for spring have the fullness of the skirts taken up in hand-run tucks.

USEFUL HOOK-AND-EYE BOX

Simple Contrivance Will Save Time and Frequently Much Wear and Tear on the Nerves.

Have you ever hunted in vain for the special size of hook and eye you needed? If not you are an abnormally neat woman, or one given to buttons or pins.

During that mad hunt through a badly mixed box of sewing utensils you doubtless vowed to have a separate hook-and-eye box forthwith. Then you promptly forgot.

The next time immediately hunt a number of card envelopes, and on the flap of each one sew a hook and eye to show the size and color within. Put these envelopes neatly in a small box and your miserable fishing days are over. There should be separate holders for cards of hooks and eyes, detached ones that have not been used and for those that have been ripped from a dress, as is the habit of some economical women.

Small boxes with the hook sewed or pasted to the lid may take the place of an envelope, but take up more room and are less easily handled.

For Evening Wear.

Evening dress is quite lovely this year, and the tunic as much to the fore as ever, though rather shorter than that of last winter. The head embroidery is all the rage, and it is almost crowded upon the nion that composes these tunics. They are of the most vivid colors, and the variety of designs is surprising. There appears to be no end to the inventiveness of the clever brains employed in this interesting if arduous work. The great difficulty must be to differentiate the patterns from each other.

One of the loveliest has two long-stemmed lilies rising from the hem in front, and a border of similar but smaller lilies finishes the tunic. The color is cerise, with crystal beads, and a curiously effective touch is the very narrow, flat piping, in the very palest greenish blue, which finishes the tunic around the shoulders and borders the sleeves. Lovely effects are made by laying these beautiful colors over each other.

Neck and Wrist Velvets.

In speaking of the application of black to jewelry of various kinds, one must not forget the chic and ever popular "neck velvets." They are an inch in width this season, and are provided with one, two or three slides, which may be adjusted to suit the wearer. These ornaments are seen in gold and platinum, plain or set with diamonds or pearls, of solid settings of seed pearls and occasionally of enameled.

Growing out of this neck velvet idea there is the revival of an old fashion—the use of black velvet as an armlet or bracelet. These bear the slides or ornamental sections, or consist of a continuous design that extends the entire length of the bracelet.

Lace Indications.

The Dry Goods Economist states that fashion indications in Paris afford ample opportunity for a wide use of laces in garment development for spring. Novel flouncing, tunic, drapery and yoking features are incorporated in many of the smartest gowns now being launched, and all of these features are being effectively carried out in laces. While the range of varieties used is exceedingly large, attention continues to focus on the higher effects.

Traveling Coats in Manish Style.

Traveling coats for spring show remarkably manish details. The straight roomy coat, the numerous pockets and the adjustable collar and cuffs are all calculated for practical comfort. The material is usually light-colored with plain or daisies back in white or ivory.

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS?

Simple Prescription Said to Work Wonders for Rheumatism.

This has been well known to the best doctors for years as the quickest and most reliable cure obtainable for rheumatism and backache. It has been published here for several winters and hundreds of the worst cases cured by it in a short time. From your drug-gist get one ounce of Toris Compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Results come the first day. If your druggist does not have Toris Compound in stock he will get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take some patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris Compound in the original, one-ounce, sealed, yellow package. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

Knew It All.
An old but sturdy Irishman, who had made a reputation as a gang boss, was given a job with a road construction company at Port-au-Prince, Haiti. One day, when the sun was hotter than usual, his gang of black Haitians began to shirk, and as the chief engineer rode up on his horse the Irishman was heard to shout: "Allez—you sons of guns—allez!" Then turning to the engineer, he said: "I curse the day I ever learned their language."

Determined to Be Observed.
"You may announce that I intend to retire to private life," said the industrious statesman.
"What for?"
"It seems to be the only method just now by which I can attract public attention."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated tiny granules. Adv.

WOMAN SICK FOURTEEN YEARS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

If these lines will be of any benefit to you, have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy for women's ailments, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Good for Broken Sinews
G. O. Jones, Baldwin, N. J., writes:—"I used Sloan's Liniment for broken sinews above the knee cap caused by a fall and to my great satisfaction was able to resume work in less than three weeks after the accident."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Fine for Sprain
Mr. Henry A. Yost, 4 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J., writes:—"A friend of mine had a severe sprain of his knee that would not heal. He laughed when I told him that I would have him out in a week. I applied Sloan's Liniment and in four days he was working and said Sloan's was a right good liniment."

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

IMPROVE COUNTRY HOMES
Farmers Have an Advantage Over Their City Cousins.
If the farmers will take advantage of their opportunities, there is no reason why they should not have all the advantages in the way of modern improvements over the people who live in the cities. The Wisconsin Advancement Association took this matter up some time ago and started a campaign that will never stop, for the farm papers have got in line for this greatest of all issues in importance to the farmers.
If the farmers want to get the details in this matter all they have to do is to write to the agricultural college for pamphlets and to the manufacturers who supply the material that goes in to these modern improvements. They will be surprised at the very moderate cost of complete equipments. The whole thing will cost less than an average automobile—but is, the heating, sewage and lighting plants.
The newspapers of the state are taking up this matter and we will soon see it become a universal campaign. When the newspapers become awake to an important matter, things "are doing" at once.

Village Mail Carriers.
The postmaster general is preparing to experiment with free delivery of mail in small towns, Congress appropriating $100,000 for that purpose, no more than $1,000 to be expended in any one place. The experiment should lead to improved service and benefit to approximately one-third the population of the nation. At present those residing in cities of more than 10,000 or towns where the postal receipts are in excess of $10,000 a year, or those residing in towns of $10,000 bonds to be paid, are eligible for the service. The resident of the small town gets nothing except the privilege of renting a box at the general delivery window, after the mail is distributed.
There is no reason why the citizen of the small town and village should be an exception in the service, provided it is to his advantage, not to be. Free delivery in towns of a few thousand inhabitants probably would be of doubtful value to residents, most of whom are near the post-office and likely to prefer to go after their mail rather than to get it once a day.
It is not likely that a more once a day service could be installed on an allowance of $1,000. However, there is no reason for limiting the expenditure in any town to that amount, provided better service is needed.
Free delivery in the very small towns probably would serve little purpose, and the experiment may show that the residents would prefer to be without it.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

THOMAS MEN KILLED BY CARS.
Two men killed by cars, a cheseframer, and Albert H. Fredrich, a farmer, both residents of the town of Emmet, Dodge county, were killed by a train one mile from Lebanon station, on the Northwestern railroad Saturday evening while on their way home. The night was cold, and it is supposed that they did not hear the approach of the train, as they were muffled up. The accident happened on a curve, and both men were instantly killed, the body of Mr. Fredrich having been thrown some distance. Nothing was known of the accident until after the train reached Milwaukee, when traces of blood and a cap were found on the pilot of the locomotive. An engine and caboose were immediately dispatched back along the line, and the bodies were found and taken to Milwaukee shortly after 1 a. m., Sunday.—Hartford Times.

Special Down Bonds.
At the voted election held at Hustisford on the proposition to bond the village for $10,000, for the purpose of building a village hall for paying for a new gasoline fire engine and apparatus, recently purchased, the question was defeated by a vote of 78 to 58. Farmers Have an Advantage Over Their City Cousins.
If the farmers will take advantage of their opportunities, there is no reason why they should not have all the advantages in the way of modern improvements over the people who live in the cities. The Wisconsin Advancement Association took this matter up some time ago and started a campaign that will never stop, for the farm papers have got in line for this greatest of all issues in importance to the farmers.
If the farmers want to get the details in this matter all they have to do is to write to the agricultural college for pamphlets and to the manufacturers who supply the material that goes in to these modern improvements.
