STATE LOAN TO SETTLERS

Cheap Cut Over Lands Readily Developed Adding Millions of Dollars to the Tax Roll.

SOUND INSURANCE AT COST

Wisconsin In 1914 Will Elect United States Senator by Direct Vote to Succeed Stephenson.

Madison, Wis., April—Special—To provide for state loans to settlers to develop northern Wisconsin cut-over lands is a plan advocated by Assemblyman Nye, of Superior, is a joint resolution to amend the constitution so as to admit of this innovation. It is claimed that by this method the cheap cut-over lands will be readily developed into prosperous farms adding millions of dollars to the tax rolls of the state.

Legislatures from upstate have been clamoring for years for state aid in some measure to help develop these wild lands, saying that there are thousands of acres of fertile agricultural lands lying idle because of inability of settlers to borrow sufficient funds with which to develop them; that capital is the element northern Wisconsin needs today more than anything else.

Said a supporter of the resolution: "Notwithstanding that northern Wisconsin affords excellent opportunities for safe farm investments, it is a deplorable fact that investors from the richer sections of Wisconsin and Illinois are loathe to send their money northward. Cheap cut-over lands are transformed into beautiful agricultural and dairy farms with an initial outlay of from $50 to $80 per acre. One only has to take a trip through the northern part of the state to see this stupendous work being carried on.

Available money is, therefore, the one thing needed to transform millions of acres of low taxed lands into a state of cultivation that will add untold wealth to the taxable property of the state. Along with the clearing of land comes the erection of new and modern farm homes, large, commodious barns and valuable herds of stock, all of which adds materially to the wealth of the state. Under the constitutional amendment proposed the state will be allowed to issue bonds for the purpose of securing money to loan to settlers to develop these lands and in turn the state will take security on the land developed.

It is believed that this plan will be more than self-sustaining. The property of the new property created will provide a huge sinking fund as it were, sufficient to pay the interest and overcome such losses as it may perchance sustain. In order to have a first overcome would be the rapid advance in the price of wild lands as soon as this innovation went into effect. Some say that the resolution on this account will be the greatest wealth to the holders of large tracts of northern lands.

The resolution has the approval of the agricultural college of the university, which department has unbending faith in the future development of northern Wisconsin cut-over lands. Such a plan as this would materially lessen the necessity of the state maintaining an expensive immigration department, as the state loan feature would be all the incentive needed to induce settlers to locate in Wisconsin. But as no results can be obtained until the constitutional amendment is passed, it will be necessary to carry on the work of soliciting settlers through the immigration bureau plan. In dollars and cents this is no doubt the biggest measure before the legislature.

Northern Wisconsin generally favors the resolution and the downstate members, it is said, are becoming more amicable to such plan. At the 1911 session, Assemblyman Plowman, of Marathon county, succeeded in getting a bill passed providing that individual counties could issue bonds for the purpose of developing unimproved lands, but it is said, to have failed somewhat by virtue of the cumbersome machinery necessary to put in motion to obtain the desired result.

That pure needs for Wisconsin farmers will be assured by the legislature has been certain since the opening of the session. Seed frauds have been well known to exist and bills were early introduced to place in the hands of the department of agriculture of the university power to prevent further frauds. It is now thought that power of supervision will be placed in the dairy and food department as a more effective and more appropriate authority, a force of inspectors already being in the field. The law, it is said, will be enacted without going into an expensive investigation and taking part in a fight between rival seed concerns as proposed by Assemblyman Mahon. It is argued that it is an admitted seed deception have been worked in Wisconsin. It is not a large, complicated question and therefore, say friends of the farmer, why "investigate the burglary" after it is committed? Why not get busy and pass a law doing away with the evil?

Meat Market Changes Hands

The meat market, better known as Wunderlich's meat market, has changed hands. John W. Stellplug of the town of Kewaskum will be the new proprietor. The latter has recently purchased the stock and tools of the late J. Jung. Mr. Stellplug will be given possession in the very near future. It is the intention of Mr. Stellplug to remodel and repair the building, in order to have a first class meat market. We extend our best wishes toward his success. Mr. Jung will still be employed in the market.

The ranks of the Modern Woodmen of America over the question of rates were given an opportunity to be heard before the assembly committee on insurance Wednesday. Ex-Assemblyman C. B. Culbertson, representing the insurgent Woodmen, realizing the impossibility of getting the objectionable laws repealed, offered a substitute amendment providing that fraternal societies may be organized for the purpose of carrying what is known as stop rate or current cost plan of insurance.

Insurance commissioner Ekern appeared for the substitute stating that it was what he termed sound insurance at actual cost. Several representatives of fraternal societies argued against the substitute on the grounds that over-zealous solicitors would represent the step rate plan as level life insurance to the disadvantage of the older societies. Mr. Culbertson contended that the cheap Woodmen rates induced a large number of poor people to take out insurance that would not otherwise be taken out, thus benefiting society greatly.

On Thursday the Assembly refused to concur in the Teasdale anti-treating bill by a vote of 57 to 38. The bill had already passed the senate. The bill brought out a large number of lobbyists from all over the state to oppose its passage.

The Assembly by a vote of 57 to 42 on Wednesday killed Anderson's bill to abolish fraternities in the state university. The bill was hard fought on both sides and culminated in a close vote.

The next United States Senator from Wisconsin will be elected by a direct vote of the people. In 1914 the people will elect a senator to succeed Isaac Stephenson. The direct election of United States Senators is made possible by a ratification of the constitutional amendment by thirty-six states of the union.

POPE'S DEATH IS NEAR

PHYSICIAN ADMITS PONTIFF MAY NOT LIVE MANY HOURS.

New Release Sets in and Vatican Prepares for Passing Away of Pontiff.

Rome, April 16.—Pope Pius suffered another relapse Tuesday and it is admitted at the Vatican that he is being kept alive through efforts of his physicians and that his condition is critical.

The life of the pontiff has been ebbing lower each hour, and nearly all of those within the papal bedchamber fear he will not live many hours.

It is reported that the pope's temperature rose to over 102 degrees during the night and has not shown any signs of abatement. His left lung and bronchial tubes are seriously congested and the symptoms of pneumonia remain more threatening.

Doctor Amici left the papal chamber for a moment and said to a friend: "I fear his holiness will not see the dawn of Thursday."

It was reported that Professor Marchisiani and Doctor Amici and Doctor Cagliati, who have remained constantly in the sick room, had administered heart stimulants more frequently during the night.

Unless the pope is able to rid himself of a portion of this congestion it is feared that he will choke to death during one of the collapses which have marked the progress of his relapses.

Monsignor Parolin, the pope's nephew, became so alarmed at one time after midnight that he begged Cardinal Merry Del Val to hasten the administration of the last sacraments. Upon the advice of the physicians this was not done.

Angelo Sarto, the pope's brother, who arrived from Grazia Tuesday night, created a scene during the night when he demanded admission to the papal bedchamber. Angelo begged with tears in his eyes to be allowed to see his brother and obtain his forgiveness for trouble which he said he had caused the pope in the last few years. It was only after he had been assured by Doctors Amici and Cagliati and several prelates that the pope would be able to recognize and speak to him in the morning that Angelo agreed to leave.

TRIES TO KILL KING

ALFONSO'S NERVE SAVES HIM FROM ASSASSIN'S GUN IN MADRID STREETS.

ANARCHIST SHOOTS 3 TIMES

Monarch Sees Danger and Digs Spurs in Horse in Time to Make Missile of Death Miss Him—City Joyous Over Escape.

Madrid, April 15.—Three shots were fired at King Alfonso Sunday afternoon in the streets of the capital by a native of Barcelona, Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered. This is the third time in his reign the king escaped being the victim of an anarchist attempt against his life.

King Alfonso owes his escape to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff, he was riding from the Calle de Alcalá returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, pointing a revolver with the other.

The king realizing the situation, with lightning rapidity dug his spurs into his horse, which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet, instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse on the neck, but so close was it that the king's left-hand glove was blackened by the powder discharge.

Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground locked in each other's arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm and fired two more shots in rapid succession at the king, but the officer knocked his arm aside and the bullets flew harmlessly through the air.

At the sound of the first shot members of the king's staff forced their horses on the sidewalk and made a ring around the assassin, who fought fiercely in the grip of four policemen before he was overpowered and handcuffed.

King Alfonso, as soon as he saw that the man had been secured, raised himself in the stirrups, turned to the crowd, gave a military salute and shouted in a ringing voice: "Long live Spain."

He then dismounted and reassured his staff, saying: "It is nothing, gentlemen."

Then arose a mighty roar from the wildly enthusiastic masses, which rolled along in great waves of sound, but all the way as the king rode to the palace, cool, collected and smiling.

King Alfonso was forced to tell of what he lightly called "the incident" which caused delay to Queen Victoria and the dowager empress, Maria Christina, who were alarmed greatly. The king smilingly allayed their fears.

GREAT STRIKE IS ON LAND BILL ADOPTED

SUSPENSION OF WORK TIES UP INDUSTRIES IN BELGIUM.

Refusal of Government to Grant Manhood Suffrage Caused Action.

Brussels, April 16.—As planned by the Belgian Socialist trade unions the vast political strike began at dawn here Monday. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills throughout the country. They left the various plants in charge of a few caretakers, told off by the Socialist leaders to keep the property from deteriorating.

At least 250,000 men laid down their tools during the morning. There were numerous exceptions to the general walkout in many districts, however.

The strike is complete in such places as the mining districts, but is scarcely discernible in some localities.

In Brussels itself the strike must be looked for in order to be found. Probably one-fourth of the workmen engaged in the suburban factories did not report for work. The Socialist committee here estimated at 11 o'clock that 20,000 men had struck in the capital.

At the great seaport of Antwerp the strike did not appear until late in the day, and then only affected a part of the dock laborers.

Unlike most strikes, this movement is not for an increase in wages or a betterment of working conditions; it is in protest against the refusal of the government to grant the workers manhood suffrage.

Coal miners, railroad men, glass workers, foundrymen, electricians and dockmen had pledged themselves to obey the summons of the Socialist leaders to make the walkout effective.

Viscount Chinda's call at the White House followed the receipt by him of copies of the proposed California laws from Secretary of State Bryan. The text of these laws was cabled to Japan and it is understood that Viscount Chinda received new instructions that neither the laws nor the purpose of this government to leave the California enactments to a test in the courts were acceptable to the mikado and this government. These instructions resulted in a hurried appointment with the president.

It is pointed out here by officials interested in the Japanese view that if the United States Supreme court should hold that the federal government has no right to interfere in the affairs of the state of California, Japan would still be obliged to hold to the position taken by her ally, Great Britain, on the question of Panama tolls. This position is that a treaty enactment is paramount to a municipal law. According to this view, no decision of the United States courts would be in line with the position of the Japanese and British foreign offices unless it held that the state of California was wrong and that the United States must be wrong.

Beyond this question the situation is full of dangerous possibilities. In the opinion of the state department experts the attitude of Japan toward the United States is to be expected because of the breaking up of the six-power concert in China largely through the machinations of Japan and Russia. These two powers have defeated all the plans of the Knox regime to give the United States a position of strength in the affairs of the far east. Combined, they have practically closed the open door to China.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

TRouble has a trick of coming. But end first; Viewed approaching—then you've seen it. At its worst. Once surmounted, straight it waxes. Ever small. And it tapers till there's nothing left at all.

KEEPING DOWN KITCHEN EXPENSES.

If you will notice, the meat bills of the cook who buys steaks or quickly-cooked meats, are much higher than those of the woman who spends more time planning her meals and buying cheaper cuts of meat, and her family at the same time are better fed.

When we buy cold boiled ham at thirty-five or forty cents a pound, instead of preparing it ourselves at twenty-two cents, or buying ten cents worth of soup cubes when a ten-cent soup bone would have made a much fuller meal, as to food value, and with little expense as to heat, if a fireless cooker is used; when we insist upon steaks at twenty-five and twenty-eight cents, when twelve and fifteen cents will buy meat which, if well cooked, will furnish a good meal.

A small piece of meat added to vegetables will give flavor to them and make a palatable meal. It takes thought and planning to keep down the expenses and still not noticeably stint the family. For most women who have the right feeling toward housekeeping there is a keen enjoyment in the battling against such odds. It is a game that takes as much greater skill than that shown at the bridge table, and one which we hope to see the younger generation enter with a fair knowledge of the game.

Leaf lard, if bought when the price is down to eleven cents, and the lard tried out at home, will lessen the cost of lard from two to four cents on the pound.

There are certain seasons in the year, usually early in the year, when sugar may be bought in hundred-pound bags at a saving of one or two cents to the pound, when buying by the dollar's worth, as most people do. Sugar is a staple that cannot spoil if kept in a clean, dry place, and it is economy to buy it in large lots.

Canned vegetables for winter may be bought at quite a reduction if a dozen cans are ordered, and much of the staple food can be bought thus, and save the middle man's profit.

Measure Further Restricting Use of Common Drinking Cups is Also Given
Final Passage—Stout School Not to Be Removed from Menomonie.

Madison.—The Jennings bill regarding street car service came up for final passage in the assembly and went through without opposition. This bill provides an effective means for making street car and interurban lines obey certain orders of the railroad commission. Any company, according to the bill, which has been ordered by the railroad commission to put on extra cars and fails to do so within the time designated, cannot enforce collection of fares from passengers who are not furnished seats. The bill is not confined in its operation to any one class of cities, but applies to all parts of the state.

Mr. Hurlbut's bill providing that no action for damage to motor cycles or automobiles shall lie against a city or village, unless the axle of such machine shall be at least nine inches above the wheel base, as Assemblyman McComb's bill forbidding the use of the common drinking cup in railroad trains and stations, public buildings, on streets or in public parks, in hotels or lodging houses and public, private or parochial schools were given final passage in the senate. The penalty for violation is a fine of from $10 to $50.

The Burke bill providing for the removal of the Stout Memorial school from Menomonie to Eau Claire was recommended by the joint committee on finance for indefinite postponement.

STUDENT COURT IS WINNER

Regents of University of Wisconsin Grant Demands of Body Which Resigned.

Madison.—The students won their fight for self-government with the regents when the regent committee appointed to confer on the student court decided to recommend the retraction of the amendment adopted at the last meeting, which greatly curtailed the powers of the court, and also recommended the addition of a number of new powers.

By the new charter the student court will have the right of immediate suspension, the right of expulsion, and the final right to trial of all offenders. The regents are also to refrain from any further summary changes in the court's charter. In case the court does not act within 48 hours on any case, the faculty retains the right of suspension, but the court shall have the power of determining whether that suspension shall stand. The action means an end to the hazing that has been prevalent here recently.

ARREST THEATER OWNERS

Proprietors of Beloit Moving Picture Houses Kept Their Places Open on Sunday.

Beloit.—Regardless of the fact that at the last city election the question of open Sunday theaters in Beloit was passed by a large majority, all the proprietors of moving picture theaters who kept their places open on Sunday are to be prosecuted.

Warrants for their arrest have been issued. The warrants charge the proprietors of the houses with violation of the state laws. Jail sentences are to be asked.

The prosecution is being carried on by the church brotherhood of this city, the members claiming that the enactments of the legislature are the law of the state and until repealed, the people have no right to take an action which permits a violation of those laws.

TRAINS IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Freight and Passenger Engines Crash at Marinette Depot—Several Are Slightly Hurt.

Marinette.—In the presence of about 100 people thirty feet from the station platform, a freight and passenger train of the Northwestern railway met in a head-on collision here. The freight engine was just about to switch cars to a side track when a southbound passenger train came around a sharp curve. The engines went together with a loud crash and there were wild shrieks from those on the platform who were waiting for friends and relatives on the passenger train. The engine men on both locomotives jumped in time to escape serious injury. Several passengers were slightly hurt.

Warden Held for Murder.

Marquette.—Howard Leaf, inmate of the local workhouse, died from the bullet wound inflicted by Peter Christ, the keeper. Shortly after the coroner's jury found that Leaf came to his death at the hands of Christ, a warrant was issued for the latter, charging him with murder in the first degree, the complaint being made by a brother of Leaf. The principal evidence against Christ was given by Leaf whom he shot.

Expect Ruling April 29.

Madison.—The Wisconsin supreme court has finished hearing arguments on the first assignment of cases for April and adjourned until 10 o'clock a. m. on April 29. It is expected that the court will announce its decision in the Ekern-McGovern case then.

Kenosha Man Knighted.

Kenosha.—Peter B. Nelson, formerly mayor of Racine, has received notice from King Haakon of Denmark that the order of the Knights of Dannebrog has been conferred upon him.

Injuries Will Be Fatal.

La Crosse.—Falling to hear an approaching switch engine as he was about to cross the tracks of the Milwaukee railroad, John Shink, a farmer, was struck and received fatal injuries.

Gets Tame Deer Back.

Madison.—A tame deer confiscated from a poor sinner near Dayfield by a game warden and shipped to Madison was being ordered returned by Gov. McGovern.

Hotel at Rio Burns.

Rio.—The Hotel Annas caught fire from a defective stovepipe and burned to the ground. The loss will amount to about $7,000. The hotel had about twenty rooms, but none of the guests had retired for the night.

College Seed Potatoes Sold Out.

Madison.—No more seed potatoes can be supplied to Wisconsin farmers by the state college of agriculture this spring, the supply being completely exhausted.

NO INVESTIGATION OF PUBLIC MORALS

ASSEMBLY KILLS BILL CONCERNING ACTS OF WISCONSIN RESIDENTS.

BROAD POWERS DELEGATED

Measure Provided for Commission Composed of Doctor, Minister and Citizens, Who Were to Keep State Clean—Kill Plan for Convention.

Madison.—The people of Wisconsin will have to get along without having their morals censured by a commission because the Frederick measure, which would have made every one walk a straight line, was indefinitely postponed in the assembly.

The bill provided for a commission of seven members. One was to be a physician, one a minister, two teachers and the others ordinary citizens. The commissioners were to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The commission being appointed it was to "investigate all matters pertaining to purity and public morals, books, advertising, dress and costumes of actors and actresses, etc., were to be scrutinized. Its powers were broad in the scope and covered about everything in the daily conduct of Wisconsin citizens.

But the plan did not appeal to the members of the assembly and the bill was killed without mercy after Mr. Frederick had spoken briefly in its support. No one cared to discuss the measure and it went to the legislative cemetery with no ceremony.

No Constitutional Convention.

There will be no constitutional convention, not for a few years at least. When the Rosa joint resolution, 41A, providing for the submission of the question of a constitutional convention to the people came up in the assembly it was killed by a vote of 55 to 35. Assemblyman H. R. Rothe moved the indefinite postponement of the resolution. Mr. Rothe said no constitutional convention was necessary as the present constitution was ample for the government of the state. If its provisions were not sufficient the constitution could be amended in the usual way. The resolution provided that the question of whether a constitutional convention should be held should be submitted to the people of the state at the general election in 1914.

Favors Combining Boards.

The joint legislative committee on finance has recommended for passage the True bill placing the work of the state park board in charge of the department of forestry. The bill carries an annual appropriation of $60,000 for maintenance of present parks and the purchase of additional land for park purposes. The committee also decided to recommend for passage the Engelbreton bill appropriating $2,500 a year for two years to the college of agriculture of the state university for the production of anti-hog cholera serum.

REPORT MADE ON DISEASES

State Board of Health Issues Bulletin for Wisconsin for October, November and December.

Madison.—According to a bulletin issued by the state board of health for October, November and December, 1912, there were 129 cases of diphtheria in the state, of which 80 resulted fatally; 144 recoveries from whooping cough with 14 deaths; 667 cases of scarlet fever, resulting in 64 deaths, and 284 cases of smallpox, with no deaths.

Negro Pleads "Unwritten Law."

Milwaukee.—Newspaper reports of the trial of Prof. Olson at Minneapolis for the murder of his wife's paragon are said to be responsible for the slaying of Charles Carter, a porter, by Edward Scott, a Plankinton house "bell boy," both colored. Scott went to the boarding house of Carter and shot the latter down when he came to the door, killing him instantly. Scott says he will plead the "unwritten law" as defense.

Race Meets at Janesville.

Janesville.—What the organization of the Wisconsin Grand Circuit interest in harness racing is again being revived in this city, which is one of the members of the circuit. At a meeting of the Janesville Park association it was voted to hold a special race meet on July 4 in connection with the homecoming, which is being planned under the auspices of the Commercial club.

Lets Contracts for Lights.

Fond du Lac.—This city is to raise the old electric light towers and has let a contract for 200 arc lights of 2,000 candle power at $68 each for ten years.

Motor Dealers Organize.

La Crosse.—Local motor dealers have effected a new organization to be known as the La Crosse County Automobile Dealers' association, and will hold a show in connection with the interstate fair in September.

Train Kills Norwalk Boy.

La Crosse.—While playing on the railroad tracks at Norwalk, Omar Lueth, 12 years old, fell under the wheels of a moving train and received injuries which proved fatal.

Drinks Linament and Dies.

Appleton.—While his mother was busy with her housecleaning, Lorenz Hubberstain, aged 2, of the town of Hortonsville, found a bottle of linament and drank part of it. He died a short time later.

Only Expense a Postage Stamp.

Fond du Lac.—Roy E. Reed, re-elected municipal judge of Ripon, filed a campaign election account in which he said he only spent 2 cents for a postage stamp to mail his account.

VEILING MUST BE PLENTIFUL WAYS OF FINDING PARTNERS

Without a Liberal Supply of Material It is Impossible to Get the Proper Effect.

It is poor economy to buy too scant measure when purchasing face veiling. A smartly adjusted veil can never have a skimpy effect, as when the back of veiling is straining at the edges of the veil pin, or when there is not sufficient material left at the ends to be tucked from view. Wide veiling and plenty of it must be used on even a small hat. An excellent idea is to have elastic cording run through the meshes of the veil at the top, being so measured as to fit firmly at the base of the crown. This method avoids the pinning of the veil to the hat brim, which is never a very secure way of fastening it and is difficult to do if the hat brim is stiff, and is apt to leave pin marks in any event. The fullness should be evenly distributed around the crown and the edges of the veil at the bottom caught at the nape of the neck with a veil pin or barrette. The ends are then drawn straight up to the back of the brim and initially tucked under the elastic at the crown. When the veil loses its freshness and begins to sag at the chin twist this portion round and round and tuck it under its own surface; this will give trimness to the otherwise untidy appearance.

SMART TAILOR MADE SUIT

A tailor made suit of light suede broadcloth with collar of white crepe, cerise embroidery and black tie.

Ribbon drawn through lace and tied in a flat bow at the left side makes an effective trimming.

Some New and Original Ideas Which Intending Hostesses May Find of Real Value.

A correspondent kindly tells of these ways to find partners: "One girl had conundrums written on cards and given to the girls; the answers to these were handed to the gentlemen and they were numbered corresponding with the numbers on the girls' cards; they were told to find who their partners were. Another girl had the girls' names written backward on cards and handed them to the gentlemen and told them to make out who their partners were. Another girl had a small piece cut out of the card; the pieces were given to the girls and the other portions of the cards were given to the gentlemen and they were told to look for the girl who held the card corresponding with theirs. Another put the girls' names on cards and they were put in envelopes and sealed and hid in different places in the parlor."

New Gloves.

Kid gloves when put on for the first time require time. They should be carefully stretched and worked on slowly, care being taken that the finger seams are in their right position always. Button the second button first, after which fasten the first one. Much depends upon the way a glove is put on, not only as regards the fit, but also the wear of the glove. If you do not manage to fasten the top button the first time of wearing you will rarely succeed in doing so afterward, for the glove will have stretched in other directions.

In Pastel Shades.

It has become quite a fad to have the combinations, corset covers, petticoats, gowns, etc., in colored tints to match the costumes with which they are to be worn, or else to harmonize with the decorations of the boudoir, particularly in the case of gowns and petticoats. The trimmings are usually lace of the shadow or val variety. (Cluny, baby Irish and Venice are used on gowns and petticoats. This fad will probably continue until hot weather arrives, at which time there is nothing better than white.

Summer Living-Room Rug.

Rugs are a problem, summer or winter, but particularly in the summer we long instinctively to get rid of those with a deep velvety surface. One of the best summer rugs made of wool, appropriate to that account for all seasons, is the homespun rug. The weave is flat, without a nap, and the colors are very soft and cool-looking. These rugs cost from three to three dollars and a half a yard, according to the color and quality.—Harper's Bazar.

Care of Jars.

When emptying fruit cans or jars of any description, wash them clean at once before putting them away, says the Comptroller. Put the lid away with the jar, and is the rubber is good put that away with the can or jar, though when you fill the jar again you should use a new rubber. For many things which may be put in the jars the old rubbers will serve, as they will not need to be airtight.

Hang Up Blouses.

To keep blouses fresh and unrumpled screw five hooks into a piece of broomhandle about two feet long. Opposite the middle hook fix a large screw-eye through which the bar may screw through from a small pulley attached to the cupboard or wardrobe ceiling. Put the blouses on clothes hangers, slip one on each hook, and pull the whole up into the empty space to center of cupboard.

PIN MONEY FOR BOYS

Seeds for Planting Should Be Carefully Assorted.

Time for Performing Task Varies According to Latitudes and Seasons—Onions May Be Put in Earlier Than Other Plants.

(By KATHERINE A. THERTON GRIM.)
If there is one time of the year that is better than all the rest, it is the time when the seeds are put into the ground. The sweet, warm air, the sunny sky, blue as a million turquoise, and, more than all, the smell of the fresh, moist earth, all seem full of joyful promise. No wonder all the poets blossom out in the spring; even a horse-block could write poetry—if it could.

Now for the planting. Your ground is fit as fit can be—see how mellow and warm it is!—your seeds are carefully tested and sorted, and each kind is tied up by itself in a little cloth sack that will not break if you carry it in your pocket.

I said your seeds were sorted. Are you sure you remembered to do that? You should have spread them all out on a white cloth laid on the table—one kind at a time, of course—and have picked out all that were broken, or not well filled, or that did not look right for any reason. Of course all foul seeds should be taken out, too.

It looks like quite a task to do all that, but it is really not half as hard to remove the foul seed as it is to dig up the weeds they will raise; and it is far more profitable, of course, to plant good seed than poor.

Otherwise, you would not have taken all the pains you have been at to secure the very best seed you could.

How deep are you going to plant? Does each kind of seed require to be put at the same depth? You can find these things out for yourself by trying a little experiment.

Make a box frame of two-inch strips large enough to hold a piece of 7x9 window glass. It should be about four inches in depth, and have wooden ends and bottom. Set in a couple of panes for sides, and fasten them in place with little wooden buttons. Fill nearly full of rich, damp earth. On the ends mark a scale of inches beginning at the top of the dirt. Put down into the soil, next to the glass, the seeds you wish to study, the first one inch deep, the second two inches deep, and so on.

One-half of one side can be used for corn, and the other half for beans, while the other side can be used for onion sets, tomato seeds, or anything else you wish. As the seeds sprout, you can easily tell which depth is best, and plant your field seeds accordingly.

A big glass bottle may be used in the same way, but is not quite so handy as the box.

The nicest kind of a bag to drop seeds from is an apron, such as carpenters use. This should be made of some stout cloth, such as denim or duck. A yard is enough for one, and you can surely coax mother or big sister to make it for you.

Be sure to plant your seeds in rows far enough apart to cultivate with a horse. Even the smallest of garden stuff, such as onions, lettuce and radishes, may be cared for much easier this way.

The old-fashioned plan of putting such "small fry" into a raised bed is not a good one. Not only are they hard to keep free from weeds, but such beds dry out badly. It is far better to put everything in rows.

The time for planting varies so much with different latitudes and seasons that there is not much use trying to make a rule for it. You know that seeds must have warmth to grow, so know that it will not pay to be in too big a hurry to get them in while there is danger of frost.

Onions, though, may be put in earlier than most other things, as they delight in the damp cool weather of early spring, and will take no hurt from slight frosts.

But the tenderer plants, such as corn, potatoes, tomatoes and the like, will not stand much cold, and it pays best to wait till settled weather before putting them in.

Planting over, the year's work is fairly begun. Now for the pleasure of watching the lovely green things come to life, and push up through the mellow earth. What a wonderful thing it is—the life that teems throughout the world of spring. You remember the line:

In the beginning, God, the Great Workman,
Fashioned a seed.
So in planting and caring for the latent lives shut in the dry kernels, you are only finishing the work he began. A great thought for the planting time, isn't it? And now, good luck to every Farm World boy and his garden.

THOSE RHEUMATIC TWINGES

Much of the rheumatic pain that comes in damp, changing weather is the work of uric acid crystals. Needles couldn't cut, tear or burn any worse when the affected muscle joint is used. If such attacks are marked with headache, backache, distaste and disturbances of the urine, it's time to help the weakened kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly help sick kidneys.

A Michigan Case. Joseph Hoover, 208 S. Catherine St., Bay City, Mich., says: "My back got so bad I couldn't bend over. I tried because so many had said down and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills went right to the spot, three boxes curing me completely. I have had no trouble since."

ALBERTA

NOTES from MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Prune a little every year. Wash the separator thoroughly. Feed the chicks little and often. Never make a young horse pull all it can. Plant an abundance of beets to allow for greens. Let's not forget to whitewash the hen house this spring. There's more in the care of your fowls than in the breed. The older the egg the less is that sweet, rich flavor-noticeable. Measure out your grain according to the work your horses are doing. A good horse poorly cared for rarely sells for what he really is worth. With the growing pig thrift, not hunger, should prompt to exercise. The success of the dairy farm depends upon the "man behind the cow." Butter is usually good or bad according to the process by which it is made. A cross bred male cannot be relied upon for producing uniform offspring. There is no profit in keeping a pig or any other animal when there is no gain. Are the cows paying for the feed they consume? If not, there are those that will. Never feed dusty feed if you can avoid it, but if you do, sprinkle it with water before feeding. Sand that will grow good crops of clover will grow, or can be made to grow almost anything. In butter-making use salt that will dissolve readily, otherwise your butter is likely to be gritty. The cow that gives the most milk when fresh is not always the best milker in a year's time. The dairy cows, especially, will greatly relish and do well on the odd turnips, beets and cabbage. One way of increasing profits in dairy farming is to cut down the herd to the actual profit makers. When you breed full bloods, grade or native stock, never use an imperfect animal for breeding purposes. The only successful hen house is to open front—one that has at least one-third of the south side entirely open. Four quarts of good oats, mixed with warm water, make a fine feed for the cow just after the new calf comes. On the farm, as in other business, ever undertake more than you can do at the right time and in the proper manner. Where hard coal is burned the chimneys may be saved and substituted for dirt. They are not half bad for this purpose. The difficulties in the way of making good butter may all be overcome, and good butter will always find a remunerative market. One reason why separators do not always do good work is because they are not set up right. Look well to it in the very beginning. By actual experiment it has been found that feeding alfalfa hay with the cost of fattening pigs has increased about one-half. Sewing-machine associations are being organized in many neighborhoods. Dairymen are beginning to see the wastefulness of working in the dark. Indigestion is the cause of more than half the diseases of the horse, and largely caused by improper food and working horses on a full stomach. A good pasture is the foundation stone of successful hog raising, and it is as a pasture for swine that alfalfa is utilized to the best advantage. Horses should never be made to eat moldy hay, as nothing is worse in leading to worrying, whistling and other derangements of the wind. Skim milk, when fed in connection with grain, makes a very valuable food for hogs at all periods of their growth, but practically so during the earlier period. The farming business is getting to be a big proposition. Farm life of today means more than the daily round of chores, with the long, idle winter spent reading the almanac. From the fact that so many good mares are raising mule colts, and so many fine stallions have been converted into carriage horses of the heavy harness type, a veritable horse famine is close at hand. Have you planned to let the small boy of the family have at least one acre of land to plant and care for, with the privilege of using the money he may make from the products as he may wish? Try it. The plan has paid with others and it ought to do well on your farm. "What is a mature pullet?" some one has asked. Some would say, one that was laying. This is hardly a safe guide, as pullets often lay when five or six months of age. A pullet may safely be considered mature, when nine months of age and over. The nearer they are to a year old the over the better they are for breed-

ROLLED STEAK GOOD

WITH BROWNED POTATOES IT IS T FOR EPICURES.

Dainty Dressing That Should Go With the Meat—Spiced Beef Relish—Creamed and Baked Hash Both Fines.

Roller Steak, Browned Potatoes.—Have the bone removed from two pounds of round steak. Make a dressing of two cups of bread crumbs—dry—a quarter of a pound of salt pork, chopped very fine; a dash of pepper, and a little sage, or parsley and onion juice, spread this over the steak, roll up carefully and tie in at least three places to keep the roll in shape. Put into the roasting pan with a cup of hot water and a tablespoonful of lard or bacon fat. Bake in moderately hot oven; basting often; and put the potatoes into the pan with the roll on brown, turning them when brown on one side. Make a gravy with the brown glaze in the pan, after draining off the fat and adding a cup of cold water. Stir over the fire and the glaze will loosen and give you a nice brown liquid for your gravy.

Spiced Beef Relish.—Take two pounds of raw beef and chop very fine; add half a teaspoonful of salt; a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper; half a teaspoonful of sage, and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Roll two crackers very fine, add to the mixture and bind together with two beaten eggs. Shape into roll and bake, basting often with melted butter and water. Slice cold. Serve with horse-radish mayonnaise.

Creamed Hash.—Cut beef, veal or mutton in slices, then chop fine and brown in a little fat pork or bacon drippings. Drain from the fat and in the same pan put two tablespoonfuls of flour to two of the fat and rub smooth. Then add a cup of rich milk or cream, if you can spare it. Salt and pepper to taste and stir until it boils up. Then add the meat and cook long enough to heat thoroughly and pour over toasted slices of bread.

Baked Hash.—Take one and one-quarter pounds of shoulder or neck of mutton, lean as you can get it. Cover with boiling water and cook tender. Remove the bones and gristle and chop meat very fine. Add three boiled and creamed potatoes, a tablespoonful of salt; pepper to taste; a tablespoonful of parsley minced very fine, and a few drops of onion juice. Mix all together and turn into a baking dish. Pour over mixture a tablespoon milk, add fine bread crumbs mixed with melted butter and bake a nice brown, about twenty minutes. Serve from the same dish.

Willow Switches Given Away. The small boy whose father has time to apply the switch should beware with a little more than his usual caution. The United States government is giving away willow switches. The department of agriculture has an experiment farm at Arlington, Va., and some parts of it were found to be too wet for raising ordinary crops. Therefore the experts set willows out in the wet places, and there has been so smart a growth that the government wants to get rid of the willow switches. It offers to give them away under the guise of willow cuttings to make baskets or bottom chairs, but no smart boy will ever be deceived by that kind of talk. He may be safe only in the assurance of the government that only one hundred of the cuttings will be given to one person.—Worcester Telegram.

Pimples Covered Face. 1613 Dayton St., Chicago, Ill.—"My face was very red and irritated and was covered with pimples. The pimples festered and came to a head. They itched and burned and when I scratched them became sore. I tried soaps and they would not stop the itching and burning of the skin. This lasted for a month or more. At last I tried Cuticura Ointment and Soap. They took out the burning and itching of the skin, soothing it very much and giving the relief that the others failed to give me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about three weeks and was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mueller, Mar. 16, 1912.

Boys and Flies. "God made the flies; don't sweat them," is a Hackensack official's method of disposing of the summer pest problem. This ought to be a useful argument for the Hackensack youngster who is caught sampling the jam.—New York Evening Sun.

Its Weight. "Cholly complained of having something on his mind." "I know what it is. I saw him strike his head against a lot of cobwebs in the corner."

Suffer Little Children. "He says he loves little children." "He ought to. He employs about 2,000 of them and they are making him rich."

Constitution causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. The favorite family laxative. Adv.

A BOY INTERPRETER

A Young Massachusetts Swede in Canada Twenty Years Ago Wants to Return.

Twenty years ago, a blond-haired young Swede, a boy of about 10 years of age, accompanied a party of his fellow-countrymen on the then long trip to Western Canada as an interpreter. The party he accompanied located at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, now one of the most thriving and best settled districts in Western Canada. For three years he remained in the district. Homesickness took him back to his home at Fitchburg, Mass., and he has remained there for 17 years. He has heard frequently from his friends in the West. He has followed their movements and watched their progress. He has heard how the town he helped to establish has risen from a shack to a growing, thriving, brisk business center, with the surrounding country peopled now by thousands who are occupying the territory in which he was one of the first to help plant the colony of twenty or twenty-five. In his letter to an official of the Department of the Interior, he says: "When I was up in Canada, Calgary was a small town and so was Edmonton, but I understand they have grown wonderfully since." The young man when he went last learned a machine trade, he has patents and inventions but he wants to go to Canada again. And he likely will, but when he does he will find a greater change than he may expect. Calgary and Edmonton are large cities, showing marvelous and wonderful growth. Where but one line of railway made a somewhat tortuous and indefinite way across the plains to its terminus, there are three lines of railway dividing the trade of hundreds of thousands of farmers, carrying freight to the hundreds of towns and cities crossing and criss-crossing the prairies in all directions, reaching out into new settlements, and preceding districts to be newly opened for incoming settlers. He will not be able to secure a homestead unless at a considerable distance from the town, the three dollar an acre land is selling at from $15 to $35 an acre. He will find now what was but a theory then, that this land that was then $3 an acre is worth the $30 or $35 that may be asked for it, and a good deal more. But he will find that he can secure a homestead just as good as any that were taken in his day, and today worth $35 an acre, but at some distance from a line of railway, yet with a certainty of railway in the near future, and he will find too that he can still get land at $15 to $18 an acre that will in a year or two be worth $30 or $35 an acre. Mr. Moseon is talking to his countrymen about Canada. Advertisement.

Proper Way to Dust. Everything has to be learned—even the simple art of dusting. The proper way to dust is to have a duster in each hand, which method is quite necessary to success, for the duster in the left hand is needed to prevent finger marks when steadying and lifting highly polished furniture. Each piece of furniture should be wiped lightly from top downward to remove the dust, and then, after the duster has been shaken out of the window—never over the carpet—the wood should be smartly rubbed to bring up a polish. Be sure you treat a stuffed cushion with a brush and duster before dealing with the wood otherwise the dust from the upholstered cushion will fly out on to the wood of the chairs or sofas.

Pure Vinegar. When paring apples, peaches or apricots for canning or table use wash thoroughly, cover parings with water, cook slightly or set in warm place two days. Strain, sweeten with sugar, put into jars, bottles, crocks or with cloth cover. Fill one, then the next. Keep in warm place and you will have pure vinegar with very little expense, writes a contributor to Los Angeles Express. I rinse fruit cans, jelly and jam glasses, syrup cans and all sweets for the vinegar jug. In this was I never buy vinegar unless putting up lots of pickles.

Milk Goblets. New ideas for able decoration need not necessarily come from a woman. To a man should go the credit of introducing many glass and china table accessories dear to the heart of the housekeeper. Long, slender milk glasses of delicate white glass or thin porcelain are the latest invention. The idea was suggested to one man when he noticed how smeared and so-spitting the ordinary glass looks when milk is being drunk from it.—Topeka State Journal.

Scour Kettles With Pieces of Lemon. Never throw away pieces of lemon, after they have been squeezed with the lemon squeezer, for they come in handy for removing stains from the hands and elsewhere. Dipped into salt they will scour copper kettles nicely and remove stains from brass work. Lemon like this will take stains, dirt and odor from pans and kettles as nothing else will. The odors of fish and onions can thus be easily removed.

Fresh Pork Stew. Two quarts water, two pounds pork, two quarts potatoes sliced, one onion, one small carrot, slice of turnip, all cut fine, salt and pepper to taste. When cooked, thicken with one tablespoon of flour in cup of cold water; let boil. Serve with croutons.

Pineapple Sherbet. One can grated pineapple, two cups sugar, two quarts water, juice of two lemons, two tablespoonfuls gelatin; heat pineapple, sugar and water to boiling, pour onto gelatin which has been softened in one-half cup cold water; add lemon juice, cool and freeze.

Killarsney Cocktail. Take all the pulp from grapefruit and chill. When ready to serve, place in glasses, dust with powdered sugar and garnish with green creme de menthe cherries.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY IS BASED ON HEALTH

To Have Health, Bowel Movement is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain it

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected. An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured" of grave stomach troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently. It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from gripping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative in America today and thousands of families are now never without it. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—no postal will do—to Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 203 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.
