OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Wisconsin is Coming In to the Limelight.

Recently, and especially within the last six months, there has been more inquiry regarding Wisconsin opportunities from people who have been working in the interest of other sections than in years before.

Scarcely a day passes without inquiries of this character being received by the Wisconsin Advancement association. They come now from people of means and ability.

This change means that millions of dollars of new money and tens of thousands of new people will come to the state within a short time.

In this connection it may be noted that the Wisconsin exhibits that a small coast are being made at the state fairs of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana and Michigan.

Teach Young Chickens to Find High Roosts

Because over-crowding in small coops placed near the ground tends to injure the health of young chickens, it is inadvisable to teach them to perch roosts as early as possible and practicable.

When chickens are left out on frosty nights in an improvised shelter they are sure to huddle close together. In this way the bodily temperature is raised abnormally, and they become easily subject to colds, which often leads to fatal diseases.

Dry Feeds Counteract Undesirable Milk Odors

The undesirable odor or flavor which is apt to be imparted to milk by the feeding of such succulences as silage, turnips, beets, pumpkins and certain of the pasture weeds can be at least partially counteracted by the supplementary feeding of a ration of good, clean dry feeds according to A. C. Baer, instructor in dairy husbandry at the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

Where Wisconsin May Serve

The recent drought in Kansas gives Wisconsin a chance to serve not only itself but the people of the entire country. It is being pointed out that if instead of sending the young cattle from the drought-stricken regions to markets prematurely, they were shipped into northern Wisconsin and Minnesota, where there is abundant pasture, the price of beef could be kept down, at least to a certain extent and at the same time farmers of both sections could be helped.

Livestock Insurance Faker Gets Prison Term

Joseph Ryan, a fraudulent livestock insurance solicitor representing himself at various times as "J. E. Watson" and "Gibson," will serve 18 months in the Wisconsin state penitentiary at Waupun, for victimizing station owners in Grant county.

Addition to Hog Cholera Serum Plant Going Up

The contract has been awarded for the addition to the new hog cholera serum plant in connection with the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, and work is being pushed rapidly. The enlarged facilities will greatly increase the ability of the college to supply serum where it is necessary within the state.

LEONARD VOLM LAID TO REST

Buried in the St. Bridget's Cemetery Monday. A Large Funeral

The sudden death of Leonard Volm, a farmer residing about three miles from this village, of which a brief mention was made in our last Saturday's issue, was a great shock to all who knew the deceased. Mr. Volm had been in his usual health up to the minute of his death. He came to this village last Thursday afternoon and went into the H. J. Lumber Co.'s office, where he wanted to pay a lumber bill, when all of a sudden he was seized with heart failure and fell to the floor. The doctor who was called stated that death was instantaneous.

Mr. Volm was born in Germantown, Wis., August 31, 1856. The family in 1883 moved onto a farm about two and a half miles, south-west of this village. Mr. Volm had been living there ever since.

He was married to Mary Klein, November 12, 1883. Besides his wife he is survived by five children, three having preceded him in death. Those that are living are: Mayme, Cathrine, Barbara, Ben and Wm. He was preceded in death by his two sisters. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever held in this vicinity, took place on Monday at 10 o'clock at St. Bridget's church, Rev. Vogt of this village officiating. Interment was made in St. Bridget's cemetery.

Those from afar who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Feibin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gowing and Mr. and Mrs. Benien, all of Fond du Lac; Mr. and Mrs. Becker of Barton; and Fred Neher and Mrs. Charles Pree of Milwaukee. The archbishop confirmed the CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all those who so kindly assisted us during the death and burial of our beloved husband and father, also for the many floral gifts and the pall bearers.

Mrs. Leonard Volm and children.

Women in Business

Any one who believes that woman's field of activity in business is limited should be convinced to the contrary by reading the following figures from a report of the London board of trade: Women bankrupts were less numerous than in 1912, the figure being 399, against 495. The woman grocer was the least successful among the tradesmen of the sex, taking the number of figures as a criterion; the woman milliner and dressmaker next, then the woman draper entered into many fields. Among others one notes in the list eleven bakers, four butchers, seven farmers, five fishmongers, four nurses, two photographers, eight restaurant keepers, five school mistresses, six tobacconists, two gardeners, nine toy dealers, six stationers and three undertakers.

The Waupun Leader says: "In many useful ways Congressman Burke has endeavored himself to his constituents. His prompt attention to all business, public or private, committed to him; his thorough knowledge of the needs of every section of his district; and his action thereon, as well as his statesmanlike view of questions affecting the welfare of the state and nation, richly entitled him to the general confidence and respect of his constituents."

Saloons to Close at Ten in Campbellsport

The village fathers of Campbellsport passed an ordinance at the village board meeting held at that village last Monday evening to have all the saloons keepers close their saloons at ten o'clock every evening except Saturday evening, when they must close at 12. The passing of this ordinance is well received by the saloon keepers, for most of them signed a petition to this effect.

AGED LADY MYSTRILOUSLY DISAPPEARS

Miss Minnie Naumann From Beechwood Wanders Away. Searching Party Find No Clue

Wanders Away During Night. Whereabouts Are Still Unknown.

Miss Minnie Naumann, living with her brother at Beechwood, wandered away from her home during the night of October 3rd. Her whereabouts being still unknown.

Why Miss Naumann wandered away is a mystery. She is well advanced in age and is an invalid. She is paralyzed on the right side. At the time she made her disappearance, she was clad in a very thin dress and wore a light waist.

The first learned of her disappearance was on the morning of October 4th, when her brother, Frank Naumann, went to wake her and found that her room was vacant. The evening before she retired as usual to her bed shortly after six o'clock.

A searching party was formed on Saturday. They searched the entire community, but no trace of the missing lady could be found. Mr. Naumann telephoned to every neighbor around Beechwood and dragged several creeks and ponds, but it was of no avail.

Mr. Naumann, her brother, is greatly worried, and is offering a reward for the finding of his sister, either dead or alive. The notice can be found elsewhere in this paper.

Notice

Miss Minnie Naumann wandered away on the night of October 3rd. She is paralyzed on the right side, and her arm and leg are lame. She is very thinly clad and wears a light waist. A reward of $50.00 will be given to anyone finding her dead or alive.—Adv. 11-25 Frank Naumann, Kewaskum, Wis. R. R. 1.

FEARED LITTLE BOY WAS IN CISTERN

Herbert Ulrich Disappears From Campbellsport Home. Found Asleep in Wood Box

Herbert Ulrich, six year old son of Mrs. C. F. Ulrich, of Campbellsport was missed at home Tuesday evening at about 8 o'clock. The little one was being put to bed by his mother who conducts a confectionery store and restaurant on Fond du Lac avenue, when a customer entered the store and Mrs. Ulrich left the boy to wait on the customer. After a few minutes she returned to the bedroom to find the boy missing.

She immediately started a search among the neighbors and failing to find him informed several boys who were in the store. The news soon spread about town and soon dozens of men and boys were searching for him with lanterns. Every barn, shed and cistern was looked into but the boy was not located until Michael Thelen proprietor of the Star Hotel, in looking up his hotel for the night, entered the kitchen to see if the doors were securely fastened and found the little fellow sound asleep in a wood box back of the kitchen stove.

He was soon restored to his mother who had feared that her son had fallen in a cistern.

Clean Your Chimneys

Nearly half of the blazes which occur at this time and a little later in the fall, are caused by soot filled chimneys, and rusted out pipes and defective chimneys, when fires are started for the first time since our last chilly weather in the spring. Last Sunday we had a touch of what we have got coming in the line of cold weather and it will not be long until a steady fire in the furnace and stove will be needed. Numerous fires at this time of the year are traced directly to soot covered and rusted chimneys, and now is the time to get the smoke vents cleaned out.

The safest way to have the work done is to hire a professional chimney sweep. Then, in most cases, one can rest assured that there will be no fires as the result of a clogged chimney or one otherwise defective. If every person would act upon this suggestion the number of fall fires would be reduced fifty per cent. it is believed.

Now there are ways and ways to clean chimneys, and there are also ways NOT to clean them. Don't put gun powder in your furnace and light it. This method of procedure is liable to result in a hole in the top of your house. Don't put gasoline in a stove or furnace. There will be fewer bricks in the chimney if you do. Don't put kerosene in a fire and expect to blow the soot out of the chimney. It won't work.

Says Husband Made Her Do Man's Work

The following item, which may be of local interest, was clipped from Thursday's issue of the Milwaukee Journal: "Alleging that her husband stabbed her in the breast with a file, and repeatedly beat and kicked her, Theresa Miller sues for divorce from John Miller, a farmer, in circuit court Thursday. They were married April 17, 1901, in Kewaskum. She also alleges she was compelled to do a man's work on her husband's farm—milk the cows, feed the stock and other manual labor from 5 a. m. until 8 p. m. daily, and several times was beaten so severely it was necessary to leave him. She left him Sept. 18, 1913, when she was followed to the village by her husband, who carried a shotgun and threatened to kill her. They have one child of which she asks the custody."

Geese Lay Eggs in Fall

Philip Zimmermann of the town of Wayne reports that he found three goose eggs in his goose stable last Wednesday. This is a very rare case as it never has been heard of in this vicinity that geese lay eggs in the fall of the year. The geese lay eggs in the spring or in the early part of the summer, at least according to the story of Mr. Zimmermann, who is posted in this matter.

A Very Pretty Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday, Sept. 30, at ten o'clock, when Miss Martha Geidel became the bride of Wm. Breseman, Rev. S. Romies tying the nuptial knot. The bride was attended in a very pretty gown of cream color messaline with all silk allover lace and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, she was attended by Miss Minnie Herber as maid of honor who wore a white embroidery swiss dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and her sister, Miss Nora Geidel as bridesmaid, who wore a white embroidery voile dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom was attended by Oscar Geidel as best man and Allen Breseman as groomsman. After the wedding ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinner was served to about 40 guests. The dining room was tastefully decorated with red, white and blue and flowers; the tables were trimmed with smilax. The afternoon was spent in music. Miss Linda Rusch played a wedding march. Ben Breseman played a violin. Concertina was played by Allen Breseman and Willy Scheidt. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Geidel and has a large host of friends. The young couple left with the afternoon train for a honeymoon trip in the northern part of the state. We extend congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Burglars Enter Laundry

Chas. Moy's laundry was entered some time last Sunday night by a burglar, who effected an entrance to the building by forcing a window in the rear. The money drawer was ransacked and about sixty cents taken. A bill book, which, however, contained no money, was taken out of Moy's clothes. The burglar evidently thought there was money hidden somewhere about the rooms, for he ransacked every nook and corner, throwing bedding promiscuously about the room. Mr. Moy was in Milwaukee at the time. The work seems to have been done by youngsters who were familiar with the place.—West Bend Pilot.

Farmers Hurt by Auto

While enroute to the Beaver Dam fair last Tuesday, an automobile occupied by Edward Berine and E. G. Tullage, farmers residing near Oakfield, was overturned when attempting to pass a team. The car went down an embankment twenty feet high and turned over several times. Tullage was caught under the car and sustained a broken wrist and dislocated shoulder, while Berine escaped injury except for painful bruises.—Hartford Times.

Will Sue City of Racine

Wm. Beffel and wife and Fred Feldhaus of Racine, who on the evening of Sept. 24 were victims of Mr. Beffel's automobile turning turtle on account of striking a pile of brick in the street on which there was no danger signals, have presented a claim to that city of $4,500 for damage for injuries received. It is claimed it was a common occurrence for street obstructions to carry no lights and the above accident has awakened officials to the fact.—Standard Democrat.

Farmer Killed at Cambria

Wm. C. Cotton of Springville, aged 35, was fatally injured in a runaway accident at the Cambria mill last Friday afternoon. He was sitting upon a seat on a double box when a pin in a single tree dropped out frightening the horses. He was thrown from the seat to the ground and his skull fractured. A wife and two children survive.—Horicon Reporter.

Local Skat Omaha Win Prizes

About fifteen of the local skat (onekin) boys journeyed last Sunday afternoon to Boltonville, where they attended the prize skat tournament in the M. W. A. hall. They returned in the evening with a broad smile, for three of them won prizes, namely: Lehman Rosenheimer, 1st; D. J. Rosenheimer, 4th; and George H. Schmidt, 5th. About seventy five players attended the tournament. Following is a list of the prize winners:

1. Lehman Rosenheimer, 23 games.

3. W. F. Erler, club solo against 5, 452 points.

10. F. Albingher, club solo against five, 350 points.
11. G. Wiesmer, won 21, lost five net 16 games.

14. J. Puestow, Jr., spade tournee against seven.

October is Best Time to Select Seed Potatoes

Potato seed for next season's planting should be selected at the present time. Such is the advice given the potato growers of the state by James C. Millward of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin and secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association who points out the necessity of selecting clean, sound, fully ripened tubers, smooth, medium in size, and true to type. Before storing the potatoes they should be run over a screen that will remove all dirt which is liable to cling to their surfaces, especially when dug during wet weather.

Farmers Do Much Trading in Fancy-Bred Livestock.

Grass and forage crops in nearly every part of Wisconsin were never in better condition for feeding livestock in the opinion of Prof. Geo. C. Humphrey of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. Prof. Humphrey has recently returned to Madison from a tour of the state in the interest of cooperative breeding associations. He reports that herds and flocks are in excellent condition and that more livestock has changed hands this season than ever before in the state.

Real Estate Men Busy

Adolph Rosenheimer and J. B. Day, the local real estate men, on Thursday purchased the J. A. Vogeler farm of 80 acres, one of the finest farms in the town of Wayne. They, however, did not have this farm long, for they sold it the same day to Valentine Hermann of Theresa. Consideration in both cases is private.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

The Buyers' Error

Neglect to Figure the Additional Cost of Mail Order Buying.

Copyrighted 1913 by National Business Publicity Association, Milwaukee.

BY THOMAS J. SULLIVAN.

The cold figures which indicate the price of the goods sold by catalogue and mail order houses, as set forth in their advertisements, is not by any means the true price, as the "mailorderist" is careful not to mention the "extra" cost incidental to placing the order and the delivery of the article ordered.

The buyer is influenced by the low catalogue price, rather than the delivery cost; the latter means of course being the correct way of determining the cost of the article.

To illustrate the point we reproduce herewith a conversation which recently took place in a western town when a farmer entered the local store and inquired the price of an axe. The price of the axe was $2.00, the merchant said.

"Great Scott," declared the farmer, "I can get the same article from a Chicago Catalogue House for $1.50."

"I can't buy it for that price," said the merchant, "but I will give it to you on the same terms as the mail order house just the same."

"Very well," replied the farmer, "you can wrap it up and charge it to me, and when I settle in the fall I will pay for it."

"Oh, no, you don't," said the dealer, "we are doing business on the same terms as you do business with the mail order house. No charge accounts, hand over the cash, please."

The farmer handed over $1.50.

"Now," said the merchant, "five cents for the money order, and two cents for postage."

"What?"

"Sure, you must send a letter and a money order to the catalogue house in order to get the axe, you know."

The farmer, although desiring to bolt, kept bravely to his agreement, and paid the seven cents.

"Now, the delivery charges, forty-five cents, if you please."

"Well, by gum," he said, and gamely paid it with the remark, "Now that I have met all of your demands, hand me over my axe."

"Hand you the axe, why man, where do you think you are? Just recollect that you are in Colorado and I am located in Chicago; you will have to wait about fifteen days for me to make delivery," and backing up his words with actions he pocketed the money and put the axe back on the shelf, and smilingly turned to wait on the next customer.

The farmer pondered and after he got through with his deductions he said, "That axe will cost me $2.03, that is three cents more than I could have bought it for in the first place, and I am deprived of its use for fifteen days besides. No more mail order houses for me."

The incident related above is one which the merchant and the customer of the red tape and profit, and if more of the merchant's valueless article, an article which he is obligated to own or use.

There can be but one right way to buy goods, and that is to have the goods in view of the purchaser. Buying from a picture is a reckless form of gambling in which the advantage is entirely with the seller. He knows what your money is; you do not know what his goods are. Hence, it is heads he wins, and tails you lose.

That the catalogue house always gets the better of the bargain is evidenced by the fact that annually the large mail order houses declare dividends the enormity of which appals and bewilders the conception of ordinary individuals who count their profits and savings in pennies rather than in millions.

There is but one right way to buy goods, and that way is to see what you buy before you pay for it.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO "THINK" About the "Twin Tables"

We also carry a full line of FURNITURE, PIANOS, SEWING MACHINES, VACUUM CLEANERS, TRUNKS, SUIT CASES, SHEET MUSIC, MUSIC BOOKS, BEDS, BEDDING, CURTAINS AND SHADES.

Up to this time, Pedestal Tables have been made with a single pedestal, but their shortcomings are so many that one manufacturer has succeeded in overcoming them by using two pedestals—each oval or oblong and complete in itself. They are called

"Twin" Pedestal Extension Tables

They are superior to others because: No troublesome lock necessary. Gaping or standing open at bottom impossible. As perfect extended as when closed. In extending a "Twin" to 6 ft. the tops open without spreading pedestals. Prevents marring of finish on legs. If extended farther than this the pedestals spread, giving the most rigid support possible without exposing unfinished surfaces, locks, bolts, etc., as is the case with the single pedestal tables. A feature worthy of your attention, especially when entertaining friends at luncheon or if table is continually used, in the extended position.

"Twins" are made in numerous designs and finishes. CALL AND INSPECT THEM
