OF INTEREST TO FARMERS *

Preliminaries of the International Live Stock Exposition at Chieago, Nov. 29 to Dec 6, have been completed, entries are being tabulated and the groundwork laid for the best display of food animals and draft horses ever congregated in America or elsewhere. Entries largely outnumbered those of previous years and the galaxy be assembled may never meet in the competition arena again.

Construction gangs are busy increasing show facilities buildings are being enlarged or altered to accommodate the expansion of the exposition and unsurpassed accommodation will be furnished both exhibitors and spectators.

In consequence of impending shortage of beef, pork and mutton, producers all over the United States and Canada are devising ways and means to expand production and on this account unusual interest is being taken in the 1913 exposition. The imperative lesson of economy in production will be taught forcibly and effectively, by the men who are now engaged in adapting their methods to changing conditions. New feeding and breeding problems will be presented in the stage of at least partial solution at this gathering.

The 1913 International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago will be so dissimilar from previous events of the same nature that both those seeking instruction and diversion will be well rewarded by attending.

Wisconsin Rich in Dairying B. G Packer, Commissioner of Immigration, in a statement to the press, announces the following about the Wisconsin dairy-

The success of the Wisocnsin dairyman and the extent of the state's dairy production is sharply illustrated by comparison of the value of these products for 1911 (the latest official estimate) with the value of American machinery exported to goreign countries in 1912:

Wisconsin's

	מחט, טטכ, כמק
Exports of Agricultural	Implements	36,000,000
Automobiles	25,500,000
Engines	19,000,000
Metal-working machines	12,000,000
Typewriters	11,000,000
Sewing machines	10,000,000
Electrical machinery	8,000,000

The foregoing includes machinery exports of all countries. The share which machinery formed of our total exports of finished manufactures other than products was 26 per cent in 1912.

Cannot Retail Without License

A brewing company is prohibited from selling liquor in its own in the opinion of Attorney General Owen at Madison last week. To sell to private customers, the brewery must have a legal license. City Attorney M E Dillon, of Ashland, inquired whether a brewing company can legally sell bottle beer to private consumers, delivering the same without a license.

Providing the opinion of the attorney general holds, a brewery cannot retail its product at the brewery, unless they hold a retail license. For many years it has been the custom in this section of Wisconsin for farmers and others to call at the brewery for a supply of the amber fluid .but under this ruling this practice will be eliminated.

Candidate for Postmaster

Brother "Bill" Hume, the witty and popular editor of the Chilton Times, also one of the strongest democrats in the state (better say perhaps the most loyal democrat) has recently announced himself a candidate for the postmastership of the city of Chilton. Here is tournament at Beechwood at Mrs. good luck to you brother "Bill." After once in your new position. you will never regret being there, at this tournament. The work is very pleasant as we recently commissioned postmasters of this state. Hon M. K. Reilly should worry about his choice in Chilton. We already can see your name in print and appointed post master for Chilton.

Will Go Into Force as Soon as Sign Posts Are Erected and Houses Numbered

The following item which may be of local interest was clipped from the West Bend papers, and reads as follows:

Post Office Inspector R. M Bates Pinspected the West Bend post Poffice Thursday and Friday, Oct. 30th and 31st, and found the conditions of the post office in good shape. The inspector and Post master Wm. Hausman covered the entire city and aecided to escablish city delivery. This, however can only be accomplished with the assistance of the Common Council and citizens. No city delivery can be established until all streets are supplied with signs and houses numbered. After the completion of this work all those wishing delivery will be required to erect a mail box on the outside of the door or casting. The Inspector will come to this city after this order has been complied with and establish city delivery. There will be a norning and afternoon delivery with an extra one to the business section after the noon mail trains. Examination will be announced later,

CHAPTER II.

ELEN BLAKE was undeniably bored. The sultry afternoon was very long-longer even than Berkeley Fresno's autobiography, and quite as dry. It was too hot like the other cowboys, is he?" and dusty to ride, so she took refuge in the latest "best seller," and sought out a hammock on the vine-shaded gallery, where Jean Chapin was writing letters, while the disconsolate Fresno, banished, wandered at languidly released his inamorata from large, vaguely injured at her lack of his embrace and lounged out of sight appreciation.

Absent-mindedly, the girls dipped farther corner to waft a graceful kiss into the box of bonbons between them. Jean finished her correspondence and estayed conversation, but her companion's blond head was bowed over the book in her lap, and the effort met with no response. Lulled by the somniferous droning of basects and lazy echoes from afar. Miss Chapin was on the verge of slumber, when she saw her guest rapidly turn the last pages of her novel, then, with a chocolate between her teeth, read wideeyed to the finish. Miss Blake closed the book reluctantly, uncurled slowly, then stared out through the dancing heat-waves, her blue eyes shadowed with romance.

"Did she marry him?" queried Jean. "No, no!" Helen Blake sighed, blissfully. "It was infinitely finer. She killed herself."

"I like to see them get married." "Naturally. You are at that stage. But I think suicide is more glorious, in many cases."

Miss Chapin yawned openly, "Speaking of suicides, isn't this ranch the deadest place?"

"Oh, I don't think so at all." "Oh yes, you do, and you needn't be polite just because you're a guest." "Well, then, to be as truthful as a boarder, it is a little dull. Not for our chaperon, though. The time doesnt' seem to drag on her hands. Jack certainly is making it pleasant for her." "If you call taking her out to watch

A child is placed in a basket in front of the spectators. Then the magiclan thrusts his sword through the basket again and again, drawing it out covered with blood. The child screams frantically for some time and then stops—as if it had been killed. When the basket is opened it is found to be empty and the child appears guddenly among the spectators. All this is done with such an aspect of reality that it often frightens the timid ones among the crowd, and yet it is simple enough.

One side of the basket is double After closing the basket the magi clan pretends to turn it over on its side. He really turns over only one part of it. The bottom and one thickness of the double side are left as they were, the other thickness becomes the bottom of the basket in Its new position, what was the opposite side of this becomes the top, sired. It is easy to understand the juice, and serve. and the old bottom is left lying free upon the ground, with the child upon it, outside the basket. But this old bottom and the child upon it are now under the robe of the magician. While the magician is turning the basket back to its original position and run ning his sword through it the child escapes into the crowd. The blood on the sword is from a sponge in the basket.

ROMAN WHO INVENTED CANDY

Baker of Well Known Family of Fabius Was Man Who Gave Deliclous Sweet to the World.

Few children, or grown ups either, for that matter, think of the origin of candy when they are eating the kind that most appeals to their taste. We read that Dragatus, a noted Roman baker and confectioner, who was of the well known family of Fabius, was the man who invented candy, and that its first form was the Sugarplum. These delicious sweets were called "dragati," after their inventor. #### HOT SUPPER DISHES.

For those who have supper, instead of dinner, at six, a hot dish is almost an essential, on these cool autumn evenings. Soups of various kinds, if liked, are easily prepared and served, and furnish a substantial beginning to the meal.

Boiled Dinner Hash .- Chop fine the vegetables left from an old-fashioned boiled dinner-a beet or two a few pieces of turnip and carrot, a good sized quarter of cabbage and a few potatoes and some of the corned beef with which the dinner was cooked. Season with some of the broth and steam and cook in a frying pan for an hour on the back part of the stove Serve hot with dill pickles and bread and butter. Delicious Dish .- Take three veal kidneys and remove all fat; cut asmild onion as fine as possible, shred and add a small bunch of parsley, a heaping tablespoonful of each. Add a tablesnoonful of butter to a hot frying pan and drop the kidneys into it. Covcase may be. There are screw means | er and steam for fifteen minutes, then pour over a half cup of sour fruit

Lobster in Cream Sauce.-In places where fresh lobsters are plenty, this will be a change from the usual ways of serving it. Boil the lobster in the shell, and then remove the meat and cut it in bits. Add the lobster meat to a rich white sauce, and just before serving squeeze a little lemon juice over the dish

Sausage Omelet.-Beat five eggs until light, add a finely chopped onion. by the head master, who wished to a small green one preferred; add a heaping tablespoonful of chopped smoked ham or liver sausage. Season with salt and pepper and put into a hot omelet pan.

English Tea Cakes.—Beat two eggs and add a cup of powdered sugar, beat well, add a half teaspoon of almond extract, a cup of flour and a teaspoonful of baking powder, mixed together, with a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat until smooth and then add a half cup of scalding hot milk. Bake in Sponge Cake.-When we consider the price of butter and the yet reasonable price of eggs, though they are soaring, a sponge cake is not an extravagant one to prepare. Nose-Blowing Drills. A few years of school dental clinics have made toothbrush drills a daily familiar idea in many cities. It took the Toronto public nurses, or rather their supervisor, Lina L. Rogers, to originate another drill quite as unique and importance. Since last October the school children of Toronto, in squads of 20, have practiced daily noseblowing drills, and the effect on the freshness of the atmosphere of the school rooms has been so noticeable that the teachers have become assiduous in seeing to it that no child comes to school unprovided with a pocket handkerchief. They often, indeed, themselves, order the drills without waiting for the coming of the nurse. The effect of the drill is perceptible already on individual children, in cases of catarrh, and the doctors predict that it will have an appreciable effect in time in lessening adenoids and other throat and nose affections .-

If you have $3,000 to put into a house, and have family enough to need four or five bedrooms, you probably could not find a better plan than the one here presented. It is large, roomy and sensible. This house looks well when it is new; and it never will go out of fashion, because there are no faddy notions worked into it, and it is so thoroughly well built that it will defy time and the clements for a good many years.

I have known of many instances where fancy fashions were carried into house building to such an extent that I should rather have the materials that were used in building than the house after it is finished. With the exception of a better arrangement of the partitions to economize room and increase comfort, this style of house has been built for twenty or thirty years, and it has always been popular. Such houses sell readily, especially when they are built in a good residence section of the town. A house as large as this, practically 27 by 45 feet, should have a lot at least 50 feet wide. The other day in my walk I came upon two phoebes' nests under overhanging rocks, both with half fledged Adv. young in them, and in neither case were the parent birds in evidence They did not give their secret away by setting up the hue and cry that nesting birds usually set up on such occasions. I finally saw them, as silent as shadows, perched near by, with food in their beaks, which they finally swallowed as my stay was prolonged. And the nests, both on a level with my eye, were apparently filled only with a motionless mass of bluish oftener, and extensive repairs are a mold. As I gently touched them, ingreat deal more aggravating, in the stead of four or five heads with open mouths springing up, the young only settled lower in the nest and disposed themselves in a headless, shapeless mass. ### SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Greenwood, Ind .- "First my hair began to fall, then my scalp itched and burned when I became warm. I had pimples on my scalp; my hair was falling out gradually until I had scarcely any hair on my head. I couldn't keep the dandruff off at all. My hair was dry and lifeless and I lost rest at night from the terrible itching sensation. I would pull my hat off and scratch my head any place I happened to be.

"For several years I was bothered with pimples on my face. Some of them were hard red spots, some were full of matter, and many blackheads. I was always picking at them and caused them to be sore. They made my face look so badly I was ashamed to be seen.

"I tried massage creams for my face end all kinds of hair tonic and homemade remedies, but they only made things worse. Nothing did the work until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my face with the Cuticura Soap, then put plenty of Cuticura Ointment on. Three months' use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment has made my face as smooth and clean as can be." (Signed) C. M. Why Poison Ivy Poisons.

Pcison ivy has long been a mystery both to scientists and laymen; why and with what manner it causes the peculiar rash and irritating inflammation have puzzled both betanists and physicians. At last the reason has been discovered. Dr. Mirande of Paris read to the Academy of Sciences in that city recently the results of his study of the poisonous weed. Poison ivy contains prussic acid. This is found principally in the young leaves and buds; in the older leaves there is very little of it. In three and onehalf ounces of young leaves there is about a quarter of a grain of the acid. As with other plants in which prussic acid is found, the poisonous substance does not exist in its perfect form, but develops as soon as the leaves are bruised, a chemical action being set up through the union of an enzyme with a glucosid.

Fusionists Utterly Rout Forces of Tammany Hall.

M'CALL BEATEN BY 106,000

Cincinnati and Toledo Elect Republican Executives, But the Democrats Are Victorious in Most of the Other Large Cities.

New York, Nov. 6.- John Purroy Mitchel was elected mayor of New York Tuesday, and Tammany hall suf. Frederick S. Spiegel Republican, fered the most crushing defeat it has known in many years.

The fusionists, besides electing their candidate for mayor by more than 106,-000 plurality, also were generally victorious in the county and borough elections, and the rule of Charles F. Murphy was put in great peril. It seems certain that a movement will be started, with national approval and encouregement, for the upbuilding of a new Democratic organization in New York city and state.

Aids Threaten Rebellion. James J. Martin, one of the most powerful leaders in the Tammany orgunization, declared that the defeat meant the overthrow of Tammany. "It means further," he said, "that Mr. Murphy must walk the plank."

The leader of Tammany made efforts to conceal his realization of the fact that his future leadership depended largely on the casting of the ballots Tuesday. His hope did not lie in the election of mayor. He knew very well that he could not elect the head of the ticket, but he expected to pull through his borough and county tickets and in that way to "save his neck." Now, in the estimation of the Democratic leaders, the time has come for a reorgani-

Mitchel to Fight Murphy. When Mr. Mitchel arrived at fusion headquarters he received an ovation and was kept busy answering the congratulations bestowed upon him.

"What are you going to do about Murphy?" he was asked. "By not recognizing either him or anyone connected with him," Mitchel replied, "I am going to do all I can to drive him out of business." Edward E. McCall, Tammany candidate for mayor, took the news of his defeat calmly and sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Mitchel.

Taggart Man Wins.

In Indianapolis the fight was a straight out fight between "wets" and "drys," the issue being an "open town." The "wets" won, electing Joseph E. Bell, "wet" candidate and backed by the Taggart machine and its ally, Crawford Fairbanks. The campaign involved a stirring fight over the question of repressing the "liberal" elements. Cardinal Colors Are Trailed in Defeat in Contest with Gopher Team at Madison.

Madison.-Beaten, bumped and battered, Capt. Tandberg led his former champion Wisconsin football team off Camp Randall at the short end of a 21 to 3 score after the annual contest with the University of Minnesota. The Wisconsin team was clearly out classed.

Three touchdowns, one scored in the third and two in the fourth quarter, left Wisconsin hopelessly in the ruck, a beaten team. Up to the first touchdown the Badgers had fought bravely, with all the apparent advantage on their side. appropriately. The coiffure is one of those designs classified as the "casque" style, in which all the hair is waved. It is arranged over the head like a turban. There is no chignon at the back. The ends of the hair are turned under the waves and spread about in such a way as to dispense with a coil. In cutting a gown of this character wide goods are more easily managed than narrow. Skirts, overlapping at the front, while narrow, give room for easy walking because the front seam is not joined down to the bottom. The under netticoat must be soft; the most clinging of fabrics, as chiffon or crepe de chine, or lace. An inserted flounce will take the place of a petticoat. Anything heavy enough to interfere with the falling of the skirt in close and clinging lines would destroy an important item in the beauty of the design. It is the hang and not fit of garments which is of paramount importance now. The figure, without distortion of any sort without restraint. but in the lovely, natural silhouette, is glorified in present day styles. which really amount to cleverly arranged drapery. Garments must not shape the figure today; they must be shaped by it, or appear to be, anyway, Hence so many gowns seem to be designed for the corsetless figure.
