

Read the advertisements in the Statesman. They will enable you to shop more intelligently.

Kewaskum Statesman.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
SINGLE COPY..... $ .05
THREE MONTHS..... $ 1.50
SIX MONTHS..... $ 3.00
ONE YEAR..... $ 6.00

VOLUME XIX

KEWASKUM, WIS., SATURDAY, DEC. 13, 1913.

NUMBER 14.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Drainage Tile Better Than Open Ditches

Farmers of the state who have had land which needs draining are being urged to compare carefully the advantages of drain tile and open ditches before deciding to use either latter.

About a dozen capstan plows are or have lately been at work in Wisconsin, and solicitors of these firms have quite successful in convincing farmers that ditches are better than tile. As a result thousands of dollars have been expended in the estate for ditches of this kind where the same sum of money expended in tile would have done more good.

On marshes less than three feet above the water in the creek and river into which they are drained it is not safe, according to E. R. Jones, drainage engineer of the College of Agriculture of the University to lay tile, and open ditches should be installed.

In one valley in Trempealeau county the farmers had almost decided to put in several miles of these ditches, but before doing so, they held a meeting in which they discussed the relative merits of the two systems and decided to expend their money for tile. As a result, 14 carloads of tile were laid in that community by the first of last June, and corn was planted on some of that ground this year. Open ditches have been installed in neighboring valleys and the comparison thus far has been decidedly in favor of the tile.

Keep Our Good Cattle

Wisconsin has spent many years in building up the splendid herds of cattle that have become the envy of the civilized world. It is true that all this has been done at a profit—but it is equally true that the people of many states are coming here and taking away much of this high grade stock. This should not be permitted, for what is good enough for them to buy and ship a thousand miles or more is good enough for the people of Wisconsin to keep. This exportation can be prevented if the people of the state will wake up to the importance of the matter. No law is wanted—just an awakening to the importance of keeping this stock within the state.

To this end there should be a general activity. In many portions of the state the farmers are not in position to invest cash in better cows at high prices, but they are in a position to keep these cows and make them pay for themselves. Organizations can be effected that will be able to cope successfully with this matter and save to the state an accumulation of years. Bankers, business men and professional people will be able and willing to join in such a movement. Doubtless the Livestock association can do something along this line. It is probably true that organization would save to the state most of the valuable cattle that are being coveted by the people of other states.

Find Large Engines

Furnish Cheap Power

Thinking that a large engine cannot be economically used save in such operations as feed grinding and silo filling, many farmers make the mistake of buying two engines—one to do the pumping and to turn smaller machines, and the other to do the heavier work about the yards and barns.

One engine, according to Frank M. White of the College of Agriculture is sufficient on the majority of Wisconsin farms, and if correctly handled, besides being used to run silo filler and certain of the other large machines at various seasons will fulfill all of the common power requirements.

"A seven horse power" he declares, will develop two, three or four horse power as cheaply and with as little gasoline as will the smaller engines of the same type. It is best however, to run several of these machines at one time and thus drive the engine at its normal capacity.

Giving Away Calendars

This office is now giving away to all the patrons a calendar for the year 1914, same can be gotten for just the asking. Better come early and secure your choice. The supply is limited, first come, first choice. To all out of town patrons, we will be more than pleased to mail one, providing 3 cents is sent to pay the postage.

WILLIAM HOULIHAN AL-SO PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Brought From Detroit to Answer Charges Before Judge Geiger for Post Office Robberies

William Houlihan, 59 years old alleged yeggman, pleaded not guilty to five indictments charged in connection with the robbery and attempted robbery of the post offices at Horicon and this village, last July, before United States Judge Geiger in the Federal District court Saturday afternoon. Bail was fixed at $20,000 and Houlihan remanded to the county jail to await trial with Danny Murphy, William Burns and Michael Moore, charged with being implicated in the two crimes.

Houlihan, who lives at 2013 Hastings street, Chicago is said to be wealthy property owner in that city. He was brought to Milwaukee from Detroit on Saturday by United States Deputy Marshal Turner and a prison guard. He had been arrested in Detroit several months ago on a charge of passing bad Canadian currency, and since that time has been confined in jail there. The alleged counterfeit work was committed while Houlihan was enjoying the liberty allowed him by $10,000 cash bond, put up for him by a woman, after his arrest in Wisconsin.

A few days ago the bondsman notified the authorities that she wished to take up her money and it was immediately decided to remove Houlihan to Milwaukee, where five indictments, aggregating twenty counts, are held against him.

The indictments charge Houlihan with attempting to break into and enter the postoffice in this village. Other counts in the indictment charge him with aiding and abetting Murphy and Burns in the attempted robbery. Another indictment charges him with breaking into and entering the postoffice at Horicon. Additional counts are to the effect that he also aided the other two in that job.

The third indictment alleges that after breaking into and entering at Horicon he assisted in blowing the safe and stealing $800 in stamps and money. The aiding and abetting of Murphy and Burns also figure in the counts of this indictment. The fourth indictment charges him with aiding and abetting the escape of Burns and Murphy after these jobs, while the fifth is the aiding of nitroglycerin transportation between Illinois and Wisconsin, the principal charge against Moore.

The five indictments and twenty counts were made by United States District Attorney Guy D. Goff of Milwaukee. Mr. Goff explained that the government is making no mistake in having too few charges which may be disproven against the man.

Burns, Murphy and Moore are also held here under a number of indictments and counts, a feature of their cases being the fact that should they be convicted on all the counts the aggregate sentences of the four will amount to over 160 years.

High School Notes

The latest song hit at our High, "Lest We Forget"

A Senior, "What was our presidents name seven years ago?"
Miss McRae—Roosevelt.
Senior—Why of course it was Wilson seven years ago, the same as it is today.

Don't fail to cheer the boy's High School basketball team to victory Friday evening, when they meet the city team at Groeschel's hall. It is the first game of the season, and we must win.

We are so afraid that Santa Claus will forget our poor Senior boys this year, and forget to bring them some "kandy" to fill their stockings and also to fill that hungry opening they call mouth, which they feed every day.

The following program will be rendered at the local High School on Dec. 23, 1913:

Song The New South
Edgar Romaine
Reading from Birds' Christmas Carol
Evdia Guth
Spartacus Address to the Gladiators
Harvey Brandt
Bobbo Unwelcome Irene Ogdenorth
Piano Duet Loretta Schaefer
Miss E. Guth
Song Heilige Nacht High School
Here's to our High, The K. H.S.
When all the world is weary,
And heaves a lonesome sigh,
There's one place that's not dreary
And that's Kewaskum High.
Truth and perseverance ever,
Try others as they would,
Will keep our High together,
And keep the "kidlets" good.
So, when all other things are sad,
And all other things go wrong,
Our good old High is happy and glad,
And thrilling the world with song.

PARCEL POST WEIGHT BOOSTED

Commencing January 1st, Fourth Class Matter of 50 Pounds May Be Sent Within 150 Miles. Books Placed Under Parcel Post

Postmaster General Burleson's proposal to increase the weight limits of parcel post packages in the first and second zones from 20 to 50 pounds, to admit books to the parcel post, and to reduce rates in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth zones, was approved by the interstate commerce commission. The maximum weight of parcels to all zones beyond the second was increased from 11 to 20 pounds. The commission's "consent" to the proposed changes was transmitted in three letters from Chairman Clark to the postmaster general, last week Saturday.

How soon the increased weight and new rates will go into effect is as yet not known, but it is expected that will be put into force some time in January. New scales with a weight limit of 100 pounds have been ordered by the government, and will be placed in all the postoffices of the United States. It is also expected that another increase of weight and a decrease of rates will be made shortly after the new order goes into effect.

The new rates together with the new increase of weight limits will take effect on January 1, 1914. Postmaster Geo. H. Schmidt has as yet not received official notice, although it has been sent to all of the first and second class offices. Postmaster Schmidt expects to receive official notice next week. New

Report of Insane Asylum Committee

The annual report on the Washington County Insane Asylum commands some attention. Now it isn't just pleasant, with our dazzing achievements in civilization, to speak of bedlams, but being none of those shallow optimists whom an eminent philosopher in his indignation once called hypocrites, the theme is not so very contradictory and obnoxious to us. With proper restriction we also wish to take notice of the dark paths of life.

In the local asylum for the chronic insane 150 patients have been cared for during the past fiscal year. Of these 33 came from Ozaukee County 18 from Milwaukee County, 12 from the State at large, 2 each from Lincoln, Oneida, Waushara, Shawano and Calumet Counties, and 69 from Washington County. At this last figure we will stop for a moment. In 1910 our county had 59 patients in the asylum. In three years the number has increased by 12, and this means 21 per cent. But the population of the county for many years have approximately remained stationary. Surely it has not increased 21 percent during the last three years. From this follows that the insane increase in number much faster than the rest of the county's population. A pessimist now would probably try to figure out, on the basis of this increase, how long it would take until we are all in the bug-house. But this is too preposterous to us. Perhaps it will not come to that. Perhaps some scientist will at last find some remedy by which sound reason is restored to the unhappy ones, even at the risk that the asylums should become poor investments. And because the insane asylums everywhere are filling more and more, such calculations would have hair-raising results. Away with that nightmare.

At the beginning of the year 51 of the patients of the local asylum were men, and 58 women. During the year the number of patients was increased by ten, four were released on parole, five were transferred to other asylums, and died. At the end of the fiscal year, July 1, 1913, 130 remained. Of the patients 28 (12 men and 16 women) worked regularly all day, 8 worked half a day or longer, 11 worked less than half a day, 85 did not work at all, and of these 56 were physically unfit to work. The work done in this way is valued at $2,500. The cost of maintenance per patient per week was $2.47. The gross net earnings of the asylum amounted to $5,553.74.—West Bend News.

Locals Defeated

A "picked-up" basket ball team from this village autoed to Newburg last Sunday and played the strong team from that burg. The locals had no show with the slippery Newburg team and the shabby condition of the floor kept our fellows rolling on the same most of the time. The score was 62 to 5, an awful defeat.

ALLEGED KIDNAP-PER ARRESTED

Man Claiming to be From This Village Arrested at Milwaukee

An alleged cocaine fiend was arrested at Third street and Grand avenue at Milwaukee last Saturday after he had picked up the 3 year-old son of Peter Schiros, owner of the Saratoga hotel, and walked three blocks and past four policemen with the little boy in his arms.

The alleged kidnaper was raving as he was locked in a cell. He was charged with disorderly conduct. The little boy was turned over to the matron and two hours later was taken by his parents.

The child was playing in front of the hotel when the alleged cocaine fiend emerged from a saloon at Fourth and Wells streets and spied him. He immediately gathered him in his arms and went staggering down the street. At Third street and Grand avenue the child began to cry, and the peculiar antics of the man caused Patrolman Schultz to stop him.

The man gave his name as Hy Bendiger, Kewaskum, and asserted he is a paper hanger.—West Bend Pilot.

We know of no man by the name of Henry Bendiger and who is a paper hanger in this village. Perhaps he might have been in this village for some time and might have changed his name.

HEALTH IN RED CROSS SEALS

Red Cross Christmas Seals are the best investment in health any one can make. Science has demonstrated conclusively that tuberculosis the world's greatest plague of which we now have over 1,000,000 cases in the United States alone can be prevented if these consumptives are properly cared for. In other words, every consumptive properly cared for, insures your life against tuberculosis by the prevention of further infection from that source. Red Cross Seals help to provide hospitals, day camps, sanatoria, dispensaries, open-air schools and visiting nurses for the care, cure and prevention of tuberculosis in this community. Every seal you buy, then, is a sound investment in your own health and in that of your family. Buy your Red Cross Seals now and help to protect your home from disease.

SEALS INSTEAD OF SLED

A little boy in Houston, Tex., has been so thoroughly imbued with the meaning and significance of the Red Cross Seal Campaign that he announced his intention Saturday of foregoing all the pleasures he expected to gain from a new cart, which he intended to purchase with the nickels he has been saving, and of buying $2 worth of Red Cross Christmas Seals instead. He says he believes he would rather buy Red Cross Seals, and in that way help some one enjoy Christmas who has been having sorrow in his home during the year.

WRAPPED GIFT IN #### RED CROSS SEALS

A big-hearted purchaser of Red Cross Seals in a southern city recently complained because the seals did not come in sheets larger than 100. He had prepared a Christmas package for his daughter and had conceived the idea that he would wrap it entirely in Christmas Seals. As the present was bulky, the sheets of 100 were not sufficient. He solved his problem, however, by pasting several sheets of seals on a large piece of wrapping paper, in which he enclosed his daughter's gift.

Bargain List

The Kewaskum Exchange Co., have the following bargains for sale this week. These articles are all in first class condition.

- 1 long model King cornet with case
  - 1 Bell front E flat alto.
  - 1 8x10 tent
  - 1 Trap drum outfit complete
  - 1 12 gauge Roberts repeating shot gun.
  - 1 large Edison phonograph, with 2 and 4 minute attachments, horn and about 60 records.
  - Jig saw outfit, including patterns
- Kewaskum Exchange Co.

CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Rusch of Elmore Last Sunday Celebrated Their Twenty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Rusch of Elmore on last Sunday celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at their home amidst a large host of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusch were married at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pohlman, at Elmore on December 4, 1888, Rev. Greve of this village tying the nuptial knot. Soon after their marriage, the couple moved onto a farm three miles from Campbellsport, at which place they still reside. Mr. Rusch is one of the most successful farmers around Campbellsport, he together with his wife having attained same by hard labor. Five children were born to them, namely: Frederick H., residing at Campbellsport, Rosalinda, Olive, Erwin and Erne at home.

Last Sunday they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and indeed the day was a happy remembrance of their first wedding day. At noon a sumptuous dinner was served, and the rest of the afternoon was spent in a very sociable way. At 5:30 p. m., an elegant supper was served at which the pastor of the Reformed church of Elmore blessed the couple and wished them continued success. Mr. and Mrs. Rusch were the recipients of many beautiful silver presents. At a late hour, the many guests departed for their respective homes, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Rusch for the pleasant time they had, and hoping to be present when the hands of time pointed to the fifty year mark.

The following from afar were in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pohlman of Antigo; Fred Pohlman and family of Fond du Lac, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rusch of Campbellsport; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hangartner of Fond du Lac; Mrs. Frank Schaefer and son of Fond du Lac; Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, Edward Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Martin of Campbellsport; and Mr. and Mrs. Gritt and Chas. Bactell of Elmore.

Congressman Burke a Diligent and Efficient Representative

Editor News:—This Congressman District has always been fortunate in the choice of its representatives in Congress, as they with scarcely an exception, have in the performance of their duties, given general satisfaction. But with out detracting from the reputation of any of the others, it must be conceded that our present Congressman, M. E. Burke, by his faithful attention to the duties of his office, his ability and diligence in looking after the interests of his district, also his interest taken in the individual affairs of his constituents and the results has earned the appreciation and gratitude of every one who has entrusted to him, business with the government.

An Appreciative Constituent

Joseph Osthelder Sheboygan Falls, Wis., Nov. 26, The foregoing which is taken from the Sheboygan County News, was written by Joseph Osthelder, one of the best known old soldiers in Sheboygan County, and probably in the state.

PRAIRIE VILLA

Frank Koch was a caller in this vicinity last week.

Roman Strupp was a business caller at West Bend Tuesday.

The Misses Elsie and Lillian Kocher spent last Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Milwaukee.

Edwin Bruessel entertained a number of his friends very pleasantly at his home last Sunday evening.

Constipation Poisons You.

If you are constipated, your entire system is poisoned by the swaste matter kept in the body—serious results often follow. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills and you will soon get rid of constipation, headaches and other troubles. 25c at Druggists or by mail. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Phila. and St. Louis.

(Advertisement.)

—If you want to buy a farm or if you want to sell a farm call on or write to J. B. D. Jay or Adolph Rosenheiser the local real estate men.

SECOND NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE ON MONDAY

Charles A. Payne to Talk About the Panama Canal at the Good Templars' Hall. Is Well Versed on Subject

Charles A. Payne "The Traveler with a love of nature, a passion for history, and a genius for friendship", will speak about the Panama Canal at the Good Templars hall next Monday evening, Dec. 15. This will be the second number of the lecture course that is being given by the Woman's club for the benefit of the public library.

The Payne lectures are in every case from first hand knowledge, the result of a lifetime devoted to travel, study and public address. With his genius for friendship Mr. Payne has visited many of the richest, wildest and most beautiful parts of the world, and has studied history and human life among forty races and nations. He goes alone, lives with the natives, seeks their best, makes friends everywhere and speaks from his intimate knowledge and friendship.

The lectures are not picture exhibitions, though illustrated with the finest apparatus and pictures possible, most of them original and exquisitely colored. They are not mere travel talks, though the travel for their preparation exceeds 500,000 miles, enough to go twenty times around the world. They combine history and legend, science and romance, fun and pathos, nature and life; the art, temple, pyramid, cathedral, palace colosseum, forum; the incarnate genius of forty centuries, and every form and keen interest of the big world's life.

The lectures are accurate, authoritative, humorous and reverent, full of keen entertainment and lofty inspiration. Every lecture has a purpose and is able to stand without a picture.

The educational value is such that five annual courses of these lectures have been given under the auspices of the Milwaukee Board of Education, and one hundred four in the Chautauqua assemblies last summer.

Send Your News Items

We presume there was never a newspaper in any locality that gave all the local happenings. It is often that some one comes or goes that the reporter does not see. It happens that the family is missed several times. They get the impression that the editor does not care to mention them. This is a mistake. In most country towns the local work is the hardest work connected with the newspaper. A man may be a good editorial writer, but a flat failure in the local field and vice versa. Editorial material is obtained by study, by reading newspapers, sometimes by using scissors. Personal and local happenings can't be read and clipped from other papers, not by a jugful. It takes physical as well as mental exertion to get out ten columns of local news in a town of this size. Most people take a local paper to get the local happenings. Don't be afraid to tell the editor or reporter that you have friends visiting you. There are lots of people who are interested in your friends. You owe it as a duty to them to let your friends know of their doings. Perhaps you think the paper shows partiality, but just see if the paper doesn't treat you right if you give it a chance. —Exchange.

Report of the Financial Condition of the BANK OF KEWASKUM

located at Kewaskum, State of Wisconsin, at the close of business on the 1st day of December, 1913 pursuant to call by Commissioner of Banking.

ASSETS.
Loans and discounts	525,206.96
Overdrafts	2,206.93
Bonds	63,073.75
Banking house	10,000.00
Furniture and fixtures	3,994.10
Due from approved reserve banks	63,112.22
Due from other banks	12,551.79
Checks on other banks and cash items	25.00
Cash on hand	9,708.56
Total	$453,961.31

LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in	$50,000.00
Surplus fund	10,000.00
Undivided profits	6,045.71
Individual deposits subject to check	30,418.67
Time certificates of deposit	292,118.65
Savings deposits	2,845.73
Customers' checks outstanding	1,897.89
Postal Savings Deposits	224.68
Total	$453,961.31

State of Wisconsin, ss
County of Washington, ss
I, E. H. Rosenheiser, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
E. H. ROSENHEISER,
Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of December, 1913.
H. A. Remmel, Notary Public.
(My com. expires Feb. 6, 1916.)
Correct Attest:
A. L. ROSENHEISER, (Directors,
OTTO E. LAY,
—Our country correspondence list is extensive. It gives all the county news.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

An exceedingly sad accident occurred at the home of Peter Didier several miles north of this city on Monday morning. Mr. Didier was in the barn and the two little girls aged two and one half and five years respectively were upstairs in the house. They had some matches and a paper and were amusing themselves by lighting the paper. Somehow the fire communicated to the clothes of the younger girl. The unfortunate child became excited and ran down stairs, and the draft created thereby fanned the fire. The cries for help of the children attracted the mother's attention and she ran to see what was the trouble. She smothered the flames. Unfortunately the poor child was so severely burned that she was beyond help and death ensued a short time after.

The funeral occurred yesterday morning services being held at the St. Mary's church in this city, —Port Washington Pilot.

The case of the State of Wisconsin against Ferdinand Voelker came up for trial Monday at Iron Ridge before Justice Wm. Fischer. The defendant was charged with selling liquor without a license. He was found guilty and assessed the minimum fine of $50 and costs. The defendant owes a park and pavilion and for years has been in the habit of running a bar while he was proprietor of a hotel here. Since selling the hotel he continued to sell beer during lunches, which was the ground for the charge as above stated.—Horicon Reporter.

Dr. Wm. E. Wolfrum, a prominent dentist of the city of West Bend passed away at his home last Thursday evening from tuberculosis of the kidneys. Deceased was 44 years of age and had been a resident of West Bend since his birth.

Thomas D. Pluck of Horicon has been recommended by Congressman M. E. Burke for the appointment as postmaster of Horicon. He was the only candidate for the office and if appointed and confirmed, his new duties will begin in January.

Wm. Erdmann, a farmer of the town of Cedarburg, last week was arrested on a charge of having snort two dogs belonging to a party from Milwaukee. His case was however, dismissed in court, Erdmann claiming that the dogs had attacked him.

Leroy F. Gordon, for many years a resident of the town of Farmington, died at his home in Milwaukee last Saturday evening, after an illness of several months. The body was brought to West Bend for burial, services being held there on Tuesday.

St. Kilian's Catholic congregation at Hartford on Wednesday celebrated its golden jubilee. Archbishop Sebastian Messmer and many of the neighboring priests were in attendance.

Teachers' Meeting

To the Teachers of Washington County:—A Teacher's meeting will be held at the High School building in West Bend, Saturday, Dec. 13, 1913. Music work will be in charge of Mrs. C. C. Henry; Language, Miss Gwendolyn Jones; The Four Fundamental Separations in Arithmetic and Spelling, Mr. Stiles. If it is possible to secure the blanks for the annual reports, instruction in their use will be given.

Teachers are requested to bring Manuals and the Library books. Songs every one should know. Mr. Stiles is a new man to the teachers of the county and he has a very instructive article in Arithmetic so a special effort to hear him should be made. Let us see you at the meeting.

Geo. T. Carlin,
Co Supt.

Croup and Cough Remedy.

Croup is a terrible disease. It attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you. 50c and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all Druggists. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Phila. St. Louis.

WILSON SEES WOMEN

PRESIDENT SAYS HE FAVORS "HOUSE COMMITTEE" ON SUFFRAGE.

HE CAN'T START ANYTHING

Chief Executive Asserts He Won't Write Message to Congress—Tells Suffrage Leaders Party Principles Prevent Urging Legislation.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The president on Monday told a delegation from the National American Woman's Suffrage association that he favored a standing woman's suffrage committee in the house of representatives, but he refused their request that he send a special message to congress urging the reform.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, summarized briefly their appeal to the president to assist the movement either by sending a special message to congress, by including reference to suffrage in any general message he might deliver or by using his influence to have a special committee of the house appointed to consider the subject.

"I want you, ladies," said the president to the delegation, "to realize just what my present situation is, if I can make it clear to you.

"Whenever I walk abroad I realize I am not a free man; I am under arrest. I am so carefully and admirably guarded that I have not even the privilege of walking the streets. That is, as it were, typical of my present transference from being an individual, with his mind on any and every subject, to being an official of a great government and, incidentally, or so it falls out under our system of government, the spokesman of a party.

"I set myself this very strict rule when I was governor of New Jersey, and have followed it as president—that I am not at liberty to urge upon congress in messages policies which have not had the organic consideration of those for whom I am spokesman.

"In other words, I have not yet presented to any legislature my private views on any subject, and I never shall, because I conceive that to be part of the whole process of government, that I shall be spokesman for somebody, not for myself. It would be an impertinence. When I speak for myself I am an individual; when I am spokesman of an organic body I am a representative.

"For that reason, you see, I am by my own principles shut out, in the language of the street, from 'starting anything.' I have to confine myself to those things which have been embodied as promises to the people at an election. That is the strict rule I set for myself.

"I want to say that with regard to all other matters—I am not only glad to be consulted by my colleagues in the two houses, but I hope they will often pay me the compliment of consulting me when they want to know my opinion on any subject. One member of the rules committee did come to me and ask me what I thought about the suggestion of appointing a special committee of the house, as the senate already has appointed a special committee for the consideration of woman's suffrage.

"I told him I thought it was a proper thing to do. So far as my personal advice has been asked by a single member of the committee it has been given to that effect. I want to tell you that to show that I am strictly living up to my principles. When my private opinion is asked by those who are co-operating with me, I am most glad to give it, but am not at liberty, until I speak for somebody besides myself, to urge legislation upon the congress.

There was a pause and Doctor Shaw spoke up.

"May I ask you a question?" she said. The president nodded assent.

"Since we are members of a political party, who is to speak for us, if we do not speak for ourselves?"

"You do that very admirably," remarked the president and the entire assemblage joined in a laugh.

TWO SLAIN IN MINE STRIKE

Volley of Shots Fired Through Non-union Boarding House at Painesdale, Mich.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 9.—Serious trouble is expected as a result of the murder at Painesdale of two copper miners and the fatal wounding of a third and of a young girl, as they slept on Saturday. Six suspects are held. The dead: Arthur James, twenty-one years old, Toronto, Ont.; Harry James, twenty-four years old, Toronto, Ont. Both arrived here Friday. Thomas Bailey, forty-one years old, and Mary Nicholson, fourteen, are wounded. This was the result of a gun attack on a non-union boarding house, a score of rifle bullets being fired through this building and two others.

THAW CASE TO HIGH COURT

Federal Judge Will Ask Supreme Tribunal to Hand Down Decision.

Concord, N. H., Dec. 11.—Judge Edgar Aldrich ruled on Tuesday that the mental condition of Harry K. Thaw must be determined in the federal courts and that a review of the case by the Supreme court of the United States would be asked at once. The court's announcement was made at the hearing on Thaw's petition to be admitted to bail.

McFarland Shakes Britton

Milwaukee, Dec. 10.—Packer McFarland made more than $100 a minute here by merely pushing a pair of gloves into Jack Britton. Packer was a better staller than Jack and therefore is entitled to a shade.

Would Declare War on U. S.

Paris, Dec. 10.—Any interference in the financial and economic affairs of Guatemala on the part of the U. S. would lead to war in which other republics would join, said the Guatemalan minister to Paris.

John D. Buys 50,000 Stamps.

New York, Dec. 10.—Among the large purchasers of Red Cross stamps was John D. Rockefeller. The oil king paid $500 for 50,000 stamps. It is probable that 50,000,000 stamps will be sold before Christmas.

MULTIPLANE THAT MAY FLY ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Capt. Matthew A. Batson's "aeroyacht" or multiplane, which has been under construction near Savannah, Ga., is now completed and its designer is planning a trial trip from Savannah to New York. If that is successful he will try to cross the Atlantic ocean, probably next spring. The craft is 74 feet long and has 12 big planes and two 11-foot propellers, one at either end. There are three engines in a cabin swung amidships.

ELECTION IS ILLEGAL

MEXICAN CONGRESS NULLIFIES PRESIDENTIAL BALLOT.

Huerta is Urged to Retain Office Until July, 1914, When New Vote Will Be Taken.

City of Mexico, Dec. 11.—Although congress gave President Huerta a new lease of official life Tuesday, it is rumored he may retire from the presidency owing to pressure from abroad and the advancing of rebels from the north.

The Mexican congress nullified the recent presidential elections. New elections were called. In voting that the presidential election of October 26 was null the deputies decided to fix the first Sunday in July, 1914, as the date for the new election. They also confirmed the position of Huerta as provisional president until then.

The measures taken by congress provide also for the election of a new congress.

The rebels under Gen. Candido Aguilar scored a success over federal troops by slipping round the edge of Turpan and boarding the gunboat Tuxpan while the federal were not looking. They disabled its machinery and guns and got away with a quantity of dynamite.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 11.—A letter from Gen. Venustiano Carranza in defense of the execution of Gen. Francisco Villa of federal officers captured at Juarez was given out Tuesday by Governor Hunt of Arizona. It was in reply to a suggestion Governor Hunt sent the rebel chief that summary executions would horrify the people of the United States and alienate their sympathy.

Carranza wrote that a corrupt minority had overthrown popular elections, tried to destroy political institutions by violence, "carried out bloody executions," "murdered wounded constitutionalists" and "devastated homes and cities."

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 10.—The complete rout of Huerta's federal army in northern Mexico, with the frantic flight of his generals for safety on the border and the demoralization of the unpaid troops, was established with the arrival Monday at Ojinaga, Mexico, opposite Presidio, of the civilians and soldiers who deserted Chihuahua city.

In the bestia were women and children who struggled for eight days over a trail of 185 miles through the desert and endured great hardships for want of food and water.

MALM INVOY TO NORWAY

Washington, Dec. 11.—J. L. Malm, minister to Uruguay, probably will be appointed consul at Christiania, Norway, instead. Mr. Malm speaks Norwegian and German.

MICHIGAN TOWN HAS BOARD RULE

Washington, Dec. 11.—Cadillac's effort to bring about the adoption of a commission form of government was successful at the special election on Tuesday, a majority of 103 votes being cast in the affirmative.

NAVY IS BIGGEST SINCE 1864

Washington, Dec. 9.—For the first time since the Civil war the enlisted strength of the navy has passed the 50,000 mark. The total number of enlisted men was 50,136. The gain since July 1 was 2,068.

DEAD IN TEXAS REACHES 53

Bryan, Tex., Dec. 9.—Fifty-three persons are known to be dead and scores of others are reported to have lost their lives in the floods of the Brazos and Trinity rivers in central and south central Texas.

KAHN COLLAPSES AT BANQUET

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Otto H. Kahn, head of the big New York financial house of Kahn, Loeb & Co. and chairman of the executive committee of a grand opera company, fainted just as he finished an address here.

McDERMOTT IS GUILTY TELLS BOMB PLOTS

HOUSE LOBBY BODY FINDS CONDUCT IMPROPER—MOVE MADE TO OUST HIM.

Member of Iron Workers' Body Gives Particulars of Outrages Committed at Official's Behest.

New York, Dec. 9.—George E. Davis, the dynamiter on whose evidence the federal grand jury at Indianapolis has just found indictments in numerous cases in which officers and members of the International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' association are defendants, made one of the most remarkable confessions ever made.

David and Harry Jones are among the new men indicted, in addition to the many connected with the union already completed on previous charges.

Davis gives dates and places of dynamite outrages. He relates how he was forced to blow up bridges, viaducts and other structures erected by non-union labor.

The confession is a document of extraordinary interest. It shows how small the reward was that Davis received for the destruction he caused. In one case he got $30 for a dynamite outrage, in another only $10.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRE

St. Louis, Dec. 9.—Miss Phoebe Cousins, the first woman lawyer in the United States and the only woman who ever served as deputy United States marshal, died here on Saturday. Miss Cousins was seventy-three years old.

Paris, France, Dec. 9.—Reports have been received that Longwood house in St. Helena, where Napoleon died, is falling to pieces for lack of funds to repair it. In consequence of this several prominent deputies have prepared a measure to increase the appropriation in the foreign office budget by $4,000 for the upkeep of the house.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The Baker bill, giving San Francisco water supply and power rights in the Hetch Hetchy valley of the Tuolumne river, Yosemite national park, passed the senate on Saturday by a vote of 43 to 25.

WILLIAM DEERING IS DEAD

Harvester Machinery Magnate Succumbs in Florida—Ill for Several Months.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 11.—William Deering, head of the harvester trust, died at his country home, Cocanut Grove, five miles south of Miami, of paralysis Tuesday. He had been ill for several months. All hope of his recovery had been abandoned because of his advanced age of eighty-eight years. Mr. Deering was born at South Paris, Me., on April 25, 1826, of a Puritan family, established in this country in 1634. In 1849 he married Abby Barbour, who died in 1856, leaving him one child, Charles Deering, who survives his father.

JUDGE MADE PONTIAC HEAD

Pontiac, Ill., Dec. 11.—Judge W. C. Graves of Pontiac was appointed superintendent of the Illinois state reformatory here. Judge Graves has been on the Livingston county bench for the past three years.

TO PAY MRS. GAILLARD $16,000.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The Adamson bill providing that Mrs. Katherine Gaillard, widow of Lieut. Col. David Gaillard, who helped build the Panama canal, shall be paid $16,000, was favorably reported.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS IN RIOT

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 9.—Sixteen Industrial Workers of the World were arrested near the city hall. They had defied the orders of the police in making speeches on the street. Two riot calls were sent to police headquarters.

100 SUFFER IN RAIL COLLISION

Bucharest, Dec. 9.—News reached this city that 100 persons suffered, some killed and others injured, in a collision between passenger and freight trains near Costesti on Saturday night.

WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Manitowoc, Wis.—Mrs. Anna Hartman, wife of a prominent farmer of the town of Schleswig, committed suicide by drinking Paris green in coffee.

REPORT ON INSANITY

MOST CASES OF MENTAL DISORDER FROM RURAL DISTRICTS.

Of 878 Patients Admitted to Mendota Asylum in Two Years, 204 Were Farmers and Farm Laborers.

Madison.—Evidence that insanity in rural districts holds a higher rate than in urban communities is seen in the biennial report of Dr. Charles Gorst, superintendent of the Mendota State Hospital for the Insane, submitted to the board of control.

Of the 878 patients committed to the institution for the first time during the last two years, 175 were farmers and 29 farm laborers. Other occupations are: Housewives, 164; house work, 111; labor, 119; carpenters, 15; clerks, 11; domestics, 15; dressmakers, 5; hotel keepers, 12; hack drivers, 2; school teachers, 10; no occupation, 11; barkeepers, 7; blacksmiths, 7; chauffeurs, 1; actors, 1; barbers, 4; butchers, 2; cooks, 2; druggists, 1; jewelers, 2; lawyers, 2; mail carriers, 1; miners, 3; moving picture operators, 1; newsboys, 1; photographers, 1; real estate agents, 1; saloon keepers, 6; shoemakers, 2; stenographers, 1; students, 8; traveling salesmen, 2; sailors, 1; tramps, 1.

Of the patients treated at Mendota during the biennial period just closed 274 were foreign born. Of these 66 were born in Germany, 66 in Norway, 28 in Sweden, 9 in Switzerland, 2 in Wales, 9 in Ireland, 1 in Greece, 2 in France, 6 in Finland, 9 in England, 15 in Denmark, 16 in Canada, 13 in Bohemia, and 9 in Austria. Of 596 original admissions of American born patients 453 were born in Wisconsin, 18 in New York, 19 in Minnesota, 16 in Illinois, 13 in Pennsylvania and 7 in Michigan.

KENOSHA GIRL IS HEROINE

Laura Dittler, Aged 17, Rescues Brothers, Sisters and Parent from Burning House.

Kenosha.—Laura Dittler, a 17 year old girl, was the heroine of one of the most stirring rescues ever known in Kenosha, when she carried her unconscious mother from a burning building.

Mrs. Dittler, who is an invalid, had fainted while carrying a lamp and the lamp fell to the floor, setting fire to the house. The daughter discovered the fire, and after she had taken her smaller brothers and sisters out made a search for her mother. She found her lying on the floor completely surrounded by flames. Against the warnings of people who had gathered to fight the flames, the young woman rushed through the flames into the burning house and with great effort carried the unconscious woman to a place of safety.

The name Wisconsin is a Sauk Indian word having reference to holes in the bank of a stream, in which birds nest.

Milwaukee is said to have derived its name from the Indian word miloke, meaning "good earth" or "good country."

MUST LOAF TO GET FORTUNE

Janesville Man Is Made Heir to $40,000 Estate, Providing He Will Stop Work.

Janesville.—In order to inherit $40,000 left him by his brother, Edward Day of Beloit, F. J. Day, a painter, has given up his position and will devote his entire time to the administration of his brother's estate, amounting to $60,000. For twenty years before his death Day's brother urged him to retire. Day refused to lay down his brushes and paste pans. Shortly before his death Day's brother made a will, making Day chief beneficiary and administrator of the estate, provided he quit work and devoted his entire time to looking after the bequests.

HUDSON YOUTH IS RHODES SCHOLAR

Hudson.—The New Jersey committee having in its charge the selection of the Rhodes scholar from that state named Wilder Graves Penfield, of Hudson, Wis., for the honor. Penfield was a member of the class which graduated from Princeton in 1912. He was an "honorary man" and won his letter on the Princeton football varsity in his senior year.

BANKERS TO HELP FARMERS

Marshfield.—Wood county bankers organized under the name of The Development Association of Wood County for the purpose of encouraging agriculture and ultimately working out a plan for more liberal farm credits, which shall at the same time, insure safety to investors.

POSTMASTER IS ARRESTED

Wausau.—W. B. Philbrick, postmaster at Rothschild, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal W. H. Appleby of Appleton and taken to Madison under a federal warrant charging embezzlement of postal funds. Philbrick conducts a drug store in connection with the postoffice. The officer refused to divulge the particulars of the alleged crime.

GETS BLACK HAND LETTERS

Wausau.—Henry Ruder has received two "blackhand" letters, one addressed to George Ruder, who is dead, and the other to the Ruder Brewing company, demanding $3,000 on pain of having the property dynamited.

VERNON COUNTY FAIR DATED

Viroqua.—At the meeting of the Vernon County Fair association the time for the next fair was set for the week following the Interstate fair at La Crosse.

TURN ON NEW BARABOO LIGHTS

Baraboo.—Mayor Thuerer pressed the button which turned on the new boulevard lighting system. The event was celebrated by an automobile parade, music and speeches. Baraboo is now the best lighted city of its size in the state.

MARKETS

Milwaukee, Dec. 10, 1913.
Butter—Creamery, extras, 32c; prints, 33c; firsts, 29c; seconds, 25c; renovated, 26c; 26 1/2c; dairy fancy, 28c.
Cheese—American, full cream, new made twins, 14 1/2c; Young Americas, 15c; 16 1/2c; daisies, 14 1/2c; longhorns, 14 1/2c; Limburger, 13c; 13 1/2c.
Eggs—Current receipts fresh as to quality, 30c; 32c; reconded, extras, 35c; 37c; seconds, 19c; 21c.
Live Poultry—Fowls, 12c; chickens, 9c; springers, 13c.
Wheat—No. 1 northern, 92c; No. 2 northern, 89c; No. 3 northern, 87c; No. 1 velvet, 90c.
Corn—No. 3 yellow, 72c.
Oats—No. 3 white, 41c; standard, 41 1/2c.
Barley—No. 4, 56c; 60c; No. 3, 62c; 73c; Wisconsin, 58c.
Rye—No. 2, 62c; 62 1/2c.
Hogs—Good heavy butchers, 7.80; 7.90; fair to best light, 7.40; 7.50; packers, 7.40; 7.50.
Cattle—Butchers' steers, 6.75; 6.85; stockers and feeders, 6.25; 7.00; cows, and heifers, 4.65; 7.00; calves, 10.00; 11.00.
Chicago, Dec. 10, 1913.
Cattle—Beeves, 6.85; 9.70; stockers and feeders, 4.80; 7.50; cows and heifers, 4.30; 6.20; calves, 16.50; 11.00.
Hogs—Light, 7.30; 7.85; heavy, 7.55; 8.00; rough, 7.55; 7.70; pigs, 5.50; 7.40.
Minneapolis, Dec. 10, 1913.
Wheat—No. 1 hard, 87 1/2c; No. 1 northern, 87c; No. 2 northern, 85c.
Corn—No. 3 yellow, 68c.
Barley—42c; 62c.
Rye—No. 2, 54c; 57c.
Flax—1.41; 1.45.

TEST FOR THE OVEN

HOW ONE MAY BE SURE IT IS JUST RIGHT.

Employ White Paper to Tell When Right Temperature Has Been Secured—Good Recipe for Cleaning Black Woolen Clothing.

You can never make a success of baking unless the oven is exactly right. If it is a little too hot or too cold all your cakes and pies will be spoiled. You can always test the heat by putting a piece of white paper on the oven shelf that is to be used and leaving it there for two minutes. If the paper comes out with white or very slightly brown at the edges, then the oven is cool. If the paper comes out a good deal browned, but not burned at all, then the oven is moderate. If the paper comes out brown all over and blackened at the edges, the oven is hot. If the paper burns all to a cinder, then the oven is much too hot for any use.

The following is a good recipe for cleaning black woolen clothing: Dissolve borax in water and saturate a sponge or cloth in the solution. Wash the greasy spots by rubbing vigorously, then rinse in clear water the same way, and dry in the sun. This is especially good for cleaning men's coat collars.

Thick, soft gloves are made to wear when lifting pots and heavy stove attachments; thinner ones come for the purpose of protecting the hands while sweeping or dusting; then there are rubber gloves to put on when washing dishes and asbestos gloves to wear when handling hot dishes.

Should the clothes be mildewed, the stains may be removed by a mixture containing equal parts of soft soap and starch, half as much common salt and the juice of half a lemon. This may be spread over the spots, and the article should be laid on the grass all day and all night until the stain entirely disappears.

The crisp, raw cucumber, appetizing as it is, proves indigestible to many people. Let these try them cooked. Cooked cucumbers may be served hot with a cream sauce or cold as a salad. Rather ripe vegetables should be selected and they should be stewed very slowly. Finely shredded chili peppers added to the sauce improve its appearance and take away the slight acidity of the cucumber when without destroying the flavor. When serving the cooked cucumber as a salad cut it lengthwise instead of across, as with the raw vegetable.

A few drops of oil of lavender scattered on the shelves in the library will dissipate the odor of mold which frequently arises from damp weather.

PEANUT BUTTER

Roast the nuts, shell and take off the brown skins. When making large quantities the removing of the brown skins is best accomplished by putting the shelled peanuts on a coarse towel, covering them with another towel and rubbing them gently until the husks are broken or loosened, and then blowing them off with a bellows. If you use salt, dust them lightly with it and grind at once. Mix to a smooth paste with half as much butter as you have peanut powder. It is always well to taste your butter and use its freshness as a guide in the matter of just how much salt you should add to the peanuts. If used for cooking, pour them in covered glass jars or tumblers, keep in a cool place.

TURKEY RECHAUFFE

Melt two and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one cupful of rich milk. Bring to the boiling point and add one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of celery salt, and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper; then add one cupful of cold roast turkey cut in thin strips, one-half cupful of cooked spaghetti cut in one-half inch pieces and one-half cupful of sauteed sliced mushrooms. Turn into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with one-third cupful of grated Parmesan cheese, cover with three-fourths cupful of buttered cracker crumbs and bake until the crumbs are browned.

COOKIES

One cupful of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, three eggs, half a teaspoonful of baking powder, one even teaspoonful of nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of cloves and four for a soft dough. Begin with two cupfuls and add carefully that you may not make them too stiff. Cream butter and sugar, add yolks of eggs, spice, one cupful of flour with baking powder, the whipped whites and the rest of the flour. Roll into a sheet a quarter of an inch thick, cut into rounds and bake in a good oven. These cookies ought to be of the soft variety if you keep them wrapped in a cloth in a tin box and will not let them dry out.

BROTH WITH BREAD DUMPLINGS

Soak three thick slices of white bread in about a pint of broth, squeeze fairly dry and beat up with a fork. Melt a tablespoonful of butter over the fire, add the bread; mix well and season with salt to taste and a little pepper. When cool stir in two well beaten eggs, a quarter of a grated nutmeg, and a little chopped parsley. Mix well and mold into small balls. Roll these lightly in flour, boil them lightly in broth for two minutes and serve at once.

POTATO CAKE WITH RAISINS

One cup butter, two cups sugar, two cups flour, one cup mashed potatoes, one-half cup milk, one cup chopped walnuts, one cup seeded raisins, one cup chocolate, four eggs, one-third teaspoon cinnamon, one-third teaspoon cloves, one-third nutmeg, two teaspoons baking powder. Spread dough in breadpan and bake in medium hot oven.

QUICK PUDDING

Two eggs, beat yolks with one-third cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one-half cup flour (scent), one-half teaspoon soda and add egg whites beaten stiff. Bake 30 minutes. Serve hot with hard sauce.

"Only Jones"

A Day-Before-Christmas Story in Three Parts

Henry Kitchell Webster Samuel E. Kiser and Wilbur D. Nesbit

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

PART THREE—Continued.

Jabez turned to look, then thought he wouldn't. "And now," continued Ursula, "they're coming back into the car."

"Good-bye," yelled Jabez. The door struck, as car doors will. When the man in the tan overcoat got it open, Jabez was gone.

Looking eagerly out of the window Ursula thought she saw a man scuttling like a scared cat up a dark little cross street; she thought she saw him take a header over an ash barrel half submerged in an old snow bank, but she could not be sure.

Then she turned back and began gathering up what she could find of Mrs. Biggs' Christmas dinner. She was so busy at this and so intent on ignoring the thirty-two pairs of eyes which were trying to bore holes in her, that she was unaware that the conductor had come in and was standing over her.

"Fare, please," he said, coldly. "And," he added, "if that gent that just skipped out was wid you, you kin pay for him, too."

Ursula began tumbling over the things in her lap. "It's—in a sort of way—'I'm afraid,'" she said, "that I must have left my purse in the automobile."

The conductor was not an amiable man. "It makes no odds to the company where you left it," he began. "Ten cents, please, now." But at this moment a man who had been riding on the front platform with a turkey came back into the car. "Here's your ten cents," he said, and sat in the vacant place beside Miss Allen.

"I was taking this bird out to Mrs. Callahan's," he observed in his prosaic way, as he tucked it between his feet. "I'm glad I happened to be on the same car."

It was Jones. "I'm glad, too," said Ursula. "We now return to the man who fell over the ash barrel, McAdam, for it was indeed he, was not hurt, for the barrel was covered with a heap of last week's snow, shoveled up there from the street. He quickly decided that, for the moment, he was safest where he was. He crouched down in the snow behind the barrel 'with listening ear,' as Shakespeare says, waiting for the chase to go by. Two, three, five minutes passed and nothing of the sort happened. Only the snow, in which he nestled, slowly melted around him, became, in fact, uncomfortably slushy. Perhaps the pursuit was abandoned, or perhaps there was some trick about this apparent inactivity. He would try to find out. Cautiously he lifted his head and looked down the street. Nothing to be seen at first but the crowd hurrying along the well-lighted avenue where the car ran. But when he looked again he had the doubtful satisfaction of seeing two dim figures—one unmistakably in a tan overcoat—lounging in an entry near the corner. McAdam sagaciously reflected that if they remained so cheerfully at this end of the street it must be because they knew there was no way for him to get out the other. Perhaps they would give him up eventually, but in the meantime—How warm and dry Delaney and Rev. Arthur must be in the comfortable police station!

Suddenly he straightened up. "Shucks!" he murmured, "it's Christmas eve. They'll be glad of a little peace and good will on their own account. I'll put it strong. Say two hundred apiece." He reached back to his hip pocket, where his joy-disperser, still obese, unimpaired by the stray leaves which had fluttered from it that evening, should have reposed. You know what had become of it. McAdam, happily for him, did not. He paddled around in the snow in search of it, then gave it up and collected from his various pockets his total cash resources. They came to two dollars and fifty-five cents. Would the constables accept his promise to pay? He was inclined to think not.

He uttered a sigh of despair, for without that friendly bulge in his hip-pocket he felt forsaken indeed, when his eye chanced on a lighted window across the street. "J. Schoenboeven," was printed on it, "wigs and costumes." And then his eye lighted with hope. "Saved!" he murmured. Snatching his chance when a fire engine went tearing down the avenue—on its way, no doubt, to some premature Santa Claus affair in a Christmas tree—he dashed across the street, up the stairs, into the shop.

"I'm going to a party tonight," he said to the young man in charge. "I want to wear something neat and handsome that'll keep my friends from knowing me."

Ordinarily, McAdam had only to appear to command respect, but falling over an ash barrel, staining his hat, and lying for half an hour in the street had made him a good deal less impressive. At least it did not over-power the clerk.

"About what price?" he asked, coldly. "Jabez looked a bit sick at that. 'Something about two-fifty,'" he said.

With a haughty wave of the hand, the young man pointed to a dingy heap upon the counter, the last of his race. "That's all we have at two-fifty," he said, and turned away with his nose in the air, leaving poor Jabez to paw over the disreputable, worn and dirty garments and wigs which looked as if they had done duty at scores of masquerade balls in the cheapest quarters of the city.

Reverend Arthur and Delaney reached the Allen's house at exactly eight o'clock, simultaneously with six little girls from across the street. In the hall they encountered Ursula. She bundled the little girls off upstairs. "And I must be off, too," she said. "We're just this minute up from dinner. We were dreadfully late getting home, and I have to dress. I wish I had time to hear how you two got out of jail."

"We didn't find it necessary to accompany the officers to the station," began Reverend Arthur, coolly. "We—"

"I'll hear all about it later," she interrupted. "Now run along and help Mr. Jones with the Christmas tree in the music room; you know—"

"Ah, Mr. Jones is here," said Delaney. "Has Mr. Mc—"

"Mr. Jones dined here," said Ursula, turning toward the stairway. "You must help him get through with the tree, because he has to dress. He is going to be my Santa Claus, you know."

My Santa Claus? If they had known she regarded it in just that light they would have fought for the part themselves. Well, it was too late now.

So they went to the music room to the menial occupation of "helping Jones." But Jones said they could do nothing for him; indeed his expression of fact was so vivacious when they all but set fire to the tree with a cigarette that they retired in good order to the great hall, where they gloomily discussed Jones and the good luck that seemed to attend him. He certainly had scored on them more than once already in the course of this eventful evening and their love for him was not increasing with noticeable rapidity.

"Think of him dining here in his morning coat," observed Delaney. "He makes himself useful," said Reverend Arthur. So they stood where they commanded a view of the great front door, lazily looked over the new arrivals and waited for Ursula's re-appearance on the scene to make it worth while taking part.

James stood by the big door grandly admitting the guests. The bell rang downstairs where he could not hear it, but a footfall on the porch or the crunching of a carriage in the drive told him when anyone was coming. So he was a good deal surprised not to say startled, at hearing without any preliminary sound whatever, a faint rat-rat on the door.

He opened it a little way and was still more surprised at seeing no one there. Then, as he was about to close it again, he was electrified by a hoarse whisper: "Open the door. Let me in."

Opening wider, he made out a dark figure with a venerable beard in the shadow of the doorway. This was scandalous.

"Be off, now," he said severely. "No beggars allowed." "Beggars," said the hoarse voice, as though something were choking it, "I'm a friend of Miss Allen's. Stand aside, you fool, and let me in. Quick! They'll see me in a minute."

"You look like a friend of hers? You do indeed! Come, be off now, or I'll turn you over to the police."

bluff and hearty honesty. It was the season of hospitality, merriment and open-heartedness. The old year was preparing, like an ancient philosopher, to call his friends around him, and amid the sound of feasting and revelry, to pass gently and calmly away.

The tree was planted in the middle of a great round table and towered high above their heads. It was brilliantly lighted by a multitude of little tapers and everywhere sparkled and glittered with bright objects.

We all come home or ought to come home for a short holiday—the longer the better—from the great boarding school, where we are forever working at our arithmetical slates, to take or give a rest.

Holly, mistletoe, red berries, ivy, turkeys, geese, game, poultry, brown meat pies, sausages, oysters, pie puddings, fruit and punch.

We're to be together all the Christmas long and have the merriest time in all the world.

A merry Christmas and a happy

"I'm her Santa Claus. That's why I'm dressed this way," shouted the applicant, furiously, but not forgetting caution so far as to come out into the light. "You're drunk," said James, advancing into the dark, courageously intent on flogging the intruder off the porch. It was a false move. Disreputable he looked, drunk he might be, but the unknown was certainly quick. Before James had fairly got clear of the door he had shot past him into the vestibule.

The light revealed the full horror of him, a tunic of greasy red cotton flannel with dragged tufts of white along the edges. Red worsted tights, of which the less said the better. A pair of yellow oiled boots, broken and muddy, and over his head and shoulders a torn tangle of frosty white hair. And this hideous travesty prefigured Santa Claus! Here was the saint of Christmas, the jovial old gentleman who brought gifts to all and about whose knees the sweet little children were to cling while he stroked mer of the great ball, gloomily, he would have said, watching the festivities in the drawing room.

"There was a complex tissue of emotions to be read in his face, but a smile of pure good humor dominated it. He had not asked Ursula which of them was the successful one. At the time he hadn't cared. But now he was puzzled to, as it were, pick the winner. Whichever he was, he looked exactly as the other must feel.

"Well," said Jabez, with what cheerfulness he could muster, "which one of you fellows do I congratulate?" "What?" shouted Reverend Arthur. "What?" echoed Delaney. "Whose ring is it she's wearing?" demanded Jabez. "One of you ought to know."

"Not I," said Reverend Arthur. Again echo answered: "Not I!"

And then a sickening affluence enveloped them. Jabez was merely puzzled, but the hearts of Reverend Arthur and Delaney were like lead in their bosoms, the lights were blurred in their eyes and the knowledge of defeat took for the time all the joy out of life. Not one of the trio spoke, for there was nothing more to be said.

In the drawing room the tide of fun was rising steadily. Expectation stood at tiptoe. It was nearly time for the Christmas tree. For the moment the leaders of the merriment had disappeared. Ursula and Jones were nowhere to be seen.

Weren't they, though? Suddenly Jabez laid compelling hands on the other two. They turned and followed his look.

There were two figures in the dark—the almost dark recess at the far end of the hall. This was a children's party, but these weren't children.

And then, in a moment, Reverend Arthur and Mr. P. Wilmering Delaney knew where Jones had hung the mistletoe.

"I'm going to get out of this," said Wilmering. "I think I must be going myself," said Reverend Arthur.

"I can't go," said Jabez. "My car is here," said Delaney. "We could make a dash—"

"I never could get out to it," said Jabez. "They're waiting for me on the sidewalk."

"Possibly," hesitated Reverend Arthur, "if I were to go first—er—dressed in such a manner as to create a diversion—"

"Reverend!" exclaimed Jabez, "you're a brick!" He opened a door that happened to be at hand, "I guess we can change clothes in here," he said.

Five minutes later Jones and Ursula came upon the product of the metamorphosis. First they gaped with astonishment and then howled with delight while the reverend gentleman wriggled in sheepish embarrassment. But a few words sufficed to make clear to them the situation and then they jumped into the game with a will, adding touches here and there to Reverend Arthur's picturesque if not handsome costume.

"But you used the wig to make you complete," said Jones. "Here it is!" Reverend Arthur had put his hand to the plow. He put on the wig. Delaney returned from a momentary sortie to the carriage drive. "My man has the motor going," he reported.

The door stood wide open. The scuffle was plainly to be seen from the street, and two men, one in a tan overcoat, were rushing across the lawn, intent on taking a hand of their own in the affair. Altogether it was lively while it lasted. But it was short.

As the two men from outside dashed up the steps the big door swung to with a click, and Jones, who had closed it, said, in his quiet way: "Get up. Get up. Don't you know his voice? It's McAdam."

They scrambled to their feet. It is safe to say that unless they knew his voice they could hardly have recognized him. The disguise by now, at least, was effective.

They looked at him aghast. Then, as they heard Ursula's step on the stairs, James, with, as Shakespeare says, "one suspicious and one dropping eye," helped him to his feet.

Jabez pulled off his wig and dropped it on the floor. He tugged impatiently at his beard. "The damned thing won't come off," he said, with something like a sob. "It's glued on!"

Ursula stood before him. Pretty much everyone else in the house was there, too, for the sound of the scuffle had been audible all over it, but his experience of the last two hours had reduced him to his element. There was an epic simplicity about him. He saw only Ursula.

"I've come back," he said. "I wanted to speak to you, so I came back—"

"Come in here," said Ursula. She led him through the crowd into a little reception room and closed the door after her.

Jones herded the mob back into the drawing rooms. James went back and opened the door again, looking, except as to his eyes as though nothing had happened. But Rev. Arthur and P. Wilmering remained frozen where they stood and gazed at each other.

This is what was happening behind that closed door. "Before you say anything to me, Mr. McAdam, I want to ask for your good wishes," said Ursula.

"My good wishes!" he echoed. She held out her hands and he saw that she wore no rings but one solitary brilliant upon a third finger.

It was a moment before he comprehended. "So my account is closed out," he said. "I wasn't in time to cover my margins after all."

"It wasn't a matter of time," said Ursula, blushing a little, "but you do give me your good wishes, don't you?" "All of 'em," he said, shaking hands. "Can I have a cup of coffee?"

After he had had it he felt enough better to look up his two rivals. He found them at last, in an obscure corner of the great ball, gloomily, he would have said, watching the festivities in the drawing room.

"There was a complex tissue of emotions to be read in his face, but a smile of pure good humor dominated it. He had not asked Ursula which of them was the successful one. At the time he hadn't cared. But now he was puzzled to, as it were, pick the winner. Whichever he was, he looked exactly as the other must feel.

"Well," said Jabez, with what cheerfulness he could muster, "which one of you fellows do I congratulate?" "What?" shouted Reverend Arthur. "What?" echoed Delaney. "Whose ring is it she's wearing?" demanded Jabez. "One of you ought to know."

"Not I," said Reverend Arthur. Again echo answered: "Not I!"

And then a sickening affluence enveloped them. Jabez was merely puzzled, but the hearts of Reverend Arthur and Delaney were like lead in their bosoms, the lights were blurred in their eyes and the knowledge of defeat took for the time all the joy out of life. Not one of the trio spoke, for there was nothing more to be said.

In the drawing room the tide of fun was rising steadily. Expectation stood at tiptoe. It was nearly time for the Christmas tree. For the moment the leaders of the merriment had disappeared. Ursula and Jones were nowhere to be seen.

Weren't they, though? Suddenly Jabez laid compelling hands on the other two. They turned and followed his look.

There were two figures in the dark—the almost dark recess at the far end of the hall. This was a children's party, but these weren't children.

And then, in a moment, Reverend Arthur and Mr. P. Wilmering Delaney knew where Jones had hung the mistletoe.

"I'm going to get out of this," said Wilmering. "I think I must be going myself," said Reverend Arthur.

"I can't go," said Jabez. "My car is here," said Delaney. "We could make a dash—"

"I never could get out to it," said Jabez. "They're waiting for me on the sidewalk."

"Possibly," hesitated Reverend Arthur, "if I were to go first—er—dressed in such a manner as to create a diversion—"

"Reverend!" exclaimed Jabez, "you're a brick!" He opened a door that happened to be at hand, "I guess we can change clothes in here," he said.

Five minutes later Jones and Ursula came upon the product of the metamorphosis. First they gaped with astonishment and then howled with delight while the reverend gentleman wriggled in sheepish embarrassment. But a few words sufficed to make clear to them the situation and then they jumped into the game with a will, adding touches here and there to Reverend Arthur's picturesque if not handsome costume.

"But you used the wig to make you complete," said Jones. "Here it is!" Reverend Arthur had put his hand to the plow. He put on the wig. Delaney returned from a momentary sortie to the carriage drive. "My man has the motor going," he reported.

The door stood wide open. The scuffle was plainly to be seen from the street, and two men, one in a tan overcoat, were rushing across the lawn, intent on taking a hand of their own in the affair. Altogether it was lively while it lasted. But it was short.

As the two men from outside dashed up the steps the big door swung to with a click, and Jones, who had closed it, said, in his quiet way: "Get up. Get up. Don't you know his voice? It's McAdam."

They scrambled to their feet. It is safe to say that unless they knew his voice they could hardly have recognized him. The disguise by now, at least, was effective.

They looked at him aghast. Then, as they heard Ursula's step on the stairs, James, with, as Shakespeare says, "one suspicious and one dropping eye," helped him to his feet.

Jabez pulled off his wig and dropped it on the floor. He tugged impatiently at his beard. "The damned thing won't come off," he said, with something like a sob. "It's glued on!"

Ursula stood before him. Pretty much everyone else in the house was there, too, for the sound of the scuffle had been audible all over it, but his experience of the last two hours had reduced him to his element. There was an epic simplicity about him. He saw only Ursula.

"I've come back," he said. "I wanted to speak to you, so I came back—"

"Come in here," said Ursula. She led him through the crowd into a little reception room and closed the door after her.

Jones herded the mob back into the drawing rooms. James went back and opened the door again, looking, except as to his eyes as though nothing had happened. But Rev. Arthur and P. Wilmering remained frozen where they stood and gazed at each other.

This is what was happening behind that closed door. "Before you say anything to me, Mr. McAdam, I want to ask for your good wishes," said Ursula.

"My good wishes!" he echoed. She held out her hands and he saw that she wore no rings but one solitary brilliant upon a third finger.

It was a moment before he comprehended. "So my account is closed out," he said. "I wasn't in time to cover my margins after all."

"It wasn't a matter of time," said Ursula, blushing a little, "but you do give me your good wishes, don't you?" "All of 'em," he said, shaking hands. "Can I have a cup of coffee?"

After he had had it he felt enough better to look up his two rivals. He found them at last, in an obscure corner of the great ball, gloomily, he would have said, watching the festivities in the drawing room.

"There was a complex tissue of emotions to be read in his face, but a smile of pure good humor dominated it. He had not asked Ursula which of them was the successful one. At the time he hadn't cared. But now he was puzzled to, as it were, pick the winner. Whichever he was, he looked exactly as the other must feel.

"Well," said Jabez, with what cheerfulness he could muster, "which one of you fellows do I congratulate?" "What?" shouted Reverend Arthur. "What?" echoed Delaney. "Whose ring is it she's wearing?" demanded Jabez. "One of you ought to know."

"Not I," said Reverend Arthur. Again echo answered: "Not I!"

And then a sickening affluence enveloped them. Jabez was merely puzzled, but the hearts of Reverend Arthur and Delaney were like lead in their bosoms, the lights were blurred in their eyes and the knowledge of defeat took for the time all the joy out of life. Not one of the trio spoke, for there was nothing more to be said.

In the drawing room the tide of fun was rising steadily. Expectation stood at tiptoe. It was nearly time for the Christmas tree. For the moment the leaders of the merriment had disappeared. Ursula and Jones were nowhere to be seen.

Weren't they, though? Suddenly Jabez laid compelling hands on the other two. They turned and followed his look.

There were two figures in the dark—the almost dark recess at the far end of the hall. This was a children's party, but these weren't children.

And then, in a moment, Reverend Arthur and Mr. P. Wilmering Delaney knew where Jones had hung the mistletoe.

FARMERS TO HOLD MANY INSTITUTES

WINTER AGRICULTURAL GATHERINGS NUMBER 103 FROM DEC. 9 TO MARCH 17.

MUCH VARIETY IN PROGRAMS

Many Well Known Speakers Will Deliver Addresses on Subjects of Great Rural Importance—Forty Cooking Schools.

Madison—The first of the two days, farmers' institutes to be held in Wisconsin this winter, were held Dec. 9 and 10, and including these meetings, 109 institutes will be held in 63 counties from Dec. 9 to March 17, 1914.

George McKerrow, who will this year finish his twentieth consecutive season as superintendent of farmers' institutes in Wisconsin, will be assisted this winter by a number of well known and successful conductors and workers. The five institute corps this year will be in charge of W. C. Bradley of Hudson, David Ingle of Roberts, Edward Nordman of Polk, H. D. Griswold of West Salem and E. C. Jacobs of Elk Mound. They will be assisted by W. P. Hussey of Onro, W. H. Clark of Rice Lake, John Inrle of Roberts, E. E. Wyatt of Tomah and W. H. Hancock of Sparta.

Forty cooking schools will be held in connection with the 1913-14 institutes, twenty-three of these being in charge of Miss Nellie Maxwell, Neenah, and seventeen in charge of Miss Susan Brown of Luverne, Minn.

"I'm going to get out of this," said Wilmering. "I think I must be going myself," said Reverend Arthur.

"I can't go," said Jabez. "My car is here," said Delaney. "We could make a dash—"

"I never could get out to it," said Jabez. "They're waiting for me on the sidewalk."

"Possibly," hesitated Reverend Arthur, "if I were to go first—er—dressed in such a manner as to create a diversion—"

"Reverend!" exclaimed Jabez, "you're a brick!" He opened a door that happened to be at hand, "I guess we can change clothes in here," he said.

Five minutes later Jones and Ursula came upon the product of the metamorphosis. First they gaped with astonishment and then howled with delight while the reverend gentleman wriggled in sheepish embarrassment. But a few words sufficed to make clear to them the situation and then they jumped into the game with a will, adding touches here and there to Reverend Arthur's picturesque if not handsome costume.

"But you used the wig to make you complete," said Jones. "Here it is!" Reverend Arthur had put his hand to the plow. He put on the wig. Delaney returned from a momentary sortie to the carriage drive. "My man has the motor going," he reported.

The door stood wide open. The scuffle was plainly to be seen from the street, and two men, one in a tan overcoat, were rushing across the lawn, intent on taking a hand of their own in the affair. Altogether it was lively while it lasted. But it was short.

As the two men from outside dashed up the steps the big door swung to with a click, and Jones, who had closed it, said, in his quiet way: "Get up. Get up. Don't you know his voice? It's McAdam."

They scrambled to their feet. It is safe to say that unless they knew his voice they could hardly have recognized him. The disguise by now, at least, was effective.

They looked at him aghast. Then, as they heard Ursula's step on the stairs, James, with, as Shakespeare says, "one suspicious and one dropping eye," helped him to his feet.

Jabez pulled off his wig and dropped it on the floor. He tugged impatiently at his beard. "The damned thing won't come off," he said, with something like a sob. "It's glued on!"

Ursula stood before him. Pretty much everyone else in the house was there, too, for the sound of the scuffle had been audible all over it, but his experience of the last two hours had reduced him to his element. There was an epic simplicity about him. He saw only Ursula.

"I've come back," he said. "I wanted to speak to you, so I came back—"

"Come in here," said Ursula. She led him through the crowd into a little reception room and closed the door after her.

Jones herded the mob back into the drawing rooms. James went back and opened the door again, looking, except as to his eyes as though nothing had happened. But Rev. Arthur and P. Wilmering remained frozen where they stood and gazed at each other.

This is what was happening behind that closed door. "Before you say anything to me, Mr. McAdam, I want to ask for your good wishes," said Ursula.

"My good wishes!" he echoed. She held out her hands and he saw that she wore no rings but one solitary brilliant upon a third finger.

It was a moment before he comprehended. "So my account is closed out," he said. "I wasn't in time to cover my margins after all."

"It wasn't a matter of time," said Ursula, blushing a little, "but you do give me your good wishes, don't you?" "All of 'em," he said, shaking hands. "Can I have a cup of coffee?"

After he had had it he felt enough better to look up his two rivals. He found them at last, in an obscure corner of the great ball, gloomily, he would have said, watching the festivities in the drawing room.

"There was a complex tissue of emotions to be read in his face, but a smile of pure good humor dominated it. He had not asked Ursula which of them was the successful one. At the time he hadn't cared. But now he was puzzled to, as it were, pick the winner. Whichever he was, he looked exactly as the other must feel.

"Well," said Jabez, with what cheerfulness he could muster, "which one of you fellows do I congratulate?" "What?" shouted Reverend Arthur. "What?" echoed Delaney. "Whose ring is it she's wearing?" demanded Jabez. "One of you ought to know."

"Not I," said Reverend Arthur. Again echo answered: "Not I!"

And then a sickening affluence enveloped them. Jabez was merely puzzled, but the hearts of Reverend Arthur and Delaney were like lead in their bosoms, the lights were blurred in their eyes and the knowledge of defeat took for the time all the joy out of life. Not one of the trio spoke, for there was nothing more to be said.

In the drawing room the tide of fun was rising steadily. Expectation stood at tiptoe. It was nearly time for the Christmas tree. For the moment the leaders of the merriment had disappeared. Ursula and Jones were nowhere to be seen.

Weren't they, though? Suddenly Jabez laid compelling hands on the other two. They turned and followed his look.

There were two figures in the dark—the almost dark recess at the far end of the hall. This was a children's party, but these weren't children.

And then, in a moment, Reverend Arthur and Mr. P. Wilmering Delaney knew where Jones had hung the mistletoe.

EARLY FAIR DATE OPPOSED

Milwaukee Merchants Do Not Like the Aug. 27-Sept. 3 Allotment—Ministers Against Sunday Show.

Milwaukee—Opposition to holding the Wisconsin state fair from August 27 to September 3, the dates which have been set for the 1914 fair, is developing here. The fair is scheduled to be held on Sunday, which has aroused the ire of the ministers, and the early date at which it is to be held does not meet with the favor of the merchants.

The date was set at a meeting in Chicago of the American Association of Fairs and Expositions, which sets the dates for all the fairs and expositions in the northwest. The dates are set in this manner so that the times of holding the various fairs will not conflict. The Milwaukee Ministers' association will oppose holding the fair on Sunday. If the dates set stand, the fair next year will last eight days, beginning and ending on Thursday.

PLAN FOR JURISTS MEETING

Committee to Arrange Program for Discussion of Court Procedure.

Madison—A committee of four circuit court judges will meet in Madison, December 29, to arrange the program for the first meeting of circuit judges of the state to discuss court procedure and to exchange ideas. This meeting was made mandatory by the last legislature. The committee consists of Judges A. H. Reid, Wausau; Oscar M. Fritz, Milwaukee; E. Ray Stevens, Madison, and James Wickham, Eau Claire. The legislature also provided for a commission of judges and attorneys to consider recommendations for simplifying the judicial system of the state. A reduction in the number of different kinds of courts is one suggested remedy.

Madison

Save Our Bonds
They're interest on the money you spend

BOERNERS

The Christmas Store

Red Cross Stamps
help to fight tuberculosis. Ask our salespeople for them

Suggestions for Holiday Gifts.

Ladies' Neckwear Dainty and appropriate gifts can be found in this department and the prices are very moderate. 15c to 3.00	Handkerchiefs Our showing of Xmas handkerchiefs is especially attractive. These always make pretty Xmas gifts. 5c to 1.00	Fancy Xmas Ribbons A beautiful variety of patterns to choose. Values up to 39c a yard. Special, a yd. 25c
--	--	--

Shop Early and Avoid the Late Rush. Always Ask for Bonds.

You Save Money on Xmas Candies, Nuts and Groceries if you Buy Here	Xmas Nut Specials.	House Slippers Make Ideal Xmas Gifts.
Peanut squares, lb. 10c Cream wafers, lb. 10c Broken mixed, lb. 10c Kindergarten mixed, lb. 10c New cream bon bons, lb. 10c Jelly beans, lb. 9c Apples on wire, lb. 10c Cherries on wire, lb. 10c Cream and molasses stick, lb. 12c Honey suckle, lb. 20c Caramels, assorted, lb. 8c Chocolate drops, lb. 10c	Soft shell walnuts, lb. 17c Peanuts, lb. 8c Good pecans, lb. 15c Jumbo pecans, lb. 22c Jumbo mixed nuts, lb. 16c Fancy Brazils, lb. 20c Fancy filberts, lb. 20c	Girls' cloth slippers, carpet sole. Special, a pair. 39c Women's, as above. 49c Women's cloth slippers with felt sole, a pair. 49c Women's black mohair slippers, leather sole, a pair. 50c Women's velvet slippers, leather sole, a pair. 50c Other grades in cloth and all leather for men, women and children, at 35c to 1.75
	NON-D RIP TREE CANDLES all sizes, 2 boxes for 15c

A Bargain A Bargain

FROM NOW UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1914

A 42-piece set of good China Dishes valued at 2.75 A year's subscription to the Kewaskum Statesman valued at 1.50

All for the sum of $2.75

Get the habit and read the Home Newspaper. Take advantage of this great bargain. The Dishes are on exhibition at the Statesman Office. Call and inspect them. The Dishes and Statesman both will make a very appropriate Christmas present. Take advantage of this offer at once as the supply is limited.

DISH OFFER COUPON

To the Kewaskum Statesman, Kewaskum, Wis.

SIRS:—Enclosed please find $2.75 in payment of your Dish bargain as advertised. Please send the Statesman to the address given below.

Name..... P. O.....
State..... R. D. or Street No.....

Every typeface strikes the exact printing center

Good Typewriting requires a Good Operator—and a Good Typewriter

The typewriting that is demanded throughout the business world to-day is neat, properly aligned, clean-cut, and free from errors.

"The L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter is built to produce this kind of "copy." The mechanical ideas worked out in this machine all lead to Typewriter Efficiency.

Every part that is in constant use—the carriage, the typebar joints and the capital shift, are ball bearing.

This means ease of operation, durability and efficiency.

Write for Illustrated Catalog

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Company
Home Office and Factory
Syracuse, N. Y.
Branches in all principal cities

MAIL THIS COUPON

Enclosed is an interest in a typewriter for  Card Writing  Billing  General Correspondence  Tabulating  Label Writing

Name.....
Address.....
To L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.
415 Milwaukee St., Milwaukee, Wis.

BOLTONVILLE

J. Meisener is laid up with an injured arm since last week.

Mrs. Blau and Mrs. A. Schemmel called on friends at Batavia last Sunday.

Mrs. S. Row and Mrs. Ben Woog were callers at West Bend last Saturday.

Casper Klunke and son were Milwaukee business callers last week Thursday.

A. R. Woog of Batavia visited here with the Julius Frohmann family last Sunday.

The mill is again in operation here. The surrounding farmers will welcome this news.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas of Plymouth spent last Sunday here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frohmann spent last Friday and Saturday with relatives and friends at Plymouth.

Dr. Dettmann of Bonduel spent last Sunday and Monday here with his parents, and other relatives.

Leroy Gordon, a former resident of this neighborhood, died of tuberculosis at his home at Milwaukee last week.

Casper Klunke has a fine display of Xmas goods at his store. Give him a call and select your Xmas presents from him.

Herman Plum last week shipped about five hundred pounds of sausage to West Bend, where it was quickly disposed of.

Mrs. J. Lambrecht, Ed. Riley and wife, Mrs. Arno Stautz and Mrs. Wm. Riley and son of West Bend, James Mallon of Milwaukee and Thomas Johnson and family of Waukesha attended the funeral of Mrs. William Ryan which was held at St. John's church last Saturday forenoon.

Mrs. Wm. Ryan passed peacefully away at her home one mile south of this village last Thursday at about 11:45 A. M., after having been very ill for the past six or seven weeks. On Saturday 10 o'clock funeral services were at St. John's church where a Requiem was sung by Rev. J. Beyer, after which the remains were laid at rest at the adjoining cemetery besides those of her husband.

Mrs. Catherine Ryan, nee Collins was born in Limerick county, Ireland, in the year 1838. At the age of sixteen she accompanied her mother to this country to join the other members of their family who preceded them. For many years her home had been in Milwaukee where in 1871 she was married to William Ryan, who preceded her in death eleven years ago.

Their union was blessed with three children, namely: Maurice, residing on the homestead; Thomas who died in childhood, and Agnes, Mrs. T. Johnson of Waukesha. Five grand children also survive.

All of her married life was spent on the farm one mile south of this village.

Mrs. Ryan had been an invalid for over thirty years, her health having become impaired by a paralytic stroke in the year 1882. She had borne with patience and resignation this long period of suffering till death came as a welcome relief. Mrs. Ryan was a devout Catholic and in her daily life had always striven to remain faithful. She was sympathetic, kind and just in her treatments of others and always ready to render assistance whenever it was needed. Her children will long cherish the memory of a devoted, affectionate mother, one whom we confidently trust, is now reaping the rewards of a well spent life.

Among those who came from a distance to attend the funeral were: James Mallon of Milwaukee, Mrs. J. Lambrecht, Mrs. Arno Stautz, Ed. Riley and wife, and Mrs. Wm. Riley of West Bend, and Thomas Johnson and wife of Waukesha.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned hereby extend thanks to all who in any way rendered assistance during their bereavement in the loss of their beloved mother, to Rev. J. Beyer for his kind ministrations to her during her illness and for the words of consolation spoken during the last solemn services, to the members of the choir and to all who showed respect for her by attending her funeral.

Mrs. T. Johnson and family
M. Ryan and family.

NEW PROSPECT

Mr. and Mrs. John Rinzel were Kewaskum callers Saturday.

Miss Matthews visited with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Backus last week.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johann was christened Sunday.

Mrs. Oscar Bartelt and son of Kilian are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bartelt.

Mrs. J. P. Uelmen left for Milwaukee to visit with relatives and friends for a few days.

Pat Brittel and Chas. Warden moved their household goods into the upper story of the Otto Johann residence.

Miss Marie Jandre returned home Sunday after a few weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Richard Hornburg of Waucousta.

Pick Brothers Company

WEST BEND, WISCONSIN

Three Days More of Our Big Money Saving Christmas Sale.

Have you done your duty? Have you looked over our circular and have you noticed the reduced prices on Misses' and Women's Garmments, Men's and Boys' Overcoats and Suits, reduced prices on Furs. A big sale of Aluminum Goods, Groceries, Candies and Nuts at lower prices than anywhere else.

OUR BASEMENT 'TOY LAND' WEST BEND'S EXCLUSIVE TOY DEPARTMENT

is full of bright new toys and so arranged as to make your shopping easy. Our experienced help is anxious to assist in making your Christmas selections.

Dr. Hobson's Ointment Heals Itchy Eczema.

The constantly itching, burning sensation and other disagreeable forms of eczema, tetter, salt rheum and skin eruptions promptly cured by DR. HOBSON'S ECZEMA OINTMENT. Geo. W. Fitch of Mendota, Ill., says: "I purchased a box of Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Have had Eczema ever since the civil war, have been treated by many doctors, none have given the benefit that one box of Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment has." Every sufferer should try it. We're so positive it will help you we guarantee it or money refunded. At all Druggists or by mail, 50c. Pfeiffer Chemical Co. Phila. & St. Louis.

G. KONITZ SHOE STORE

In the former Mich. Heindl Stand.

All kinds of Shoes for Men, Ladies and Children always carried in stock.

REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

Frank W. Bucklin LAWYER

Opera House Block, West Bend
In Kewaskum Wednesdays of each week
Office in J. Schmidt Bldg.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT

Wheat	59 1/2
Red winter	75 1/2
See, No. 1	57
Oats new	32
Butter	28 1/2
EGG	21
Dried apples	2 to 2 1/2
Potatoes new	3 1/2
Beans	17 1/2 to 20
Hay	15.00 to 17.00
Hides (leaf skin)	14
Cow Hides	12
Honey	13
Apples	100 lbs 15 1/2
Red Clover seed, per 100 lbs	12 00 to 12 25
White	15 00 to 16 00
Alfalfa	12 00 to 17 00
Hickory Nuts	per bu. 1.25
LIVE POULTRY.
Spring Chickens	11
Hens	10
Old Hens	9 1/2
Ducks	13
Geese	12
DRESSED POULTRY
Chickens	10
Geese	14 1/2
Turkeys	18 1/2
DAIRY MARKET.
PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, Wis., Dec. 10.—On the Plymouth central cheese board on Tuesday, 29 factories offered 1,224 boxes of cheese for sale. Bids were passed on 15 boxes longhorns. Sales were as follows: 30 boxes square prints, 15c; 37 boxes twins, 14c; 315 boxes daisies, 14c; 23 boxes young Americas, 15 1-8c; 558 boxes longhorns, 14c. The board will hereafter meet at 3 P. M., every two weeks during the winter months. The next meeting will be on Dec. 23.

SHEBOYGAN.

Sheboygan, Wis., Dec. 10.—On the Sheboygan call board on Tuesday 18 factories offered 585 boxes of cheese for sale all sold as follows: 205 boxes longhorns, 14c; 190 boxes longhorns, 14 3-8c; 50 boxes longhorns, 14c; 114 boxes longhorns, 14 7-8c; 116 boxes of young Americas, 15c.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Away back in 1841. Old enough to remember those days? Still used for coughs and colds. Sold for 70 years.

Ask Your Doctor.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF YOUR STOVE FOR THE COMING WINTER YET?

We have a complete line of all the best stoves and ranges on the market, at prices that will suit every purse. Don't delay but get your stove now. We also carry a large line of Hardware as always

We also Furnish all Stove Repairs

NICHOLAS REMMEL

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

CHRISTMAS ENDLICH'S

The Latest Novelties

All especially suitable for Christmas Gifts and purchased by us with that end in view. An abundant variety and

At Easy Prices.

A unique stock of Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Silverware, Hand Painted China, Clocks, Toilet Ware, Fountain Pens, Umbrellas, Sterling Silver Novelties, Cameras & Supplies

Mrs. K. Endlich

"The Leading Jeweler"

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

HORSE BLANKETS

Plush Robes, and a pair of Gloves or Mittens is what you want now when driving. I have a new stock of them at the right price. Also all kinds of Horse Goods at

VAL. PETERS

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I void them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

KEWASKUM STATESMAN

GEO. H. SCHMIDT, Editor & Proprietor
THEO. SCHMIDT, Associate Editor

Entered as second class mail matter at the post office, Kewaskum, Wis.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY

Kewaskum, Wis., Dec. 13, '13

Time Table—C.&N.W.R'y

NORTH BOUND
No. 208	3:34 p.m. daily except Sunday
No. 113	12:16 p.m. daily except Sunday
No. 133	9:06 a.m. daily except Sunday
No. 107	5:26 p.m. daily
No. 143	6:34 p.m. Sunday only
No. 144	8:49 a.m. Sunday only
SOUTH BOUND
No. 209	9:52 a.m. daily except Sunday
No. 210	12:39 p.m. daily except Sunday
No. 214	2:34 p.m. daily
No. 216	5:57 p.m. daily except Sunday
No. 108	7:32 a.m. daily
No. 54	11:13 p.m. Sunday only
No. 220	7:59 p.m. Sunday only

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

—Herman Krahn was at Milwaukee on business Tuesday.

"Rub-Nix" makes washing easy. 5 cents per cake.

—Robert Backhaus went to Milwaukee on business Tuesday.

—Our cut glass makes attractive Xmas gifts.—Mrs. K. Endlich.

—Only ten more days to do your Xmas shopping, so do it now.

—Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lay were Milwaukee visitors Wednesday.

—Miss Priscilla Marx spent Monday at Milwaukee with friends.

"Rub-Nix" Washing Tablets—need no rubbing. 5 cents.

—Miss Etta Schoofs called on relatives at West Bend Tuesday.

"Rub-Nix" Washing Tablets for sale at all grocers. 5 cents.

—H. W. Meilahn was a business caller at Milwaukee last Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Math Bath were callers at West Bend last Sunday.

—Mrs. Adolph Backhaus was a Fond du Lac caller last Saturday.

—David Rosenheimer was at Fond du Lac on business Wednesday.

—Nicholas Tiss visited with relatives at Campbellsport Wednesday.

—Mrs. G. B. Wright visited with relatives at West Bend last Sunday.

"Rub-Nix" Washing Tablet 5 cents. Absolutely guaranteed.

—Wm. Wolf of Saunemin City, was the guest of a friend here last Sunday.

—Mrs. L. P. Rosenheimer went to Milwaukee Wednesday to spend the day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ph. McLaughlin called on friends at West Bend Monday.

—Henry Backhaus Jr., was a business caller at the County Seat on Monday.

—Miss Edna Groeschel called on relatives and friends at West Bend Monday.

—Mrs. A. Opperman and son John were West Bend callers last Saturday.

—For a Emery wheel, Tank Heater or Iron Kettle go to Nic. Remmel and get the best.

—Miss Adela Gottsleben was the guest of friends at Milwaukee on Wednesday.

—Mrs. Henry Martin and daughter were callers at Fond du Lac Wednesday.

—Wm. Leissring, the optician of Milwaukee was in this village on Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenheimer spent Thursday at Milwaukee on business.

NOTICE.—We will keep our store open every evening next week.—L. Rosenheimer.

"Rub-Nix" Washing Tablet makes clothes snow white. 5 cents per cake.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS
Subscribers to the Kewaskum Statesman are earnestly requested to keep in mind the regulation of the post office department regarding newspapers and keep their subscriptions paid up. While the amount of an annual subscription is a small item to the subscriber, it is of considerable importance to the publisher under the present rule of the government.

FOR SALE.—Holstein Friesian Bull calves, eight months old and over from A. R. O. cows. Write or phone to William Quandt, Kewaskum, Wis.—Adv.

FOR SERVICE.—A two year old pure-bred, chester-white boar pig. Call on or write to John Fehrmann, Campbellsport, Wis., R. 30.—Advertisement. 12-13

WARNING.—Having several sheep, I warn all dog owners to keep their dogs off my land, or the dogs will be shot.—Math. Bath, Kewaskum, Wis. R. D. 4 12-27

FARM FOR RENT.—A good farm, known as the Bartelt farm, located in the town of Auburn, is for rent. Inquire of Mrs. O. H. Raasch, Kewaskum, Wis. 12-13

—Lehman Rosenheimer, Otto Lay, Dr. Wm. Klumb, David Rosenheimer and Dr. N. E. Hausmann attended the funeral of Dr. Wolf from at West Bend last Sunday afternoon.

—Chas. Westerman was a caller at West Bend last Saturday. He was accompanied home by his daughter Eleanor, who spent the past two weeks in the hospital at West Bend.

—Reserve seats for the second number of the lecture course to be given in the Good Templars hall on Monday evening, December 15th, are now on sale at the P.J. Haug & Co. jewelry store.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mies spent this week with relatives at Wolf Lake and other places in the northern part of the state. Wm. Decker of Green Lake assisted in the barber shop during the former's absence.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Kewaskum Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held at the company's office on Tuesday evening. After the meeting an oyster supper was given by the directors of the company by Secretary Schmidt.

—Our local basket ball team suffered an overwhelming defeat at Campbellsport on Thursday evening by a score of 69 to 7. Our boys lacked team work and as yet they have not had practice together. Boys, call a meeting and organize a team that will be a credit to the town.

—At the annual meeting of the Ev. Peace congregation held on Monday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Christ Schaefer Jr., president; Chas. Backhaus, vice-president; August Schaefer, treasurer; and L. D. Guth, secretary. H. Bremser was elected trustee for the unexpired term of Geo. Schleif, Sr., deceased.

OAK GROVE
—Frank Burnett made a business trip to Eden Monday.

—Mrs. L. Ludwig spent Friday with Mrs. Aug. Wach.

—Miss Evelyn Allen was a caller at Campbellsport Saturday.

—Miss Ellen Ketter was a guest at the F. Ludwig home Sunday.

—Joseph Diedrich made a pleasant trip to Campbellsport Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buehner spent Monday with the former's parents.

—Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Wach were Fond du Lac visitors Saturday and Sunday.

—Mrs. J. Litchestiger and Frank Mathieu were at the Aug. Wach home Tuesday.

—Miss Ella Ketter left Thursday for Campbellsport, where she will remain for some time.

—Mrs. Herman Hornburg and daughter Emma spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Wach.

—Frank Mathieu of Elmora spent a few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Litchestiger last week.

DUNDEE
—Carl Becker sprained his ankle while playing in a barn.

—Wm. Calvey purchased a new team of horses at Fond du Lac.

—Miss Erna Wittenberg is visiting relatives at West Bend this week.

—The Herbert farm of 80 acres was sold to Ed Johnson last Saturday for $3,900.

—Viola Hennings of Kewaskum spent last Sunday with her parents here.

—Wm. Kelton of Parnell was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Calvey this week.

WE SELL THE John Deere Plow Company's R. & V. GASOLINE ENGINES.

Come and inspect this engine. We have all the different sizes from 1 to 12 horse power on our sample floor. As to quality you cannot find a better engine, and the prices are as low as you will find them elsewhere. Let us figure with you.

FEED CUTTERS AND FEED GRINDERS

We can supply your wants. We have them on hand.

L. Rosenheimer, Kewaskum, Wis.

BEECHWOOD.

Willie Schultz is sick with scarlet fever.

A. W. Butzke transacted business at Kewaskum Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schultz were Kewaskum callers Monday.

J. P. Van Blaricum visited Friday and Saturday at Milwaukee.

E. F. U. meeting tonight, Saturday, election of officers will take place.

A. J. Koch returned home Monday after spending a few days at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Emma Koenig of Milwaukee is visiting with Mrs. Chas. Koch and family.

Fred Andrae of Kewaskum spent a few days the forepart of the week hunting.

Miss Flora Reysen spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John Held and family at Batavia.

John Sell and Joe. Schladweiler are building a new house for Geo. Braun at New Fane.

Hy. Kreitzinger returned home Monday after visiting several weeks with relatives at Milwaukee and Kewaskum.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hintz and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Muench and family visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schultz.

FOR SALE.—Some very choice single comb white leghorns, inquire of A. C. Hoffmann, Beechwood, Wis., Kewaskum R. R. 1. tf

KOHLVILLE.

Arthur Moritz of Allenton spent Sunday under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Endlich visited relatives at Mayville last Tuesday.

Louis Pamperin is visiting with the Wm. Bartel family at Bowler at present.

Miss Maggie Rahlh of Allenton visited last Sunday with the Adam Kohl family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kohl Sr., attended the funeral of a relative at Milwaukee last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pamperin, Geo. Pamperin and Miss Milly Berg spent Tuesday with friends at Mayville.

Mrs. Minna Pamperin and daughter Nora returned last Monday after a weeks visit with relatives at Milwaukee.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benedum at Milwaukee last week Thursday a baby girl. On the same day a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Bartelt at Bowler. We congratulate the happy parents.

WHEN YOU GIVE A CHECK...

You make an impression of your good standing in the community that you cannot make in any other way.

You wish to stand well in the estimation of others and one of the greatest helps is a Check Book.

Open an account in this bank today and take a step upward.

Bank of Kewaskum

Kewaskum, Wis.

We Hit the Nail on the Head

in supplying millwork to builders, contractors and private householders. Our class of work is the kind that suits—the sort that pleases the most particular in every way. Our indoor and outdoor decorative woodwork is admired by all who understand woodcraft. We make it of selected hard and soft woods according to our own designs, and we never fail to please purchasers.

H. J. LAY LUMBER CO.

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

Have You Anything TO SELL?

DO YOU WANT TO BUY ANYTHING?

Having decided to open an Exchange Market at Kewaskum we would be thankful to have anyone having anything to sell or wanting to buy anything, to list their wants with us and we will give them prompt attention

Kewaskum Exchange Co.

W. J. HARBECK, Manager
Call or Write. Kewaskum, Wis.

F. J. Lambeck, M. D.

EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT GLASSES FITTED

OFFICE HOURS:—10 a. m. to 1 p. m.; 2 to 5 p. m. Sundays 10 a. m. to 12 m. Telephone G 2730.

ROOMS 334-335, MERCHANTS AND MANUFACTURERS BANK BLDG., WEST WATER ST. Milwaukee, Wis.

Consult Leissring ABOUT YOUR EYESIGHT

Will be a

REPUBLICAN HOUSE, KEWASKUM, WIS.

Every 2nd Wednesday of Month 9:30 A. M. to 11:30 A. M.

Wm. Leissring EXPERT OPTOMETRIST

At Home Office every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday

MRS. K. ENDLICH Carpet Weaver

Kewaskum, Wis.

Hair Falling?

Then stop it! Stop it now! You can do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. Does not color the hair.

GOING SOME A ROMANCE OF STRENUOUS AFFECTION BY REX BEACH

SUGGESTED BY THE PLAY BY REX BEACH AND PAUL ARMSTRONG

Illustrated by Edgar Bert Smith

Copyright 1910 by Harper & Brothers

Cowboys of the Flying Heart ranch are heartbroken over the loss of their much-prized photograph of the defeat of their champion in a foot-race...

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

During the ensuing pause Mrs. Keap took occasion to call Speed aside...

"I'll be back in a little while," the chaplain announced to the others...

"I want to speak to you," she began, hesitatingly. "It was just an excuse."

Wally looked at her with concern, for it was plain that she was deeply troubled.

"What is it?" "I have been trying to get a word alone with you ever since I heard about this foot-race."

"I'm in trouble, Mr. Speed, such dreadful trouble!" "Oh, I'm so sorry," he answered her with genuine solicitude.

"You needn't have made any conditions, I would have done anything I could for you."

"That's very kind, for I don't like our air of conspiracy, but—Mrs. Keap was wringing her slender hands—'I just can't tell the girls. You—you can help me.'"

Speed allowed her time to grow calm, when she continued: "I—I am engaged to be married."

"Felicitation!" "Not at all," said the young widow, wretchedly. "That is the awful part of it. I am engaged to two men!"

She turned her brown eyes full upon him; they were strained and tragic. Speed felt himself impelled to laugh immoderately, but instead he observed, in a tone to relieve her anxiety:

"Nothing unusual in that; it has been done before. Even I have been prodigal with my affections. What can I do to relieve the congestion?"

"Please don't make light of it. It means so much to me. I—I'm in love with Jack Chapin."

"With Jack?" "Yes. When I came here I thought I cared for somebody else. Why, I wanted to come here just because I knew that—somebody else had been invited to, and we could be together."

"And he couldn't come—?" "Wait! And then, when I got here, I met Jack Chapin. That was less than a week ago, and yet in that short time I have learned that he is the only man I can ever love—the one man in all the world."

"Who told you?" "Culver Covington." "I didn't know you two were acquainted."

Mrs. Keap flushed. "He told me all about you long ago. You wear all the athletic clothes, you know all the talk you have tried to make the team a dozen times, but you are not even a substitute. You are merely the Varsity cheer-leader. Culver calls you the 'head-yeller.'"

"Columbus has discovered our continent!" said Speed. "You are a very wise chaplain, and you must have a corking memory for names, but even a head-yeller is better than a glee-club quarter-back."

He nodded toward the bunkhouse, whence they had come. "You haven't told anybody?" "Not yet."

"Yet," he quoted. "The futurity implied in that word disturbs me. Suppose you and I keep it for a little secret? Secrets are very delightful at house-parties."

"Don't you consider your action deceitful?" "Not at all. My motto is 'We strive to please.'"

"Think of Helen." "That's it! I can't think of anything else! She's mad about athletics, and I had to do something to stand off this weight-lifting tenor."

"Is it any wonder a woman distrusts every man she meets?" mused the chaplain. "Helen might forgive you, I couldn't."

"Oh, it's not that bad. I know what I'm doing." "You will cause these cowboys to lose a lot more money."

"Not at all. When Culver arrives—?" "Oh, that is what I want to talk over with you," Mrs. Keap broke in, nervously.

"Then it isn't about the foot-race? You are not angry?" Speed brightened amazingly.

"I'm not exactly angry; I'm surprised and grieved. Of course, I can't forgive deceit—I dare say I am more particular than most people."

"But you won't tell?" Mrs. Keap indicated in some subtle manner that she was not above making terms, whereupon her companion declared, warmly: "I'm yours for life! Ask me for my watch, my right eye, anything! I'll give it to you!"

"I assure you I shan't ask anything so important as that, but I shall ask a favor."

"Name it and it is yours!" Speed wrung the hand she offered. "And perhaps I can do more than keep silent, although I don't see what good it will do. Perhaps I can help your suit."

"Gracious lady, all I ask is that you thrust out your foot and trip up Berkeley Fresno whenever he starts toward her. Put him out of the play, and I shall be the happiest man in the world."

"Agreed." "Now, in what way can I serve you?" Mrs. Keap became embarrassed, while the same shadowy trouble that had been observed of late settled upon her.

"I simply hate to ask it," she said, "but I suppose I must. There seems to be no other way out of it." Turning to him suddenly, she said, in a low, intense voice: "I—I'm in trouble, Mr. Speed, such dreadful trouble!"

"Oh, I'm so sorry," he answered her with genuine solicitude. "You needn't have made any conditions, I would have done anything I could for you."

friends didn't come. There's nobody due now but Culver. "That's who it is!" Roberta raised her pallid face as the young man fell back.

"Culver! Great Scott! Why, he's engaged—" "What!" "Nothing! I—I—" Speed paused, at an utter loss for words.

"You see, he'll discover the truth." "Does he know you are here?" "No. I intended to surprise him. I was jealous. I couldn't bear to think of his being here with other girls—men are so deceitful! That's why I consented to act as chaperon to Helen. And now to think that I should have met my fate in Jack Chapin!"

"I see. You want me to break the news to Culver." "No! no!" Mrs. Keap was agast. "If he even suspected the truth he'd become a raging lion. Oh, I've been quite distracted ever since Jack left!"

"Well, what am I to do? You must have some part laid out for me?" "I have. A desperate situation demands a desperate remedy. I've lost all conscience. That's why I agreed to protect you if you'd protect me."

"Go ahead." "Culver is your friend." "We're closer than a chord in G." "Then you must wire him—" "I have—" "Not to come."

"What!" J. Wallingford Speed started as if a wasp had stung him. "You must wire him at once not to come. I don't care what excuse you give, but stop him. Stop him!"

Speed reached for a pillar; he felt that the porch was spinning slowly beneath his feet.

"Oh, see here, now! I can't do that!" "You promised!" cried Mrs. Keap, fiercely. "I have tried to think of something to tell him, but I'm too frightened."

"Yes, but—I want him here—for this foot-race!" Wally swallowed bravely.

"Foot-race!" stormed the widow, indignantly. "Would you allow an insignificant thing like a foot-race to wreck a human life? Two human lives? Three?"

"Can't you wire him?" Mrs. Keap stamped her foot. "If he dreamed I was here he would hire a special train. Not it must come from you. You are his best friend."

"What can I say?" demanded the bewildered Speed, unhappily. "I don't care what you say, I don't care what you do—only do something, and do it quickly before he has time to leave Chicago." Then sensing the hesitation in her companion's face: "Or perhaps you prefer to have Helen know the deceit you have practiced upon her? And if fancy these cowboys would resent the joke, don't you? What do you think would happen if they discovered their champion to be merely a cheer-leader with a trunkful of new clothes, who can't do a single out-door sport—not one?"

"Wait!" Speed mopped his brow with a red-and-blue silk handkerchief. "I'll do my best."

"Then I shall do my part." And Mrs. Keap, who could not bear deception, turned and went indoors while J. Wallingford Speed, a prey to sundry misgivings, stumbled down the steps, his head in a whirl.

CHAPTER VII. BERKELEY FRESNO was dismissing himself to Miss Blake.

"What do you think of our decorations?" she inquired.

"They are more or less athletic," he declared. "Was it Mr. Speed's idea?"

"Yes, he wanted training quarters." "It's a joke, isn't it?" "I don't think so. Mr. Fresno, why do you dislike Mr. Speed?"

Fresno bent a warm glance upon the questioner. "Don't you know?" Helen shook her head with bland innocence. "Then you do dislike him?"

"No, indeed! I like him—he makes me laugh." Helen smiled loyally. "Did you see those medals he wore yesterday?" the young man queried.

"Of course, and I thought them beautiful." "How were they inscribed? He wouldn't let me examine them."

"Naturally. If I had trophies like that I would guard them too." Fresno nodded, musingly. "I gave mine away."

"Oh, are you an athlete?" "No, but I am a foot-race owner. They gave me a beautiful, nearly-bronze emblem so that I could get in to the infield."

"And did you win?" "No! no! I didn't run! Don't you understand? I was an official." Fresno was vexed at the girl's lack of perception. "I'm not an athlete, Miss Blake. I'm just an ordinary sort of chap." He led her to a seat, while Jean enlisted the aid of Larry Glass and completed the finishing touches to the decorations.

"Athletics don't do a fellow any good after he leaves college. I'm going into business this fall. Have you ever been to California?" Miss Blake admitted that she had never been so far, and Fresno launched himself upon a glowing description of his native state; but before he could shape the conversation to a point where his hearer might perchance express a desire to see its wonders, Still Bill Storer thrust his head cautiously through the door to the bunk-house, and allowed an admiring eye to rove over the transformation.

"Looks like a bazaar!" he exclaimed. "What the idea?" "Trainin' quarters," said Glass. "Mr. Speed goin' to live here?" inquired the foremost, bringing the remainder of his lanky body into view. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

en o'clock he is up again, bathes, dresses and dines. He is then fresh for another four or five hours' business or social duties. His two rest periods combined give him almost nine hours in bed. The patient gets through a greater amount of work and enjoys better health."

Their Way. "Why should you women want to vote? You can't fight!" "Can't we? Just try us and watch us come to the scratch."

Bare Truth. What is that no one wishes to have, yet no one wishes to lose? A bald head.

Not on the Finger. Where did Noah strike the first nail on the ark? On the head.

Hence We Try. Why is the inside of everything mysterious? Because we can't make it out.

Corner for the Juniors

HARVESTER WAS BOY'S IDEA

Suggested to Father Plan of Putting Large Scissors, Instead of Sickles, on Reaping Machines.

In 1820 Obed Hussey of Ohio was inventing a reaping machine, the first ever designed in this country. His chief difficulty was the cutting device, which was three large sickles, set in a frame and revolved so as to cut into the grain. It would not work satisfactorily. A young son, watching the experiments, asked his father why he did not use a lot of big scissors, with one handle fastened to one bar and the other handle to a sliding bar, thus opening and closing them. Hussey instantly adopted the idea, substituting for scissors the two saw-toothed blades which are in common use today on harvesters, the cutting action being quite similar to that of scissors.

From the boy's suggestion he perfected in one week a machine on which he had in vain exercised all his ingenuity for the preceding two years. The principle of all of the great harvesting machines, and its benefit to the farming industry of the entire world has been unsurpassed by any other invention for use on the farm—George F. Stratton, in St. Nicholas.

MUCH FUN TO SHOVEL SNOW

Janitor of Kansas City Public School Creates Apparatus to Make Small Boy's Pastime Useful.

The yard of the Yaeger school at Nineteenth street and Indiana avenue is large and the walks extend nearly around the block, says the Kansas City Star. When covered with snow, to clean them off is a difficult job.

A Snowplow Operated by Boy Power.

So Bernard M. C. Walter, head janitor of the school, and his little helper, Sammy, built a snowplow to do the work. It may be hauled by a horse, but lacking such motive power, Walter hitched 12 youngsters to the contrivance and in half an hour had the sidewalks around the school and the school yard cleared off.

Four boys ride the plow to weight it down. It is fitted with iron runners. The question of taking turns was a difficult matter to solve and required severe commands of the principal.

WINTER PASTIME FOR BOYS

Velocipedes Built on Sled Runners Affords Much Amusement Where Snow and Ice is Available.

Sled runners take the place of the two wheels on this velocipede so that it can travel on snow or ice. A spiked wheel with cranks on its shaft is mounted at one side of the front runner. The novel part of the driving mechanism is that the spiked wheel slides up and down in the fork so that it can be raised off the ground for coasting downhill.

Snow Velocipede.

Upon a certain occasion Charles Dudley Warner, who was friend and neighbor to Mark Twain, asked him if he would go walking, and Mark, as usual, refused.

Dudley summoned all his powers of persuasion to no purpose. "You really ought to do it, you know," he said finally. "It's according to scripture."

"No 'mark-the-perfect-man' chestnuts on me if you please," warned the humorist. "Give me your authority."

"Fifty chapters of Matthew, verse the forty-first," said Mr. Warner, readily. It reads like this: "And whoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him, Twain."

Needless to say, Twain went with Dudley for that walk.

Decadence. An action being tried in an English court had to do with a dispute as to the quality and condition of a gas pipe that had been laid in the ground a number of years before.

"It is an old pipe," stated one of the witnesses, "and therefore out of condition."

The judge remarking dry that "people do not necessarily get out of condition by being old," the witness promptly replied, "They do, my lord if buried in the ground."

QUITE AMUSING GAME

"Detective's Note Book" Is Not Hard to Arrange.

Pastime Is Intended to Test One's Skill in Identification of Profiles of Villains for Whom Reward Is Offered.

Now that the fall and winter is coming on, the boys and girls will be looking for something in the way of indoor games to amuse their guests at their evening parties, and the boy or girl that can get up something new is always in demand.

A very good game which can be arranged without much trouble is called the detective's note book, and is supposed to test the skill in recognizing villains for whom a big reward is offered, if you have nothing to go by but a picture. The apparatus required is a smooth board, some sheets of which paper, a sheet and a candle.

Making the Profile.

The board is hung upon the wall with a chair in front of it, but not too close. About ten feet away, have a lighted candle, the other light being put out. Ask a boy to sit in the chair, which should have a back high enough to hold his head steady, so that the shadow of his profile falls upon a sheet of paper tacked to the board.

Run around the outline of this profile quickly with a soft pencil. Put a number on it, and the boy's name. Ask another boy to take the chair while your assistant cuts out the profile you have just made. In a few minutes you will have half a dozen and you may stick in one or two fake profiles to add to the fun.

Now hang your sheet where the folding doors go, between two rooms if possible, and set your candle on a table in one room, while your guests take their places in the other. Each person should have a slip of paper to write down opposite the number you call out the name of the boy they think the profile belongs to, the numbers you have put on them being in order of course, but any number you please, such as 46 and 31.

Standing in the back room, about one-third of the way from the candle to the sheet, you can hold up a profile so that it throws a shadow, but the outline will be so big and look so curious that you will be astonished how hard it is for a person to guess it, even if it is that person's own profile.

The winner at this game is the one who gets the greatest number of correct guesses. If you have slipped in one or two fake profiles you will find that some one or other will be sure they know the boy and will write his name opposite the number you call out.

Profile Finished.

It is better to confine the profiles to boys, because girls are too easily recognized by the way they do up their hair, and besides girls do not make good villains for detectives to hunt.

REAL NAME OF CINDERELLA

She Was Beautiful Egyptian Maiden Who Lived 670 Years Before Common Era—Origin of Story.

Cinderella's real name was Rhodope, and she was a beautiful Egyptian maiden, who lived 670 years before the common era, and during the reign of Ptolemy, one of the twelve kings of Egypt. One day she ventured to go in bathing in a clear stream near her home, and meanwhile left her shoes, which must have been unusually small, lying on the bank. An eagle, passing above, chanced to catch sight of the little sandals, and mistaking them for a toothsome tidbit pounced down and carried off one in his beak.

The bird then modestly played the part of fairy godmother, for, flying directly over Memphis, where King Ptolemy was dispensing justice, it let the shoes fall right into the king's lap. Its size, beauty and daintiness immediately attracted the royal eye, and the king, determined upon knowing the wearer of so cunning a shoe, sent throughout all his kingdom in search of the foot that would fit it.

As in the story of Cinderella, the messenger finally discovered Rhodope, fitted on the shoe, and carried her in triumph to Memphis, where she became the queen of King Ptolemy, and the foundation of the fairy tale that was to delight boys and girls 2,400 years later.

Nellie Maxwell.

In Foggy Old London. Visitors to London in old days were in the habit of making fun of the fog just as the visitors of today. Condemna, Spanish ambassador in Queen Elizabeth's time, said to a friend who was returning to Spain: "My compliments to the sun, whom I have not seen since I came to England."

Tendency. Mrs. Knicker—"Why do you think baby will be a politician?" Knicker—"I've noticed he throws the mud instead of making pies of it."

Routine. Don't be utterly discouraged because you have to do the same job over and over again. Nature has been staging sunsets and sunrises for some eons now—yet we remark no deterioration in their quality from year to year.—Collier's Weekly.

Fashion Note. Personally we think it is all right for a man to wear a wrist watch in warm weather, but in winter we think he looks better carrying a wuff.—Dallas News.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

His truth comes to us more, and the longer we live that on what fields of duty or with what aims we do our duty matters very little or even what our duty is, great or small, splendid or obscure. Only to find our duty certainly and somewhere, or somehow, to do it faithfully makes us good, strong, happy and useful men, and turns our lives into some feasible echo of the life of God.—Phillips Brooks.

EASY DISHES.

Food that can be prepared at short notice, and simple menus for a quick meal, the recipes for which should be close at hand.

One of the most enjoyable soups may be made in a short time if a can of tomatoes, a little milk and seasonings are to be had. One reason why many women lose their heads in an emergency is the idea that they have no background to begin on. Have a list of dishes for a quick meal, with ingredients printed in two columns, so that a quick glance will tell you if you have all the materials.

This is the time of year when we are making our plum puddings, and fruit cake, our mince meat and little cakes which are improved by age. If one has a simple suet pudding which may be easily steamed in a hurry over the teakettle in a sieve, a sauce is prepared and your dessert is ready.

A woe to the housewife who does not keep many cans of tomatoes on hand for all kinds of dishes. These, if put up by oneself, cost half as much as those you buy. A dish of hot, well-seasoned tomatoes poured over but-ter and moist and sprinkled with cheese will make a quick and most tasty luncheon or supper dish.

Milk toast is another easy to make supper or luncheon dish. Add cheese to the white sauce just before serving, and that makes a change. A little cold ham chopped and added to the white sauce is an acceptable change.

Some cooks who are good planners have the pepper and salt mixed together in a shaker where it is in reach of the hand. This saves at least two movements of the arm. Where powdered sugar and cinnamon are used they may be kept stocked with the mixture. When preparing pastry, mix up enough for several pies; do not wet the flour, but take out the amount needed, and put the rest in a cool place until wanted.

Have bread crumbs ready in a jar, have new spice and powder cans opened, so that there will be no needless waste when in the rush of preparing a quick meal.

Fish is one of the quick foods that may be ready to serve in half an hour.

The best things are nearest—beneath your nostrils, light in your eyes, flowers at your feet, duties at your hand, the path of God just before you. Then do not grasp at the stars, but do life's plain common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things of life.—Lord Houghton.

TOOTH-SOME DISHES.

If one likes to delight a guest with an unusual salad, and who does not? here is one worth trying: Lay a slice of banana on a crisp nest of lettuce, heap it with banana, put through a ricer, and well mixed with lemon juice, sprinkled with chopped pecan nuts and serve with a mayonnaise dressing. If one does not care for an oil dressing, there are any number of boiled dressings which are simple to prepare and have the good keeping quality. Equal parts of beaten egg and diluted vinegar cooked in a double boiler, and such seasonings, richness of dream of condiments added when used, is one of the good stand-bys.

Cherry and Date Dessert.—Put a pint of cherry juice in a cup of hot water, the juice of half a lemon and a cup of sugar over the fire. When boiling, add two level tablespoonsful of gelatine which has been softened in water. Cool and stir, setting the pan in ice water when slightly thickened, wet a mold and put the gelatine mixture in alternate layers with a cup of stoned dates. Serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Date Torte.—Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff, add the beaten yolks and a cup of sugar, a cup of bread crumbs and a teaspoonful of vanilla and a half cup of chopped nuts. Bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Quaker Tea Cakes.—Take two cupsful of rolled oats, one cupful of sugar, two eggs beaten slightly, one-fourth of a cup of butter, a teaspoonful of baking powder and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Drop on a buttered pan an inch apart. Bake in a moderate oven.

Foggy Old London.

Visitors to London in old days were in the habit of making fun of the fog just as the visitors of today. Condemna, Spanish ambassador in Queen Elizabeth's time, said to a friend who was returning to Spain: "My compliments to the sun, whom I have not seen since I came to England."

Tendency.

Mrs. Knicker—"Why do you think baby will be a politician?" Knicker—"I've noticed he throws the mud instead of making pies of it."

Routine.

Don't be utterly discouraged because you have to do the same job over and over again. Nature has been staging sunsets and sunrises for some eons now—yet we remark no deterioration in their quality from year to year.—Collier's Weekly.

Fashion Note.

Personally we think it is all right for a man to wear a wrist watch in warm weather, but in winter we think he looks better carrying a wuff.—Dallas News.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION IN WESTERN CANADA

THE LATEST METHODS ADOPTED BY THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES.

Scientific farming can be pursued with more profit and advantage in Western Canada, probably than in any other portion of the continent.

What may be achieved by it may be ascertained when it is known what has been accomplished by the thousands who have been following the occupation for some time and made a success of it with not even a theoretical knowledge. They "have tickled the land with a hoe" and become rich. But the question is how long could that continue. The soil and the climate and every other condition favor great results by a pursuit of such methods as a technical and practical knowledge will bring. There is in the writer's opinion no possibility of failure. Fully aware of this and also of the great potentialities that exist in Western Canada, the various governments have established the machinery, that there may be developed a class of farmers, who in the possession of the rich soil of that country, with its abundant humus and its phosphates and other properties, which it is so largely endowed, will make of the country, the greatest farming portion of the known world.

The Dominion government showed its paternalism years ago when it established experimental farms in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The benefits of these in the matter of practical education have been widespread, but the greatest benefit is to be observed in the immediate vicinity of these farms, where the occupiers have brought their holdings into a high state of cultivation, and year after year sees an added value.

The Province of Manitoba is supplementing this work by its excellent agricultural college, manned by professors of the highest standing in their various branches. That this work is appreciated is shown by the large attendance, not only of the farmers' sons, but of the sons of business men and professors who intend following farming as a profession, and that is what it is fast becoming.

The Province of Saskatchewan, alive to the necessity of a higher and a better system of farming, has in connection with its university an agricultural college and what it is doing today in the matter of education will be felt for all time to come, and it will not be long before it will be an easy matter to pick out the farms manned by graduates of this college, or the farms owned by those who have gained from the experience taught by their neighbor.

The same may be said of Alberta. The university at Edmonton has a complete agricultural college. Full advantage of this is taken by hundreds of students anxious to better their agricultural knowledge, and fit them to take hold successfully of the lands that they expect to occupy. This province has also added demonstration farms in various parts, which are very successful, inasmuch as farmers visit them from all parts, and take advantage of educating themselves for short periods during each winter.

Dean Curtis of Ames Agricultural College, Iowa, says: "We of the United States think that we know how to get behind agriculture and push, but the Canadians dare to do even more than we do in some respects. They have wonderful faith in the future; they hesitate at no undertaking that offers prospects of results. More significant still is the wide co-operation for agricultural promotion, including the government, private individuals and corporations and the railroads."

"Canadians are putting great faith in education for the development of their resources—not the old education, but vocational and technical. Provinces that have less than half the population of Iowa and much less wealth are appropriating more liberally for colleges and schools. Manitoba, for instance, has in the last two years provided about as much money for the building of an agricultural plant as Iowa has appropriated in half a century. It has given in two years $2,500,000 for buildings and grounds for its agricultural institutions."

"Saskatchewan is building a plant for its university and agricultural college on a broader and more substantial plan than has been applied to any similar institution in this country. Yet neither province has more than half a million population."

"For public schools equally generous provision is made. They are being built up to give vocational and technical training as well as cultural. They fit the needs of the country excellently and should turn out fine types of boys and girls. They do this with a remarkable faith in the value of right education."

"Dean Curtis was much interested in the many other ways the Canadian government aids agriculture, aside from appropriations for educational purposes. They are aiding in solving marketing problems; they are encouraging better breeding of livestock by buying sires and reselling them at cost, and they are doing many other things of like character."

"I found that the government is advancing from 50 to 85 per cent. of the money necessary to build co-operative creameries and elevators," said Dean Curtis, "and it is doing it at a low rate of interest and on long time payments. Where cattle need breeding up, the government buys bulls of dairy, Shorthorn, or special dairy breeds and sends them in at cost price and on long time payments."

The yield of grain in Western Canada in 1913 was excellent but not abnormal, wheat going from 30 to 45 bushels per acre, and other small grain with equally good averages.—Advertisement.

When a good man gets into a bad place his conscience will show him the way out.

There is no more agreeable companion than the woman who loves us.—Bernardin de St. Pierre.

HAS TWO PERIODS OF REST

Division of Time of Slumber

HAD FUN WITH REGINALD

Unkind Comment on Young Aristocrat's Style of Riding Made by Street Youngsters.

They were two youngsters who perched atop of a bridge over the bridge path in Central park. Came along on a raw-boned mount, Reginald—and Reginald had been to the riding school. He affectionately rode his horse just about of the curb and leaned forward over the animal's neck as if to whisper secrets in his ear.

SCALY PSORIASIS ON LIMBS

Troop H, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis.—I was troubled with psoriasis for nearly two years. Portions of my arms and limbs were affected mostly with it. It appeared in scaly form, breaking out in very small dots and gradually grew larger and white scales formed when about the size of an ordinary match-head. The looks of it was horrible, which made it very unpleasant for me. It itched a little at times.

"I tried several treatments which cured me for a month, but it always broke out again. One day a friend saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and I sent for a sample. They helped me, so I purchased two more boxes of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Soap and Ointment to complete my cure." (Signed) Walter Mahony, Oct. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Clean Record. The late Adolphus Busch was once talking to a St. Louis reporter about a brewing invention, that he held, promised more than it would perform.

"The invention," he remarked, "is like Peck, of whom a man said: 'Peck tells his wife everything he does.'"

"Then came the mild addition: 'And he does everything she tells him.'"

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletch in Use For Over 30 Years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

Had Them for That Purpose. Street Car Passenger (angrily)—See here, do you think my feet were made for some idiot to stand on?

Strap Hanger (coolly)—Yes; that is what I supposed.

The present generation might be termed the automobile race.

The Typewriter for the Rural Business Man

Whether you are a small town merchant or a farmer, you need a typewriter.

If you are writing your letters and bills by hand, you are not getting full efficiency.

It doesn't require an expert operator to run the L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter. It is simple, compact, complete, durable.

Send in the attached coupon and we will give special attention to your typewriter needs.

L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Please send me your free book about typewriters.

Name..... P. O. .... State.....

Don't Persecute Your Bowels

Cut out cathartics and purgatives. They are brutal, harsh, unwholesome.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely vegetable. Act gently on the liver, eliminate bile, and soothe the delicate membrane of the bowels.

Constipation, Bilelessness, Sick Head-ache and indigestion, as millions know. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE.

Genuine must bear Signature.

Quickly relieves sore, inflamed eyes. Sold everywhere. JOHN L. THOMPSON & CO., Troy, N. Y.

BOYS AND GIRLS. Buy this for selling 25¢ packages of chewing gum. Notary Public Co., 21 Bay St., Detroit, Mich.

Milwaukee Directory

RAT-EXIT. Most Economical and Effective Remedy. In Self-sealing boxes, convenient to handle. At all drug stores. 15, 25 and 75¢. Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Co. Manufacturers Milwaukee, Wis.

RUBBER and STEEL STAMPS, SEALS, STENCILS, ETC.

60 cents in postage stamps brings to you prepaid ink pad and rubber stamp of your name and address. Time saved that is handy, useful and convenient for marking books, papers, packages, mailboxes, etc. Will last a life time. Send for catalogue. THE SCHEWALD STAMP & SEAL COMPANY, Milwaukee, Wis.

PISO'S REMEDY. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by Druggists. FOR COUGHS AND COLDS.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Keep the hog sheds dry.

Fresh eggs are in demand.

A moulting hen does hard work.

Plowing is said to be the hardest work known.

It is best to have a hatch knife to cut cold, thick, honeycomb.

The heaviest fleeces are, as a rule, found on medium-sized sheep.

If your hens get to eating eggs the best way to cure it is to use the axe.

To keep a cow clean the stall in which she stands must not be too wide.

Provide a damper to all stoves. A drum doesn't cost much and saves lots of fuel.

We feel better when we get our meals at regular hours. It is the same with the chickens.

There is just as much importance in improving the dairy farmer as there is in improving the dairy cow.

In stringing vegetables or apples out of doors it is better not to dig a trench. Pile on top of the ground and cover.

The coop for hen and chicks should be well ventilated, easy to clean and of sufficient proportions to insure comfort.

It is claimed that exposed manure loses about one-sixth of its phosphoric acid, and more than one-third of its phosphate.

Lambs make a greater gain in feeding than old sheep. There is nothing better for the former than good seed-growth clover.

Dressed stock should be carefully picked and sent to market in attractive condition; otherwise it will not obtain the best prices.

Turkeys should always be dry picked, for scalded ones do not present an attractive appearance and must be sold for a lower price.

Carrots should not be left in the ground too late. Heavy rains often cause them to start a "second growth" of fine roots, and much of their flavor is lost.

Where lumber is not available a straw shed makes a good home for the chickens. By all means fix up a straw-stack shelter, if you cannot do any better.

Get rid of all surplus ducks and geese on the Thanksgiving market. If kept longer they will consume so much food that the profit will be changed to loss.

Oat straw makes a fine litter for the scratching pens. Better so, in fact, than wheat straw for the beads from the wheat straw get in the chickens' eyes and cause sores.

Some kind of green feed is necessary to get a large number of winter eggs. If you cannot handle give the fowls a variety give them a little clover or alfalfa, every day.

Hens that are broken down behind so that the abdomen touches or nearly touches the ground should be disposed of. They never lay well when in that condition and never recover.

Farmers in every state can raise their horses for half what they have to pay on the markets, with added freight, and they will raise better farm horses than they can afford to buy.

When shipping to market, be sure to find out just when the one you ship to wants the stock to arrive and ship accordingly. If it arrives too early or too late the best prices cannot be obtained.

Don't neglect to store plenty of green food for the chickens to eat this winter. Chickens will eat nearly all of the common vegetables. Potatoes, cabbage, beets and alfalfa and clover are relished by them.

Thoroughly clean and spray all nests at this time of the year and fill them with clean straw, hay or excelsior for the winter. It seems that hens have no desire to lay in dirty nests and I don't see that we can blame them very much, either.

If you happen to run into poison ivy wash in hot water just as soon as you can. Grindels, which can be had at any drug store, rubbed on the parts every five minutes until the itching stops, will also cure it, if done before the pustules break.

There are more men who cannot get along with hired help than there are who cannot get along without it. This is a problem, but it is a problem that can be met if you will just simply use good common sense in handling your men, if you treat them right and give them a line of work that will keep them busy the year around. That is what dairy farming does.

Always carry a note book and pencil in your pocket. You may most unexpectedly come across information too valuable to be trusted to memory.

Rape is a growth resister.

Keep a record of the cows.

Deep plowing stores the rain.

Where is your farm machinery?

The dry pasture calls for a soiling crop.

Cover all raw cement work to prevent freezing.

Sunshine should have a large place in the ration of every hen.

The general agreement seems to be that a good hen is a healthy one.

Add to the capacity of the farm by adding to the strength of the soil.

A flower pot and its saucer makes a good, cheap drinking fountain for chicks.

Plenty of clean, fresh water is necessary if you want your pigs to do their best.

The asparagus may be mulched with manure before the ground is covered with snow.

Young sows that do well with their first litters may be considered good brood sows.

Grit and shells are cheap, nevertheless very important in the proper care of poultry.

A sheep allowed to fall off in condition will have a weakened constitution permanently.

The farmer who is most interested in his work is the one who usually accomplishes the most.

A light dose of Epsom salts now and then in the drinking water helps to keep the fowls in health.

Gradually increase the grain supply for the turkeys intended for market, and fatten them while on range.

Plenty of yellow corn whole or cracked, will do a great deal toward fattening the Thanksgiving poultry.

The ewes should be kept on pasture until November, and then confined to clean sheds and fed oats, bran and oil meal.

Never plant young trees among old and diseased ones, because the worms and insects are almost certain to destroy them.

Fill coarse sacks with very dry chaff and bury them in those bins of damp grain. They will absorb a great deal of the moisture.

One of the great advantages of alfalfa as a hog pasture is the fact that it affords a fresh growth throughout the pasturing season.

Handle all fruit with care while picking, sorting and packing. The early apples are especially subject to finger prints and discolorations.

Turkeys for market should not be deprived of food for a longer period than twelve hours. They are killed by bleeding in the mouth and neck.

Healthy fowls do not need tonics. The best of tonics can only aid in restoring thrift and this is not necessary in well regulated poultry plants.

No dairyman should be satisfied with cows that produce much less than 300 pounds of butter fat per year. Use the Babcock test and dispose of the poor stock.

Confinement and a corn ration alone spoil more brood sows and stirs than all other mistakes combined. Far too many farmers feed all their hogs together.

Separated milk is very good for the hogs, shoats or pigs when fed plentifully, and the weak, scrawny scrub soon becomes a beauty to behold and a pleasure to own.

Do not attempt to winter more pullets and hens than you have house room for. Each bird should have at least four square feet of floor space, five would be better.

The sheep stables should have frequent cleaning. When the manure is allowed to remain too long, it gives off ammonia and other foul gases which injure the sheep.

There is a good market for all kinds of feathers. Pick fowls dry and sort them. The coarsest from the fine. They can easily be preserved until enough are collected to take to market.

Next year's crop depends upon the seed that is sown this year and now is the time to begin to save the seed. This will give you an opportunity to select only the choicest and you can grade it several times.

If you haven't already bought your males for the coming year it is about time that you had better begin to think seriously about it. By buying off. These leaves will make the best better selection than if you wait until the last moment.

Varieties of strawberries vary considerably in their soil requirements, some being particularly adapted to certain localities and there meeting with great success, while in neighboring sections these same varieties are not held in high esteem.

All of the muscle in the world would not make farming a success without the muscular energy being directed by highly trained brains. Farming has passed the time when it was an occupation and has become a profession—as large, as broad and as potent as law, medicine or theology, and vastly more pregnant of possibilities.

The pig that is being grown for a breeder should have more exercise than the market hog. Growth and muscular development are aided in breeding swine.

Milady in Gold Attire

JUST as gorgeous and just as beautiful as it can be, this gown in one of the many wonderful gold shades shows the cleverest handling of the most extreme ideas in this winter's modes.

The skirt of panne velvet of the softest and most supple variety is made on the "Turkish trouser" model. About all its fullness is arranged at the front. There is no mistaking the appearance it makes on the wearer. It looks actually more like a pair of voluminous trousers than like our ordinary skirts.

The pannier and bodice in one, with soft crushed girde of velvet, is a wonderful garment. The drapery is arranged in two over-hanging panniers, broadening the hips and hanging into the figure at the bottom. The bodice is cut with a kimono sleeve, apparently, although it is hard to be sure of this. At all events, the arm's-eye is not discernible in it. The sleeve is lengthened until it covers the wrist and extends in a point down the back of the hand. Such sleeves are the height of styles.

This costume is an achievement of which the designer has a right to be proud. It manages difficult problems of draping in the best way. There is a pretty tichu of net worn under the bodice, and a standing ruff about the neck. A finish of long loops of black velvet ribbon in a narrow width is placed at the termination of the neck ruff at each side.

One cannot help wondering at and admiring the lovely turban which finishes this toilette. A length of soft fur, or plush, appears to be wrapped about the head and provided with the narrowest of supporting brims at one side. Poised at the center is the body and head of a wingless butterfly made of velvet. The audacity of a wingless butterfly used as an ornament would be unforgivable except that the gorgeous creature in gold is the real butterfly, which fact his velvet fly ship is proclaiming at the top of his-turban.

The pretty coloring of the feet is to be noted. Silk stockings in black, and pointed slippers of black satin, laced across the instep with narrow black ribbon.

Not a jewel is worn here. The toilette is in fact a wonderful conception and the smallest detail has not been neglected.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

CREPE AND CHIFFON FOR ACCESSORIES THAT MATCH HAT

IN keeping with the ideas of the season, which show a preference for muffs and neck pieces to match the hat, crepe has been utilized to make very chic accessories to be worn with mourning millinery. The most popular fashions in hats, as to shape and deco-

The small round hat with slightly rolling brim is covered with the material put on smoothly. The crown is small and puffed, and the odd standing ornament is made of a hemmed strip of crepe wrapped about a supporting wire and ruffled about it at the top.

The scarf is only a plain length of chiffon with its edges finished with a wide border of crepe. The ends are gathered and finished with an ornamental made of folds of crepe and finished with a bound scarf end of the fabric. This is a strip of the material bound with a narrow bias fold of crepe like that which trims the muff.

A ready made muff bed lined with black silk and covered with it as an interlining, makes the construction of the muff a simple matter. Five deep folds of crepe are placed over each side and sewed down at the ends. A strip bound of the material is brought across the top, tacked down one side, covering the ends of the plait and tied in a knot with hanging end as a finish.

The set is as handsome as anyone could wish and only ordinary skill in sewing is required to make it.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Freshening Furs.

Any fur coat, muff or neck piece that needs freshening up may be greatly improved in appearance simply by brushing with a soft brush and water, to which one tablespoonful of pure alcohol has been added for every quart.

Always brush with the nap of the fur. When white or light-gray furs have become soiled they may be cleaned easily in gasoline.

Ribbon Sets.

Detachable sleeve trimmings to match the waist garniture are easily made, and afford a desirable way of rejuvenating a last season's blouse.

These ribbon sets are delightful bits of work for leisure moments and quite transform an otherwise plain waist.

New Stockings.

Stockings are made with anklets of embroidery or beads or rhinestones. They seem fanciful, but are really no more so than the now accepted rhinestone studded heels which were laughed at when they made their first appearance here last winter.

Aprons for Children.

Tan cotton aprons, bound with bias stripe of pink or blue lawn, and stamped with a simple design to be embroidered in outline stitch, are sold for 49 cents. They are for children.

They are cut on all-developing lines, and would make admirable play aprons. There are deep pockets across the bottom and straps that button on the shoulders.

Color Contrast.

Sometimes no color contrast is to be found in a dress. And then the dainty woman provides it by the flower which she tucks into the corsage or waist. Sometimes she chooses a single rose in flaming scarlet, at others a peony in glorious purple, and again a huge bunch of violets or a spray of delicate orchids in curious browns and yellows.

Or, eschewing color, she takes a large clematis in smooth white velvet and, thrusting it into the front of her coat, endows her whole costume with a note of originality, and so achieves success.

VALUE OF CARD CATALOGUE

System Makes for Efficiency in Household and Also is of Great Aid to Economy.

Few women outside of business and academic circles realize the convenience of the card catalogue system. One energetic woman who had been a very successful secretary, made an efficient housekeeper and homemaker because she remembered in her married life the devices that had helped her in business. She had a number of catalogues to indicate the state of her household supplies—flour, etc.—but the most interesting of all was her card catalogue cook book and menu index. It was just like a library catalogue, being composed of a couple of little drawers in a little cabinet filled with cards on which were typed recipes. These cards were grouped under appropriate heads and made readily accessible through a number of guide cards headed, Dinner, Soups, Entrees, Salads, Meats and Desserts. When faced with the awful problem "What shall we have to eat today?" she simply ran through her cards for the meal in question and often found the recipe for a dish she had quite forgotten about. For use as a cook book, this arrangement is much more convenient than the old book form. The collection of recipes grows rapidly too, as it is so easy to paste on a card a newspaper suggestion or a recipe from a household magazine, and slip the card into its proper place where it does not get lost, as loose papers have a habit of doing. The catalogue outfit is quite inexpensive and the utility of the scheme will certainly repay the original trouble of making.

PROPER STORAGE OF FLOUR

Tasty Taken Precautions Will Insure the Absence of the Pestilent White Worm.

When flour is stored in quantity, or even when bought in small supplies, care is needed to guard against the presence of that pest, the little white flour worm.

Before putting away new flour, thoroughly clean the receptacle, being sure that not a particle of the old flour remains. It is the old flour that is left, even though it may be a very small amount, that causes these marauders.

If the flour is kept in tin the tin must be washed with absolutely clean water and a good soap, and great care must be taken that the tin is entirely dry before putting in the flour. If a wooden holder, or bin, is used it must be cleaned by brushing and airing.

When flour is bought in paper bags, it is well to look carefully in the creases of the paper at top of bag before untying, for here are found the white flour worms, if there are any at all, and these can be removed without their getting into the flour. But, when a bag is simply opened and turned into a bin, they are in this way in the bottom, and in a short time will work their way all through the flour.

Stuffing the Goose.

Sage and onion is the usual stuffing for a goose, but the method of making the stuffing varies. The simplest stuffing consists of parboiled chopped onion mixed with a little sage and seasoned with pepper and salt. It is easier to chop the onions before they are boiled than afterwards. The amount required for a medium goose is four medium-sized onions and eight sage leaves finely mixed. To vary the stuffing, the sage and onion may be mixed with an equal quantity of mashed potatoes or white bread crumbs, and bound with a well-beaten egg. Many people object to the seasoning, so that it is well for the carver to inquire whether it is liked before serving it.

Probably Soup.

The witness, a heavy set man who looked as though he spent a good share of his time feasting, was called to the stand as a witness in a case of assault and battery.

"You were in the restaurant at the time this happened," began the judge.

"Now tell the court just what you heard."

"Who, me?" asked the man in bewilderment. "I didn't hear anything I was eating."

Yes. "I see a couple seven feet tall were married yesterday."

"High tied, eh?"

Mrs. Winslow's Boobing Syrup for Children. Teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind, colic, etc. in a bottle.

Men bestow compliments only on women who deserve none.—Mme. Bach.

Dean's Mentholated Cough Drops effectively relieve cold and stop all throat irritations.—5¢ at Drug Stores.

Forget an injury, but never forget that you have forgotten it.

1913 RECORD Magnificent Crops in all Western Canada

All sorts of the Province of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Wheat, Oats, Barley and Rye. 1 Hard, white from Contract. 2 Soft, white from Contract. 3 Soft, white from Contract. 4 Soft, white from Contract. 5 Soft, white from Contract. 6 Soft, white from Contract. 7 Soft, white from Contract. 8 Soft, white from Contract. 9 Soft, white from Contract. 10 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 11 Soft, white from Contract. 12 Soft, white from Contract. 13 Soft, white from Contract. 14 Soft, white from Contract. 15 Soft, white from Contract. 16 Soft, white from Contract. 17 Soft, white from Contract. 18 Soft, white from Contract. 19 Soft, white from Contract. 20 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 21 Soft, white from Contract. 22 Soft, white from Contract. 23 Soft, white from Contract. 24 Soft, white from Contract. 25 Soft, white from Contract. 26 Soft, white from Contract. 27 Soft, white from Contract. 28 Soft, white from Contract. 29 Soft, white from Contract. 30 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 31 Soft, white from Contract. 32 Soft, white from Contract. 33 Soft, white from Contract. 34 Soft, white from Contract. 35 Soft, white from Contract. 36 Soft, white from Contract. 37 Soft, white from Contract. 38 Soft, white from Contract. 39 Soft, white from Contract. 40 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 41 Soft, white from Contract. 42 Soft, white from Contract. 43 Soft, white from Contract. 44 Soft, white from Contract. 45 Soft, white from Contract. 46 Soft, white from Contract. 47 Soft, white from Contract. 48 Soft, white from Contract. 49 Soft, white from Contract. 50 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 51 Soft, white from Contract. 52 Soft, white from Contract. 53 Soft, white from Contract. 54 Soft, white from Contract. 55 Soft, white from Contract. 56 Soft, white from Contract. 57 Soft, white from Contract. 58 Soft, white from Contract. 59 Soft, white from Contract. 60 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 61 Soft, white from Contract. 62 Soft, white from Contract. 63 Soft, white from Contract. 64 Soft, white from Contract. 65 Soft, white from Contract. 66 Soft, white from Contract. 67 Soft, white from Contract. 68 Soft, white from Contract. 69 Soft, white from Contract. 70 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 71 Soft, white from Contract. 72 Soft, white from Contract. 73 Soft, white from Contract. 74 Soft, white from Contract. 75 Soft, white from Contract. 76 Soft, white from Contract. 77 Soft, white from Contract. 78 Soft, white from Contract. 79 Soft, white from Contract. 80 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 81 Soft, white from Contract. 82 Soft, white from Contract. 83 Soft, white from Contract. 84 Soft, white from Contract. 85 Soft, white from Contract. 86 Soft, white from Contract. 87 Soft, white from Contract. 88 Soft, white from Contract. 89 Soft, white from Contract. 90 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 91 Soft, white from Contract. 92 Soft, white from Contract. 93 Soft, white from Contract. 94 Soft, white from Contract. 95 Soft, white from Contract. 96 Soft, white from Contract. 97 Soft, white from Contract. 98 Soft, white from Contract. 99 Soft, white from Contract. 100 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 101 Soft, white from Contract. 102 Soft, white from Contract. 103 Soft, white from Contract. 104 Soft, white from Contract. 105 Soft, white from Contract. 106 Soft, white from Contract. 107 Soft, white from Contract. 108 Soft, white from Contract. 109 Soft, white from Contract. 110 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 111 Soft, white from Contract. 112 Soft, white from Contract. 113 Soft, white from Contract. 114 Soft, white from Contract. 115 Soft, white from Contract. 116 Soft, white from Contract. 117 Soft, white from Contract. 118 Soft, white from Contract. 119 Soft, white from Contract. 120 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 121 Soft, white from Contract. 122 Soft, white from Contract. 123 Soft, white from Contract. 124 Soft, white from Contract. 125 Soft, white from Contract. 126 Soft, white from Contract. 127 Soft, white from Contract. 128 Soft, white from Contract. 129 Soft, white from Contract. 130 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 131 Soft, white from Contract. 132 Soft, white from Contract. 133 Soft, white from Contract. 134 Soft, white from Contract. 135 Soft, white from Contract. 136 Soft, white from Contract. 137 Soft, white from Contract. 138 Soft, white from Contract. 139 Soft, white from Contract. 140 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 141 Soft, white from Contract. 142 Soft, white from Contract. 143 Soft, white from Contract. 144 Soft, white from Contract. 145 Soft, white from Contract. 146 Soft, white from Contract. 147 Soft, white from Contract. 148 Soft, white from Contract. 149 Soft, white from Contract. 150 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 151 Soft, white from Contract. 152 Soft, white from Contract. 153 Soft, white from Contract. 154 Soft, white from Contract. 155 Soft, white from Contract. 156 Soft, white from Contract. 157 Soft, white from Contract. 158 Soft, white from Contract. 159 Soft, white from Contract. 160 Soft, white from Contract.

Local average. 161 Soft, white from Contract. 162 Soft, white from Contract. 163 Soft, white from Contract. 164 Soft, white from Contract. 165 Soft, white from Contract. 166 Soft, white from Contract. 167 Soft, white from Contract. 168 Soft, white from Contract. 169 Soft, white from Contract. 170 Soft, white from Contract.

THE FISHERMAN AND THE GOOD JUDGE

TASTE the cool, crisp flavor of "Right-Cut"—the Real Tobacco Chew. Take a small chew. Don't overwork it. Enjoy it. You'll get the flavor and substance, satisfaction and comfort out of the rich, sappy leaf without chewing all the time.

See how long it lasts.

The Real Tobacco Chew
10 Cents a Pouch

ASK your dealer today. If he doesn't sell "Right-Cut," send us 10 cents in stamps. We'll send you a pouch.

We guarantee it to be pure chewing tobacco and better than the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York

THOSE WHO ARE LUCKY ENOUGH TO POSSESS A PLAYER PIANO

can fully appreciate how difficult it is to get a perfect instrument when they see how many of their friends have "other," and less satisfactory, makes. From the simplest folk song to the most difficult sonata it always sounds entrancingly beautiful on the Schultz in contradistinction to "any" other instrument on the market. Come and try it yourself

Edw. Miller
Undertaking & Embalming
LICENSED EMBALMER
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

FURNITURE

PIANOS

HERMAN W. MEILAHN

UNDERTAKING AND EMBALMING
LADY ASSISTANT WHEN DESIRED

MUSIC

SEWING MACHINES

A $25.00 DIAMOND GIVEN AWAY

Who'll be the Lucky One?

We are going to give away a genuine diamond worth $25.00 to someone

FREE

With every 50c purchase we will give you a ticket for a chance on the diamond. Someone will get the lucky number. It may be you. This Diamond Ring will positively be given away

FREE Wednesday evening, Dec. 24th, at 8 o'clock. Winner must be at the store at the time when tickets are drawn.
Math. Schlaefer, "The Jeweler"
Where Quality Tells and Price Sells
Campbellsport, Wisconsin

CAMPBELLSPORT.

Byron Glass is still confined to his home.
T. N. Curran was a County Seat caller Wednesday.
R. Gilboy called on friends at Milwaukee Monday.
Nic. Tiss of Kewaskum was a caller here Wednesday.
Mrs. Wm. Kloke called on friends at Fond du Lac Monday.
Miss Irene Parsons visited with friends here last Sunday.
Adam Pesch was a business caller at Milwaukee Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Van De Zande spent Tuesday at Milwaukee.
Mrs. James Ward spent Monday with friends at Fond du Lac.
James Fuller was a County Seat business transactor last Friday.
Mr. Noye of Oshkosh was a business caller here for a few days.
Deputy Sheriff T. N. Curran was at Auburn on business Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Keno were Fond du Lac callers Wednesday.
Mrs. Fred Martin called on friends at Fond du Lac Monday.
Herman Schimmelpennig was at Milwaukee on business Monday.
Miss Mary McLaughlin is visiting with relatives at Milwaukee.
Wm. Wedde spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives at Mayville. Kilian Beisbier had the misfortune to sprain his ankle Monday.
Sheldon Tuttle called on friends at the County Seat last Saturday.
Mrs. A. Jensen was the guest of friends at Fond du Lac last Friday.
Mrs. A. Giese was a caller at Fond du Lac last week Thursday.
Wm. Wedde was a business caller at the County Seat Wednesday.
Miss Pearl Sackett was on the sick list a few days of last week.
Miss Eileen Ward spent last Saturday with friends at Fond du Lac.
The Zieleske Bros. case has been thrown out of court at Fond du Lac.
Jos. Straub looked after business matters at Milwaukee one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hendricks were callers at Fond du Lac Saturday.
Anthony Bowers was a business caller at the County Seat last Saturday.
Dave Knickel was at Fond du Lac on business last week Wednesday.
Attorney Ecker of Fond du Lac was a business caller here Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flanagan called on friends at West Bend last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scheid visited with friends at Fond du Lac Monday.
Thos. Curran was a business transactor at the County Seat last Saturday.
Mrs. P. Flynn was the guest of friends at Fond du Lac last week Thursday.
Robert Rehling was a business caller at the County Seat last Thursday.
Anthony Koenig attended the funeral of a friend at Jackson last Thursday.
Miss Isabella Doyle is on the sick list. A speedy recovery is looked for.
W. L. Calvey of Dundee was a business caller in this village on Wednesday.
Miss Elizabeth Havey was the guest of friends at Fond du Lac last Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Buslaff visited with friends at Fond du Lac last Thursday.
H. H. Warden looked after business matters at Milwaukee last week Thursday.
Get your Xmas post cards at Math Schlaefer's. He has a complete line.—Adv.
G. J. Schmidt of Milwaukee spent last Sunday here with relatives and friends.
John Bonesho is seriously ill at the present writing. We hope for a speedy recovery.
Miss Minnie Peck was the guest of relatives and friends at Fond du Lac last Saturday.
Henry Damm looked after business matters at the County Seat last week Thursday.
Miss Nellie Farrell returned home after several weeks visit with relatives at Chicago.
Miss Alma Koch, who spent some time with relatives at Barton, returned here last Saturday.
The "Bachelor Girls" met at the home of Miss Lillian Knickel on Tuesday evening of this week.
Farrell & Meixensperger shipped three carloads of live stock to Milwaukee and Chicago Monday.
Mrs. H. J. Paas and the Misses Germaine and Leona Paas were Milwaukee visitors last Saturday.
Henry Kloke left for Juneau, where he will visit with the Louis Schaefer family for a few weeks.
The Misses Florence Lichtenberger and Gladys Wenzel spent over Sunday with friends at Hartford.
The chicken supper given by the Methodist church here was a

HEALTH

What Are Bacteria
Dr. Chas. North of New York has presented a very clear and simple conception of bacteria. All living things are either plant or animal. Bacteria belong to the vegetable kingdom. Just as most plants from large trees to small moss plants are useful to men, so are most bacteria. Just as there are a very few poisonous plants just so are there a few poisonous bacteria among the many useful ones. Bacteria are the oldest plants and ancestors of all vegetable life.
"Before animals were created, there was no tuberculosis nor typhoid, or diphtheria, but after the animals and men appeared, some of these tiny plants accidentally took up their residence in the noses and throats and intestines of men.
"Having once learned to grow in animals many of them have entirely lost their power of growing anywhere else and cannot live at all without the warmth and nourishment which they receive in living persons."
This being so, the disease germs continue their existence, only by being passed from one individual to another.
Recent studies have discovered individuals who have been called "carriers." Without being ill themselves, they keep bacteria alive in their own system and pass them along to victims.
The most common disease thus "carried" are tuberculosis, typhoid and diphtheria.
Soper has reported the case of "Typhoid Mary," a cook, said to have infected 23 persons, living in 5 families, residing in 5 localities in 3 states. She, herself, had no symptoms of disease in spite of harboring millions of typhoid germs.
While the majority of infectious diseases are due to vegetable parasites, a few are due to microscopic animal parasites, called protozoa. These, for the most part inhabit the blood. The most common diseases due to germs of this class are syphilis, malaria, dysentery and sleeping sickness. The three latter are uncommon in northern climates.
It has been with the greatest difficulty that the disease germs "carried" as described above could be killed. Interesting work is being done by bacteriologists in "sicking on" friendly germs to kill the germs of diphtheria carriers. The process is called "overriding." It is not unlike turning ferret loose in a rat infested building.
FIVE CORNERS
Miss Cresence Harter is on the sick list.
Ed. Yohann left Monday for an extended stay at Rockfield.
Miss Theresa Volz left Saturday for a visit with relatives at Milwaukee.
Mrs. Phil. Schleif spent a few days of this week with relatives at West Bend.
Gregor Harter returned Monday from a weeks visit with relatives at Hartford.
Miss Viola Ferber left Saturday for an extended stay with relatives at Knowles.
Miss Elsie Eberle of Kewaskum was the guest of Miss Emma Volz Sunday and Monday.
Messrs. Gregor Harter and Charles Koepke were business callers at Barton and West Bend Tuesday.
Mrs. Geo. Bingenheimer of Fond du Lac spent Tuesday and Wednesday with the C. Haug family.
The Misses Lorine Remmel and Marie Mueller were pleasant callers at Sunny Hillside Sunday afternoon.
Messrs. Oscar Glass, Wm. Ferber and Miss Rose Ferber were business callers at Barton and West Bend Tuesday.
Stomach Troubles Disappear.
Stomach, liver and kidney troubles, weak nerves, lame back and female ills disappear when Electric Bitters are used. Thousands of women would not be without a bottle in their home. Eliza Pool of Depew, Okla., writes: "Electric Bitters raised me from a bed of sickness and suffering and has done me a world of good. I wish every suffering woman could use this excellent remedy and find out, as I did, just how good it is. As it has helped thousands of others, it surely will do the same for you. Every bottle guaranteed, 50c. and $1.00. At all Drug-gists. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Philadelphia or St. Louis.
—Don't correspond on plain paper. Printed is much nicer and costs little or no more. See the Statesman.
—A copy of the Statesman sent to an absent friend is better than a weekly letter. Subscribe for it.
—Tell your neighbors to subscribe for the Statesman and get all the neighborhood news.

WAYNE.

John Schmidt transacted business at Kewaskum last Saturday.
Peter Klumb of Kohlsville was a business caller here last Friday.
Henry Schmidt Sr., transacted business at Kewaskum one day last week.
Wm. Kippenhan sold a gasoline engine to Ph. Faber last week Saturday.
Wm. Bachmann spent last Sunday with relatives and friends at Milwaukee.
Joseph Umba and Charles Sell of Kohlsville visited here with friends last Sunday.
The Frauen Verein met at the home of Geo. Kibbel last Wednesday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Christ, Struebing of Elmore were callers in our burg last week Friday.
Rev. Shatlos was at Milwaukee on a combined business and pleasure trip Wednesday.
Henry Schoofs and Sheriff Benike of West Bend were callers in our burg last Saturday.
Mrs. Geo. Kippenhan spent last week Friday at Kewaskum with the Louis Krueger family.
Mrs. Albert Terlinden of Kewaskum spent Tuesday and Wednesday here with her parents.
Ed. Bachmann left last week for Nebraska and the Dakotas, where he will remain for some time.
Simon Serwe and John Krueger of Elmore called on the Frank Wietor family here Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Endlich of Kohlsville spent last week Thursday here with Geo. Kippenhan and family.
Jacob Hawig and family spent Tuesday with the John Bingham family and other relatives at St. Anthony.
Wm. Kuehl and John Foerster threshed clover seed at Henry Schmidt's place the forepart of the week.
Miss Theresa Hawig left last week for Newburg to spend a few weeks with her sisters and other relatives and friends.
Gust Kuehl was at Theresa Monday and Tuesday unloading a carload of flour. He also straightened things around the feed mill, which he will run there in the near future.
ASHFORD.
Peter Manyan was at Fond du Lac on business Monday.
Frank Jaeger and Wm. Reilly were village callers Monday.
Rev. T. Toeller was a Milwaukee business caller this week.
John Krueger attended to business matters at Lomira Monday.
Wenzel Wagner spent last Friday at Fond du Lac with friends.
Joseph Gonespeck was at Lomira on business last week Friday.
Peter Hilbert attended to business matters at Lomira last Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berg were business callers at Fond du Lac last week Friday.
Baltus Serwe and Anthony Hilbert spent last Sunday here with their respective parents.
Peter Hilbert Sr., and son shredded corn for Anthony Dreikosen the forepart of the week.
Milton Possley returned here to resume his work as cheese maker in the T. L. Johnson cheese factory. He spent a few weeks with relatives at Fond du Lac and New Holstein.

Farmers Farmers

Why pay high prices for Flour, when you can get it at $5.00 per barrel at the mill. Every sack guaranteed.

Buy your Flour at the Mill

H. H. WARDEN & SON

Proprietors of Campbellsport Roller Mills

GROCERIES

JOHN MARX
Kewaskum, Wis.

FLOUR and FEED

LITHIA BEER

You will find this delightful beverage at all leading hotels and cafes and in most of the homes. If you haven't a case in your home, better phone. Phone No. 9.

WEST BEND BREWING CO.

CREAM CITY Wash Bowls

The Kind That Wear
Don't forget to come in tomorrow and buy that new wash bowl you've been intending to get. We've a new lot of the famous Cream City Garnet Enamelled Wash Bowls—just got 'em in. And they're just the kind you want. Big, strongly made and built to wear. Doesn't matter how careless the men-folks are with this wash bowl, it can't help wearing out. And yet it doesn't cost any more than the common, cheaply-made kinds. Water pails, too, that you'll like—made in the same wear-resisting Garnet Enamelled Ware as the wash bowls. Both priced like this:

Wash Bowls 11 1/2 inch Size..... 20c
Water Pails 10 Quart Size..... 60c

L. ROSENHEIMER

MRS. JOS. EBERLE
PROPRIETRESS OF
EBERLE'S BUFFET
BOWLING ALLEY IN CONNECTION ALSO PROPRIETRESS OF THE Farmers Hotel
BOARD BY THE DAY OR WEEK. GOOD STABLE ROOM.
Dealer in Wines, Liquors and Cigars, Etc.
KEWASKUM. WISCONSIN
—Highest price paid for Cast scrap iron at Remmel's foundry of

ERLER & WEISS.

DESIGNERS OF AND DEALERS IN MARBLE & GRANITE MONUMENTS.
Cement, Stucco, Fire Brick, Fire Clay, Flue Lining, Sewer Pipe, Tile, Wall Coping, Lime and Hydrated Material of All Kinds.
BUILDERS OF STONE AND CEMENT SIDEWALKS.
West Bend, Wisconsin
Handsome decorated china cake plates free with 18 wrappers "Rub-Nix" redeemed at your grocer's.—5 cents a cake.
—Subscribe for the Statesman.