MISSION FEST ON OF INTEREST TO FARMERS *********** WHICH IS BETTER CASH OR SHARE RENT?

shall I pay cash?"

This is the question which many young men, who are just striking for themselves, are asking. The answer is determined quite largely by circumstances and by local conditions but there are few general truths which apply in nearly all cases. The advantages and disadvantages of two systems are thus summarized by B. H. Hibbard of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Wisconsin.

"Cash rent gives to the tenant" he argues, greater independence for during the extent of his lease he is more nearly his own master the business of running the farm largely concerns no one but him-self. Rising grain prices during the recent years have also made the system more profitable to the tenant than share renting. Another advantage in paying cash for the use of a piece of land is the inducement offered for the tenant to put forth every effort to get as much out of the soil as possible and to strive for maximum production. Any increase in output means greater profit for the tenant and need not be shared with the owner as is the case under the share system of rent-

Share renting on the other hand gives the tenant the benefit of having a partner who, in many cases, has had considerable business experiences. This, quite frequently, is a valuable asset—especially for the young farmer. The owner who rents on shares pays more attention to his farm and will, as a rule, keep it up better and furnish better buildings than the man who rents his farm for cash. From the stand-point of the renter, perhaps the greatest advantage in share reutelement of risk. In bad years he pays a small rent or none at all, tively high rent. About 14 per cent of Wisconsin farms are rented as compared with 41 per cent in Illinois, 38 per cent in Iowa, and 21 per cent in Minnesota. This lower percentage of tendency in Wisconsin is due, partly to the cheap land in the north and to the fact that the dairy business does not lend itself isfactorily.

WISCONSIN GROWS

Wisconsin potatoes are free from powdery scab, the disease that has been so destructive to the potato industry of some of eastern states and foreign countries.

At least an examination of four hundred and seventy samples at the plant pathology laboratory of the Agricultural College, University of Wisconsin ,has failed to show a single trace of the disease. As these samples were obtained from representative tricts throughout the state their freedom from disease is regarded by potato men as sufficient evi-dence that the scab has not gained a foothold in Wisconsin.

Although known in Europe for many years, powdery scab was not introduced into this country until a few years ago. In 1913 an examination of potatoes from Holland, Belgium, and Canada showed scab present in degrees varying from a trace to 20 per cent. This led to the foreign quarantine act which keeps out shipments from all suspected

Very recently when it was found that the scab was present in Maine, the secretary of agriculture ordered that no potatoes from that state be moved into or through any other state.

GROUND FENCE WIRES

Grounding fence wires affords considerable protection from lightning and is a worth while investment for farmers, according to Frank M. White of the College of Agriculture, University of Wis-

As hundreds of valuable animals are struck by lightning in this state every summer, many of the casualities being directly due to currents carried along pasture fences, such advice is particularly

To secure the best results ground wires ought to be placed about 100 feet apart and closely stapled to the posts, so as to form a contact with everyone of the wires. The ground wires should also extend slightly above fence post, and like a lightning rod, should penetrate the soil far enough to reach moist earth. No. 3 or 9 wire is most satisfactory for this ournesse.

had a victory to their credit, but upon entering on the local grounds the fans together with the local team were disapfollows: Five players from Bar-ton, three from Kohlsville and one from Fond du Lac. The last four, however, were in the lineup of the previous games played. Kewaskum was present with their regular lineup with the exception of Van De Zande of Campbellsport, who covered third base. If the visitors would have come with the lineup that they had in previous games it no doubt would have been a walk away for the locals. It was indeed surprising that the locals held their opponents to such a close score. Just for one bad inning and the story of the game would have been different.

Jens and Moritz were the battery for the visitors. Jens being on the firing line and Moritz on the receiving and They at all the receiving end. They at all times held the locals at their mercy. Remmel and Altenhofen were their opponents. Several times during the game Remmel crept out of dangerous stages by holding the visitors in check. The game was full of excitement at all times , everyone of the players on both sides being stars as no serious errors were made. The game was minus some of that hard hitting that the local fans often see, which is perhaps due to the invincible pitching of both pitchers. Another feature of the game was that the visitors came to this village with five Barton players, three of whom were the noted Taylor Boys. This also was one of the excuses why Kewaskum was beaten.

Vote a Tax for Main Street

Main street will be paved next ear and the work will not cost the abutting property owners anywhere near what they expected it will cost. The common council at its meeting on August 20 passed a resolution levying a tax of $3,000 upon all taxable property of the city for 1914, as a special high-way tax under the provisions of the Wisconsin statues, for the purpose of receiving county and state aid in improving Main street. State aid may not b given in another few years, and as that part of the Main street must eventually be paved they will then be called upon to pay the entire costs. If paying is to done the whole length of Main street ought to be finished, and since state and county aid is still forthcoming, we hope the request not to pave one block will

WHY ROETHE SHOULD BE ELECTED GOVERNOR.

By Fred G. Benike, of Wautoma, Wis MR TAXPAYER -Are you in favor of the MANY USELESS COM-MISSIONS, FOOL LAWS, LARGE APPROPRIATIONS, and EXTRAVA-GANCEs which we are having in our state? And MR. TAXPAYER, these are the very things which are making our taxes so high

And now, who WILL WE ELECT GOVERNOR of our state? Why, we want a man who has a record to show us that he really does stand for ECONOMY, LOWER TAXES, and HOME RULE, and not for a ot of USELESS BUNK, the way our former governor has done. No! We want a man, A MAN who is NOT AFRAID to VETO some of these BUNK BILLS which come before him. And WHO will this man be? Why, H. E. ROETHE, of course, for he has the record in the legislature, which shows ONLY TOO PLAIN, that he was working for ECONOMY, LOWER TAX-ES and HOME RULE for the past six years.

And ROETHE was the first to come out on a platform of ECONOMY LOWER TAXES and HOME RULE. And now, just as soon as ROETHE came out on this platform, other candidates got their ears opened, and found that ROETHE had the proper platform. And so all the candidates are now trying to get into his camp. But will they be able to do it? No Not with the records they have. Hull, Dahl and Hatton have been with the progressive party, and Philipp, the great railroad boss, has been a lob byist at Madison. And therefore, they will have no chance against ROE-THE, the man with the CLEAN RECORD. And therefore ROETHE SHALL BE ELECTED GOVERNOR.

"THE MAN HIGHER UP," "HIS RISE TO POWER," Etc.

SYNOPSIS.

Mark Truitt decides to leave his native town of Bethel to seek his fortune. His sweetheart, Unity Martin, encourages him in his project. Simon Truitt tells his son that it long has been his dream to see a steel plant at Bethel and asks him to return and build it if he ever gets rich. Mark arrives in the city and applies to Thomas Henley, head of the Quinby Iron works, for a job and is sent to the construction gang. He makes a big success in that work and Henley promises him a better job.

tionist Could Not Understand Who Had Got His.

We called on a friend at his office, Wednesday morning, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The reason we called was that he had been on a vacation, and we wanted to ask him if he had had a good time and to tell him how we had missed him. But as we were ushered in, he didn't look scribbling, waved us to a chair, and

"Now, don't distrust me any more than you can help. Call me a liar, but don't rub it in?"

"What do you mean?" we asked. Then he looked up, and said:

FACE FULL OF PIMPLES

4240 So. California Ave., Chicago, Ill. -"About a year ago my face was full of pimples and red spots. To sleep one night without itching was almost impossible. Some of the pimples would get big and red and if I touched when they broke open some matter came out. They would burn and itch and I scratched them so that sometimes they would break and bleed. That always caused them to be worse. "I bought all kinds of salves and creams and I found out that they did me no good. I noticed the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and I sent for a free sample. I went to the drug store and bought a cake of Ointment and I found the pimples were drying out. In two months I lay to Washington. (Signed) Chas. J. Peck, May 7, 1914.

Commencing next Tuesday the Fond du Lac county fair will be in full go. From what we have learned from the officials of the Fond du Lac county association. we can venture to say that the fair this year will excell any previous one ever held. The exhibits, according to the entries that have been made, will be far better and larger than heretofore. This alone will make the affair a success. It perhaps will do well for all to take at least one day's vacation and attend this county

Next week Tuesday being Primary Election Day throughout the state of Wisconsin, we urge that citizens do their duty by going to the polls and cast their vote for the nomination of their choice. HOG CHUTE MADE PORTABLE

Handy Device Is Easily Arranged by Taking Couple of Old Clutivator Wheels and Axle.

Here is the handiest hog chute we ever have seen, and it can be ar ranged out of an ordinary chute, by taking a couple of cultivators or any a little over midway of the floor from the rear end, says the lowa Homestead. While any piece of strong timber will make a suitable axle for bearing up the chute, an axle from some old, discarded spring wagon or buggy will last practically a lifetime and and prove much more satisfactory than a wood axle. When it is desired to move the chute, all that is necessary to tilt the rear end and push the frame to the desired position, instead of the old, cumbersome method of tugging and dragging it around to where it was wanted. If the wheels are kept well greased or oiled, and if the chute is not too heavy, one can use it for moving beavy articles around that could not be carried by hand

LOOKING AFTER YOUNG SOWS

Best Plan Is to Have Them Farrow After Grass and Clover Start to Secure Good Pasturage.

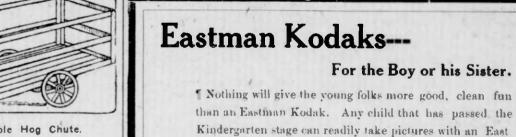

In nearly all cases the first litter is the hardest draft on the system of the dam and for this reason, if no other, the young sows should have special care. It is best, so far as can be done to have the young sows farrow after grass and clover have made a good start, as there are few things better, than plenty of good pasturage, to enable a dam to produce milk, and a young sow if she is to suckle her litter of pigs well, must have food well adapted to milk production. A sow should always be so gentle that in case it becomes necessary, she can be handled without unduly exciting her. It is never good policy to disturb a sow at farrowing, unless absolutely necessary. As a precaution against her eating her pigs, she should have a light opening ration for a few days before farrowing and then a bucket of warm slop ready for her whenever she gets up. Be careful about over-feeding her for the first three or four days and then gradually increase her rawill readily eat up clean. After the pigs are a week old, she may be allowed the run of a pasture, feeding slop regularly at least two times a day and three times is still better. Be careful to feed regularly. Slop stuff, milk or wheat bran, oil meal and milk, are hard to beat and are all good foods for breeding sows.

LIGHT CARRIES PICTURES

When Reflected From Object It Is Made to Take Image Wherever It Goes.

We are accustomed to the idea that souls are immortal, that energy can not be annihilated, that matter can not be destroyed, but what of this extraordinary immortality of deeds? Simply this: Light that is reflected image, a picture of the object, with it spent a hort vacction at Lake Five. on its travels, no matter how long the journey or whither it may tend. When these image-carrying light waves enter the eye, the picture they Adam Kohl and family since Friday bear is revealed, whether the waves have been only infinitesimal fraction of a second in coming from the face of a friend across the street, or Sunday whether they have reached the eye after a jaunt of 100,000 years through space, from the flashing scintillation of a far-off star. Even as we see our nearest star neighbor not as it is today, but as it was four years ago, the light that is reflected to this star from our planet 48 months ago, and any person, if at ing the light waves, would see events

Suppose we had such an apparatus and could out-travel light. We could journey to the Pole star and behold, we would see the earth as it was in the year 1852! If we journey nine years of light waves farther in toward the earth, we would intercept the light picture show- Sunday. ing the firing on Fort Sumter in 1861. Even though every book and every manuscript, and every monument should be destroyed, the incomparable bravery of our northern and southern soldiers are written enternally on the scroll of the heavens. If we traveled still farther out into space, and caught up with the light waves that left us, say 420 years ago, we would see Columbus discovering America! #### Physically Fit or Misfit

Many children are breaking down under the strain of school attendance. In many cases the physical power of the bearers isn't equal to the load they are expected to carry.

When the burden is too heavy and the bearer too weak, two courses are open. The first is to lighten the burden. The second is to strengthen the bearer. The latter alternative is more appealing to both reason and sentiment. For, in strengthening the school child to carry his studies more easily, we will likewise increase his future possibilities of success, and his immediate chances to live through the dangerous years of childhood.

How can we secure those increased physical resources? How can we secure additional wealth in any field? First, by increasing our own intelligent efforts, second, by employing additional laborers whose production exceeds their wage.

The misfits in life offer sufficient evidence that a fair proportion of babies are born deficient and that children are not developed to the full extent their possibilities. Certainly an educational system which little or no account of the physical and mental composition the material it is called upon mould, is deficient.

Physicians and nurses as class today constitute the best source of information concerning the natural physical and mental equipment of school children. Could anything be more obvious than that they should be employed in any school system that is calculated to meet its best possibilities?

The most successful dairymen, buttermakers, iron workers, etc., employ analysts to determine the nature of their raw material. From these analyses the individual handling of the raw material into the finished product is determinattend a conference at Milwaued. Is it carrying the analogy too far to suggest that school children should be put through a physical examination to determine if their hearts and lungs are calculated to withstand severe physical strain; if disordered teeth, stomachs, and bowels are sapping their strength, if adenoids, larged tonsils, etc., are handicap-ping their brain activity? IT IS NOT!

Eventually children with weak hysical constitutions will not be trained for, nor forced into, severe physical labor, only to die prematurely of preventable disases. By the same token, husky, physically competent children will not be trained to dispense ice cream sodas, ribbons, and neck-repainted and repaired for next sider if a few repairs in the system of handling children are likewise needed.
