Pulled Off at West Bend Next Monday the County Fair starts to last for three days. It is the big event for Washington County, and because this is the last chance, let us blow our clarion that it resounds on the waves of the Milwaukee river , where in the north of it enters the county on its winding course, and that it wakes the echos in the hills of Town Erin in the south. There should not be a soul in the county that is not thrilled with the prospects of this year's

Next Week The Big Event Will Be As has already been announced the officers this year have secured three distinctly high-class attractions. The most notable one are the Correia Sisters, two charming and skillful equestriennes. They do some stunts on horses, among them the "Roman Carrying Act on one and two horses, jumpups from the ground artistic posing, and finishing with one rider standing on the shoulders of the other. Both ladies are graceful and fearless riders. Their nerve will surprise and thrill the spectators. The second attraction is acrobatic, performed by the Aerial Patts, two gymnasts who do some astounding things on the high trapeze. Their midair exploits show a contempt of danger that compels rapt admiration, and their flying trapeze feats are original and a source o. delight. The third attraction are Zat Zams, two magicians and illusionists. The male member of the couple is a descendant of the Aztecs of Old Mexico. They do their silent magic and illusion act in Mexican style. They carry special scenery, polished brass tables with Mexican gold embroidered draperies, and change their raiment and setting from Hades to Holy City. KEWASKUM WINS OVER THIENSVILLE

Hard Clouting, Remmel's Pitching and John Schaefer's Work at The Third

Sack Were The Features

The local base ball team played their last home game last Sunday when they met and defeated the strong Thiensville nine by a score of 10 to 5. When the vision itors got out to warm up it looke ed as though our boys had no chance to win, for it was about the fastest bunch of players ever seen here, and taking into consideration that they had a league pitcher to buck up against, it looked still more dubious. But our boys got into the game with their old style of pep and ginger and had the visitors at their mercy right from the start. Remmel the local pitcher, was at his best B. A. John Schaefer Philipp. was put in on third base but as he had his Sunday clothes on he could not put up his usual style of big league ball, but nevertheless, c. Gortz he grabbed a hot one with one hand and retired the side with Clurk three men on bases. The game was well played throughout and makes the home boys confident of putting up a good showing at the West Bend and Cedarburg fairs. A return game will be given the Thiensville boys on their grounds on September 13, which will practically end the base ball Wasecheck will play third base, Miller short stop and Van De Zande, second base in the West Bend game, Remmel will probably be on the mound for the locals. Passenger Train Strikes Jacob Diels About One Mile North of Lomira. Body is Badly Mangled

The mangled body of a middle aged man which was found on the Soo line tracks one mile 1592 north of Lomira at 8:30 o'clock 648 Monday morning by the crew of a Soo line way freight, has been 473 positively identified by Andrew former regidi distance south of the village as that of his brother, Jacob Diels. Jacob Diels had made his home with his brother for the past two years and was last seen Sunday night about 11 o'clock when he .1429 started for home from the village. The finding of his hat and the discovery of blood stains on the 1018 crossing near the Theo Hankwitz 415 crossing south of Lomira, indicated, according to the coroner, that

Diels was struck by a northbound train and was carried the engine through the station to the next crossing where the body fell off. A south-bound train is believed to have struck the corpse shortly afterwards and mutilated it beyond recognition. The coroner's jury adjourned

Monday to meet again Tuesday to secure more evidence before bringing in a verdict. Jacob Diels was born in the town of Wayne fifty-one years ago. His parents are dead. He is survived by five brothers and three, sisters, Henry Diels of Aurora, Ill., George of Plymouth, Wis., Frank of Medford, Christ of Tigertown, and Andrew of Lomira and Mrs. Minnie Schnur of Tigertown, Miss Elizabeth Utke of Clintonville and Mrs. Dora Faber of The funeral was held Wednes-

Contest Between Husting and Kearney Requires Complete Returns for Decision-Karel and Aylward Make a Pretty Race.

Milwaukee, Sept. 3 .- Returns from forty-three out of seventy-one counties on Tuesday's primary election show E. L. Philipp has captured the republican nomination for governor and indicates that J. C. Karel wins the democratic nomination over pro.; V. L. Berger, soc. Aylward. The race between Karel and Aylward is close and Karel's managers are chaiming a majority of 5,000 in the state. The vote from the forty-three counties shows: Karel 29,765. Aylward 21,158.

Up to late Wednesday it looked as though the issue between Karel and Aylward was doubtful, though Karel seemed to be leading. The returns J. Knopp, dem.; T. J. Oliver, soc. received at night, however, were more complete, including the full returns from many counties, and these showed that Karel was getting such a vote as warranted the belief that he was nominated.

Philipp Has Big Lead.

Philipp, republican candidate for governor, carried Milwaukee with a lead of nearly 6,000 and on the returns so far received his vote nearly equals that of all the other republican candidates for governor com-bined. The vote of Hatton and Dahl. who follow, appears to be close. while Hull, Utman and Roethe are far behind. Returns received from over forty counties show the following vote: Philipp, 28,237; Dahl, 14,-326; Hatton, 13,755; Hull. 5,148; Utman, 4,018; Roethe, 3,567

The Ambition of Mark Truitt

HENRY RUSSELL MILLER

"THE MAN HIGHER UP." "HIS RISE TO POWER." Etc.

(Copyright, 1913, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

SYNOPSIS.

Mark Truitt, encouraged by his sweetheart. Unity Martin, leaves Bethel, his native town, to seek his fortune. Simon Truitt tells Mark that it long has been his dream to see a steel plant at Bethel and asks the son to return and build one if he ever gets rich. Mark applies to Thomas Henley, head of the Quinby Iron works, for a job and is sent to the construction gang. His success in that work wins him a place as helper to Roman Andsrejuski, open-hearth furnaceman. He becomes a boarder in Roman's home and assists Piotr, Roman's son, in his studies. Kasia, an adopted daughter, shows her gratitude in such a manner as to arouse Mark's interest in her.

Liquid Iron. The hot spell was over.

For fifty-seven years Roman had toiled as few men can toil-on the tiny farm that had been his father's, to satisfy the greedy tax gatherer; in Essen, learning another craft under the master Krupp; in the new land whose promise had lured him. Not once had his superb strength and endurance falled him; therefore he had never known fear, had not believed that the fate that overtook others must some day be his. He had been very prodigal of that strength.

But one day-such a one as in that season the steel-workers called coolhe staggered and fell. It was three days before he could go back to his wave broke; but he did not know that job. During that time Mark Truitt was in charge of the furnace. He who returned was not the careful, precise, unflurried workman. He knew fear. He tired easily and was uncertain of temper. The heat fretted him and he worried over his work. He lost in efficiency; several times he tapped the furnace either too soon or too late and was sharply reprimanded. To keep up and to forget the new weakness he drank more whisky than ever. Within two weeks he collapsed again.

It was during Roman's third lay-off that Gracey, the foreman, said to Mark: "It looks like Roman's done for."

"It looks that way," Mark assented. "It's come pretty sudden with him. It does that sometimes."

"Yes." Mark stared sadly through the furnace mouth at the boiling flameswept slag. The drama had become a little by the faint glow from a nearby tragedy. There was an element in street lamp; it found him lying inert steel of which chemists took no account—the lives and souls of men.

"Yes!" Mark's mouth twisted in an ugly sneer. "He's given you the best he had. And now he's breaking down. So-scrap him, of course!" "That's funny talk," grunted the foreman. "Especially since the superintendent and I've been talking it over and we think of you for the job. That makes it look different, don't it?" he laughed.

"No, it doesn't. Do you suppose I haven't been thinking of that-counting on it-ever since he broke first?" Mark turned hot eyes on the foreman. 'Why, that's the worst of you. You drive us to the limit and when we break you kick us off like an old shoe And that isn't enough. You've got to make beasts of us every man dogging the fellow ahead, glad when he drops and lets go his job. Damn you all, anyhow!"

"Then I'm to tell the superintendent you don't want the job?"

Mark looked again into the boiling furnace, felt its consuming breath, listened to the mills' strident voice. Through every sense he caught their menace; his spirit cowered before it. But he who had come so near to falling could know the bitterness of him through whose fall advancement would come "No!" he snarled in savage contempt for himself and his hollow high indignation. "You can tell him I'm beast like all the rest."

He was on the night turn then. In the morning he went reluctantly to Roman's house. At breakfast he was alone with Kazia. But there was no love-making that morning. Nor did he explain that he was to supersede her uncle at the furnace.

"How's Roman?" he asked with an added inward twinge. "He's not much better," she sighed.

We're worried about him. He frets because he thinks he might lose his job. He said nothing.

"Do you think he will?" "Yes." He made shift to raise his eyes to hers. "I think he will."

"Because he's used up. And when water in which ice tinkled. She you're used up, you've got to get out to make room for better--for those that can still be useful."

"Just because he's sick. Oh, surely

"Oh, that would break his heart. "But don't tell him you think that." "No." His eyes fell. "I won't tell him. He'll find out soon enough."

War Creates Desire for Land

Chicago.-The war has not only raised food prices over night but there has been created an exceptional desire for homestead land in the west. The farmer again has absolutely demonstrat ed his independence and while there is an apparent unrest in other professions, which is to be sure unwarranted, the farmer above all has before him a season of unbounded prosperity. Whether stuffs is arbitrary or is the natural result of economic conditions the remains that people realize more than ever the tiller of the soil is assured of an abundant liv-

Albert V. Leonard, Settlement Agent of the Reclamation Service the Federal Bldg., yesterday. "We are hurrying the work as rapidly as possible and I believe the continuance of war in Europe with the consequent prosperity of the farmer in America will create large demand for good homestead land. We have available at ble farms in the Shoshone project near Yellowstone Park, and on September 18, the Government will dispose of 12,000 acres by drawing of choice land in the Truckee-Carson project, Nevada. "It is encouraging to note that these tracts will be offered under the Reclamation extension act approved last week by the President whereby actual settlers are given 20 years' time without interest to repay the water right loan. Here is an opportunity seldom offered by the Government and prospective homesteaders should blame only themselves for failing to inprofitably to help feed not only the growing American Nation but

Sherman's Definition

You know what Gen. Sherman said about war. He said it was---well you know all about the temperature of the place he mentioned.

That was true of war, but other things are also in the same class. It's tough to be dead broke. It's embarrassing to be poor. It's unsafe to be doing business without a deposit at the bank. Avoid these things and many other things that are close to what Sherman called "War," by starting an account at our bank, It will grow.

Five German Ships Are Sunk and Many Men Lost in Battle Off Helgoland.

London, Aug. 31.-An official statement issued tonight says that of 1,200 men composing the crews of the five German warships sunk off Helgoland only 330 were saved. Twenty-nine killed and thirty-eight wounded was the price in men paid by the British for the victory.

Account of Naval Action.

Accounts of the battle say it was perfect in execution as well as in plan. Led at dawn by a fearless small detachment, the destroyers crept within the German lines between Helgoland and the German coast.

An aeroplane sighted them and gave the news to the Germans, whose de stroyers then came out. The British destroyers lured the Germans to the open sea, where other destroyers were waiting, spread out in fan shape.

A small engagement followed, and then German cruisers came out. The British light cruiser Arethusa, after a sighting shot, got its range splendidly and hit the foremost gun of one of the the guns of the strongest fortresses German cruisers, demolishing it. There exists now a new, compelling reason for buying Goodyear tires. It results from War conditions.

These leading tires-built of extra-fine rubber, in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices.

You will find today a very wide difference between most tire prices and Goodyears.

Due to Quick Action

Early in August-when war began-the world's rubber markets seemed closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others-in that panic-were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought-before the advance-1,500,-000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra-grade rubber obtainable abroad.

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result, we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times, the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it had been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best,

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we piedge you the same grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears-the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

Five German Ships Are Sunk and Many Men Lost in Battle Off Helgoland.

London, Aug. 31.—An official statenent issued tonight says that of 1,200 men composing the crews of the five German warships sunk off Helgoland only 330 were saved. Twenty-nine killed and thirty-eight wounded was the price in men paid by the British for the victory.

Account of Naval Action. Accounts of the battle say it was perfect in execution as well as in plan. Led at dawn by a fearless small detachment, the destroyers crept within the German lines between Helgoland and the German coast.

An aeroplane sighted them and gave the news to the Germans, whose de stroyers then came out. The British destroyers lured the Germans to the open sea, where other destroyers were waiting, spread out in fan shape.

A small engagement followed, and then German cruisers came out. The British light cruiser Arethusa, after a sighting shot, got its range splendidly and hit the foremost gun of one of the the guns of the strongest fortresses German cruisers, demolishing it. Tires at Before-War Prices

Goodyear Prices

It is Folly Today to Pay More 30 x 3 Plain Tread . . $11.70 30 x 31/2 "

There exists now a new, compelling reason for buying Goodyear tires. It results from War conditions.

These leading tires—built of extra-fine rubber, in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices.

You will find today a very wide difference between most tire prices and Goodyears.

Due to Quick Action

Early in August-when war began-the world's rubber markets seemed closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others-in that panic-were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought-before the advance-1,500,-000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra-grade rubber obtainable abroad.

Today we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. So we are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result, we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times, the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it had been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledge you the same grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

STATE NOTES IN BRIEF

Merrill.-Frank Kennedy, an old time and well known resident of Merrill, while blasting stumps near this city, was instantly killed by a premature explosion.

A large piece from a stump struck him in the abdomen, death following instantly. Ed. Bosley, owner of the place where the work was being done, was also struck by a piece of wood and was seriously injured.

Mr. Kennedy has resided in this city for over thirty years and leaves a wife and four children, one of whom, Frank, Jr., is an instructor in the engineering department of the state university.

Edgerton.—Beaten and robbed of $25 was the fate that befell William Goldthorp, a farmer living near Edgerton, when he hired a man in the city and then drove to his farm with him. Three shots were exchanged between the farmer and his assailants, who made good their escape. The farmer and the stranger were near their destination when another man appeared and requested to be taken along. Both men immediately attacked Mr. Goldthorp.

TOBACCO satisfied—a clean, I small chew of "Right-Cut." It's the Real Tobacco Chew.

Pure, mellow, sappy tobacco-seasoned and sweetened just enough.

That's why men are glad to hear about "Right-Cut," and to tell the glad news to their friends in turn.

Take a very small chew-less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tebacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and sice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut." One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 11 .- There will be plenty of music at the state fair this year. The Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture has contracted for eight bands and one orchestra. An orchestra may seem out of place at a fair, but it is for use in the judge ing pavilion where band music has been found too heavy. While the judges are awarding prizes an orchespavilion with popular airs and classical music.

Clauder's State band will play all of the five days. It includes thirtyave of Milwaukee's best musicians. It is possible that this band will be heard down town each night of the fair week, Sept. 14 to 18.

The largest band engaged is the famous Sheboygan band of fifty-five pieces. This organization was the musical hit of the fair in 1913, and this is why it has been re-engaged for the 1914 fair. The band includes fiftyfive men, and it will be at the fair on with plump deep kernels and good tips and butts. 4. Avoid ears with long or short shanks or those attached to poorly formed stalks.

2. Select the ears from promis-

When taken from the stalk, corn usually contains from 20 to 30 per cent of water. The most convenient way of ridding the corn of this excessive moisture is by use of artificial heat, and the corn should be well dried out before it is stored away for the winter.

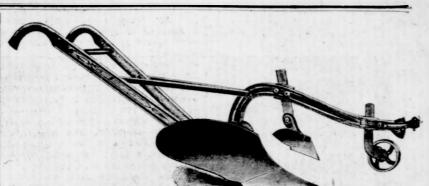

Corn should never be placed against the south side of a building in the strong sun light, as the direct rays of the sun will soon injure the vitality of the seed. corn is cured by hanging under a porch or under the roof of a corn crib, it should be stored away before hard freezing weather sets in in a dry room where it will not take in moisture from the out-

Mr Moore is convinced that by paying a little more attention to the selection and curing of their seed corn, the farmers the state could increase their yields greatly and produce a better and more profitable crop.

THE NEW MOORE PLOW.

This Plow is so built that it will meet the requirements of our Wisconsin farmers and has a Steel Bord that will do first-class work in stubble and also in sod, This is very important as it saves the cost of one Plow, and all Moore Plows are equipped with self sharpening shares, that will last twice as long as two ordinary ones. The longer they weat the sharper they get. This is a very handy and durable Plow, and very light draft. Plows given on trial to prospective buyers, and are guaranteed and sold by
