Get The Most For The Crop Indications are that Wisconsin. especially the new lands of the upper counties, will have an immense potato crop. This being the case every possible effort should be made to get the best possible return in dollars for this whatever our theories of marketing reform, the fact remains that at this time the thought should be to grade the potato crop in such a way as to make it attractive in the market.

The writer was recently in Califore. They were selling at low price, but that was a fault of conditions and not of the potatoes. Potatoes graded as they were would bring fifty per cent, more at wholesale in Wisconsin than they brought at retail in Cal-They were a heauty to ifornia. look upon

Surely the first thing for the Wisconsin potato grower during the rest of this year is to grade his potatoes as they should be. The first thing next year is to se-lect the right kind of seed. When Wisconsin establishes the reputation for the best potatoes and that is rapidly being done, then further marketing plans may Mr. and Mrs. be workable, but poor stock will not sell well under any marketing We are making proformula. We are m gress-let's continue.

Game Pulled Off at the Fair Grounds at West Bend Last Sunday for County Championship Was Won by the Benders by a Score of 3 to 0

BY WEST BEND

In one of the most interesting games of base ball played on the Fair grounds at West Bend, the Kewaskum ball team went down in deafeat last Sunday at the hands of the former West Bend champions by a score of 3 to 0. The game was one of breathles interest up to the eighth inning. and was the most sensational pitchers' battle ever witnessed in our neighboring city. Lewis of the Milwaukee city league and hired man autoed to Kewaskum Kuhlman of the Lake Shore league Were in points for the Benders while Schnabel and Diegs did the battery work for the local team. Schnabel of the locals had eighteen strike outs to his credit and pitched a no hit game. Le-wis of the West Bend team had eleven strike outs and allowed but one hit. The three scores made by the Benders were on errors by Backus, Schnabel and Altendorf of the locals. The game was witnessed by a large crowd and they certainly got their money's worth as it was as fine an exhibition of the national game as one would care to see. Kewaskum does not consider their defeat a disgrace as they put up as good a game if not a better game than the opposing team. But for the misfortune of three errors in the eighth inning, the score might have been entirely different. The game was at that point where a misplay on either side would have proven costly.

Mr. Burke is again a candidate for re-election as congressman on the Democratic ticket at the coming fall election. His past record and the showing he has made while a congressman and representative of the people, and his interest taken at Washington during the sessions of Congress alone should convince every voter that he should be again returned. Representatives of the people like Mr. M. E. Burke, deserve the patronage of every voter of his district.

STATEMENTS SENT OUT

The past week we have mailed several hundred statements to all subscribers, who are in arrears. The postal laws compel us to this on account of its ruling. Since mailing these statements we have received a large number of favorable replies, and hope that we will receive a reply from every one that received such a statement. The amount called for from each one who is in arrears with their subscription is just a trifle, but as there are several hundred of these delinquent subscribers the total amount sums up therefore we urge that all take note of the statement they ceived and remitted us for the a-mount called for. By doing this we know you are a fond reader of the STATESMAN, your own home newspaper. For those that have already remitted we wish to express our thanks, and for those who are going to remit we wish to thank them in advance. not let that statement which you received slip your mind, but just get bus and write out a check payable to the Kewaskum Statesman, or Geo. ### SYNOPSIS.

Mark Truitt, encouraged by his sweetheart. Unity Martin, leaves Bethel, his native town, to seek his fortune. Simon Truitt tells Mark that it long has been his dream to see a steel plant at Bethein asks the son to return and build one if he ever gets rich. Mark applies to Thomas Henley, head of the Quinby Iron works, for a job and is sent to the construction gang. His success in that work wins him a place as helper to Roman Andzrejzski, open-hearth furnaceman. He becomes a boarder in Roman's home and assists Piotr, Roman's son, in his studies, Kazia, an adopted daughter, shows her gratitude in such a manner as to arouse Mark's interest in her. Heavy work in the intense heat of the furnace causes Mark to collapse and Kazia cares for him. Later Roman also succumbs and Mark sets his job. Roman resents this and tells Mark to find another boarding place. Five years elapse during which Mark has advanced to the foremanship, while his labor-saving devices have made him invaluable to the company. In the meantime Kazia has married one Jim Whiting, Mark meets with an accident which dooms him to be a cripple for life. He returns to Bethel intending to stay there. He finus Unity about to marry another man and wins her back. Unity urges him to return to his work in the city. Mark rises rapidly to waalth and power in the steel business, but the social ambitions of his wife make their married life unhappy. Constant bickerings wear out Mark's patience and he makes threats of divorce.

"Yes Myself." Quinby's face was a study.

"And," Henley continued, "you can let him have this stock or lose Truitt and me.'

Thereupon Henley wrote out and gave to Quinby his esignation from the chairmanship. There was a tense silence while Quinby studied the paper.

"Very well" he said at last. He tore the resignation into little bits. But it was a graceful surrender. During the pause Quinby had regained his poise. He was once more the gracious patron, apparently blind to Henley's show of dislike. "Ah! my dear Tom," he shook his head smilingly, "that was hardly fair.

You played upon my affection. You know there is no sacrifice I would not make rather than lose you." "Humph!" grunted Henley. "This is no sacrifice."

Crowning Eccentricity of Englishwom an's Life, That Was Filled With Eccentricities.

In an old book published in Paris under the title of "Le Journal d'un Voyage au Levant," there is an amusing account of the way in which Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope, the eccentric English traveler, took possession of the house at Djoun, where eventually she made her permanent home.

She was pleased with the house and its surrounding gardens, and accepted an invitation to dinner. As she sat after dinner, with the owner, a Christian merchant, he said to her that if she liked the place, he should be glad if she would stay the night. When she said that she liked it so much that she would stay there the rest of her days, he took it as a polite figure of speech; but a fortnight later, as she still prolonged her visit, he suggested that Europe might be expecting her Milwankee -- Four thousand six hundred and nine more persons attended the fair this year than last, according will be spent in Madison and one day period of time than would otherwise to the attendance total for the week, in Milwaukee.

Because of bigger proceeds and less expense to provide a really better exposition than in 1913, fair officials are well satisfied. Sentiments expressed by beard members and superintendents were all to the effect that the 1914 fair has lived up to its widely heralded promise of being the biggest, most successful exposition in Badger state an-

COWS FRESHEN IN THE FALL

Milk Flow Kept Up for Longer Period and Produced During the Season of High Prices.

(By W. FREEHOFF, Wisconsin.) For cows to fashen twice a year really sounds like nature faking, but tem has 420 000 depositors.

be the case, but the most milk is produced during the season of highest GOOD ROADS MEET OCT. 28 prices. In this lies the chief superiority of winter over summer dairying. Cows that freshen in the spring dry up quickly in the fail when the grass is no longer present; few farmers take good care of a dry cow during the winter so that the next year the anibuilding will be discussed at the mal will be still less useful. Such deterioration in a cow is often greater than the entire value of her milk

Then again, the cows need most protection during the summer months when labor may be used to better advantage in the fields, while during the winter months no labor can find employment. Summer dairying has absolutely nothing to commend it. Feed is about the same price in the summer as in the winter, while winter labor is cheaper; this, with the increased price for winter products makes winter dairying by far the more

Physicians Recommend Castoria

ASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First-The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innecent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information. - Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory." Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartly endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria.'

TET the taste of the richest tobaccogrown."Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew that you hear men boosting to their friends.

Sappy, full-bodied tobacco-seasoned and sweetened just enough.

You'll be glad, too, that you've found "Right-Cut"—and to pass the word along to men that you know.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away.
Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco akes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and rice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut." One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

London .- An account of the opera- | may be merely of a rear guard nations of the British army in France and the French armies in immediate touch with it during the period from September 10 to 13, written by an officer attached to Field Marshal Sir John French's staff has been issued by the official press bureau. The account follows: Since Thursday, September 10, the British army, in co-operation with the French, made steady progress in its endeavor to drive back the enemy. The country across which it had to force its way and over which it will have to fight in the near future is undulating and covered with patches of thick wood.

"Within the area which faced the British before the advance commenced, right up to Laon, the chief feature of tactical importance is that there are six rivers running across the direction of the advance, at all of which it was possible the Germans might make a stand. These are, in order from the south, the Marne, Ourcq, Vesle, Aisne, Ailette and Oise.

Real Resistance at the Aisne. "The enemy held the lines of the Marne, which was crossed by our forces on September 9, as a purely rear guard operation. Our passage of the Ourcq, which here runs almost due east and west, was not contested. The Vesle was only lightly held, while resistance along the Aisne, both against the French and British, has | ed in terrible losses, marked the combeen and still is of a determined char-

Milwaukee.-The fall meeting of the eastern or Wisconsin conference of the English Evangelical Lutheran synod of the northwest will be held in Milwaukee October 6-9. On Tuesday, October 6, at 4 p. m., there will be a special meeting of the synod for the reception of new members and to authorize the ordination of E. T. Finck, who has accepted a call to the Waterloo parish.

Milwaukee.-Wisconsin is about to have a herd of elk assigned to its state forest preserve by Secretary Lane of the department of interior. Through the activities of Representative Esch preliminaries have been arranged.

Merrill.-The dam of the Merrill Railway and Lighting company, which is nearing completion, is a novelty. The dam is of unusual type, especially designed by E. S. King, manager of the company. The gates, all of steel, set firmly on concrete piers, may be entirely opened to permit a full flow of flood tide water without endanger
