AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Lorenz E. Lohr, the well known carpenter of this city met with a very bad accident last Saturday afternoon and it came very near costing him his life. Mr. Lohr has been remodeling an old barn and building an addition to it, on the farm of Arthur Mittelstedt near Huilsburg.

Amusements

William Schaefer a wealthy farmer residing near Beaver Dam committed suicide some time during last week Thursday night, the body being found early Friday morning in a patch of woods near the Schaefer home by his nephew, Clarence Krenz, who conducted the farm. The suicide was probably caused by the despondency over recent troubles in business transactions.

Amusements

Schafer was one of the most wealthy farmers in the town of Calamus, where he had resided for the past fifty years or more. He was the owner of a fine two hundred acre farm located about a mile east of Beaver Dam.

Amusements

Amusements

E. R. Zamzow, secretary of Fond du Lac county agricultural association, while on business here last Monday, stated that many improvements are being made at the fair grounds.

LEADERS OF THE JAPANESE NATION

In view of the strained relationship between Japan and China, this photograph showing the men who have the destiny of their country in their hands is a valuable and interesting one. It was shown on the occasion of the anniversary of the death of the empress at Tokyo, and shows the Japanese cabinet officials as well as the army and naval heads of the mikado's kingdom. Left to right; Prince Tokugama; General Teratuch, commander of Korea; General Osiko; Admiral Katacko, president of the imperial university; Admiral Togo; Osaki, minister of law, and the secretary of the imperial household. Behind Minister Osaki is Kei Hara, minister of foreign affairs and present "boss" of the opposition in the cabinet.

GREAT FRENCH GUNS BY THE YSER RIVER

Two of the huge guns used with such telling effect by the French being hauled along the Yser river to reply to the German artillery attacks. These are guns which have just arrived from the armament works of the French government, where their construction is being rushed with all possible haste.

Death's Touch Gentle.

In the light of modern surgery, there is much to reassure our faith in the far-reaching provisions of nature to protect all life from undergoing torture as great as we may at times imagine possible. We may now believe that death comes only with the same quieting hand that is laid upon us as we sleep; that the summons "to join the innumerable caravan" is never a clarion call of tremendous conscious agony, but is rather a quiet drifting, a gentle touch without sound or hurt, like a door that is softly closed.

Immensity of Yellow Empire.

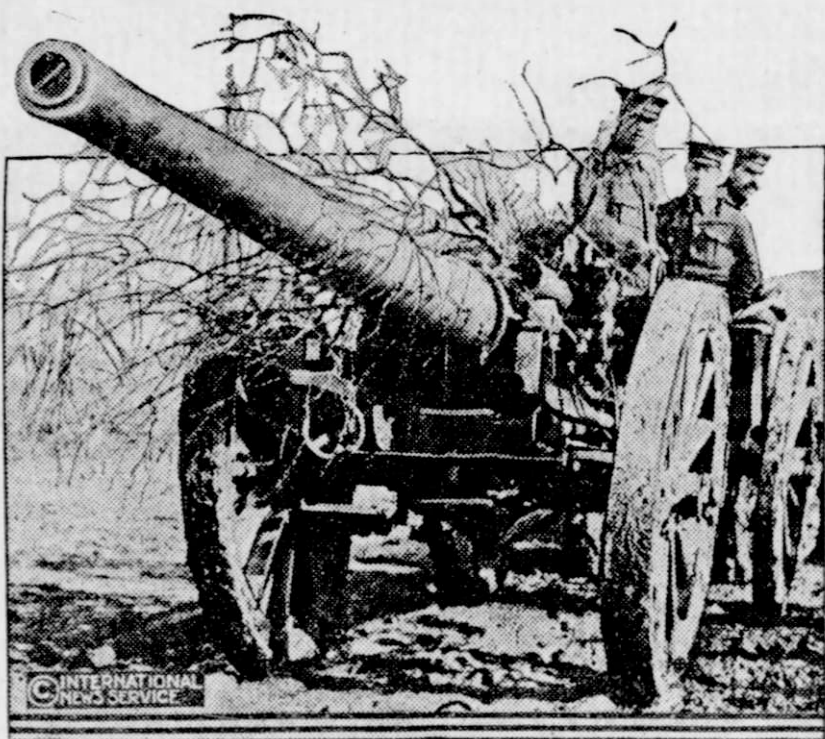

The total area of China is estimated at 4,278,352 square miles. A census of the kind taken in western nations has never been attempted in China, and the nearest approach to a reliable estimate is probably the census of households (not individuals) taken by the Chinese ministry of interior in 1910. Assuming 5.5 persons to a household, which, by a test census in various parts of the country was found to be a fair average, the population totaled 231,000,000, including 1,500,000 as the probable population of Tibet.

From Youth to Middle Age.

The moment when one first feels acutely that he is no longer young is bound to make one pause in something akin to consternation. For vividness it is like a flash of lightning across a black sky. Life no longer is all before one; even more dreadful thought, it may be mostly behind!

After the first keen realization there follows a bewilderment of mind due to unwillingness, yes, to an actual puzzled inability to accept the truth. With all the agony of the startled call of a child at night, the heart cries out, "It cannot be; it is not so." Youth dies hard, and fights and struggles in its dying like an imprisoned bird. Others, even those near and dear are older, are even old; we can see that. But how can the stubborn facts be true as to ourselves? Very gradually, little by little, fighting its way inch by inch, the truth prevails and gnaws at the heart—though only intermittently, of course—until time numbs this emotion as it does every Hawaiian Planters in Hard Straits.

Owing to the difficulty of securing skilled workers, the high cost of land and water, and the increased cost of labor, rice production in Hawaii (which has been averaging over 25,000,000 pounds annually) is decreasing at the rate of about 10,000 bags a year. It is estimated by a Honolulu paper that the 1915 crop will be 60,000 bags less than that of 1909.

WISCONSIN NEWS BRIEFS.

Oshkosh.—The Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers' association will meet here July 29 and 30. The meetings will be taken up with business discussions and trade topics. The afternoons and nights will be devoted to recreation, boat rides, auto rides and banquets. It is probable members of the Wisconsin and Michigan legislatures will be present at the meetings. O. T. Swan, secretary, is preparing an exhibit of commercial woods of Wisconsin.

Janesville.—Fifteen hundred citizens have petitioned the mayor and council to remove the telephone, telegraph and electric light poles from the business section of the city, install electric lights on every corner in the residence district and ornamental lights in the business section. It is probable the council will so order.

Juneau.—Frederick Wm. Lueck, father of Judge Martin Lueck, pioneer business man and well known in political and business life of this community for half a century, died here at the age of 71. He was born in Brandenburg, Germany, and came to this country when 7 years old.

Kenosha.—George H. Kroncke, aged 78, for many years most prominent as a leader among the Democrats of this section of Wisconsin, died at his home here. He was a former member of the Wisconsin legislature and had for years been active in politics.

Grand Rapids.—The eighty-first birthday of Mrs. Jeanette Baldwin was celebrated at the family home. An elaborate dinner was served to the children and grandchildren prepared by Mrs. Baldwin herself, followed by an auto ride. On July 3, 1823, Mrs. Baldwin came to Grand Rapids, a bride, and for sixty-two years she has lived in her present residence.

Beloit.—With Joseph P. Callan, state president of the order, and Prof. Robin, Marquette university, both of Milwaukee, and a large body of Janesville Hibernians present, a meeting was held in Beloit for the organization of a division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Kaukauna.—While drilling a well on the Anton Hartzheim farm on route 5, J. J. Faust & Son, Kaukauna, well drillers, struck a pocket of natural gas, at a depth of ninety-two feet. The rush of gas to the surface threw dirt into the air at least seventy-five feet. The wind blew the gas toward the engine and it caught fire. Instantly the whole mass was aflame, forming a pillar of fire thirty-five feet high.

Wausau.—A meeting of veterans of the Spanish-American war was held here, and the veterans propose to form a local branch on July 8.

Neenah.—John Strange of this city was elected president and Rev. Henry Stauffer of Menasha chosen superintendent at the Fox River meeting of the Efficiency league. Rev. Henry Stauffer was chosen delegate to the national convention of the Anti-Saloon league to be held at Atlantic City, July 6 to 9.

Oskosh.—The Paine factories, recently forced into bankruptcy and running under a receivership, are running seven hours a day. A policy of strict economy and increased efficiency has marked the management under the receivership.

Mineral Point.—The New Jersey Zinc company is planning to increase its capital from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000 and to distribute the $25,000,000 increase to stockholders in the form of a stock dividend of 250 per cent.

Neenah.—Four public playgrounds have been established in this city. Three are located at the ward school buildings and the other at the city's municipal playground. An average of twenty children a day are receiving instructions in various branches of sport.

CZAR CONFERRING WITH GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS

This photograph, the latest one of the czar of Russia, shows him in conference with the Grand Duke Nicholas, the commander in chief of the Russian forces. The "Little Father of the Russians" and his chief military aid are planning the next movements of the Russian army. Plans and details of the country are before them, and magnifying glasses aid them in the study of the physical conditions of the country. The attendants are awaiting orders.

INGENIOUS POSITION OF SERBIAN BATTERY

Established under the protection of a solidly constructed railway arch, the Serbians are bombarding the enemy's position with comparative safety.

Under the Willows.

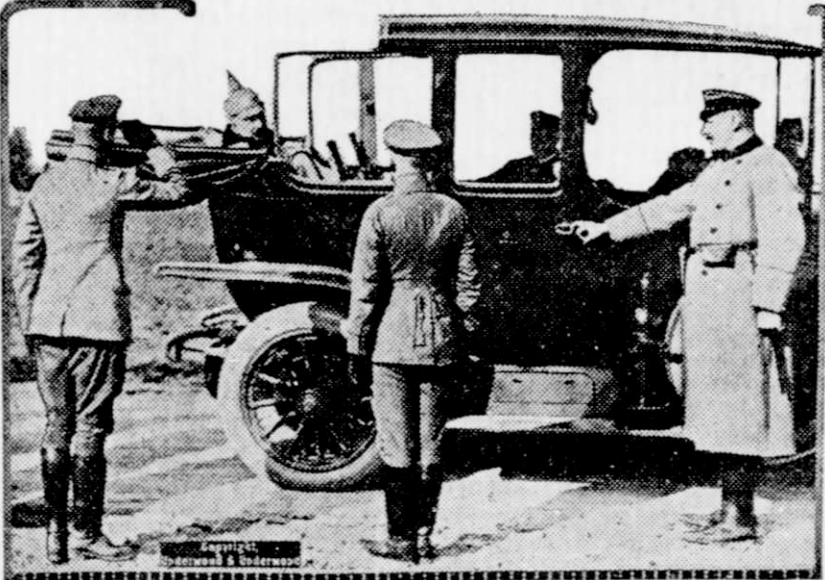

Because the European supply of willow rods has been largely cut off several American manufacturers of willow furniture and baskets have asked the department of agriculture for the addresses of persons in this country who have taken up willow growing. For some years the department has distributed willow cuttings of imported varieties with a view to developing the production of high grade willow rods in the United States. The usual imports of willows come chiefly from England, Belgium, Holland, France and Germany, but these sources have been practically closed for several months.

An Aggrieved Relative.
"I lost a couple of chickens last night," said the man who lives in the suburbs.
"Well, boss," replied Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "I speaks I knows who found 'em. I done tol' my brother Sam 'bout dem chickens an' requested him special to let 'em alone tell I gits my night off next Wednesday."

and landed squarely in the crotch of the tree. So tightly did his body become wedged between the branches that it required fifteen minutes' work on the part of the park guards before he could be released.

Euchred.

YOUTH CYCLED UP A TREE

Wheel Pitched Him Into Branches, Where He Was Held Fifteen Minutes Before Released.

While coasting down a steep grade on Hermit lane, Wissahickon, Joseph Ritter, eighteen years old, Philadelphia, was severely injured when he lost control of his bicycle and collided with a tree. He was taken to St. Timothy's hospital, where it was found he had fractured his left arm. The youth had reached the middle of the Hermit hill when the wheels of his bicycle began to skid from the excessive speed.

Ritter found that he was unable to check the momentum of his wheel and tried to steer it to one side of the lane to avoid a collision with an approaching motorcycle. With a sudden swerve the bicycle was sent bounding over the brick gutter at the margin of the road and hit the tree with such force that it was crumpled into scrap iron. Ritter was hurled into the air

The CZARS SPY The Mystery of a Silent Love By Chevalier WILLIAM LE QUEUX

CHAPTER VII. Contains a Surprise. The first object brought to light, about two feet beneath the surface, was a piece of dark gray woolen stuff...

CHAPTER VI.—Continued. I at once gladly accepted her invitation to investigate the curious disappearance of the body of poor Olintho's fellow-victim...

"You tell me, Miss Muriel, that you suspect the truth, and yet you deny all knowledge of the murdered man?" I exclaimed in a tone of slight reproach.

Rannoch wood was already in its mid-brown glory of autumn, and as I stood with Muriel Lethcourt on the edge of it, near the spot where Olintho Santini had fallen...

"Very well," I answered. "Let us start here, and first take a small circle, examining every bush carefully. The body may have easily been pushed in beneath a thicket and well escape observation."

Soon we came to a deep wooded ravine of the existence of which I was in ignorance. It was a kind of small glen through which a rivulet flowed, but the banks were covered with a thick impenetrable undergrowth.

NEW IDEA IN GOVERNMENT Hard to Raise Objection to the Latest Phase, Which is Practical Benevolence. Here at last is a form of governmental benevolence against which no possible objection can be urged.

Changing Diet of the Chinese. Americans who have been influenced by the Orient to the extent of taking their tea clear, without milk or sugar, will be astonished to learn that the Occident is now bent on teaching the Chinese to use milk with their decoction of tea leaves—and condensed milk at that.

"But if the identity of the dead woman is established?" I asked. "It might furnish me with a clue," she exclaimed quickly. "Yes, try and discover who she is."
