KEWASKUM IN GALA ATTIRE

Final Preparations for the Mammoth Homecoming Celebration are Finished and Our City is Already to Welcome Its Guests

PREPARATIONS FOR LARGE CROWD MADE

All the Amusements and Concessions are in Place and the City is Receiving Its Finishing Touch in Decorations

The village of Kewaskum is now in gala attire and everything is in readiness for our mammoth homecoming celebration to be held this evening and Sunday, July 24th and 25th. Great preparations have been made and with the weather permitting, we expect to entertain one of the largest crowds ever brought together in the confines of our little city. The various committees in charge have spared neither time nor money in order to make this homecoming one that will go down in history as the one great event of Kewaskum's career. The amusements and concessions are all in place and the streets and residences present a fairly like appearance with their mass of American flags and bunting. All that remains for us to do now is to welcome the crowd of visitors expected from every part of the state. The key to the village has been thrown away and everything will be done to make our guests feel that they are welcome. The homecoming program will open this (Saturday) evening with a spectacular fire run at 7:15 by the Kewaskum department; to be followed by a reception of visitors at the depot upon the arrival of the 8:30 train. At 9 o'clock there will be a grand display of fireworks at the ball park. The Campbellsport brass band will render music throughout the evening. On Sunday at 8:40 a. m., a reception will be held at the depot when the Milwaukee-Kewaskum delegations arrive. Band concerts will be given by the Campbellsport and West Bend brass bands. At 10:30 a grand auto parade will take place to be followed by the big homecoming picnic in the afternoon at the North Side Park. The program in the park during the afternoon will consist of a welcome address to homecomers by Hon. Judge A. C. Backus of Milwaukee who will be introduced by Val Peters, president of the Kewaskum Advancement Association. This address will be followed by band concerts, dancing, free attractions by the Taggart Troupe, amusements, sports and games of all descriptions. In the evening the big homecoming hall will be held for which music will be furnished by the Kewaskum orchestra of seven pieces, and free performances by the Three Taggarts.

The Milwaukee delegation expect to have at least from 1000 to 1200 people. The Wisconsin Veterans Drum Corps will act as their escort. Last but not least, do not miss this celebration, as it will prove to be the banner event of the year. Come and meet old acquaintances and friends and make new ones by joining in the festivities of the day.

EDWARD GIBBONS SHOT BY NEPHEW?

Eden Farmer in Hospital Suffering From Three Bullet Wounds. Details Lacking. Relatives Say Shooting Was Accidental. District Attorney is Conducting Investigation

Edward Gibbons, aged 48, a farmer residing four miles southeast of the village of Eden is in a serious condition at St. Agnes hospital as the result of three wounds said to have been inflicted by a gun in the hands of his nephew, Robert Gibbons. District Attorney L. J. Fellenz is investigating the matter. Relatives of the injured man today informed a representative of The Reporter that the shooting was accidental. Gibbons was placed in an automobile and was brought to the hospital in this city where an examination revealed three bullet wounds, one in the hip, another in his left arm, and a third in the back of his head. A shot gun loaded with fine shot is said to have been the weapon used. Details of the shooting are lacking. A relative of the injured man, declined to make any statement further than that the shooting was accidental.

According to an attending physician the charge fired into the back of Mr. Gibbons' head consisted of approximately sixty fine shot. None of them are believed to have penetrated the skull. The wound in his hip is said to be the one considered most dangerous.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

Bullet Injures Young Man

Charles Horner, son of Supt. Horner of the Barton Gravel and Sand Co., had a miraculous escape from death last Sunday afternoon when a 32 caliber automatic revolver in the hands of a companion accidentally discharged. The revolver was the property of young Horner and while the weapon was being handled in the presence of friends the accident occurred. The bullet, which entered the right leg at the thigh and passed clear through, barely missing the bone. It had such penetrating power that after it left the leg it made an impression on several obstacles it struck. After the report of the gun, Horner said, "I am shot," but his friends took it as a joke until they noticed blood trickling through his trousers. He was then hurriedly rushed to the office of a physician and after the wound was dressed the young man was removed to the home of John Koehler at Barton. At present the injured young man is doing nicely and unless complications set in he will be able to be around in a short time.—West Bend Pilot.

Splendid Atlas of Washington and Ozaukee Counties

Dupham, the representative of the Northwestern Atlas Co., is in the city and at work in the office of the register of deeds, correcting up a dummy atlas which the company has ready of the two counties, in which work he will have the able assistance of County Clerk Thielen during the latter's spare time. We have seen the dummy of the new atlas and assure persons interested that the new atlas will be right up to the minute in every respect. A work of this kind ought to be encouraged as much as possible and even though the price may seem high it is a work that has not a ready sale for the reason that it is not of value to the average citizen of the county. No business man should be without a copy and if your order has as yet not been placed for a copy it should be done at once. The book will be ready in about three months.—West Bend Pilot.

Do you know it is more important to keep the bowels regular during hot weather than any other time. It is because germs are all over flies, mosquitoes, bugs, etc., all carry dangerous diseases. Hallister's Rocky Mountain Tea will keep the bowels regular the system cool, and clear.—Edw. C. Miller.

JUDGE F. S. TURNER DEAD

The Last Prominent Figure in Old Washington County Gone

At his home in Port Washington Judge Eugene S. Turner died last week Thursday, July 15, 1915, as a result of advanced age, being over 91 years old. He was one of the very few left who could look back to the beginning of Washington County and of Ozaukee County both originally being one county and up to the closing years of his life enjoyed a clear memory of historical incidents which have entered the dim shadow of the past.

Judge Turner was born at East Oswego, N. Y., June 14, 1824. He came to Wisconsin with his parents in 1840, the family landing in Milwaukee on May 11 of that year. They settled on Government land, three miles west of Prairieville, now Waukesha, Wis. He received his early education in Oswego Academy and then began the study of law. In 1846 he was admitted to the bar and located at Grafton. In the succeeding winter of 1846-47 was assistant secretary of the Territorial Executive Council. In 1849 he was elected assemblyman from Washington County. In 1850 he defeated Leland Stanford for the office of district attorney in this county. It is said that Stanford took his defeat so hard that he removed to California—and subsequently became one of the richest and most prominent men of the nation. Judge Turner held that office during several other terms.

When in 1853, after thirteen years of wrangling over the site for the county seat, Washington County was divided by an act of the Legislature. Judge Turner was opposed believing it to be a violation of the popular will. But when the supreme court proclaimed the division as constitutional he submitted to the new order of things. This ended his connection with political life in Washington County. In 1862 he helped to organize at Janesville the War Democracy which became a part of the newly born Republican party. Upon the death of Judge Leopold Eghart, one time a member of the "Latin Settlement" in the town of Farmington, Mr. Turner was appointed County Judge of Ozaukee County and held that office until about ten years ago.

Judge Turner on August 20, 1860 was married to Frances H. E. Gove of Waukesha. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Wright of Wauwatosa and Mrs. C. H. Eccle of Port Washington and five grandchildren.

The funeral was held last Sunday morning under the auspices of Ozaukee Lodge No. 17, F. & A. M., the deceased being the oldest Wisconsin-made Mason in the state. The body was conveyed to Waukesha for interment.—West Bend News.

Fishermen Look to Weight

In view of the fact that there are such a large number of fishermen in the northern half of the state at this time trying their luck for pike and the various kinds of bass, it will be interesting for them to acquaint themselves with the law regarding the size or weight of the fish which they are after. The law states specifically that pike caught must be at least one pound in weight. Oswego, black, green and yellow bass must be at least 10 inches in length. Muskellunge must be at least 5 pounds in weight. Croppie should be 7 inches in length.

Wide Sleigh Law Killed

A piece of legislation which interests every farmer and which has attracted much attention and aroused no little discontent, known as the wide sleigh law, has been thrown into the discard. The law was recently repealed by the legislature. This law was opposed chiefly on the ground that it required a width of sleigh that would track with other vehicles and much inconvenience was thereby caused.

KEWASKUM HOME-COMING NOTES

What Other Editors Say of The Kewaskum Homecoming to be Held Here Saturday Evening and Sunday, July 24th and 25th

Kewaskum is preparing for its annual Homecoming which is to be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 24 and 25. That community, the liveliest one in the northern part of the county, believes in keeping its name before the people as though it had inherited some traits of that Indian chieftain whose name it bears. It is an example of no little civic pride and push.

The Homecoming extends over two days, and everybody in the village seems to work in harmony with the committee on arrangements to make this year's affair cap all those of previous years. And to explain what this means it is only necessary to say that the former festivities of this sort were very respectable affairs.

One of the new features will be a prize auto parade. To encourage visitors from surrounding towns prizes have been offered for the largest number of autos from these towns. The town having the largest number of autos in the parade will receive $15, the town with the second largest number gets $9, and the town with the third largest number $5. Automobile owners who wish to take part in the parade will have to register with Otto E. Lay.

The citizens of Kewaskum invite all their outside friends to meet them on home grounds on these days, and assure them of all the hospitality their fair village is capable of.—West Bend News.

The Milwaukee-Kewaskum Homecoming club, about 1,000 strong will make an excursion to Kewaskum, Wis., July 25, to participate in the festivities. The train will leave the Northwestern depot at 7:30 a. m. Returning trains will leave Kewaskum 7:26 and 11 p. m.

At Kewaskum the club will be met by two brass bands. At 10:30 a. m., an auto parade will be held in the afternoon a picnic will take place at North Side Park. Judge A. C. Backus, Milwaukee, will deliver the address. Festivities will close with a grand homecomers' ball at North Side Park—Milwaukee Journal.

Extensive arrangements have been made to greet former citizens. Upon the arrival of the special train from Milwaukee, the excursionists will be serenaded by two bands.—Milwaukee Free Press

TOOK OWN LIFE WITH SHOT GUN

Albert Wehlitz, Farmer, Commits Suicide at Family Home Near Campbellport

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN INSANE

Body Found in Blood Spattered Bedroom at Late Hour by His Brother

While temporarily deranged Albert Wehlitz, age 25, a farmer, committed suicide some time on Tuesday at the family home two miles northeast of Campbellport in the town of Auburn, by shooting himself with a 12 gauge single barreled shot gun belonging to his brother.

The body was found about 7:30 o'clock last night in a bedroom at the family home. The face of the suicide had been practically shot to pieces, one of his eyes blown out and an ear torn away by the contents of the gun, which was still clasped tightly in a death grip by the victim.

Before taking his life Wehlitz had carefully undressed and gotten into bed and then placing the shotgun between his knees and with the muzzle a few inches below the chin had pulled the trigger. The shot not only tore his face away but also penetrated his neck and forehead and it is believed that death was instantaneous. The force of the discharge spattered the walls and ceiling of the bedroom with the blood of the victim.

Wehlitz had been employed for some time on the farm of Frank Brunet near Campbellport, but on Monday evening Mr. Brunet brought the young man home and at the same time warned William Wehlitz a brother of Albert, to watch the latter as he had been acting queerly. The older brother paid no attention to the matter however.

The last time Albert Wehlitz was seen alive was about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning when his brother William, while driving to the cheese factory noticed Albert walking toward home across the fields. Nothing more was seen or heard of him during the remainder of the day and it is believed that in the morning he went directly to his room and ended his life.

The body was discovered between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening by William Wehlitz who immediately summoned a Campbellport physician. As the corpse was rigid when found it was evident that the suicide had been dead for several hours. Deputy Coroner Joseph Murray of Fond du Lac was notified and after going to the Wehlitz home and conducting an investigation decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. Wehlitz is survived by his father Ferdinand; three brothers Otto, Herman and William, all at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hadley of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Julius Haacke of Milwaukee.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Sunday while Chas. Schwartz and family were in this village a workman decamped with about $15 worth of goods, including a watch money, clothes, etc. The young man had been in the employ of Mr. Schwartz for a number of weeks, and was considered trustworthy. When the man's absence was discovered Mr. Schwartz suspected that something was wrong and an investigation resulted in the discovery of the theft. The young man hails from Milwaukee and an effort will be made to locate him.—Lomira Review.

Miss Helen Horn the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horn, of this city, had an operation performed at the General hospital in this city on Tuesday. Six years ago the girl stepped onto a nail, and while the wound healed it left a callous which at times gave her trouble. Recently a sore formed on top of the foot and an operation became necessary. When the wound was opened a piece of some foreign substance was found it having the appearance of a piece of stocking.—West Bend Pilot.

An eastbound freight train was wrecked between five and six o'clock last evening just west of Fox Lake. One car was derailed and the track somewhat damaged. John Gorman and his section crew were taken to the scene and had the track clear by ten o'clock. The wreck occurred near the trestle across the upper end of Beaver Dam lake, which was the scene of another wreck a few weeks ago, where several cars of a stock train left the rails.—Beaver Dam Argus.

A telephone call was put through one day last week from Madison to San Francisco, California. The parties talked eleven minutes and the toll charged amounted to $2. It is seldom that we hear of a call covering such a great distance and costing so large a sum of money. Possibly the size of the toll charge accounts for the rarity of such calls.

The August Stoltz saloon at Stoltzville, near New London, was partly wrecked by the explosion of a beer keg. Stoltz was forcing gas into the keg to facilitate the flow of the beer when an explosion nearly demolished the bar and painfully injured the proprietor, who was struck in the side by a fragment of the keg.—Hartford Times.

The Bayfield berry season has opened in earnest. More than 100 crates were shipped Wednesday and others have followed daily. High prices are being secured, 24-pint crates selling for $1.50 and 16-pint crates at $2.25 as compared with $1.60 at Menomonee and still lower prices elsewhere.

M. P. Gilpatrick, proprietor of Hotel Gilpatrick in Milwaukee and for years a successful host and restaurateur, has taken possession of hotel Walworth at White-water.

Wm. Marquardt of Dundee had a narrow escape from serious injury last week, when he was caught in a hay rope and pulled into a pulley. His left hand was badly torn.

Dies in Town of Barton

Mrs. Katherine Luhn died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Roecker in the town of Barton on last week Thursday, July 15. Mrs. Luhn was visiting with relatives in the town since attending the funeral of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Fromm, who died of heart trouble at the cattle yards at West Bend on May 1, and while at her daughter's home took ill and died. Death being due to diabetes. Mrs. Luhn was born in Germany in the year 1833 and had passed the age of eighty-two years. She immigrated to this country with her parents and was married to Jacob Luhn, who preceded her in death thirty-seven years ago. She made her home in town Scott ever since her marriage and the last years resided with her daughter, Mrs. Emil Gessner in town Scott. She was the mother of ten children, four sons and six daughters, of whom five daughters survive her name: Anna, Mrs. William Fromm, Christina, Mrs. Henry Roecker and Marie, Mrs. Christ Klein of town Barton, Louise, Mrs. Emil Gessner and Katie, Mrs. Ed. Lubach of town Scott. The funeral was held Sunday with services in the Evangelical church at Beechwood after which the remains were interred in the cemetery at Silver Creek.

MAY BE FINAL NOTE

WILSON AND LANSING AGREE ON FIRM ANSWER TO KAISER—LAW TO BE BASIS.

WILL REAFFIRM SEA RIGHTS

Berlin Must Not Use Situation as a Club to Strike England—Indisputable Right of American Ships to Sail Seas Main Contention.

Washington, July 21.—Germany will be told substantially in the note now being prepared at the state department and the White House that she must not use the present situation as a club to hit Great Britain or to force the American government to settle her controversies with the English government.

This decision stands out prominently as the one new definite statement of the attitude on the part of the United States toward Germany. Officials declare it will appear in the forthcoming restatement of the case of the United States to Germany on the Lusitania tragedy and all correlated subjects.

President Wilson, who returned here Monday, lost no time in getting the written views of the legal experts of the state department and both written and oral communications from Secretary of State Lansing as to what the reply should be.

The president made no comment on the conference except to indicate, as is his desire, that there should be no "speculation" on the forthcoming reply. This much is nevertheless known as coming from official sources.

The president and the secretary of state had no reason to again discuss the physical facts with respect to the Lusitania. The history of that tragedy is complete and unchangeable so far as facts are concerned.

The subjects of discussion between the president and Mr. Lansing, it is asserted, were solely on the "legal aspects" of the issue between the two countries.

The legal arguments were presented to the president in documents voluminous enough to fill the portfolio of the secretary of state which he took to the White House.

After the conference at the White House there was the usual series of unauthorized statements to the effect that the situation was "grave, if not critical," etc. Secretary of State Lansing and the president said nothing.

A most capable authority in answer to a question as to what the German note meant to the White House in plain language, said:

"The German reply, stripped of unnecessary language, is simply that the operations of her submarines are justified as reprisals against Great Britain. In other words, that neutrals must keep out of the war zones because they have no right there under international law.

"The answer of the United States to that is that we have the absolute right to send our ships to German ports and to British ports unless we are shut out by processes recognized by international law.

"Germany is, therefore, to be advised once more of our position as thus outlined and we are to await her reply.

"Germany is also to be told for the first time in language that cannot be misunderstood that there is a distinct line of cleavage between the Anglo-American issues and the American-German issues."

From the views of American officials, it seems they now understand the facts in the German-American issue as they have been heretofore bluntly expressed by a very high German official. He said that the crux of the whole question was whether the United States had the right, without challenge, to sail all seas.

FRANK'S THROAT CUT RUSS FRONT PIERCED

FELLOW PRISONER SLASHES HIM WITH BUTCHER KNIFE.

Miscraent's Only Excuse is That "He Thought It Should Be Done"—To Start Investigation.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 20.—Leo M. Frank is lying in the Georgia state prison hospital with a jagged wound in his throat made by a fellow prisoner armed with a butcher knife. Attendants say he has a fighting chance for recovery.

Willard Green, a fellow convict, also serving a life term for murder, slashed Frank as the latter slept in his bunk in a dormitory late Saturday night.

An investigation of the attack probably will be conducted by the Georgia prison commission, the same body that refused to recommend that Frank's death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan be commuted to life imprisonment. Reports from Atlanta were that Governor Harris intimated he would start such an investigation to ascertain if Green acted entirely of his own volition.

Green said, when taken from solitary confinement long enough to be questioned, that he planned the attack alone and that no one knew what he intended to do. He was not communicative and gave as his only excuse that "he thought it should be done." He said, however, he regretted his acts.

Frank was quartered at night in a dormitory with about 100 other prisoners and occupied a bunk about 40 feet from one of the two doors to the large room. Green's bunk was fourth from his. No prisoner is allowed to leave his place without permission from one of the two guards stationed at the dormitory at night. Shortly after eleven o'clock Green called out for permission to get up and it was granted.

He started down the line of bunks toward the one occupied by Frank. As he reached it he quickly grabbed Frank by the hair and delivered one blow with the knife he had concealed. A guard rushed to the bunk and prevented Green from striking again.

Among prisoners who rushed to Frank's aid were two physicians, one of whom also was serving a life term for murder. They gave first aid and treated the wound until Dr. Guy Compton, the prison physician, was summoned from his home, half a mile away. The three men took 25 stitches in Frank's neck. Dr. H. J. Rosenberg, the Frank family physician, arrived from Atlanta with nurses. He said that, while the patient's condition was precarious, he had a chance for life.

GERMANS CLOSING TRAP IN MOVE TO SMASH RUSSIAN ARMY.

Two-Thirds of the Kaiser's Army Thrown into Great Battle in the East.

London, July 20.—North and south the Germans have pierced the Russian front, according to dispatches from Berlin and Vienna, and the millions of Von Hindenburg and the other millions under Von Mackensen are smashing forward to close the gap behind Warsaw and trap, crush and destroy the greater portion of the Russian armies.

On a front of more than 400 miles, in a campaign unparalleled in history for daring and startling maneuvers and the colossal number of men engaged, Teuton and Slav are at death grips. More than 10,000,000 are reported fighting on both sides. No less than two thirds of the Germans under arms have been thrown into this eastern battle, according to the estimates of military experts, while practically the entire strength of Austria-Hungary has been added to the Armageddon on which hangs the fate of nations.

The long maturing plans of Von Hindenburg, the Prussian military genius, which it has been predicted will startle the world, are in process of quick development. Leading his own legions, he has split and broken the Russian front south of Pzrasnyev, and hurling his armies forward on the heels of the rapidly retreating Slavs, has extended his advance until it approaches the banks of the Narva.

Meanwhile in the south, the armies under Von Mackensen which for the last two weeks have been shifting front and apparently were inactive, began a massive movement against the Lublin-Cholm railway in concert with Hindenburg's northern drive and breaking the Russian front near Krasnostav, 34 miles south of Lublin, are sweeping in tremendous strength against the railroad upon which the grand duke depends for his supplies.

FORMATION OF NEW COUNTY IS OPPOSED

SHAWANO OFFICIALS PROTEST TO SENATE AGAINST LOSS OF SIX TOWNSHIPS.

IS FOR LARGER FAIR FUND

Senator Everett Puts in Request for Increased Appropriation and Senator Ackley Pleads For Cuts.

Madison, July 21, 1915.

The senate sitting as a committee of the whole heard arguments on the proposed county of Burke it is proposed to carve out of the counties of Outagamie and Shawano.

The bill detaches six counties from Shawano county to make Outagamie county large enough to come under the constitutional provision for mileage, when a county can be divided without a vote of the people. A companion bill creates the new county, after which it is proposed to return to Shawano county four of the six towns, retaining two in the new county created.

10,000 Persons Affected

M. J. Wallrich of Shawano, District Attorney Andrews, T. B. Reid and others spoke against the bill. Senator Burke spoke for the bill. Mr. Wallrich said that if the six towns were taken away from Shawano it would remove territory up to within a stone's throw of the courthouse of Shawano county in the county seat. It would further, Mr. Wallrich said, take away six of the best towns of the county. The chairman of every one of the towns, he said, had protested both to the legislative committee that came there and to the governor, against the splitting up of Shawano county. The proposed cut, he said, would take $10,000,000 of property and 10,000 people from Shawano county. The bill, if passed, he maintained, would set a precedent which would leave no county safe.

Urges Large Fair Fund

Senator Everett of Racine introduced an amendment to his bill, No. 6358, providing an appropriation for improvements and buildings on the state fair grounds in Milwaukee. If amended as proposed the bill will appropriate $45,000 for construction of swine and sheep barns and judging pavilions, $10,000 for the repair and construction of fences and the enclosure of open structures, $25,000 for the construction of a poultry building, $25,000 for sanitation and sewerage purposes, and $150,000 for construction of a new grandstand. The appropriation for the grandstand is spread over a period of three years, one-third to be available each year.

Gov. Phillip signed the Johnson bill creating a state department of agriculture to manage the state fair and look after the activities of all agricultural and kindred societies and associations receiving state moneys. The new department is to be in charge of a commissioner, who is to be appointed for four years and receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

Would Cut Appropriations

Senator Ackley proposed to reduce the appropriation of the Stout institute from $55,000 to $50,000; the appropriation from $110,000 to $50,000; and the appropriation to the state historical society from $50,000 to $30,000. He announced that he would present amendments to all appropriations bills which would materially reduce the appropriations carried and which would be in harmony with the economy program of Gov. Phillip.

May Repeal New Bill

Senator Bray introduced a new bill repealing chapter 206 of the laws of 1915, one of the laws enacted at the present session of the legislature, exempting grain from taxation and providing for an occupational tax on operators of grain elevators and warehouses. Mr. Bray said that it had been discovered that the new law would reduce the tax derived by cities from this source a large amount annually, Milwaukee losing about $75,000 and Superior equally as much. The provisions of the law allowing taxes paid under it to be an offset against income taxes levied against the owners of the grain would result, Mr. Bray said, in practically exempting grain in warehouses and elevators from taxation. The new bill was referred to the finance committee.

Has Plan to Hasten Session's End

Believing that if members of the finance committee and the governor reach an agreement on appropriation bills before those measures are acted upon by the legislature considerable

The appropriation for the grandstand is spread over a period of three years, one-third to be available each year.

Gov. Phillip Signed the Nye Bill

Gov. Phillip signed the Nye bill, providing for the taxation of piers, docks and warehouses of railroad companies as if they were separate property and providing that taxes on such property shall be paid by the municipality in which the property is located.

The governor also signed the bill creating a new state conservation commission to take over the duties of the state fish and game warden, commissioners of fisheries, and forestry commission. The measure provides for a commission consisting of three members to serve for four years at a salary of $3,500 a year each. The appointments will be made by the governor.

Senate Concurred in the Amendment

The senate concurred in the amendment to the general medical bill and the bill will now go to the governor for approval. The amendment provides that any person practicing the science of chiropractic may continue to do so without license, but must not hold themselves out as licensed or registered practitioners and must post a card bearing the statement that they are in their office.

Joint Memorial Resolution

A joint memorial resolution, introduced by Assemblyman Winegar, on the late Philip Norcross, Janesville, was adopted.

Amended Stempner Act Passed

The senate adopted the Budlong amendment to the Stempner bill, relating to the issuing of saloon licenses, and then concurred in the bill as amended by a vote of 18 to 4.

The bill provides that one license shall be issued for each 500 inhabitants or fraction thereof in any town, village or city, the population to be determined by the last preceding national census, or official estimates made by the board of census of the United States government.

This changes the provision of the Baker law on the question of ratio of license to population, the provision in the Baker law being one license to 250 inhabitants. The provision of the bill relating to the re-licensing of the Milwaukee saloons which were put out of business by the court decision a year ago, gives the chief of police authority to determine whether locations shall be reinstated and granted a license or be abandoned for saloon purposes.

Assemblyman Crosby won a minor engagement in the assembly when he restored to standing his bill 52a which had been indefinitely postponed during his absence. The bill provides for an experiment in marketing by establishing a department in connection with the dairy and food commission and appropriate $2,000 for the purpose. The vote by which it was killed was reconsidered and the bill then was ordered to engrossment.

MAN TO PAY HAS THE SAY

87 Per Cent of Vote Cast by Property Owners—Carries by Majority of 171—Purchase Includes 128 Acres of Land.

Kenosha.—Acting on the belief that "the man to pay is the man to say," nontaxpayers in Kenosha refused to take any part in the election to decide on the issue of $125,000 bonds for the purchase of park lands.

It was the most unusual election ever held in Kenosha and more than 87 per cent of the total vote was cast by property owners.

The proposed bond issue carried by a majority of 171 votes. Many leaders among the workmen of the city strongly in favor of the parks worked hard to secure the success of the bond issue, but they themselves declined to vote.

The parks to be purchased include 128 acres of land. A portion of it is located on the north side of the city and the remainder on the south side. The bonds will be issued at once.

He admitted that he was in Waukesha between 9 and 10 o'clock on the night of the fire which started about 9:30 o'clock. He left the National hotel at 9:25 to take a train for Fond du Lac which left the city at 9:32. LITTLE DIFFERENCE IN TIME

Didn't Matter to Old Darkey in Kentucky Whether Watch Was Regulated by Sun or Railroad.

A prominent lawyer tells this tale of the hills of Kentucky. He had been in Jackson during the hearing of a big land case, and after the strain of several weeks in the courtroom had decided to take a trip up in the mountains and enjoy the quiet influence of the hills. He traveled the paths and narrow mountain roads till he found himself at the end of several days' journey about forty or fifty miles from the railroad. It was about noon, the lawyer judged, for his watch had run down and he could not be exact. But in the midst of this deep contemplation the lawyer came upon an old darkey sitting upon a bowler alongside the road. "What time have you?" he asked of the old darkey. "Well suh, boss, the old Waterberry says she's about 10 minutes to 12," was the reply. "Is that sun time or railroad time?" again questioned the lawyer. "What diffence does that make? One am about as fer from here as the other,"—Louisville Times.

Self-Effacement.

"Are you going to your wife's party?" asked the old friend. "No," replied Mr. Canurox. "The last time we had a party I attended and couldn't find anybody to talk to." "Then you are not a success in society?" "No. The most I can do is to stay in hiding and not injure the prospects of mother and the girls."

A Versatile Man.

"I couldn't get along without my doctor." "No?" "When I'm sick he tells me a funny story and I get well."

Does he make out his bill to professional service or entertainment?"

Creating That Impression.

"I see it again stated that eating onions regularly will make a person live a long time. Do you suppose there is any truth in that theory?" "I can't say, but eating onions regularly will probably make a person's life seem long to other people with whom he comes in contact."

A Candidate for Reform.

"What are you so gloomy about?" asked the warden. "The offense for which you were sent to this prison might have been much more serious." "That's what depresses me. I'm afraid they ain't goin' to let me stay here long enough to finish me education."

Hands Up! Ever hear that sort of a command? We hope not, but if you ever should hear it and were carrying around a pocket full of money we'll bet that you would feel rather shaky when your hands go into the air. But, if you had adopted the modern plan, had your money in a good safe bank like ours, a holdup would not worry you so much. The robber might "lift" your check book but it wouldn't do him any good, and we would give you another one. Moral, keep your money in the bank. Bank of Kewaskum Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Switzerland normally sells $3,000,000 worth of cheese to the United States yearly. Germany possessed about a thousand aeroplanes at the beginning of the war. China has an area of a million and a half square miles, and a population of 300,000,000. Bronze is an alloy of copper and tin. Modern torpedoes have a range slightly exceeding 7,000 yards.

At the equator the diameter of the earth is 7,926 miles. Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, takes its name from a castle which was erected on the banks of the Tyne in 1050. "Half-timers"—i. e. children who are partly workers and partly students—number about 70,000 in England and Wales. Covent garden, London's greatest vegetable and fruit market, was once a convent garden, owned by the monks of Westminster.

Unbroken Chain.

So subtle and so persuasive is the law of association, that it is influential, even when we are hardly conscious of its existence. The chance word from the lips of a friend, falling upon tinder, the vision of some grave or wise one, held up to the glance of fancy so often that it has become the ideal model of the heart's aspiring; the music of some old word greeting the ear with a strange melody, have fixed the tone of a spirit and have fashioned the direction of a life. The world is just one unbroken chain of these actions and reactions. We are bound by them, and we can no escape from them than we can fling ourselves beyond the influence of the law of gravitation, or refuse to be trammelled by the all-embracing air.

Many Changes in Cabinet.

There were more changes in the cabinet of the ninth administration of the United States than any in the history of the United States. The campaign which preceded it was known as "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," which elected General William Henry Harrison, with John Tyler as vice-president. Harrison died one month after his inauguration on March 4, 1841. When Tyler became president he retained the same cabinet members, but they soon resigned, and by the end of four years the country had had five secretaries of state, four of the treasury, four of war and five of navy. The cause of these rapid changes was owing to the fact that Tyler had broken faith with the party that had elected him.

Luxemburg covers 1,000 square miles, and has a population of 260,000. Live bees are allowed to pass by letter post within the United Kingdom. Many women are among the 120 volunteers who are furnishing blood for wounded soldiers in Dr. Alexis Carrel's hospital in Lyons.

WAR ROMANCE CULMINATES IN BRITISH HOSPITAL

A war romance, which is the talk of Winnipeg, Canada, where the principals of the story reside, has just culminated in the marriage at an English hospital of Miss Stonehouse to her soldier sweetheart, who was brought back from the front incapacitated by wounds received in heroic action on the fighting lines. The bridegroom left Canada with one of the first of the Canadian contingents. His name listed among the wounded impelled Miss Stonehouse to leave her home in Winnipeg to make the long journey of 4,000 miles to comfort her wounded soldier sweetheart. The photograph shows the happy pair, groom with head bandaged, bride at his left. The groom is being congratulated by his bunkie, who had been wheeled out to the grounds of the hospital in order to be present at the wedding.

When Tommy "Put Out to Sea."

Describing the death of a British Tommy who had been riddled with shrapnel, an army surgeon in London on leave said:

"As we laid the poor fellow tenderly on the hospital cot, suddenly he began to sing Tennyson's 'Crossing the Bar' to Sir Joseph Barnby's beautiful setting. His voice was one of the sweetest tenors I ever heard. Doctors, nurses and orderlies gathered at his bedside listening, in silence, deeply moved, while he sang the song through to the end, his strength waning with each verse. It was almost in a whisper that he finished the line, 'And may there be no moaning at the bar when I put out to sea.' A moment later he was dead."

Greatest Living Poet.

There is no "great poet" living today. Between the few so-called poets of today there is but little choice. This is not an age of poetry. The atmosphere of the time would instantly choke a real poet to death. The chances are, however, that we will have some real poets later on when this war is over, and the real soul of humanity begins to assert itself.

Device for Fastening Doors.

Placing a wedge under a door is one of the most effectual means for keeping it closed, for pushing upon the door from the outside only increases the effect of the wedge. A convenient device of this kind is made of metal, and it not only serves to wedge the door but also contains a mechanical bell mounted on the same base and behind the wedge in such way that pressure on the face of the wedge by the door causes the bell to ring. The base carries a set of short points underneath so that it can be put in place and grips upon the carpet or flooring so as not to slide out of position. Such a device can be carried in the pocket and it is to be recommended for traveling.

A Prayer.

Let me have a good sense of proportion. Let me live more in today, instead of living so greatly in the past and counting so largely upon the future. Teach me to realize that regrets over the past will get me nothing while too great preparations for the future may find me in my grave and unable to cash in on the climax. Teach me to realize that the man who spends all his earnings is simply and solely an asset to his relatives. Enable me to get into the cheerful frame of mind where today always looks fair and bright, where all the disagreeable things in the past are forgotten and where the future does not assume a vastly overrated importance in the present.

Foreigners in Chinese Service.

Many foreigners are engaged by the Chinese government in its various departments, either in the customs, railways, post offices, or other branches. According to the latest information the total is 3,948 persons, whose nationalities are as follows: British, 1,105; French, 1,003; Germans, 533; Russian, 463; American, 174; Japanese, 207; Italian, 75; Austrian, 50; Belgian, 171; others, 158.

CONDENSATIONS

In the early days a bandmaster beat time with his foot. Not until 1820 was the baton first introduced. Gas was used to replace candles and lamps at a factory in Manchester in 1805, two years before the illuminant was introduced into London. Sixty years' supply of natural gas at the present rate of consumption has been wasted in Oklahoma in recent years, according to government figures.

Lances used by the British cavalry have shafts of ash or bamboo. George I revived the Most Honorable Order of the Bath in 1725. Prussia, in normal seasons, produces slightly more oats than does Canada. Light takes eight minutes and thirteen seconds to travel from the sun to the earth. At the first of the year, according to a government estimate, there were 195,577,000 farm animals in the United States, a gain in a year of about 7,922,000.

Owning nearly 3,000 miles of line, the Great Western railway is the longest in Great Britain. Under the Hague convention of 1907, prisoners of war are entitled to pay for any work they do. In the first six months of the war in Europe, British life insurance offices paid $1,250,000 to relatives of soldiers and sailors who had lost their lives. The earlier artillery guns were made from wrought iron bars, bound together like the staves of a cask by the shrinking over them of iron hoops.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live. Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong. "I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."

Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Not So Lucky. "Scadds is a lucky chap. He's got a country estate on the Hudson, a hunting camp in the Adirondacks and a bungalow at the seashore."

Love's Dilemma. "They are both in love with you, Fantine. Which one do you prefer?" "I can't decide to save my life," said the summer girl. "One has a gorgeous roadster and the other has a stunning motorboat."

And This Is No Joke, Either. "Mistah Tambo, can you tell me when a joke is not a joke?" "No, Mistah Bones, Ah can't. When is a joke not a joke?" "Usually, Mistah Tambo."

Like Joffre or French. "So you want a position in the army?" "Yes; being general work for choice."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Mollified. This really happened in New York the other day: Displeased Parent—Molly, I find you have been buying three pairs of gloves without my permission. Why did you do it? Miss Molly (aged twelve)—Why, daddy, I was obliged to have some gloves; I hadn't a pair to wear! Displeased Parent—It was very wrong of you to buy the gloves without asking either your mother or me about it. Miss Molly—Well, never mind, daddy dear; they won't cost anything. I had them charged!—New York Evening Post.

Easily Made Negligee of Crepe and Lace

Now that the finest of laces are made by wonderful machinery and are so plentiful and so cheap, every woman should indulge herself in a dainty negligee. If ever there lived a woman without a longing for this strictly feminine and most luxurious of belongings she must have been feeble-minded, for every well-balanced daughter of Eve acknowledges their fascination. The most enticing of negligees are made of crepe de chine or thin, supple silk, with laces and ribbons. Color plays so important a part in the makeup of these garments that the fabric is the second consideration. All the beautiful and rich colors may be set down as available, and the more flowerlike the better. Also the more frilly and frivolous and altogether irresponsible the design, the better the negligee seems to fit its destiny—which is just to be pretty. These house gowns are easy to make, as may be gathered from the picture. A long, plaited skirt is set on to a short baby waist having elbow sleeves covered with rows of plaiting that are edged with narrow lace. A wide ribbon girdle, with a rosette bow at the front, is tacked over the joining of the waist and skirt. A coat of shadow lace, with draped sleeves, adds the final touch of daintiness and a new style feature at the same time. Light plik crepe and cream-white lace make as good a color combination as any, but one may consider becomingness and environment and choose whatever is most pleasing.

Suggestion for Making Pretty Night Dress

In the matter of lingerie one may choose between much-trimmed or little-trimmed garments, providing they are made of sheer, well-woven cotton or linen fabrics. The great majority are made of cotton because it is cheaper than linen, is just as good-looking, and does not muss so easily. Linen is thought to be more durable and is therefore sometimes selected for lingerie which is to be hand-embroidered. By comparison with cotton fabrics, such as fine voiles, woven of hard-twisted thread, durability lies rather in favor of cotton. The best known tub fabrics include nainsook, batiste, long cloth, voile, mull, lawn and the fine cotton crepes. One of the first three named is chosen for the great bulk of all lingerie. An empire gown of nainsook, with body and sleeves of narrow val insertion, is pictured here. A narrow heading is set at the top and bottom of the body and serves to carry the narrow satin ribbon that adjusts the gown to the figure. It is finished with an edging of val. The sleeves are made separately and decorated with beading edged with val. Ribbon is run in the beading and tied in little bows, with hanging loops and ends, by way of dainty decoration. The three little figures sketched in the picture suggest gowns more simply trimmed but equally pretty. Each borrows the refinement of lace and the glow of color in ribbons, and each is gracefully cut. Thus they embody attractions that merit the interest and the admiration that women always accord tasteful lingerie. Crepe de chine and wash silks are having a considerable vogue in undergarments, but they are merely extra-luxurious and not more satisfying than the garments of cotton that emerge from the laundry time after time as good as new. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Rainy Day Clothes. There was a day when cats meant unbecoming and unattractive clothes. And that day was not so very long ago. There were some becoming rainy day clothes then, to be sure, but unless one looked well in a tan waterproofed coat or gabardine coat, or in oilskins, or in a rubber coat of some kind, one did not appear to advantage in the rain. Nowadays there are all sorts of pretty and becoming rainy day clothes. Of course, the topcoat that is absolutely waterproof is still desirable. It may be of the thinnest silk fabric for summer, or any heavy water fabric that may be waterproofed for cold weather rainy days. It is much easier to gather flowers after sunset, and they will keep well if put away for the night in a cool place, in lukewarm water. To revive partly wilted flowers, put the stems into warm water (if the stems be woody, put them in hot water) and set them away in a cool, dark place.

CLOSING IN ON RUSS

GERMANS WITHIN 20 MILES OF THE POLISH CAPITAL IN RAPID ADVANCE.

CITY'S FALL SEEMS CERTAIN

Hindenburg Threatens Line to Warsaw and Invaders Drive to Lublin-Chelm Railway, Vital Supply Route.—Thousands of Russians Captured.

London, July 22.—The German and Austrian armies have been victorious all along the whole 1,000-mile Russian line. The city of Radom, capital of the province of that name, and 57 miles south of Warsaw, has been occupied by the Austrian troops.

Allied cavalry is astride the important railroad from Radom to Ivango-rod. Lublin has either been captured or is on the verge of being evacuated, the Russian commander in chief having issued an order that in case of retreat the male population of the city is to attach itself to the end of the retreating army.

The Lublin-Chelm railway, an important line which leads to Warsaw, is still believed to be held by the Russians, but it is scarcely possible that they will be able to hold it for any number of hours.

Warsaw's fall seems certain. Nothing but a miracle can save the Polish capital from the Austro-German hordes that are surging forward upon it from north and south. It is not now a question of whether the city will fall, but how soon. While hope is still entertained that the Russians will make a stand, it is a faint hope. News of the evacuation of Warsaw, followed by the triumphant entry of the allied troops amid scenes as attended the capture of Lemberg and Przemysl, would come as no surprise at any time now to the British.

In the extreme north the army of General von Buelow has taken Taktum, within 38 miles of the important seaport of Riga. The fall of the latter city seems as certain as that of Warsaw.

Following the great semicircle southward the Germans have met with great successes to the northeast of Warsaw. Here the army of General von Gallwitz has captured the fortress of Ostrolenka, about twenty miles from Warsaw and one of the great defenses that was confidently counted upon to block the German invasion.

Less than twenty miles southwest of the city the army of General von Mackensen has captured the city of Bloniec.

Enormous numbers of prisoners are being taken by the Germans. Within the last two days, say the Berlin and Vienna reports, more than fifty thousand men, 110 officers and 23 machine guns have been taken. Of these, Von Gallwitz took 28,760 men in one day's fighting on the Narow.

With the victorious allies pursuing the Russians across the battlefields between the Vistula and the Bug rivers, great numbers of additional captives are being taken. Fifty officers and 3,000 men were taken in one lot, and 3,000 in another lot were captured near Sokal, according to the Austrian official report.

NOT MODERN KIND OF BEAU

Girl of Today is Looking for Something Different From This All-Too-Bashful "Chump."

The dear girls were comparing notes on subjects of more or less importance. "Your beau seems rather bashful," said Stella. "Bashful!" echoed Mabel. "Why, bashful is no name for it." "Why don't you encourage him?" queried her friend.

"I have tried," answered Mabel, "but the attempt was a mealy failure. Only last night I sat all alone on the sofa, and he perched up in a chair as far away as he could get. I asked him if he didn't think it strange that the length of a man's arm was the same as the distance around a woman's waist, and what do you think he did?" "Just what any sensible man would have done—tried it, I suppose."

"Not any, thank you. He asked if I could find a piece of string, so we could measure and see if it was a fact. Isn't he the limit?"

BUILT A MONUMENT The Best Sort in the World.

"A monument built by and from Postum," is the way an Illinois man describes himself. He says: "For years I was a coffee drinker until at last I became a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, headaches and indigestion. The different kinds of medicine I tried did not cure me, and finally some one told me to leave off coffee and take up Postum. I was fortunate in having the Postum made strictly according to directions on the pkg., so that from the start I liked it. Gradually my condition changed. The old troubles disappeared and I began to feel well again. My appetite became good and I could digest food. Now I am restored to strength and health, can sleep sound all night and awake with a fresh and rested body. "I am really a monument built by Postum, for I was a physical wreck, distressed in body and mind, and am now a strong, healthy man. I know exactly what made the change: it was leaving off coffee and using Postum." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 10c and 25c pack ages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 60c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum.—Sold by Grocers.

Buy and Try and Smile Awhile

CROWDS of men in every community using the Real Tobacco Chew—because it satisfies them better than any of the old kind.

When men who for years have tried brand after brand get started on the Real Tobacco Chew, you can bet that they're glad they've got it.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened, just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!
W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

WEAKLINGS CAN'T WORK

I had the pleasure recently of visiting the medical and surgical department of a large Chicago corporation which employs from ten to twelve thousand people; the name of the concern is repressed as this is not an advertisement and looks after their health and physical condition as carefully as does the army and navy of the condition of soldiers and sailors. And there is no pretense that sentiment and "love of humanity" prompt this care. On the contrary, the medical department is frankly considered to be an essential cog in the organization of a business so large that it requires over ten thousand people to keep it going.

According to the physician who was in charge, every applicant for a position with the company is given a complete physical examination, so thorough that even the existence of a small corn on the foot is noted. We have found, he said, that even so slight a deformity as this prevents an employee from giving his very best service. By advice on proper shoes, furthermore, we can usually correct the disorder. After employment, an attempt is made to examine every employee once each year, and immediately in case of acute illness or evidence of a chronic illness manifested by a falling off in the individual's work or slackening interest in his job.

In addition to the five physicians and eleven nurses employed, the department has the whole time of a dentist who works in the best appointed dental office I have ever seen. Much general health is found to be due to defective teeth. When, therefore, an employee has sufficient mouth disorder to account for his physical unfitness, he is required to have his teeth properly cared for. On continued neglect or upon refusal to secure proper treatment he is dismissed as an undesirable employee.

Last year, sixty-five cases of tuberculosis were discovered. It is significant of the value of the advice and examinations to the workers that of these sixty-five cases, forty-three were among new employees. In every instance, I believe, the disease was discovered early, when the chances for possible recovery were practically perfect. Not all of the work is cold-blooded business, however, as the company maintains a cottage at a tuberculosis sanatorium for the care of its tuberculosis employees.

This wonderful company pays $30,000 per year for the maintenance of its medical department, and as I said above, testifies that the expenditure pays and is justified by good business considerations. While a small employer would not be justified in providing an elaborate medical department, it would be a fair question for him to ask himself if he can afford not to give a proportionate amount of attention to his important factor in business success. And the employee who isn't getting ahead as fast as he ought might ask himself if he may not be struggling against a physical handicap that prevents possibility of success.
