DESERTS ARMY

THEN SURRENDERS

Adolph Meinecke of This Village, Who Enlisted in The Army, Deserted and Then Gave Himself Up
Marshall George F. Brandt of this village on Monday received word from the War Department at Washington, D. C., stating that the records show that Adolph Meinecke charged with desertion of the army surrendered himself to the Sergeant in charge of United States Recruiting station at Milwaukee on July 26th, and was taken to Fort Sheridan, Ill., and placed in solitary confinement the same day.
Young Meinecke enlisted as a private in Company G, 18th Infantry on May 4th, 1914, for seven years. It was reported that he deserted at Douglas, Ariz., on June 16th, 1915. At enlistment he gave his residence at Kewaskum, Wis., and the name and address of person to be notified in his behalf in case of emergency as Carl Meinecke, father, Kewaskum, Wis.
Young Meinecke was in the village here on Homecoming, July 25th. Several people had an interview with him at the time. He also remarked that he was going to visit a brother in Michigan and later return to the army, saying that he was enjoying a three months vacation. Instead of following to northern Michigan, the following day after homecoming he surrendered to the Federal authorities at Milwaukee.
On Monday July 27th, the day of his departure, Marshall Brandt received a circular letter from the chief of police of West Bend offering a $50 reward for the capture of this man, Adolph Meinecke charged with desertion. This letter would have been received on Sunday, the reward would have been easily secured. The circular letter besides having reprints of his photograph, both front and side views read as follows:
Description (At date of enlistment) White; born in Cecil, Wis., age 21 5-12 years, occupation unknown; eyes, blue; hair, light brown; complexion, ruddy; height 5 feet 7 inches; weight, 147 pounds. Prominent scars and marks: Front view—Scar on top of head, left thumb, each knee and right leg; tattoo marks name "A. Meinecke" on right forearm. Back view—Scar on left hand and upper left forearm; tattoo marks, nude woman on right forearm.
Celebrate Tin Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Chas Brandt celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding day on Saturday evening, August 7, 1915, at the south side park hall. Over fifty families assembled to offer congratulations and assist in celebrating the event. The evening was spent in dancing for which music was furnished by the Kewaskum Concertina band. At midnight an elegant lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Chas Brandt were presented with many useful presents and the evening was one which will be long remembered by them and their many friends. They were married at the home of Mr. Brandt's parents at Wayne Aug. 8, 1905 by Rev. Erber of Fillmore and have resided in this village for three years. Mr. Brandt is an expert carpenter having learned the trade many years ago from his father. Mrs. Brandt's maiden name was Menger and is well known here and in town Wayne, her former home.

GOES SWIMMING

DEATH FOLLOWS

Editor H. H. Forkmann of Dodge County Banner Dies After Plunge in River. Was Ex-German Teacher
Dr. H. H. Forkmann, editor of the Dodge County Banner of Mayville and well known in this village and throughout the state, died Sunday from an attack of heart failure he suffered shortly after he had been swimming in the river above the dam at Mayville Sunday morning.
Mr. Forkmann who was considered one of the best swimmers in this part of the state, went to the river for a plunge about 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He returned home at 9 o'clock and after eating breakfast said that he felt tired and believed that he would lie down to rest. Two hours later when his wife went to his room she found him dying.
Mr. Forkmann was born in Germany but came to this country about twenty-two years ago. For several years he served as instructor in German in the Mayville high school and eight years ago he became editor of the Dodge County Banner, remaining in that position until his death.
He was widely known in Germany circles throughout the state and country and had won many national prizes for his poetry and essays on various subjects. He was also a prominent member of the Turn Verein and was a well known visitor at all turnfests.
Mr. Forkmann who was 47 years of age is survived by a widow. The funeral was held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Turner hall in Mayville and at 2 o'clock the body was taken to Milwaukee for cremation.

OLD TIMERS CLEAN

UP THE REGULARS

Ball Game Here Last Sunday Proved That The Old Timers Could Come Back and The Slaughter Was Terrible
Rah, Rah, Old Timers. This phrase could be heard with wild cheers after the ball game last Sunday afternoon, when the Old Timers defeated the Regulars in a one sided but interested game, score being 9 to 2. A large crowd was present to see the finish of the Regulars. And just as predicted the game was one that was worth going miles to see. Now you hear the remarks, "Where are the Regulars, guess we will go out with a dark lantern to find them." Not only was the defeat hard for the losers, but also sorrowful.
The game was for a side bet of $10 and the championship of the village. The word championship now can be read across the faces of the old timers in large letters. Soon before the game started Official umpire Edw. C. Miller tossed up the coin for the outs, and to the good luck of the Regulars, which was about the only luck they had won the outs. Upon the umpire's word of calling "Play Ball" until the last ball pitched by the Old Time Pitcher, Frank Heppie, the game was safe in the Old Timers' Hands.
Schmidt, the first man up, sort of took the ginger out of the Regulars by smashing out a hit, good for two bases, but on account of a lost ball, circled bases, credit being given him for a fluke Home Run. Two runs were scored in this inning.
Heppie, the invincible, and Schaefer, the almighty, were the artillery for the Old Timers, and how they did keep the Regulars guessing was a pity. Heppie certainly was there with the strong arm, while Schaefer stuck to the hot iron as if glue was attached to it. For the first three innings none of the Regulars were able to get a sight of first base.
The infield of the Old Timers, which was composed of Schmidt on first base, Al Schaefer on second base, Kirby Koch on third base and Carl Urban on short look like a huge German Fort, on which the allies could make no dent. The only error credited to this quartette was in the last inning, which was very excusable. Many times throughout the game would Kirby receive the glad hand for the manner in which he handled himself. As to the outfield composed by Fred Witzig in the right garden, William Bassel in center and Byron Rosenheimer taking care of the left patch, it was like a drop in the bucket, and a rear guard that would let nothing break through the lines. The feature of the Old Timers was the batting of the Old Timers, and oh, my, how they did clout that ball. It certainly was a shame. Stealing bases was no trick. Was Kirby there, with the bunt? Just like olden times. The result, however, besides a great victory something like that of the Germans capturing Warsaw, together with several thousand Russians, were several sore muscles the forepart of the week.
Harbeck and Eberle, the subs, and always ready on the coaching lines were there with the makings, like the fighting staff of Kaiser Wilhelm, always ready to encourage the boys onto victory.
Now of course it would not be right to say nothing of the Regulars. First of all we must repeat that they took their defeat very hard and still are showing sore spots, but it will mean only a few days before they are all worn out. They, however, seen defeat stir themselves in their faces. Their line and style of playing easily gave way, their ammunition became exhausted, and provisions were scarce. So retreat was the only means, or raise the white flag and surrender.
Mohr, taking care of the cannon balls, with Altenhofen to receive them, tried their utmost to make the Old Timers lay down their rifles, but the powder that these cannon balls were made of were weak and easily exploded. Altenhofen also made a poor turn key as base stealing was one of the main hobbies of their opponents. Their stone wall composed of Strachota on first base, Spatz on second base, John Urban on third base and Morace Rosenheimer taking care of short field, was minus the material for a solid foundation, consequently weak spots, especially around second base. Their rear guard, consisting of Tony Schaefer, our loyal station agent, in the right field and Dynamite Miller, lighting dynamite in the center garden, and Adolph Rosenheimer, the college student in the left patch, were there, when the Germans with their 42 centimeters were taking a rest in storming the outer forts but oh my, when target practice was resumed how these triplets did make their legs run.
As a whole, the whole team was like a regiment of scared Russians and ready to surrender whenever the Old Timers would say the word. Only four scratch advances were made. Their two small forts captured were presented to them, so their defeat would not be so hard to swallow. Strobel, their sub, was minus the pep.
As to the audience the game was a treat and enjoyed by all. Better amusement could not be had.

WAUCOSTA SWEPT

BY A HAIL STORM

Farm Windows Shattered and Grain is Laid Low. Even Vegetables Suffer
Late Saturday afternoon the worst hail storm of which there is any record in Fond du Lac county struck Waucoستا and vicinity. Farm house windows were broken grain flattened out and even potato and tomato vines so damaged as to practically render valueless the prospective crops in a number of fields.
In one instance that of John Rinzel, a well known farmer just east of the village, all the crops on his farm save two acres of oats were absolutely ruined. Mr. Rinzel lost not only a large area of grain but the vines of a large potato field were ruined.
The storm blew up from the direction of Eden and traveled east through Osecola township spreading more or less ruin over an area about a mile in width. It also did some damage in Sheboygan county.
That the storm did not do more damage was in a measure due to the fact that many areas of grain were already laid pretty flat from the heavy rainfall. Some of the hail stones were almost as large as pigeon eggs.

TRACK BED IS

FATAL TO FARMER

Allenton Man is Killed by a Soo Train. Matthew Mechnick, Aged 63 Years, Killed While Sleeping on Tracks
Matthew Mechnick, age 63 years, a farmer residing four miles north of Allenton, started to walk from Allenton to his home along the Soo line tracks Thursday evening. He was instantly killed when struck and run over by passenger train No. 17 at 10 o'clock.
According to the engineer of the passenger, Mechnick was asleep on the track when the train struck him. At first it was thought that the train had struck a dog, but when the train crew investigated they discovered the body of a man.
Mechnick has a wife and several children. The body was taken to Allenton and turned over to the coroner. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death returned. It was brought out that Mechnick had been drinking during the day in Allenton and was in an intoxicating condition when he started for home. It is believed that he became drowsy, lay down on the track and went to sleep.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

The pea crop in Wisconsin was especially heavy this year. Many reports have come to the Wisconsin Advancement association where farmers received from $50 to $75 per acre for their crops. It is a safe crop and one that will bring a larger price as the years pass. The acreage of the country where the best of peas for canning can be grown is limited while the demand for canned peas will increase forever.
After January 1, 1916, druggists will either have to take out a retail liquor dealers' license or banish whiskey and brandy from their store. Whiskey and brandy are to be eliminated from the new edition of the United States pharmacopeia. This means that whiskey and brandy have been declared officially to be neither drugs or medicine and therefore cannot be legally sold as such.
The enterprising little village of Barton will have a bank in the very near future unless present plans do not materialize. A gentleman named Wolf has during the past week consulted with businessmen of the village, and we have been reliably informed that nearly $10,000 of the capital stock has been subscribed. Further particulars were not obtainable this week.
Ben Loos had the misfortune of cutting a tendon on the index finger of his left hand last Saturday afternoon about three o'clock. He was fixing a hinge on a door and struck a knot which, as the pocket knife which he was using to slip, causing the injury mentioned above. Dr. Sachse found it necessary to insert three stitches.—Hartford Times.
Fish Haskell who has been operating a hydroplane with headquarters at Waukesha Beach, has completed his contract. His next feat will be to fly across Lake Michigan carrying with him a case of Blue Ribbon beer, for which it is understood that the Pabst Brewing company will pay him $1,000.
While working in a pea canning factory at Fredonia, Wis., on July 9, Edwin Clauss scratched his right hand with a wire. Blood poisoning developed and he was removed to the Milwaukee hospital a week later where he died Sunday. He is survived by his widow.—Cedarburg News.
While delivering cement for John Wolf to the state road at Beechwood, one of R. T. Normann's fine horses dropped dead on a large hill enroute. The animal was a very willing worker and no load was too big for it to try to move. It was valued at $200.—Random Lake Record.
The fish and game warden apparatus of the state have been abolished by a new law, which placed the supervision of these offices in the hands of the state conservation commission, which commission has power to appoint the game wardens.

SALE OF PLANT IS CONFIRMED

Judge Lueck Holds That Bid of James Day of Hartford for $16,550 Shall Stand
Judge Martin L. Lueck in Circuit Court at Joneau Monday afternoon confirmed the sale of the Tiger Drill company's assets, the same having been offered at receiver's sale in Beaver Dam on July 24th. The bid of James Day of Hartford of $16,550 was recognized by the court, and the property is now owned by Mr. Day.
There was a possibility of a contest over the confirmation of the sale previous to the day of the confirmation, but this vanished when Judge Lueck offered to order a new sale in case there was anyone who wished to make a bid which would show a substantial increase over that of Mr. Day. At the time of the sale the property and the real estate were divided separately and were bid in by Mr. Day. He former for $3,500 and the latter for $13,000, in accordance with the advertisement announcing the sale. The receiver later changed his mind, however, and so offered the property as a whole, the bid of E. E. Williams of this city on this proposition being $16,950, a trifle higher than the two separate bids of Mr. Day. The court, however, refused to recognize the bid of Mr. Williams.
It is generally understood that A. J. Rosenheimer of Kewaskum is associated with Mr. Day in the purchase. Mr. Rosenheimer is the proprietor of a large malting and grain business at Kewaskum and president of the Kewaskum State Bank and a man of means.
Both Mr. Day and Mr. Rosenheimer were in the city for a time Tuesday and while here discussed their purchase freely. Mr. Day stated that he was not in a position at this time to make known the details of his plans for the future of the plant other than it would be put in operation soon.—Beaver Dam Argus.

Teachers' Institute

A Teachers' Institute for Washington County will be held in the High School building, West Bend, Wis., beginning Monday, August 16, 1915 and continuing for one week. This will be the first summer institute held in the County for a number of years as the law requiring six weeks at a Normal School, before a certificate might be issued to a teacher, eliminated this practice. Since this law has been repealed so many of the teachers are now attending the summer sessions of the Normal School and the Summer institute has been revived. Owing to the long period which has elapsed since a County Institute has been held, a full attendance will be expected.
The Conductors will be Mr. Gordon B. Smith of McFarland, Wis., and Prin. D. E. McLane of the West Bend High School, with possibly an instructor in penmanship.
To those who attended the School Board Convention last winter, Mr. Smith needs no introduction. To those who did not hear him at that time it may be said that he is a forceful, energetic speaker whose experience in the supervision of schools particularly fits him as an instructor of country school teachers.
Mr. McLane needs no introduction as most of the teachers of the County have heard him at teachers' meetings and are aware of his ability to give you something useful in your school work.
All teachers expecting to teach in the rural or graded schools of the County will be expected to attend. All others are invited to do so.
Teachers who expect to attend should send the undersigned a card to that effect at once. Please state whether or not you wish assistance in securing room and board.
Teachers examination will be held at the High School Building, at West Bend, Wis., August 23, 24 and 25th, 1915. 5-7-21.

Slated For Mayville Job
Paul A. Herberg has been recommended for appointment as postmaster for the city of Mayville, by Senator Paul O. Hustung, Mayville is Congressman M. E. Burke's district, but as the recommendations of the appointment of a postmaster in a Senator's home city is left to the Senator, therefore Senator Hustung made the recommendation.

Senator Barwig on The Job

That Senator Barwig is alive to the interests of his constituents has been demonstrated several times of late, especially last week when he made a strong fight against the bill prohibiting editors and printers from being eligible to membership on the county board of supervisors, or having any interests in any contracts for printing or publishing in relation to the same. The bill had passed the assembly and was up for concurrence in the senate but Senator Barwig got his dander up, as a number of his friends in his district would be absolutely prohibited from further attendance or eligibility as members of the county board if the bill went through, and he started a fight against it that resulted in its being referred to a committee of conference at the close of the week. Tuesday morning it came up again and after a successful effort by the senator it was defeated and killed. He also made a strong fight against the bill which provided that county superintendents should have no other business, a bill which, if passed, would have put Editor Kelley of the Juneau Telephone and one of the best county superintendents in the state out of business either as a superintendent or editor. There may be some merit in bills of this nature but so far it has not been apparent to us and evidently Senator Barwig fails to see the merit of them. Senator Barwig's substitute amendment to the bill increasing the fee of non resident students at the university, which last week seemed sure of passage was finally reconsidered and amended increasing the fee to $145 instead of $100, but the main feature of the senator's substitute, that prohibiting a one year's attendance at school acquiring a resident abolition of the non-resident fee, was retained in the bill as passed, so the salient point of his effort was adopted. Last year some 800 students had their non-resident fee remitted which will not be permissible under the new ruling as established in the bill as now passed.

CAPTURES A HORSE THIEF

Marshal Geo. F. Brandt of This Village Again Proves Himself a Very Good Detective
Last Thursday evening when a man was offering a horse for sale to various people in this village, Marshal Geo. F. Brandt became suspicious of the party and arrested him. After being questioned he gave his name as Frank Jennings, residing some place in Minnesota. He also admitted stealing the horse from a farmer by the name of Edward Gerner, residing near Fillmore. At the time of the arrest here he was in possession of the horse and harness only, claiming that the buggy was somewhere near New Fane, where he encountered an upset. Jennings was employed as farm hand by Mr. Gerner the past summer. As we go to press Marshal Brandt was in communication with Mr. Gerner and it is expected that the latter will arrive here some time today to claim the ownership of the horse. Proceedings for the punishment of the horse thief will no doubt be instituted.

Next second, however, I held my breath, and I think I must have turned pale. My pocket was empty! My wallet had been stolen!

"I have merely to send my name and description to the minister and ask for a reply," I said.

"You defy me!" he said hoarsely, turning back to the window with the written order of my imprisonment as a political still in his hand.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. TRIUMPHS OF PEACE

It is significant that the names of Doctors Findlay, Carrol, Reed, Lazear and Agnew are not among the list of thousands of persons and things dwelt upon in the last edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. And yet these men, through their discovery of the means by which yellow fever is spread and by establishing the means of preventing it, made a contribution to society which has already saved thousand upon thousands of lives and millions of dollars.

In the same encyclopaedia, you may search in vain for the name of Nicholas Senn, a surgeon who, by his own work and especially by his teaching, has directly and indirectly put life-saving knowledge to work for the everlasting benefit of mankind. And yet considerable space is devoted to acquainting students with the prize ring accomplishments of Tom Sayers, one time champion pugilist of the world.

Again, you may find long lists of names of minor poets, painters and essayists, the very existence of many of whom would long since have passed from recollection were it not for such memorials as the encyclopaedias furnish.

It is singular how values in knowledge and service and success have been and are still being gauged. Let a man slaughter enough in warfare and his name and fame will be perpetuated. Let him, however, by personal sacrifice of money, health or even of life itself secure life, health and to others and his name will be glorified by his own craft and guild—if at all.

Why should we not begin to exalt men of peace, particularly when we see where men of war are leading the world today? And in the pursuits of peace, what labor is more worth while than that which prevents disease and robs death of its sting? It seems to me that no accomplishments of an individual, of a community, or of a state can equal that of saving the lives and insuring the health of one's fellow beings.

Round about you there are babies who will sicken and die during the hot weather for the want of a little intelligent care, of a nickel's worth of ice, of a clean bottle of milk. BED IN HAY IS LUXURY DECLARES HEALTH SCOUT "Ted" Werle, Anti-Tuberculosis Lecturer Starts Out on Motorcycle Tour of Chippewa County. Will Camp by Roadside "May we sleep in your hay now to night?" This is a request with which Wisconsin farmers between Milwaukee and Chippewa Falls will become familiar this week for on Monday morning Theo. J. Werle, organizer of the flying health squadron of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, and his assistant, George Friebe, mounted their Harley-Davidson and started out on a month's tour through the rural districts of Chippewa County. It is the first extended motorcycle trip which the association has made in two years and is in direct response to an appeal from Chippewa County for aid in organizing a health campaign which would reach its rural districts. On the way to Chippewa Falls, Mr. Werle and his assistant will pass through Fond du Lac, Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Fremont, Weyauwega, Waupaca, Amherst Stevens Point, Marshfield, Greenwood, Loyal, Owen, Stanley, Boyd and Calott. They expect to average from 100 to 130 miles a day, reaching Chippewa Falls, shipping the stereopticon lantern, the slides, the panoramic health exhibit, the tent and the camping equipment which later they will pack on the motorcycle and take with them on their tour of the county. On the first part of the trip they will carry a blanket and a change of under-clothing apiece. They wear heavy khaki uniforms and will rely on the farmers for a place to eat and sleep. In their rural work they carry their own camping outfit with them and roll up in their blankets on the ground. "A bed in the hay is real luxury," "Ted" Werle who two years ago spent the entire summer on motorcycle trips spreading the gospel of health for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and who has taken many a header into the mud as penalty for his zeal. "Of course, we have to convince the farmer that we don't smoke and we must go to bed before dark. Many farmers are so cautious that they won't even allow a lantern taken into the barn and others won't allow it left in. So we must get into our bunk while it is still light enough to see, but after riding a hundred miles over rough roads we are generally quite ready. And how one does sleep!" Mr. Werle expects to arrive in Chippewa Falls Thursday and spend a day there in conference with Mrs. I. B. Wiltrout, Superintendent of the Associated Charities who is deeply interested in health work, and in mapping out his tour of the county. The program will be much the same as that followed two summers ago. Between sixty and seventy five miles will be covered each day, farm homes on the route will be visited and in the evening there will be a lecture and exhibit at some central point where an audience can be gathered together. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than of all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. VOTE $206,110 FOR U. OF W. EXTENSION

SENATE APPROVES REDUCTION OF $78,680 FROM SUM RECOMMENDED.

GOVERNOR SIGNS DEBT BILL

Appropriation of $200,000 to Wisconsin National Guard Also Receives His Sanction—Mendota to Get Sprinkling System.

Madison, August 12, 1915.

The senate, without a word of debate, passed the bill making an annual appropriation of $206,110 for the university extension department.

No Action on Normal Budget.

No action was taken by the senate on the appropriation bill for the normal schools. Senator J. H. Bennett raised the point that any appropriation voted by the legislature unless the bill had been referred to the committee on finance, would be void.

Gov. E. L. Philipp signed a bill appropriating $35,000 so that the state may clear up all outstanding debts against the state fair.

Other bills of importance signed were: Appropriating $200,000 to the Wisconsin National guard; the Morgan bill under which male persons desiring to enter into a contract of matrimony shall be examined by a physician, who may insist upon the Wasserman test if it is considered necessary; appropriating $5,000 to the regents of the state university for the testing of hog cholera serum; appropriating $25,000 to the state board of control for the installation of a sprinkling system at the Mendota asylum; creating a committee on common schools to improve conditions in the common school system, and the so-called highway bill, which makes the county the unit in the construction of highways.

Assembly Passes Hambrecht Bill.

The Hambrecht bill continuing the state board of public affairs for two years and providing for its reorganization was passed in the assembly by a vote of 39 to 31. A bill appropriating $2,100 for the state board of law examiners, also was passed.

To Limit Sessions to 90 Days.

Assemblyman Hansen spoke at length for his joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution providing that legislative sessions be limited to ninety days. Mr. Hambrecht raised a point of order that several months ago a similar proposal had been negatived. That was so long ago that the members had forgotten about it and the resolution was put over to look the matter up.

Lawmakers May Adjourn Aug. 20

That the legislature will adjourn sine die on Aug. 19 is now the general opinion. The work of the session has reached such a stage a fairly accurate estimate can be made as to the time when the members can go home for good.

Work of the Two Houses Will Be Completed by the latter part of next week.

Then the governor will have six days in which to decide what he will do with the bills sent to him. Getting bills to him will take several days, hence it is safe to put the final adjournment about ten days after the last bill has been passed by the legislature.

When this has been done most of the members will go home, leaving a few of each house to remain and adjourn.

Should there be delays, due to vetoing of any of the appropriation bills by the governor, that time will have to be added. In such case it might be nearly Sept. 1 before the legislature adjourned.

Taxpayers May Get Relief.

It begins to look as though the taxpayers of the state might be given some relief before the appropriation bills go into effect.

The only thing that will continue the load is a failure on the part of the legislature to pass any appropriation bill, when the continuation appropriation

Hail Storm Does Damage.

Neenah—A terrific hail and rain storm, which lasted a half hour, destroyed many of the grain crops in this vicinity. Some of the hailstones were as large as a hen's egg. Many windows were broken.

Fire Destroys Four Buildings.

Berlin—Fire destroyed four large buildings in the town of Berlin. The buildings were occupied by a meat market, grocery and saloon. The cause of the fire is not known.

Death Believed Accidental.

Racine—Frank Petrau, 43 years old, is dead as a result of accidental asphyxiation. On retiring he hung his coat on a gas fixture in such a way that the shirt was opened. He was found dead in bed.

Cuts Throat With Pen Knife.

Trempealeau—Bert Warner, aged about 31 years, cut his throat with a pen knife at his boarding house here and died shortly afterward. His home is at Spring Grove, Wis.

would prevent any reduction of the load to the taxpayers.

Philipp Vetoes Bill Already Law.

Gov. Philipp returned to the senate the bill, 6448, without his approval. This bill related to the borrowing of money by villages for building sewers and drains. The governor gave as his reason for the veto that another bill, 791A, on the same subject had already been passed and signed by him, and there was no necessity of two acts on the same subject.

Senator Whitman introduced a bill by unanimous consent which will permit the State Firemen's association, which receives state aid, to get an appropriation by Sept. 1. The bill provides that the association makes its report by Aug. 1 and the money coming to it be paid by Sept. 1.

As it is now the association does not receive its appropriation for a year after holding its tournament.

The assembly concurred in the senate resolution of appreciation of the public services of P. Stephen Tripp, Sauk City banker and legislator, who recently died and left a legacy of $500,000 to the University of Wisconsin.

A motion by Assemblyman Piiper was adopted hereafter to message immediately to the senate all bills and resolutions passed. Heretofore bills and resolutions have been retained in possession of the assembly twenty-four hours after being acted on, thus giving a chance to reconsider action before the measures go out of control of the house.

Confer on Appropriation.

Gov. Philipp, President Van Hise of the university and Speaker L. C. Whittelet of the assembly held a conference in the governor's office on the appropriation bill for support of the university during the next two years. Anti-administration senators are expected to try to have the appropriation carried by the bill increased when it comes up for consideration, while administration senators will try to keep it where it is or have it reduced somewhat. The bill carries an appropriation equal to the amount expended for operation, maintenance and apparatus during the last two years.

State Teachers to Get Aid.

By a vote of 46 to 18 the assembly adopted a substitute offered by R. B. Dickie to the Bennett bill, providing state aid to teachers of certain qualifications and then concurred in the measure.

The substitute provides for the payment of state aid as a bonus to teachers for successful continuous service as follows: $2 per month for the second year in the same district; $4 per month for the third year and $8 for the fourth and succeeding years. It also provides that when the teacher has achieved certain higher qualifications she shall receive an additional bonus.

Reject Extension Amendment.

When the assembly bill appropriating $206,000 annually to the extension department of the university was presented F. S. Kubatski offered an amendment cutting the amount of the appropriation $21,000. The amendment was opposed by A. H. Gruenewald and W. L. Smith moved rejection of the amendment. W. C. Bradley favored the amendment. He said that much of the work of this department is wasteful and impractical.

Mr. Vint said that he had returned to his seat to oppose this amendment and to fight for the protection of the extension department. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 46 to 25. The bill was then ordered to third reading and then, under suspension of the rules, was concurred in, 60 to 19.

Refuses to Return Bill.

The senate sent over a formal request that the assembly return the Crosby marketing commission bill which has passed both houses. The assembly refused to grant the request.

Four joint resolutions were rejected or ordered returned to authors. They were 53a by Mr. Hansen relating to the printing of legislative acts; 56a, by Mr. Orlate, opposing repeal of the 2-cent passenger fare rate; 100a, by Mr. Pleker, relating to the enforcement of laws, 113a, by Mr. Hansen, to limit sessions of legislature to ninety days.

The assembly concurred in 666a appropriating $35,000 for the attorney general's department.

Senate amendments to the bill licensing buttermakers and cheesemakers were concurred in.

$18,000 for Engineer Department.

The senate bill appropriating $18,000 to the department of engineering for salaries of engineer voters was concurred in by a vote of 44 to 22.

The assembly concurred in senate joint resolutions in memoriam of the late Hans Heinrich Forkmann, editor of the Dodge County Banner, and of the late M. C. Ring, a former member of the legislature. The assembly refused to concur in 650s, providing that school district elections upon questions relating to issuance of bonds the vote shall be by ballot.

Landmark to Be Razed.

Beloit—"The Old Mill," a landmark which has stood at the end of East Grand avenue since the earliest days of Beloit, is doomed. The city purchased the stone structure and its site for $1,000 and ordered the building razed within ninety days.

HARVEST HEAVY DESPITE STORMS

WISCONSIN WILL HAVE RECORD CROP THIS FALL ACCORDING TO REPORT.

DAMAGE WILL BE SMALL

Prof. Moore Says Grains Had Filled Before Winds Caused Lodging—Means a Little More Work in Harvesting.

Madison—Wisconsin will harvest record crops this fall despite bad storms, according to Prof. R. A. Moore, agronomy department, college of agriculture. The rains will make harvesting more difficult, and will probably injure their quality to some extent, but the yields of barley, wheat, rye and oats throughout the state are expected to be as large as last year.

"Most of the rye, wheat and barley had filled before the storms," said Prof. Moore, "and so I do not apprehend that as much damage has been done as first believed. With modern methods of harvesting and a little extra labor, it will be possible for the farmer to cut his grain even though it may be lodged pretty badly."

The discoloration of the grain resulting from the abundance of moisture will not cause a great loss, Prof. Moore believes, as most of the grain is marketed through the farm animals of the state.

"I think that when the threshing reports come in, the yield of grain will surpass that of last year," he said. A larger acreage of clover and alfalfa has just been harvested than ever before, he added. The new seedings of clover and alfalfa look exceedingly favorable as they do better in cool, moist weather. Corn is behind, but is coming along rapidly now.

GETS SAFE CONDUCT HOME

VALUE OF OSTRICHES FALLS

Birds Dying by Thousands in South Africa From Lack of Food and Attention.

Tremendous changes in the values of ostriches and ostrich feathers have occurred since the war, so it is reported by Consul Wakefield from Port Elizabeth, South Africa. South Africa has exported as much as $25,000,000 of ostrich feathers a year, but interest in the ostrich as a revenue producer is now declared by Mr. Wakefield to be at the lowest possible ebb. Birds are dying by thousands from lack of food and attention.

At Johannesburg it is stated that ostriches are of so little value that the poundmaster has written to the consular asking permission to refuse ostriches in the pound. A full-grown ostrich which has found its way to the Grahamstown post was, on being put up at public auction, sold for six cents.

Travelers along the Sunday river from Johannesburg up through Blaauwkrans and Uitkomst report that large numbers of dead birds are to be seen. While birds of good class roam about the roads and veldt uncared for and unplucked.

THE GOOD JUDGE HEARS OF CONVERTS

SAY JUDGE, A BUNCH OF CONVERTS ARE HITTING THE TRAIL FOR THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW. THAT SHOWS MEN ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH THE OLD KIND. YES SIR, RAILROAD MEN, MINERS, RANCHERS, IN FACT NEARLY EVERYBODY IS LOOKING FOR THE LITTLE CHEW THAT SATISFIES.

MEN line up for the Real Tobacco Chew because it's what they've been wanting right along whether they knew it or not.

And the ones who saw it first like to get together and watch the movement grow. That's why so much is heard about it.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED!

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste. WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY, 50 Union Square, New York City. BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US

THE 1915 STATE FAIR IS TO BE TRULY A WISCONSIN EXPOSITION

Every Department Has Been Made Notably Stronger for This Year, Many Excellent Features Have Been Added, and All Special Attractions Will Be Free to All the Patrons.

WISCONSIN ON PARADE

To Citizens of Wisconsin: The Wisconsin State Fair, to be held in Milwaukee September 13th to 17th, 1915, inclusive, is in reality a Wisconsin exposition, show horse, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry classifications being closed to all but Wisconsin exhibits, owing to recent prevalence of the foot and mouth disease. Wisconsin truly will be on parade at this year's State Fair, and I anticipate the greatest showing in the history of the Badger State in the departments referred to. I ask the breeders and exhibitors of this great state to make special efforts to realize my prediction. Let us make the 1915 State Fair the marvel of this year's state exhibitions. In order that the State Fair may be made what it ought to be, and maintained as such, I bespeak for the 1915 State Fair the patronage of every good citizen of Wisconsin. EMANUEL L. PHILIPP, Governor of Wisconsin.

By Oliver E. Remy, Secretary. Madison, Aug. 1.—This year, for the first time since Wisconsin took rank with other leading states in the matter of an annual state exposition, Wisconsin will present a truly Wisconsin fair.

Because of prevalence during early months of the year of the foot and mouth disease, horse, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry classifications were closed to all except Wisconsin exhibitors. Not all of these classifications come under the dreaded disease, but it was thought best to make a sweeping order and ascertain just how the Wisconsin idea works out. State Fair officials have received every assurance from exhibitors concerned that unusual efforts for a strong exposition of Wisconsin resources will be made.

Therefore, with the best attractions ever presented at the Wisconsin State Fair, with the best music and greatest number of bands ever gathered on the fair grounds, and with a fair proper strongly augmented in all important departments, patrons of the fair this year will be more than pleased. Every Department is Improved. Every department of the fair will be improved so that it will be of great interest to the average patron. For instance, in the cattle, horse, swine and sheep departments, poorly bred stock will be shown alongside the best bred stock, so that the fair visitor will see by contrast what words cannot convey. In the Dairy Department exhibits will be made attractive by use of statuary effects, legends and novel features, and an orchestra will entertain visitors. Exhibits will be so arranged and shown that all who wander through the Dairy Building cannot help but get a clear idea of Wisconsin's importance as a dairy state.

Every division of the Dairy Department will have some attractive, unusual feature. As an example of what is meant by this statement, it can be said that every visitor to the Dairy Building will be given a taste of good cheese, and will be told the value of cheese as a food product, and how it should be eaten. The Department of Horticulture will be given more space this year. The Fine Arts Department having been discontinued, the space occupied by this department last year will be added to that given over to horticulture and floriculture in 1914. There will be between forty and fifty acres of machinery.

Many New Features Added. Those who have visited past State Fairs will find several new departments to claim their attention. All of Machinery Hall has been leased to the Milwaukee Retail Automobile Dealers Association for an Automobile Show, and this will be the first great auto show of the season. All of the important 1916 models will be shown three months ahead of the regular auto shows. Machinery hall will be decorated with $10,000 worth of decorations used in recent shows at the Auditorium, and two orchestras will entertain visitors. A Horseshoeing Contest for blacksmiths of Wisconsin will be conducted during fair week, and 1,500 blacksmiths of the state have been furnished premium lists. Competition will be along lines of ordinary horseshoeing. Dr. E. M. Sullivan of Milwaukee will be in charge of competition, and the famous Dr. Jack Seiter of Chicago will officiate as Judge.

There will be a Baby Health Contest. Mental and physical development will be the tests; mere beauty will not count. The aim of this department is a better race. Boy aviators will show models of flying machines made by themselves, and which will fly 2,000 and 3,000 feet. Boys and Girls Interested. A criticism of fairs of past years has been that they were getting away from the agricultural exposition idea, that too much attention was being paid to special attractions. As a step in the direction of doing away with reason for this criticism, the Fine Arts Department has been replaced by the Boys and Girls Agricultural Clubs department, under direction of Prof. T. L. Bewick of the Agricultural College of University of Wisconsin. When it is known that these clubs have thousands of members throughout the state, and that interest in the department has taken on a fever heat, it will be readily seen what a strong step this is back toward the idea of an agricultural fair.

The Agricultural Department also has been strengthened. This will be especially true of the important department of County Exhibits. Last year twenty-four counties exhibited, and the department was the best in the history of the State Fair. This year to date, five new counties have entered. They are—Douglas, Calumet, Marinette, Richland and Eau Claire, and it is expected that others will come in later. Road Building Strong Feature. There has been much agitation during recent months concerning road building in Wisconsin. As a result, arrangements have been made with the U. S. government for a road building display of twenty-five exhibits. An expert will be sent with this display to explain modern road building. The Highway Commission of Wisconsin also will be represented in this department. The machinery exhibit this year will be much stronger than it was last year. Present indications are that every foot of space allotted to this department will be taken, and that many new companies will be found among exhibitors. Although some of the big manufacturers will be missing from many state fairs again this year, Wisconsin will have some of them.

Strong Free Special Attractions. This year there will be eighteen special attractions, including a daily battle in the sky between two aviators. This will show as nearly as possible what fighting bird men have to encounter in the great European war. All special attractions will be shown not only in front of the grandstand but on two other locations on the fair grounds, so that any one paying an admission of fifty cents at the outside gate will see every special feature of the great fair without having to spend more money. Last year a wonderful record was made by the racing department. This year this record will be exceeded, for a much larger number of horses will compete for stakes and purses, and the class will be better.

Although the new grandstand has not been completed, 10,000 comfortable seats will be available, all but about 2,500 of them at twenty-five cents. Special Days Announced. Special days this year will be as follows: Monday, Sept. 13th—Children's Day. All school children in the state are invited. Tickets will be sent upon application, either by teachers, children themselves, or by their parents. Tuesday, Sept. 14—Interurban Day. This special day has been arranged for cities, towns and villages in the interurban territory tributary to Milwaukee. Each will send delegations. Wednesday, Sept. 15th—State and Governor's Day. Gov. Philipp and all living ex-governors will be guests. Thursday, Sept. 16th—Milwaukee and Labor Day. This is the day upon which Milwaukee will show its loyalty to the fair. Friday, Sept. 17th—Traveling Men's Day. The traveling men of the state, of whom there are thousands, never have been honored with a special day. This day has been set aside at their request. Plenty of Music and Color. Every day there will be at least three bands on the grounds, and on State and Milwaukee Day there will be four, and perhaps five. The famous Sheboygan Band of sixty-five pieces will play in front of the grandstand during the entire week. In addition to the bands, there will be an orchestra in the cattle judging pavilion, another in the Dairy Building and two in the Machinery Hall for the Auto Show. Arrangements have been made for elaborate decoration of all buildings and the grounds. The aim of those in charge of this year's State Fair is to send every patron back home saying: "The greatest State Fair Wisconsin ever conducted."
