AUTOMOBILE TO BE GIVEN AWAY IN EIGHT WEEKS

A FORD CAR, A HIGH GRADE VICTROLA, A CHEST OF SILVER, TWO GOLD WATCHES, SEVERAL SPECIAL PRIZES AND 25 PER CENT CASH COMMISSION ON NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS TO NON-PRIZE WINNERS

WE PAY YOU FOR TRYING TO WIN THE CAR

Lasts Eight Weeks—Five Prizes Besides The Special Prize—Compensation to All For Their Efforts—Subscriptions, New and Old, Count Votes, and The Most Votes Win

As a prelude to the story of the Statesman's big automobile subscription campaign, let us say that this is a legitimate proposition to increase the circulation of the Statesman. The money spent for prizes would be paid to professional solicitors if we pursued that plan of increasing our circulation. After due consideration we have decided to use that profit-sharing plan, which we are sure will meet with the hearty approval of the people because they are the ones who reap the benefits.

Kerns & Kerns, who are in charge of our campaign, have given between eight and ten automobiles away annually for the past four or five years. To those who say it can't be done; that a newspaper cannot give an automobile and several other prizes away in eight weeks, we call special attention to the many campaigns this company has successfully handled in the past. They come to us highly recommended, and their references as to ability and responsibility are open to the general public. You need have no misgivings. This is a perfectly simple proposition all the way through and it will be handled efficiently and honorably.

The Plan Explained.
Those who participate in the campaign will be called candidates. It is necessary that a person be nominated, orally, in a letter, or by means of the nomination blank printed in our advertisement, before that person is considered a candidate. When a candidate is nominated, he or she is given credit for...

5,000 Votes
which is the number cast with the nomination for each nominated candidate. Any person may nominate himself if he wishes. After the full list of nominations is received, a letter will be mailed to each candidate. This letter will be followed twenty-four hours later by another containing the necessary supplies for entering the campaign. This second letter will contain an addressed envelope for your use in answering, so as to advise the campaign manager, of once of your intentions.

A Receipt Book and Report Blank are really the only essentials in starting your work. Upon receiving a subscription, write out a receipt and give it to the subscriber, retaining the stub in your book. When you wish to report subscriptions to the office, simply fill out the report blank with checks, draft, money order or currency to cover it. You keep the receipt stub as your record of the subscriptions you have turned in.

Vote Value of Subscriptions and Coupons
The schedule of votes is printed on the cover of your receipt book one year from a new subscriber, counts 2,000 votes to your credit. The schedule is figured on a ratio of increase, as you will notice. Subscription, either new, renewal or back subscriptions, is the principal way of getting votes. Coupons good for fifty votes each are now being run in the paper and each one of them that reaches this office (before expiration date) with your name on it will count face value for you. These coupons will be discontinued, however, in the course of two or three weeks. Votes will also be given on the sale of job work cards and advertising cards.

AT THE MOVIES SUNDAY

The local moving picture management wishes to announce that they have contracted for the best set of pictures ever shown thus far at the local theatre for tomorrow Sunday evening. "STOLE MY WIFE AND NAME"

A charge that Warren Wunder not only stole the wife of Herman H. Roecker, but Roecker's name as well, is made in a suit for $1,500 damages entered against him in a municipal court.

Roecker, who lives in Pine street near Sixth, accuses Wunder of alienating the affections of Mrs. Roecker and inducing her to live with him as man and wife.

"He even went so far as to assume my name," Roecker says, "and was known by it in the neighborhood in which he and my wife lived."

The Roecker's were married in June, 1909, in West Chester. They lived happily, the husband says, until Wunder became acquainted with Mrs. Roecker. From that time on, he charges, his wife's love for him began to cool, and his home was entirely broken up in March, 1910.

Judge Gilpin issued a capias for Wunder's arrest.—Philadelphia North American.

GENIUS NOT INSANITY

ABSOLUTELY FALSE IDEA SHOULD BE ROOTED OUT.

Theory Refuted as Far as America is Concerned by the Outstanding Figures in the History of This Country.

A mistaken notion, which has done much to encourage self-satisfied mediocrity, is that genius is a form of insanity. This absolutely false idea needs to be rooted out of the popular mind, into which it was implanted chiefly by the efforts of a group of European anthropologists.

These men, headed by the celebrated Cesare Lombroso, arrived at their insanity theory of genius by an exceedingly simple if laborious method.

They scoured through thousands of biographies of illustrious men, seeking evidence that at some period in their lives these men had acted "queerly."

Naturally they found a great many men of genius who had indeed acted queerly and a great many others who had been positively insane.

With this multitude of horrible examples as a convenient jumping board, Lombroso and his disciples then proceeded to leap to the astonishing conclusion that all men of genius are more or less insane.

To the weight of their scholastic authority, and to the bulky books they have published giving details of the vagaries of certain men of genius, is largely due the erroneous belief so widespread today.

Actually, the proportion of insanity among men of genius is little, if at all, higher than the proportion of insanity among men in general.

Indeed, a moment's reflection ought to satisfy anybody as to the absurdity of the insanity theory with regard to American genius.

Was Washington insane? Or Jefferson, or Hamilton, or Franklin? Was insanity the distinguishing mark of Abraham Lincoln? Can Emerson, Longfellow, Lowell and Julia Ward Howe be dismissed with a wave of the hand as insane persons?

Coming down to the present day, would Thomas A. Edison be counted among the world's foremost lunatics? Or Charles W. Eliot? Or Lyman Abbott?

The sooner people rid themselves of the false insanity doctrine the sooner the way will be cleared for intelligent pondering of the question.

Is not the man of genius, after all, representative of higher possibilities open to the human race, and is it not possible to some extent to produce more men of genius by proper training and environment?

To this question I for one believe that ultimately an affirmative reply will be given.—H. Addington Bruce.

A Few in Every Age.

At a recent fire in the Standard Oil works at Long Island City it took 50 policemen to hold back the women who wanted to rush into the burning building and rescue their husbands. Rumor had it that European agents fired the works and meant to carry off the employees. All the husbands turned up intact, but it is reassuring to find that wifely spirit can rise to deeds not unworthy of the past.

Everyone remembers what happened at a Dutch city which, after a terrific siege, fell before the armies of the cruel Alva. The one mercy granted the conquered burghers was that the women might bring out such of their most prized possessions as they could carry on their shoulders. When the gates were opened a line of ladies staggered forth, each bearing a husband, booted and armed, upon her back.

May there always be a few wives of this mind.—From the New York Evening World.

Needs Farming Implements.

Farming implements of all kinds are greatly needed in France just now, and the honorary secretary of the French relief fund recently received a telegram from M. Guillet, honorary secretary of the Secours National, asking permission for the expenditure of 20,000 francs from the money raised by the fund for the purchase of agricultural implements, urgently required for the purpose of getting in the harvest in the invaded districts of France. The necessary permission was immediately given, and the French relief fund authorities, knowing that further supplies of these implements are badly required, make a special appeal to manufacturers of agricultural implements in Great Britain who may not have contributed already to the fund to make donations in kind.

Arctic Route to Be Used.

Progress in the exploitation of the steamship route to Siberia by way of the Arctic ocean has been reported from time to time. The United States consul general at Moscow states that interruption of other trade routes by the war will stimulate the use of the Arctic route, and that extensive preparations are now being made by the Siberian association for the shipping season of 1915. Hides, flax, hemp and other raw materials to a value of $500,000 will probably be sent by water to England. The association is building a settlement on the lower Yenisei.

Mackensen No Scot.

The idea current in the Scottish press that General von Mackensen is a Highlander gone astray is quite erroneous. One finds on the continent occasional traces of Scottish names slightly transformed to fit their surroundings. They are common enough in Holland, thanks to the famous eighteenth century regiment of the Scots-Dutch, and we have an example in the Norwegian pianist, Grieg, whose ancestors, Greigs of Arboeth, settled in Bergen, in Norway. Von Mackensen is no sort of a Maekenzie. He takes his name from the village of Mackensen, on the Solling, a small agricultural spot in Hanover, not far from the once pleasant town of Hildesheim. Like most families who derive their names from the soil, General von Mackensen comes from a very old family, though its patent of nobility is entirely modern.—Manchester Guardian.

Mineral Waters.

According to the annual statement on the production of mineral waters in 1914, now available for distribution by the geological survey, 54,358,466 gallons of mineral water were sold during the year. This quantity came from 829 commercial springs and had a value of $4,892,328.

SUBMARINE CHASERS BUILT FOR THE RUSSIANS

These slim, white, high-powered motor boats, so light that they rest like bubbles on the water yet capable of making a speed of more than thirty-five miles an hour, are part of a large order being executed at Greenport, L. I., for the allies. The vessels have been nicknamed "mosquitoes," because of their size and fleetness. They are to be used to overhaul the German submarines and put them out of commission, being equipped with rapid-firing guns for this purpose. The boats are 60 feet long with a beam of 10 feet, and float in 2 1/2 feet of water. The three big engines which drive the three propellers and the four gasoline tanks occupy the center section and leave no room for passage forward and aft beneath the deck. They are to be taken to Archangel, Russia, aboard vessels of the Caribbean and Southern line.

Edison Conquers Chlorine Gas.

United States submarine crews need no longer fear the chlorine gas hitherto automatically generated among the metals of their precarious craft. Mr. Edison has found the secret of prevention—submerged boats may proceed to greater distances safe from the dangers created by the contact of salt water with lead batteries in the electric installation. It cost him $5,000 different experiments to determine the cause and provide the remedy, and $3,000,000 in money. His new nickel battery, impervious, tried out by a year in sea water, was installed in K-6 and has been recommended for the other submarines. Deaths, ailments and incapacities have been due to chlorine gas; Mr. Edison's service, therefore, is no less on behalf of life-saving than on behalf of alert effectiveness in this arm of defense.

BEDSTEADS MADE OF DATE PALMS

So many wounded allies have been taken from the Dardanelles to Egypt that the erection of numerous temporary hospitals has been necessary. To equip these quickly, bedsteads were made of date palm trees. They resemble bird cages, and the material is so supple that they are as comfortable as if they had the best of modern springs. The photograph shows wagon-loads of these beds on the way to a hospital.

Work Laid Out for Students.

Students in the college of arts and pure science of New York university no longer will be obliged to confine their endeavors to purely academic and nonprofessional studies. According to plans contemplated for the college year beginning this month, a four-year course in commercial training will be offered as a distinct department of the university college, which is at the University Heights division of the university. While the regular study of prescribed subjects of general educational value will be adhered to during the first year, the work of the sophomore term will include studies of corporation finance, banking, bookkeeping and economics. The final two years are to be devoted almost exclusively to work along strictly technical lines, with supplementary study in research problems in the laboratory.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mrs. A. L. Crawford, Medfield, Mass., writes: "Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Bright's Disease, and I am healthy and strong today and have been blessed with good health ever since my cure. When the doctors pronounced my case Bright's Disease I was in such a serious condition that they could not do anything for me. I kept getting worse. My limbs from my ankles to my knees swelled and my eyes were so swollen that I couldn't see. As a last hope I thought I would give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. I gradually improved and kept on taking them and they cured me thoroughly."

Sure of Congregation. A Scottish prison chaplain, recently appointed entered one of the cells on his first round of inspection and thus addressed the prisoner who occupied it.

"Well, my man, do you know who I am?"

"No, nor I ddnna care!" was the nonchalant reply.

"Well, I'm your new chaplain."

"Oh, ye are? Then I hae heard o' ye before!"

"And what did you hear?" returned the chaplain, his curiosity getting the better of his dignity.

"Well, I heard that the last two kirks ye were in ye preached them bath empty; but I can say ye willna find it quite sa easy to do the same wi' this one."

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KRAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It can be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

DAIRY THE DAIRY

GOOD COW STALL AND FLOOR

Dairy Building Should Be Constructed With Aim to Keep Cows Dry and Clean as Possible.

While it is more pleasant to work in fine barns, it is not necessary to have them in order to get good results, but items under this head are quite necessary for getting the best returns. With the comfort of the animal in view, our buildings should be constructed with the aim to keep the cows as dry and clean as possible. Cement floors built with about the same thickness as sidewalks and so constructed as to offer good drainage are the most serviceable, says a writer in West- ern Farmer. They should contain a gutter 18 to 20 inches wide and seven to eight inches deep. The gutter should slope to one edge and also to one end, as in Fig. 1, which shows a cross-section.

The front gate should be adjusta- ble, so as to close to the rear edge of the platform. The manger may be made of wood or cement, but in all cases should be partitioned off so as to keep each cow's food separate. Some stockmen object to cement floors on the ground that they give the cows rheumatism and produce sore feet. If proper bedding is given, there should be no trouble. Many think such a floor construction extrava- gant and impractical for the average dairyman, but it is not. While the original cost may be a little more, it will be cheaper in the end and far more serviceable. Such a floor will be far more sanitary in every way. They are easier to clean and do not give off odors like a board floor, which soaks up filth and causes an ever-present odor in the stable.

The stalls should be separate so that each animal will be by herself, and she will soon learn to take her own place when entering the stable. This is not saying that good stables cannot be built of wood, but it is to remind the man who contemplates building or wishes to remodel his barn that it pays to build well.

When making croquettes of left-over meat it is much better to boil the meat until it is very tender.

Boil the Meat.

Two or three times a week a hot liquid solution should be poured into the sink. It is best to do this the last thing at night, so that it will not be washed away before it has time to act on the grease in the pipes.

Epsom salts added to rinsing water will keep even delicate colors from fading or running. Use a teaspoonful of salts to a gallon of water.

Keep a sheet of carbon paper in the notebook; then, when making out a laundry list, you will have a duplicate list for yourself.

A teaspoonful of sugar to a kettle of corn or peas when cooking will im- prove their flavor.

A bunch of mint added to the water in which new potatoes are boiled will give a flavor which is most pleasant.

For the Silo. Short, immature corn should be al- lowed to stand until nearly dry before putting into the silo. That is, the leaves should be nearly dry; the stalk should be pretty well filled with sap. If this corn is put in while too green it may make sour silage.

Ideal for Keeping Milk Cool. A springhouse or a refrigerator is the ideal thing for keeping milk cool, but million of pounds of good butter are made every year with no better equipment than a tank for the cans filled with a pump from a well.

Repair Leaking Teat. If a cow has a little hole in the side of her teat, through which the milk squirts, wait till she is dry, then scrape the edges of the hole till it bleeds and sew together. Take out the stitches when it heals.

Hats for Every Face

In the displays of new millinery that are of paramount interest just now women complain that the great variety in style and design in new hats is bewildering. There are so many shapes to choose from! Shall the hat be made of velvet or hatter's plush or felt or velour or fur or selected from among the innumerable combinations of these and other fabrics? What is the wisest choice in a season not dominated by a few styles?

Such a season leaves the individual to her own resources in making a choice. But it affords her a chance to exercise fine judgment in suiting her millinery to her own particular type. There are few freakish styles, in spite of this wonderful variety in hats, and there is a hat for every face.

One cannot go wrong in choosing velvet or any of the materials mentioned. Colors are dark and rich, and trimmings correspond. Metallic laces and braids, elaborate beadwork, silk and velvet flowers and those covered with tinsel, ribbons of high luster, and rich ostrich plumes, are set off by the hats of beautiful and sedate colors that form the best of backgrounds for them. Fur and the most elaborate and carefully made fancy feathers, or the peculiar new cut steel ornaments pro- vide many novelties in the way of trimmings, unlike any that have gone before.

Three of the new patterns are shown in the group pictured here. The small hat at the top has a coronet of velvet which is wide at the back but narrowed to a small upturned brim at the front. A brilliant corded silk covers the crown and the inside of the coronet, forming a binding about the edge of the hat. Two smart, upstand- ing plumes at the back, taken with the shape of the hat, suggest a military mode.

At the left a wide-brimmed hat with soft crown is made of velvet. The brim is curved in gentle and grace- ful lines. A metallic braid and a large flower, which looks like the airiest of filigree, make up the simple and very effective trimming.

At the right a felt hat faced with velvet shows another of the pictur- esque wide-brimmed models. In this hat the crown is higher. Wide moire ribbon and silver lace adorn the un- usual shape, in which the brim is deeply slashed at each side.

When making croquettes of left-over meat it is much better to boil the meat until it is very tender.

Two Play Frocks in Tub Materials

Summer or winter, the play and school frocks of the very small girl are made of materials that can be washed. Durable linen in the natural or in gay colors, wash flannel, pique, ginghams, chambray, kindergarten cloth, all present themselves to the hand of the seamstress, in plain plaid and striped designs. Very little trim- ming is used and little girls' frocks must depend for their style on color, cut and combinations of plaid or striped with plain material.

But if good taste prohibits much trimming on the clothes of the little miss it encourages a bit of pretty needlework and oddities in cut. So long as the designer does not depart from simplicity or unbroken lines she may indulge her fancy for unusual shaped cuffs, sleeves and yoke in one, and quaint effects in finishing touches.

The two little frocks pictured here are of the everyday sort that mothers are making up in heavy linens and other wash fabrics. In them the little girl may romp along with her brood- ers; they are designed for much wear.

At the left a plain dress is shown made of dark blue linen with collar, cuffs and belt of tan linen. It has a short opening at the front with eye- lets worked in tan floss in a close- even buttonhole stitch on each side. It slips on over the head and fastens by means of narrow ribbon in black or dark blue lace through the eyelets. A bit of needlework appears on the cuffs and collar in a small embroidered disk of the same size as the eyelets.

A dress of striped pique or other striped material is pictured at the right. It is made with a set-on belt, and two plaits appear at each side, in the skirt portion, below the belt. The collar and cuffs in white are edged with a plain buttonhole-stitched scal- lop, and this simple edging finishes the plait which covers the front open- ing.

A double row of round buttons is set down the front, and two larger buttons of the same kind fasten through bot- tomholes in the ends of the belt, which is stitched to the dress only along the upper edge at the sides and back. This makes it convenient to tuck under the dress. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

The New Lung Coat. There are many novelties being shown as a forerunner for the coming modes.

One will notice the greatest change in the coats of the tailored suits, for instead of the loose, shapless garment of straight lines we are to wear close-fitting coats with long, full skirts, which hint strongly of the redingote. At first one might mistake this long coat for a gown, as it completely hides the frock worn beneath, and a few over-generous couturiers have made the coats several inches longer than the skirts.

Naturally the snugly-fitted bodies portions of these coats have reacted to favor the seams, which have been absent for so many seasons, and there is a decided curve at the waist line.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

A damp cloth dipped in common baking soda will brighten tinware.

The OO steel wool is fine for scouring alumi- num and keeping it bright.

Cabbage will not fill the house with odor if cooked in rapidly boiling salted water in an uncovered dish.

Boil the tea and coffee pot often in strong soda water; this will keep them free from stains.

Red ink may be removed from linen if freshly made mustard is applied and left on an hour, then sponge off and the stain will disappear at once.

To remove candle grease cover with blotting paper and apply a very hot iron. Rub the iron up and down and the grease will be absorbed in the blotter.

A quick way of cleaning currants is to rub them with flour; this will take off the stalks. Put the currants in a colander and rub them with the hand.

To make whipped cream go farther and stand more firm add the white of an egg, beaten stiff.

Never allow irons to become red-hot or they will not hold the heat as well again.

Two or three times a week a hot liquid solution should be poured into the sink. It is best to do this the last thing at night, so that it will not be washed away before it has time to act on the grease in the pipes.

Epsom salts added to rinsing water will keep even delicate colors from fading or running. Use a teaspoonful of salts to a gallon of water.

GOOD THINGS TO KNOW.

A cloth dipped in whiting will re- move finger marks and soil from white paint much easier than the old meth- od of soap and wa- ter.

When a soup or sauce is over-sauced, dip a piece of bread into the liquid; this will take up the sauce so that more liquid will need to be added, yet it will re- lieve the high flavor.

Remedy for Mildew.—An excellent remedy for mildew is to saturate the article with kerosene, roll it up and let it stand for 24 hours, then wash in soap suds.

Mock Venison.—Cover a piece of mutton with vinegar water and a few spices, cook slowly in mixture, adding salt when the meat is tender. When cooked it tastes like venison.

In using a lemon for a cold, it will be found more efficacious as well as more full of juice if baked in the oven, and the juice eaten with sugar while hot.

Steel wool is a most convenient helper in the house. It may be used in the place of sandpaper, pumice stone and scouring sumps. It will take soil off of floors, remove varnish, rub down varnish on woodwork, remove rust and stain from metalware and will get into cracks and corners bet- ter than any other cleanser. The brush is used with soap to polish alumi- num ware.

Put a fresh apple in the sack; the moisture will keep the cake fresh and moist.

Headache caused from worry or nervousness may be quickly relieved by applications at the back of the head next the neck of hot cloths. Soaking the feet in hot water is also a good remedy.

White siletot makes fine linings for kitchen drawers; it is cheap, can be easily cleaned, and always looks well.

Why We Count in Tens. Because we have ten fingers we count in tens; therefore, for ease and quickness of reckoning all our meas- urements should be in tens. Then, in order to reckon, we should only have to use the very simple method which we learn when we study decimals.

The Indians returned to the attack with redoubled fury. An entrance into the camp was effected, and for a few minutes it looked as if the soldiers might be overwhelmed.

Many officers went down under the fire of the Indians. Harrison's horse was killed. He mounted another and quickly disposed his troops to better advantage. When his lines were re- established not an Indian that had reached the camp was alive.

A story is told that illustrates the terrible losses of the Fourth Indiana regiment. General Harrison, riding furiously toward the point of greatest peril, encountered a mere boy with blood-stained head working heroically to stem the Indian attack.

"Young man," asked the general, "where is your colonel?"

"Dead, sir."

"Your major?"

"Dead, sir."

"Your captain?"

"Dear, sir."

"Who commands the regiment?"

"I do, sir. Ensign Tipton. Fourth In- diana, sir."—Kansas City Star.

Good News for Hungry Man. They had been settled in their splik and span new home just one week and on the Saturday Reginald rushed home eagerly from his office.

Ermentrude met him on the door step, her face wreathed in smiles.

"Oh, ducksey," she gurgled, "wifey has made you something awfully nice and special for your dinner today! Guess!"

Reginald, who liked good things to eat, reeled off a list of about fifty of his favorite dishes. Then he paused in dismay. His precious Ernie was weeping.

"W-what's the matter?" he gasped.

"O-oh!" she sobbed, as she threw herself on his neck. "My h-h-heart is broken. I—I thought you'd guess straight off that I'd m-made some b-b-butterscotch!"

How the Fight Started. A man went into a local hardware store Saturday and said, "I want to buy a saw," relates the Cedarvale County Limer. The merchant showed him one and he said, "How much is it?" The merchant replied, "$1.60."

The customer said, "I can buy the same saw from Hoopemucky & Co. for $1.35." Mr. Hardware man said, "I will sell you that saw at Hoopemucky's terms." The customer gave the merchant $1.35. "Now," the hard- ware man replied, "Give me twenty-five cents for express charges, five cents for money order and two cents for a stamp." The customer forked over the money. Mr. Merchant hung the saw back on the hook and said, "Now wait ten days until you get it."

Something to Hold Him To. "Always be the same as you are now," he whispered to her tenderly, "and it is all I ask, my dearest one."

"And if I am you will always love me?" she said quietly.

"Yes," he answered, "always."

She looked beyond him—into space. Only she knew that ere long she would be quite different, for she was growing stout!

Then she smiled into his face. "And the more you see of me the greater will be your love, will it not?" she asked.

"Yes," he answered, "I swear it!" And thus she was comforted.

WHEN a fellow wants tobacco satisfaction and finds how he can get it, it's natural for him to put the other fellows next to the Real Tobacco Chew, because a little chew satisfies.

Tobacco satisfaction is what he is looking for—the smaller the chew it takes, the better it suits him.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR W-B CUT CHEWING TOBACCO. IT IS THE NEW REAL TOBACCO CHEW—CUT LONG SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

(Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.)

FIFTY DIE IN BLAST TERMS OF WAR LOAN

FLAMES FOLLOW EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE TANK AT ARDMORE, OKLA.

200 PERSONS ARE INJURED

Burning Liquid is Hurlled on Town—Scores Burned in Wreckage—Business Section Hit—Disaster Caused by Spark From Hammer.

Ardmore, Okla., Sept. 29.—Fifty persons are believed to have been killed and at least 200 injured, most of them dangerously, when a 250-barrel tank car of gasoline, standing near the Santa Fe freight office in the business district, exploded on Monday.

The tremendous force of the explosion razed many buildings and threw burning gasoline in every direction. A few minutes later the whole town was at the mercy of a score of fires. Ten blocks of business buildings were imperiled by the flames.

The fires are all under control and the city is under martial law.

A spark from a hammer ignited gas fumes through a small leak in the tank and caused the explosion, it was stated. Two workmen were busy on the tank at the time. Both were killed.

Immediately after the explosion excited persons were running in every direction. Glass fronts were blown from stores and scores of people were severely cut.

Private homes were immediately thrown open to the injured and a score of men began working in the smoldering ruins in the business district for victims.

Charles R. Smith, former member of the police force, who was standing on Main street, near the explosion, was killed by falling stones. M. E. Atkins, who was standing among three blocks from the explosion, was killed. A. G. Gould was driving across the Santa Fe tracks near the scene when the blast occurred. He was hurled to death, his horse was killed and his wagon blown to pieces. A man sitting in his wagon east of the Love hotel was crushed when the east side of the building fell, burying his team.

Several bodies have been dragged from the ruins. Ladd & Davidson's wholesale house, east of the railroad, was badly wrecked.

The Santa Fe freight station was wrecked and was burned to the ground. The Union passenger station is almost a total wreck. The express office was partially wrecked.

From the Santa Fe freight station to the Whittington hotel every building, including the Pennington wholesale grocery house, is wrecked.

The east side of the Whittington hotel was wrecked. Swift's house was wrecked and burned.

Dewitt's cigar store was wrecked. Forty girls were employed here, but none was killed.

The Hardyman hotel was demolished and it was reported that several persons were in the building.

Ardmore is the county seat of Carter county and one of the largest cities in southern Oklahoma.

5 PER CENT BONDS SECURITY

Baron Reading Gives Details of Proposed Loan Following Banquet Held in Honor of the Visitors—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Withdraw Opposition.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Financial agents of Great Britain and France, in America to float a vast credit loan, announced formally in Chicago on Tuesday night that half a billion dollars was the amount sought by the warring nations.

The announcement, carrying with it the terms of the proposed loan, was made simultaneously in Chicago and New York. The local declaration followed the banquet to the members of the Anglo-French commission at the Blackstone hotel.

Here are the terms of the history-making loan, as described for newspaper men by Baron Reading of Erleigh (Sir Rufus Isaacs), lord chief justice of England:

"A total of $500,000,000 to be issued on joint Anglo-French five-year 5 per cent bonds offered to the public at 98, and to the syndicate of underwriters at 95.

"Furthermore, the proposition is to issue the bonds in denominations as low as $100, and arrangements may be made by which subscribers might pay for them by installment," explained Baron Reading and his European colleagues at the banquet given by the Commercial club.

The New York announcement of the amount and terms of the loan was made through J. P. Morgan & Co. Dispatches told of a repetition of the announcement made here.

Before making their announcement the finance commissioners were informed by long-distance telephone communication that opposition to the loan by the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had been withdrawn. Jacob H. Schiff, New York banker, communicated with them.

"It was not possible that we could have come to Chicago without discussing the loan," said Baron Reading to interviewers. "There were surely people here with whom we have wanted to discuss the loan."

"The negotiations for the loan have never been confined to New York and its financiers. It is open to the whole country, throughout the whole of the states."

Plans for handling the proposed foreign loan were discussed by Thomas W. Lamont, partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., with 35 representatives of Chicago bond houses and bond departments of banks.

Mr. Lamont outlined the details of the loan and mapped out a scheme for the appointment of committees which will be in charge of the distribution and sale of the bonds in the various sections of the country.

THE HORROR OF WAR

U. S. TROOPER KILLED ALLIES WIN BIG BATTLE

CARRANZA SOLDIERS LOOT AND BURN IN TEXAS. ANGLO-FRENCH ARMIES MAKE GAINS AGAINST TEUTONS.

Retreat of Border Raiders Covered by Several Hundred of the "First Chief's" Troops. Official Statement Issued by Berlin War Office Admits Defeat—20,000 Germans Are Captured.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 27.—One American soldier was killed, the captain commanding the Americans was wounded and the post office and general store at Progress, Tex., were looted and burned on Friday when about eighty armed Mexicans crossed into Texas and attacked a small detachment of Troops B and C, Twelfth Cavalry.

Re-enforcements have been rushed from several army posts and General Funston reports the situation well in hand. However, all the Mexicans, with the exception of 17 killed and 18 prisoners, have recrossed into Mexico under the protection of several hundred troops on the other side of the border.

So serious is the situation felt to be here that it is believed General Funston will order his men to pursue the raiders into Mexican territory in case of a repetition of the raids. Officers who took part in the fighting have reported to General Funston that the soldiers belonged to Carranza's army.

London, Sept. 28.—The greatest victory for the allied armies since the battle of the Marne, when the strategy of General Joffre and Sir John French saved Paris, has crowned the first move of the great Franco-British drive to hurl the Germans from France.

Almost a year to the day since that great battle, which marked the end of the German advance into France, Joffre and French have hurled their legions at the German line with a violence for which they have been months in preparing.

As a result, the German position, which extends in the form of a right-angled triangle from Ypres south to a point northeast of Compeigne, thence directly east through Reims to a point north of Verdun, is in imminent danger of envelopment and annihilation unless the allied drive is stopped short.

In the two days since the great allied offensive began, striking at the extremes of this great German triangle with the purpose of flanking both angles, the French and British have captured 20,000 un wounded prisoners.

The French, on the southern line of the German triangle, have smashed their way for two and a half miles through the German line on a front of fifteen miles, while at the northern end near Arras the British army has captured five miles of trenches and broken the German line in some places for a depth of 4,000 yards.

The German war office admits the loss of Loos and Souchez and the retirement of the Germans for more than a mile over a wide section of the front.

London, Sept. 27.—Before many hours have passed the flame of war may have seared the Balkan nations again.

With the Bulgarian army massed on one border of Serbia and 800,000 Austro-Germans ready to strike on another, Greece and Roumania, the last of the Balkan states to become infected with the war fever, have begun preparations to enter the conflict.

The menace of Bulgaria's mobilization was met by Greece with a royal decree calling twenty classes of troops to the colors. Minister of War Panglis issued an order calling out all the Greek reservists.

Simultaneously the Roumanian cabinet was called into heavy conference with King Ferdinand in circumstances that leave no doubt that the meeting will be followed by a mobilization order.

Die unermutete Folgen Englands Blockadepolitik.

In dem jetzigen Augenblick, da die Abgesandten der Alliierten hier sind, um sich und namentlich England die silbernen Ängeln zu beschaffen, die ihnen den Krieg gewinnen sollen, ist ein Eingeständnis der wirtschaftlichen Schwäche bemerkenswert, das ein Engländer unter dem Pseudonym 'Acceptor' in der bekannten englischen Finanz-Zeitschrift 'Economist' veröffentlichte. Er lautet:

"Das offen ergrimmte Ziel unserer Blockadepolitik ist, einen wirtschaftlichen Druck auf Deutschland auszuüben, und wir alle sind die ganze Zeit hindurch voller Erwartung gewesen, um Anzeichen für die erhoffte Erschöpfung Deutschlands zu erblicken. Dabei vergessen wir in unserem Eifer, daß keine Geldbarren ohne Boden ist — auch unsere eigene nicht —, und daß wir bei Fortsetzung unserer ertraglosen und verwerflichen Methoden selber kopflos werden. In der Panik, die uns umgibt, liegt gerade der Zweck, den wir damit im Auge haben, vereitelt. Wenn man seinen Nachbarn finanziell zum Krampf machen will, wird man ihn doch nicht zwingen, ökonomisch zu wirtschaften, während man sich selber in einen Krampf von Aufwind stürzt; das aber ist die praktische Wirkung unserer Politik gegen Deutschland. Wir haben dieses Land gesungen, als eine Insel zu mobilisieren, um Mittel und Wege zu finden, sich aufrechtzuerhalten und aus wenig viel zu machen. Wir haben dem Deutschen Reich geholfen, sein Geld im Laufe zu behalten, anstatt es in die Fremde zu senden. Wir haben es von der Sorge befreit, darüber nachdenken zu müssen, wie Importe bezahlt werden sollten, indem wir es lehrten, ohne Importe fertig zu werden. Wir haben dem Deutschen Reich einen Vorwand verschafft, den Unterseebootskrieg auf Nichtkämpfer auszuweiten. Wir haben allerhand gereizte Kritik von Seiten Neutraler gegen uns selber nachgerufen, auf deren Meinung uns doch recht viel gelegen sein muß. Wirklich! Deutschland kann uns dankbar sein."

Die Vorstellung, daß Deutschland durch Hunger unterworfen werden oder daß es auch nur ernstlich auf der Verteilung von Kriegsgeldern gehindert werden kann, ist, wie ich annehme, wohl so ziemlich aufgehoben. Das Land, von der übrigen Welt abgeschnitten, kann für seinen inneren finanziellen Bedarf beinahe auf die Notentpresse zurückgreifen. Silberne Ängeln sind für Deutschland ein unentbehrlicher Luxus, die kleine Menge, die besser seinen Zwecken, und so lange man in Deutschland genug von dieser Sorte und genügend Kautschuk für die Soldaten hat, können sie den Kampf bis in's Unendliche fortsetzen, soweit die wirtschaftliche Seite in Betracht kommt.

Der logische Schluß aus diesen Überlegungen ist der, daß wir besser daran täten, Deutschland zu erlauben, alles einzuführen, was es braucht — was zwar absurd klingt, aber nicht ist. Deutschland, das mit einer inneren Einfuhrung rechnete, würde ungewisslich sehr beträchtliche Güter zur Einfuhr erwerben haben, wenn es dazu in der Lage gewesen wäre. Es hätte kein Kautschuk gebrochen und nicht das Rohmaterial für die Munition im Lande selbst aufgefunden. Deutschland hätte bei ungehinderter Einfuhr auf mehr luxuriösem Fuß gelebt, als es jetzt der Fall ist. Aber, wie mir selber es merken: Importe müssen bezahlt werden, und Exporte werden jetzt nicht hinreichend vorgenommen. Was ich daraus ergibt, nennt man wirtschaftlichen Druck.

Der liegt ein solches Problem, aber da gegenwärtig so viele Faktoren an dem Ausgange des Krieges mitwirken können, so gibt man, eine bestimmte Entscheidung vorzuziehen. Jedenfalls sieht es so aus, als ob unsere Blockadepolitik eher eine Quelle der Stärke als eine Schwächung des Feindes bewirkt.

Der Kardinal sagte neulich im englischen Oberhaus, daß ganz Europa einem Panzerkrieg zittert. Hierzu bemerkt die 'Deutsche Export Revue' u. a.:

"Wenn der Krieg wirklich, wie Lord Balfour im Oberhaus anführte, dem Panzerkrieg ganz Europa herbeiführen sollte, so würde England der Dauerhafteste sein, denn es wird gewöhnlich die besten der Staaten besitzen, deren Panzer der englische Reich nach dem Krieg befristet. England wird nach dem Krieg genötigt sein, seine Verbän-den weiter finanziell über Wasser zu halten, um nicht das ganze angesehene Kapital zu verlieren. Und diese Notwendigkeit wird England wirtschaftlich und industriell schwächen. England, das diesen Krieg begonnen hat, um seinen unbezweifelten Konkurrenten Deutschland zu schwächen, wird aus diesen Kriegen wirtschaftlich, finanziell und industriell geschwächt hervorgehen, daß es lange Jahre gebrauchen wird, um das Verlorene einzubringen. Jedenfalls aber wird es zu schwach sein, um seine jetzt mit großen Worten angekündigte Absicht durchzuführen, gemeinsam mit seinen Verbündeten einen wirtschaftlichen Eroberungskrieg gegen Deutschland zu führen."

Das Flotten-Ausbau-Programm. Washington. Die ein hoher Beamter des Marine-Departments verlauten ließ, dürfte man sich betriebs des Marine-Ausbauprogramms endgültig nicht vor Ende des Monats Oktober schlüssig werden. Er erklärte, daß bis zu jener Zeit die Ver. Staaten sich ein abschließendes Urteil darüber bilden könnten, mit welchen europäischen Marine-Kraftern sie in Zukunft zu rechnen haben werden. Hieraus ergibt sich die Folgerung, daß man in Regierungskreisen an eine Beendigung des europäischen Krieges im Herbst glaubt.

Wahgebende Marine-Offiziere sind der Ansicht, daß Präsident Wilson keineswegs auf eine Marine erpicht ist, die in Größe jeder anderen der Welt ebendürrig sein muß, sondern seine Bemühungen darauf beschränken will, eine Flotte zu schaffen, welche jeden Angriff auf die Küsten der Ver. Staaten erfolgreich abzuweisen im Stande ist.

Die amerikanische Marine-Experten sind der Ansicht, daß die Raubboot-Plutonie umgebung auf eine Stärke von hundert hundertgebrachten werden muß. Alle neuen Raubboote werden allernächsten Laus sein.

Man erhofft zuversichtlich, daß der Kongreß sofort die nötigen Gelder für den Bau von vier Schiffschiffen und der erforderlichen Anzahl von Tauchbooten bewilligen wird. Die einzelnen Boote würden sich auf $75,000,000 für Schiffschiffe und $50,000,000 für Tauchboote stellen.

The THOUSANDTH WOMAN BY ERNEST W. HORNING Author of 'The Amateur Cracksmen, Raffles, Etc.' ILLUSTRATIONS BY O. IRWIN MYERS

SYNOPSIS. — Eyes from the penetrating pair that met them with a somber twinkle, an enlightened gusto, quite uncomfortablely clear at such a moment.

It was a sorry sample of his talk. Hilton Toye did not usually mix the ready metaphors that nevertheless had to satisfy an inner censor, of some austerity, before they were allowed to leave those deliberate lips.

"You Aren't a Detective, by Chance, Are You?" Gried Cazalet.

"Crime!" cried Cazalet. "What crime?" "Murder, sir!" said Hilton Toye. "Willful, brutal, bloody murder! Here's the paper, better read it for yourself. I'm glad he wasn't a friend of yours, or mine either, but it's a bad end even for your worst enemy."

The paper fluttered in Cazalet's clutch as it had done in Toye's; but that was as natural as his puzzled frown over the cryptic allusions of a journal that had dealt fully with the ascertainable facts in previous issues.

CHAPTER III.

"We must get hold of an evening paper," said Cazalet. "Fancy his own famous triumph! He had it mounted and inscribed himself, so that it shouldn't be forgotten how he'd fought for law and order at Trafalgar Square! That was the man all over!"

In the Train. Discussion was inevitable on the way up to town next morning. The two strange friends, plumed opposite each other in the first-class smoker, traveled inland simultaneously.

The medical evidence was valuable only as tracing the fatal blow to some such weapon as the missing truncheon; the butler's evidence explained that the dinner-hour was seven thirty; that, not five minutes before, he had seen his master come down-stairs and enter the library, where, at seven fifteen, on going to ask if he had heard the gong, he had obtained no answer.

"Here!" Cazalet had scanned the paper eagerly; his finger drummed upon the place. "The police," he read out in some sort of triumph, "have now been furnished with a full description of the missing watch and trinkets and the other articles believed to have been taken from the pockets of the deceased. What's that but robbery?"

Discussion was inevitable on the way up to town next morning. The two strange friends, plumed opposite each other in the first-class smoker, traveled inland simultaneously.

with thoughtful puckers about his somber eyes. "If you ask me," he replied, "I should like to know what wasn't difficult connected with the telephone system in this country! Why, you don't have a system, and that's all there is to it. But it's not at that end they'll put the salt on their man."

"Which end will it be, then?" "The river end. That hat, or cap. Do you see what the gardener says about the man who ran out bare-headed? If he went and left his hat or his cap behind him, that should be good enough in the long run. It's the very worst thing you can leave. Ever hear of Franz Muller?"

Cazalet had not heard of that important notoriety, nor did his ignorance appear to trouble him at all, but it was becoming more and more clear that Toye took an almost unhealthy interest in the theory and practise of violent crime.

"Franz Muller," he continued, "left his hat behind him, only that and nothing more, but it brought him to the gallows even though he got over to the other side first. He made the mistake of taking a slow steamer, and that's just about the one mistake they never did make at Scotland Yard. Give them a nice, long, plain-sailing stern-chase and they get there by bedtime—wireless or no wireless!"

"But Cazalet was in no mind to discuss other crimes, old or new, and he closed the digression by asserting some that roundly that neither hat nor cap had been left behind in the only case that interested him.

"Exactly," murmured Toye, as though he had just said as much himself. His dark eyes twinkled with deliberation and debate. "How long is it, by the way, that they gave that clerk and friend of yours?"

"That was it." "But I guess fourteen doesn't mean fourteen, ordinarily, if a prisoner behaves himself?" "A little more than ten."

"Fossilized Bacteria. Marvellous as were the discoveries of such prehistoric monsters as the naannoth, the mastodon and the stegosaur, they are now eclipsed by recent investigations which show the most minute microbes and bacteria in fossil form.

She casts them, but she will not strive to imitate. Is there not some virtue in such non-emulation, or is it but the spirit of a deadened race? Yet this rather somber and unattractive apparel is found more among the teen class, the Indian girl in some parts of Mexico—as at Tehuantepec—wears a handsome native costume, derived from Aztec days, at holiday time.

PHILIPP COMBATS STOCK EPIDEMIC

ISSUES REGULATIONS TO PREVENT INFECTION BEING IMPORTED FROM ILLINOIS.

STRICT SHIPPING RULES

Forbids Use of Foreign Manufactured Serum in This State on Any Hogs Until Further Orders.

Madison.—Gov. Philipp issued a proclamation prescribing new regulations respecting transportation of livestock so as to prevent the reintroduction of the foot and mouth diseases into Wisconsin.

Whereas, It has been ascertained that foot and mouth disease again exists, particularly in the state of Illinois, and that there is danger of further infection and spread of the disease from the transportation of livestock and from the use of serums which are manufactured in the state for the prevention of hog cholera.

Therefore, I, Emanuel L. Philipp, do hereby order the following regulations and declare the same to be in full force until their repeal is recommended by the department of agriculture of the state of Wisconsin:

- 1. It is hereby ordered that all cattle, sheep or swine shipped into the state of Wisconsin for any other purpose than immediate slaughter from any state or territory, shall be consigned only in cars which have been disinfected since previously used for the transportation of stock. 2. All horses shipped into the state of Wisconsin shall be loaded only in cars which have been disinfected since being last used for the shipment of livestock. 3. Any cattle, sheep or swine to be transported wholly within the state of Wisconsin for any other purpose than immediate slaughter shall be transported only in cars which have been disinfected since previously used for the transportation of stock. 4. Horses from any closed area intended for shipment into the state of Wisconsin must have their feet, tails, manes and their halters, blankets and other paraphernalia accompanying same disinfected and this must be certified to by state or federal authorities. 5. No cattle, sheep, other ruminants or swine shall be shipped into the state of Wisconsin except from federal "free area," unless stock is consigned to slaughtering plants under federal supervision and inspection. 6. No hog cholera serum or virus manufactured in the state of Illinois shall be used on any hogs in this state until further orders. Several counties in northern Illinois are now under quarantine.

TWO ARE SLAIN AT LAKE

Remains of Col. and Mrs. R. W. Mueller Are Discovered in Fire Ruins.

Marquette.—Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Mueller, Milwaukee, were brutally murdered at the summer home on Puckaway lake, near here, Sunday. The skulls of both had been crushed in, oil poured over the bodies, and then fire set to the home.

No motive for the murder of the former banker and his wife is known, but that it was murder is the charge Dist. Atty. James L. Kelley, Green Lake county, made after a careful examination of the charred remains. Col. Mueller's body was found in the center of the room, the skull crushed and the face and limbs burned to a crisp. It was unrecognizable. Lying beneath it was about one dollar in small change and the rim of his pocketbook.

Mrs. Mueller's body lay near the door. The face and head were badly mutilated. The limbs were detached from the trunk. About the charred body lay a few corset steels, mure cloth and a pair of shoes. Mrs. Mueller had been clothed when the crime was committed. The last that was seen of the murdered man and his wife was when they went to Marquette, making the trip from their cottage in the village in their motor boat. They were both well and happy at the time, and chatted with friends in the village.

THREE MEN KILLED AS CAR HITS AUTO

KENOSHANS HURLED TO DEATH ON CHICAGO AND MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC ROAD TRACKS.

CAR CREW IS DETAINED

Conductor and Motorman Are Held by Authorities Pending Coroner's Investigation—Auto Going 25 Miles an Hour.

Kenosha.—Three men killed and twenty-six people shaken up is the result of a collision of an automobile with a southbound Chicago and Milwaukee electric car at the Burlington road crossing, north of this city. The automobile was dragged about 1,000 feet, say witnesses to the accident, before the car was stopped.

The dead: Fred Pratt, 25 years old, Kenosha; Anthony Czarkowski, 21 years old, Kenosha; Fred Metten, 23 years old, Kenosha. At the time of the accident, it is said Czarkowski, who was running the automobile, was driving at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and it is stated that the street car was also going a high rate of speed. Pratt was hurled about seventy-five feet and the other victims about fifty feet.

Motorman W. A. Marcy, a Racine man, and Conductor W. O. Girard, Milwaukee, were taken into custody by Sheriff Stahl following the accident. They are being held pending an investigation by the district attorney.

The passengers were too frightened to talk of the accident, but several declared that the motorman had sounded the whistle of his train and that the bell at the crossing was sounding a danger signal when the crash occurred. The wind was blowing a gale from the northwest at the time of the accident and it is thought the men in the automobile did not hear the warning signal.

Their sentences were made more severe because of the part they took in a jail delivery five weeks ago, at which time Undersheriff Roberts was attacked. Both men declared before leaving that they got a "dirty deal" in Waukesha. Other prisoners in the jail sat up until a late hour chatting with Adler and Brown. Adler asked that his unfortunate friends be supplied with fruit and tobacco and left a small sum to pay for them.

BADGER STATE NOTES.

Kenosha.—Peter Leickem, 76 years old and a civil war veteran, was under fire for the first time since "65" when his wife, twenty-three years his junior, fired three shots at him, following a family quarrel. One of the bullets whizzed past his head as he fled down the street and the other two were buried in a door at the Leickem home. Mrs. Mary Leickem, the wife, was arrested and held in bonds of $5,000 pending an examination on charges of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Madison.—The state railroad commission issued an order requiring the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company to furnish electric light service to the Gaston and Merrill schoolhouses in Beloit, the school board to pay at least $25.35 a year for service at the Gaston school and $44.34 a year at the Merrill school until the company secures enough other patrons in the vicinity to justify a reduction to the regular meter charge for service.

Fond du Lac. What is said to be the only C. O. F. court in the United States or Canada, composed entirely of Syrians, has been formally organized here. George T. O'Brien, state vice chief ranger, organized the court that will be known as St. George court No. 1716, C. O. F. He was assisted by E. L. Mangold, state organizer of Appleton, the Rev. Peter Nahas, Joseph Paris and Ayoub George.

Washington.—Pensions have been granted to the following Wisconsin people: Lillie G. Bartley, Bloomington, 82; Ellen Larkin, Caledonia, 82; Anna Peck, Whitehall, 82; Editha Roberts, Janesville, 82; Delinda Mahoney, Grand Rapids, 82.

Madison.—According to figures compiled in the office of the secretary of state, the cost of the last session of the legislature to the state was $194,030.76 as against $194,757.23 for the preceding session. The last session was two weeks longer than that of two years ago. The figures of the secretary of state do not include $50,000 to be paid to owners of newspapers for publishing the session laws.

Fond du Lac.—Notice has been received by E. Bruins of Fairwater that many high awards were given his Jersey cattle at the Minnesota state fair. Six first prizes were received besides numerous lesser awards.

Madison.—E. B. Steensland, president of the Savings Loan and Trust company, has been elected president of the board of commerce, succeeding William J. Teckmeyer, whose term has expired. Kenosha.—Kenosha women won a new recognition when the common council elected Mrs. Walter White as a member of the board of education for the first ward.

Madison.—The railroad commission ordered The Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction company to build a suitable passenger shelter at Boulder road crossing in the town of Greenfield on its East Troy line. The order was issued on petition of Edmund P. Kleczka. The company is given sixty days to erect a shelter.

Oshkosh.—Cornelius Riggles of Appleton, who sued A. W. Priest of the same place for $25,000 for damages sustained when the defendant's car ran into him, was awarded $5,000 by a jury in Circuit court. The case was brought here on a change of venue.

Madison.—The Penn Mutual Life Insurance company of Philadelphia, one of the big companies which withdrew from Wisconsin on account of restrictive legislation several years ago, was re-licensed to do business in this state. The Penn company had assets of $151,947,503.98 and $620,779,667 of insurance in force on Dec. 31, last.

Queenstown.—The body of Dr. Edmund F. Woods, of Janesville, Wis., who lost his life through the torpedoing of the steamship Arabic was washed ashore at Ross Carbery, county Cork.

ATTIRE OF MEXICAN WOMEN

Poorer Class Accept Without Protest Style of Dress which Custom Has Dictated to Their Class.

As to the women of peons, their dress is generally somber hued and modest. No scarlet blanket covers them, but a blue reboso, or shawl, which is generally placed over the head in lieu of a hat.

almost a pathetic resignation, the style of dress which custom has dictated to their class.

There is no aping of the rich in their attire. Whether it be the fine lace mantilla or the Parisian hat which the faridant-from-here snobbish wears, as in temple or plaza she takes her dainty way, or the pretty frock or delicate shoes, the poor woman of the peon, or the miser of the petty shopkeeper, casts no envious glance—but so, that would not be true!

What the self-seeker finds is never worth while.
