WHAT MAIN STREET COST

Highway Commissioner Chas. Johnson Gives Figures as to What Surfacing of East Main Street Cost

Highway Commissioner Charles Johnson was in the village on Tuesday, and while here gave the editor the figures as to what surfacing East Main street cost, which are as follows:

Grading	$ 250.00
Labor on surfacing	517.00
Material	1,163.82
Laying Macadam or tar	272.95
Tar and coal	901.28
Moving charges	13.97
Total cost	$3,154.82

$1800 was the total amount appropriated for state highway aid on this stretch of road, but as that part, eighteen feet wide, does not require the full appropriation, there still remains a balance in the county treasurer of $600, which amount will be used to complete the River road.
The balance $1954.82 is the cost of surfacing the sides and on railroad property, which is to be paid by the village and railroad company, the latter's share being $110.40. Figuring the difference $1844.42 as the village share of extra surfacing and $400, being one-third of the appropriation used, the exact cost of rebuilding this piece of road to the village is $2244.42.
The length of the road surfaced is 1211 feet and the width 44 feet.

High School Notes

Quite a number of students are absent from school this week.
Juniors! Have a heart. Seniors! How about a Halloween party?
The students are kept busy by the teachers this week. Cheat tests only come every six weeks.
If you wish to know how many questions the Freshies asked while writing the Grammar Test, go to Miss Liebig.
A meeting was called to order on Wednesday morning to organize a Literary Society. Mr. Simon requests all students to take an active part in this organization.
The high school boys basketball team will journey to Random Lake next Friday evening, Oct. 29, to challenge the high school team there. Many of the students are planning to accompany them in order to cheer our boys on to victory.

Otto Hinn, Prop.
Geo. F. Brandt, Auctioneer.

Commencing at one o'clock sharp the undersigned will sell at Public Auction on the former Jas. Ward farm, located 4 miles north west of Campbellsport, 3 miles northeast of Ashford, 2 miles south of Eden in the town of Ashford, all his personal property.
Terms made known on day of sale.
Ed. Menger, Prop.
Geo. F. Brandt, Auctioneer.

Married

Word has been received here of the marriage announcement of William Henry Ferber, a former resident of the town of Auburn to Gertrude Casper of Richfield, which took place in the chambers of Judge A. C. Backus at Milwaukee on October 16th.
Soon after the marriage ceremony the happy couple left for California, where they will visit the Panama Exposition and then go to housekeeping at Colgate, California.
The groom is very well known in this community, having resided in the town of Auburn for several years. The bride, according to reports, is a charming woman, born and raised in Richfield, and is an artist in dress making and fitting.
For the congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Ferber on this occasion with best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

Patent on Berry Box

A patent was recently granted to John Zemlow of this city, on a paper berry box, which will be placed on the market next season. The patent is on the hinging device which locks the box after it is folded into shape. The boxes can be shipped knocked down, and easily put together when wanted for use in the berry patch. No glue, tacks or sewing is necessary in the construction of the box. The box is said to be much more convenient and sanitary than the old style which has been in use for so many years. Mr. Zemlow intends to sell the patent and already has had a number of offers.—Beaver Dam Citizens.

Weekly Weather Forecast

Issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday, Oct. 20, 1915.
For the Upper Mississippi Valley and Plains States: With the exception of local rains Wednesday or Wednesday night in upper Mississippi or lower Missouri valleys, the weather will be generally fair during the week, although unsettled weather is again probable over the extreme northwest toward the end of the week.
Don't let your children suffer. If they're fretful, peevish, snuffy or cross give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea—a harmless, but safe laxative for children. 35c.—Edw. C. Miller.

TWO SPECIAL OFFERS IN FORCE

THIS WEEK WILL INTEREST EVERY AMBITIOUS CANDIDATE

BEAUTIFUL LEATHER PILLOW TOP WILL BE GIVEN EVERY PERSON WHO TURNS IN $20.00 ON SUBSCRIPTIONS BETWEEN OCTOBER 22nd AND OCTOBER 28th

The four Dinner Sets were won by Mrs. Walsh, Miss Margarete Schill, Fred Schleit and Carl Schaefer. The count on these prizes was very close, and any one of several other candidates could have won, by turning in one or two more subscriptions. The winners of these prizes are to be congratulated on their efforts, and those who fell a little short are to remember that the one more subscription you might get may be the one you need.

This week we have two special offers in force that will interest every live wire. We shall make it possible for every candidate on the list to win a special prize. Just listen to this. Every candidate who turns in $20 on subscriptions, new or old will receive a beautiful Leather Kewpie Pillow Top. A picture of one of these Pillow tops appears in the large ad. It looks pretty good doesn't it? Well, when you see the real thing; you will be more than surprised, because a mere picture cannot do full justice to these beautiful prizes. This offer makes it possible for every candidate to win one of these special prizes. Only one Pillow Top will be given to a candidate, but every candidate who turns in the $20 will receive a pillow top and the votes received on this will count on the Ford just the same. It would be impossible to offer such prizes on this basis, if it were not for the fact that the $20.00 extra vote the firm in charge of this contest, handles the pillow tops in enormous quantities and so are able to get them at the bottom price.

A Word to Those Working

As the contest gets under way, you will find an ever increasing interest, and find that it is continually easier to get votes. Now that you have the details clearly arranged in your mind, and it becomes second nature to remember them, you are prepared to work more systematically. If I were a candidate, I should try to keep up a high average. Increased efficiency makes this possible, and an ever increasing average, is one thing in a campaign that invariably wins. Above all go in to win. You have often seen a person who tries something that is really hard, but he determines to see it through. That person always reaches his goal. Your goal is a Ford Car. Go after it with a determination to get it. Let nothing shake this determination, and success is yours. This week show your ability by winning one of these pillow tops and several thousand extra votes.

Standing of Candidates

Kewaskum	Fred Schleit, 15,000 votes
	Carl Schaefer, 18,000 votes
Campbellsport	Alex Kramer, 5,000 votes
	Edwin Hoepner, 5,000 votes
	St. Michaels
	Frank Ottlinger, 5,000 votes
	Eden
	Rose Bird, 5,000 votes
New Prospect	Mrs. Walsh, 16,000 votes
	Edna Buehler, 17,000 votes
	Margaret Schill, 17,500 votes
Boltonville	Arthur Groeschel, 15,000 votes
	Art. Koch, 5,000 votes

Highway Aid Voted Down

At The Special Election Last Tuesday The Question of Raising $1000 For Highway Aid Was Voted Down

The question of whether or not the village should levy a special district of $1,000 for the Highway Aid authority of Chapter 533 section 1317.4 of the laws of 1915 for surfacing south Fond du Lac road was voted upon at the special election held in the village last Tuesday. The vote was 37 against and 25 for. The vote was very light only about one-third of the voters going to the polls.

Safe Homes

SAFE HOMES. Do you know that over one hundred dwelling houses are burned down or damaged by fire each month in Wisconsin? Do you know that during the last fiscal year the fire damage to Wisconsin homes amounted to $111,932,175? Do you realize that a majority of these fires occur at night, and endanger the lives of all occupants, and that annually many lives are sacrificed in such fires? Do you know that about one-fourth of the number of dwelling house fires and an annual fire damage of $123,505 were due to defective chimneys alone? Do you realize that you alone are rightly to blame, if your chimneys are defective, or not cleaned out regularly? Do you know that, if you lose any member of your family in such fires, the self-found verdict of "murdered by carelessness" might justly haunt you the rest of your life.
If you really believe in a safe home for your loved ones, make sure that your dwelling house chimneys are sound and safe and are inspected and cleaned out at least once a year. It is better to spend less time and money on expensive finishings and furnishings and more on matters of safety that comes from properly constructed chimneys and a heating plant safely and properly installed.

A Simple Process

Autos traveling at night can avoid the bright glare of the headlights of approaching autos by simple process of turning the windshield backward at an angle of about 45 degrees. This causes the intense glare of the oncoming headlights to be thrown upward and still allows the driver to see his own side of the road. The suggestion is worth trying, and a little experimenting will show that the trick really works if the windshield has just enough "give" to reflect or absorb the light. It perfectly clear it will avail little as "interference."

Young Boy Seriously Injured

Jose, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Steiner of this village sustained serious injuries about the head when he fell off a bicycle near the depot crossing Saturday afternoon. Young Steiner is in company with another lad were coasting down the Main St. hill when in some unaccountable manner he lost his balance and fell striking his head on the rail. The lad for a time suffered untold pain and his condition was very serious. At this writing he is somewhat improved.—Lomira Review.

BRIEMANN FOUND GUILTY

Embezzlement of Bank Funds Total $103,000. "Margins" Prove Down-fall

William F. Briemann, cashier of the Theresa State bank, was found guilty of forgery and embezzlement at Juneau this morning after the jury which had been hearing the case for the past two weeks had been out six minutes. This furnishes another chapter in the sensational Theresa bank case, which broke into the limelight last March, when Briemann mysteriously disappeared, and a shortage in his accounts was discovered.
Briemann was found guilty of forgery and embezzlement. The first count in the indictment was for forging a $3,000 note; the second was embezzling the amount of the note; the third count was embezzling $50,000 and the fourth count was embezzling another $50,000. The state abandoned the second count as the sum was included in the third count, so Briemann being found guilty on the other three counts, is guilty of forging a $3,000 note and embezzling $100,000.
The forged note upon which the first count of the indictment was based was indorsed by Hans Bue low, the German imperial chancelor, and by Edward Blumner, the great Prussian field marshal, who commanded the Prussians at Waterloo and came to the rescue of the Duke of Wellington in crushing the armies of Napoleon. Briemann it is claimed made use of these names to mislead bank examiners. It is said that the evidence disclosed 53 notes which were dummy notes designed to cover up the defalcations of Briemann, which began in December, 1912, and continued until March, 1915, when affairs at the Theresa State bank exploded.
It was found that Briemann lost the money in the margins, having dropped $10,500 during the first year.
Moritz Lehner, of Mayville, a director of the Theresa bank was sued in a civil action by the bank to recover $8,000 which was the amount of an assessment levied by the bank against Lehner's seven shares of bank stock to make up the Briemann loss.
Lehner paid the money over to the bank once, but it was returned to him upon the demand of his attorney. The bank in bringing out detailed testimony to convict Briemann made a voluntary motion for non-suit in the Lehner case.
The state introduced a mass of documentary evidence, bringing in case full of the bank by the suit, which was fairly started when 178 exhibits had been offered by the state.

The following criminal cases were dismissed: Those against Peter Muench, Otto Walter, Rudolph Herman and Anton Lischka.
A change of venue in the case of George Mike was permitted. The case will be tried in Fond du Lac county.
Citizenship papers were issued to all the applicants, namely: Emil Jenni, Herman F. Butt, Wilhelm Maas, Wenzel Baschka, Stephen Jarota, Ignatz Proschinger, Bernard Alhet and Charles Goldbeck.
John Livingston and Frank Janiskowski, both charged with larceny, and George Fritz, charged with a burglary charge are etated for trial. It is expected that all three will plead guilty.
Albert Kreelin, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, was held for trial Tuesday. The case went to the jury that evening and he was found guilty as charged.
Several of the jury cases were settled out of court. The one being tried is that of Dr. William M. Eckart against Frank Muldoon. This is a slander case.

DEATH OF MRS. F. SCHMURR

Well Known and Respected Lady of the Town of Auburn Died Last Sunday Morning

Mrs. Louise Schmurr, nee Wietzenberger, passed away at her home in the town of Auburn, two miles north of this village early Sunday morning, after an illness of fourteen months duration, death being due to bright's disease.
Deceased was born on May 3rd, 1851, in Germany. When a small girl of three years old, she came to this country with her parents settling in the town of Barton. On January 7th, 1875 she was united in holy bonds of matrimony with Ferd. Schmurr, soon thereafter going to housekeeping on the farm where she resided up to her death. Their union was blessed with six children, namely: Lena Mrs. Gust. Magritz of the town of Auburn; Millie, Mrs. C. A. Christiansen of Milwaukee; August of Brookway, Wis.; Albert, Herman and Robert on the homestead. Besides the children she also leaves her grief stricken husband to mourn her loss.
Mrs. Schmurr was a very well known woman of this community. She was always a good christian and a very devoted wife and mother. She was held in very high esteem by every one who knew her.
The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon with services in the Ev. Peace church, with interment in the congregation's cemetery, Rev. F. Mohme officiated.
To the bereaved relatives we extend our deep heartfelt sympathy. May she rest in peace.
"We miss thee from our home dear mother,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face,
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee—
We miss thee everywhere."
C. R. D. OF THANKS.

Doings of Fond du Lac County

Miss Therera Gruenbeck Dies
Miss Theresa Gruenbeck for fifty-one years a resident of the county, passed away at her home last Tuesday morning after an illness from which she suffered two months.
Will Seal New Member
William Bartz has been selected by the town board of Rosendale to fill the office of chairman to succeed George E. Hyde, resigned, and will be seated at the annual session of the county board in November.
May Erect Sanatorium
One of the most important matters to be considered by the supervisors at their November session will be the question of establishing a tuberculosis sanatorium. About three years ago $100,000 for a sanatorium was appropriated by the county board, and a site was selected near the county farm. The state board of control approved the board's action and also the site chosen for the proposed building. Shortly afterward, however, a new board of control came into power and rescinded the action of the former board, declaring the site selected was unsuitable. The matter was then dropped, but now several members of the board have been reconsidering the matter anew and will reopen the question at the next session.

The Newspaper's Courage

Once in a while somebody gets the idea that the reason the local paper does not report every scandal that comes to public knowledge is because the publisher is afraid, says an exchange. That's not the reason. The reputable newspaper, especially in a small town where everyone is a neighbor to everyone else, takes no delight in giving publicity to those things that have brought disgrace to some family or heartache to some wife or mother. It is much more pleasant to record the good things that happen, to tell about the incidents that make life more endurable, and that uplift rather than tear down, that bring joy instead of heartache. So if you don't always find in the country paper the delectable bit of gossip that would doubtless make good reading, and if you are inclined to blame the editor because he "doesn't print all the news, consider that some home has had enough wars, over unfortunate happenings, and that the gossiping and scandal mongers can and will gladly and ghoulishly give sufficient publicity to the details to satisfy the lowest tastes. Incidental it might be remarked here, that the most complaint of censored news comes from people who have had in their lives some things they were very glad were not given newspaper publicity.

JERSEY WOMEN LOSE

HEAD OF STATE SUFFRAGE BODY ADMITS DEFEAT AT THE POLLS.

WILSON CAST HIS BALLOT

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 21.—Defeat of woman suffrage in New Jersey was conceded on Tuesday night by Mrs. E. F. Peckert, president of the New Jersey Woman's State Suffrage association.

Four hundred and ninety-four of the state's 1,891 voting precincts gave a majority of 12,514 against the adoption of the constitutional amendment to enfranchise women. The figures were: For 34,610; against, 47,124. These returns were mostly from the large cities.

Unofficial returns from 18 districts in Jersey City, Elizabeth and Plainfield gives 1,926 votes for and 1,719 against adoption of the woman suffrage amendment.

Complete unofficial returns from three districts in Trenton and partial returns from seven others give 632 votes for and 1,128 against the amendment.

A heavy vote was cast throughout the state at the special election on three proposed constitutional amendments.

Woman watchers were stationed at the polls in nearly every precinct. The election was orderly and with only isolated instances of alleged irregularities. In Newark woman watchers reported they had been ejected from the polling places, but this was apparently due to lack of proper credentials.

Washington, Oct. 21.—President Wilson returned to Washington on Tuesday night from Princeton after casting the first ballot ever given by a chief executive of the United States in favor of woman suffrage.

The president's brief visit to his legal residence was marked by a more enthusiastic welcome from the Princeton students than ever before had been given him on any of his numerous trips there since he entered the White House.

Woman suffragists were not much in evidence during the president's visit.

ANNOUNCES HIS RESIGNATION

Attorney General Favored Compulsory Military Service and Saw Blunders in Dardanelles Campaign—General Hamilton Relieved of Command.

London, Oct. 20.—The first break in the coalition cabinet organized after the Kitcheners criticism of last spring came on Monday when Sir Edward Carson, attorney general, announced his resignation. The government has made no announcement of the break.

Carson's defection was the result of the strenuous fight he has made in the cabinet in favor of conscription. With only one or two supporters he has held that the only way England can raise an army sufficient to insure victory of a permanent nature is by compulsory military service.

The attorney general's resignation, which had been predicted for several days, has created a crisis which may force Premier Asquith to name another entirely new cabinet.

Simultaneously with the announcement by Carson of his resignation came the announcement that Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton had been relieved of his command of the allied troops in the Mediterranean and replaced by Gen. Sir C. C. Monro.

The action is believed to be the direct result of the widespread criticism of the allies' failure to break through the Dardanelles. The tremendous casualties which this effort has cost, estimated to be 99,000, have been attributed to poor generalship.

The Dardanelles campaign and the Saloniki expedition are said to have been bones of contention. Some of the cabinet ministers are said to have favored abandoning the Dardanelles campaign.

Besides, it is reported there is in certain quarters much criticism of the landing of French and British troops at Saloniki to help Serbia.

ALLIES TAKE BULGARIAN CITY

Strumitza Captured by Forces Aiding Serbia—Troops Landed at Enos.

London, Oct. 20.—The Bulgarians have been repulsed along their whole line, the Serbians are now considered secure and the allies are advancing against King Ferdinand's forces, according to a dispatch on Monday from Athens. More allied troops are being rushed to the front with all possible speed. The Bulgarian stronghold of Strumitza, thirty miles north of Saloniki, was captured by French troops. Rumania has refused passage through her territory for Russian troops sent to the aid of the Serbians. The entente allies have effected a landing at Enos on the Aegean sea in Bulgaria, and have seized the railroad at that point.

The Serbs have abandoned Dolran and the Germans have occupied Zelenik. The German official report says: "In the Macva district the enemy is beginning to retreat. We are advancing on the plateau south of Belgrade, against Cvetkograd and the village of Vrein. "Southwest of Passarowitz we captured Misljenovac and Bozevac."

TO HOLD BIG CONFERENCE

Third National Meeting of Marketing and Farm Credits to Be Held in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The third national conference on marketing and farm credits is to be held in Chicago, November 29th to December 2, inclusive. The call for this meeting is issued by the general committee of the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, and by the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative associations. At this meeting, representatives of agricultural, educational and banking interests of every section of the United States will be brought together to frame legislation necessary to secure an easy flow of money to agricultural operations, to secure the standardization of farm products and to encourage the organization of agriculture.

BANKER HOME; WILL PAY

J. B. Fuller, Who Left Winslow, Ill., Returns From Chicago in Auto.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 18.—J. Bradley Fuller of Winslow, Ill., the banker who disappeared September 13 and whose bank subsequently was thrown into receivership, reappeared in Winslow on Friday. He told friends he intended to reimburse the bank's patrons for every dollar lost.

NAVAL PROGRAM APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Five-Year Period Provides for $500,000,000 Outlay—Government to Build Own Vessels.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Secretary Daniels' naval program, which has been approved by President Wilson, provides an expenditure of $500,000,000 during a five-year period.

The exact amount to be expended each year has not been decided, but the first year's program probably will call for two dreadnaughts and three battle cruisers in addition to about twenty-five submarines, sixteen destroyers and probably five scout cruisers.

The five-year program calls for sixteen capital ships—ten dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers.

The total amount to be appropriated for construction the first year will be in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, but since about $25,000,000 of this sum is for three battleships authorized last year the total increase in the naval appropriation bill is likely to be approximately $75,000,000.

Secretary Daniels said he wanted to increase the capacity of the various government war yards and do much of the new warship construction in those yards.

Secretary Garrison's plan for strengthening the military establishment and organizing a great continental army for defense purposes the following:

1. Regular army of 140,000 men, an increase of 50,000 men in the present establishment.

2. A continental army, 400,000 strong, enlisted for six years for service within the continental United States. These men would serve two months a year for the first three years with the colors, undergoing a period of intensive training. The remaining three years would be on furlough, subject to call in time of need.

It is estimated that 40,000 of the 500,000 men thus provided for would be noncombatants of the medical corps or other auxiliary forces.

Behind this army would be the National Guard, now some 125,000 strong, but whose number might be substantially augmented by the organization of the continental army.

TAGGART CASE IS DISMISSED

Charges Against the Indiana Political Leader Are Withdrawn—Other Trials Put Over.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 21.—The case against Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana charged with election conspiracy, was dismissed by Special Judge W. H. Eichhorn in criminal court on the motion of Prosecutor A. J. Rucker. The cases of the more than 100 other men, who were indicted with Taggart and Mayor Joseph E. Bell, were put over to December 1.

FIFTY INJURED WHEN BRIDGE GIVES WAY.

Teachers on Way to Attend Convention at Randolph (Kan.) Victims of Crash.

Manhattan, Kan., Oct. 19.—Ten bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of Union Pacific motor train No. 579, which plunged into Fancy creek, near Randolph, Kan., on Saturday.

Six other bodies are thought to be in the submerged baggage car and over fifty persons were injured. Many of the victims were schoolteachers who were bound for Randolph to attend the Riley county teachers' convention.

The names of the identified dead follow:

Dr. Louis Atwood, Topeka, Mrs. Stella Chapman, Manhattan; Albert Cyrene, Randolph; Mary Giles, Manhattan; Alma Jellin, Randolph; Ethel Reizer, Stockdale, Kan.; S. O. Reizer, Stockdale; Theodore Smith, Tecumseh, Neb.; Carl Stoneberg, Randolph. On the train were 75 passengers. The train consisted of a motor car and a trailer. It was speeding northward when it struck a bridge over Fancy creek which was weakened by high waters caused by a three-inch rain.

Unable to stop his train, the motor-man set his brakes and then leaped into the torrent. The combination baggage and passenger coach plunged into the water, but the trailer, containing a party of schoolteachers, was saved.

A wild fight for life followed the plunge of the motor. Miss Perry, superintendent of Riley county schools, was in the trailer and sustained serious injury.

PREMIER ASQUITH STRICKEN

Leader of British Cabinet Taken Ill After Meeting—Conscription Delayed.

London, Oct. 21.—In the absence of Premier Asquith, who is ill, David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, refused on Tuesday to give the house of commons any real light on Sir Edward Carson's resignation from the cabinet. It is generally agreed that for the moment at least the controversy over recruiting has been silenced, or a majority of them, have decided to give Lord Derby's new scheme a fair trial. Premier Asquith consulted a physician, who ordered him to remain in bed several days. The following bulletin was issued at Downing street:

"The prime minister is suffering from an attack of gastro-intestinal catarrh."

CARRANZA RULER OF MEXICO

United States and Latin-American Countries Agree on Formal Recognition to the First Chief.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico were formally renewed on Tuesday after a lapse of two years and eight months by the formal recognition of Venustiano Carranza as the chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico.

Secretary Lansing and the members of the Pan-American conference on Mexican affairs met on Monday and decided upon the form in which their respective governments would present recognition and fixed Tuesday as the time for the act.

Montenegrins Repulse Austrians.

London, Oct. 20.—A Reuter dispatch from Cetinje, Montenegro, says that attacks by the Austrians against Montenegrin positions on the Drina-Gra dove front were repulsed with heavy losses.

WOMEN'S VOCATION SUBJECT OF STUDY

COMMITTEE TO FIND OTHER WORK BESIDES TEACHING FOR GRADUATES.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

University Heads Engage Manager of Chicago College Bureau of Occupation at Madison—Miss Mason Advisor.

Madison—The University of Wisconsin is taking a growing interest in the future vocation of the women students. A committee has been appointed, made up of faculty and students, to study the problem of finding something besides teaching that the average college graduate may go into on completing her course.

Miss Helen Bennett, the manager of the Chicago collegiate bureau of occupation, has been engaged to come to the university and hold at least two conferences with the women students on vocations. Her first trip will be in December, when she will deliver a general talk and hold individual conferences. The second visit will probably be in March.

Miss M. Mason has been appointed vocational advisor of the women students, and Miss Helen Zillmer is her student assistant. The members of the committee that has been appointed to further the study of vocations include Miss Marguerite Jenkinson, Miss Juanita Scott, Miss Helen Larr, Miss Ruth Chase, Miss Faith Wilcox, Miss Carl McMillan, Miss Gertrude Erickson, Miss Harriet O'Shea, Miss Joy Andrews, Miss Dorothy Banner, Miss Mary Brown and Miss Elsie Howell.

TO SETTLE BALLOT QUESTION

Students to Be Tried for Illegal Voting at the "Wet and Dry" Election Last Spring.

Madison—The plan drawn up by Chief Justice Winslow of the Supreme court for a settlement of the case of four students of the University of Wisconsin, who are charged with illegal voting at the "wet and dry" election last spring, has been refused by Attorney Emerson Ela for the defense, and it is likely that student voting in the city of Madison will be definitely decided when the four students are brought up for trial the latter part of November. The four men are Edward Sipp, Waterdown; Walter Isenberg, Baraboo; William Gittings, Racine, and Carter Schomburg, Milwaukee. Their conviction means a fine of from $1 to $1,000 or from one to three years' imprisonment.

A wild fight for life followed the plunge of the motor. Miss Perry, superintendent of Riley county schools, was in the trailer and sustained serious injury.

STATE LEVY IS $4,700,000

Secretary of State Donald Says There Will Be No Remission of Taxes This Year.

Madison—Secretary of State John F. Donald said that the state tax levy of this year will be about $4,700,000. The secretary said that there would be no remission of taxes this year as the condition of the general fund of the state treasury would not permit it. He said that he and his clerks were now working on the compilation of the levy and that he would officially make the levy next Monday.

Two Appointments Made.

Madison—J. D. Mack, head of the engineering department, announced the appointment of W. G. Kickboller, Madison, as consulting engineer for the department. Gov. Phillip appointed H. S. Snow, Platteville, as a member of the state mining school board, to succeed R. I. Dugdale, for a four year term.

Need Not Submit General.

Madison—The attorney general has ruled that the state board of education in certain instances is not empowered to require regents of the university, Stout training school, and the state mining school, to submit for approval of the board, budgets and estimates made in behalf of these schools.

Calls Prison Labor Expensive.

Fond du Lac—Prison labor will not be used on Fond du Lac county roads if County Highway Commissioner M. Costello is able to prevent it. He says the rate of $1.50 a day is too high.

Deer Reported Plentiful.

Grand View—Deer are reported unusually plentiful in this vicinity and hunters are anticipating a record season, despite the one buck law.

AUTO LICENSES NOT READY

Applicants Must Wait Until Dec 15 Before They Can Secure Their Permits.

Madison—Secretary of State John F. Donald announced that he would not be able to receive applications for automobile licenses for the year 1916 until Dec. 15 because it would incur considerable unnecessary clerical work. Early applicants seek low license numbers, one asking for No. 1 and another for No. 2. The holders of these numbers have requested that they be reassigned to them. License No. 1 is held by John Hyland, a merchant of Madison, and license No. 2 by Senator La Follette. The total number of automobile licenses issued for the previous year reached 78,831.

The THOUSANDTH WOMAN BY ERNEST W. HORNING Author of The AMATEUR CRACKSMAN, RAFFLES, Etc. ILLUSTRATIONS BY O. IRWIN MYERS

SYNOPSIS.

Cazale, on the steamer Kaiser Fritz, homeward bound from Australia, cries out in his sleep that Henry Craven, who ten years before had ruined his father and himself, is dead and finds that Hilton Toye, who shares the stateroom with him, knows Craven and also Blanche Macnair, a former neighbor and playmate. When the daily papers come aboard at Southampton Toye reads that Craven has been murdered and calls Cazale's dream second sight. He thinks of doing a little amateur detective work on the case himself. In the train to town they discuss the murder, which was committed at Cazale's old home. Toye hears from Cazale that Scruton, who had been Craven's friend and the supposed lover of Craven's daughter, has been released from prison. Cazale goes down the river and meets Blanche.

CHAPTER V—Continued.

He had floundered to his feet as well. He was staring over her, feeling his way like a great fatuous coward, so some might have thought. But it really looked as though Blanche was not attending to what he did say; yet neither was she watching her little anglers stamped in jet upon the silvery stream, nor even seeing any more of Nelly Potts in the Australian vanda. She had come home from Australia, and come in from the river, and she was watching the open door at the other end of the old schoolroom, listening to those confounded steps coming nearer and nearer—and Cazale was gazing at her as though he really had said something that deserved an answer.

"Why, Miss Blanche!" cried a voice. "And your old lady-in-waiting figured I should find you now?" Hilton Toye was already a landsman and a Londoner from top to toe. He was perfectly dressed—for Bond Street—and his native simplicity of bearing and address placed him as surely and firmly in the present picture. He did not look the least bit out of it. But Cazale did, in an instant; his old bush clothes changed at once into a merely shabby suit of despicable cut, the remnant dropped out of them and their wearer, as he stood like a trussed turkey-cock, and watched a bunch of hot-house flowers presented to the lady with a little gem of a natural, courteous, and yet characteristically racy speech.

To the lady, mark you, for she was one, on the spot; and Cazale was a man again, and making a mighty effort to behave himself because the hour of boy and girl was over. "Mr. Cazale," said Toye, "I guess you want to know what in thunder I'm doing on your tracks so soon. It's hog-luck, sir, because I wanted to see you quite a lot, but I never thought I'd strike you right here. Did you hear the news?"

"No! What?" "There was no need to inquire as to the class of news; the immediate past had come back with Toye into Cazale's life; and even in Blanche's presence, even in her schoolroom, the old days had flown into their proper place and size in the perspective. "They've made an arrest," said Toye; and Cazale nodded as though

"Give me time," said Toye, laughing. "I may come along that way yet." Cazale faced him in a frame of tangled greenery. "You told me you wouldn't!" "I did, sir, but that was before they put said on this poor old crook. If you're right, and he's not the man, shouldn't you say that rather altered the situation?"

CHAPTER VI.

Voluntary Service.

"And why do you think he can't have done it?" Cazale had rumbled the old canoe over the rollers, and Blanche was hardly paddling in the glassy strip alongside the weir. Below the lock there had been something to do, and Blanche had done it deftly and silently, with almost equal capacity and grace. It had given her a charming flush and sparkle; and what with the sun's bare hand on her yellow hair, she now looked even better than indoors, yet not quite, quite such a girl. But then every bit of the boy had gone out of Cazale. So that hour stolen from the past was lost forever.

"Why do the police think the other thing?" he retorted. "What have they got to go on? That's what I want to know. I agree with Toye in one thing; Blanche looked up quickly. "I wouldn't trust old Savage an inch. I've been thinking about him and his previous evidence. Do you realize that it's quite dark now soon after seven? It was pretty thick saying his man was bareheaded, with neither hat nor cap left behind to prove it! Yet now it seems he's put a beard to him, and next we shall have the color of his eyes!"

Blanche laughed at his vigor of phrase; this was more like the old, hot-tempered, sometimes rather overbearing Sweep. Something had made him jump to the conclusion that Scruton could not possibly have killed Mr. Craven, whatever else he might have done in days gone by. So it simply was impossible, and anybody who took the other side would have to reckon henceforth with Sweep Cazale. Mr. Toye already had reckoned with him, in a little debate begun outside the old summer schoolroom at Littleford, and adjourned rather than finished at the iron gate into the road. In her heart of hearts Blanche could not say that Cazale had the best of the argument. Toye had advanced a general principle with calm ability, but Cazale could not be shifted from the particular position he was so eager to defend, and would only enter into abstract questions to beg them out of hand.

Blanche rather thought that neither quite understood what the other meant; but she could not blink the fact that the old friend had neither the dialectical mind nor the unflinching courtesy of the new. That being so, with her perception she might have changed the subject; but she could see that Cazale was thinking of nothing else; and no wonder, since they were approaching the scene of the tragedy and his own old home, with each long dip of her paddle. It had been his own wish to start upstream; but she could see the wistful pain in his eyes as they fell once more upon the red turrets and the smooth green lawn of Uplands; and she neither spoke nor looked at him again until he spoke to her.

"I see they've got the blinds down still," he said detachedly. "What's happened to Mrs. Craven?" "I hear she went into a nursing home before the funeral." "I expect we should find Savage somewhere. Would you very much mind, Blanche? I should rather like—if it was just setting foot—with you." But even that effective final pronoun failed to bring any buoyancy back into his voice; for it was not in the least effective as he said it, and he no longer looked her in the face. But this all seemed natural to Blanche, in the manifold and overlapping circumstances of the case. She made for the inlet at the upper end of the lawn, and her prompt unquestioning acquiescence shamed Cazale into further and franker explanation, before he could let her hand to please him.

"You don't know how I feel this!" he exclaimed quite miserably. "I mean about poor old Scruton; he's gone through so much as it is, whatever he may have done to deserve it long ago. Is it conceivable that he should go and do a thing like this the very moment he gets out? I ask you, is it even conceivable?" Blanche understood him. And now she showed herself golden to the core, almost as an earnest of her fitness for the fires before her.

"Poor fellow," she cried, "he has a friend in you, at any rate! And I'll help you to help him, if there's any way I can." He clutched her hand, but only as he might have clutched a man's. "You can't do anything, but I won't forget that," he almost choked. "I meant to stand by him in a very different way. He'd been down to the depths, and I'd come up a bit; then he was good to me as a lad, and it was my father's partner who was the ruin of him. I seemed to owe him something, and now—now I'll stand by him whatever happens—and whatever has happened!"

Then they landed in the old, old inlet. Cazale knew every knot in the post to which he tied Blanche's canoe. It was a very different place, this Uplands, from poor old Littleford on the lower reach. The grounds were five or six acres instead of about one, and a house in quite another class stood farther back from the river and very much farther from the road. The inlet began the western boundary, which continued past the boat-house in the shape of a high hedge, a herbaceous border (not what it had been in the old days), and a gravel path. This path was screened from the lawn by a bank of rhododendrons, as of course were the back yard and kitchen premises, just which it led into the front garden, eventually debouching into the drive. It was the path along which Cazale led the way this afternoon, and Blanche at his heels was so struck by something that she could not help telling him he knew his way very well.

Vom Schauplatz des europäischen Völker-Krieges

König George hat in einer Kundgebung die britische Armee im Westen zu den erlangten Erfolgen beglückwünscht und der dabei an den Tag gelegten Tapferkeit der Offiziere und Mannschaften seine Anerkennung ausgesprochen. Das ist, soweit die Tapferkeit der Truppen in Betracht kommt, vom König George nur recht gehandelt; daß die britische Offensivenerwartung zweifelt zusammengeklappt ist, hat mit der Säugung der Truppen nichts zu tun. Die Vorträge, mit welcher sie vorgegangen sind, ist schon von den ungenügenden Berichten, welche sie erlitten haben, beunruhigt. Um die Höhe der dargebrachten Opfer zu veranschaulichen, greift man in England wieder zu der alten Auskunft, die die Zahl der Gefallenen tropfenweise zu veranschaulichen. 2000, 3000, so geht es von Tag zu Tag. Als ob die Antifachen in London glaubten, daß die Engländer selbst und die ganze Welt das Zusammenaddieren verlernen hätten.

Die Deutschen haben ihnen die Mühe des Zusammenaddierens abgenommen. Die amtliche Meldung der deutschen Obersten Heeresleitung stellt die Höhe der Verluste auf beiden Seiten fest. Die der Alliierten beträgt bisher zusammen 190,000 Mann, 130,000 auf französischer, 60,000 auf englischer Seite. Diefen steht ein deutlicher Verlust von noch nicht einem Fünftel, also noch nicht 39,000 Mann, gegenüber. Darum ist es auch einmal auf der Seite der Alliierten so still geworden. Was ist aus den unehrerlichen Zahlen geworden, in welchen der deutliche Verlust dargelegt worden war? Darum hat man auch in England begonnen, das Verhältnis zwischen dem dargebrachten Opfern und dem erlangten Vorteil abzuwägen. Darum wurden aus den verurteilten Franzosen, welche in Wallengien auf den Bahnhöfen der Pariser Vorstädte eintrafen, deutsche Gefangene. Das Wort hat sich bemerkbar gemacht, daß die Schladatfelder von Artos und der Champagne zu Friedhöfen geworden sind. Die große Offensive der Alliierten ist in Blut ertränkt. Die Vorträge in der Champagne hat sich, nur noch fiedlicher, wiederholt. Das Schiffch von Neuve Chapelle hat die Engländer von neuem beimgeschickt.

Der militärische Mitarbeiter des Berliner 'Kofal-Anzeiger' erklärt, daß als eigentliche Durchbruchsstelle die Champagne anzufragen gewesen war. Dazu forderten denn ja auch nicht nur die Möglichkeit auf, wieder in den Besitz des dort weit verzweigten Eisenbahnnetzes, welche die Mühsal, und Seitenverbindungen der deutschen Armeen vermittelte, zu gelangen, sondern auch die topographischen Verhältnisse, welche bei der Gluttheit des dortigen Geländes den Widerstand, nachdem die Weichen einmal ins Weichen geraten, erschwert. Abgesehen von den sogenannten Vorstellungen, welche durch das vorangegangene widerbittige Artilleriefeuer des Feindes bereits unbrauchbar gemacht waren, haben die deutschen Vorträge, die die Franzosen auch die dritte deutsche Verdammungslinie durchbrechen hätten, eine Unwahrscheinlichkeit und den Zufall gegen eine Allberheit. Mit der Champagne als in Aussicht genommener Durchbruchsstelle, ergibt sich die Offensive der englischen Front gegen Loos lediglich als Demoralisation. Die Deutschen haben trotz des glänzenden Geistes der Truppen, die Hauptarbeit wieder einmal den Franzosen überlassen. Daraus erklärt sich auch das rasche Zusammenklappen des britischen Fortschritts.

Rein Gedanke an einen Frieden.

Berlin, über London. Die Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung sagt Folgendes: Von vielen Seiten hören wir, daß das Märchen wieder im Umlauf ist, Reichskanzler von Weismann-Söllmer nähere seit einiger Zeit die Idee eines baldigen Friedensschlusses mit den Engländern. Wir sind ermüdet, diese Gerüchte als unbedeutend, als lächerlich und als abträglich den Interessen des Kaiserreichs zu bezeichnen.

Amerikanische Großstädter appellieren an das Staatsdepartement.

Washington. Die Großstädter von Chicago ersuchen das Staatsdepartement, der Britischen Regierung Vorstellungen hinsichtlich der Beklagung von Reichsbürgern im Werte von $12,500,000 außerhalb der Jurisdiktion des britischen Konsulats zu machen. Der amerikanische Staatssekretär Volk hätte die Beklagung an, gab jedoch keine Antwort. Er behauptete die Großstädter, daß er die Erziehung in Bewegung stehen werde.

Boy is Accidentally Shot.

New London.—Chester Davis, 15 years old, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his shotgun, while hunting rabbits near here. The gun fell on a stump as the boy was holding the muzzle. A companion went for help while the boy's dog stood guard over his master's body.

Recluse Had Hidden Wealth.

Janesville.—Isaiah Barrett, found in a miserable hotel and removed to the county poor farm, died, and an investigation reveals that he had large bank balances, owned several pieces of property and had lived the life of a recluse and hermit.

May Rename High School.

Green Bay.—A movement is gaining headway to have the name of the East Green Bay High school changed to Astor High school in honor of John Jacob Astor, who in the early fur trading days, owned nearly half of the property in this township.

R. F. D. Examination Announced.

Washington, D. C.—Civil service examinations will be held on Nov. 27 for rural letter carriers at Curtiss and Hartford.

To Japan as Missionary.

Grand Rapids.—Miss Carrie Peckham of this city left for the west preparatory to going to Japan to take up foreign missionary work. Miss Peckham is a graduate of Lawrence college and signed a contract to stay in foreign countries for five years.

Wausau.—William Harold was caught under an automobile when it overturned, and sustained a broken collar bone and several fractured ribs.

FREE GAME LUNCH CANNOT BE SERVED

SECRETARY OF CONSERVATION COMMISSION ANSWERS NUMEROUS INQUIRIES.

NEW STATUTE SWEEPING

Calls Attention to Fact That Birds Are Barred From Parcel Post by State and U. S. Governments.

Madison.—In answer to communications received lately by the state conservation commission from Wisconsin saloon and hotel keepers, restaurateurs, etc., asking if it is legal to serve a duck, mutton or venison lunch free, to their guests, Secretary Scheibel of the commission said that it is absolutely a violation of the law. "It is a barter, pure and simple," he declared. "When a saloonkeeper serves game of any kind as a free lunch it is done with the idea that it will increase his patronage, and that the persons who come in will spend their money with the intention of partaking of the game lunch."

"According to section 62.10, of the laws 1915, no person shall sell, or barter, or offer to sell or barter any deer, or any bird for which a closed season is prescribed. No keeper, manager, or steward of any restaurant, club, hotel, boarding house, lodging camp, or mining camp, shall sell, barter, serve or give, or cause to be sold, bartered, served or given to the guests or boarders thereof, the meat of any kind of deer, wild bird or trout of any variety other than lake trout, at any time; or the meat of any wild animal during the closed season, thereof."

"The conservation commission also wishes to warn the hunters or people against shipping game birds by parcel post, which is against the postal regulations and a violation of the state laws as well."

SMITH CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Merrill Attorney Elected Head of State Charities at Session Held at Wausau.

Wausau.—Attorney Ralph E. Smith of Merrill, former president of the state board of control, was elected president of the state conference of charities and corrections at a session which was held here. Walter J. Kohler of Sheboygan was chosen first vice president; Judge Charles D. Rosa of Beloit, second vice president, and J. L. Gillen of Madison, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee comprises Lydia Wallis of Racine, Mary Bradford of Kenosha, J. T. Hooper of Janesville and E. R. Stevens of Madison.

The movies, as one of the future important factors in the education of the young, was one of the interesting papers discussed before the conference by Miss Stella Loeb of Abraham Lincoln center, Milwaukee, and the Rev. F. H. Linley of Eau Claire. Miss Loeb favors the introduction of moving pictures in all the schools, that the mind of the youth may be developed in harmony with the eye.

CONVICT LABOR APPROVED

Only Criticism Comes From Milwaukee, Says Control Board Secretary.

Madison.—The proposed plan of the state board of control to hire out convicts for work on the roads of the different counties, is being approved generally by county supervisors, according to M. J. Tappins, secretary of the board. The only criticism of the plan has come from Milwaukee and it was not the intention of the board to work any convicts in Milwaukee county.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Reliable Man Wanted to start Sailed Penn... MICHUR OF AN ABBREVIATION

YOUNGSTER'S NAME CONSIDERABLY SHORTENED FROM THE ONE THAT WAS ORIGINALLY GIVEN HIM.

A northern man who was visiting in Baltimore stopped on the street one day to have his shoes polished. A bright-eyed little black boy stepped forward to give the desired shine. The Northerner asked his name, to which the boy promptly replied: "Gen. sah!"

After a few moments of silence, the Northerner continued: "I suppose that is an abbreviation for General?" The word "abbreviation" gave the little fellow pause; however, he was equal to the occasion, and recovered himself. "No, sah," he said, "I ain't 'xactly dat; ma shore—nough name am 'Genesis 20:33. So shall my righteousnes answer for me in time to come' Washington Carter, but dey jest call me Gen for short."—Youth's Companion.

Reasonable.

"I suppose you study a subject thoroughly before you make a speech on it?" said an admiring constituent. "Well, not too thoroughly," said the senator. "You see, if I did, my conscience might not let me make the speech."

People who are always saying "Listen!" never have anything of importance to say.

When some people talk it's a waste of time to yawn.

HARD ON CHILDREN When Teacher Has Coffee Habit.

"Best is best, and best will ever live." When a person feels this way about Postum they are glad to give testimony for the benefit of others. A school teacher told in Miss. says: "I had been a coffee drinker since my childhood, and the last few years it had injured me seriously. "One cup of coffee taken at breakfast would cause me to become so nervous that I could scarcely go through with the day's duties, and this nervousness was often accompanied by deep depression of spirits and heart palpitation. "I am a teacher by profession, and when under the influence of coffee had to struggle against crossness when in the school room. "When talking this over with my physician, he suggested that I try Postum. I purchased a package and made it carefully according to directions; found it excellent of flavor, and nourishing. "In a short time I noticed very gratifying effects. My nervousness disappeared, I was not irritated by my pupils, life seemed full of sunshine, and my heart troubled me no longer. "I attribute my change in health and spirits to Postum alone. "Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "Postum comes in two forms: "Must be cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. "Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins. "Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum. —sold by Grocers.

"Mr. Cazale," said Toye, "I guess you want to know what I'm doing on your tracks so soon. It's hog-luck, sir, because I wanted to see you quite a lot, but I never thought I'd strike you right here. Did you hear the news?"

He had quite expected it, which set Blanche off trying to remember something he had said at the other house; but she had not succeeded when she noticed the curious pallor of his chin and forehead.

"Scruton?" he just asked.

"Yes, sir! This morning," said Hilton Toye.

"You don't mean the poor man?" cried Blanche, looking from one to the other.

"Yes, he does," said Cazale gloomily. He stared out at the river, seeing nothing in his turn, though one of the anglers was actually busy with his reel.

"But I thought Mr. Scruton was still—" Blanche remembered him, remembered dining with him; she did not like to say, "in prison."

"He came out the other day," sighed Cazale. "But how like the police all over! Give a dog a bad name, and trust them to hunt it down and shoot it at sight!"

"I judge it's not so bad as all that in this country," said Hilton Toye. "That's more like the police theory

WASHING IS MODERN CUSTOM

Only in Comparatively Recent Times Has the Idea of Cleanliness Become Common.

One must not forget that regular and systematic cleansing of the person is a very modern fashion. As late as the early part of the nineteenth century toothbrushes were not allowed in certain French convents, being looked upon as a luxury.

Cleanliness was not very common a century and a half ago in any country.

In 1770 the publication of Monsieur Perrel's "Pogonotomie, ou l'art d'apprendre a se raser soi-meme," created a sensation among fashionable people, and enthusiasts studied self shaving.

While here Mr. Harmon also joined our large list of subscribers. —Fine job printing is a specialty of the Statesman. Give us a trial.

"Safety First" Before entering upon a contract for an automobile subscription contest, it was our aim to apply two plans, "Safety First" and "A Square Deal", and we found that by closing a contract with Kerns & Kerns, as contest managers, we were going to give the general public, candidates and ourselves, our aim, the two plans "Safety First and A Square Deal". The contest which was opened to the general public on October 2nd., is well under way, and up to the present time indications are very favorably and promising that our subscription list will be largely increased. We still have several more weeks to go, and if everyone, the public as well as the candidates, urge upon others that the STATESMAN contest is conducted under two plans, "Safety First and A Square Deal", it will be the most successful contest ever held or pulled off by any weekly newspaper. For the contest managers Kerns & Kerns, we must say that these people are on the job at all times. We are well convinced that they will carry out our two plans to the letter, and when the contest is over and the judges announce the winners, each and every candidate, besides the general public will have no cause for complaint. To the candidates we have to say that they should become convinced that they are working in a contest that is being run on the square and that it means work to win, as only one can win the prize. There is not nor will be any favoritism.

EXCHANGING BADLY WOUNDED WAR PRISONERS

Through the good offices of Sweden, an arrangement has been concluded between Germany and Russia by which the severely wounded soldiers imprisoned in these two countries, who are crippled for life, are exchanged via Sweden. The exchange station is at Tornea on the gulf of Bothnia, where the Russian and Swedish frontiers meet. At regular intervals Russian and German nurses arrive here with their wounded charges. The Swedish nurses aid the work by taking charge of the cripples while the exchange is being effected. The picture at the top shows the German prisoners leaving the hospital at Tornea after their exchange, to cross over into Sweden. The lower photograph shows the Russian war prisoners leaving the train to go to the hospital.

BADGER STATE NOTES.

Madison—The industrial commission received a telegram from A. V. Pineo, chairman of the British Columbia workmen compensation investigation committee, saying that the committee would reach Madison about Oct. 25 and remain here several days investigating the Wisconsin workmen's compensation law. The committee is gathering information preparatory to the adoption of a similar law for British Columbia.

Ripon—August Monty, manager of the Berlin Brewery company, escaped death by an inch when a bullet fired through the window of a speeding train grazed his cheek. The shot was fired when the train was half way between Berlin and Ripon. It came through the window, grazed Monty's cheek and lodged in the woodwork of the other side of the coach, where it was later found.

Appleton—Charged with forging the name of a daughter of his benefactor after he had been paroled from Wauwatosa, F. J. Pooley, who was sentenced, Nov. 25, 1912, for embezzling money from the Post Publishing company, and pardoned on July 1, 1915, was arrested here. He is accused of forging the name of Edna G. Wilson to a check, issued by the J. C. Lesser company, Milwaukee, for $28.56.

Madison—The Dane County Medical society passed resolutions defending the character of the entertainment given by the Milwaukee Medical society to the physicians who recently visited Milwaukee. It held as malicious the statement that members of the society were barred from the smoker because of the character of the entertainment.

Madison—The attorney general advised H. W. Rood, patriotic inspector of the G. A. R., that the statutes require the flying of the United States flag above all public schoolhouses during school hours and it may be permitted to remain flying during the night, although the law does not require it.

West Allis—The enrollment in the city schools has increased so rapidly during the last year that the board of education had great difficulty in furnishing the necessary school room. Several rooms and barracks have been added this year to help house the pupils.

Kenosha—The north side terminal of the Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha Electric Railway company here was entered by burglars. They got away with more than $100 worth of tobacco and candy, but did not force open the ticket case.

Green Bay—A damage suit against August Wobek was filed in municipal court here by Theresa Maur, who alleges breach of promise. She demands $10,000.

Madison—The state conservation commission has issued warning to hunters and trappers that the open season on muskrats has been changed. In former years the season opened on Oct. 15, but as the fur is not prime at such an early date, the last legislature enacted a law which permits the killing of these animals on Nov. 1 in northern counties and Nov. 15 in the southern part of the state.

Sheboygan—The Sheboygan police are looking for a second "Carric Nation." For the second time within a week a large plate glass window in a saloon has been broken with a brick.

Madison—That an automobile which makes regular trips from one city to another at fixed prices, but does not aim to take passengers en route is not within the scope of the jitney law is the opinion of Attorney General Owen to District Attorney C. J. Smith of Viroqua.

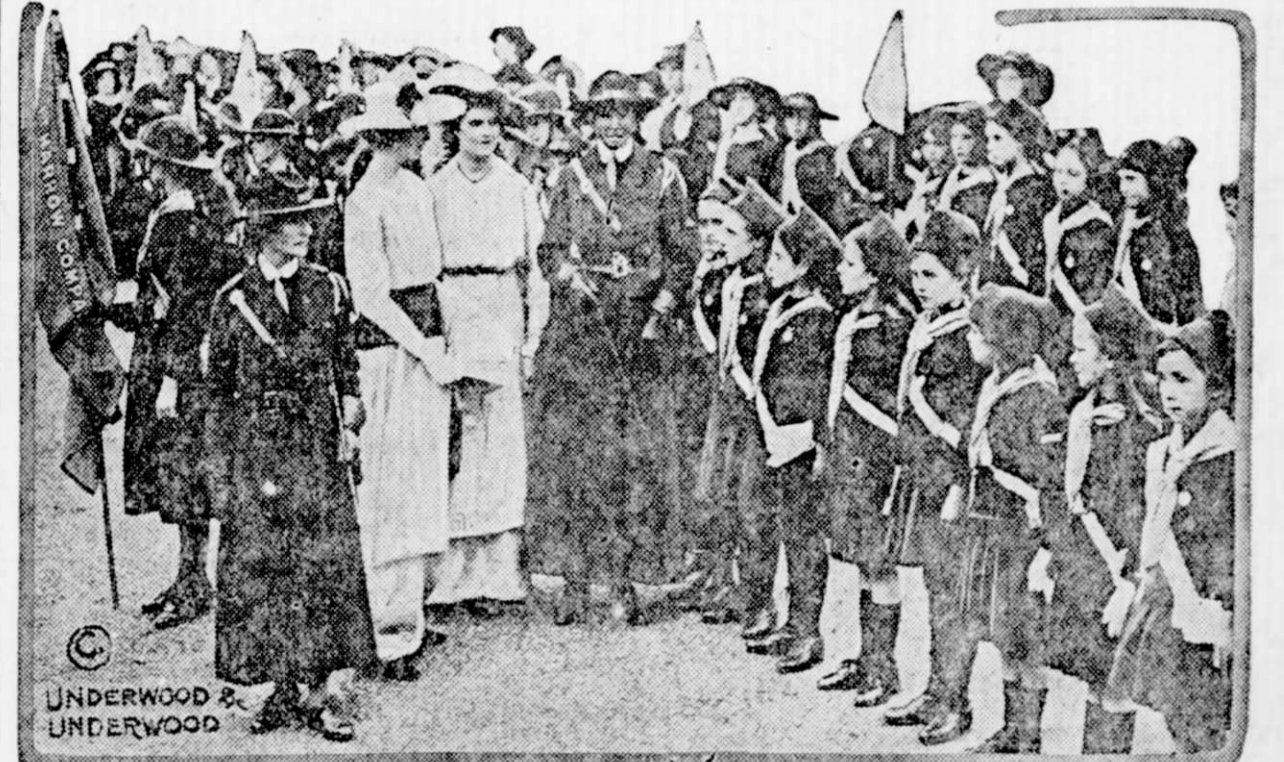

Racine—It was announced that W. F. Sawyer has been appointed secretary of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company in place of Richard T. Robinson, one of the founders of the company, who has resigned for causes unknown.

BELGIAN SCOUTING PARTY IN FLANDERS

INSPECTING ENGLISH GIRL GUARDS

Following the lead of the Boy Scouts, the girlhood of England is organizing into companies known as Girl Guards. These little women are taught rudimentary household and social welfare facts which will be of use to them and their country when they grow up. The picture shows the duchess of Marlborough (in white at left) inspecting the Guard of Honor of the First Harrow company at Harrow, England.

HIGHEST DAM IN WORLD DEDICATED

The Arrowrock dam, the highest in the world, was formally dedicated recently at Boise, Idaho, and one of the largest irrigation projects in the country was added to agricultural America. The total area of the land to be reclaimed is 243,000 acres. The dam is of solid concrete, 351 feet high, 1,100 feet long and 240 feet thick at the base.

IN NEW SUFFRAGE HAT

Miss Alberta Hill, a prominent suffrage worker of New York, wearing the new hat designed for the "votes for women" advocates. It is of felt, trimmed with a band of suffrage colors.

All That Mattered.

A young countryman staying in a hotel commenced to write a letter and then went away, leaving it on the table. Another came in and, without thinking, took up the missive. He had it in his hand when the young man returned. "That's my letter, mister," he said fiercely. "Well, you can have it," was the reply. "Did you read it?" "No; that is, I glanced over a few lines of it and noticed that hardly a word was spelled correctly." "It is to my girl—the girl I'm going to marry." "Yes?" "And I don't care a coked hat about the spelling. What I want to impress on that girl is luv—l-u-v—and lots of it, for there's a farm and seventy cows coming to her!"

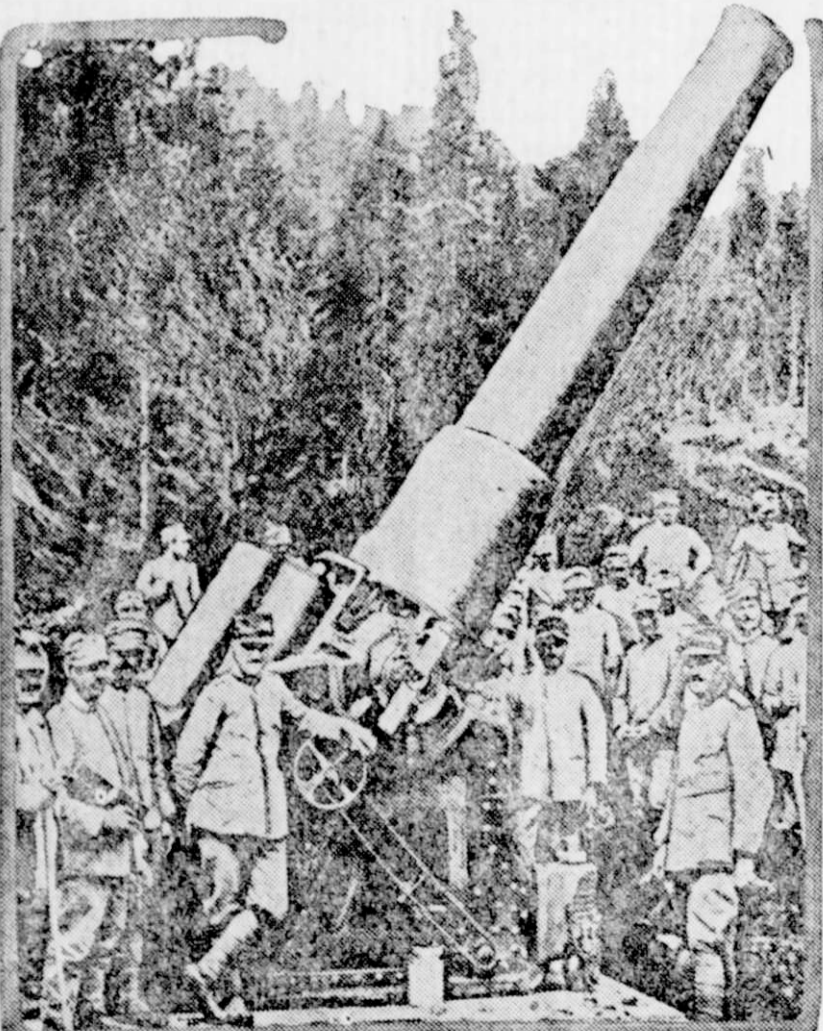

Asbestos of Great Value.

Asbestos is a potential life-saver. Its incombustibility and its fibrous structure make it one of the most useful minerals—for such it is—for many and various purposes. Nearly every theater curtain is now made of asbestos. Though it primarily is of rock substance it is converted into soft and pliable condition, as easy to work with as cotton or wool. The material is used in making lumber, roofing, plaster and stucco. Aside from its incombustibility, asbestos has another virtue in its power as a non-conductor, and persons living in a house wherein asbestos forms a part of the material are assured of comfort in extreme heat or cold.

Rings of Ancient Rome.

In Rome, at the signing of the marriage contract, there was a great feast, and the man gave the woman a ring, which she put on her left hand, on the finger next to the smallest, for the Romans held that there was a nerve running directly from this finger to the heart. This ring was at first of iron or copper with little projections in the shape of a key to suggest that the wife had possession of her husband's keys. Later these rings became very much more costly and elaborate.

ITALIAN BIG GUN IN THE ALPS

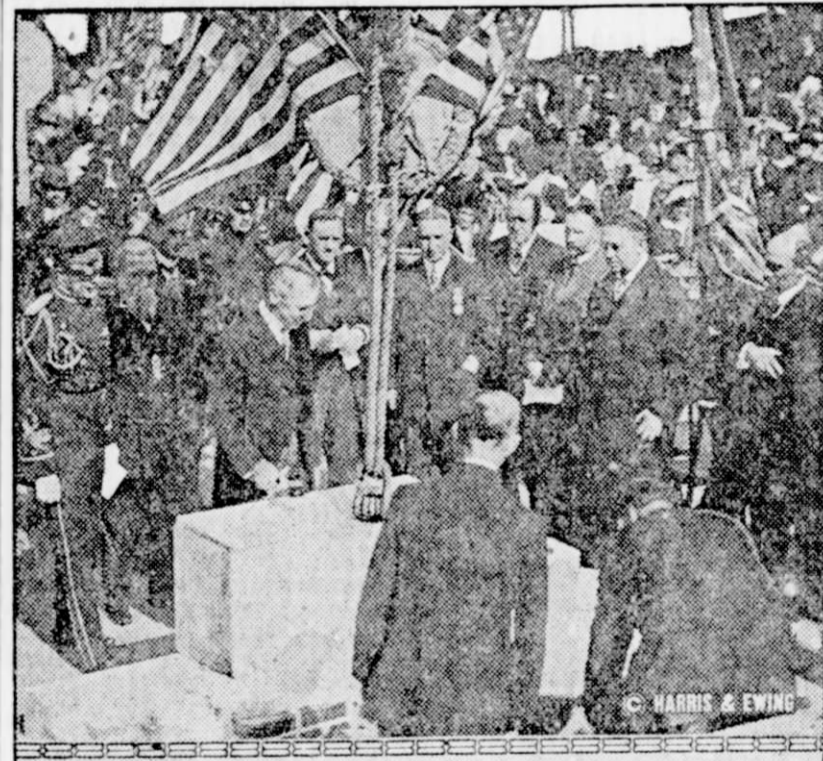

One of the heavy guns with which the Italians have been battering the Austrian fortifications in the Tyrolean Alps. Elevated to an angle of 45 degrees, it can drop a shell with accuracy some fifteen miles away.

GATHERED FACTS.

In some parts of Germany alcohol is being made from chicory root. Cars have been designed for an electric railroad in Ireland, to be run by gasoline electric generators. New York produces more than half of the talc in the United States, with Vermont in second place. Florida and Georgia together contributed 97 per cent of the quantity and value of the fuller's earth marketed in 1912.

In Norway it has been found that whale meat, vast quantities of which have formerly been thrown away, makes a palatable and nutritious sausage. The meat has proved so successful for this purpose in Scandinavian countries that engineers are now working to develop machinery for cutting up the huge leviathans and working their carcasses into sausages. A burro, in the Siu-liaw forest, Oregon, has acquired the habit of chewing tobacco, and even shows a delicate taste in the brands he prefers.

PRESIDENT WILSON LAYS CORNERSTONE

President Wilson is shown in the accompanying picture officiating at the cornerstone laying exercises at the huge memorial amphitheater now being built in Arlington National cemetery as a tribute to the heroes of the Civil war.

WOMEN MAKING SHELLS

In the ammunition factories of France as well as of England women have largely taken the place of men. One of them is here seen working on shells that are not yet bored.

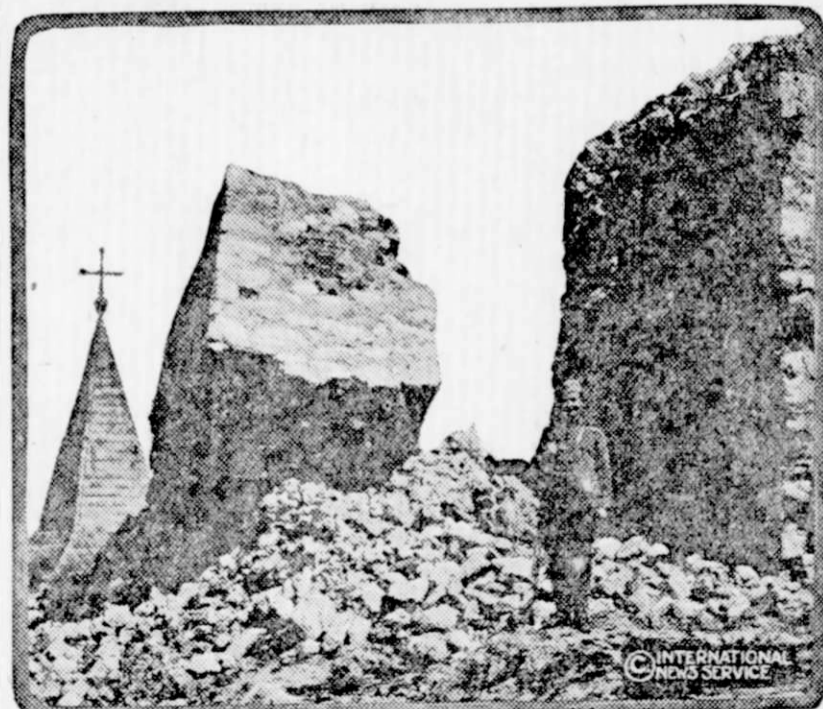

Always Working Garb.

James Keir Hardie, the British labor leader, whose death is announced, never relinquished his working-class garb, and many were the occasions when his rough attire led to mistakes on the part of others. One story is that Keir Hardie, then many years an M. P., was challenged by a policeman outside the house of commons. The officer asked Mr. Hardie if he was working there. "Yes." "On the roof?" (which was undergoing repair). "No." answered the leader of the independent labor party, "on the floor." Another time a landlady refused to let him have rooms until he gave references—he looked too rough. The good woman was astonished when Mr. Hardie named a number of the most prominent men in commons. He was arrested in Belgium a few years ago on suspicion of being in collusion with a notorious anarchist whom the police had detained. The Belgian police never could understand why a British M. P. was not elaborately attired.

Loud-Speaking Telephone.

In England there has appeared a new telephone device which renders possible the summoning of a subscriber back to the telephone after he has been asked to "hold the wire" while the party at the other end is looking up some desired information. The device is in reality a loud-speaking horn. If the subscriber called does not wish to hold the receiver to his ear, he can place it over the horn and go about his duties. The calling party's voice is so amplified that he may be heard throughout a room.

BELGRADE'S FORTRESS WALL SHATTERED

The effect of heavy artillery fire on the walls of a fort is well shown in this photograph of part of the fortress of Belgrade after it had been shelled by the Austro-German guns.

BRIEF INFORMATION

Berlin scientists have invented a nourishing yeast, containing more than 60 per cent albumen, prepared from sugar and ammonium sulphate. Dowager Queen Alexandra of England, who recently celebrated her seventieth anniversary, is showing a great interest in the war, especially in the fortunes of the officers at the front whom she has known personally. If they return wounded she visits them in the hospitals.

Children may not be seen in the streets of Bergen, Norway, after a certain hour, which varies with the season. The church bells of the town peal a signal for them to return home, and the police see to it that they obey. James Thomas Ross, a famous English "fence," has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment. Before the authorities discovered his real occupation he passed as an eminently respectable manufacturer of muffins.

"Goodies!"

"Goodies that just melt in your mouth—light, fluffy, tender cakes, biscuits and doughnuts that just keep you hanging round the pantry—all made with Calumet—the safest, purest, most economical Baking Powder. Try it—drive away bake-day failures."

Afternoon Dress for the Little Girl

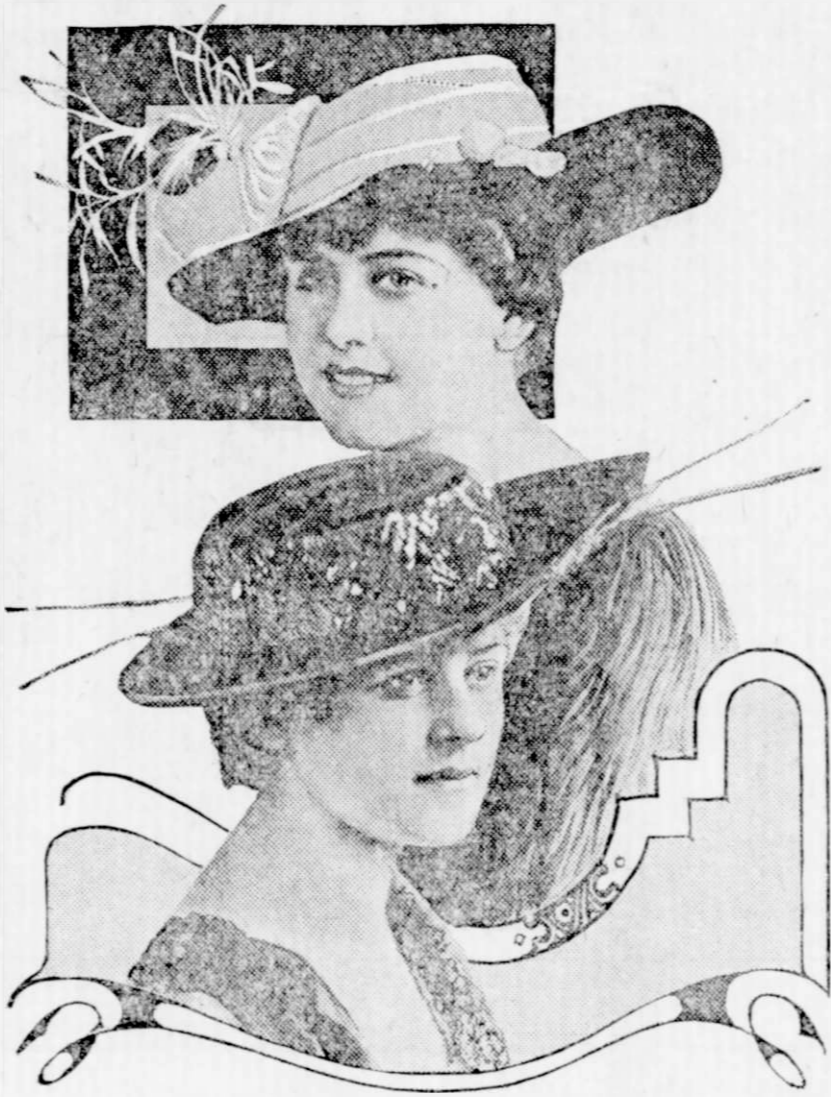

A design in a dress and coatee for a little girl, which may be successfully made up in any sort of material is shown here. As pictured the dress is of Irish poplin with a border of ottoman silk in a wide bias band about the bottom of the skirt, and a jacket of the same silk as the band. But the model is just as well adapted to many of the new cotton fabrics. It might be developed in cotton gaberdine for the dress, and cotton corduroy for the jacket, in any of the light, staple colors that these new fabrics are made in.

As shown in the picture the skirt is set on to a belt of the poplin which is also the belt of the plain bodice. The bodice has a small yoke, opening at the neck in a shallow "V" and finished with little, buttoned scallops. The coat is cut with long shoulders and short sleeves and is lined with the poplin. This is used also for the turnback cuffs and collar and appears in a piping about the edges of the little garment. Small pink frogs form the single fastening. A girdle is worn with the dress.

Among other pretty models for the little miss are full skirts of plaid material confined at the waist with several rows of shirring and set onto a plain belt of the plaid. Wide suspenders made also of the plaid material are set onto the belt. Such skirts are finished with a plain, three-inch hem and are only moderately wide. They are worn over thin blouses made of batiste or organdie or other sheer material. Short top coats or jackets of plain woolen goods, matching the dominant color in the plaid skirt, are worn with them. Together they make a smart looking outfit for the little girl.

Showing the Direction of the Millinery Wind

Here are two pretty dress hats which show which way the millinery wind blows. As to trimming it points to simplicity, but as to shape it continues to blow "every which way." In materials hatters' plush, velours and combinations of velvet with other materials are in steady demand and such combinations appear in these two hats.

At the top the picturesque shape is of velvet and plush, the velvet appearing on the upper brim and in a wide flange against the plush facing. The top crown is of velvet. A wide, handsome faille ribbon is laid in folds about the side crown and the ends are joined at the right of the front. Here an odd feather ornament is posed at an equally odd angle. Sprays of fine feathers, which look like frost-covered twigs, spring from a big cabochon of feathers and dance in every breeze that blows. At the left a ball and tassel of silk, fastened against the crown, give this model more than the usual allowance of ornament.

The brim in this shape is very irregular and the crown is eccentric in shape but both are made on good and becoming lines. Such shapes are not universally becoming, but when they do suit the face, they seem made especially for the wearers.

Below is a French sailor with the brim widened at the left front, which is an indication of the privilege accorded to brim by the mode. They do all sorts of unexpected things. The brim is of hatters' plush faced with velvet and has a narrow velvet binding. The top crown is soft and of velvet.

This hat, becoming to almost every face, has a band of the new, brilliant fitter-jet about the side crown. The sequins are small and set very thick, overlapping one another in a mass of brilliant scales. Two long "feelers" spring from a small oblong body of the fitter-jet, the little sequins or spangles extending a little way on each one. Two of the odd, stin ornaments are set at the back—one on each side of it. The hat would be prettier without these, and measured by the season's standards would be amply trimmed.

or have a clasp which the girl herself has made, with her own initials engraved upon it.

Many dealers furnish the links from 25 cents up according to size, material and weight, engraving the initials free of charge. If desired, one may have the links fastened together by little rings, doing away with the velvet band.

It is believed by the superstitious that a mole in the hollow of the cheek denotes a quarrelsome disposition.

DAIRY

PICKED UP IN THE COWYARD

Kindness Is Relished by Stock More Than Most Succulent Feed—Salt Is Absolutely Essential.

It is expensive to let a cow fail in her milk because of the lack of proper feed.

In feeding a milk cow a corn ration, reduce the ration at first indication of fattening.

In keeping cows never be without clover. It is one of the foods essential to good dairying.

Better run a dairy without a dog than have one that is irritable to the cows. Many kicking cows are caused by the dogs nipping at their heels.

Kindness is one of the cheapest and best rations you can feed your stock.

Jersey Cattle on Pasture.

They relish it more than the most succulent thing you can put before them.

Unless you are willing to give time and attention to valuable stock, don't be too anxious to acquire such. Remember, however, that any animal must have rational treatment to give good results.

While fodder, when given out of doors, should be fed in feed racks and not on the ground, it is imperative for the ground surrounding the racks to slope away in all directions and often it would be better still if tiled drained.

To keep a bull good-natured he should be raised with the other stock, allowed to run in a paddock where he can see the rest of the herd. With this treatment he will seldom become cross.

Do you keep plenty of salt where your live stock can get at it all the time? Remember that this is absolutely essential to good health in a horse, cow, hog or sheep, as in a human being.

What kind of water do your milk cows drink? Remember that a big proportion of the water they drink is converted into milk, and therefore ought to be wholesome.

The best milking pail is the one so constructed as to reduce to a minimum the amount of dirt falling into the milk during the process of milking. The small top pail may have some objections, but its advantages are so in evidence that it is rapidly being adopted by our most prominent dairymen.

IMPROVING THE DAIRY STOCK

Ten Commandments Laid Down by University of Wisconsin Expert—Discard Unprofitable Animals.

1. Treat cows gently and avoid excitement.
2. Be regular in time of milking.
3. Keep stables clean, well-lighted and ventilated.
4. Weigh the milk of each cow at milking time.
5. Get your neighbor to share with you in owning a Babcock milk tester, and test the product of each cow.
6. Discard the animals which have failed at the end of the year to pay for their keep.
7. Breed your cows to a purebred, registered dairy bull from a family having large and profitable production of butterfat.
8. Raise well the heifer calves from cows, which for one or more generations have made large and profitable production of milk and butterfat.
9. Breed heifers to drop their first calves at twenty-four to thirty months of age. Give cows six to eight weeks' rest between lactation periods.
10. Join a dairy cattle breeders' association. It will help you keep posted and in touch with the best and most modern ways of managing your dairy herd.

Investigate the Pasture.
When a cow turned out to pasture does not give as much milk as you expected do not blame the cow without investigating. Sometimes it is the fault of the pasture.

Keep Herd Record Sheet.
Keep track of the profitable cows by keeping a record sheet for your herd. Record the daily feed and production and occasionally have the milk tested for butterfat.

Satisfactory Dairy Returns.
Good care of good cows, a properly balanced ration, including liberal use of corn silage and comfortable quarters, insure satisfactory returns.

Segregate Weaned Calves.
Weaned calves should not be kept in the same stable with their mothers. The quicker the cow forgets her calf the better she will do.

Better-Making Auxiliary.
Hogs are a proper auxiliary of butter making in no way can the by-products be used to better advantage.

Renewing Milk Flow.
A cow once allowed to go down by default cannot be fully regained until the cow freshens again.

WHERE HE WAS CARELESS

Miranda Was Surely Capable of Giving Expert Opinion Upon One Point, at Least.

"What do you know of the character of the defendant?" the judge asked a negro washerwoman subpoenaed in an accident case. A white man had been arrested for careless driving of a second-hand car.

"Hit's toliable," Miranda said.

"Have you ever seen him drive his car before?"

"Yes, sah."

"Would you consider him careless?"

"Well, ledge, ez fer de car—dat little thing ain't gwinter hurt nobody, but being us is all here, I might ez well tell yo 'dat he sho' is keerless bout payin' fo' his wash!"—Case and Comment.

Going It Too Hard

We are inclined nowadays to "go it too hard," to overwork, worry, eat and drink too much, and to neglect our rest and sleep. This fills the blood with uric acid. The kidneys weaken and then it's a siege of backache, dizzy, nervous spells, rheumatic pains and distressing urinary disorders. Don't wait for worse troubles. Strengthen the kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

A Michigan Case

James Greenman, 14 E. Adams St., Jonia, Mich., says: "I was laid up for three months from kidney trouble. I had terrible pains in my back and sides, was extremely nervous and had headaches and dizzy spells. I lost forty-five pounds in weight and a specialist said my only hope was an operation. I used Doan's Kidney Pills instead and soon passed gravel. Before long I was in good health and the cure has lasted."

Couldn't Impress Pat.
Strolling along the country with a party of friends, Pat was telling them about some of the beautiful spots in Ireland.

One of the party, an American, exclaimed: "Well, I guess we've got something in America that will lick all your scenery. Our Falls of Niagara, with tons of water rushing over the top, is a wonderful and an unusual sight."

"A wonderful and unusual sight!" exclaimed Paddy. "That's nothing. It can't help falling over the top of the precipice. If the water stopped on the top, that would be a wonderful and unusual sight."

Changed.
"I wasn't always as you see me now," said the beggar.
"So I noticed," said the man. "Yesterday you only had one leg."

"What was Mrs. Brown talking about today, dear?"
"About all the time, I guess, judging from the noise."
